

Cold Winds Bring Down Hot Wires

IT WAS COLD AS BLAZES HERE Saturday as winds of about 70-mph blew down electrical lines and sent sparks flying when the 2,400 volt lines got together. The lines came down on main street and the flashes damaged tires on autos owned by Howard Hall and G.T. Sides. People watching the sparks naturally kept their distance. Proof of the high winds was found also at Colonial Beauty Salon, where an awning was blown down.

Sesame Meeting, Steak Supper Set

Olton area farmers are invited to a steak supper and special Sesame meeting to be held in Olton, Tuesday, April 3 at 7:30 p.m. Meeting place is Era Mae's Dining Room. Olton Farm Supply will sponsor the meeting.

All farmers who are interested in growing Sesame are invited to attend.

Advance reservations should be made by phoning Don Spain or Mrs. Odessa Scribner at 285-2404 in Olton, or by leaving word with Olton Farm Supply in person or by mail.

One of the highlights in the Sesame move will be pictures of a new self-feeding combine attachment. This attachment, being developed by Texas Sesame Growers, Inc., and Roy Wrinkles Welding Shop at Muleshoe, has created much interest, not only with Sesame Growers, but also with farmers who harvest millet and sudan from shocks.

Robert L. Parker, executive vice-president of the Growers Organization, High Plains manager Bill Wimberly and fieldman Raymond Hodges of Muleshoe will be on hand to show the new color movie and discuss Sesame production.

"Price for Number 1 quality Sesame seed has averaged 10 1/2 cents per pound for the last two years," reports Parker, "and prospects for 1962 are even better. Limited supply and higher prices for competing imported seed is the reason for the improved prospects," he said.

Congress and the Department of Agriculture last year granted special consideration to Sesame and four other minor oilseed crops, because these are non-surplus, non-price supported crops that are now being imported in large quantities. Many farmers may want to take advantage of the provision in the Feed Grain and Wheat Laws that permit growing of Sesame on their retired land. Other who have a low feed grain or wheat base, or limited acreage allotments for other crops can grow Sesame, since no federal acreage control has been imposed on this crop.

County Agent Bill Kimbrough will be in charge of the meeting, and Parker will be the principal speaker.

Speeders, Livestock Beware!

A crack-down on speeders in the area of the school and on livestock being kept in the city limits was announced this week by Police Chief Emmett Burrows.

Burrows said that two blocks in any direction from the school is a 15-mile per hour zone. He added that the maximum fine is $200 plus cost. Minimum fine is $20.50.

Livestock being kept in the city limits must be moved "immediately," according to Burrows. The fine maximum and minimum is the same as for speeding.

"I'm just carrying out my orders," Burrows said, "and I'm going to enforce these laws."

3 Men Making 2nd Try

Three city councilmen will be elected here next Tuesday from a ballot that will give Olton voters a choice of four candidates.

The situation might be termed unusual this year for two reasons.

First, there have been times when it was tough to get names on the ballot.

Secondly, there was little or no talk of write-in candidates early this week. And in Olton, that's unique.

This year, the four candidates filed with plenty of time to spare. They are Clovis Poteet, who is seeking re-election, and Cecil Gallaway, Bob Gullett and Howard Buchenau, who have sought places on the council before.

Polls will be open at the city hall from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Eldon Franks will be election judge.

Back in June, 1959, a special election drew no candidates at all. Major James said he would serve as mayor, if drafted, and he's been at the post ever since.

He was re-elected last year after a last-minute decision to run again, as were Councilmen Fred Thompson and Robert Duncan.

Clovis Poteet, farmer, has served one two-year term on the council. He and his wife, Peggy, and daughter, Cheryl, attend the Church of Christ. He moved to Olton in 1930. Poteet has been on the South Plains Vegetable Growers Council and a director of the county Red Cross Board.

Bob Gullett, a bookkeeper, has lived in Olton 24 years and is a member of the Nazarene Church. His wife, June, is a member of the Methodist Church. They have two children, Doniece and Mike. Gullett is a member of the volunteer Fire Department and the Quarterback Club.

Cecil Gallaway, a gin manager, is a native of Olton. He, his wife, Evelyn, and three children, attend the First Methodist Church. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge and volunteer Fire Department.

Howard Buchenau, businessman, moved to Olton in 1941. He and his wife, Bonnie Bert, have three children, Rande, Nancee and George. They are members of the First Methodist Church. Buchenau is a past president of the Lions Club, a member of the Masonic Lodge and a member of the volunteer Fire Department.

Wreck Near Earth Kills 1, Hurts 9, Including Deputy

One man was killed and nine others, including Lamb County Deputy Sheriff V.L. Smith Jr. of Earth, were injured in two accidents 1.8 miles west of Earth on Highway 70 early Sunday.

Alonzo Olivarez, 23-year-old Earth resident, was killed and three passengers in his car, Robert Cortez, 19, and Ambrose Flores, 20, both of Earth, and Eddie Marroquin, 40, of Olton, were injured in the first of the two accidents.

The car in which they were riding flipped 2 1/2 times, coming to a rest on its back on a muddy shoulder of the roadway.

While Highway Patrolman James Freeman of Muleshoe and Officer Smith were investigating the accident, a car coming from the west slammed into the Olivarez auto, sending it into the highway patrol car.

Smith, son of Olton deputy V.S. Smith, was standing in the door of the patrol car, directing traffic. He suffered a whip-lash neck injury and bruises and was later hospitalized at Littlefield. His injury was not believed to be serious.

Driver of the car which slammed into the Olivarez auto was Alonzo Messenger, 42, a Clovis farm laborer. He and four passengers, Mrs. Stella Cearley, 60, Odella Gilmore, 32, Viola Gilmore, 10 and Robert Dale Gilmore, 7, all of Earth were injured.

The first accident occurred at 1:40 a.m. Sunday and the second at about 3 a.m.

Parsons Ambulance took Olivarez and Marroquin to Green Hospital Muleshoe, where Olivarez was pronounced dead on arrival. Parsons later transferred the Olivarez body to Edinburgh for funeral services.

The other two in the Alvarez auto were treated at West Plains Hospital, Muleshoe.

Those injured in the Messenger vehicle were taken to Littlefield by Parsons.

Special Class Draws Interest; Tests Set

"We had a good meeting of parents yesterday afternoon. We've had a number of phone calls and generally, interest seems to be high," Johnny Clark, superintendent, said Wednesday concerning special education classes the school is planning to establish.

"We only have four signed up to take the tests now," he said, "but we feel there are a number more who will."

The tests referred to are to be given here next Wednesday by Carolyn L. Attneave, Lubbock psychologist.

"The school will pay the entire cost of the tests, you know," Clark noted. "It won't cost the parents anything to have them here. Generally, they run about $25 and up per child when they go to a psychologist's office."

Dr. Attneave is also scheduled to talk with parents at 2 p.m. Wednesday. Anyone interested in the program is asked to be at this meeting. She will resume testing April 6.

"In some cases, the tests may reveal that a child does not need the special class," Clark said. "In any event, it would let the parents know definitely what is indicated for their child, and, if the child has a problem, how he could best be helped."

Described as classes for those who are not college-bound, the classes would be of a specialized nature, centering around the individual child. No grades would be given in the classes. Each child would progress at his own pace.

At a meeting of parents Tuesday, Clark said the school is interested in establishing two types of classes. One would be for students who are not now attending school. The other would be for students who are in school but are not getting the extra help they need.

He said it might be possible, in the case of older students, to have them attend a class for perhaps three days a week and get vocational on-the-job training the rest of the time. The program also aims at helping graduates to obtain jobs.

School officials hope to have a complete program of education that would begin in elementary school and carry the student through to graduation.

In order to get state money for the teacher's salary and operating expense, the test results and required information must be turned in to the state not later than June 1. Clark said he hopes to have this information by May 1 so that any corrections necessary may be made before the deadline. He noted, however, that the first thing is to have the required number of students.

Clark urged all parents who are interested in the program to contact either him or Elmer Moore, school coordinator.

"If parents have any idea that their child might fit into this program, we urge them to have these tests given the child. It will cost them absolutely nothing and it could be a big difference to the child," Clark said.

Livestock Feeding Discussed

Livestock feeders in California and Arizona are using every thing from cull potatoes to cotton stalks as roughage, a Texas Tech professor told members of the Lions Club in a talk here Tuesday.

The speaker, John Henry Baumgardner, professor of animal husbandry at Tech, showed slides of a recent tour of stock feeding operations in Arizona and California made by South Plains farmers.

"They're using almond hulls, beet pulp, carrots, cull potatoes and other things as roughage, and they're even trying cotton stalks," Baumgardner said.

Most of these producers are sold on barley as part of the ration, but they're also using Nebraska corn and Texas milo.

Some feeders are critical of Texas milo, Baumgardner said, because "it varies so in protein content and moisture content is never less than 13 per cent."

Arizona and California feeders are following two different programs, he said. One is to buy calves and push them to 500 pounds, then sell them to markets in Houston and San Antonio.

The other program, he said, is to start with 350-pound yearlings, feed them from 110 to 200 days and then ship them to western markets.

In either case, Baumgardner said, the Arizona or California livestock producer's main aim is to "buy them right, put pounds on efficiently and sell them right."

Slides of the various operations were shown, depicting small scale and large operations.

CHIP OFF THE OLD BLOCK—Like his dad, Scott Fite, 4, son of Dr. and Mrs. Lynn Fite, is interested in the progress being made by workers who have been breaking up concrete on the square. The concrete was the basement of the old hospital. By Wednesday, workers had most of the concrete out. They used a 1700-pound ball to break it up. The concrete was the last obstacle to getting the square cleaned up.

RECEIVE STATE DEGREES—Janice Gallaway, right, and Nancy Bryant, left, will each receive the FHA State Degree at the FHA Convention in Dallas, April 27. To receive this highest degree in FHA the girls were required to get the Junior and Chapter Degrees in the local organization and be in the Homemaking department for two years.

Crazy Quilt System

The latest on revision of the crazy quilt federal income tax system is a plan now before Congress to enable the government to get more of its taxes from a citizen's earnings before he receives them. It would withhold 20 cents of every dollar of dividends, interest earned on savings accounts in banks, savings and loan associations, etc. If more taxes are withheld than owed, the taxpayer could apply to the treasury for a refund. There are already withholding taxes on wages and salaries.

A depressing aspect of the bill is the lack of confidence shown by the government in the honesty of its citizens—it treats them all as dishonest in order to catch the few who are.

Tax revision can go one step farther—require that all salaries, wages and earnings be paid to the government, and then have the government return to each individual or company whatever might be left of them after the tax-gatherers had done their work. Sounds crazy, but that would make it easier to deal with a nation of crooks.

Two Little Words

National security expenditures budgeted for the 1963 fiscal year—$52.7 billion—are only 15 per cent above 1960 and 29 per cent above 1955 expenditures. On the other hand, domestic non-defense spending of $28.1 billion in 1963 is 37 per cent more than in 1960 and 84 per cent above 1955.

According to the government's own consumer price index, prices have increased 11.4 per cent between fiscal 1955 and now. That much of the increase in government costs can be reasonably charged in inflation. But—federal domestic nondefense programs are expected to be 84 per cent higher in 1963 than in 1955, an increase of more than seven times the inflation factor.

Why, then, the zooming budgets? A large part of the answer can be given in just two little words—"Welfare State."

Children's Dental Care Is Stressed

AUSTIN—The teeth of Americans contain at least one billion cavities, each a potential source of toothache, dental authorities now estimate. They say tooth decay is so widespread that it involves 95 of every 100 persons and is still increasing.

A virtually incurable chronic disease which must be prevented if it is to be conquered at all, tooth decay is a particular nemesis of elementary school-age youngsters although all ages are vulnerable to its ragging pain.

Children are said to develop cavities at about the same ratio as do adults—approximately one per child per year. But scholarly surveys show that whereas one-third of the adult need for fillings is being met, only one-fifth of the cavities in children's teeth are being repaired.

The reason, Texas Health Department dental officials speculate, is that so many parents still cling to the totally false notion that so-called "baby teeth" are inimportant because they are temporary. The frequent result is that good dental health for children is still a relatively scarce commodity.

In an attempt to reverse the trend toward almost universal poor dental health among youngsters—particularly in underprivileged homes—the dental division of the Texas State Department of Health gives financial and educational support to dental clinics in selected local health departments around the State.

The addition of fluoride in carefully controlled amounts of public water supplies is known by dental researchers to be an efficient deterrent to dental decay. The State Board of Health at a recent meeting reaffirmed its belief that fluoridation is safe and effective, and recommended that local communities consider the practice wherever applicable and practicable.

There is one positive step all parents can take to avoid the fate of toothlessness among their children, dental scientists agree. It's a simple step, requiring only that youngsters be taken to a dentist for tooth and gum inspection before being enrolled in school each fall. Before the visit is over, the dentist will have tutored the youngster in good dental hygiene at home, hoping the habits will take hold and last into adulthood.

KELLEY'S Olton

a fella needs to stop and think now and then...

I'm just thinking how great is electric heat—the floors are so warm—it's fun to play on them. I remember back a bit when mommy and daddy were talking about putting in electric heat—they had some doubts, sure, but those doubts are all gone now. "This is the best heat we've ever had," daddy said to mommy, and mommy agreed—I do, too!

Growers who wish to have their cotton classed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture under provisions of the Smith-Doxey Act should apply for these services as soon as their cotton is planted, says Fred Elliott, extension cotton specialist.
 The Smith-Doxey Act provides for one free classification for each eligible bale of cotton. Samples must be submitted by a bonded sampler or by a public warehouse which issues negotiable receipts, explains Elliott.
 Each cotton improvement group, except those in southern Texas, must file an application with the cotton classing office serving its territory not later than August 1. Those in counties south of a line from Dimmitt to Karnes to Matagorda must file an application by June 1.
