ident James Hall and Treasurer Dan Gregory. The new manager starts work here Friday.

Clayton, Nelson Vie In Run-Off Saturday

Light Turnout May Affect Races

Olton voters head back to the polls Saturday to determine Democratic Party nominees in the second primary. The ballot is a slim one this time, with only three state offices, one district position and one congressional seat up for decision. Polls here will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the school cafeteria. The trimmed-down ballot isn't expected to draw as many voters as the turnout for the first primary, and in some races the turnout could have a lot to do with the way the vote goes.

Featured race here pits Springlake farmer Billy Clayton against Dimmitt publisher B.M. Nelson. Clayton describes himself as a conservative Democrat, while Nelson is regarded as a liberal. Clayton led the ticket in the first primary, picking up 4,436 votes to 3,083 for Nelson. Bill Millen ran third with 2,536 votes.

How Olton may go in the race pitting former Navy Sec. John Connally of Fort Worth against Don Yarborough of Houston is hard to predict. Neither made much of a showing in the first primary as area voters went strongly for West Texas Marshall Formby. In Lamb County, Yarborough drew 527 votes while Connally was getting 414. Formby picked up 1,837.

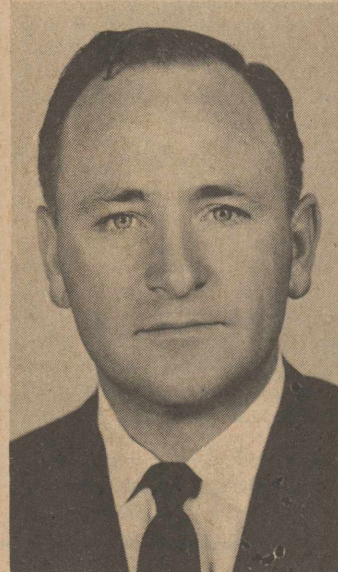

The Olton box gave Yarborough 42 votes to Connally's 41 in the May 5 primary. Two West Texans, Preston Smith and Waggoner Carr, are expected to be shoo-ins in this area in their races for lieutenant governor and attorney general, respectively.

Olton gave Smith 467 votes to 62 for Jimmy Turman, his second primary opponent. Over the state Turman was the front-runner. The local box also went big for Carr, giving the Lubbockite 476 votes to 29 for Tom Reavley. Carr was easily the leader in statewide returns.

Run-off in the race for congressman-at-large pits Joe Pool, Dallas conservative, versus Judge Woodrow Bean, the income tax fighting liberal from El Paso. Bean led Pool, 157-42, here in the first primary. The El Paso judge also led in Lamb County, 903-330.

Despite the statewide races, most of the local interest is on the race for state representative. Clayton may have picked up some additional support after the May 5 primary when his defeated opponent, Millen, announced he would work for the Springlake farmer. Millen carried both Bailey and Farmer counties. Nelson carried Deaf Smith and Castro, while Clayton led only in heavy-voting Lamb County. Nelson supporters feel a light turnout in Lamb County would work against Clayton and possibly shove the Dimmitt publisher into the nomination. The county gave Clayton 2,097 votes on May 5, while Millen drew 607 and Nelson 558.

Brownwood Man Is New C-C Manager

A 23-year-old Brownwood man will begin duties as manager of Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture here Friday.

The new manager, Melvin McReynolds, faces an immediate task of rebuilding.

McReynolds was employed last Friday morning following an interview with the C-CA's board of directors, headed by James Hall, president.

Young McReynolds accepted the post knowing the C-CA is in financial straits and needs more participation among both merchants and farmers.

McReynolds told the board he would concentrate his efforts at first along two lines—getting to the community and working to increase the C-CA's membership rolls.

"I don't mind hard work," he said, "but I'll need a lot of help from not only the board, but from current members of the Chamber."

McReynolds succeeds Dick Whiteley, who left in April after serving two years as manager.

Asked by one board member what his idea of a Chamber of Commerce is, McReynolds said:

"It should be aimed at making the community a better place in which to live—not only economically, but culturally—for all the citizens."

McReynolds is married, and he and his wife, Peggy, have a daughter, Rynda, 7 mos. They attend the Methodist Church.

A graduate of Baylor University, Waco, in 1961, he majored in business administration and management. The course was liberally sprinkled with Chamber of Commerce material.

During his schooling, McReynolds worked part-time as a bookkeeper and accounting clerk.

After college, he went to Brownwood as office and credit manager of a store there.

Norfleet Heads Area Drive Here

Owen Norfleet has been named campaign chairman for Olton in the Symphonic Drama Campaign drive, now underway throughout the Panhandle.

The campaign, sponsored by the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, seeks to build an amphitheater in the Palo Duro Canyon for the production of a gigantic historical pageant based on the history of the Texas Panhandle.

The drama will be written by Paul Green, noted playwright and novelist, who inaugurated Symphonic Drama. The same "Symphonic Drama" is used by Green to describe these productions because of the all-encompassing characteristics of music, pageantry, humor and action. Though there will be music, the play is much more than a musical production.

When symphonic drama is launched in the Palo Duro Canyon it will be the first to be staged west of the Mississippi. The Theater, to be located within the contour of a 600-foot bluff in the Canyon, will seat 1,000.

Last year 150,000 visited the Palo Duro Canyon. The attraction of Symphonic Drama is expected to lure thousands of tourists who stop overnight in the Panhandle during the height of the tourist season.

Symphonic Drama has flourished in the eastern part of the United States for more than 20 years. In 1959, the Stephen Foster Story played 60 nights during the summer to a near-capacity crowd. The show netted a profit of $45,980.

Construction is expected to begin immediately after the campaign goal of $350,000 has been reached.

Weaning Pig, Lamb Sale Scheduled Here Saturday

Olton's annual sale of weaning pigs and club lambs is scheduled Saturday at the FFA show barns, with buyers expected from throughout Texas and nearby states.

Olton Swine Breeders Assn. will have 60 head of barrows and boar pigs and 60 head of gilts on sale, according to Albert Scribner, president.

One hundred head of lambs will be sold, according to Archie May, president of the Olton Sheep Breeders Assn.

Officials from both associations point out that the stock is top quality. Olton exhibitors showed either champion or reserve champion hogs at Amarillo, San Antonio, Littlefield, Olton, Lubbock and Plainview shows last year.

Lambs from these flocks placed high wherever they were shown. Breeders spent from $150 to $400 for rams in producing the stock.

The sale will begin at noon Saturday. No lambs or pigs will be sold prior to the sale, officials said.

'Old Time' Prices Start Friday

Several Olton merchants will be offering new merchandise at old time prices here Friday, Saturday and Monday as part of "Old Time Value Days." You can find these bargains on pages two and three of this issue. It's a chance for you to mark up real savings on things you'll need for summer and vacation.

Latin School Set

Summer school for Latin-American children who will be six years old or before Sept. 1, is scheduled to start here Monday. The school will run through July 30. Registration will be held Monday from 8 a.m. to 12 noon.

Cotton Planting Date Research Being Conducted

A cooperative research program involving date of planting of cotton is being conducted over a period of years by the High Plains Research Foundation in cooperation with the Lubbock Agricultural Experiment Station No. 8. This information was obtained from the portion of the test conducted at the High Plains Research Foundation. On each of the six different dates of planting, four varieties were planted. The planting dates were April 22, May 20, June 3, June 13, June 21 and June 30. The four varieties that were used in the test represented both early and late maturing cotton. The yield and stand of the cotton was reduced extensively by excessive rainfall and seedling diseases. The highest yield obtained was 643 pounds of lint per acre.

The following table gives the date of planting, average lint yield per acre of the four varieties.

Date	Yield	Gross Value
April, 22	543	$163.20
May, 20	458	$131.40
June, 3	464	$136.20
June 13	287	$68.00
June 21	148	$33.70
June, 30	30	$6.50

The June 13, June 21, and June 30 plantings were considered unprofitable as compared to a normal crop of grain sorghum planted on these dates, sometime between the dates of June 3, and June 13, it would no longer be profitable to plant cotton but more profit could be realized from planting grain sorghum.

The grade and staple were effected to a large degree by the date the cotton was planted. Cotton planted in April graded Middling to Strict Low Middling where as the June 21 and June 30 cotton graded was wasty. The staple length averaged from 31.4 for April 22, planting to 30.6 for the June 30 planting. The micronaire decreased noticeably as the date of planting was delayed. As an example, the April planting averaged 3.9 while the June 30 planting 2.0.

Olton Couple's Daughter Hurt In Accident

The daughter of an Olton couple accidentally shot herself recently as her husband and four small children looked on during a target practice session at Garza-Little Elm Reservoir near Denton, Mrs. Neil A. Pock, 26, Denton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Singleterry, Olton, was reported in good condition at Methodist Hospital, Dallas, this week. She is being treated for a wound above her right ankle. The accident occurred May 19. The slug came from a .44 caliber Magnum revolver. Pock, a professor at North Texas State University, said his wife had just fired six rounds at some cans, had reloaded the weapon and was preparing to resume firing when it discharged. The Singleterry's traveled to Dallas to be with their daughter after the accident. They returned after a three-day stay.

On C-CA Work In Olton

What do we need a Chamber of Commerce for anyway? This is a question heard occasionally around Olton and one that we feel needs answering. It is the opinion of this newspaper that the best investment any citizen of any town can make is a membership in the local Chamber of Commerce. Why? The Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture is the town co-ordinator. This is the organization that puts the action into the plan. Every town needs at least one full time man whose sole job is to promote that town, look after the interests of the businessman, farmer and citizen and to pursue every opportunity that would mean progress for the community.

The Chamber has, or has not, done in the past is not the question now. Some tend to forget, however, that the cucumber harvest and the progress on the square is due largely to a constant and quiet effort on the part of the Chamber.

If the C-CA has missed the boat in some instances, it is possible that the fault lies without, rather than within. No Chamber can operate effectively without the active support of all its members. It might be added that no Chamber can operate, period, without members.

It is our feeling that every businessman and farmer in the Olton area should consider a membership in the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture an economic must.

It is true that good, local men are available to work on these things, but, the simple fact of the matter is, these men, alone, do not have the time to do justice to the job. They have other businesses that they must attend to. A Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture manager is vitally necessary. Outsiders who want information about Olton, for personal or prospective business reasons, will go to the Chamber. Someone must be ready with the answers. Someone must be on constant lookout for such things as farm legislation that will affect the area, the possible locating of new businesses here and all the small and numerous items that affect our public relations. Who has the time to do all this?

Olton now has a new Chamber manager who is faced with the tremendous task of breathing life back into the Chamber and organizing it into the kind of active, working unit the town so badly needs. Whether or not he can accomplish this task remains to be seen. Certainly, he can not do it alone.

The Chamber of Commerce is broke. It does not even have enough money to pay a salary. This is the shocking situation that faces the new young manager.

When the C-CA calls on you in the near future, remember who it is working for. You will be asked to invest a little time and a little money in your own future. The rest is up to you.

"The standability and threshability on my P.A.G. was real good. I liked it growing and it wasn't too tall. It was good clean seed with very few off-types. It looked good in the field and weighed good at the elevator. I had a test weight of 60 pounds per bushel on my P.A.G. 665. My P.A.G. produced an average of 9,100 pounds per acre where planted on cotton ground. On all the P.A.G. 665 I planted this year I had an average of 8,392 pounds per acre, which is the best yield I have ever produced.

Her fingertip veil of pure silk illusion fell from a tiara of pearls and sequins and she carried a bouquet of white carnations atop a white Bible.

The bride's attendants were Miss Renee Givens of Olton, maid of honor; Miss Wilma Perkins of Lubbock, bridesmaid and Miss Kathy Moore, sister of the bride, junior bridesmaid.

They wore street length dresses of pastel blue jacquard taffeta designed similar to that of the bridal gown. Matching head bands with short blush colored veils were worn. Each carried a long stemmed blue carnation.

Best man was Kenneth Williams. Groomsman was Jimmy Blair of Amherst and junior groomsman was Delton Bass, nephew of the bridegroom of Muleshoe. Ushers were Glen Blankenship, Spade and Sherman Fielden, brother of the bridegroom.

Mouth-To-Mouth Breathing Technique May Save Life

A person can live three weeks without food, three days without water, but only three minutes without air.

Would you know what to do if a member of your family or neighbor became unconscious and stopped breathing and there was no doctor around?

In just a few minutes anyone can learn the technique known as mouth to mouth breathing. This method has been known to man since biblical times but has recently been proven much more popular than any other method of artificial respiration.

This technique may be used to revive all unconscious and non-breathing victims of drowning, electric shock, smoke or gas inhalation, drug or chemical poisoning, injuries to head, chest, neck, and abdomen, convulsions, cardiac arrest, and other causes.

Mouth to mouth rescue breathing starts with clearing the mouth of any foreign objects such as tobacco, food, seaweed, toys, loose teeth or other small objects.

Then, with one hand grasp the victim's chin, placing the other hand on top of the head and with a rotating motion tilt the head backward. A roll of clothing or blanket placed under the victim's shoulders will keep the neck in favorable position.

Insert the thumb of one hand between the victim's jaws. Grasp the lower teeth and pull the jaw forward. Never let the victim's chin sag or let his head return to normal, relaxed position. Stop air leakage through the nose by pinching the nostrils closed with the thumb and index finger of the other hand.

Next, take a deep breath and place your mouth over the victim's mouth as firmly as possible in order to prevent air leakage. Keeping the mouth open wide breathe deeply into the victim's lungs.

As soon as you see the victim's chest rise you have delivered adequate breath. You must then remove your mouth so that the victim may exhale naturally. Repeat rescue breathing about once every three or four seconds, about 12 to 20 times a minute, until the victim breathes naturally or until a doctor arrives. If the victim is an infant or small child, breathe gently using only small puffs from the cheeks and throat.

Soil Testing Still Active

COLLEGE STATION-May 31 --Through April, the number of soil samples being submitted to the three laboratories operated by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at College Station, Seymour and Lubbock came in record or near record numbers.

During January the laboratories tested 1,589 samples, said W.F. Bennett, extension soil chemist. The total for February fell just short of doubling the January total when 3,020 samples were tested.

During March and April the laboratories handled 4,330 samples but neither month came up to the February totals, Bennett added. The lab at Lubbock handled 1,328 samples in March for its highest single month since it began operations. The March total, 402 samples, was also a new high for the Baylor county laboratory.

Bennett said five counties in the state submitted more than 100 soil samples during March and April. They were Baylor, 212; Houston, 165; Lubbock, 155; Terry, 147; and Harris, 124.

To further emphasize the role that soil testing now plays in present day farming, Bennett said that samples during the March-April period were received from 173 of the state's counties; that 151 samples came from Mexico and 5 from Nicaragua to add the international flavor and that samples were also tested from Colorado, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

It isn't too early to make plans for taking and submitting soil samples from soon to be harvested small grain fields, Bennett said. The slack season for the laboratories will mean that results will be returned to the senders within a few days and plans can then be completed for the fall fertilizing and soil improvement programs.

If information is desired on soil sampling, Bennett suggests a visit with the local county agent.

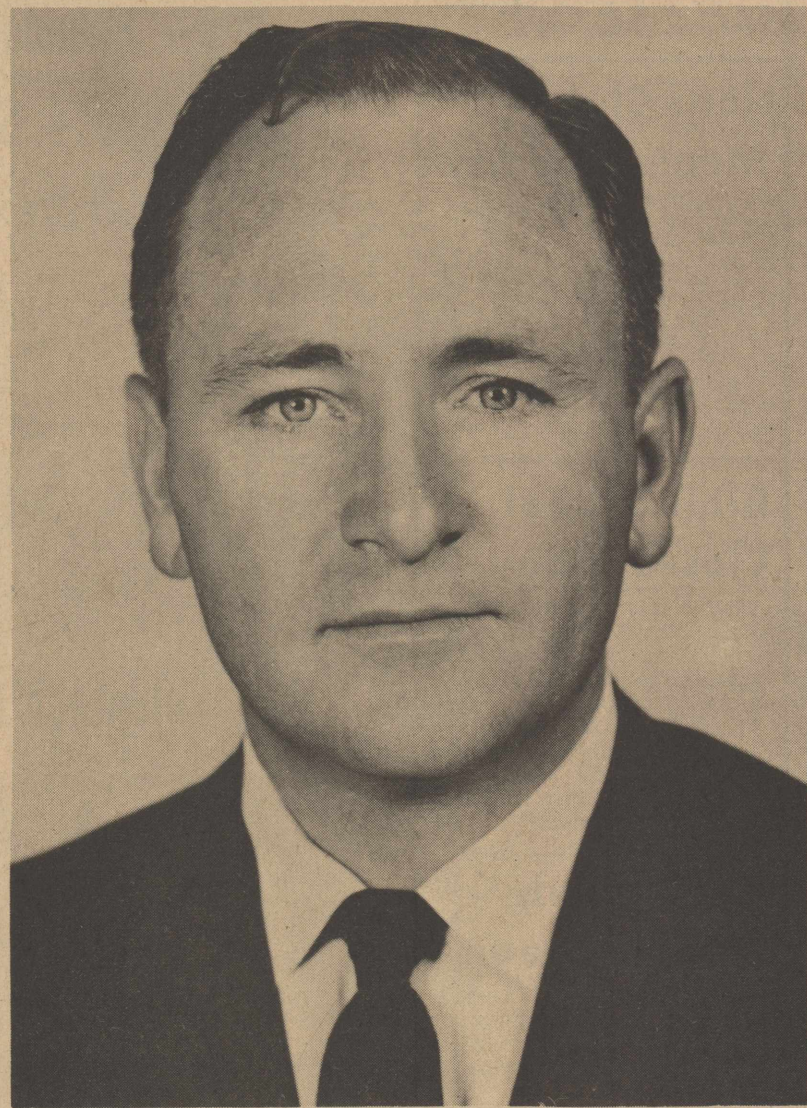

Missed opportunity is the price of total reliance on comfortable security.

Prime Products of Our Talent Farm

Every year... at great expense in time, money and love... we turn out another fine crop of young men and women... trained and schooled and ready to take their places in the adult world. And every year the big cities get most of them... because we haven't enough jobs for them to do.

- It's very generous of us to go to all of this trouble and expense to furnish high grade personnel for city use.

- Of course, we'd like very much to keep them here near us because we love them. And we could use nearly all of them if we should develop a real selfish streak some day and decide to wean the big cities we have been helping to support.

- The money we spend out of town every year, if most of it was spent here, would provide many more job and business opportunities for our young people.

- It would make the grass a good deal greener for most of us older citizens, too.

Life-Saving Technique

Fifteen patients with unexpected heart failure have been revived by use of the external heart massage technique now in operation at the Baylor University Medical Center in Dallas. Eight of these patients have recovered and were discharged from the hospital; seven had such severe conditions that their hearts were so weak to maintain life for very long after resuscitation.
An organized program utilizing this technique is recommended for all hospitals by Dr. Paul R. Ellis Jr., Dallas heart and chest surgeon, in an article in the May issue of the Texas State Journal of Medicine.
The new heart massage method, in which the chest remains closed and the heart is compressed by external pressure on the chest wall, was developed at Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine, Baltimore. In the past, internal or direct heart massage has been employed, and it has resulted in the survival of many patients.
The most significant feature of external heart massage, according to Dr. Ellis, is that it does not require special equipment or unusual skill. The external method can be utilized anywhere there is a firm surface for support of the patient and by anyone familiar with the technique. Dr. Ellis cautions that serious consideration must be given to the question of who is taught and authorized to use this new method.

Management of cardiac arrest may be considered in two phases, Dr. Ellis writes. The first is to restore circulation and ventilation to maintain viability of the brain and other vital organs. This must be accomplished within three to four minutes or irreversible brain damage will occur. The second phase is to restore normal heart rhythm. Dr. Ellis points out that once circulation and ventilation have been restored, the extreme emergency is over.

External heart massage is the method of choice for quickly restoring circulation. Respiratory exchange should also be maintained, Dr. Ellis writes, with mouth to mouth or, preferable, mouth to airway breathing. If only one person is present, the massage may be temporarily interrupted every 15 to 20 seconds to quickly inflate the lungs. When two persons are available, one should maintain respiratory exchange while the other performs external massage.

A clearly defined hospital program which outlines each step in the management of cardiac arrest is essential.

Water Attracts Children

Owning a swimming pool is becoming rather common in Texas and it places some legal duties on the owner. Your main duty hinges on the "doctrine of attractive nuisance" under which you become legally responsible to young children who trespass on your land.

As a rule you owe no duty to trespassers. They must take your property as they find it; it dangerous, that is their tough luck. No so for children who wander on your land. The attractive nuisance doctrine says that if you have some man-made things on your land which entice youngsters you have a legal duty to make your land safe for him.

A high tension line, an old mineshaft, a railroad turntable, a pool of clear acid may be irresistible to children. If they are likely to be attracted and unable to grasp the dangers, you have an "attractive nuisance," and you must make your premises safe.

Recently a court held that a swimming pool may be an attractive nuisance. In this case a toddler drowned in Jones' pool. Jones and the boy's parents lived across the street from each other. About 30 feet from the street, the pool was fenced but with openings through which children could enter. On weekends the Jones were not home, only the Jones' children. Animals often played near the pool.

The pool and the animals could attract a youngster; he could not grasp the water's danger. The Joneses could have had a locked gate. A jury properly held Jones responsible for the drowning.

There are times when an older child should appreciate dangers. An older child playing on a scaffold should appreciate the dangers of height. In another case a twelve year old boy tried to jump on a train which was moving along a public street. When he fell he could not get damages for his injury. He should have seen his danger. Besides how could one put up a barrier along a public street which could keep out twelve year old boys.

A land owner may have other duties to trespassers. He cannot set a "trap" on his land, create hazards on his land on purpose; he cannot put a pit on his land where people frequently trespass, put in spring guns, or other traps to harm trespassers.

Sometimes a condition on your land may be a trap to children but not one for adults. The adult may grasp the danger of slippery algae growing in a partially drained pool, but not a child. But even with a trap on your land the attractive nuisance doctrine will not apply without some allurements or enticement to bring children to trespass on your land. Such attractions are, in effect, an implied invitation to enter. Check your place for such attractions, and in any event consider measures, such as insurance, to cover harm that may come from things on your land. And above all, keep your place safe.
