Well, I hate to be a fair weather friend, but it looks like it's time to batten down the hatches because I've been keeping a weather eye out and it looks like the storm warnings are a'flying.

It seems the storm clouds are gathering, but you know that every cloud has a silver lining...and it's always darkest just before the dawn. That means that pretty soon we'll be singing in the rain and then it'll be blue skies again.

We'll be out making hay while the sun shines and it will be hot enough to bake our brains and fry eggs on the sidewalk.

Naturally, we'll be as happy as an old sow in the sunshine.

Right now, it's so dry that we saw two trees fighting over a dog the other day. A fisherman told us he caught a catfish and it had ticks, it's so dry! We wish it were raining cats and dogs instead.

Later this year, I'm sure that it will come a major gully washer...I mean a real frog strangler. It will be so wet that the ducks will be carrying umbrellas. It won't matter, we'll still get out a paper, if the Good Lord's willing and the creek don't rise, that is.

This fall we usually get a few days that are peacoup foggy...so thick that the fish will take short-cuts over land from one lake to another.

In winter there won't be anything between here and the North Pole but a barbed wire fence, and someone will have left the gate open at that!

Then it will be spring time again and those April showers will be bringing May flowers. It will be fair sailing for sure.

If you haven't already figured it out, folks, the above column (?) consists entirely of weather "Cliches".

After talking with some people about the current drought I began pondering just how much of our vocabulary is devoted to phrases that use weather as an analogy!

Even those to whom weather is not a guiding factor in their lives tend to use climatic conditions to illustrate their point.

One of the really odd things I stumbled upon was the fact that most cold weather statements aren't suitable for this column! Think about the expressions "It's colder than a ...". Off hand I come up with at least three things it's colder than...none of which will appear here!

Well, I just thought it was interesting how many weather expressions there were. But time and tide waits for no man (or woman) and I've written about enough this week. If you folks think of any more expressions of this nature, let me know, there are bound to be many more of them!

DID YOU KNOW?

President Judy Sloan called the 22 persons attending to order. The class receiving the $5.00 for their party money was the Pre-Kindergarten morning class, who had the most percentage of parents at the meeting. The group voted to continue to have this $5.00 incentive at each meeting, with the percentage being taken of P.T.O. members. Each parent and community member is encouraged to pay their dues in order to be counted for their child's class, or the class of their choice. The group also voted to keep Sara Stanley as a baby-sitter for all planned meetings.

Committees were formed for the Fall Festival, which will be held October 23, 1993. The Gym, Cafeteria, Coronation and Advertisements Committees can use help to make the

Mammogram Screening To Be Held in Mt. Pleasant

FEMCHEC, a mobile mammography service, will offer mammogram screening at Region VIII Education Service Center in Mt. Pleasant on Thursday, September 2, 1993. This will be FEMCHEC's fifth year to screen at the Region VIII ESC facility which is located at 2230 North Edwards Avenue (FM 1734) in Mt. Pleasant. Cost of the mammogram is $65.00 and includes the radiologist's reading. Results should be received within 10 days. FEMCHEC accepts personal checks, Mastercard, VISA, and Discover credit cards.

Area women are encouraged to take advantage of this opportunity to be screened for early detection of breast cancer. It is estimated that one woman in nine will develop breast cancer at some time during her lifetime. Mammography can detect the disease long before a woman can detect it through self-examination. Doctors advise that the sooner a breast cancer is discovered, the greater the chance of recovery.

The American Cancer Society recommends that women at age 35-40 have a baseline or initial mammogram to serve as a basis for future comparisons. Women 40-50 years of age are encouraged to have a mammogram every 1 to 2 years, depending on findings, risk factors, and what their physician recommends. Women over 50 years of age should have a mammogram every year, and possibly more frequently if there is a personal or family history of breast cancer.

To schedule an appointment for a mammogram screening, contact Jane Vicars or Angie Brown at Region VIII Education Service Center between 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. at (903) 572-8551. For information on FEMCHEC, the radiologist, equipment, procedure, etc., call FEMCHEC at 1-800-888-0978.

Country Cooking

By Judy Screws

I got a letter a few weeks ago from a lady who had a suggestion for a Country Cook. She said that Freda Jean, of Johntown, was an excellent cook. I called Freda to ask her if I could feature her in this column. She said it would be alright but that I could not take her picture. I half heartedly agreed, but I had plans for begging if necessary. She finally consented, and I'm sure the picture is lovely. Of course, this is assuming that there is a picture. There have been weeks when my pictures were less than wonderful and sometimes they have been totally non-existent.

Freda is a housewife. She and her husband, Donald, have two children, Mitchell 11, and Sarah 4. Mitchell is in the 6th grade and Sarah doesn't attend school yet. Donald and Freda have been married for 16 years. He is employed as an Electronic Technician with Texas Utilities. They met at Rivercrest High School, from which they both graduated. She plans to attend college as soon as Sarah is in school.

The Jeans are members of Johntown Missionary Baptist Church, where Freda is Sunday School Superintendent, teaches the Junior Class, sings in the choir, and serves on the activity committee.

Freda says she loves arts and crafts/ She gives them for gifts, and also uses them to decorate her home. She also sells some of them. I saw some examples of her work, and it looks really good to me. She has decorated some pretty colorful wreaths with paper twisted ribbons, berries and curls. I also saw some woodwork that she had painted and some other evidences of her talent placed around the house in the appropriate places.

According to Freda, she has to force her friends to try her Reuben sandwiches, in fact she didn't think they would be good at first since she doesn't usually like saurkraut, but now they are a regular at her table. Her recipe for Hot punch was given to her by a friend, Tonya Davis, and is a popular drink at get togethers. Her mom finally managed to get the cornbread recipe together, since she doesn't measure anything and wasn't sure how much of what to put into it. Freda says she loves the Mexican salad, but says she has to threaten the hubby with it since he swears that for the first five years of their marriage, she cooked it four nights a week and he has banned it from their home.

Thanks for letting me visit, Freda. I enjoyed it.

Everyone have a good week, and take care.

Rivercrest Rebels Zonk Karnack!

If the Rebels were a little apprehensive when they boarded the buses for their second pre season scrimmage last Friday night, they didn't show it when they got on that field. They really strutted their stuff against Karnack, amassing 4 points to Karnack's zip.
According to Coach Swann, Jeremy Weatherall made some impressive moves for the Rebs, penetrating the Karnack backfield. Defensive players, Matt Childer, Clay Pirtle, and Shannon Richeson got in some really good hits.

Coach Swann sounded like he was afraid to make any early predictions, but he sounded really pleased, when he said that the offense and defense both were really on their toes and doing their stuff.
The Rebels play again Friday night, September 3, at Tyler Street Christian Academy, at 8 P.M.

RESIDENT OF THE WEEK
AT RED RIVER HAVEN - Mrs. Jimmie Duffie is the Resident of the Week August 26, 1993. (Photo by Judy Screws)

Red River Haven
Resident Of The Week

Jimmie Duffie was born March 1, 1911. Her parents were James Abraham Perkins and Sarah Virginia Rodgers Perkins. Jimmie was raised in Deport.

Jimmie married Burl Duffie, from Johtown. She remembers a friend introducing them at a dance. They were married March 14, 1932. Burl drove trucks and farmed. Jimmie worked at Deport Nursing Home and Red River Haven after her son was 11 years old. Years ago Jimmie said that she and her husband owned and operated a wrecking yard in Johtown.

Mrs. Duffie loves to sew crochet, cook and do volunteer work. She has two grandsons, Gary Ray and Burl Wesley Duffie.

Jimmie remembers riding a horse to a dance. She said that they had to sneak off from their parents to attend this dance. While on their way to the dance the horse got bogged down in mud and they had to dig him out, before they could reach their destination. They went on to the dance, but had to wash the horse off before returning home in order to stay out of trouble.

Happiness is in the taste, and not in the things themselves; we are happy from possessing what we like, not from possessing what others like.

Rockwall County Aids Red River County

I feel compelled to relate some of the facts to you concerning a drug case that was tried in Rockwall County this August.

Our Drug Task Force had been working on a suspected drug dealer for some time. He was reported to be delivering cocaine into Clarksville every week, but he was hard to catch. Finally, an informant helped set up a large drug buy of Cocaine. The suspected drug dealer thought Red River County was "too hot" right now to make his deal here. Rockwall was chosen as the site to buy a kilo of Cocaine (2.2 pounds). The deal took place and our own Drug Task Force officers were there for the arrest. A Rockwall County Jury returned a guilty verdict against Jessie Ray Timmons and he was sentenced to 55 years in prison and a $250,000.00 fine.

The 2.2 pounds of Cocaine was enough to make 30,000-$10.00 rocks of Cocaine worth $300,000.00. That is 30,000 doses of poison being sold in our town and school and surrounding areas. One case at a time can stop drug dealing in our communities. Thanks, Rockwall.

Nuts & Bolts

By Judy Screws

I recently heard a child remark that she only liked the first day of school and the last day of school. I had no trouble identifying with that, because I believe she has finally put into one small sentence the exact way I felt about going to school.

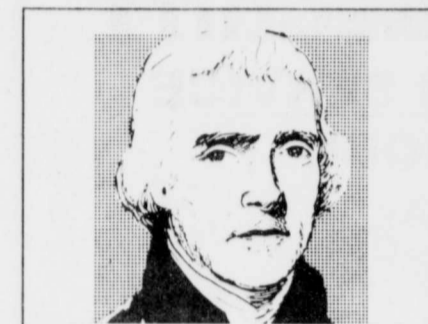

I can close my eyes and still smell the wonderful smell that clings to new school supplies. Notebooks, notebook paper, pencils, pens, ink, erasers, paste, mimeograph jelly, and other smells too numerous to name are etched in the part of me that controls my sense of smell. I know that mimeograph jelly is not the correct name for the squishy, bright blue-purple stuff which was in the little rectangular wooden tray from which those aromatic test papers would emerge, but it will do for lack of a better name. I think that if I just could go into an office supply store and purchase the scent, there would be no need for me to purchase all of the folders and files, and office niceties which I never use. After the first few days of school, this wonderful smell gets mingled with that of human beings and the activities of human beings and is gone until the next time you get to start all over the next year with new stuff.

After that first few days is over and the new has worn off the supplies, the personalities have gotten back to normal, and you've worn all your new clothes one time, the elation is over and you must deal with routine, rules and schedules. These are somebody else's routine, rules and schedules, which are meant to be beneficial for students. This is when I always wanted to just slip away and come back the next spring when it was almost over, because I don't deal with life really well and that is what school really is. It's a learning experience, and if you could do nothing but learn and achieve, it would be wonderful, but there is too much time in which you must try to do and say the right thing. I could not handle that part. I heard a man talk one time who described my feelings exactly. He said that he always felt as though everyone got to school thirty minutes early and planned what they were going to do that day, and then he showed up. I don't believe that I am a minority in this. I think that we spend a lot of time telling our kids what they should not do, and of course this must be done, but I believe the lucky kids are the ones whose parents just go ahead and tell them what TO do, also. I am not faulting parents with this, because many times when we are trying so hard to be nice to our children, we are doing them more harm than good. Maybe, or maybe not, if this could happen, children would not just look forward to the first and last days of school, but would also be able to deal with more of the days in between.

Rivercrest Tenth Grade Excels On TAAS Tests

According to a press release from Rivercrest High School Principal, Ray Miller, the 10th grade students at Rivercrest fared very well in comparison to other neighboring schools on the TAAS (Texas Assessment of Academic Skills) which was taken last spring. Rivercrest students scored above the state average as well as the Region 8 average in each of the tests given. The comparison of Rivercrest students to other neighboring schools on the percentage of 10th graders who mastered each of the tests is as follows: READING-Mt. Vernon 82, Rivercrest 81, Prairiland 78, North Lamar 77, Avery 76, Clarksville 73, Pittsburg 70, Paris 69, Detroit 68, Chisum 64, and Mt. Pleasant 63 - WRITING- Rivercrest 98, North Lamar 95, Mt. Vernon 93, Avery 88, Detroit 84, Prairiland 83, Clarksville 82, Pittsburg 80, Paris 78, Chisum 78, and Mt. The Region VIII average was Reading 73, Writing 86, and Math 56. State Average was Reading 70, Writing 80, and Math 55. As you can see, this shows the Rivercrest students to have done extra well in math and to have just been totally outstanding in reading and writing.

Effects of Oat Products on Cholesterol

Coronary heart disease (CHD) is the most common cause of death in the United States, claiming approximately one-half million lives annually. Several risk factors for CHD have been identified including hypertension, cigarette smoking, and hypercholesterolemia. The findings of the Lipid Research Clinics Coronary Primary Prevention Trial indicate that lowering elevated plasma cholesterol will definitely lower risk for CHD.

While it has been demonstrated that reductions in total fat, saturated fat, and cholesterol intake will help reduce plasma cholesterol levels, recent studies indicate that alterations in soluble fiber intake can also reduce plasma cholesterol levels. Soluble fibers are found in certain foods, including fruits, dried beans and peas, and oats.

Now There's Water To Go With The Hot Stuff!

By Thomas Nichols
Ernest and Sarah Butler of Manchester have a unique business, and are adding another unique feature to it. They have added a reverse osmosis filtered water system to their canning operation in Detroit.

The Butlers opened their business, named "The Best Of Texas" in February of 1992. They manufacture relishes, jellies, picante sauce, pickle chips, apple butter and candied jalapeno peppers. The onion and jalapeno pepper are both important ingredients in these zesty garnishes.

The Butlers say that the new water purification system will produce 800 gallons of water per day.

Tap water will feed into the systems and go through a process that removes chemicals and bacteria and it is then fed into a holding tank. They are confident this new system will aid them in their canning process as well as providing a convenient market for filtered water.

They have installed a coin operated dispenser by the entrance of their business in Detroit. Anyone wishing to purchase a gallon of water at any time can simply insert a gallon jug under the enclosed spigot and put in their quarter.

The dispenser will automatically fill the jug and shut off.

The Butler's "Best of Texas" products are sold generally through fairs, craft shows and other events, although they are available in some stores throughout the area.

Their jewel-like reds, greens and mixed colors are attractive in the jar and pleasant to those who like a zesty "taste of Texas" flavor.

Now, there's water to go along with those spicy taste treats.

Alert children to the dangers of borrowing—don't be afraid to charge interest on small loans.

Armyworms May Reign After Rain

By Robert Burns Texas Agricultural Extension Service

After six weeks of drought one might think an East Texas farmer's worries might be over when it rains.

An armyworm campaign might prove you wrong. Some East Texas pastures that have seen rain in the past few weeks have been besieged by armyworms, says James Robinson, Texas Agricultural Extension Service (TALX) extension entomologist based at Overton.

The larva form of a migrating moth, the armyworm is named for its habit of moving across pastures in large numbers like the legions of an advancing army, devouring grasses in their wake.

In East Texas at this time of year, armyworms pose the biggest threat to established winter pasture. Farmers commonly overseed Coastal bermudagrass pasture with winter wheat or rye from September through October. Armyworms are particularly fond of grass sprouts, particularly newly emerged ryegrass or wheat sprouts.

Armyworm moths migrate in the millions northward from South Texas in the spring and summer. As part of their natural life cycle, each moth will deposit a clump of 50 or more eggs on individual blades of grass.

During a drought, most of the eggs dry up or die within a few days. If the armyworms do hatch, they find nothing to eat and die.

The moths are persistent, however, and continue to migrate and lay eggs throughout the summer, drought or no drought. When their egg-laying coincides with a rainfall, the armyworms successfully hatch in droves and immediately start maneuvering.

Ten days after hatching, a mature armyworm measures 1 & 1/2 inches long. Its predominate color ranges from pale green to black, and it is marked by three parallel yellow lines running from its head to tail.

Armyworms can cause extensive damage before growers notice their presence, so the farmer's best bet is to be on the lookout if he has recently received or expects to receive rain. Also, armyworms are more susceptible to chemical controls soon after they hatch.

Robinson recommends using chemical controls when you count three or more small worms per square foot of pasture. Sevin (carbaryl) and Dibrom (naled) are both labeled for control of armyworms on pastures.

Grazing animals may be present during the application of Dibrom, but grazing lactating dairy animals after application is against the law.

Most dairy farmers will find Sevin more convenient. If farmers apply Sevin aerially, they may harvest the pasture for hay or graze cattle immediately. If Sevin is applied by a ground applicator, farmers must wait 14 days before harvesting or grazing.

Weather Served Soybeans Double Whammy

By Robert Burns
 Texas Agricultural Extension Service
 Most Texas soybean growers will be lucky to break even on their crop this year.
 With few exceptions, a wet spring delayed planting and early development of the crop. The drought that followed cut hopes of decent yields, caused smaller than normal seed size and low test weights.
 "The Plains area is the only bright spot," says Travis Miller, professor and Extension soybean specialist. Miller spent the better part of August touring Texas soybean production areas.
 The High Plains area of Texas, which includes panhandle counties, has been spared some of the adverse weather. Yields there should be about average.

 Miller expects potential yields along the Gulf Coast, Northeast Texas, and the Blacklands to average only 15 to 20 bushels per acre. At these yields, producers will be doing well to recover their production costs.
 Nationwide, soybean growers are in not much better shape. In Iowa, Illinois and Missouri, flood conditions destroyed or severely limited fields in low-lying fields, which are usually the highest-yielding areas.
 In Upper Midwest states like Minnesota and Wisconsin, a wet spring delayed planting, and continuing cool, cloudy or rainy days has slowed maturity. The crop in some Midwestern upland fields remains in excellent condition, though it is expected to be as much as a month late in maturing.

 "They could still make a good crop, but the threat of an early freeze is like a train wreck waiting to happen," Miller says.
 Bad luck for soybean producers in other states could spell some relief for Texas growers. The late crop together with increased demand has pushed soybean prices to well above $6, up more than $1 from last year.
 In 1992, Texas farmers harvested 12.9 million bushels from 390,000 acres, an average yield of 33 bushels per acre.
 "1992 was a good year. We got rain," Miller says.

Ed and Loyce Huddleston were accompanied on a trip to Colorado by Ike Fennell and Mae Haberie, of Paris. They were gone 11 days. The group went to The Fun Valley Resort area. They rode the Cumbres and Toltec Touring train from Antono, Colorado to Osier, New Mexico and back on a 7 hour trip. They said the scenery was breathtaking. During their trip, they went to Red River, N.M., came back to Cripple Creek, Colorado, and stayed 2 nights there. They got in a lot of trout fishing.
 The group cut their trip just a bit short, and left the wonderful cool and beautiful country.
