MARY MILLER... She Keeps The Lions In Line

Ten Years Ago Lions Found Mary Who's Never Contrary

BY KAY CHERRY

In this modern age of pre-cooked, pre-packaged, pre-everything food, a home cooked dessert is a rarity to many. But not to Mary Miller.

"In the ten years I've been cooking for the Lions Club, I've never bought a dessert," Mary said this week.

Almost ten years ago, Carroll Cox, who was Lion Boss then, came to Mary and asked her if she would cook for the Lions if they found a place. They had been meeting in the Ideal Cafe but didn't have a place for programs.

"I told them I would try and I've been trying ever since," Mary commented.

That same year, she also started teaching "The Home Builders Class" at the Methodist Church. It was a class of young couples and Mary is still teaching those same couples today.

Mrs. Miller said she "guessed" her main hobby is cooking. "I don't sew much, just can and cook," she said. The fact is she cans and freezes nearly all of the foods that she serves to the Lions.

This past summer, the Millers had a bumper fruit crop. She put up over 700 jars of apples, cherries, apricots, peaches, pears and plums. Her peaches were so large, the most she could get in one quart jar was four. She has one 18-foot and one 23-foot freezer full of frozen foods.

"Canning is a job, but I love to do it," Mary explained.

Mary prepares all the food for the Lions with the help of Greta Keating and Nita Criswell, her daughter. On Ladies Night she has some girls to help her. This year Alice Ross Bryant and Janice Galloway are helping her. In past years, Rhea

1,653 Bales Ginned Here

Cotton ginnings at the six gins in the Olton area totaled 1,653 bales Wednesday at noon, going above last year's figure.

This time last year, the six gins had ginned 1,535 bales.

The harvest continued to move slowly this week with most ginneries feeling the prospects are promising.

Parade, Game Feature Homecoming Activities

Parade At 4 P.M.; Supper Set

There's no place like home... Several hundred Olton High School graduates are expected to be on hand Friday to celebrate that sentiment at the annual Homecoming Day.

The big day will be highlighted by a parade, a supper, crowning of a homecoming queen, class meetings and a football clash between Olton and Muleshoe.

A bonfire at the baseball field will set off the celebration Thursday night at 7:30.

Next big event on the agenda will be the Homecoming parade scheduled for 4 p.m. Friday. The parade will take the route it has in the past, going south on Main, around the square, back up Main to Seventh and then west on Seventh.

Entries in the parade include the senior class, the junior class, senior FHA, junior FHA, FTA, Pep Squad, National Honor Society, Spanish Club, Bryant-Giles Implement, Hall-Sides Motors, Classroom Teachers Assn., Thompson Chevrolet, Brownie Troop 50 and Ed Thompson Implement.

Olton High School Band and the Junior High School Band will march in the event.

Candidates for homecoming queen, selected by members of the Mustang football team, are five seniors. They are Jeanavon Harper, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E.D. Harper; Marilyn Jones, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Jones; Geneva Curry, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E.E. Curry; Nancy Bryant, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leamon Bryant; Barbara Kirkpatrick, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cass Kirkpatrick.

The Queen will be crowned at 7:15 p.m. just before the ball game starts at 7:30 p.m. Candidates will be escorted on to the field by Jimmy Lawson, Robert Duncan, Gary Bizzell, Dickie Hudgens, Roy Moss and Johnny Schenck.

A PTA sponsored ham supper is scheduled at 5:30 p.m. Friday.

The meal, which will be served at the school cafeteria between 5:30 and 7 p.m., is one of the PTA's fund raising projects for the school year.

Tickets can be purchased at the door. Prices are $1 for adults, 75¢ for students and 50¢ for pre-schoolers.

School will dismiss Friday at 2:30 p.m. at H.P. Webb Elementary, junior high and senior high school.

Mustangs Underdog To Mules

Olton's Mustangs again will be cast in the role of underdog here Friday night as they take on the Muleshoe Mules in a homecoming contest which also serves as the District 2-AA opener for both teams.

Both teams have had some rough sailing this year, with Muleshoe entering the game with a 1-4 record for the year. The Mustangs are 2-3.

Muleshoe will be a slight favorite, but Mustang Coach Walter Bryan thinks the Mules may be stronger than anyone has figured.

"I think Muleshoe may be the team that gives Floydada a run for the money in this district," he said. He added that he feels Muleshoe probably is tougher than Morton, which has come through without a loss so far.

Bryan pointed out that the Mules played strong Littlefield and Dimmitt well, losing both encounters by 6-0 scores. Clovis edged by the Mules, 14-6, and Hereford walloped them 39-8.

Muleshoe racked up its first win last Friday night with a 47-6 licking of weak Friona. Olton, meanwhile, was dropping a 32-0 encounter to Hereford.

Comparative scores, based on the Hereford game only, would indicate the Muleshoe-Olton game could be a toss-up.

Robert Duncan, Mustang co-captain and center, came back to practice last week, but he won't be ready to go at full speed. Duncan has been out six weeks with a leg injury.

The Mustangs will be without Halfback Gary Johnson, who was hurt in the Hereford game. Johnson will be out three to four weeks.

Tackle George Phillips probably will see only limited duty. He has a leg injury. Larry Fancher will be at the post.

Roy Moss and Co-Captain Jimmy Lawson will be ready at end, with Joe McKnight and Fancher at starting tackles. Gary Bizzell and Jimmy Bennett will hold down the guard slots, while Duncan and Leon Kendall will share duties at center.

"It'll be Johnny Schenck, James Loveless, Charlie Burris and George Jones in the backfield, with Johnny Moses scheduled to play a lot.

For the Mules, a fellow named Jim Young plays a lot of halfback. He scored three times against Friona on runs of 12, 15 and 5 yards. Bill Gilbreath is another threat, as shown by his 20-yard scoring jaunt against Friona.

The Mustangs took a 35-22 victory at Muleshoe last year and won in a homecoming game here two years ago.

Grid Contest For Local Boys Set Monday

A "Punt, Pass and Kick" contest sponsored nationally by Ford Motor Co. and locally by Hall-Sides Motors will be staged Monday at 7 p.m. at Olton Memorial Stadium.

In announcing the local contest, James Hall, general manager of Hall-Sides, said parents and fans are invited to attend the contest.

Registration for the contest closes Saturday, Oct. 14. Boys from 6 to 10 years of age are eligible to enter.

The five first prize winners of the local contest in each age group will be shooting for a chance to go to a regional contest to be held at halftime of a National Football League game Nov. 19 in Dallas.

WHO WILL BE HOMECOMING QUEEN---These are the candidates, one of whom will be crowned at 7:15 p.m. Friday, just before the kick-off of the Olton-Muleshoe Football game.

City Will Send Out Delinquent Tax Notes

Taxpayers who are behind with the city soon will receive notices calling for early payment of delinquent taxes.

If arrangements for payment are not made, the notice says, "It will become necessary to turn the matter over to the city attorney for collection."

Go-ahead for the tax collection project was given Tuesday night at a regular meeting of the city council.

In other activity at the meeting, the council approved the tax roll for this year, okayed a bid for an addition to the city jail, and discussed setting up a civil defense unit.

Tax roll for this year totals $41,540.59. Last year's total was $39,943.39.

Low bidder on the addition to the city jail was H.L. Dennis, with a bid of $1,995.70. Work is expected to start the latter part of this week.

New part of the jail will be constructed just behind the present cell block. It will be an 8-bunk unit, 16 by 16 feet.

Prior to acceptance of the bid, Mayor M.T. James said: "We need it (the addition) simply for more space. One time we put 23 in the present cell, which is supposed to hold four."

With two members of the council---Fred Thompson and Lynn Fite---absent, the group tabled any action on setting up a civil defense unit.

Procedure for setting up such a unit includes, first, the pass-

HERE'S A FIELD OF GOLDEN GRAIN just before it succumbs to the harvest. It's a familiar picture in the area, as combines go stronger with each day. This particular field belongs to Jack Straw, who farms south of Olton. Grain harvest in the Olton area is approximately one-third completed. Farmers expect to wrap most of it up by early November.

Jerry Varner Is Winner Of Enterprise Contest

A Nazareth resident copped top honors in the Enterprise football contest this week, picking 11 of the 13 games right.

Jerry Varner of Nazareth edged two other contestants who picked as many games, but weren't as close on the tiebreakers.

Second place went to Johnny Clark Jr. of Olton, while Bob Gullett of Olton copped third place.

Varner was 25 points off on the tiebreakers, Clark was 31 away, and Gullett missed by 39.

No one else in the contest was able to pick more than 10 of the games right.

Top prize is $10, second is worth $6 and third is $4. Contestants may enter the contest for this week by picking up a copy of the Oct. 5 Enterprise, filling out the entry and turning it in to any of the firms sponsoring the event.

We Would Like To Say...

Once a year, during National Newspaper Week, newspapers get to blow their own horn a little.

We would like to take this opportunity to say we think the newspaper business is the most satisfying business in the world for it gives us a chance to render a service to our community, to create a needed product and to have fun while doing it.

However, very few people seriously consider just what their newspaper really is, and what it means to their every day way of life--the newspaper is usually just taken for granted.

Freedom of the Press is just a phrase, a slogan that, too often, is accepted, and forgotten.

Yet it is that very freedom, which is such a vital force among all our freedoms. It didn't just happen that way. It was earned at a tremendous sacrifice in this nation.

In the early history of our country, the need for a free press was recognized and, along with others, is guaranteed in the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America.

This country had to struggle to get and has had to struggle to keep its national freedom. The press has been a strong power in that fight. There are no free countries, as we understand the term, which do not have Freedom of the Press.

What is Freedom of the Press? Certainly, it does not guarantee the newspaper the right to do anything it wants to do. A free press merely means "Your Right To Know."

It is an all-important right of the people to know what is going on in their town, their state and their nation.

It is the obligation of the newspaper to present this information accurately, factually, fairly and without fear or favor.

We, at the Olton Enterprise, will at all times attempt to fulfill this responsibility to the best of our ability.

The importance of a newspaper to the community and to the nation was summed up by Thomas Jefferson nearly two centuries ago when he said:

"The basis of our government, being the opinion of the people, the very first object should be to keep that right and were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers, or newspapers without a government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter."

PROCLAMATION

From the Mayor of Olton

In this critical time in world history, the right of the people to know the truth, in order that they may act wisely and fearlessly, imposes a grave obligation on our nation's press. Our newspapers are meeting the challenge. Freedom flourishes on truth. Tyranny thrives on ignorance. As Mayor of Olton it is a privilege for me to pay tribute to the newspapers of our area for the wonderful work they are doing in keeping the people informed. May National Newspaper Week, October 15 to 21, inclusive, serve as a reminder to all of us that a free press is our best guarantee of a free society.

(Signed) M.T. JAMES
Mayor of Olton

A Lesson In Socialism

THE FOLLOWING article, originally a letter from Thomas J. Shelly, teacher of economics and history in Yonkers High School, New York, has been widely reprinted under the title "A Lesson in Socialism." It's a good one... and worth your reading time.

As a teacher in the public schools, I find that the socialist-communist idea of taking "from each according to his ability," and giving "to each according to his need" is now generally accepted without question by most of our pupils. In an effort to explain the fallacy in this theory, I sometimes try this approach with my pupils:

When one of the brighter or harder-working pupils makes a grade of 95 on a test, I suggest that I take 20 points away and give them to a student who had made only 55 points on his test. Thus each would contribute according to his ability and since both would have a passing mark--each would receive according to his need. After I have juggled the grades of all the other pupils in this fashion, the result is usually a "common ownership" grade of between 75 and 80--the minimum needed for passing, or for survival. Then I speculate with the pupils as to the probable results if I actually used the socialistic theory for grading papers.

First, the highly productive pupils--and they are always in the minority in school as well as in life--would soon lose all incentive for producing. Why strive to make a high grade if part of it is taken away from you by "authority" and given to someone else?

Second, the less productive pupils--a majority in school as elsewhere--would, for a time, be relieved from the necessity to study or to produce. His socialist-communist system would continue until the high producers had sunk--or had been driven down--to the level of the low producers. At that point, in order for anyone to survive, the "authority" would have no alternative but to begin a system of compulsory labor and punishments against even the low producers. They, of course, would then complain, but without understanding.

Finally I return the discussion to the ideas of freedom and enterprise--the market economy--where each person has freedom of choice and is responsible for his own decisions and welfare.

Gratifyingly enough, most of my pupils then understand what I mean when I explain that socialism--even in a democracy--will eventually result in a living-death for all except the "authorities" and a few of their favorite lackeys.

How To Run A Newspaper

A newspaper editor in Montana placed his tongue firmly in his cheek the other day and composed a list of answers to a questionnaire on what a weekly newspaper subscriber would like to read. Here are the responses to what the average reader desires to see:

1. My name.
2. A front page article showing how crooked the city government is most of the time.
3. My wife's name.
4. A feature article showing 25 ways on how to cheat on income tax forms.
5. My kid's name.
6. A local news item about the affair my neighbor is having.
7. A classified ad offering a new home for sale for $4,000.
8. More news about law-breakers.
9. Less news about law-breakers. I was just picked up last night and I should not have to pay a fine.
10. An editorial condemning high school teachers for being too liberal with "Fs."
11. A wedding picture of the groom instead of the bride when he is more handsome than she is pretty.
12. A sports picture of me when I bowled 183.
13. More advertisements on things that merchants are giving away.
14. A front page picture of my neighbor being hauled out of the bar by his wife.
15. A front page spread about the deadbeat who lives across the street from me who just had his car repossessed.
16. Forget the last one. I just got word from the finance company that they're coming after my car.
17. More letters to the editor naming the crooks we have in town.
18. A full page of local news, a full page of national news, 16 pages of sports, 26 pages of comics, one page on divorces and three pages on all the domestic troubles we are having in town.
19. Less stuff about how cute everybody else's kids are. My kids are better looking than those you rave on about.
20. A complete biographical sketch about the "most important citizen in town," and be sure you spell my name right.

An Irishman in a Boston court was endeavoring to disprove that he had a brogue. The judge, listening to his statements, interrupted, saying: "Pat, if you wish to deny your brogue, may I suggest that you put it in writing?"

"I wasn't doing forty miles an hour," protested the motorist. "Nor thirty, nor even twenty." "Here, steady now," interrupted the magistrate, "or you'll be backing into something!"

New Color For Telephone Co.
Autos Is White

Telephone company green for vehicles is on its way out—for safety's sake, according to R.E. Saunders, Littlefield District Manager. Olton received recently its first new all white company vehicle and it has been assigned to Denver O'Field, plantman for the Olton area.

While primarily for safety, the white also is designed to convey the corporate image of General Telephone, thus getting away from the green used by so many other companies, Saunders stated. The National Safety Council statistics show that white paint at night reflects 84% of the light from headlights, while dark green reflects only about 9%. The old green will be phased out during the coming years as new vehicles are received. No program of painting the present company vehicles is planned. The over-all phase out will take approximately five years.

ENGLISH VISITOR---Lion Boss Ralph Glover, right, shows Terry Cracknell he doesn't have anything in the other hand as he shakes hands with the Britisher. Looking on are Russell Grimes and Lee Dent, both of Hale Center.

English Views On US Life Draw Laughs At Lions Club

A visitor from Ipswich, England, describing some of the differences between people here and those of Great Britain, drew laugh after laugh in a talk at a meeting of the Olton Lions Club here Tuesday.

Terry Cracknell, the visitor, said the average Britisher is unaccustomed to hand-shaking, a matter of course in the U.S.

"At home," he explained, "if you were to shake hands with a fellow, he'd wonder what you've got in the other hand."

And, he said, "Everybody over here drinks coffee black. At home, the only time we do that is after a night on the tiles."

"It leads me to presume," he grinned, "to believe that every night here is a night on the tiles."

The Lions got the joke, even though a "night on the tiles" was new to them. Naturally, it's the same thing as a "night on the town" here.

Cracknell was introduced by Lee Dent, manager of the Hale Center Chamber of Commerce. Also visiting was Russell Grimes, a former employe of the Enterprise, who now operates a printing shop in Hale Center.

Cracknell has been in this country since May 13, on a tour sponsored by the Grain Sorghum Producers Assn.

In England, he is employed by a livestock feed producers firm. He is now working at a grain elevator in Hale Center.

Cracknell pointed out that taxes are high in Great Britain.

"Gasoline costs 80 cents a gallon and the tax on a $3,000 car is $900. Nearly everybody drives a small car that gets 25 miles to the gallon," he explained.

Turning to another subject, Cracknell said: "You have a tendency to spoil yourselves here. Nearly everyone has on of these reclining chairs... that's part of your standard of living."

"I may have trouble when I get home, changing my standard of living," he laughed.

"You are much more lenient with your youth here. At home, there isn't any dating among school youth... the boys can't even wear Brylcreem on their hair."

people that really appreciate it."

"All in a day's work" for Mrs. Miller turns out to be quite a task. Here is a sample day's work for her. Last Monday she went to the Methodist Church and stayed all morning teaching the WSS class. Then she went over to her sister's home and picked tomatoes. She went home and canned 51 quarts of tomato juice, besides baking all the desserts, which consisted of chocolate and coconut pies, for the Lions Club Tuesday.

Something also dear to Mary's heart is books. She has a large collection of books, including research books, Bible commentaries and some fiction. Her collection is now numbered at about 200.

She prizes her books very highly. She laughed and said: "They are something that even my grandchildren can't play with. People are missing something really good if they don't read books, because TV and radios just can't take their place."

"I have lots of things to be proud of in my life, but I'm the proudest of my family."

With five sons, five daughters, and 19 grandchildren she has something to be proud of. Her oldest two children were twins, Robert, who is a Methodist preacher in Louisiana and Mrs. M.T. Donald, who lives in Norfolk, Virginia.

Then there is Henry III, Houston; Bill, Corpus Christi; Mrs. Grady Shull, Plainview; Mrs. Vernon Bleeker, Muleshoe; Mrs. Curtis Hackler, Denver, Colo.; Mrs. Frank Criswell, Olton; David, who is in the Army; and Lonnie, who is attending West Texas College in Canyon.

The Millers were married in 1919. The land they live on was in Henry's father's estate. Henry has lived here since 1900. The Millers have lived on their home place since 1928. They raised their family there and nine of their children graduated from Olton High School.

They are members of the Olton Methodist Church. Mrs. Miller stated, "The Church is next to our home." Henry has been a member of the Olton Methodist Church longer than anyone living now. He became a member in 1906.

Miller works at the gin in the fall and accesses school taxes in the spring. They rent out their farm. She said it took lots of time for them to visit their children. About twice a year, they take off to see them.

In 1923, Mary had polio.

She had four small children at the time. For about two years, she said she pushed a chair around in front of her so that she could get about and do her work. She nearly lost her voice at this time and she still has a slight deficiency in speech.

"I'm just thankful I can get around as well as I can. The Lord just let me stay. He had something else for me to do--cook another meal, I guess." She also commented that she just couldn't give up.

"I just don't understand people that give up. I love life! If I didn't do the best I could, I would feel that I was failing the Lord and everybody else."

The other day at the Methodist Church when some ladies were cooking, Rev. Gaede said, "Mary, you'd think you were as young as anyone of them."

"I am," she replied.

Post Office Site Undecided

Postmaster I.B. Holt Wednesday squelched rumors that a site for a new post office here already has been selected. "No site has been selected as yet," Postmaster Holt said. Options were taken on several prospective sites last month, but a Post Office Department official in Lubbock, V.E. Bell, said the building site would be selected within a 100-day period after that. Plans then will be drawn by post office engineer in Dallas, and bids to construct the new building will be taken within 60 days after the plans are completed, Bell said.

Earth Child Injured When Hit By Auto

The accident occurred about 2:15 p.m. when V.L. Smith Jr., deputy sheriff for Earth and Springlake, was backing his car out of the driveway at his home.

Smith said his car was partially in the street when he felt a bump and heard the child scream. The boy was taken to Earth Clinic for treatment and then to Littlefield Hospital in Smith's car.

He was reported to have received lacerations about the legs and the pelvis.

The child was visiting at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kelley, who live next door to Smith, at the time of the accident.

Youth Indicted By Grand Jury In Assault Case

Laurence Calfy, 19-year-old Oklahoma youth, was indicted last week in Dimmitt at a grand jury hearing for rape.

He was identified by a Dimmitt farm wife, formerly of Olton, as the man who stopped her on a farm road near her home on the night of Sept. 11 and robbed and criminally assaulted her.

According to Sheriff Jack Cartwright, Calfy and a 16-year-old companion saw her pull into a Dimmitt service station for gasoline, presumed from the bowling shirt hanging in the back of that car that she was transient, and followed her with robbery as the motive. However, when she turned off the highway they continued following her and although she speeded up somewhat they passed her and blocked the road. When she was forced to stop Calfy reportedly managed to run his hand through the small opening at the top of her car window and grabbed her by the hair, jerking her head against the door and stunning her. He then allegedly managed to open the car door and robbed and assaulted her over the protests of the younger boy. The 16-year-old had reportedly agreed to the robbery but not to the assault.

The woman, who has been under sedative much of the time since then, was returning home after an evening of bowling in Dimmitt.

Calfy reportedly tried to make two women from Clovis stop between Hereford and Canyon later that night. They reported him and he was caught later returning from Amarillo.

Hereford H-Bombs Drop Mustang Eleven, 32-0

In this age of nuclear weapons, it's fairly apparent that you can't build fallout shelters after the big ones start dropping.

So it was at Hereford last Friday night, when Olton's Mustangs lost their annual football war with Hereford, 32-0.

The Mustangs had their defenses pretty well set for small scale attack, but they just didn't have the necessary protection when Hereford started dropping the big bombs.

The class AAA Whitefaces dropped three in a row, within a period of seven minutes, to wipe out any hopes the Ponies had of taking the victory.

A 35-yard pass play which almost fizzled, a 93-yard punt return and a 59-yard return of an intercepted pass proved the Mustangs' undoing.

All three came between 8:31 and 1:25 of the first quarter. That put Hereford ahead 18-0 in the non-conference battle.

Speedy Halfback Mack Cansler was the man behind the bombight in all three scores.

Fullback Arnold Powell got the fourth TD and with QB Joe Mack Hale going for the final tally.

The Hereford attack came so suddenly that the Mustangs never got their retaliatory forces off the ground.

Olton, despite some fine work by Quarterback Johnny Schenck, never got past the Hereford 34-yard line and spent most of the night in its own end of the field.

The Whitefaces set the stage for the first touchdown with a double-reverse pass play which almost fell apart when the ball was dropped.

Hereford's Charles Kelly picked it up, however, and heaved it to Butch Walterscheid for a 35-yard pickup to the Olton 10.

Cansler rammed through right guard for the score on the next play.

After Olton moved the ball

18 yards to the midfield stripe, Gary Johnson kicked to the Hereford 7.

Cansler took the pigskin and picked up fine blocking along the right sideline. As he hit midfield he cut back to the center and found clear sailing for the TD. That made it 12-0 with 5:26 left in the first period.

About four minutes later Cansler picked off a Schenck pass at his 35 and raced 59 yards to the Olton 6. Three plays later he scored from the one to make it 18-0.

The Mustangs' best drive of the night came after Hereford had taken the 18-0 lead. Olton marched 38 yards in 13 plays to the Whiteface 42.

Reserve Fullback Johnny Moses showed some fine running in the drive and Schenck called a daring shot on a fourth-and-one situation at his own 29.

It worked, but later on the march fizzled when two running plays gained only four yards and a pass fell incomplete.

Hereford's fourth tally came with 2:03 left in the half. Powell climaxed a 71-yard drive with a five-yard run.

With 1:13 left in the third quarter, Hale got the final score with a one-yard sneak. It climaxed a 68-yard march. Jim Haney ran the extra points to make it 32-0.

The Mustangs had two mild threats in the fourth quarter. Olton End Jimmy Lawson worked his way into the clear on a pass play which might have covered 54 yards for a TD. But he couldn't quite hold Schenck's toss.

Later, Schenck recovered a Hereford fumble at the Olton 49.

On first down, Johnny raced 17 yards to the Hereford 34. It was the longest gain of the night for the Mustangs.

Two plays later, Schenck passed 10 yards to HB James Loveless, but the gain was nullified by a 15-yard penalty, spoiling the drive.

The loss was touch one for the Mustangs, who dropped their third game. They have won twice. Hereford is now 5-1, the only loss coming from Roswell, New Mexico's top-rated team, 7-6.

Olton lost the services of HB Johnson for at least the Muleshoe game when he went out with a leg injury in the second quarter.

Olton was without Co-Captain Robert Duncan and End Roy Moss for the non-district tilt. Guard Jimmy Bennett was hampered by injuries.

Despite a losing cause, Schenck led the game's ground gainers with 71 yards in 19 carries. Cansler had 44 in eight trips from scrimmage.

Johnson got 21 yards in six runs before he was hurt.

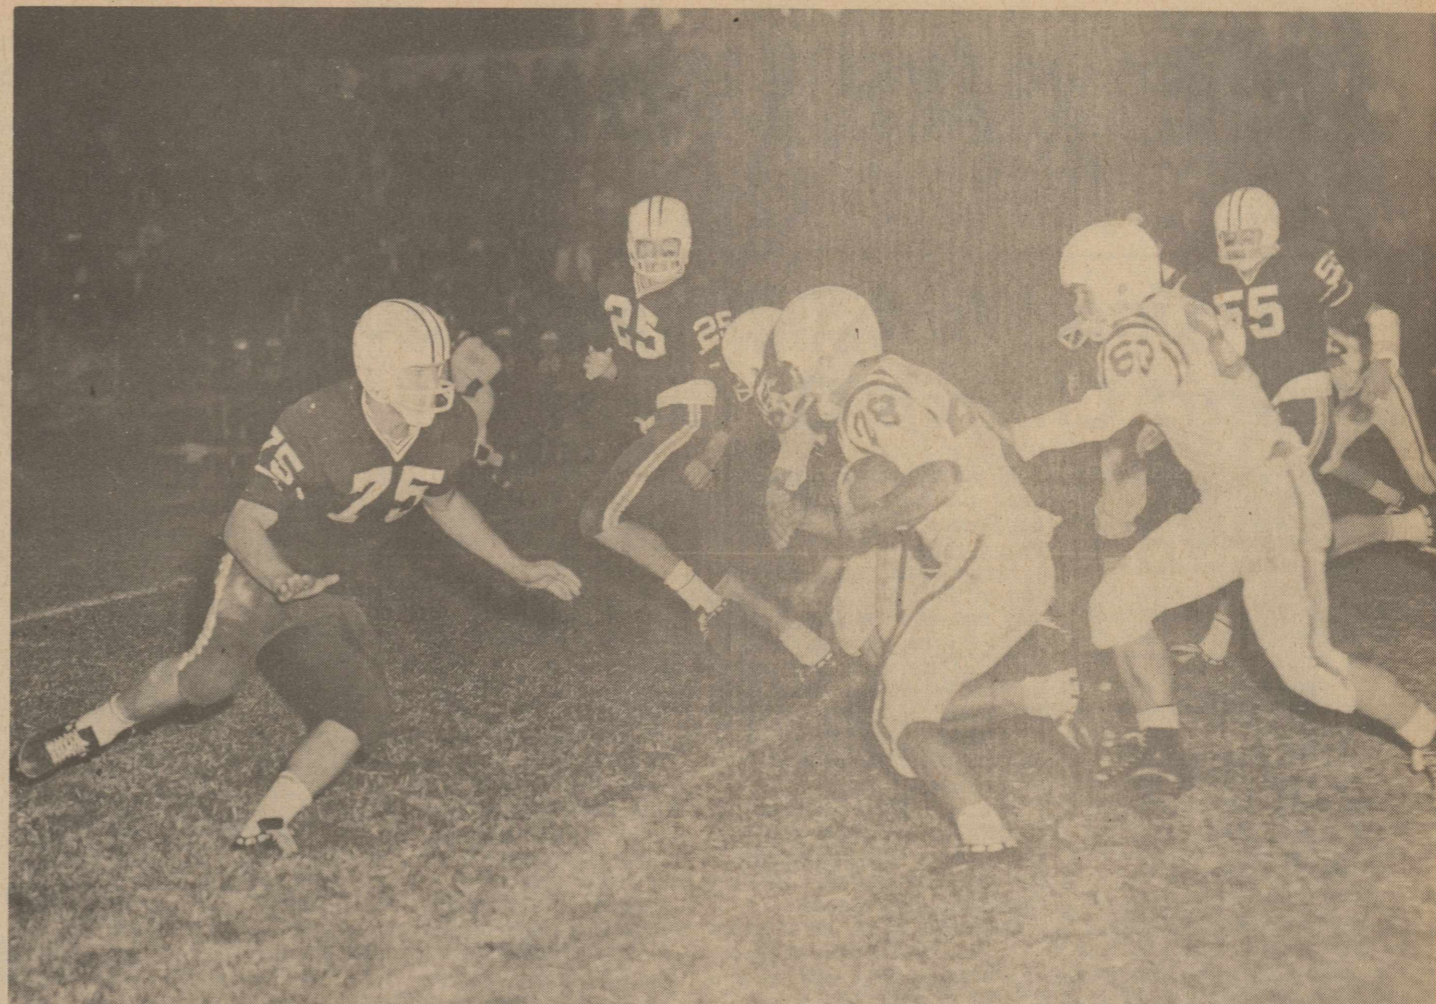

The Mustang line, although outweighed and out classed, gave the Hereford forward wall plenty of fight. The Olton forwards were going at it just as strong after the Mustangs fell behind as they were at the start.

Pigg-King Wed September 30 At Hart Church Of Christ

The Church of Christ at Hart was the scene Saturday evening, September 30, of the wedding of Miss Treva Pigg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pigg, Hart, and Larrie King of Olton. Glenn Crowe, minister of the church, read the double ring service.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgle King of Olton.

Music was presented by a quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Burrus, Darrel Clevenger, and Wister Clevenger, singing "Whither Thou Goest" and "Faithful and True."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over satin, designed with scooped neckline, fitted bodice with deep pointed waistline and three-quarter length sleeves. The full skirt was of floral lace over tulle. Her veil was held by a tiara of seed pearls and she carried her bouquet of white carnations atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Donald Pigg, sister-in-law of the bride, of Levelland, was matron of honor and Miss Janie Pierce, Hart, was bridesmaid. They wore dresses of cerise velveteen, styled with fitted bodices having scalloped necklines, and full gathered skirts. Their bouquets were of white mums.

Teresa Pigg, Levelland, the bride's niece, and Donnita Pigg, Hart, sister of the bride, were flower girls. Monte Malone, Olton, was ring bearer.

Best man for the bridegroom was Jimmie Lawson of Olton, and Carmen Pigg, the bride's brother was groomsmen.

Ushering duties were performed by Lonnie King, Earth and Donald Pigg, Levelland. The wedding reception was held in the American Legion Hut at Hart, where parents of the couple and members of the wedding party assisted them in receiving.

The reception table was laid with a white lace cloth over cerise and crystal and silver appointments. A traditional tiered wedding cake was served with strawberry punch.

Mrs. Bill Tanner, sister of the bridegroom presided at the punch service and Mrs. Jane King, the bridegroom's sister-in-law served the cake.

For the wedding trip to points in New Mexico, the bride changed to a two piece suit, black accessories and wore the corsage from her wedding bouquet.

Longhorns Downed 24-20
By Whitharral Panthers

Whitharral's Panthers slid past the Hart Longhorns 24-20 at Whitharral Friday night in a see-saw battle.

Hart was the first to score when Larry Lee, Fullback, took a Whitharral punt on his 10 yard line and ran it back 90 yards for a touchdown in the first quarter.

Fullback Kenneth Polk came right back for Whitharral. He scored on the first play after kickoff, going 80 yards for the marker. Terry Gage, left halfback, ran the extra points.

Whitharral upped the score again on a 59 yard pass-run play from quarterback Sammy Pair to Gage. Gage ran the extras.

Quarterback Mark Martin ran six yards for a touchdown in the second period for Hart.

On the last play of the first half, Gage swept end for 10 yards and another Whitharral tally.

In the third period, Lee scored from four yards out for Hart, then ran the extras.

Although the Longhorns played hard, the Panthers were just a little too much for them. The score ended 24-20.

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 12 - Farm fires caused losses estimated at $165 million in the nation last year. W.S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer, said the figure was supplied by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Building losses accounted for about 65 percent of the total loss payments by companies for which a breakdown by property class was available, he added. Almost three-fourths of the building losses were on main buildings—homes and barns.

Allen continued that now is the time for neighbors to attack this problem of fires, and suggested that special emphasis be placed on fire prevention this during National Fire Prevention Week. This period is just ahead of the month when farm fires take their greatest toll. November was the peak month last year. Four-fifths of all 1960 farm fires and 84 percent of the lives lost occurred during the six months from October through March, Allen said.

President John F. Kennedy in his proclamation designating the special week said, "Our communities and the Nation can ill afford this inexcusable waste of our resources."

Family training in fire hazard removal and fire fighting and drills for establishing escape routes in case of fire were suggested by the engineer as things families and neighbors could work on together. Farm families, in particular, he added, must rely on their own fire safety training, fire prevention check-ups, and fire protection measures to safeguard their lives, income and property.

Local county extension agents can supply information and suggestions for carrying out educational programs not only on fire prevention but also on farm and home safety activities, Allen said. A visit with the agents and community leaders was suggested by Allen as a starting point in planning for National Fire Prevention Week activities.

HPRF Presented With Equipment

The Murray Gin Co. and the John E. Mitchell Co., both of Dallas, have presented the High Plains Research Foundation with a 20 Saw Gin and a Mitchell Convertible Machine for the Foundation's cotton research program.

The gifts were secured by Wilmer Smith of Wilson and Dixon White of Lubbock, members of the Board of Trustees for the Foundation, and Guy W. Nichols, Muleshoe, president of the Plains Ginners Association.

The new small gin will permit the ginning of samples as they are harvested. These samples can be promptly sent to the classification office and the Textile Research Laboratory at Texas Tech. The analysis of research results by the Foundation's staff can proceed without the delays as experienced in the past. Use of this equipment will accelerate completion of the research reports. This will place the results in the hands of farmers and the cotton industry in time to use in planning the next season's cotton operations.

The Foundation has fifteen different research projects on cotton. A large number of different cotton samples must be ginned and analyzed to complete the reports.

Frank Moore, president of the Foundation, expressed the appreciation of the Board of Trustees and the staff to the Murray and Mitchell Companies for the gifts.

Board members are in the process of securing a building to house the gin in time for use in the 1961 harvest.

Mahon stated that a moderate increase in 1962 over 1961 is necessary in order to make sure that the American cotton

Beet Outlook Sweet

BY H.A. TUCK
News Editor
The Hereford Brand

A 55-45 split on domestic and foreign sugar production for the United States is the key to a year-long battle centering around the Texas Panhandle.

Members of the Texas Sugar Beet Growers Association have waged a fight clear to the hall of Congress and into the White House in an effort to gain sufficient acreage to warrant building one or more beet sugar refineries.

And the tide of battle turned abruptly early in September with the adoption of a small resolution by the House Agriculture Committee.

Only a few words in length, the resolution promises that the Sugar Act will be amended early in 1962 to allow a sharp increase in production of sugar beets and construction of refineries in new growing areas, principal of which is in this region.

For many years, the Sugar Act was a little-known factor in Washington. It outlined the sources of sugar for the United States and allocated quotas for both domestic and imported sugar. Never questioned, the Sugar Act was extended for five-year periods without discussion or debate.

More than a year ago, the Texas Sugar Beet Growers Association challenged the allocation of sugar quotas for foreign countries, claiming that both sugar supplies and the position of domestic farmers could be strengthened by raising more sugar in the United States.

This was laughed off in Washington, where many government officials felt that international friendships hinged on continued imports of sugar.

Then came the revolution and Fidel Castro's rise to power in Cuba, a major foreign source of sugar for the United States. Congress hurriedly gave the President power to cut off Cuba's sugar imports. But Cuba supplied almost 45 per cent of America's sugar!

Quickly the Texans moved to take advantage of the situation. Imagine their surprise when they found that the State Department intended to allocate Cuba's quota to other countries without increasing domestic sugar production. The Department of Agriculture, however, threw a tiny bone in an effort to still the clamor from Texas.

They removed acreage controls from sugar. This, in effect, meant nothing since the USDA still told each American sugar company how much sugar it could market each year.

Stubbornly, the Texans tried signed an amendment to the Sugar Act which would have been a start. Under the original Sugar Act, the "growth factor" increase in demand for sugar was allocated only to old growers in established areas.

The "growth factor" is the natural increase in demand for sugar because of increased consumption and population. Part of it was absorbed by old growers, the rest went to increased imports from other countries.

The amendment would have divided the annual increase among new growers in small, established new areas, new growers in old areas, old growers in old areas and new growers in reclamation areas.

In this plan, the Texas Panhandle would have been classed as a small, established area. It takes about 20,000 acres of beets to provide sufficient tonnage for the operation of a sugar refinery.

Sugar beets have been raised continuously in the Panhandle since 1939, but only on about 1,900 acres. Despite outstanding production records, both on tonnage and sugar content, this acreage has remained stable. Only six counties—Castro, Deaf Smith, Hale, Lubbock, Parmer, and Randall—in the state have any beet acreage.

Although this amendment wasn't adopted, Congress finally agreed to a short extension of the Sugar Act last summer before adjournment. The promises to amend the Sugar Act when Congress returned in January again fell through and the Act was extended for a year, until June 1962.

Primarily through the efforts of the Texas Sugar Beet Growers Association and Congressman Walter Rogers of Pampa, the adamant stand of key members of the House Agriculture Committee was changed.

First indication came in August during a meeting on sugar beets held by the USDA in Denver, Colo. Congressman Bob Poage of Waco, assistant chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, attended as a spectator but was called upon to make a short talk.

Poage told the groups that he strongly favored increased domestic production and would work to get the Sugar Act changed.

On September 7, the House Agriculture Committee passed the following: "RESOLVED that it is the sense of the Agricultural Committee of the House of Representatives that in allocating the sugar tonnage necessary to supply the domestic 'growth factor' to Secretary of Agriculture should make allocations to new mills so that this new tonnage can support the development of the sugar industry in new areas."

What would this mean to the Texas Panhandle? First, acreage will be increased, probably over a period of two or three years, from the present 1,900 acres to about 20,000. Second, a sugar refinery probably would be built in the area. Third, cattle feeding should jump sharply with the availability of beet pulp as a basic feeder item.

Four Hereford men have been instrumental in getting the change in attitude. Lee Benefield is president of the Texas Sugar Beet Growers Association. James W. Witherspoon, an attorney, was named head of the Association's legislative committee. Joining them was banker Henry Sears and beet grower Hank Williams.

Together and separately, they made countless trips to Washington. They also helped organize county sugar beet growers associations all over the Panhandle and South Plains.

Among these groups is the Randall County Sugar Beets Growers Association. Hosea Foster is president of this group.

If the Sugar Act is changed to give more production to this area, it could mean a tremendous boost to the economy. Not only would it retire from production some wheat and grain sorghum land, but it would provide a stable income for many farmers.

Disease and insect problems on sugar beets have been whipped. With the exception of about two weeks, the plants are not subject to weather damage. The price remains stable. Hand labor has been almost eliminated with development of machines to do planting, thinning and harvesting.

As one Hereford sugar beet raiser put it, "I haven't had any trouble with my banker since I have been growing sugar beet!"

At present, Texas beet growers have to ship their beets to Colorado for processing. With enough production in this area to support a refinery, they wouldn't have to pay freight rates that cut into their profits. They also would get first option on the beet pulp, which is recognized for its cattle-feeding value.

A refinery is a huge investment, and also a rare one. It is estimated that a refinery would cost about $15,000,000 and would take three years to build. During peak period of operation it would employ up to 350 people, with a constant employment of around 75-100 persons.

Last one built in the United States was in 1954, and the next newest was erected in 1948. But they are long-lasting: the plant built in 1870 at Alvarado, Calif., is still in operation after having been rebuilt in 1936. There are only 62 refineries in the United States, of which 57 were built prior to 1940.

And a series of tests now being conducted in Hereford add another bright note to the prospects for increased sugar production in this area.

The tests are being made on several varieties of sugar sorghum to determine the amount of sugar which might be extracted. The varieties, unlike most sorghum, are high in sucrose which can be refined into pure sugar rather than syrup.

Tonnage yields are running above 19 tons per acre and the sugar content is more than 14 per cent, far higher than the minimum necessary for commercial sugar operations.

And with a small change in one phase of refining, the sorghum could be processed in sugar beet mills. By earlier planting, the sorghum could be refined for 60 to 90 days before the start of beet harvest.

Yes, the outlook for the Texas Panhandle is sweet, indeed!

C.C. Curry has been taken to the West Texas Hospital in Lubbock. He is in room 411 on the 4th floor. His condition was reported as fair this week.
