From my perspective

by Col. Roger A. Brady
64 FTW Commander

It's a little early to start thinking about Thanksgiving as a holiday, but the upcoming Combined Federal Campaign does provide a good opportunity to consider how blessed most of us are, and there are no seasonal limits on that type of reflection.

Our campaign officially begins Wednesday, and I'm looking forward to experiencing the generosity that Reese has always demonstrated. As the largest group of federal employees in our area, it is appropriate that we lead this annual community-wide effort to raise funds for agencies that help people — including our own!

You may have a favorite charity that you want to designate on your contribution form, or you may target one or more of the many local agencies that serve our people. However you choose to contribute, you can be confident that your money is going to help people who need it.

The key workers in your unit will be talking to you soon. He or she can answer all your questions about the campaign and the various agencies and options for distributing your donations.

Again, let me ask you to consider your own good fortune. Most of us in the Reese community enjoy pretty good health and we're able to meet our families' needs.

The CFC helps many thousands who aren't as fortunate, and it also helps us through agencies that support the Lubbock area and Reese itself.

This is a winner! You help others, you help yourself and you get the satisfaction of knowing you made a difference.

Join me in making this the best year ever for Reese and the CFC in the South Plains.

QAF: 35th FTS facility improvement will enhance unit effectiveness

by Capt. Brian A. Betts
35th FTS life support officer

The 35th Flying Training Squadron is putting the finishing touches on the new addition to Bldg. 76.

The project is one of three facility improvement projects on base, totaling $1.5 million. The addition was originally designed to be a new life support shop. However, due to new Air Education and Training Command sight picture guidance, the squadron duty desk, operations officer and operations flight were also to be moved into the new addition along with life support.

The 35th FTS commander put together a process action team to design the office layout for the squadron incorporating the operations and life support function into the new addition. The team used inputs from squadron personnel directly assigned to the operations flight and life support shop as well as the building contractor to develop and plan the layout of the squadron. This included an entryway/reception area, relocation of the administration section, a squadron lounge and mass briefing room, new life support and operations sections, coordination for furniture for each flight, and layout of the duty desk.

These changes are helping the squadron meet the recommendations of the sight picture.

The new addition will streamline the life support and flight operations by centralizing them in the squadron. The life support shop will reap the greatest benefits from the addition. In January, life support shops were decentralized command-wide, which put each shop in the individual flying squadron's chain of command. The new addition moves all of the 35th FTS life support functions into one building allowing all life support operations for instructors and students to be completed in the squadron instead of having to do helmet construction and pour in the 64th Operations Support Squadron. The new plan incorporates this into the new addition and also incorporates lockers above each parachute which keeps all of the pilot's flight gear in one central location.

The addition and reorganization of the 35th FTS will bring the squadron in line with the sight picture and make it one of the first squadrons in the command to do so. The use of the process action team was instrumental in designing the squadron's functions under one roof, thus allowing the squadron to continue to produce the world's best pilots well into the 21st century.

A sound you can live with Smoke detectors save lives

by MSgt. Luis A. Lynch
Reese Fire Department

Most people have a natural fear of fires and burns, but feel relatively safe in smoke. The Reese Fire Department warns that smoke is the real killer in a fire. About eight out of every 10 fire deaths are due to breathing poisonous smoke and gases. Some victims never even see the flames.

Since smoke is lighter than air, it rises. In a building, it will wind up stairs and down hallways. To prevent smoke inhalation, stay low and crawl to the nearest exit as quickly as possible. Once out, stay out.

Although you can't see it, smoke is filled with toxic gases. Plastics in particular give off a highly poisonous gas when burned. Since most homes have large amounts of plastic furnishings and most offices use many items made of plastic, fire in these places can be deadly. In addition, smoke contains carbon monoxide — a tasteless, odorless gas — that causes confusion, reduced mental capacity and eventually death. It is important to stay low to avoid breathing these poisons.

It is important to install and maintain smoke detectors to provide an early warning of fire and smoke. Exposure to smoke, even for a few seconds or minutes, can be fatal. Smoke detectors give you the extra edge you need to escape safely. The beeping sound of your smoke detector is your warning that fire or smoke has been detected. This is the time to follow the steps in your pre-fire plan:

- Alert everyone in the building.
- Call the fire department.
- Take action to extinguish the fire only if the fire is in its starting stage.
- Show the first arriving fire fighters the location of the fire.

Combined Federal Campaign

Annual fund drive helps those in need

The 1993 Combined Federal Campaign kicks off Wednesday.

During the six-week-long fund drive, the wing looks to exceed its goal of $85,000. Last year wing contributions helped more than 115,000 people in Lubbock alone.

Just to name a few: a total of 7,691 persons received food and assistance from the Salvation Army; 220 victims were helped by the Rape Crisis Center; and 347 children were matched with Big Brothers or Big Sisters.

Other local health and service organizations receiving support from Reese's CFC contributions include the Reese Youth Activities, Red Cross, Boys' and Girls' Clubs of Lubbock, Catholic Family Services, Lubbock Children's Health Clinic and Women's Protective Services.

Donors can designate any of 35 local agencies and 1,000 national and international agencies they want their money to go to.

Contributions go for everything from taking care of the kids of working parents who don't earn enough to pay for day care, to research in cancer and heart disease, said Maj.

Joe Macklin, wing project officer. "We want everyone to know that when they make a contribution, their gift will go to whatever agency they designate," Major Macklin said. "Because of volunteer help and donations of material and equipment, 95 cents out of every dollar raised goes directly to aid community organizations."

Contributions by wing members allow CFC to make a significant impact on the quality of life we share in the Reese and Lubbock community. "This is our once a year opportunity to show we care, so let's do our part and help where help is needed most," said the major.

Air Force, Navy aircraft fly in support of United Nation's Operation Deny Flight

WASHINGTON — The United Nations ban on military flights in the airspace of Bosnia-Herzegovina continues into a sixth month amid speculation of a peace agreement to end the war.

As of Aug. 29, U.S. Air Force F-15, F-16 and KC-135 aircraft have flown more than 1,800 sorties in support of Operation Deny Flight—the U.N. backed action to enforce a no-fly zone in Bosnia.

The fighters use Aviano AB, Italy, as a staging base, while tanker aircraft are flying out of Malpensa and NAS Sigonella, Italy. U.S. Navy F/A-18 and F-14 aircraft are supporting Deny Flight from the USS Theodore Roosevelt, which has been operating in the Adriatic.

In addition to U.S. Air Force and Navy assets, France, United Kingdom, Spain, Turkey and the Netherlands have sent a variety of fighter, tanker and surveillance aircraft to support the operation.

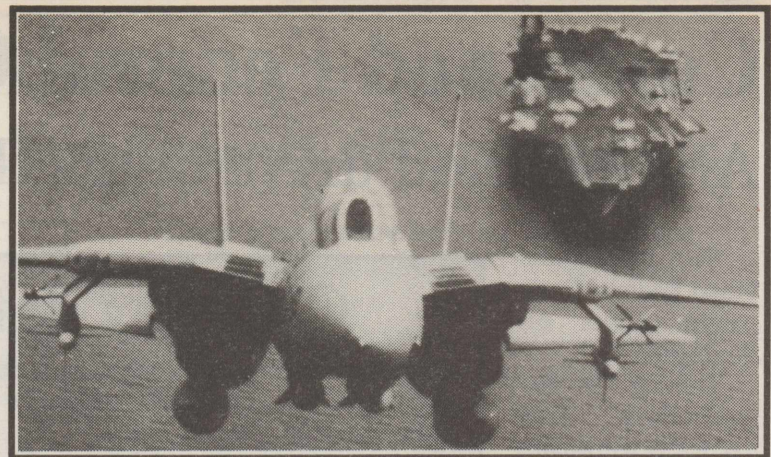

U.S. involvement in Deny Flight began April 12 when the U.N. deemed it necessary to ban all non-U.N. fixed-wing and rotary-wing aircraft in the airspace of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

NATO aircraft have been "invincible" in Deny Flight operations, and are also capable of the close air support air-to-ground role, said an Allied Forces Southern Europe report on the operation.

In addition to on-going negotiations to end the war, there is renewed talk from Washington and U.N. headquarters for the allies to send more troops to Bosnia so a cease-fire will hold.

Frank G. Wisner, under secretary of defense for policy, recently told Congress that the post-Cold War world is fragile and regional, ethnic and religious antagonisms are on the rise. However, Wisner said the United States would not put American troops in harm's way without certain guidelines for decision-making. "When we decide that force needs to be used, we must and will retain the freedom to act as necessary to protect our interests."

A Navy F-14 Tomcat takes off from its carrier. U.S. Air Force and Navy aircraft have already flown thousands of sorties in support of Operation Deny Flight.

News Notes

Change of command set

Col. Frank Geisler will assume command of the 64th Operations Group Sept. 24.

Colonel Geisler comes to Reese from Luke AFB, Ariz., where he has served as the deputy commander of the 58th Operations Group. The colonel's selection as the new 64th OPG commander was announced in May.

A change of command ceremony is scheduled for 10 a.m. in front of base operations.

Reese to observe POW/MIA Day

POW/MIA Day observances are set for Sept. 17 here.

Included in the Reese observance will be a POW/MIA Day luncheon at noon at the Officers Open Mess. The featured speaker for the event is Lt. Col. (retired) BoB Jeffrey, who was a POW in Vietnam. Reservations for the $6 luncheon are available by calling 6337 before Tuesday.

The luncheon will be followed by a POW/MIA service at the Reese Chapel.

AFSA announces awards

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AFNS) — The Air Force Sergeants Association has awarded its highest honor to Gen. John Michael Loh, Air Combat Command commander, and its award for bravery to SrA. Daniel W. Downey of Minot AFB, N.D.

CMSAF Gary R. Pfingston and AFSA's international president, retired SMSgt. Donald E. Gammon, also presented awards to 14 other enlisted members at AFSA's 1993 International Convention here Aug. 18.

General Loh won the L. Mendel Rivers Award of Excellence primarily for Bright Flag, an initiative to improve training for everyone in ACC in the areas of job skills, quality improvement, and off-duty and professional military education.

Downey won the A1C William H. Pitsenbarger Heroism Award for risking his life while serving in Honduras. A member of the 5th Security Police Squadron, he helped two wounded civilians under rifle fire from Honduran soldiers.

Return to fly board set

RANDOLPH AFB, Texas (AFNS) — The next field grade return-to-fly board will meet at the Air Force Military Personnel Center Oct. 5-8.

The board will consider fighter, bomber, tanker and tactical airlift pilots, and weapon system officers to fly again and compete for leadership positions, Air Force personnel officials said.

Anyone who wants to be considered but does not receive notification by Monday should contact the major command assignments section, or the personnel center's special flying programs section at DSN 487-5035.

MS-DOS class on tap

Data Monitoring Systems will conduct a MS-DOS class Tuesday and Wednesday. For information call 3299.

Top 3 membership picnic

CMSgt. David Ptomey talks with MSgt. Harold Little during a recent Top 3 Association picnic. All senior noncommissioned officers and master sergeant selectees are eligible to join the association. The next meeting of the Top 3 Association is scheduled for Sept. 21 at 3 p.m. in the enlisted open mess.

Transition workshop planned

The next civilian career options workshop for military members within 180 days of retirement or separation, or who have retired or separated since Oct. 1, 1990, will be from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Tuesday through Friday in the Reese Family Support Center.

R.S.V.P. is due today. Call Pam Appell or Reynalda Schroeder at 3305.

VA urges home refinancing

HOUSTON (AFNS) — The Department of Veterans Affairs is urging people to consider refinancing their VA-guaranteed home loans to take advantage of today's lower interest rates.

Veterans can refinance their loans with private lending agencies by either regular refinancing or through an interest rate reduction refinancing loan.

The latter requires no out-of-pocket expenses, providing the lender absorbs all closing cost, say VA officials here.

Closing costs on VA-guaranteed loans are lower than rates on regular loans because the VA doesn't require credit checks or appraisals, officials said.

More than 1.5 million veterans have outstanding VA loans at interest rates of 9 percent or higher.

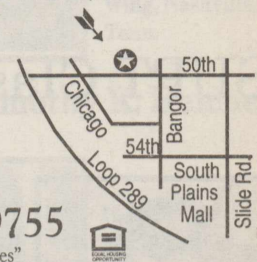

If homeowners refinanced these loans — which average $90,000 — at a rate of 7 percent, they would save $254 million per month, officials said.

Air show

Blue Angels highlight Reese Community Appreciation Day activities.

The U.S. Navy's Blue Angels will perform at Reese Sept. 18.

The Blue Angels are the Navy's renowned flight demonstration squadron. They will be helping the wing celebrate the forty-sixth anniversary of the creation of the U.S. Air Force as a separate service on Sept. 18, 1947.

"This year's Air Force birthday celebration will also be a Community Appreciation Day," said Col. Roger Brady, 64th Flying Training Wing commander. "We in the U.S. Air Force can offer thanks to area residents for more than 50 years of cooperation and support between the base and its personnel, and the citizens of the Lubbock area community."

"Over the years," Colonel Brady explained, "there has been no change in the primary mission of Reese which has been 'to train pilots' since its establishment. With the arrival of 40 new T-1A Jayhawks during the past two years and the beginning of specialized undergraduate pilot training this past year, Reese is now the Air Force's premier pilot training base ready to lead the Air Education and Training Command into the 21st century."

Although the Blue Angels will be the featured flying attraction, there will be a number of other aircraft performing flyovers and flying capability demonstrations. The remainder of the aircraft will be on static display on the flightline parking ramp.

Off-base visitors will be admitted from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. During that time there will be a variety of continuous flying activities. Static display aircraft will be available for public inspection on the aircraft parking ramp.

More than 30, and possibly as many as 40 military and civilian aircraft will be on static display when the gates open. The display will include fighters like the Air Force's F-15 Eagle, the F-16 Fighting Falcon, and the F-111 and the Navy's F-14 Tomcat and A/F-18 Hornet. Attack aircraft like the Air Force's A-10 Thunderbolt II and AT-38 Talon, and the Navy's AV-8B Harrier will have cockpit viewing ladders available.

An Air Force F-16 pilot talks with visitors at last year's air show here. Up to 40 aircraft will be on static display here Sept. 18.

Transport aircraft such as the C-130 Hercules and possibly the C-141 StarLifter will be open for walk-through visitors. Both the giant KC-10 Extender and the KC-135 Stratotanker refuelers can be seen, as can a large variety of Air Force and Navy training aircraft. A few helicopters and a number of vintage aircraft historically significant to Reese will also be displayed.

A number of military and civilian aircraft are expected to fly-by above the flightline.

Four-ship formations of Reese T-37s, and T-38s and a solo T-1A will fly-by prior to the Blue Angels show.

Other aircraft scheduled to put on flying capability demonstrations are a Christian Eagle, an Iskra Jet (the training aircraft of the Indian and Polish Air Forces), a Sukoi SU-26 MX and a helicopter pararescue demonstration.

Reese plans busy Hispanic Heritage Month

The Reese Hispanic Heritage committee has planned an extensive list of events to observe Hispanic Heritage Month. These include:

□ Wednesday through Sept. 29: The child development center will conduct its traditional coloring contest. Prizes will be presented at the luncheon Sept. 29 from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. A Mexican style feast will be served at a cost of $3 per person. For more information contact Mrs. Diane Hernandez at 3226 or call the child development center.

□ Wednesday through Oct. 15: A book display at the base library will depict the long cultural background of Hispanics in America; their contributions to society, business, the military and national security.

□ Wednesday through Oct. 15: The Hispanic cultural booth will be on display in the base exchange lobby during the month-long celebration.

□ Wednesday: The Caprock Cafe will kick-off this year's Hispanic Heritage Month celebration with their traditional "Mexican feast extravaganza" from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Everyone is invited.

□ Sept. 18: The Hispanic Heritage committee will sponsor a booth at the Air Show. Menu items will feature nachos and snow cones. The booth will include a display of Hispanic cultural items.

□ Sept. 21, 23: Members of the Hispanic Heritage committee will conduct two "conversational Spanish" classes during the lunch hour at the Family Support Center. Capt. Maritza Milan and 2nd Lt. Jose Aleman will teach a basic Spanish language course. This great learning opportunity is free to all base personnel.

□ Sept. 24: The officers' open mess will be the site for this year's "Baile Grande" featuring one of Lubbock's top Hispanic bands - Cervantez and Company. The night's festivities begin at 8 p.m. with the San Patricio Ballet de Folklorico dancers performing traditional Hispanic folk dances. The dance itself begins at 9 p.m. and the cost will be $5.50 per person. Contact Sandi Montez at 3289, or Sandra Briseno at 3499 for tickets. Open to the base, Lubbock and surrounding communities.

□ Sept. 26: A cultural Mass will be celebrated at 9:45 a.m. in the base chapel. The music will be provided by "Poquito Sol." The Hispanic Heritage committee will also sponsor a reception immediately following the Mass. Father David Ivey will conduct the bilingual Mass.

□ Oct. 1: The Youth Center will host a Friday night live "Hispanic Style" for children 5 through 12. Several Mexican games, along with a piñata, will be available. Cost is $5 for members and $7 for non-members. Festivities will run from 7 p.m. to midnight.

□ Oct. 4 - 8: The before and after-school program at the youth center will make arts and crafts in celebration of Hispanic Heritage Month.

□ Oct. 8: This year's Fun Run will be held at the base fitness center between 9 a.m. and noon. For more information about sponsoring a participant, contact MSgt. Norm Febus at 3823. This event is open to the base and Lubbock community.

□ Oct. 9: A teen dance featuring Hispanic music will be hosted by the youth center and will take place at the Mathis Community Center starting at 7 p.m. Cost is $5 for members and $7 for non-members. Food will be provided.

□ Oct. 14: Hispanic Heritage Month luncheon is set for 11 a.m. in the officers open mess. The fajita buffet-style luncheon will feature an Hispanic costume show by the Texas Tech Mexican American Student Association. Tickets are $6.95 each. Contact Sandra Briseno, 3499, or Sandi Montez, 3289, for tickets.

□ Oct. 15: A $200 scholarship will be awarded to a South Plains College or Wayland Baptist student. For applications and information contact the education office.

□ Oct. 15: To culminate this year's Hispanic Heritage Month celebration, a golf tournament will be held at the golf course. Cost per person, including entry fee, one cart per team and lunch, is $25. Contact Capt. Curt Castillo at 3132 for more information. This event is open to all base and community golfers.

54th FTS begins defense of flag football title

11 teams to battle in two conferences

The 54th Flying Training Squadron will begin defense of its 1992 intramural flag football title Monday at the Reese outdoor sports complex.

Eleven teams will vie for this year's crown: six in the National League and five in the American League.

National Conference teams are: the 54th FTS, the 52nd FTS, the 35th FTS, the 64th Medical Squadron, the 64th Operations Support Squadron and the 64th Civil Engineering Squadron.

American Conference teams are: the 64th Mission Support Squadron, the 64th Security Police Squadron, the 64th Communications Squadron, the 64th Logistics Squadron, and Lockheed.

The league will play two or three games each Monday, Wednesday and Thursday through Nov. 3.

This week's games include:

Monday

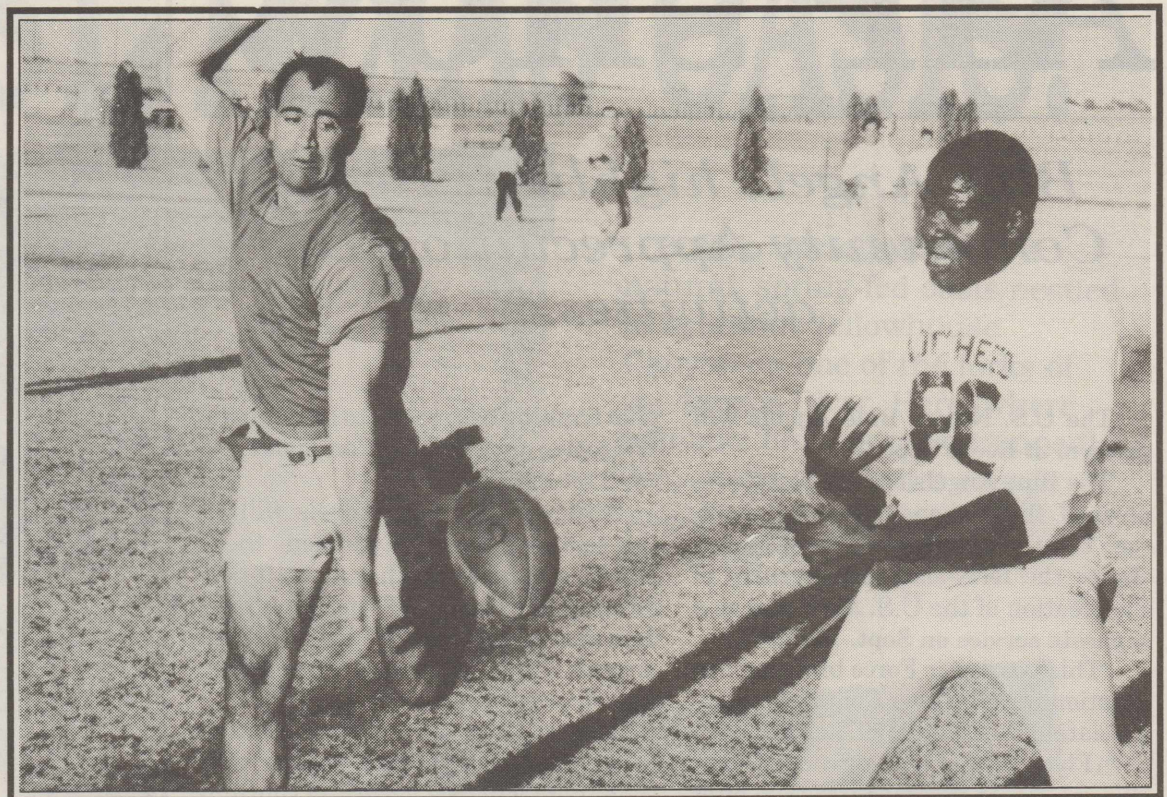

64th MEDSQ vs. 64th MSSQ, 5 p.m.; 52nd FTS vs. 64th CS, 6 p.m.; and 54th FTS vs. Lockheed, 7 p.m.

Wednesday

64th MEDSQ vs. 64th OSS, 5 p.m. and 35th FTS vs. 64th SPS, 6 p.m.

Thursday

64th CES vs. 64th MEDSQ, 5 p.m.; 64th SPS vs. 52nd FTS, 6 p.m.; and 64th MSSQ vs. 35th FTS, 7 p.m.

Capt. Chuck Greenwald, 54th FTS, defends a pass against Lockheed's Tony Oliver during last year's flag football playoffs.
