Sloan Bombardiers Swing Into Action

Uncle Sam's Knockout Punch On Way, As Dare Devils Take To Skies

Uncle Sam has started the swing of a knockout punch, and it's coming straight from this world's greatest bombardier training school here. It's a punch that will be delivered "on the button" by the young men who have taken over the trim barracks and sunny classrooms of the cadet area at this bombardier college, the young men who make up the Sloan Field's first class of tyro bombardiers.

Building up to their arrival were months of planning; work that lasted far into the nights; the skill and labor of thousands of men.

Now the performers are here; the curtains up on an exciting new show, and it's going to be a slambang hit.

From everywhere. From all points of the compass they have come, young men who are attacking their twelve-week course with an eagerness that comes only to those whose theater of action is the sky. Corn belt boys bring and Iowa twang, Kentuckians their sleepy drawl; from New England come the pun "rawthers"; "You-alls" from the Texas plains.

They are the young men of Everytown, U. S. A., and they're here with a single purpose. They are learning a new and deadly science, one that will carry the war to the enemy wherever he may be. They are learning to use Uncle Sam's most potent weapon, his bombsight.

Like chemists with a secret formula they study charts and graphs; with the sureness of stooping hawks they send practice missiles streaking target-ward from high in air.

These are the bombardiers. The "Hell from Heaven Men" they call them. Training is under way. Dividing their days between earth and air, these budding bombardiers study like scholars in their ground school classrooms, and in their sleek twin-engine training planes prove their prowess by doing what they learn.

Largest Bomb Dump
The stock of practice bombs brought here for their use forms one of the largest bomb dumps in the world. Great bombing ranges nearby will be shaken daily with the burst and flash of them.

In their daily lives these young men find all the comforts of home. Yet about them lies an aura of excitement, something of the mystery that surrounds the bombsight they use. For only to the bombardiers are its secrets revealed.

At Sloan Field these days there's the smooth bustle of work in progress. The smartly uniformed cadets keep classrooms and huge hangars humming; twin-engine training planes, glittering in the West Texas sun, fill the air with the steady drone of motors; in a recreation area sturdy young men in gym suits go through their rigorous calisthenics; on the flying line mechanics swarm over a disassembled plane; heavy-duty, olive drab trucks roll endlessly up and down the broad streets; a "jeep" heads off across a far corner of the field like a loping jackrabbit.

It's first class in hand, Sloan Field has buckled down to business. For new classes now will be bringing more and more young Americans to this bombardier college with the regularity of clockwork.

Uncle Sam has come out swinging, and from Sloan Field will come the knockout punch.

Extension Test In Fullerton Area Of Andrews Started

By Frank Gardner Oil Editor
A three-quarter mile extension test to the new deep Permian lime pool in Northwestern Andrews County opened by Fullerton Oil Company will be drilled by Magnolia Petroleum Company on its 30,288-acre B. E. Ralph block.

The outpost is the No. 1-11-37 B. E. Ralph, 660 feet out of the southeast corner of section 11, block A-37, public school land. It is west by southwest of Fullerton No. 1 H. M. Wilson, the discovery well. Magnolia has a mineral deed tantamount to 92-year paid-up leases on the Ralph land, with about 32 or 33 years before expiration. The big block, all in Western Andrews, lies west and southwest of the Fullerton well. Drilling in the new test is scheduled to start Wednesday, with rotary to be employed.

Last reports from the deep Permian discovery credited it with having flowed 455 barrels of oil in 15 1/2 hours. It is bottomed at 7,280 feet, plugged back from 8,005, and has been acidized with a total of 6,500 gallons. It also is reported that operator plans to rig up swab to expedite cleaning out sludge and acid emulsion. No. 1 Wilson is in section 15, block A-32, public school land. A west offset, Fullerton No. 2 Wilson, is drilling past 1,122 feet in well beds.

Hits Air, Blows Out
Interest was attracted to a wildcat in Southeastern Andrews, Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company, as it encountered air at 1,993 feet and blew out at 2,016 feet. Air soon exhausted and the test is drilling ahead in anhydrite, salt and red beds.

Northeast of the Cedar Lake pool, Magnolia No. 1 Lillian Scanlan, Northwestern Dawson County wildcat, is drilling past 2,255 feet in anhydrite and sand. Dunigan Brothers & Brahaney No. 1 Alice Henard, Central Yoakum County wildcat, is drilling at 5,350 feet in lime, with no appreciable amount of oil or water in the hole. It is said to be about 25 feet lower structurally than the old Bahan & Rhodes and J. E. Fitzpatrick No. 1 Henard, failure seven-eighths of a mile southwest in the same section, which logged a promising showing of oil before drilling into sulphur water.

Ralph Lowe of Midland No. 1 Brown & Altman, Southern Winkler wildcat slightly more than a mile north of the Werner pool, Saturday was drilling at 3,055 feet in sand, still above the main pay horizon. The well now is estimated at 60 to 70 barrels of oil per day, flowing through two 4-inch outlets of pressure head. Gas has decreased from a peak of 6,500,000 cubic feet per day to an estimated 2,000,000 feet. The well first picked up gas at 3,005 feet in the Colby sand horizon, then logged more gas and an estimated 25 barrels of oil daily in sand from 3,021-25 feet. An increase in oil came in at 3,048 feet.

Ranges, Prices Right, Cattlemen Are Expecting 1942 To Be A Banner Year

By Bill Collins
Cattlemen of the Midland territory had a banner year in 1941 and are in better condition than at any time in a number of years, but practically all ranchers are eyeing Washington before making and announcing definite plans and predictions for 1942.

The ranchers expect and hope for even better conditions this year, but most of them assert it all depends to a certain extent on orders from Washington. Rising costs affect ranching as well as other industries and cattlemen point out "it is not all

U. S. Sub Sinks; 33 Believed Dead

WASHINGTON (AP)—At least 33 men were believed to have perished in the American submarine S-26 which sank—the Navy disclosed Saturday—when it collided with a naval escort vessel off the Panama Canal Zone the night of January 24.

Only two officers and a seaman who had been standing on the bridge during the submarine's operations survived. They were the commanding officer, Lieutenant Commander Earle C. Hawk of Saugerties, N. Y.; Lieutenant Robert E. N. Ward, of Antioch, Calif., and Seaman Joe B. Hurst of Ada, Okla.

The impact threw them clear of the submarine's superstructure and they were fished out of the water. The Navy said it had abandoned all hope for those who went down with the craft.

Germany Propaganda Machine Is In Action

NEW YORK (AP)—The German propaganda machine went into action Saturday to prepare the German people for the shock of a British-United States invasion of the European continent, timed in the spring to disorganize Hitler's renewal of the offensive in Russia.

Coming just at the time when Moscow dispatches reported the Red Army hammering at the very bases from which Hitler plans to launch his spring offensive, this propaganda maneuver may be intended primarily as a morale-building operation.

Army Plans Air Force Two Million Men

Stimson Announces Program To Give U. S. Air Superiority

WASHINGTON (AP)—A two-million man air force—the world's largest—was announced Saturday as the Army's eventual objective with half that number to be mustered before the end of the year.

This tremendous program, aimed at giving the United States crushing air superiority over all its enemies, was disclosed by Secretary of War Stimson who, before Pearl Harbor, had set a goal of 400,000 men in the Air Force by June 30.

It compares with a reported strength of 1,000,000 to 1,250,000 in the Nazi Luftwaffe and of about 1,000,000 in the British RAF. It is 100,000 more men than the Army had in all branches at the outbreak of the war.

The war secretary did not break down his over-all 2,000,000 figure into categories of pilots, mechanics, etc. It is known, however, that the original goal of a 400,000-man force called for training of 30,000 pilots a year. Presumably, this training program eventually will be quadrupled.

Expand Other Forces
In addition to the Army's plans, the Navy is preparing an immense air arm. Secretary of the Navy Knox announced a week ago a program for training 30,000 naval air cadets each year.

Simultaneously with its announcement of the Air Force program, the War Department took steps toward further expansion of the ground forces. An executive order from President Roosevelt authorized it to call to active duty 27 organized infantry divisions which in peacetime exist only on paper.

Department officials said this would mean early mobilization of all qualified reserve officers now on active duty, and of specialized reserve units, such as hospital units which have been formed in many cities.

Activating the 27 divisions will be carried out in this manner: Reserve or regular Army officers will be assigned, along with cadres of enlisted men. The ranks then will be filled out largely from selective service recruits.

Big Warplane Program
These 27 divisions are among the 32 which Stimson said recently would be added to the land forces this year to increase them to 3,600,000 men.

The two-million man Air Force was closely tied in with plans for producing 185,000 warplanes this year and next.

West Point is to turn out fliers. General George C. Marshall, the army chief of staff, authorized a statement that a number of cadets would be graduated as pilots.

Don't Forget That You Get Up Earlier Monday

WASHINGTON (AP)—A war effort in which everyone can join—saving daylight—begins Sunday night.

The clocks will remain ahead until six months after the war.

Midland Council Lays Broad Plans For RECREATION For Sloan Field Men

A long-distance call will be the principal prize in the contests for Sloan Field men at the Recreation Hall Monday night. The winner who is the tops in the contests of the evening will get a tree call to anyone of his choice, at any point in the nation!

A coffee hour, 4 to 5 o'clock, will be held at the Soldiers Recreation Hall Sunday afternoon, with one of the cues of the city serving free coffee and cake to the visitors, it was announced Saturday by Recreation Council members. This informal occasion will be repeated every Sunday, it is planned.

Monday nights have been designated as games nights, and prizes will be awarded every week. The long distance call prize for next Monday has aroused a lot of interest, as nearly every soldier has a sweetheart, a mother, or some other person to whom he would like to talk a bit from his new post center.

Tournaments Planned
A table tennis tournament will be held at the Hall each Thursday night, with a long list of appropriate prizes posted. The winners will go to the usual bracket of winners, as well as for consolation winners.

Saturday dance nights are proving a popular feature of the recreation program, and good music has been arranged ahead. Some special dances are being planned.

At a meeting of Council members Friday afternoon, with Mrs. Ralph Barron, the chairman, presiding, a broad outline of general plans for the future activities was discussed.

Trusts Fulcher, director of the activities, and employed by the W. P. A. recreation service and the city, has under way a recreational, educational and athletic program which will be attractive to the Sloan Field personnel.

Softball Leagues
Plans include softball leagues, boxing tournaments, tennis and swimming meets; and a series of entertainments, some of which will be typically western, such as rodeos and barbecues; some strictly social; some in the nature of public forums; and some musical. A survey will be conducted at Sloan to determine a list of preferences for varied types of entertainment.

The Friday afternoon meeting was attended by Mrs. Barron; Mrs. Ernest Sidwell, chairman of the hostess committee; George D. McCormick, treasurer; and Fulcher. Other committee chairmen are: Mrs. N. A. Lancaster, hospitality; Mrs. John M. Hills, dances; Mrs. D. R. Carter, special entertainments; Harry Gossett, housing; Rev. Hubert Hopper, church relations; Lieutenant George W. Smith, and Lieutenant Raymond A. Fitzjar of Sloan Field. Each committee chairman has a large group of active members.

Death By Banishment

Because indiscriminate shooting of civilians caused "profound uneasiness" among Frenchmen, the German army of occupation has devised a new technique. It exiles Frenchmen by hundreds to eastern Europe. There, of course, most of them will die, but their deaths will be inconspicuous and less likely to invite reprisals from other Frenchmen than deaths against a wall.

This is a truly satanic technique. Of course no one pays any attention to the German allegation that all those who commit acts against the Germans are "Jews and Communists." If that were true, so much the worse for gentiles and democrats. But it is not true. Jews and Communists are not the only patriots of France.

Midland Police--

and modern equipment and methods have been inaugurated to complete the setup.

The department is headed by L. H. Tyson as chief of police, and Frank Manning as assistant chief. Charles Atkins as sergeant; and L. P. Wood as day radio operator and desk sergeant; Monta Lacey, night radio operator and desk sergeant; J. H. Glover, motorcycle officer; Henry Paddock, downtown beat during the day; Joe Pierce and Glenn Hudson are one pairing patrol, and Jack Merritt and Charles Atkins as another pair who operate the night patrol by automobile. Jim Walker is a relief radio operator.

All Men Schooled

Members of the police force have been adequately schooled in the latest methods in combating crime, and their studies go on continuously. They have likewise made a special study of traffic control, and in accident investigation methods. All have taken and are taking regularly courses in fire arm instruction and in the art of self defense.

Chief Tyson has attended several schools conducted by the Department of Justice and by the Treasury Department of the United States, and has worked with the FBI in study of methods of crime prevention and detection.

Frank Manning, assistant chief, is a graduate of the Texas Police Academy, at Camp Mabey, Austin, and has studied police methods in several special courses. He and others of the department have taken the special studies offered by the FBI in civilian defense and related enforcement steps, as offered year by year by the department.

Sergeant Atkins has had special training in the Department of Public Safety school at Austin, and has attended the regional schools in policing methods and practices. All members of the force are constantly in touch with and students of the various services afforded by state and national policing authorities.

Radio Is Effective

One of the innovations and most interesting features of recent development in the Midland Police Department is the work of the radio in coordinating all activities. Started on December 21 of 1941, the radio operation has become one of the most effective tools in stopping and in detecting crime. A radio transmitter and receiver set is located at the Police Station, and automobiles of the department are equipped with sets. The Midland County Sheriff's office and the State Patrol cars are likewise equipped, making it possible to coordinate the three groups on a moment's notice to effectively work together on any case.

Operating as Station KRLE, the Midland Police Department radio is in direct connection with all other cities of the region, ranging beyond Lubbock northward, San Angelo southward, El Paso westward, and into New Mexico, east to Fort Worth and even with Austin and San Antonio. So immediate coordination of all law enforcement forces of the area can be thrown together as a unit in knowing about a given problem, and assistance given all other regions in trailing criminals.

Within the past few days local police have apprehended criminals wanted by other cities, and in turn have had other cities assist them in making arrests, within a few minutes after the calls have gone out by radio. Patrolmen can be on the job in Midland within two or three minutes after notification of a law infraction, with all members of the force notified by radio. Every member of the force is a qualified radio operator and holds a third-class license.

City Police operate through a corporation court, of which C. C. Keith is Judge. Court is held daily at 10 o'clock; and immediately afterward all records are filed in a modern filing system, which gives the city a complete running history of the activities of the department. One of the most interesting records kept is that of the radio use, for every 15 minutes the operator gives the time of day to the men in the field, profit" in the ranch business. Bank deposits in Midland, the oil livestock and financial center of the vast Permian Basin area, are at a record-breaking high of more than six and one-half million dollars, and excellent conditions in the livestock business account to a large extent for the continually rising deposits.

Range Conditions Good.
Ranges in the Midland area are in good condition and cattle have wintered fairly well. There is lots of tall grass but it apparently does not have as much "strength" as in northern areas. There is lots of bottom moisture but mal years, one rancher commented, top moisture is needed to keep the weeds growing. A warm January brought out lots of little weeds.

Roy Parks, prominent Midland cattleman and chairman of the livestock committee of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, predicts an increase in the calf crop over the Midland section this year due to the excellent conditions. He also believes the calf crop will be earlier than usual. An 85% calf crop was reported last year.

Big Demand For Cows

There is a big demand for cows, Parks said, but there are few for sale and buyers are having a hard time finding young cows. Buyers are offering from $85 to $100 for cows.

Buyers still are picking up "short" steer yearlings at around 12¢ to 13¢ a pound, but it is predicted that few yearlings will leave the country this spring. Very few if any yearlings have been contracted for spring delivery.

The Midland territory, comprising 12 or more counties of West Texas and Southeastern New Mexico, annually markets around 50,000 head of highly-bred Hereford calves. The first white-faced cattle were brought in the Midland sector about the turn of the century and since that time breeders have continued to build up their herds until now there are no finer Hereford cattle produced anywhere.

Expect Good Price

Calves continue to bring around 11¢ and 12¢, with little contracting reported to date. Contracting of spring calves for fall delivery will depend on whether or not a ceiling is placed on cattle prices, ranchers believe.

Frank Cowden, Midland rancher, says his cattle are in fine condition and he anticipates an extra large calf crop. He predicts cattle prices will remain high and believes that if a ceiling is placed on cattle prices it will be fair to all concerned.

Jack Wilkinson, Midland sheep rancher, said sheep in the Midland area are in excellent condition, with few if any for sale. He predicts an extra large lamb crop which will be earlier this year than in 1941. Sheep prices will continue high throughout the year, he believes.

Despite the uncertainty confronting the livestock industry, most ranchers believe the coming year will bring continued prosperity to the industry, with little chance of declining prices during 1942.

City Sells Bonds For New Municipal Airport

Midland's Municipal Airport bonds were sold Friday for $60,000 to the Columbian Security Corporation of San Antonio, giving the city the cash for construction of its part of the new municipal airport, one mile north of the Midland County Club. Construction will await final approval of plans by federal agencies.

Details of the new port were planned by the U. S. Army Engineers, and are awaiting final approval of Army zone officers, and the CAA. Proceeds of the city bonds will go principally for the purchase of the land and administration quarters. The federal funds will be used in the construction of runways, lighting and drainage.

Big Increase In Cattle Expected

WASHINGTON (AP)—Favorable range conditions over Texas and the West generally have prompted federal agriculture experts to estimate that 1942 will see the number of cattle increased to approximately 74,000,000 head, despite goals calling for slaughter of 2,000,000 more animals this year than in 1941.

Encouraging increased slaughter, the Agriculture Department set a goal of 28,000,000 head to be killed in 1942. Preliminary estimates fixed the 1941 slaughter at 26,000,000 head.

vician, in the Abell field of Northern Pecos County, which nominally produces from the Simpson, middle Ordovician, sand, is indicated by Magnolia and George T. Abell of Midland No. 3-A State-Clint Myrick of Midland. After initial acid treatment of 1,000 gallons at 5,892 feet in dolomite the well was swabbed in and cleaned itself out in 15 minutes. It flowed 185 barrels of fresh oil in five hours and continued testing. The well topped the Ellenburger at 5,755 feet.

In the field, Sinclair-Prairie Oil Company No. 3 Bessie E. Heierman is preparing to drillstem-test McKee sand of the Simpson. It found oil sand from 5,506 to 5,523 feet in cores. Total depth is 5,528 feet in green shale.

Magnolia No. 1 State-Arthur M. Lear, one-mile southeast extension test to the Abell field, is drilling below 4,081 feet in lime.

Anderson-Pritchard Oil Corporation No. 1 Mrs. H. E. Two Submarines Attacked Ship

NEW YORK (AP)—The 15,355-ton Swedish vessel Amerikaland, one of the largest freighters in the world, sank less than 200 miles off the entrance to New York harbor Feb. 2 after being thrice torpedoed by two submarines, eleven survivors of the 39-man crew related Saturday night.

The ore-carrying ship was under charter by the Ore Steamship Company of New York.

The 11 survivors, including Capt. Ragnar Schultz, were landed at New York Saturday.

More Restrictions On Italians' Food

By The Associated Press
Italians, already hungry because Premier Mussolini's war backed, were placed under further severe restrictions Saturday. This may represent additional divisions of their food and supplies to the already better fed Germans.

By decree, meat, eggs and cheese were forbidden in restaurant fares in Saturday noon, Sunday noon and Sunday night meals.

Mussolini also ordered Italians to turn in all automobiles and trucks manufactured before 1930 so these may be scrapped to make shells and other war materials.

These further pinches followed a week's visit from the well-fed Reichsmarshal Goering, hair-apparent to Adolf Hitler.

Italy, forced to sign "trade treaties" with Germany, has seen huge portions of her food stocks funneled off to the Reich for a year or more.

West Texas Geologists Bringing Noted Speaker Here Monday Night

It was an interest in mountain climbing that led Francis P. Shepard of the University of Illinois into a study of the gigantic submarine canyons existing beneath the oceans of the world, and to become one of the world's leading authorities in that field of geology.

Prof. Shepard will speak in Midland Monday night at 7:45 o'clock as the guest speaker for the West Texas Geological Society, which has invited the public to hear his address on "Submarine Canyons of the California Coast and the Gulf of California." His address will be made in the Crystal Ballroom of the Scharbauer Hotel, and will be free to the public.

Mountain climbing during family vacations led to an interest in geology, and he became interested especially in the submarine formations. He followed the study at Harvard, which granted him a degree in 1919, and at the University of Chicago, where he earned the PhD degree in 1922. That year he joined the University of Illinois faculty.

In 1923 he began his study of submarine geology, and his father, a ship owner, made a yacht available for him that year in which to carry on his study of the ocean-bed geology. Since that time he has followed the study consistently, and has employed the latest scientific methods of survey, and has been one of the most successful men in this field.

During the past four years he has taken more than 50,000 soundings in charting the contours and extent of submarine canyons, and has brought up thousands of ocean floor specimens. He has in the meantime written more than 60 authoritative articles on the California coastal area, and has published a volume on "Submarine Topography Off The California Coast."

Shepard is enroute to California to continue a survey, and has accepted the invitation of the West Texas Geological Society to address a Midland audience.

IT'S THE LAW

Americans favor law and order. Step up to the bar and tell the judge what you know about these questions on law and courts.

1. What federal court does the Constitution specifically provide for?
2. Into what two general divisions does law fall?
3. Everyone has heard of the writ of habeas corpus. What are the functions of a writ of mandamus and writ of prohibition?
4. Upon what code of law is most American law founded?
5. Can all federal cases be appealed to the United States Supreme Court?

The warning came, Gillette said, from Killsoo Haan, agent for Korean Independence Groups here, and was transmitted to the State Department on Oct. 28.

Gillette said he felt free to talk about the matter since Secretary of State Hull had said the War and Navy Departments were kept fully informed of developments in Japanese-American relations.

Boy Scouts Answer Call Of Nation To Play Major Role In War Picture

History repeats itself! The Boy Scouts of America is living again the stirring days of 1917 and 1918. The present conflict recalls the service rendered the Nation when Scouting was only seven years old.

Now, on its thirty-second anniversary, the Boy Scouts of America again serve America at war. These services range from poster distribution to blackout first aid.

Early in 1941, before the United States became involved in actual war the Boy Scouts of America was asked to take the responsibility for the distribution of posters advertising the sale of United States Defense Bonds and Stamps. Boy Scouts put up 1,700,000.

Almost immediately the Office of Civilian Defense requested the aid of the Boy Scouts of America in helping to collect scrap aluminum for airplane construction. Boy Scouts all over the United States collected 10 million pounds of aluminum—eighty per cent of all collected.

Then came the appeal to collect waste paper. Thousands of tons of waste paper have been gathered already by them and their quest for it continues.

As in the last World War the Boy Scouts are doing those things of which they are capable to help the home front in its fight for the democratic way of life. Scouting prepares boys for many "good turns" and America has learned through war and peace a Boy Scout is dependable.

Scouts of the Buffalo Trail are cooperating in all phases of the national program, and leaders in Midland and all other towns of the area have selected specific tasks for local troops. The collection of waste paper, of scrap metal, and of training in first aid, have been under way throughout the area. Other activities will be inaugurated from time to time, while the regular citizenship responsibility training is going on in all troops.

Mattei Says American Petroleum And Power Industries Are Ready

America's petroleum, coal and power industries are equipped and ready to meet the greatly increased production requirements of the accelerated war program, as well as civilian needs, Albert C. Mattei, president of the Honoluli Oil Corporation, San Francisco, and a director of the United States Chamber of Commerce said in a radio address Friday evening presented under the auspices of the Midland Chamber of Commerce over KRLH.

Albert C. Mattei

Heard in one of a weekly series of programs entitled "Business Views the News," prepared by the United States Chamber, Mattei reviewed the nation's natural resources as related to the war emergency. He asserted that although the energy-producing natural resources are in good condition, the production of many metals and minerals needs to be greatly stimulated. Expansion can be accomplished by providing producers with proper price incentives, he said, so as to encourage the discovery of new mines and the full development of high-cost mines using low grade ores.

Mattei pointed out that domestic supplies of copper, lead, chromite, manganese, antimony, tungsten—all vital war materials—are ample. "We must have these materials," said Mattei, "and we can have them by advancing the price to producers, who certainly can't operate their mines at a loss."

As an example of how a proper price incentive serves to increase production of a natural resource, Mattei cited the situation of American supplies of mercury.

"Once we imported nearly two-thirds of our supply," he pointed out. "Today we have more than enough for all our needs. In 1938, when we imported 60 per cent of our mercury, the price per flask was $75.00. Today's price is $190.00 per flask. This not only exemplifies individual initiative, but also illustrates how our much-needed raw materials can be secured at home."

Oil Companies Asked To Pool Products

Plan To Increase Farm And Poultry Produce For War

Plans for an educational program to be carried out by the United States Department of Agriculture have been completed for Midland County, with the aim to help supply adequate food, to repair and better maintain farm machinery, and to collect scrap iron for the defense needs.

County agricultural workers and the local agricultural war board outlined the program during the past week, starting with a meeting Wednesday night, when County Agent I. O. Sturkie acted as chairman in the absence of W. E. Pigg.

It was found that the county is under-pledged on beef cattle, eggs, and vegetables for the market, and a survey will be made immediately to see just what needs to be done. Radio programs for the department will be devoted to these aims, with A. G. Bohannon acting as chairman.

Articles outlining better feeding practices, improvement of herds, market practices, and balance of herd size to feed supply will be furnished the newspapers. Land use looking to an increased yield will be especially stressed.

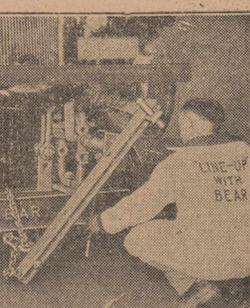

B. T. Hale was named chairman of the educational programs on the plans to increase egg production; and improvement of flocks and care of poultry will be stressed in all group meetings; and the Home Demonstration meetings will have special studies of the poultry needs and plans.

J. E. Davis and E. G. Bedford were named to survey needs of local retail stores to see what county producers can supply in the vegetable markets within the county.

J. C. Miles was named to survey implement needs and see what repair parts are needed and what are available. J. R. McCarter and Sturkie were named to plan the radio presentation of this part of the work. A publicity chairman for the scrap iron program soon will be named.

Articles outlining better feeding practices, improvement of herds, market practices, and balance of herd size to feed supply will be furnished the newspapers. Land use looking to an increased yield will be especially stressed.

Men Called May Make Own Choice Of Residence

A Selective Service registrant, at the forthcoming February 16th registration of men in the military service age bracket of 20 to 45 years old, who has more than one place of residence may choose which one he wants recorded as his place of residence to designate the Local Board that slays will have jurisdiction over him, General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director, said today.

General Page emphasized, however, that no transient address may be recorded and the Selective Service Regulations prohibit any interference or dictation by a registrar when a registrant who has more than one place of residence is making his choice as to which he desires recorded as his home address.

"It is the intent of the law and the purpose of Selective Service Regulations," General Page pointed out, "that each man be registered at his home address and be subject to call to fill quotas from that local board. That is a basic principle of democratic procedure and I expect every Selective Service registrant in the State of Texas to adhere strictly to it."

Registration cards to be used February 16th will contain a space for the registrant to list his place of residence. In the event that he has more than one place, he is required to list his own choice as his place of residence.

In addition, the registration card will have space for recording a mail address. This may be the same as the place of residence or it may be another address where the registrant will receive his mail more readily.

Selective Service Regulations also require each registrant to describe the place of his residence so that its location may be determined from its description. A registrant who lives on an R. F. D. route will be required to supplement his mailing address by a description of the location of his residence. For this reason, and because some registrants may be able to receive their mail more readily at an address other than their place of residence, the registration card has spaces for both addresses.

A description of the place of residence of the registrant, General Page stressed, will once and for all time determine the local board that will have jurisdiction over the registrant. The mailing address, however, can be changed when necessary and local boards will send their notices to the mailing addresses without regard to place of residence.

While the mailing address is subject to change whenever the registrant moves, General Page pointed out, registrars are instructed to warn the registrant that once he designates his place of residence he irrevocably designates the local board which will have continuous jurisdiction over him.

Senate Farm Bloc Launches New Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate farm bloc launched a new bipartisan effort Saturday to prevent the government from applying the brakes to agricultural prices before they reach the levels possible under the new price control law.

Senator Nye (R-ND) announced he would introduce in the Senate Monday a resolution which, if approved by Congress, would prevent federal agencies from taking steps to restrict agricultural prices until they had reached parity. Parity is the average price of an adjusted base period, usually 1909-14, calculated to give the farmer equality of buying power with others.

Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) said he expected to join with Senator Aiken (R-Vt.) in offering legislation which would prevent the government from selling any crop surplus if that action would depress farm prices.

Price Administrator Leon Henderson and Secretary of Agriculture Wickard have announced co-operative efforts would be made to prevent any undue increase in the cost of living.

Preston B. Blakeney visited Midland a few years ago, and was greatly interested in this section of the country, but he returned to his South Carolina home. Several of his children live in Texas, including Dr. Wade Blakeney and Miss Kate Blakeney of Corpus Christi; Mrs. Albert Johnson of Waco; Mrs. Bill Patton of Lockhart, and B. H. McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By William E. McKenney
America's Card Authority
 Yesterday I described the use of the joker in "Super-Contract Bridge," as described in a pamphlet by Capt. John M. Ellicott (U. S. N. retired). The joker increases the deck to 53 cards, and today I will explain how the extra card is handled in bridge.

Four hands of 13 cards are dealt in the usual way, and the extra card is then placed face-up on the table.

♠ 874	♥ K5	♦ 109532	♣ J107
♠ A962	♥ 432	♦ AJ	♣ K42
♠ K3	♥ 1076	♦ Q874	♣ A985
♠ N	♥ E	♦ S	♣ Dealer
♠ QJ105	♥ AQJ98	♦ K6	♣ Q3
Exchange card ♠ 6.
None vul.
South	West	North	East
1♥	Double	Pass	3♣
Pass	3NT	Pass	Pass
Opening—♥ K.

After the declarer is determined, he will have the privilege of exchanging this card for any card in his own hand or dummy. The exchange is made immediately after the opening lead and lay-down of the dummy hand. Declarer may reject the exchange card if he wishes, playing with his two hands as dealt.

Naturally each side is entitled to include the exchange card with its other 26 in calculating its bidding values. When the exchange card is a high honor, the total bidding power is thus increased and a fierce battle for the contract may ensue. But even when it is a low card, the battle may rage, because the exchange can greatly strengthen the pattern of a hand.

In today's hand, the declarer put the exchange card in dummy to lengthen the suit, and threw out the four of diamonds. He used his joker to stop the hearts after North was out, gave up one club trick to North, and won ten tricks. The extra trick came because South, having to discard on three clubs, could not guess that his only defense was to let go the six of diamonds.

Form Big Corporation To Produce Acetylene

HOUSTON (P)—Formation of a $100,000 corporation for the production of acetylene, as a part of Senator O'Daniel's attempt to bring a synthetic rubber industry to Texas, is virtually assured Jay Phillips, Houston accountant, said Saturday. Phillips is collecting funds and pledges for the program in the Houston area.

The corporation, under the O'Daniel plan, would produce acetylene near existing Texas power plants. Then the government would be asked to build a synthetic rubber plant in the state.

Synthetic rubber may be made from acetylene.

SERIAL STORY

TAMBAY GOLD

BY SAMUEL HOPKINS ADAMS

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

SAVED BY MELODRAMA

CHAPTER XXX AT the moment I didn't think Mowry might take that for more than was meant. He walked over and stuck his face close to mine.

"Yeah," he said. "I been hearin' things. What's Oliver to her?" Well, that was simply handing it to me on a platter. I gave Mowry the good old mellerdrummer with all stops out.

"Can I trust you, Sheriff?" I whispered. "As one of the family?" He swelled up like a puff-adder. "Straight talk, ma'am," he said. Well, I've had good practice in my day, but I never told one with a stiffer lip.

I could see his mind working. A percentage on Tambay gold and a hold over Juddy to make her come through. A profitable deal, and Mowry was the savior of the Maurie name.

"Will he marry her?" he said. "How can he marry her if they lynch him?" "A Maurie of Tambay!" he said. I had him going! I let out another loop. "Sheriff, who'll look after her and her fatherless child?" "I'm askin' you," he said. "Will he marry her?"

Right there is where I played cym. "That's up to you," I told him. "He'd better!" he said. "I'll see he does, or I'll shoot him like a dog."

"That's talkin'!" I said. "But you've got to save him first." He did some hard, sour thinking. "Can you get him out of the state if he's delivered at Hambay?" "Yes. We've got an airplane."

He reached his decision. "The jail laundry goes out tonight. Watch for the wagon!" "Attaboy, Sheriff!" Once a Maurie, always a Maurie.

"Have the airplane ready. Sears is very low. I just had the word. Be at Tambay gate at 9 o'clock." "Don't I get to see Doc Oliver, Sheriff?"

They had Doc in a small, flimsy annex. I got the idea. The mob could get him without damaging the jail.

DOC was white, but just as cool as ever. He listened carefully, while the sheriff outlined the plan. "Why should I run away?" he said. "I didn't shoot poor Sears."

"They'll string you up, just the same," I said. "Shut up, ma'am," Mowry said. "She's right, Oliver. I'm willing to take a chance to get you out of there. For the family honor." He was being all Maurie now, putting on his show, shaping up to high tradition, all that tripe. "You know why I'm doin' this, don't you? Maybe you don't know that I'm her kin."

"Whose kin?" Doc raised his eyebrows in my direction, meaning was it me. "A party you owe it to right a wrong, to play the man and the gentleman if you've got it in you and you darn well know who it is."

"I assure you I haven't an idea what you're—" "Don't pass words with me," Mowry said. A thought got through to his mind, Lord knows how, "Maybe she hasn't told you. Has she?"

"Nothing that makes any sense with what you're saying." "Then I'll tellin' you, she's goin' to have a baby."

"Mom? A baby?" His poor face was a picture. "Considering that my fair name was involved, I figured that it was now my turn to speak. "He's talking about Juddy, Doc."

"Juddy?" "That's what," Mowry said. "My young and unprotected cousin. Not so unprotected as you thought, though. When this mess is cleared up, you're comin' back and stand up to your responsibilities."

Doc looked like he was on the verge of a knockout. "Speak up, damn you!" the sheriff said.

"Y-y-yes. Certainly!" Doc said. "If you try any funny business I'll hunt you to hell-and-gone. So now we know where we stand. But she sure oughta have told you," he said.

That was a sweet piece of news to leave with Doc. Of course I couldn't get a word in to explain. On the way out of town I picked up some of the corner talk. Bixie Groff had seen Doc shoot. There had been bad blood between Maurie and him. Plenty had heard Maurie call Doc a dirty coward.

must have seen something to make her suspicious for she came hustling out, a couple of jumps late, looking like Ophelia in the mad scene.

"Has he gone, Mom?" "Yep. Next stop, Long Island." "Why didn't you tell me? Didn't he leave any word?"

"Goodby and good luck," I said. She wouldn't have understood the message he did leave, and I wasn't feeling up to supplying a diagram. Of course Mowry had to put in his clack.

"He'll do right by you, Cousin," he boomed out, with his manly chest all swelled.

"What did he mean by that?" Juddy asked after he'd left. I was only thankful the old fat-head hadn't said more. Probably I'd have had further questions about it, if the telephone hadn't been ringing in Tambay Mansion.

Old Dr. Starrow spoke from the other end. He didn't say anything definite. I knew from his voice, Maurie Sears was dead.

After the funeral, to which Juddy insisted on going, Doc Starrow took me aside. "Get her away from Tambay," he said, "or I won't answer for the consequences."

She made it easy for me. At dinner that night, which she didn't eat any of, or any other meal for that matter, she brought it up herself.

"Mom," she said, "I'm sorry to go feminine on you, but I'm shot. Unless I get away from this place, I'm going to fade and flop like an anemic Victorian."

"Right," I said. "Where'll you go?" "Hendy's mother has asked me to take a cruise on your yacht. She's a dear."

"Providence, Rhode Island!" I said. "It's exactly what you need. When'll you be back?"

She didn't look at me but past me and there was a sort of sick horror in her eyes. "That's it, Mom," she said. "I can't bear to think of coming back."

"Gatted at her. Not ever?" "No. As I feel now. I'd always see Tambay Tree."

"But you can't walk out on Tambay, girl," I said. "I know," she said.

"And what about old Mom?" I said, with the tremolo stop full on. "You can have Tambay."

"Drat Tambay! What good is Tambay to me with you gone?" It didn't seem the right time to put her wise to her unfortunate condition. Better wait until she was in shape to stand the shock.

Abilene Tops Bulldogs, As Bombardiers Trim Odessa

Bulldogs Smother Eagles For Three Heats, But Lose

Abilene's lofty Eagles held their own in the 3AA cage race Friday night by defeating Midland's hard-fighting little Bulldogs in a thrill packed basketball game on the Midland floor.

Sparked by flashy Sam Stovall, the Eagles took an early first period lead of 7 to 0, with Stovall chalking up five points and W. D. Winkle chipped in a basket. Gaining its feet after the rally, the Bulldog quintet fought back and savagely pushed the Eagles all over the court to take a momentary 8 to 7 lead by long range direct hits on the basket by Jimmy Watson, Charlie Kelly, and two by H. G. Bedford. Stovall's goal within the closing minute of the quarter gave the Eagles a 9 to 8 lead.

Bulldogs Close At Half

Out to lace the Midlanders single handed if he could get no help, Stovall started the fireworks in the second heat with a quick goal. Wells sank a toss and Stickney a toss for Midland, and Stovall threw in his fifth basket for the Eagles before H. G. Bedford ended the first half with a basket, as the score stood at 13 to 12, Abilene.

Higdon appeared on the scene to open the second half for the Eagles with a field goal to which W. D. Winkle added two more. Bill Stickney stole enough time from his bright defensive play to score a two-pointer while Wells contributed a toss for the locals. Higdon, Winkle, and Stovall camped under the Bulldog's basket for a profitable shooting match which Higdon won with three points, while the other contestants scored two points each. Bedford kept Midland in close range of the loop-leading Eagle squadron with two field goals as the quarter ended at 26-18. The first part of the final period was like the calm before the storm with Bill Stickney and H. G. Bedford keeping the Bulldogs going smoothly with two and five points respectively to out class Stovall's basket and Winkle's toss for the Eagles.

But like a storm hitting, Jimmy Watson, Charlie Kelly and Copper Daugherty were forced from the court on the strength of four fouls, and before the substitutes could get the feel of things, Sam Stovall sailed again to raid the Bulldog hoop for six big points. Bill Stickney threw out a two point life-line as the team was sinking under the storm of shots, but Higdon scored a toss and Winkle a basket to completely submerge the ill-fated Bulldogs in a 38 to 26 defeat.

Stovall took high point honors with a 21 which out classed H. G. Bedford's 14 for the Bulldogs.

Lt. Bill Day Is Big Gun For Hot Bombardier Team

Sloan Field's Officer's Bombardier basketball team made a flashy initial appearance at the Midland gym Friday night when they loosed a prize possession, Lt. Bill Day, on Dowell's Odessa Independent cagers in a tight fitting 34 to 27 encounter.

The "Hell from Heaven Men" descended like a squad of true Bombardiers on the Odessa quintet to take the lead time after time in the contest.

Lieutenant Day uncorked three long range baskets to which Lieutenant Collins added a toss for a first period lead of seven to two as Finney and Dewitt made a free throw each for the Odessa team.

Day opened the second heat with another of his beautiful shots for the Bombardiers, but Dewitt sank two baskets, Dempsey one, and Hitchcock one to move Odessa into the driver's seat for a close spell. Lieutenant Morris chipped in a toss and then regained possession of the ball, passing it to Day who re-seated the Sloan boys with a basket to make the half time score read 12 to 10.

Morris blew the second half open with two point counter, and Day re-appeared to add two more points. Morris made the count 18 to 10 before Odessa took its turn at scoring. Finney hung up five points, Helm four, and Hitchcock one to change the lead for the second time, but Day jumped up from a corner of the court to knot the score at 20-all as the third period ended.

A lull in scoring at the start of the final stanza was broken by Collin's field goal for the Bombardiers. Helm made a toss for Odessa, Hikkla a goal for Sloan, Finney two goals for Odessa, Dewitt a goal for Odessa, and from there on it was Bill Day shooting an endless stream of balls through the basket from every angle and position of the court, to push his squad to the 34 to 27 victory.

Hailing from Hiram College at Hiram, Ohio where he was a three year basketball letterman and captain of the squad in his senior year, Lieutenant Day went far ahead of the other players to take high scoring honors through polished basket accuracy with 22 shining points.

Sloan Officers Win Bowling Go

Led by Lieutenant Callahan who hung up a 820 series, and a 223 single game, the Sloan Field Officers' Red team whipped the 490th School Squad, while the Gold team of Bombardiers stopped the Blue Bombers by the odd game margin, Friday night.

Second to Lieutenant Callahan's 223 single game, was Captain Armstrong's 213 for a single game.

Ladies Classic League Starts

The Ladies Classic Bowling League, after a belated start, rolled its inaugural games Friday night. It was the night for the "fairer sex" of Midland, and the "fairer" team lineup gave a good exhibition on how it really should be done.

The strong Budweiser team took three games from Crowe's Cleaners, and John P. Howe keggers took two from the Central Drug.

Leah Bird took high single game honors with a powerful 217, and also high series with 538 pins. Marge Emerson, of the John P. Howe fire, came in for a nice 205 game while Budweiser's Vera Dozier knocked over 483 pins for second high series.

Unsung Golfer Gets Lead At Phoenix

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Unsung Herman Keiser of Akron, Ohio, who feared his putting and then canned two shots on the greens for 75 and 60 feet, pushed the more famous professionals contingent into the background and grabbed a two-stroke lead at the midway stage of the $5,000 Western Open golf championship Saturday.

Keiser, 27, toured the Phoenix Country Club course in 66 bowls, five under par, to go with his first round 68 for a total of 134.

Leaving a tournament-ried but plucky Ben Hogan to fade into the rear, seven strokes back, Keiser won in Sunday's 36-hole final grid two strokes ahead of this trio:

Amateur Johnny Dawson of Hollywood, winner of the $5,000 Bing Crosby tournament; Lanky Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, and Chandler Harper, four-time Virginia State Open Champion.

Do You Make Sunday A Day Of Enrichment And Church Going?

Today, when the youth of our great land leans on the foundation upon which it was first founded—Democracy, there is still another great factor to be considered before this war of oppression is over—the church. After an investigation of how many students in this high school attended Sunday school and church regularly, the result was unusually high.

Many students consider it a duty or privilege to be able to exercise that great freedom—freedom of religion.

The president of the junior class, Colleen Oates, replied in answer to what she thought she received from church and Sunday school, this answer—"Sunday is a day to which I look forward; it is there I can see friends who enjoy that same privilege of going to what we call the house of God."

Sophomore, Margaret Mims, when asked "Is this same question stated, 'It is through the church that I receive clean and wholesome entertainment with my friends.'"

Virginia Stoltz, high school yell leader, said "I do not only think it was necessary in gaining the finer and ideal things in life, but it was in accordance toward a complete education."

With all of the things in mind ask yourself this question—Where would I go first if I should happen to move to another city. Perhaps you would think of where you had met most of your friends—in the church.

In appearance, it should take the average person not more than an hour to get ready for church.

If you are dubious about how long it takes one in preparation, suppose you make an experiment—today!

High School Students Vacate Building Fast
In order that the school officials might know how long it takes Midland High school students to vacate the building and in accordance with the Texas Fire Prevention program a fire drill was conducted Thursday morning at approximately 8:45 o'clock. Principal Frank Monroe stated his pleasure in students clearing the building in one minute and 55 seconds with this statement, "I am indeed proud of the students in their orderly conduct delivered in the fire drill Thursday morning. Their orderliness and timeliness was very good especially since this was the first experience for most students."

Beginning Soon In The Reporter-Telegram

Girls, You Should Have Been Along, For Our Society Editor Found Sloan Field Very Interesting, A Real Thriller, Where Everything Is Mighty Fine

Folks, They Eat Well At Sloan Field

Folks Were Mighty Nice, And The Food Was Fine; Hopes For Another Bid

By Kathleen Eiland

We don't know how a newsman would feel about it, but to this woman reporter the day on which she visited Sloan Field and dined in the mess hall (consider that, girls) is marked with a big red Victory V on the calendar.

It all started when Capt. Glenn L. Laffer, genial head of the Public Relations Office, promised us we could visit the field sometime and then set a specific time for the visit. That was one assignment nothing less than a cyclone or a bad case of scarlet fever could have kept us from carrying out.

The kitchen was a revelation. A mechanical potato-peeler so big that anybody less than five-feet-one in height has to stand on tiptoe to look into it; a magic machine that mashes potatoes, makes dough, slices, and shreds vegetables and in fact does practically everything except actually cook the food; and 50-gallon coffee makers—that is the kind of equipment that left us goggle-eyed at the magnitude of the cooking task in this one mess hall alone. No wonder nine cooks and 24 kitchen police (they're still used despite the mechanical potato-peeler) are required!

Shopping List Big
Consider, too, the marketing list which Capt. Harry E. Phelps makes out. February's list includes such items as: 13,500 pounds beef, 28,000 loaves of bread, 5040 pounds of butter and other things in proportion. (Never again will we fuss at having to pick up a loaf of bread and a bunch of carrots on our way home from work.)

Capt. Phelps has to make out menus for a month ahead and order supplies 15 days in advance. Down to the last celery stalk, he knows how much must be purchased for every dish served a certain number of men. It's a big job, being mess officer at Sloan Field, but this quick-smiling Texan takes it in his stride.

It's all very well to learn how food is cooked but the proof of the pudding is in the eating. So standing in line, cafeteria style, with Capt. Laffer and Capt. Phelps and the former's pretty secretary, Miss Annette Fraser, not to mention the hungry soldiers-in-the-making, we passed down a long food center. On to the plates went generous slices of tender meat, well-seasoned potatoes, carrots and peas, and gravy. There were big bowls of fruit cobbler, cupcakes as delicately browned as those Mother used to make, and huge mugs of coffee.

Food Plenty Fine
We did justice to the excellent food, but those Army servings are just too generous for us (and why didn't someone warn us that our civilian habit of leaving food on our plate is not Post, or at least not military Post, etiquette?)

It was a good meal and typical of the kind that Capt. Phelps supplies his men—on an allowance of a little more than 50 cents daily for each man. (Our reason tells us that is military efficiency but our budget-harried mind suspects magic.)

When the pleasant noon dinner hour came to an end we sallied forth, in that mellow mood induced by good food, to see other points of interest in the Bombardier College.

Outstanding was the chapel. Surmounted by a spire topped with an airplane model, the building is modest enough in outside appearance. But when the doors swung open, we gasped at the beauty lying before us—a chastely designed chapel filled with the beauty of warm light falling through amber-tinted windows. That unusual lighting and the soft red wood of the furnishings are the particular features distinguishing the chapel.

First Wedding
No wonder Lieut. Charles E. Baldwin chose to marry his college sweetheart in the post chapel. As the sun shone Saturday afternoon, the couple literally were married in a setting of mellow light.

Sloan Field soldiers are ten miles from town but they don't have to make a 20-mile trek to see Hedy Lamarr or Dorothy Lamour in their latest hits. They have their own moving picture theatre which seats about 650 and has acoustics so perfect that engineers come to Sloan Field to try to puzzle out the secret of it. But even though this might be termed a home show, the boys must be neat and properly dressed when they attend. They are not allowed to wear denim or fatigue uniforms into the theatre nor to take candy or peanuts into the auditorium. Later on, stage shows as well as films will be presented here.

Then, The Big Store
Of course there's the equivalent of the "corner drug store" for what American can do without that? We saw Sloan Field's company store which plays that role for the soldiers. Here the men can purchase cold drinks, shaving soap, and dozens of other articles. And here they can run a credit account to a certain per cent of their salary.

And then we saw—but Sloan Field is too big to be comprehended in its entirety at one brief visit. We came, we saw—and though we're not in the Army yet, we're FOR it. We're crossing our fingers and hoping that there'll be "seconds" on that invitation to visit the Bombardier College.

Young China Comes To Midland

The Philip Yung Lees

Chinese Couple Will Present Two Programs At High School Tuesday

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Yung Lee, young Chinese couple, will be presented in program at the high school auditorium Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and again at 2:30 o'clock under auspices of the North Ward P.T.A., Mrs. William Y. Penn, P.T.A. president, has announced.

Philip Yung Lee was born in Canton, China. His given name in Chinese, "Tao Yung," means "Glorious Truth" in English.

Through missionaries Yung Lee had his first contacts with Western Music and began to study it along with native melodies. After he toured China's largest cities as a singer, he began an extensive study of Chinese music in many parts of the ancient land. He became an authority on Chinese music in his own country and a composer of several songs. He wanted to go to the United States to study Western Music but feared his dream would not come true. However, fortune was with him, for one of the famous Soong sisters—a sister of Madame Chiang Kai Shek—decided to sponsor him on a trip to the United States.

Singer and Preacher
Philip Yung Lee had become a Chinese missionary preacher and while studying voice in Chicago served as pastor of the only Chinese Christian Church in Chicago's great Chinatown. Music critics heralded him as the best Chinese singer they have heard in this generation. Eugene Stinson of the Chicago Daily News said, "His voice is a baritone with fine resonance and admirable pliancy... his diction would put most American singers to shame."

Later Yung Lee went back to China to serve as secretary of China's Christian Broadcasting Association and as program director of station XMHG in Shanghai.

While there he married a young lady whom he had met in Chicago. She was a graduate from the Rockefeller Foundation Hospital in Peiping and had taken care of the famous Iron Lung patient, Fred Snite, when he crossed the Pacific.

"China Sings On"
Mr. and Mrs. Lee will both take part in the presentation of this lecture program which they choose to call "China Sings On." It is not a musical program—but rather a lecture; however, when discussing Oriental music Mr. Lee will sing to his own accompaniment. In his lecture Mr. Lee will endeavor to show the many reasons for a communion of endeavor between the Orient and the Occident. He is highly appreciative of what the Western World has given his people.

Mrs. Lee will give a short talk on what a Chinese girl sees in the American girl. Chic, intelligent and lovely, Mrs. Lee adds much to the program.

Mascho Oil Company, Midland, To Drill Wildcat Test Seven Miles West Of Tatum In Northern Lea

HOBBS, N. M.—Drilling is scheduled to start immediately in Mascho Oil Company, Midland, Tex., and American Drilling Corporation, Hobbs, N. M., No. 1 Tide Water Associated Oil Company-State, new wildcat seven miles west of Tatum in North Central Lea County.

The test was located in the center of the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 18-128-35e, on a farm owned by Tide Water. That firm and L. H. Wentz, Ponca City, are donating acreage and bottom-hole money toward the well. F. J. Dangle and Continental Oil Company are contributing acreage, while Skelly Oil Company and Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company are purchasing spreads.

Contract calls for depth of 5,200 feet unless production or sulphur water in the lime is encountered at a shallower point. Location falls less than one-half mile north of the old Holmes & Huey No. 1 State, an anhydrite test, which stopped at 1,870 feet.

A wildcat in Eastern Lea, Richmond Drilling Company of Midland No. 1 State, is drilling below 4,930 feet in anhydrite. Location of the test is 1,980 feet from the south, 660 from the east line of section 5-168-38e.

Texas Adds Vacuum Well
A new location for the Skelly sand area of Southeastern Lea is Gulf Oil Corporation No. 3 LaMunyon, staked 1,980 feet from the north and west lines of section 29-238-37e.

The Texas Company has completed another producer in the south part of Lea's Vacuum pool. It is the No. 5-AC State, in the center of the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 2-188-34e, which gauged natural flow of 140 barrels of oil per day through open tubing, with gas-oil ratio of 300-1. The well topped pay at 4,435 feet and drilled to 4,715 feet in lime. Two-inch tubing is set at 4,672 feet.

In the Mattix area of Lea, Western Gas Company No. 2 Bates, in the center of the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 18-248-37e, was completed for natural flow of 130 barrels of oil a day through a 1 1/2-inch choke on 2 1/2-inch tubing set at 3,576 feet, four feet off bottom. It is producing from sand and topped the pay zone at 3,500 feet.

Wildcatting Active
A wildcat in Southern Lea six miles west of the Jal pool, Prexy Wilson and others' No. 1 Saunders, 660 feet out of the southeast corner of section 11-258-35e, is drilling below 3,120 feet in salt.

Failure for a wildcat in the Lake McMillen area of Eddy County was seen in the abandonment of F. E. Baker and Bob Helms No. 1 State at total depth of 1,250 feet in lime. The test failed to encounter any oil and showed sulphur water in sandy lime from 1,020 to 1,030 feet. It was in section 32-198-27e.

The active North Grayburg pool of Eddy gained another start as May Hightower staked No. 5 Grier 660 feet out of the southwest corner of section 30-168-31e.

A semi-wildcat in the North Grayburg pool, L. H. Choate and C. W. Brown No. 1 Hover-State, 660 feet out of the northeast corner of section 2-178-30e, logged a showing of gas in lime at 2,800 feet and drilled ahead past 2,880 feet in that formation.

Grayburg Oiler
Bassett & Birney and others' No. 7-B State, south extension test to the Grayburg pool proper, flowed 44 barrels of oil per day through 16/64-inch choke on 2-inch tubing set at 2,670 feet. Located 2,310 feet from the south, 1,270 from the west line of section 11-188-29e, the well topped pay at 2,652 feet and is bottomed at 2,675 feet in sand. It was shot with 120 quarts of nitro from 2,652 feet to total depth.

Aston & Farris have staked location for No. 1-B Brigham 1,980 feet from the south and west lines of section 26-178-30e, in the Grayburg pool.

Stroup, Yates & Flynn No. 1 Hartz-State, Eddy wildcat in the center of the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 16-218-23e, northwest of Carlsbad, is drilling lime past 2,890 feet.

Early Repair Of Farm Machinery Urged By Pigg

Every piece of used farm machinery repaired and used again this year will mean more guns in the hands of the armed forces, said W. E. Pigg, chairman of the Midland County agricultural adjustment group of the USDA. "There is a tremendous responsibility on the farmers for the production of food-stuffs," said Pigg, "and they may be assured that every effort will be made to get adequate repair parts as needed. But, such repairs as may be needed should be purchased at once."

"The government feels that every farmer who repairs an old machine at this time is giving a two-fold aid to the fighting forces by releasing essential materials for war use, and at the same time helping to assure adequate foodstuffs," said Pigg.

An immediate check of all equipment is urged, so that adequate time can be allowed for the purchase of the absolutely necessary parts.

Felder, hand-made dollies; Mrs. Jimmie Martin, a set of cocktail napkins. All prizes were presented to the honoree.

On the refreshment plate were found favors of bars of "Old Spice" soap, tied with cellophane ribbon. Present were: Mmes. B. N. Felder, John Lamb, Dewey Jones, S. S. Key, A. H. Riley, W. H. Rose, B. Watson, Zelma Ash, Jimmie Martin, Yale Key, Darden McCollum, B. B. Welch and Misses Mary Joe Robbins and Mary Day.

Those sending gifts were: Mmes. Lloyd Bowden, E. C. Bone, J. W. Taylor, James Key, Burley McCollum, J. Ed Smith, Frances Morgan, Jimmy Wilson, Oliver O. Jacobsen, J. A.
