By Nanalee Nichols

Early Tuesday morning, before work, I did what a lot of people did...went down to the polls to vote.

And, like most people, it was the county-level primary races that I was interested in...that I felt I had a stake in. Even more people didn't even worry about the county levels.

When that long, official-looking piece of paper that makes up the ballot was in front of me it was obvious that there were a number of positions on there that I simply wasn't informed enough about to cast an intelligent ballot.

I suspect I'm one of many with that problem. I suspect that it's the same on any ballot, not just the primaries.

Who then, is electing these officials? People who do have a direct interest? Folks who close their eyes and pick a candidate? Folks who vote because someone has an appealing name?

Of course, that led me to think about elections in general...and the good old American apathy that accompanies them.

And, though it's all been said a million times, I began to think about all those millions of people in Eastern Europe who are streaming into the streets in jubilation at the prospect of free elections, and of those who have braved incredible dangers for the right to vote.

Have we simply had the right for so long that we just don't know how to appreciate it?

Have we grown so used to our rights and freedoms that we think they can't be taken away?

Have we gotten so cynical about politics that we just don't think voting does any good, or that one candidate is just as corrupt as another?

Whatever the reasons, America's voter turnout is terrible, as we all know.

There's only one thing that I know to do about it. That's try to learn more about the candidates before an election...and make sure that I always make time for the polls.

That's all any of us have to do to remedy the situation. Because if each and every one of us makes a serious effort...voter turnout goes up, informed voters prevail...and the problem is fixed!

No educational campaigns, no tax dollars spent, no jingles urging folks to vote will be necessary.

One vote does make a difference. One informed vote makes an even bigger difference. Think about it.

Beware Of "Fly By Night" Work, Currently In The Area

It has been pointed out that once more there are some "fly by night" contractors functioning in the area.

Generally these people prey upon the elderly, frequently cheating them out of money by either overpricing their services, or failing to perform these services as quoted. They then immediately cash checks given them for these services, and leave the country.

People considering remodeling, paving, or any type of home work should use reputable, locally based workmen, one's that they know can be contacted after services are rendered.

EAGLE-Bill and Nancy Smith display the hand made ceramic eagle that will be part of the fund raising events scheduled for the Talco Volunteer Fire Department, which needs money due to a severely dry late fall and early winter. The department's bills were elevated by the incredible number of fires they had to fight. The eagle is on display at Talco State Bank, and donations earn the donor a chance to win it. Also, a beautiful quilt made by Mrs. Roy Ottinger is displayed at City Hall, with the same donation-chance to win applying to it. (Staff Photo)

Cuthand VFD Expanding With New Truck Since 1987, Cuthand Fire Department Has Come A Long Way

The Cuthand Volunteer Fire Department was organized April 7, 1987. At that time, it was decided to have a fund raiser in order to raise enough money to purchase a fire truck. In June of 1987, a 1957 Ford fire truck was purchased. Meetings were held at the Cuthand Community Center until a fire station could be built. Land was donated, materials were donated by individuals, and the department purchased some of the materials needed.

pleted enough to have a chili supper and pie auction. Enough money was raised to purchase two overhead doors and insulation for the building. Recently the department purchased a 1980 Dodge, 3/4 ton, 4-wheel drive pickup. Members of the department painted the truck and assembled the equipment needed for firefighting use. It is equipped with a 250 gallon fiberglass tank and a W.S. Darley high performance centrifugal pump with an 18 hp Briggs and Stratton engine. A 1,000 gallon tanker truck will soon be available for the department's use.

Cuthand Volunteer Fire Department would not be a reality today, if it were not for donations of individuals and businesses and a group of volunteer, hard working men and women. Members are planning a fund raiser in order to help pay a bank note, purchase radios and other equipment and completion of the building. Tickets are being sold by members for 1/2 beef to be given away at the Fish Fry and Pie Auction to be held April 28 at 5 p.m., at a $1.00 per ticket price. Door prizes will also be given away.

EXPANDED FIRE DEPARTMENT-the volunteers of the Cuthand Fire Department pose proudly between their old fire truck and the new fire truck they have built from "scratch". Since 1987 the department has expanded, building a fire station, purchasing the trucks and providing better fire protection to the community. (Staff Photo by Keye Lee)

Talco Volunteer Fire Department To Hold Fund Raisers

The Talco Volunteer Fire Department is in need of funds, and to help remedy this situation are planning several fund raising events. Because of the extraordinary number of fires during November, December and January the fire department has depleted their funds. The fuel bills, repair bills and equipment needs were much higher than usual because of the high number of fire calls they had to respond to. Fire Chief Randy Carroll says that during December they spent $900 in fuel alone, and since November they have spent approximately $3,000 in equipment repairs. The new repeater system that they have bought requires $2,000 to finish paying for that system.

A porcelain eagle, created by Nancy Smith, and donated Nancy and Bill Smith will be the prize in one drawing, with the ceramic creation on view at the Talco State Bank. A small donation earns the chance to win this eagle and can be made at the Talco State Bank or from any fireman. A beautiful quilt, made by Mrs. Roy Ottinger, will be done same way. It is on display at the Talco City Hall, donations can be made at the city hall or contact any Talco volunteer fireman. In addition there will be a volleyball tournament, which will be scheduled an announced at a later date. Fire Chief Carroll and all of the volunteer firemen urge people to help out in these fund raising efforts, since it is crucial to keep the fire department equipped and ready to respond whether the fire be a major house or business conflagration or a minor grass fire.

Talco VFD Using Repeater System

In November of 1989 the Talco Fire Department installed a new repeater system, which is located in Talco City Hall. The repeater system goes out to the belt wearable radios that many of the volunteer firemen have. The radio system enables firemen to talk back to city hall from a fire scene, or wherever they may be. It cuts down on individual fireman's response time, and therefore makes fire fighting response quicker too. The system has proved very successful and even contains a paging system which enables a particular member of the department to be paged. The repeater system, according to the fire chief, has boosted their communication range up to about 30 miles. Titus County pays each fireman who carries one of the radios $8 per man per fire. The firemen are putting this on the cost of the repeater system. $2,000 is left to finish paying for the system.

Soil Temperature Is Critical When Planting Garden

The temperature of the soil is critical to the success of newly planted gardens, says a horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Marty Baker. "Many vegetable transplants and seed will not tolerate cold soil," said Baker. "However, cool season transplants may be planted in soils with 45 degree temperatures. Cool season seed crops need a soil temperature of 50 to 55 degrees." "Most seeds are stored at a room temperature of approximately 70 degrees," Baker said. "Research has shown that putting the seed in the refrigerator for a couple of days may trigger the seeds to have a better germination percentage." "Warm season crops, such as tomatoes, can be set out when the soil temperature reaches 60 to 65 degrees," Baker said. "Hold off on certain crops like okra, sweet potatoes and southern peas until the soil temperature is well above 65 degrees." Soil thermometers are available for a few dollars. If a thermometer is not available, touch the soil with your hand to determine if it is warm.

Baker suggests using two soil thermometers in the garden. Place one at four to five inches deep and the other at one to two inches deep. By using both depths, the gardener should be able to gauge the right temperature for both transplants and seeds.
