Talco - Bogata School News

By KATHY ASTON and AMELIA BOLIN

The last full week of school has finally arrived at Rivercrest. Students and teachers are preparing for final exams, to be given Friday, May 25 to Monday, May 28.

Cap and gowns were issued to the Seniors Monday, May 21. The Honor Students and National Honor Society members also received their cords and braids. The annual Variety Show was held Friday night in the RHS auditorium. Filled to a capacity crowd, the auditorium held some 600 spectators. The gate cleared $401.45. Proceeds were divided between the Library Fund and the Annual Staff.

Plans and specifications for the Rivercrest Ag Building are still in progress. An effort is being made to have the new building completed by the beginning of the 1973-74 school term, however the completion by that time is doubtful.

The RHS Student Council met and elected the Students of the Month for May. They were Patti Smith and Randy Jones. Throughout the year 18 students are elected by the Council. At the end of each year a boy and a girl are chosen from these 18 to be honored as Students of the Year. Students of the Year for this year are Amelia Bolin and Stanley Jones. Thursday, May 24, has been selected as the date for the Student Council Banquet. Members will travel to the Red Barn in Paris to dine, and then a program will be presented. New officers will be installed.

Austin. — The first overall revision of the Texas penal code in more than a century is nearing final passage as the legislature plows through its last full week of regular session duties.

House members promptly went to work on the bill after the Senate passed it last week. The revision is the product of a seven-year study ramrodded by the State Bar of Texas.

Generally, the code pulls together the thousands of criminal laws scattered through the statute books.

It groups felonies and misdemeanors into classes, ranging from most severe to minor offenses and fixes a range of punishment for each.

Many separate statutes are consolidated into comprehensive sections, and laws covering a variety of attempted crimes are grouped under a general attempt provision.

The new code increases maximum penalties for certain crimes of violence. Murder without malice, for example, could carry a maximum term of 20 years compared to five under present law.

Penalties for some other crimes were lowered. Minimum, as well as maximum, punishment is provided in each category of felony.

One of the major changes in existing law is the definition of insanity as applied to defense in criminal cases. The new definition of terms insanity as a mental disorder or defect that prevents one from conforming his conduct to requirements of the law. The old "M'Naghten rule" terms a person insane who does not know right from wrong or understand the nature and consequences of his acts.

Lawmakers went into Friday and Saturday sessions in an effort to reduce the tremendous pile of unfinished legislation. Much of it will remain unacted on.

OPEN RECORDS BILL PASSED — The Senate passed its version of open records legislation, returning it (HB 6) to the House for consideration of amendments.

The bill would require most records to be available for public inspection and that copies be provided promptly at cost.

An amendment would allow agencies to require prepayment for copying records of many pages. Exceptions are provided for private correspondence and communications of elected officials and information related entirely to personnel matters within the agency.

OIL ALLOWABLE RETAINED — Texas Railroad Commission for the 15th straight month set the June oil allowable at 100 per cent.

Commissioners responded to soaring, record demands for crude oil. Purchasers requested 3.8 million barrels a day for June, an increase of 33,931 over May.

Exceptions again were made for East Texas field, 86 per cent, Kelly-Snyder, 76 per cent and Tom O'Connor, 70 per cent. Several other fields were limited to 80 per cent.

EXXON announced plans to increase refining capacity by 350,000 barrels daily, due mainly to additions to its Baytown refinery.

A former commissioner, William Murray, said the city of San Antonio may not be able to get through the summer unless it can obtain additional oil for its electrical service.

AG OPINIONS — Atty. Gen.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ray Dickerson of Hurst spent their vacation here with his father, Billy Ray Dickerson and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dickerson.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Cargile and family, Mrs. George Burleson and Cary Joe, all of Grand Prairie and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clark and baby of Mesquite were here during the week end to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Clark and attend decoration services at Midway Cemetery.

Hill held constitutional a controversial compulsory oil and gas unitization bill (HB 311).

Hill also held that a person may be employed both as a University of Texas law professor and a researcher for the State Constitutional Revision Commission.

In other recent opinions, Hill held:

• A bill requiring the state comptroller to make sales tax reports to cities is constitutional.

• A bank applying to be a county fund depository must submit along with its bid a statement of a legal rate of interest for time deposits of all amounts and lengths of time. A bid cannot be corrected later to include the information if it is first omitted.

MIA DAY PROCLAIMED — Governor Briscoe has proclaimed June 3, 1973, as "National MIA Day" in Texas, and urges all citizens to rally behind their national leaders in the quest for a full and accurate accounting of all MIAs.

He said that "the number of captured Americans recently released by the Communist leaders in Indo-China is only 30 per cent of those who have been listed as Prisoners of War (POW) or Missing In Action (MIA), and . . . the other 70 per cent, or over 1,300 men, have not been accounted for by the Communists." and, "those who may be still alive under secret captivity and its degradation and deprivations."

ETHICS FEUD ON — The House and Senate are poles apart on ethics legislation, and called on a conference committee to try and adjust the yawning differences.

House Speaker Price Daniel Jr., who has been stung with attorney general's opinions holding several of his reform measures unconstitutional, asked Attorney General Hill for an opinion on the Senate changes in HB 1, a cornerstone of his government cleanup package.

The Senate bill applies to only top-level state officials, legislators and judges, where the House bill took in all officials. Senators also ditched a House provision for an ethics commission to police violations and left the filing provisions up to the Secretary of State.

AGRICULTURE FUEL NEEDED — Agriculture Commissioner John C. White urged the Federal Office of Oil and Gas to seek immediate compliance from industry with guidelines which would assure adequate fuel supplies for Texas agriculture.

White said curtailments are already being made in spite of federal guidelines announced May 10. The commissioner said Texas is in a "critical period," and a lack of fuel could be "disastrous" to the 1973 crop season.

SHORT SNORTS — The House approved an overall revision of the system of financing public schools which would cost $1.8 billion over the next six years, but chances of Senate passage are dim.

Mrs. Violette Newton of Beaumont and Mrs. Lila Todd O'Neill of Fort Arthur were selected as poet laureates of Texas for 1973-74 and 1974-75. Mrs. Stella Woodall and C. W. Miller of San Antonio will be alternates for the honor.

A new Texas law signed by the Governor raised state job injury benefits from last in the nation to mid-scale.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO L. P. GAS USERS IN AREA

Twenty-six North East Texas Butane Dealers attended a meeting at the Holiday Inn in Mt. Pleasant Tuesday night, May 15, 1973 to discuss the critical shortage of L. P. Gas and the concern for the rural homes using L. P. Gas for heating, water heating, cooking, broiler houses, rural schools, tractors, motor fuel, irrigation, tomato houses heating and dairy products.

The question is what has happened to the fuel supply of consumers of North East Texas? One large refinery that produces 200,000 gallons every day is going in a pipeline to a chemical plant or a large under ground storage at Houston. Thousands of users of butane or propane are to be affected by the loss of this supply. These people have no other source for their fuel needs. This group has partitioned the Railroad Commission to grant a hearing for the purpose of trying to retain this supply back to East Texas Consumers.

If you feel that Rural Texans should have priority. Then write your Governor, Senator, and Congressman. t19b37-c

Cooper and their family of Irving, Mr. and Mrs. Ottis Harris and baby of Mesquite and Mr. and Mrs. William Lee Harris and daughter of Mansfield. Oil Production All-Time Record

Dallas. — In the face of unprecedented demand, Texas oil fields last year produced almost 1.3-billion barrels of crude oil, an all-time record for the state. This figure was tops among the nation's oil-producing states and represented some 38-percent of total U. S. production, according to statistics compiled by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

These figures show an increase of more than 67.8-million barrels over production in 1971. They reflect that during the last nine months of the year, the Texas Railroad Commission maintained a maximum efficient production rate for Texas field. This marked the first time Texas wells had produced all-out since 1948.

Last year's crude oil production, recorded in 203 of the state's 254 counties, was valued at some $4.5 billion.

In 83 years of recorded production, Texas has produced nearly 27-million barrels of oil, about 36-percent of total U. S. production.

Titus County, which has recorded production since 1936, last year produced 2,747,461 barrels of oil at the rate of 7,507 barrels a day. Production in 1972 boosted Titus County's production total through the end of the year to 164,422,158.

Red River County, which has had recorded production since 1951, last year produced 19,285 barrels of oil at the rate of 53 barrels a day. Production in 1972 boosted Red River County's production total through the end of the year to 449,580.

Franklin County, which has had recorded production since 1936, last year produced 3,224,067 barrels of oil at the rate of 8,809 barrels a day. Production in 1972 boosted Franklin County's production total through the end of the year to 134,063,144.

A PICKER-UPPER: A SUMMER SUPPER

Fast fixing food is the order of the day as summertime rolls into view. And a quick one dish supper that can be readied in advance and kept chilled in the refrigerator is a cook's dream come true.

A variety of crisp, cold vegetables add vitamins and color to an antipasto platter. Tasty sardines from Maine are generous with protein and calcium, but easy on the calories.

A 3-ounce serving of Maine sardines provides 20 grams of protein (about 1/3 the recommended daily dietary allowance for adults), 372 milligrams of calcium (more than 1/3 the daily recommendation), and only 175 calories.

Sardines are a natural for summertime suppers. Open the can and they're ready to serve in sandwiches as well as salads. For campers and outdoor buffs, Maine sardines also come in packs that don't require can openers.

MAINE ANTIPASTO PLATTER

- 2 cans (4 oz. each) Maine sardines
- Lemon juice
- 1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen green beans
- 1 cup bottled blue cheese dressing
- 1 1/2 cups drained canned garbanzo beans
- 1/2 cup bottled Italian style dressing
- 1 cucumber
- 1/2 cup vinegar
- 1 teaspoon oregano

1. Sprinkle sardines generously with lemon juice; cover and chill.
2. Cook green beans as directed on package till crisp-tender. Drain and combine with blue cheese dressing; cover and chill.
3. Mix garbanzo beans with Italian dressing; cover and chill. Slice cucumber, add vinegar and oregano; cover and chill.
4. At serving time, arrange sardines and chilled vegetables in compartments of relish or antipasto platter. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

SUGGESTIONS

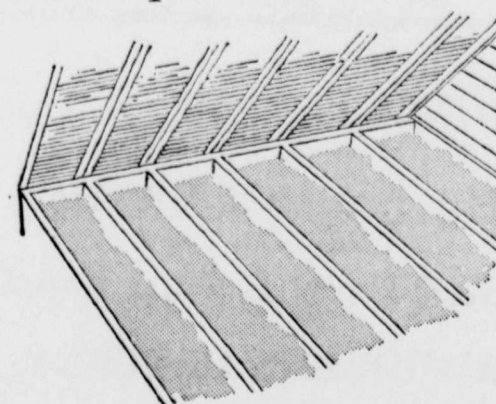

Keep your home comfortable year around and conserve energy with proper insulation. These handy suggestions from Community Public Service Company can help.

Insulation should be at least 6 1/2 inches thick in the ceiling, 3 inches thick in walls and 2 inches in floors.

Check attic insulation that has been in place for a while to make sure it hasn't settled... if so, add enough to bring it back up to 6 1/2 inches.

Good insulation can help reduce the work load and wear on your heating and cooling systems.

This is one of a series of money saving suggestions from Community Public Service Company to help you get the most efficient and economical use from electricity.
