

I SEEM to get involved one way or another with all four utility companies every now and then.

They all want to be paid promptly, or they'll cut your lights, gas, phone or water off.

I've always managed to stay just a step or two ahead of them and they've never had cause to cut me off.

But I guess I'm going to have to watch my p's and q's a little closer from now on, as far as James Gallagher over at Pioneer Natural Gas is concerned.

JAMES SAYS I had three or four chances to put his name in the news paper lately, but that I muffed all of them.

He's third vice-president of the Lions Club, and I guess we've carried the names of the new officers several times.

Each time, however, we accidentally left out James' name and office.

"I wouldn't think anything about it," says James, "if it happened once or twice, but it's getting to be pretty regular."

So I figure if I let my gas bill go over a day or two, Ol' James just might be out to my house getting even.

I told James the omission of his name in the paper was purely accidental.

I don't think he believed me though, because he said:

"The real reason, I think, is that you used to be third vice-president and you're sore because they didn't elect you again."

THAT SORTA took me by surprise. I'd forgotten all about it. You can tell I was a rip-roarin' third vice-president, because I didn't even remember being one.

"Naw, that's really not the reason," I told James.

This is what really happened, I explained.

"You see, James, we got our information from Ralph Glover, the new president."

"Now it happens that Ralph runs that other utility company here, you know, Southwestern Public Service."

"You reckon Ralph left your name out on purpose?"

THAT THREW an altogether new light on the situation. Pretty soon I had James sore at Ralph instead of me.

Now all I have to do is convince Ralph next time I see him that James is all mixed up . . . I didn't tell him anything like that.

If I can work it right, it'll all end up just fine.

"Course, if something goes wrong, Ralph may be coming by the house one of these nights to put out my lights."

Enterprise To Be Closed Next Week

Olton Enterprise will be closed July 9 through July 16, while the staff is on vacation.

Two papers will be printed this week, one Thursday and one Saturday, so subscribers will receive a copy of the paper next Thursday as usual.

FIRST COTTON BLOOM --- Travis Bundick, who reported the first cotton bloom in the Olton area, is shown holding the stalk of cotton, which produced the bloom. Bundick planted the cotton April 20 and discovered the pink bloom Monday morning. He said he found several pink blooms, but no white ones. He expects the 15-acre plot of cotton to be ready for harvest about September 1.

Olton Area Crops Making Headway

Evidences of maturing crops came into the spotlight this week in the Olton area, after rains doused the community Sunday and Monday. No hail was reported.

First cotton bloom was reported Monday by Travis Bundick, 7 miles north of town. Potato harvest took a good foothold, as wheat harvest drew to a close. Several farmers said they expect to begin cucumber harvest the last of next week.

Local elevator managers said wheat harvest is almost finished. They all agreed that wheat acreage increased here this year, and the yield was above average.

About eight million pounds of wheat handled by the three Olton elevators this year. One elevator manager said he "handled more wheat this year than ever before."

Potato harvest continued to roll Wednesday at the L.A. Johnson farm.

Johnson said he was getting "good tonnage" on his potatoes. He found pink blooms in his cotton Tuesday. Mrs. Johnson said their crops "really look good." About half-inch of rain fell early this week at the Johnson farm, 3 1/2 miles northeast of town.

Raymond Lewis, who farms 4 miles southwest of town, expects to start cucumber harvest about July 15. He said his crops "began to look real good about last week."

"I think in general the crops in the community looked better this time last year," he commented.

About a quarter-inch of rain fell at the Lewis farm Sunday night.

A little more than a half-inch of rainfall was reported to have fallen Sunday night at the A.J. Spain farm, 3 1/2 miles northeast of town.

Spain finished cutting his wheat last week, averaging 60 bushels per acre. He has sprayed his cotton once, and said there are "probably some" bugs in it now.

Mrs. Norman Smith, 5 miles east, said their crops "are further along than this time last year." Her husband has sprayed his cotton once, and plans to spray again.

Sunday night about a quarter-inch of rain fell at the Smith farm.

Cleo Smith, who farms northwest of Olton, received about a quarter-inch of rainfall at his farm Sunday. He said his crops "look quite a bit ahead of last year, especially cotton."

At the Robert Meinecke farm, a mile east and 2 north, about three-quarters of an inch of rain fell Sunday night. Meinecke has sprayed his cotton twice. He finished wheat harvest about three weeks ago, with an average yield of 40 bushels per acre on the part-dryland crop.

Seven miles north of town at the A.W. Shelley farm, about

New Church of Christ Minister Is Alfred White

The Whites moved to Olton Tuesday. White and his wife, Mary Nell, have three children, Billy, 12, Beth, 11 and Jimmie, 6.

He is replacing G.B. Stanley as Church of Christ minister here. Stanley moved to Grand Junction, Colo., where he will be minister of the Seventh and Teller Church of Christ.

A 1943 graduate of Wellington High School, White was in the U.S. Navy from 1943-46. Mrs. White also attended high school there.

After being discharged from the Navy, White managed a gin at Wellington for a year. He and his wife were married in 1947 and moved to Mangum, Okla., where White served as a gin manager until 1948.

That year the White moved to Dodson, where he managed a gin until 1950, when they returned to Wellington.

From 1950-54, White farmed, managed a gin, and sold farming equipment at Wellington.

White became minister of his first church in 1954 at Canadian, where he preached 2 1/2 years. He took the minister's position at Bovina in 1957.

"The people really are friendly and I think we'll enjoy living here," Mrs. White commented.

White said, "People are very friendly. . . if all the people are as pleasant as the ones we've met, we'll really like it here."

Cause Of Plane Crash Near Hart Still Mystery

Cause of a plane crash near Hart which took the lives of two Amarillo men about 10:30 Saturday night remained a mystery this week.

A routine investigation by the Civil Aeronautics Board found no reason for the low altitude of the craft, in which Augustus (Gus) Hawkins, 33, formerly of Hart, and Bobby G. Slabaugh, 27, died.

The plane struck a telephone pole about five miles northwest of Hart. The crash site was about 11 miles from a Dimmitt airport, where the plane had landed briefly en route from Amarillo to Lubbock.

Last rites for Hawkins were held at 4 p.m. Monday at the Hart Methodist Church. Funeral services for Slabaugh were conducted at 10 a.m. Tuesday at Boxwell Brothers Ivy Chapel, Amarillo.

Bruce G. Hoch, CAB air safety investigator from Fort Worth, said he knew of no reason why the plane was low enough to strike the pole and wires. He said he found no mechanical defect with the craft, but had not yet torn down the engine.

The plane dipped into a telephone pole about 100 yards north of the Henry Pigg home on Highway 194. The Cessna 182 four-placer then struck one other pole apparently losing its left wing after the first impact.

Wreckage was strewn over an area of about 200 yards.

The impact sent a transformer on one of the poles hurtling into the yard of the Pigg home. A landing gear of the aircraft hit the Pigg home with such force that it drove a hole through a bedroom wall, knocking a couch into the center of the room. Electricity was knocked out.

"I thought the house had exploded," said Pigg as he described the "boom" he heard after the lights went out.

The dual-control plane, owned by Sky Sales Inc., had taken off a short time before the crash at Dimmitt. Hawkins, who was employed by Sky Sales, had telephoned relatives during the Dimmitt stop.

Main wreckage of the craft wound up about 100 yards from the Pigg home. The plane did not burn.

Both men apparently died instantly. One was thrown from the wreckage.

Deputy Sheriff Granville Martin of Hart arrived at the scene minutes after the crash, with Castro County Sheriff arriving shortly thereafter.

Martin and Cartwright stood watch at the crash scene through out the night and were relieved early Sunday morning by Deputy Walter Smith and Highway Patrolman Fred Lenz of Dimmitt.

Civil Aeronautics officials arrived about noon Sunday to begin their investigation.

Crowd Of 625 Turns Out As ORC Crowns Titlists

Miss Kirkpatrick Named Miss ORC

An Olton Miss, Barbara Kirkpatrick, 17, really got a "big bang" out of this Fourth of July, as she was crowned "Miss ORC" of 1961.

Sharing the spotlight with her were two other beauty title winners, two "Mr. Muscles" kings, two swimming and a diving champion, at the 4th annual Fourth of July celebration at the ORC swimming pool Tuesday night.

More than 625 people attended the affair.

A Scotch-Foursome golf tournament also was played at the ORC course in conjunction with the day's activities.

Ronda Martin, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Martin, was named "Miss Nymph" from a field of 17 little misses, four through six years of age.

Two-year-old Katy Tussy charmed her way to the "Little Miss ORC" title. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tussy. Twenty-three pretty little misses competed in her class.

Jimmy Parker, 3, and Ricky Smith, 4, appeared as "he-man type fellows" and each was given the title of "Mr. Muscles."

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Parker, Jimmy was selected from a field of 16 contestants, one to three-years-old. Ricky was chosen over other little boys, four to six years old. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Smith.

Last year's "Little Miss ORC" four-year-old Sharon Quigley, was runner-up for "Miss Nymph."

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Quigley.

Trophies were given to the top three contestants in each contest.

Runners-up in the beauty pageant were Bobbie Lynn Tollett, 16, "Miss ORC," and Brynea Allcorn, 3, "Little Miss ORC." Honorable mention went to Nina Alexander, 2, for "Little Miss ORC." She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Alexander of Corpus Christi.

Bobbie Lynn's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Thurston Tollett. Brynea is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Allcorn.

Contestants in the three beauty contests and muscles contests paraded before three judges, Mrs. Lillie V. Smith, a kindergarten teacher from Lubbock; Wendell Tooley, publisher of Littlefield County Wide News; Ross Middleton, publisher of The Earth News-Sun.

Delmar Givens and Don Spain judged the swimming and diving contests.

Master of ceremonies for the evening was Dr. Basil Johns.

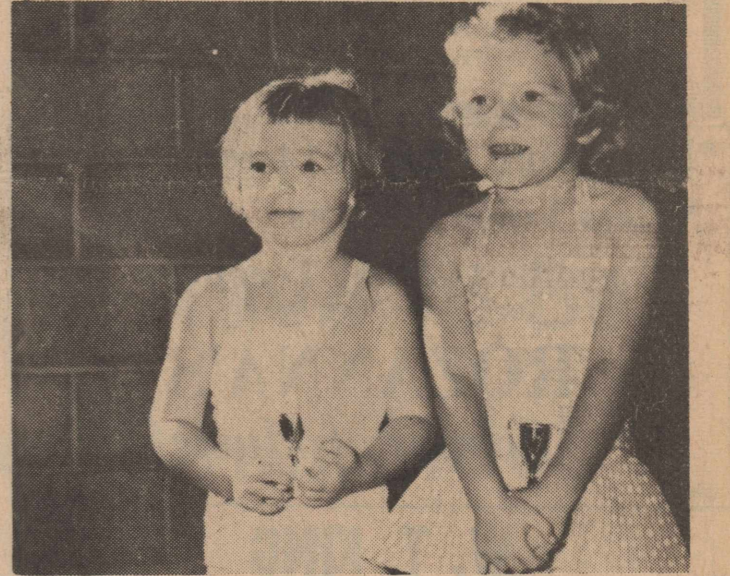

Cheryl Latimer, Bunny DeLong and Lisa Collins presented tap dance numbers between contests. Cheryl is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Latimer. Bunny's parents Standing by him is two-year-old Jody Hysinger, second place winner. Mr. and Mrs. Jess Parker are the parents of Jimmy. Jody's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hysinger.

WHERE TWO DIED --- Two Amarillo men died in the crash of this aircraft Saturday night five miles northwest of Hart. Wreckage of the mangled craft scattered over 200 yards after it struck a telephone pole and crashed. Other pictures, Page 2.

DOWNED WIRES, the transformer at left and the black spot on the Henry Pigg home tell the story of the Cessna 182 which plowed through this area when it crashed Saturday night.

INSIDE THE PIGG HOME, Henry Pigg shines a lantern at the place where a landing gear blasted this hole in the wall, shoving the couch outward. "I thought the house exploded", Pigg said.

PAST THE PIGG HOME was this view, showing the distance over which the plane's wreckage was scattered. Here, officers stand guard over the scene, awaiting arrival of Civil Aeronautics Authorities.

Self-Feeder Demonstration On Cattle Gets Under Way Here

Olton's first self-feeder cattle demonstration got under way Monday when a committee of local businessmen and farmers weighed in 20 Whiteface heifers owned by Allen Johnston.

Members of the committee are Bill Kimbrough, Lamb County agent; Lloyd Graham, Owen Norfleet, Calvin Horn, Bill Turner, Art Nafzger, Elmer McGill, Truitt Sides and Dick Whiteley.

Average weight of the heifers to start was 547.35 pounds. Members of the committee rounded up the cattle and coaxed them into portable scales for weighing.

The demonstration is sponsored jointly by Olton Farm Supply and the Ralston Purina Company.

The feeding demonstration is being staged in a lot behind Sanders-Pairs Co. on Highway 70. All interested persons are invited to inspect the demonstration.

Next weighing date is July 31 at 8 a.m. The public is also invited to that event.

Efficient, fast-gaining cattle feeding is the goal of the project, which could open up more interest in cattle feeding in this area.

As Most People Think...
THEY'RE NOT AWAY ON VACATION

You can find 94% of the people at home at any time during June, July and August--still shopping at a fast rate. Still buying newspapers. Still buying the things they read about.

BUSINESS IS THERE - SALES HOT AS THE WEATHER

Summer business is the most neglected, the most under promoted areas in our whole merchandise system. There is no excuse for reduced sales effort. The business is there if you go after it--all summer long.

People spend more money on merchandise in June, July and August than in most other months--the Dept. of Commerce survey shows. Are you taking advantage of this? Are you planning special summer promotions?

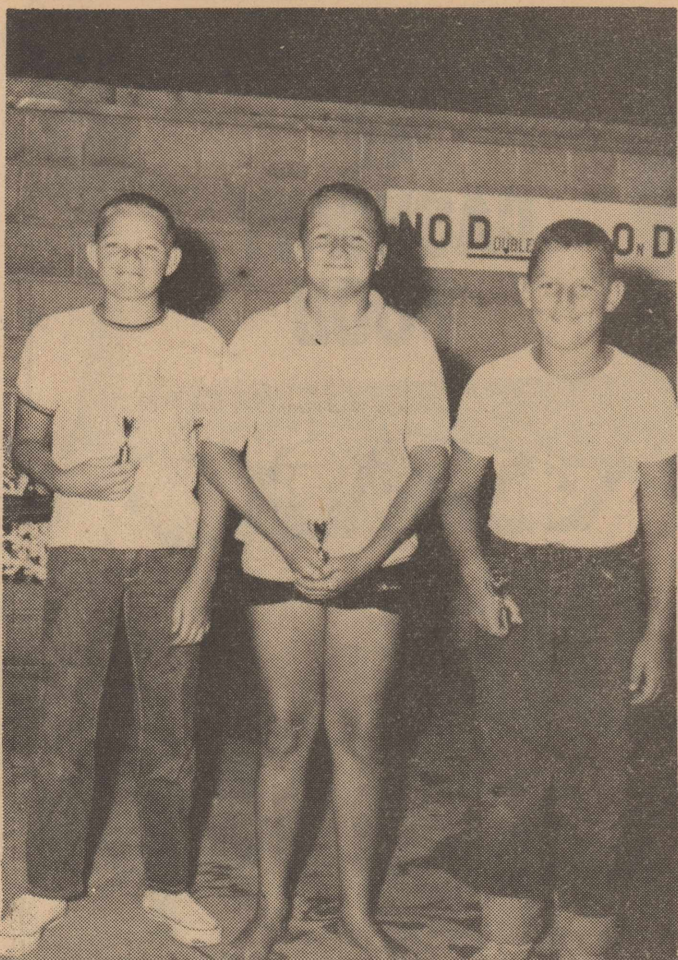

UNTAPPED OPPORTUNITIES USE NEWSPAPER ADS

It's just a matter of recognizing untapped selling opportunities. And it depends on how actively stores go after business during the summer months. Make your big promotion and advertising plans now!

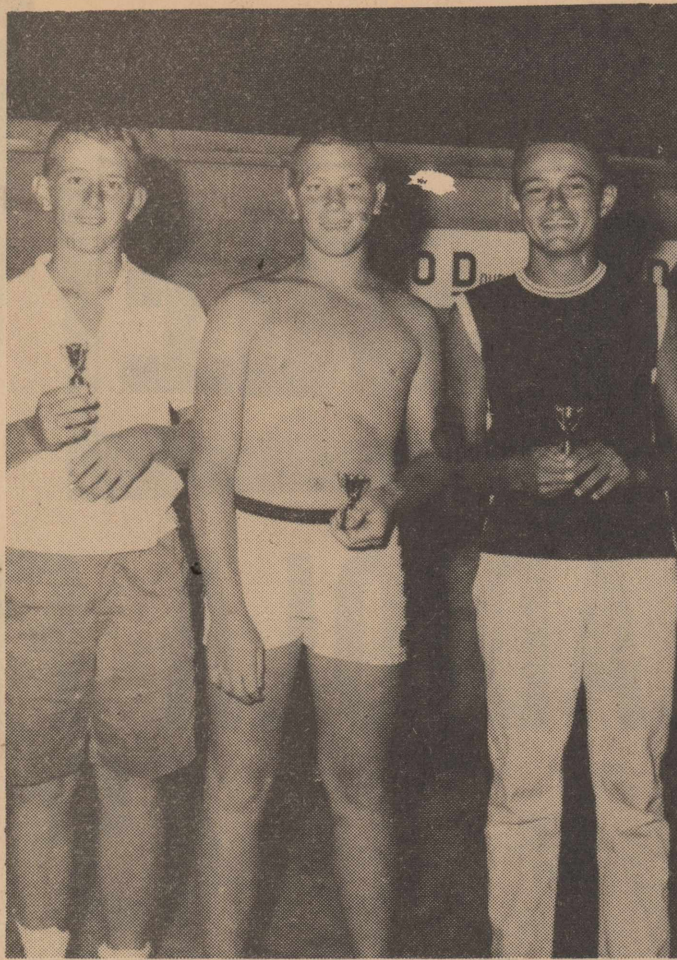

The Department of Commerce survey shows that 26% (46.8 Billion dollars) is spent during June, July and August. Smart retail merchants are capitalizing on this. There is no replacement for the newspaper to promote sales. People buy and read newspapers all summer long.

The Purina Way: Olton Man Seeks Maximum Output In Self-Feeder Cattle Demonstration

Allen Johnston Has 20 Heifers In Local Project
Twenty head of Whiteface heifers owned by Allen Johnston of Olton were weighed in Monday by a committee of local farmers and businessmen, beginning the first self-feeder cattle demonstration ever held here.

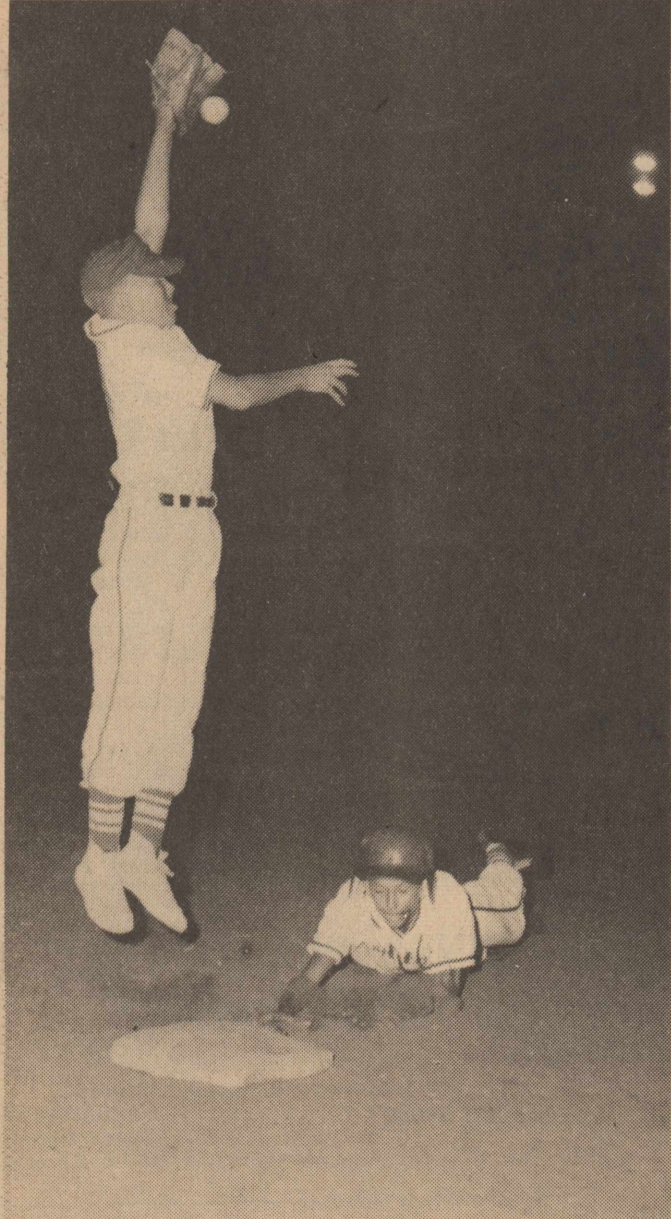

The 20 heifers showed an average weight of 547.35 pounds, according to the record compiled Monday by the committee.
The cattle have been put on the Purina Cattle Feeding Program, which is designed for maximum cattle feeding efficiency.
Johnston received the 20 head June 23 and put them on a maintenance ration of 50 per cent cottonseed hulls, 35 percent ground milo and 15 per cent Purina Cattle-Aid (which has 350 grams of Aureomycin per ton). This ration was fed for one week to get the cattle cleaned up following shipment and to reduce shipping fever.
After the weigh-in Monday morning, the heifers were started on a ration of 40 per cent cotton seed hulls, 45 per cent ground milo and 15 per cent Cattle Aid. They will be held on this ration for four to five days and then the percentage of roughage will be reduced.
Changes in the ration will be made about every four days until the cattle are on full feed, about 15 days from now.
During the past week, the cattle were wormed with Purina Cattle Wormer mixed into their ration.
The self-feeder operation is located behind Sanders-Paris Co. on Highway 70. All interested persons are invited to inspect the demonstration and attend the next weighing, which is scheduled for July 31, 1961, at 8 a.m.

Lion Boss Sees Cubans At International Meet

The United States must not have given up hope for making friends with Cuba. The American door of hospitality appears to still be open.

Olton Lion Boss Ralph Glover met two Cubans living in up recently at the International Lions Club Convention at Atlantic City, N.J.

Glover returned June 25 by plane from the 2,800 mile trip, after attending the five-day convention.

"The Cubans seemed quite at home and were having just as good a time as everyone else," Glover laughed.

Glover said he met people "from all over the world... they all seem to conduct their Lions Club just like we do."

"One of the most interesting people I met was Dr. Louis Volks, who is a Lions District Governor-Elect from Capetown Union, South Africa," said Glover.

An estimated 43,000 Lions attended the convention, which will be held in Nice, France, next year.

Lions marched in a six-and-a-half-hour parade down the Boardwalk in Atlantic City.

Every state and each foreign country with Lion representatives, had a hospitality room at the convention.

"Porto Rico's hospitality room was the highlight of the show. It was packed. People lined up for blocks to see it. I didn't even try. One man told me he had to go up a fire escape and crawl through a window to get in," Glover laughed.

Glover met a couple from the northern part of the U.S. who promised to send him a box of assorted cheeses.

Singing Star Jane Morgan was the featured entertainer at the convention. Other performers were the June Taylor Dancers, Wazzan Troupe of tumblers, and Johnny Puelo and the Harmonica Rascals, a comedian group.

Glover said he had a "real good time, but I'll take Texas any day before one of those eastern resort towns."

Olton picked up 18 hits in the seventh inning game. Joe Priest was the winning pitcher. He relieved Eli Anzaldua in the fourth inning.

The other Olton victory was nabbed Tuesday, when Sudan forfeited to the Ponies.

Former Olton Resident Dies At Lubbock

Funeral services were conducted for Guy Willis, 70, father of two Olton women, Monday at Littlefield First Methodist Church.

Officiating was the Rev. Jack Ellzey of Littlefield. He was assisted by the Rev. Wilber Gaede, Olton.

Palbearers were his nephews, Lee York, Lubbock; Norman York, Santa Rosa, N.M.; Homer York, Ft. Sumner; Gene Willis, Dallas; J. D. Webb, Abernathy, and L.L. Thornton, Littlefield.

Interment was in Littlefield Memorial Park under direction of Hammons Funeral Home, Littlefield.

Willis, father of Mrs. Ross Bryant and Mrs. Tommy Ballard of Olton, died Saturday in Lubbock Methodist Hospital. He had been hospitalized six weeks.

He was born in Bartlett January 28, 1891, and later moved to Borden County. In 1912, he moved to Olton.

A year later he moved to Littlefield, where he operated a tailor shop and barber shop. He was married to Alice Keing May 31, 1916.

He and his wife returned to Olton in 1918 and established Lamb County Abstract Co. The same year he was elected as County Clerk, a position he held four years.

Returning to Littlefield in 1946, he continued his abstract business until January of 1961.

A member of the Methodist Church, Willis also was a charter member of both the Littlefield and Olton Masonic Lodges, and the Lamb County Pioneers.

Other than his two Olton daughters, survivors include his wife, Alice; two daughters, Mrs. Grover Dennis, Albuquerque, N.M., and Mrs. Alvis Bowen, Littlefield, and five grandchildren.

With the cost of living so high today, a great many people find they can't afford to work for what they're worth.

Progress always involves risks-you can't steal second base with one foot on first.

Jimmy Schreier and Richard De La Cerda knocked in four runs apiece for the winners, by banging grand slam home runs.

Robert Williams was the winning pitcher, after relieving Garland Hugluley.

In the 6-inning game, Charles A. McClain and Thomas pitched for the losers.

Coaching the Co-Op team is A.G. Huguley, Coach of Thompson Implement is Charlie Polk. Olton State Bank and Farmers Gin with 2-0 records, are first in the league. Co-Op Gin holds the second slot. Halfway is third with 0-1 and Ed Thompson Implement is fourth at 0-2.

"Mama Was A Moon Gardener"

Editor's Note: This article was written by Mrs. Ray Smith of Plainview in honor of her mother, Mrs. Zina Huguley, who lives east of Olton. This article was written for a course Mrs. Smith was taking in Wayland Baptist College. It appeared in a trade magazine entitled "The Sheffield Fence Rider."

By Mrs. Ray Smith

Mama really was a good gardener. She was such an exceptional one that many of the neighbors came to her to ask advice on planting. One friend asserted, "I wonder what Mrs. Huguley will come up with next? Last year it was a yard-long bean, that dangled from the vine like a green monster."

Of course there were a few who were a wee bit skeptical of Mama's methods of planting by the moon, but yet kept their ears peeled for the latest garden news from this farm.

As Mama saw it, gardening had the spirit of adventure and gave her pleasure in providing her husband and eight hungry children with both fresh and canned vegetables. It also gave her an outlet for some of her pet philosophies. Mama said that many problems were solved and pains eased in the garden with a hoe in her hand. She felt she could get close to God there, and feel his strength and comfort.

Mama wanted us to grow into self-sufficient citizens, not afraid to work. She surmised that it was better for us to have small work jobs assigned to do, each child taking the responsibility for a certain task, and doing it well.

One of the tasks that fell to me was the help Mama keep the garden free of insects. To this day when I see bright orange and black speckled lady bugs hopping around on growing plants, I feel it my lawful duty to grab a small can of kerosene, and start immersing them.

Mama's interest in gardening was stirred shortly after marriage. Father bought a prairie home-site, and soon turned it into fertile farming land. Mama ordered a little "Blue Moon Book." She studied it carefully, and made plans to follow its directions. Through experience, Mama learned if crops were planted in the right phase of the moon at twenty to thirty per cent better yield could be expected. Two days before the full moon she planted the vegetables which bear fruit below the ground, such as beets and potatoes. The plants which bear fruit above the ground, such as beans and peas, she planted on the day of the new moon.

One time Mama had a big laugh on Father. She planted sweet corn as "her book directed", and Father planted his field corn the day he got the old planter box rigged on the plow. Father's corn grew tall and rank, with just a few ears of undeveloped corn, while Mama's sweet corn was loaded with large well-matured ears.

Mama planted a peach orchard west of the house. Little Elbertas, Clings, Indian--she loved them all! Early spring, the trees burst into a multitude of pink blossoms, filling the air with sweet fragrance. It was then she felt her dreams were about to be fulfilled.

During the cold winter months, while the winds danced outside the white cottage, you could find Mama at the kitchen table scanning the seed catalogues, and sketching plans for a garden.

She could hardly wait for spring to officially arrive, nature to spread a green mantle over the earth, and the song birds to come back. Mama could visualize shy violets, their heads lifted to the morning dew, bold little crocus whispering secrets to the grass, dainty buttercups kissed by the wind. Also luscious English peas, tiny potatoes, green onions, curly-leaf mustard, and strawberries topped with whipped cream.

The time finally came that the days grew warmer and longer. Father hitched our old white mare to the walking plow and headed for Mama's garden plot to prepare the ground for planting.

From the porch, I could see Mama's chubby figure, her long hair waving in the breeze--the pockets of her blue checkered dress bulging with seeds as she followed Father with the hoe.

After the little seeds began to burst through the brown earth, Mama practically lived in the garden. Nothing gave her more satisfaction than going out in the early morning to till the soil and pull weeds from among the plants.

Mama's love and care for her plants afforded her an opportunity to see something special one night. While the rest of the family were fast asleep, she saw a burning meteor hurtling through the heavens. On another occasion, she saw the Aurora Borealis. It lighted her garden like torches from hundreds of golden lanterns.

Because of Mama's unusual flair and willingness to try new things, she was the first of the neighborhood to come out with something new and novel from the plant world. At midsummer Mama's garden looked like a small plantation. The old-fashioned vegetables were vying for prominence against the new exotic ones.

Mama liked to spring surprises on Father and friends. You never knew when she would have one of those new-fangled vegetables turned into a fancy dish. Sometimes it was gooseberries made into a fluffy pie, or a pink-edged lettuce tossed into a salad, or Chinese cabbage topped with cheddar cheese.

One time a cousin who was eating lunch at our house exclaimed to Mama, "As much as you have to do, I don't see how you find time to scallop and decorate these cucumbers."

Mama smiled, and enjoyed explaining that she ordered the seeds from the north, and that the three foot cucumber grew that way. They had long rough ridges on the outside, and sliced, they gave the appearance of being hand scalloped.

When time came for that bountiful crop to be harvested, neighbors and friends came from far and near to get the vegetables that Mama had promised them. The "doubting

HPRF Expands Soybean Program

The soybean breeding program at High Plains Research Foundation has been expanded by the receipt of 51 varieties from 13 countries. Dr. Earl H. Gollister, Chief Agronomist, announced this week that these varieties came from the following countries: Hawaii, Indonesia 2, India 1, Japan 20, Korea 9, Pakistan 1, and South Africa 2.

Seven-hundred and forty-six soybean plants were selected from a plant population of 226,000 in the 1960 breeding program for further evaluation. Hand pollinations will be made between selected plant types in the plant breeding this year.

Another feature of the soybean program is the use of atomic energy to produce improved types through genetic mutations. They were irradiated with three different applications of Cobalt 60. These plants will be closely observed during the growing season for possible high yielding plant types that can be used in developing new varieties for the High Plains.

School Council Discusses New Teaching Concept

LUBBOCK—“Team Teaching,” a new concept in public school education, was the chief topic at West Texas School Study Council meeting Wednesday at Texas Tech.

Representatives from 21 member school systems in this area heard Dr. Delbert Lobb, director of curriculum research for the Fremont Union High School District, Sunnyvale, Calif., describe an experiment in the team teaching. The Olton school system is a member of the West Texas School Study Council.

Dr. Berrile J. Fallon, Tech associate professor of education and WTSSC executive secretary, said “a teaching team is a group of several teachers (between three and six) jointly responsible for planning, carrying out and evaluating an educational program for a group of children.”

In some cases a team may consist of four elementary teachers, sharing about 3,500 to 4,000 square feet of classroom space and working with about 115 children. One teacher may be a specialist in science and math, another in language arts, a third in social studies and a fourth in creative arts, he explained.

Each teaches in his area of special competence, but all four are involved in the total instructional program, and there is no departmentalization in the usual sense, he added.

Lobb will describe the team teaching program he participated in at the Jefferson County Schools in Colorado.

Fallon said that while the results of such a teaching concept are still to be evaluated, parents of children in team-teaching programs have been over-whelming in their support, children have responded admirably to the new organization, and teachers have been enthusiastic and have increased their use of materials and equipment.

AFTER THE HARVEST—This has been a familiar sight in the Olton area the last few weeks, as farmers burn wheat stubble after the harvest.

MRS. ROY GRANBERY

Mrs. Roy Granbery Traces Ancestors Back To 1400's

Have you ever wondered what kind of people your ancestors were?

Mrs. Roy Granbery did. So she decided to find out.

Sounds simple. But some of her fascinating experiences have proven otherwise.

Mrs. Granbery began research on her genealogical study, in May of 1960. She described the study as a "fascinating Chinese puzzle that takes years to complete."

Webster has defined genealogy as "the account of human family pedigrees of human ancestors or relatives."

After discovering many of the interesting backgrounds of her ancestors, Mrs. Granbery is writing a book about her relatives. She hopes to have completed the book in another year.

Mrs. Granbery has traced one of her ancestors back to the 1400's. This makes her eligible to become a member of the Daughter of American Revolution, which she plans to join in the near future.

A Methodist minister from Alabama, the Rev. James Thompson, is the ancestor who has proven "most interesting" to Mrs. Granbery. She found

Marketing Quota Excess Cotton Penalty Rates Set

Marketing quota penalty rates on "excess" cotton of the 1961 crops of upland and extra long staple cotton were announced June 16 by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Penalty rate on upland cotton is 19.5 cents per pound. The Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, directs the marketing quota penalty rate for upland cotton to be 50 per cent of the parity price per pound of cotton, effective June 15 of the year the cotton is produced. Parity price for upland cotton as of June 15 was $38.96 per pound.

Growers approved marketing quotas for the 1961 crops of upland and extra long staple cotton in referendums last December.

When cotton marketing quotas are in effect, a farmer who does not comply with the cotton acreage allotment established for the kind of cotton grown on his farm is subject to a penalty on his farm marketing excess.

The cotton crop from the farm is also ineligible for price support under the CCC programs. Each type of cotton is treated independently. Upland cotton cannot be substituted for extra long staple cotton or vice versa.

Announcement of marketing quota penalty rates came this week from L.D. Aten Jr., Lamb County ASC officer manager from Littlefield.

ANOTHER BIG REASON BEHIND THE BIG BOOM IN FORD SALES:

No other wagon can match Ford's features (or popularity!)

Ford wagons have features that only America's station wagon specialists can bring you.

There's more room. Ford's extended load deck is the longest and widest in its field. There's more convenience. You can have a power-operated roll-down rear window in any Ford wagon.

There's more distinction. The Country Squire (above) is the only wagon in its field with body panels that look like mahogany, wear like steel.

There are more savings. Ford's Ranch Wagon is America's lowest-priced,* full-size wagon. And like all Fords, every Ford wagon is built to be more service-free: goes 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications, 4,000 miles between oil changes.

Stop waiting for that wagon you've always wanted. Swap for a '61 Ford wagon now! Save for a '61 Ford, the wagon America loves most!

Gridiron Ace Will Play In Greenbelt Game

An Olton gridster, Fred Riney, will play in the Greenbelt football game Saturday, August 12, at Childress.

Riney, a 1961 graduate of OHS, will play end in the contest.

Boys' high school coaches recommend them to play in the game, and a Greenbelt committee makes the final selections, according to Jeff Smart, Olton's assistant football coach.

Kenneth Hooper and Robert Priest also were selected to play in the game from Olton, but were ineligible because of an NCAA ruling, which does not allow football boys who have signed letters of intent with NCAA colleges to play.

Riney, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Riney, made the All-District team this year as defensive end.

In 1954 two old grid aces, R.V. Allcorn and Charlie Shelley, played in the Greenbelt game.

Thank You...

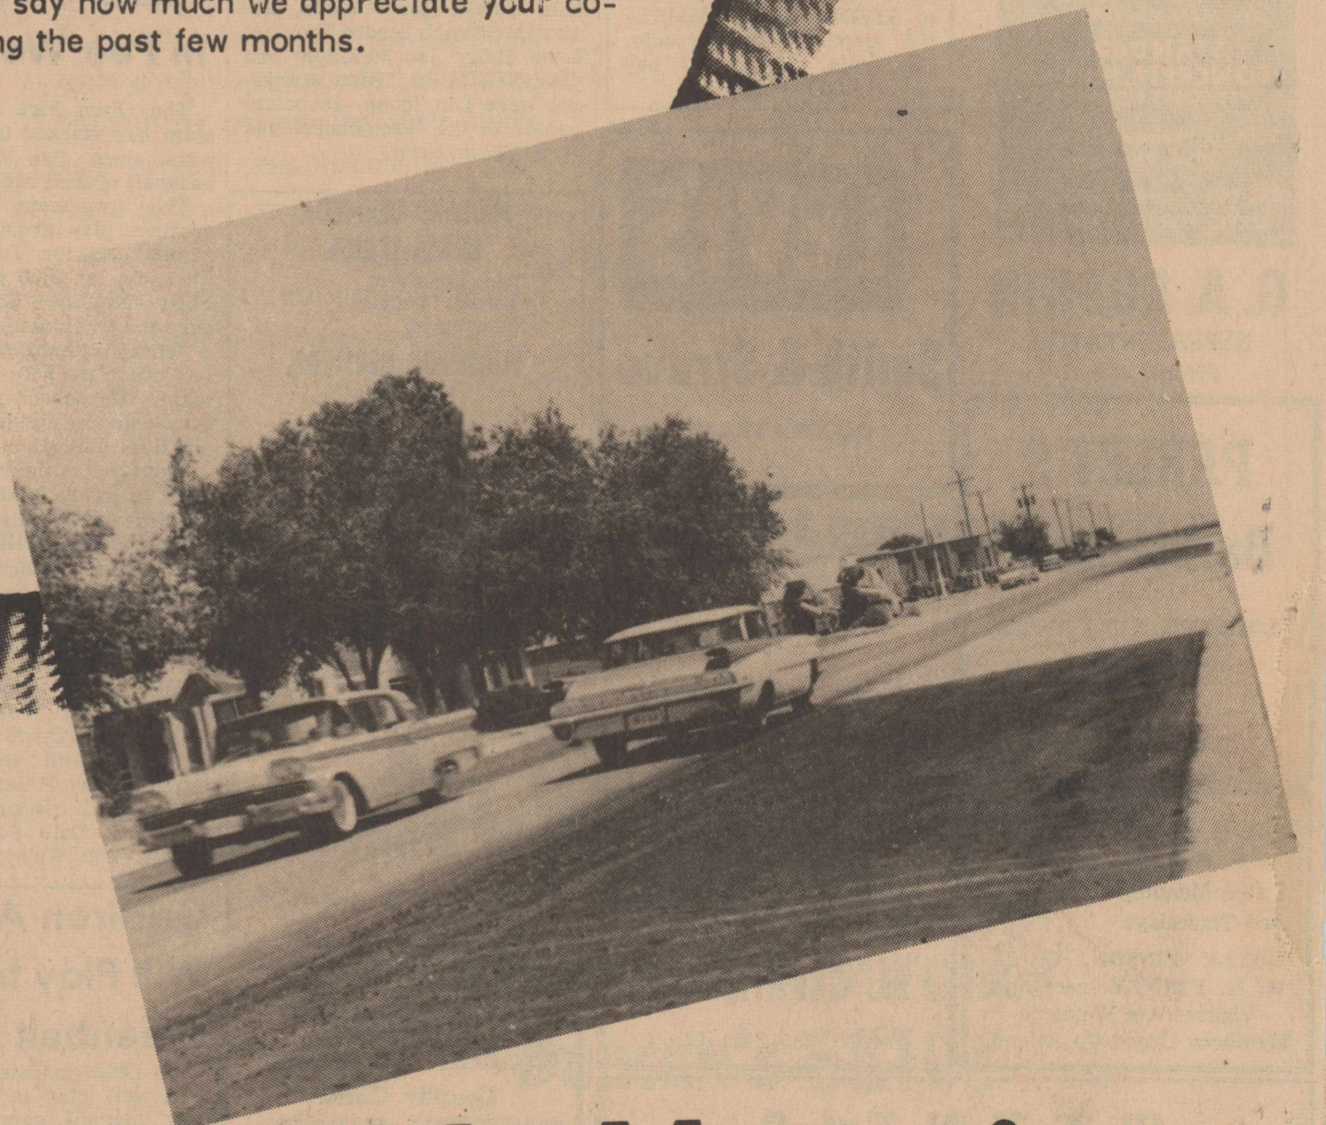

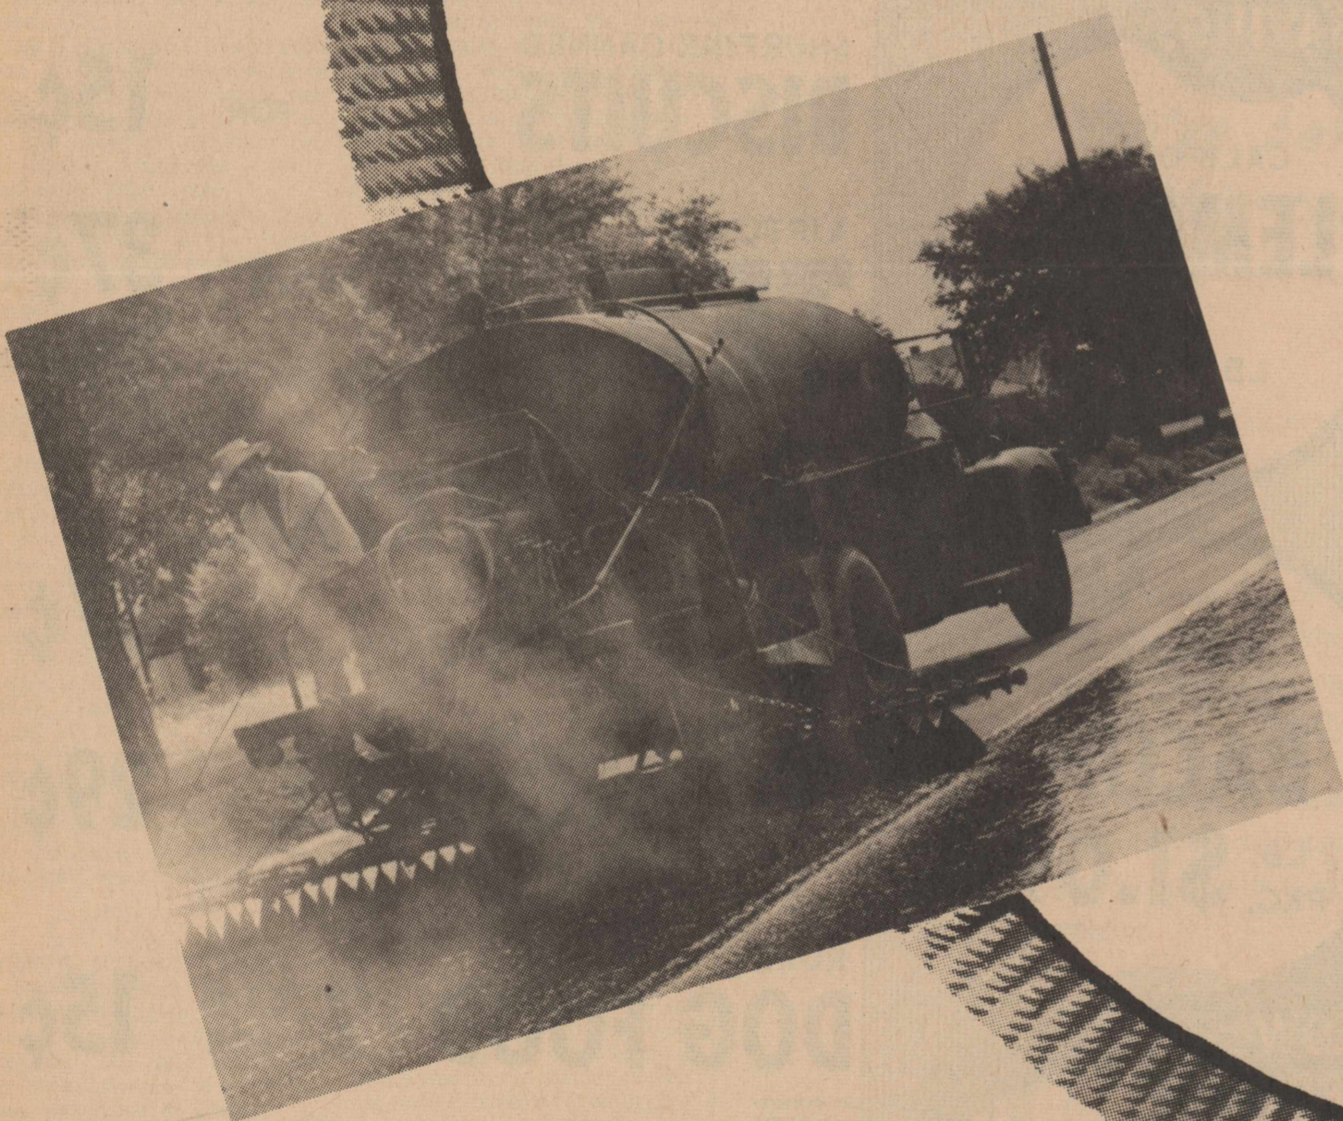

Progressive Minded Citizens Of Olton

Your patience and understanding during the past few months have been a great help to us while we have been striving to finish construction of your streets.

We are now in the process of putting the finishing touches on your streets and will soon have them ready for service. In the meantime, may we ask your help in these precautions.

1. Please do not drive on freshly applied asphalt until it is covered with gravel.
2. It takes about a week for a new asphalt surface to "cure." During this time, spinning wheels, sudden sliding stops and fast turns can permanently damage the riding surface.

Again, let us say how much we appreciate your cooperation during the past few months.
