Houndettes In Playoffs

The Knox City Houndette Volleyball team is once again headed for the post-season playoffs. Although this paper is printed on Wednesday morning, it has to be put together by Tuesday afternoon and the Houndettes were scheduled to play in their first playoff game Tuesday night against the Aspermont Lady Hornets for the District Championship. Because this paper was put together several hours before the game was scheduled to begin, no information on that game was available for this issue. With the game on Tuesday night against Aspermont being played to see who would be in first place and who would be in second place in the district, both teams will automatically advance to the Bi-District level. That contest is scheduled for Thursday night at McMurry University in Abilene. Under the direction of Coach Linda Haragan, the Houndettes have had a season full of exciting volleyball action.

Lions To Celebrate 55th Anniversary Thursday Night With Celebration

The Knox City Lions Club is having a Fifty-Fifth Charter Anniversary celebration Thursday night November 4 in the Knox City School cafeteria beginning at seven o'clock. Three of the original charter members are to be in attendance at this meeting. The keynote speakers will be Dwayne Spradlin of Graham. Spradlin is a well-known speaker in Lions organizations. The Knox City Home-making Class will be catering the meal. Several of the local Lions will have parts on the program. Jerry and Peggy Smith, new Knox City residents and administrator and activities director of the Brazos Valley Care Home, will sing as the entertainment. Tickets for the special event are $10.00 each and may be obtained by contacting any local Lion. Those wishing to purchase tickets and have not been contacted should call Oscar Mangis at 658-3156, Carol Felts at 658-3066 or James Patterson at 658-3779. Lions urge the community to come and celebrate 55 years of service.

Lions are responsible for the City Swimming Pool, the City Park, a $500.00 scholarship for a high school senior each year and hundreds of glasses given to needy school children over the past 55 years. The Lions display approximately 85 American flags around the city each holiday and are involved in numerous civic activities as Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and the Noah Project. Lions are very sight conscious and are committed to eliminating preventable blindness around the world in this century.

Fire Department Benefit Musical Set For Saturday

The Knox City Volunteer Fire Department will be sponsoring a musical as a fundraising event this Saturday night beginning at 7:00 o'clock in the W. R. Baker Auditorium on the Knox City school campus. A popular feature in last year's show, 'Ma Schultz' will be featured again along with 'Big Bertha', Brownie Tackitt, Jim Burt and the band, Jody Orangeblossom & Junior, and Tim Wheeler and the Glory Bound Singers from Abilene. The group sings gospel music from the old days. One of the features of the show will be a fashion show by members of the fire department. Roladn Marion, fire chief, said the benefit is being held to raise funds to repair and replace some of the rural fire fighting equipment. Due to the heavy volume of grass fires during the summer, the equipment used for those types of fires is in need of repair. Make plans now to go Saturday night for a fun time as well as supporting the local firemen.

Straight Talk By Dave Thompson

How Cold Is Cold?
 With a 26 degree temperature combining with 33 mile per hour winds directly out of the north, the wind chill at Greyhound Stadium was a freezing -2 degrees when the Knox City Greyhounds hosted the Dragons from Paducah last Friday evening. If you were one of the few shivering bodies up in the bleachers, you know how cold it was. If you weren't there, I could write all day long and not be able to adequately describe how cold it was. Down on the field taking pictures for most of the game, I could not remember ever being any colder in my lifetime. No kidding folks, it was COLD!! In spite of the misery that one feels when turning blue from cold, another feeling kept popping into my head all through the game. That feeling was pride. An intense pride in our Greyhound football team, the cheerleaders, the band, the twirlers, and the flag corps. Regardless of how cold they were, our students down on the field made what I consider to be their best showing so far this school year. Our football team has not had an easy year and it would have been easy to slack off and blame it on the weather, but the Greyhounds played a tough, physical game and made the Paducah Dragons fight hard for the win. Standing down on the sideline with the team, there was no mistaking the look of cold pain behind the facemasks. It was a tough way to spend Friday night. When the band marched at half-time, it was hard to imagine how they could even remember what they were supposed to be playing, the cold was so numbing by then. But play they did, even though the majority of those few fans on hand had already left for the concession stand to find something warm to drink. While the band played, the twirlers and flag corps joined them in putting on a fine half time show despite the weather. The cheerleaders had a tough, and unusual job to do during the game. After all, how do you keep See STRAIGHT TALK, Page Seven

Benjamin News

By Gladene Green

The OctoberFest at the school Saturday night was very successful. Lots of folks were on hand to enjoy the activities.

Coronation of Harvest Royalty and a program followed the festival. Fourth grade reps Ashley Cartwright and Casey Conner were duchess and duke; seventh grade reps Lacy Carver and Tyler Carroll were voted princess and prince and crowned King and Queen were Robert Estrada and Stephanie Conner from the senior class. Parents of these young folks are Tracy and Susan Cartwright, Pam and Keith Conner, Susan and Craig Carver, Kathy Carroll and Kenneth Carroll and Ernesto and Teresa Estrada. It's congratulations to all these winners.

K thru 6th grades presented a short program on a day in the life of a cowboy.

After the activities at the school the volunteer fire department had their spook house open til the crowd quit. The guys tell me they were pleased with the number of persons who came thru the "house of horrors". Some of us "oldsters" went thru on Sunday night and I must say it was very impressive. They have done a swell job once again!

Most of the illnesses in the area this week are focused on colds, sinus and allergies.

Shirley Brown is in Lubbock today for evaluation and to begin a new series of chemotherapy. She was feeling pretty well this a.m.

Bill Spikes is in Wichita Falls today to see his doctor. It's more or less a routine checkup but also to decide when some minor surgery will be done.

We extend sympathy to Jerry Parker and his family this week. Jerry's mother passed away Tuesday after several months illness.

HERE 'N THERE

Ann and Ron Roddy and family spent Saturday night with her mom and brother, Gertrude Brannan and Bobby. The Roddys, who have been living in Denton, were enroute to Ruidoso, New Mexico, to make their home.

Troy, Julee, Danielle and Devin Pratt of Lubbock were weekend guests of his parents, Jim and Barbara.

Little Kayla Hacker of Knox City spent the weekend in Benjamin. She did a little trick or treating early on Saturday, then accompanied her nanny Mary Bohannon and "Biggy" Johnnie Williams to the OctoberFest Saturday night.

Steve Conner of Lubbock spent the weekend here with homefolks.

Jr. and Virginia Barrientez and Michael of Stamford were here Saturday to visit his parents, Raul and Reyes and to attend the activities at the school.

Mary and Jack Young spent the weekend with their kids in the metroplex.

Lana Caldwell and Coalton of Haskell was here Saturday night for the festival and to visit family and friends.

JoAnn Hamilton returned home Wednesday after a three week visit with relatives in Missouri.

Weekend guests of Roger and Betty Bohannon and family were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Goodwin of Earth, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Stevenson and sons of Clyde and Lonnie Bohannon of Amarillo.

Kenneth and Jessie Roberts returned home Wednesday after a two week vacation with their son and his wife, Bill and Sue in Woodbridge, Virginia. Said they also got to visit with grandson, Kevin, who is at Quantico, Virginia, in officer training. Also said on highlight of their trip was seeing Bill run in the Marine Corps Marathon. There were 14,500 in the race which was in excess of 26 miles and Bill managed to finish!! He had been in training for it for several weeks.

Mrs. Roberts also said they delivered some supplies to the flood ravaged areas in Missouri and saw much devastation along the way, especially along the rivers.

Jeff Pierce of Breckenridge and Melissa Boydston, Cameron and Cory of Wichita Falls were weekend guests of Jeff's parents, Barbara and Sammy.

And I just learned of the death of Mary Belle Sams McStay. Mary Belle was the widow of the late Dee McStay.

JUNIOR CLASS NEWS

By Heather Tilson

I hope everybody enjoyed that extra hour of sleep we got Saturday night. I know I did! It's that time of the year again. Time for the cold weather. It's also time for sitting in front of the fireplace, turning the electric blanket on high and drinking hot chocolate. Fall is officially here. Before you know it, it will be winter.

Last Friday night's football game was extremely cold. Everybody was sitting in the stands wrapped up in blankets and freezing to death. The band members all had red noses, cold feet, and frozen hands. Through all the snow and chills we still stayed and supported our team. You did a good job, guys!

This Friday is the last football game of the season. The guys have worked hard and put a lot of time and effort into it. So, they deserve a lot of credit! This will be the seniors' last football game they will ever play unless one of them turns pro and ends up playing for the Dallas Cowboys, which I think would be a bad mistake. They might become greedy like Emmitt Smith. Although this is their last game, they can always look back one day and remember all the good and bad times they had on the Knox City football field. Those are memories embedded in their hearts forever.

the spirit up when all you can see in the bleachers are a few huddled masses under mountains of blankets? I do not know how they managed the task, but our cheerleading squad kept our few frigid fans going right up to the final frozen second.

Whenever I hear negative thoughts about the youth of today - or whenever I have the same on the scoreboard, you were all winners last Friday night.

YES! For all of you who have asked, the country singer named Linda Davis who recently teamed up with Reba McEntire on a hit single is the same Linda Davis who used to sing at the Grapevine Opry with Stacy and Gwen when they sang as The Angle Sisters type of thoughts - I'll remind myself of what took place last Friday night here in Knox City. There was a lot of pride at Greyhound Stadium - in spite of the weather.

My admiration to all those students and fans who endured such harsh weather conditions. Regardless of those final numbers back in the late 70's and early 80's.

The local duet also sang one year on the West Texas Rehab Telethon with Reba McEntire, back in the early 80's before Reba was the superstar she is today.

I guess all this explains why Stacy gets that far away look in her eyes every time she hears that new hit single by Reba McEntire and Linda Davis.....

DON'T FORGET: the country western musical being held as a benefit for the Knox City Volunteer Fire Department will be this Saturday night, 7:00 p.m. in the W.R. Baker Auditorium on the Knox City school campus.

If you missed the last show, you missed an evening filled with a lot of laughs. 'Unusual' would be a word to describe some of the characters, 'funny' would be a word to describe others, and the phrase 'great time' describes what you will have if you are in the audience!! Besides having a blast and enjoying yourself, you will also be helping the fire department as they try to repair and fix some of the rural fire fighting equipment that took such a beating with all the grass fires this past summer.

AND, as of this past Monday night, Russell Canney of Caldwell Commercial Sound in Abilene has completed a complete overhaul and repair job to the sound system in the school auditorium. I went up to the auditorium to hear the final sound check, and the difference between this new system and the old one is awesome, the new equipment delivers a bold, powerful sound. If you had a hard time hearing at the last musical, I can assure you that you will not have that problem this time!!

Peru - 'Then & Now'

By JANOMA STEPHENS
Study Club Reporter

The Knox City Study Club met October 21 at 2:30 in the Community Center with Frances Dear, vice-president presiding. She called the meeting to order and Olien Elmore led in giving the Pledges to American and Texas flags. Winifred White voiced the invocation. Janoma Stephens, Director, then introduced our guest speaker, Ms. Esther Conn. Then - the club was in for a real treat.

Esther, born and reared in Lima, Peru, presented such an interesting descriptive, historical and down right enjoyable talk. She stated that Lima is located on the western coast of Peru, a country of mountains, plains and jungle. Average summer temperature is 70 degrees, very humid, average winter temperature 60 degrees. In the mountains, Andes, highest peak is 22,000 feet high, and there are all kinds of winter sports. The plains and jungle has 50 to 100 inches of rainfall per year. In rural areas farming, under irrigation from melt mountain snow and Amazon River is flourishing. Mostly vegetables. One good crop is Yuca. It is a snow white root type vegetable, much like our potato. It yields about 36,000 lbs. per acre, high in nutrition, and the foliage from this vegetable is used as feed for cattle. It is a hearty plant, standing stress, cold, dry heat and Esther wonders why it has not been introduced into the USA.

The Inca Indians, a very rich tribe, were captured by the Spaniards some 400 hundred years ago and they and their treasures were returned to Spain. The Inca ruins are still visible.

The largest copper mine in the world, owned and operated by Americans, is in Peru. There is much gold, silver, iron and ore as well as petroleum in Peru. Fishing, tuna is another industry.

Like all countries there is much poverty in Lima. Major crime is stealing. Esther told us the jails were so harsh once a person was released, there were very few repeaters. In Lima it appeared a criminal, petty or otherwise, forfeited all rights. She also said no one has arms, (guns) there, other than police officials.

The homes are quite high in structure. Lots are smaller than the average ones here and cost about $15,000.00 - so most homes, middle and upper class, are three or more stories high. If more room is needed, add another story.

The cemeteries are all above ground in Lima. The buildings are the high skyscrapers. Lima is blow sea level, much as in New Orleans.

The new President, a native Peruvian of Japanese heritage, is doing much to improve the economy of Peru, which is made up of 23 Provinces (states) and each has a governor. They do have a Democratic type of government now. It was stated that there is very little trade between the U.S. and Peru. The majority of cards, 95%, are Japanese. Esther said traffic was real congested. Lanes of traffic so close and traffic so heavy it seemed you could shake hands with the occupants in the car in the next lane. Very few wrecks but to her it was rather nerve-racking. Very little road repairs were done.

Esther reported that to the people of Lima and all of Peru though the United States was the place to live. The schools in Lima were church run schools (expensive) or public schools run and operated by the government. If you were admitted to the government schools you had to do your work well - pass your subject or out you went. Many children grow to be adults and never are in school. In Peru there is a Social Security system but no aide or government assistance.

After finishing school, Esther became a stewardess, working with Pan American Airlines, met and married W.L. Conn, a flyer himself, thus landing in O'Brien where W.L. had his spraying business. After visiting a month in Lima this past summer, Esther said it was so good to be back home in Texas.

The Club Collect was read in unison closing a most enjoyable "International Program". Refreshments were served by the hostess Janoma to Lena McGee, her sister-in-law from Lubbock Mae Harrison, Olien Elmore, Winifred White, Frances Dear, Erma Liles and guest Esther Conn.

Elementary Fall Festival Termed 'Great Success'

Dear News Staff,

The Knox City Elementary Fall Festival was great! From the Costume Contest to the final Bingo rounds, fun was had by all. Children, large and small, threw balls and darts; putted golf balls; picked up ducks; dropped washers; shot water guns; fished; walked in a circle; and listened for I-22 in hopes of winning prizes. I really liked the dart/balloon game. Kids won prizes there even if they missed the board. About 80 cakes were won at the Cake Walk and Bingo lasted an hour after all other games had closed. I didn't see anyone leave unhappy; even the woman who had won the plunger at Bingo said it was a handy thing to have around.

Parents, teachers, aides, and people from the community donated cakes for the cake walk, food for the concession stand, and time - lots and lots of time - to produce a very successful festival.

The PTO (Parent Teacher Organization) was re-organized this year because some parents wanted to do something for the school to help the students. At the first meeting parents, teachers, and aides decided playground equipment was needed this year. The feeling was that if the students knew that their moms, dads, and school staff had helped get it, they would feel some ownership and pride in having the new equipment. Now it has been done. Enough money was made to purchase something new and colorful and fun to play on. Since these things are very expensive, the school is adding enough funds to have a nice set up. That is really appreciated.

The playground equipment that will soon appear on the elementary campus will be used by young people for years to come, but last Saturday as I stood in the midst of that crowd of people in an old bus barn, with a dirt floor, and make-shift booths, I had some different thoughts. I saw a child run by shouting, "Mama, Mama, look what I won." I saw people standing in groups talking and laughing. I saw people taking pictures of others. I saw teachers and parents together. I saw school board members working and playing. I saw people buy tickets for games then tell the ticket seller to give them to kids who need them. I saw children helping their parents, I saw mothers who had given hours and hours of planning and calling and driving. I saw a community of people who are for each other and are working together for a common goal.

We got a whole lot more from the Fall Festival than just playground equipment.

Thanks to everyone who helped or attended.

Sincerely,
Maribeth Williams

'A Glimpse of Europe'

By Stephanie Pepper
Part Eight

Kolpinghaus, Vienna, Austria (November 2, 1993) -- After 10 days of travel, five nights on a train, one in a train station, and a total of three showers, I am thrilled to be back at the orange and black decorated Kolpinghaus in Vienna!

My first long optional travel took me across the northern part of Europe. Along with five others, we started our trip in Salzburg, home of "The Sound of Music" movie.

Saturday, October 23, we left Salzburg for Munich, Germany. Our plans there were simple: buy Birkenstock sandals, see the 1972 Olympic Village and catch the night train to Amsterdam. Anyone can see those plans were much too simple.

As we walked up the ramp to Olympic Stadium we could see some kind of activity going on inside. Someone was playing basketball . . . not just someone but the Phoenix Suns! We didn't realize this until a Champion t-shirt representative let us inside -- for free!! Normally the tickets would have cost us $80. The game was incredible. There was Charles Barkley slam dunking in Munich, Germany! There were several servicemen and women sitting in our section so we felt right at home throughout the entire game. Right before the game was over, Phillip and I snuck down to where the Sun's locker room was. The game ended and the players came through. I won't put you through the details concerning the security guards. At any rate, we shook hands with A.C. Green, Don Majerle, Danny Ainge and Barkley. After they went in their locker room, we casually strolled onto the court like we owned the place. We got several of the player's waterbottles, and Phillip "touched the net" on the court. As we turned to leave there stood NBC Sportscasters Amaad Rashad and Marv Albert. By then the others, Paula, Jenny, Les and Sheila, joined up with so so we rushed over to the "super stars". We talked to them for awhile, took pictures with them, and they gave us their autographs. We thought the night was complete, but Phillip and Les snuck inside the lockerroom, grabbed us all a few Gatorade drinks and got A.C. Green's autograph on his way to the bus. Needless to say, we made it back to the train station and caught the train to Amsterdam making the night complete!

We woke up Sunday in Amsterdam and spent the day exploring the city. My biggest highlight of Holland was our walk through Anne Frank's House in Amsterdam. I read the book twice when I was young and the "Secret Annex" is exactly like it is described. Anne and her family lived in the attic more than two years before being discovered by the Nazis.

Our next journey took us through Copenhagen, Denmark; home of the famous "Mermaid" statue based on the story written by Hans Christian Anderson. From there we went into Norway, one of the most beautiful countries I have visited. Ironically, although we were so close to the Arctic Circle, I hear it was colder in Knox City!

We arrived in Oslo, Norway at 7 a.m. Wednesday morning. We turned around and hopped on another train. This train took us on a scenic ride through the Fjords and Mountains of Norway. The breathtaking Fjords are where the water, running off the mountains, meets the sea. My group split up and four of us stayed in a little town called Bergen.

In Bergen, we were able to attend a Norwegian Church of Christ. The whole service was so encouraging. We sang songs in Norwegian - same songs as in the U.S., just different words! When they started the worship period, they held it in English just so we could understand!

Thursday morning we took a train down to Flam. The train took us 20 Kilometers straight down winding around and around the mountains. At the bottom there sat the picturesque village of Flam, formed by the sea and mountains.

After we returned to Oslo, we experienced yet another twist in our "simple plans". We planned to go and see the world famous ski jump and quickly return to catch our night train to Stockholm, Sweden. Guess again. We missed our train and the nice people at the train station allowed us to stay there. Usually they make everyone leave. After waking up with mesh bench marks embedded in me, I resolved to always be early for my trains!

On the way back to Vienna, we stopped through the tip of Sweden, and spent the day in Berlin. I never realized what an important part of history the Berlin Wall was. We went to Checkpoint Charlie and saw the old division between the East and West. Parts of the wall still stand today and I chopped off several pieces to bring home. The wall impacted the lives of so many and we should be thankful daily for unification steps like these.

My trip here is over one-half way through - only 35 more days. Our travels have brought so much into our lives, we have made so many fun memories, seen God work everywhere, and followed up on our work at EEM and with our students.

I have met with Ragaa, my student, several times and have learned much about her. She is working on her doctorate in Sociology and plans to return home to the Sudan to teach. I met with her in her home last week and we spent the hour simply talking to one another. We meet again this week for another study.

This weekend I am going to a country I have always dreamed of going -- Switzerland! I will spend the weekend in small downs nestled in the mountains. Four of us are traveling together, looking forward to an adventuresome weekend!

Thank You

The Knox City-O'Brien Parent Teacher Organization would like to thank all of you for your support, time and contributions and to all parents, teachers, merchants and individuals in making the Elementary Fall Festival a huge success!
