

BACK WHEN Ezra Taft Benson and the man who preceded him as secretary of agriculture, Charles F. Brannan, used to go before congressional committees, they usually were told it was up to them to find a program which would solve the farm problem.

Both of the former secretaries seemed to have the idea that it was up to Congress to find a workable solution.

It never did work that way, though. Charlie Brannan fixed up his "Braman Plan," a program which was supposed to lay out cash for farmers who would do something about production control.

In a Congress dominated by conservative Democrats and urban Republicans, it fell flat.

BRANNAN used to say: "Let them give me something better and I'll administer it. They asked for a plan and this is mine. Anything that's better will suit me fine."

Benson ran into some of the same trouble. But he didn't come up with anything new. He didn't get any Democratic support and the support which came from his own party was lukewarm.

Benson knew that we had to do something about the big surpluses, and he thought the way to do it was through a free agriculture, an agriculture in which farmers would produce all they wanted and take their chances at the market.

However, Benson realized that agriculture couldn't get out from under government all at once, so he always held out the hope of enough government help to keep farmers from going broke.

MEMBERS of the Congress didn't think he had much of a program. They didn't like Brannan's program either. They wanted a real program.

Well, they certainly have such a program now.

When President Kennedy presented his farm program a few days back, he handed the farmer just about the roughest package he has ever seen as far as farm legislation is concerned.

The Kennedy administration is out to regulate agriculture almost completely.

We should have known what was coming, because every sign from the Agriculture Department has pointed to more controls.

The administration's new program is a take-it-or-leave-it type. You can either take it, or you'll probably have to get out of the business.

If a farmer doesn't co-operate, he'll be facing penalties that will just about make farming unprofitable. It looks like a man could go broke pretty quick if he doesn't farm the government way.

THE FARMERS have sort of a one-way street facing them.

The government says they can vote to get out from under controls completely and take their chances, or they can accept the government program, along with a potful of the most rigid controls ever proposed.

Even those strongest for a free agriculture realize that farmers can't get out completely, all at once.

So it turns out that farmers probably are being "forced" to swallow the administration's pill.

The only hope now is that Congress won't go along for the one-way ride. We need to be heading the opposite direction.

SIGN THOSE LETTERS

A note to the fellow who wrote us a letter this week, expressing his dislike of conservatism:

Dear "Middle Of The Road-er":

We'd be happy to print your views, if you'll sign the letter. I haven't got nerve enough to run it until you get nerve enough to put your signature on it. Then, if you request, we'll withhold your name when we print it.

Demo-GOP Battle Lines Set

Trustees Set School Election

Olton's school board set the annual trustee election for Saturday, April 7, and re-elected seven special teachers at a regular meeting Tuesday night.

Filing deadline for the trustee election is March 8. Terms of Roy Roberts and Fred Hicks expire. Candidates may file with Mrs. Rex Chitwood at the business office. Election judge will be Eldon Franks.

The seven teachers re-elected were Merle McKnight and Gayle Scott, homemaking; Calvin Horn and Max Malone, vocational agriculture; James Caley, science; Jimmy Priest, band; and Sandra Meadows, PTA Blessing and Robert Nickerson, coaches.

The board also officially employed Mrs. Kathryn Bledsoe, first grade teacher, to replace Mrs. J.W. Dale, who resigned to move to Roswell, N.M.

Supt. Johnny Clark Jr. was given authority to make application for a pre-school for non-English speaking students here. A school must have 15 such students to meet state requirements for one teacher. An additional teacher for the school may be allotted for each additional 25 students.

The board also heard reports on the lunchroom deficit, average daily attendance and the school counseling program.

Deficit in the lunchroom program stood at about $5,000 at the end of January. Board members said almost half of that, however, was from payment for equipment purchased as part of the building program several years ago.

This, it was noted, would not logically come under lunchroom expense, but rather under the building program.

The school system last month put $5,000 into the lunchroom program to clear up all bills, and there are no unpaid lunchroom bills at present.

The board said it would watch progress of the lunchroom program for the rest of the year, and then perhaps take a new look at methods which would make the lunchroom operate on a break-even basis.

"We certainly don't want to cut down on the food," said one board member, "and we might be forced to charge more for lunches."

Average daily attendance for the third six weeks was 1,058 in white schools and 115.29 at Bohner. This was up about four per cent from the same period last year.

ORC Meet Set Monday

At a regular meeting of the ORC officers and directors Monday night, it was voted that the ORC lounge be made available on a no charge basis to current dues paying members.

Board President Eldon Franks said the move is being made on a trial basis. "We hope it will become a popular meeting place," he added.

A $10 deposit, to be made to the pro at the time of the reservation, will be held in lieu of cleaning the premises. The member may clean the premises and have the deposit refunded or leave it for janitor's services.

A non-member of ORC or a member who is not current in payment of dues will be charged a $10 rental fee plus the $10 deposit.

Anyone renting the lounge will be held responsible for any damages sustained to the premises.

An annual ORC meeting to elect new officers and two new directors will be held Monday night at 8 p.m. in the ORC lounge.

The following names have been submitted by the nominating committee: George Redinger, president; Herb Owens Jr., vice-president; Rowena Thurman, secretary; Dan Gregory, treasurer; Archie Sorley, director; Shorty Silcott, director.

Other nominations may be made from the floor. Coffee and doughnuts will be served after the meeting.

Basketballers To End Season

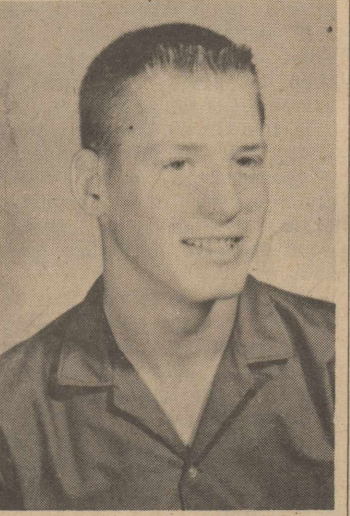

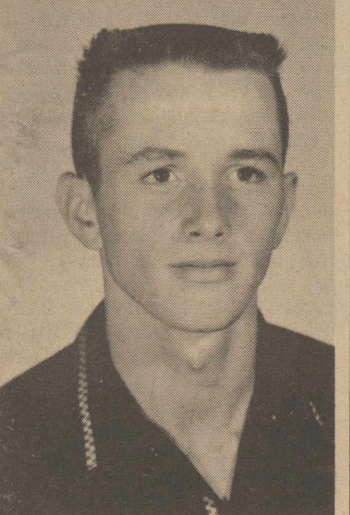

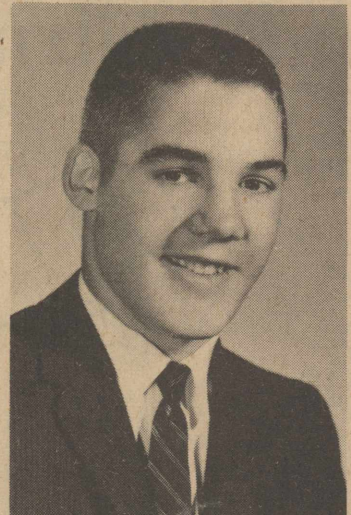

Olton basketballers, after dropping a pair of games to Abertamy here Tuesday night, take to the road Friday night for a doubleheader at Floydada.

The Fillies, 5-3 in district, and the Mustangs, 0-8, will close out their seasons here next Tuesday night when they meet teams from Muleshoe.

Floydada's boys are leading the league and Muleshoe's girls are at the head of their field.

Girls' games will start at 7 p.m.

HE'S MINE---The jilted sweetheart, portrayed by K.Y. Givens, attempts to take what she considers hers, namely the groom, portrayed by Pat Blessing, during the PTA production, Womanless Wedding, held here Friday. Despite such interruptions, the "wedding" proceeded as planned. See other pictures inside.

With 230 Pounds Of Bride

All Male Wedding Is Huge Success

BY AMY TURNER

Despite several tumbles taken by "baby sister," the demonstrations of a jilted sweetheart and a solo ending on a rather "hot note", the PTA's Womanless Wedding took place as scheduled here Friday night.

"Bride" Elmer McGill, all 230 pounds of it, sauntered down the aisle proudly displaying a bride's bouquet made from a cabbage head.

The groom, Pat Blessing, in view of the size of things, sensibly had little to say.

"Baby sister" Mick McGill, pacified with a gallon baby bottle, found the whole affair rather tiring after several tumbles from a wheel barrow carriage. It is possible that those who lifted the "baby" back into the carriage also found the evening rather trying.

E.J. Moore and Walter Bryan, flower girls, were becomingly sweet as they showered the audience with lettuce leaves.

Bub Holt, ring bearer, bravely supported the "ring", which due to its size, could have passed for a flood light.

Lester Thompson, grandfather, gave a shanking performance.

Twins Archie Sorley and Bill Turner had a few sticky moments but squeezed through the show in black Bermuda shorts.

Lovely ladies, Cleo Smith, K. Y. Givens, Conner Parsons, Luke Nickerson and Basil Sherman were stunning, to say the least.

Way out gentlemen were George Caddell, Max Malone, Major James, Lynn Fite, Owen Jones and Wayne Carson.

Minister H. B. Maxey was appropriately solemn and soloist Don Spain was appropriately sour.

Another highlight of the evening was a style show, where the gentlemen, Joe Turner included, modeled the trousseau.

The talent show included acts by Kathleen Carson, Jan Ross, Becca Roberson, Cherie Thompson, Renee Hysinger, Jane Duncan, Carol Hicks and Jay Daughtry.

Red Cross Quota Set

Olton has been assigned $1,500 for the usual March campaign in the United Fund for the Red Cross.

Since the city of Littlefield was represented in this campaign and it was not county wide, it is now necessary to conduct it in the remainder of the county to raise the 1962 quota.

Spade was assigned $585; Hart Camp, $165; Pleasant Valley, $200; Fieldton, $130; Springlake, $615; Earth $845; Amherst, $740 and Sudan $850.

Billy Wayne Clayton of Springlake has accepted fund chairman for the county with the help of various community chairman and other volunteer workers.

Smith & Struve Set Anniversary

Smith & Struve will celebrate a tenth anniversary with a special sales event starting Monday morning at 9 a.m. The first 50 ladies in the store will have the opportunity to buy silver dollars for 69 cents.

The business, owned by Tom Smith of Olton and Walter Struve of Hale Center, is managed by Tom Smith. Smith has been an Olton resident since 1938.

Scotch Foursome

A Scotch-Foursome golf tournament has been scheduled at the ORC for Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Men will pay a $2 entry fee and draw for their partner's names.

Play will be nine holes with first and second place prizes. The team having the worst round of golf will be awarded two free golf lessons.

Recreational Needs Cited For Young People Of Olton

Plainview is a popular Saturday night spot for Olton youth, according to a survey made by Mrs. Garland Long for the Olton PTA.

Mrs. Long made a survey of 100 Olton high school students and asked three questions: Name the town to which you go on Saturday night, What do you attend or do? and What would you like to see the community of Olton provide in the way of recreation for youth?

Fifty-eight students said they go to Plainview with the same number saying they go to the movies. An Olton recreation center for youth drew 34 votes with a skating rink a close second at 30 votes.

Mrs. Long presented the results of the survey at a meeting of the PTA Feb. 1.

Forty-eight students said they stay in Olton Saturday night, ten said they go to Littlefield, nine to Lubbock, three to Earth and eight checked "other."

In activities, bowling drew 14 checks, skating drew eight, "riding around" drew nine, and several listed nothing to do or

County Judge Race In Spotlight Here

The battle lines are drawn. Candidates filing at the last minute this week laid the groundwork for a fight between Democrats and Republicans in the GOP's first bid for a two-party system in Lamb County.

The late flurry turned up a number of interesting races. The first primaries are May 5.

One of top interest to Olton matches Truitt Sides against J.B. Davis of Littlefield in the race for Democratic nomination for county judge.

The winner goes against Ray Keeling, a Littlefield car dealer who filed on the GOP ticket.

Keeling's entry marked the Lamb County GOP's biggest effort to capture a top county office.

Another point of keen competition was the race for state representative, which drew two new candidates, both Democrats.

B.M. Nelson, Dimmitt newspaperman, and W.T. Millen, Muleshoe area farmer, filed in that one. Already announced was Billy Wayne Clayton, Springlake farmer.

Frank Ford Jr. of Hereford, a farmer-rancher, is the lone state representative candidate in the GOP primary.

State Senator Andy Rogers drew two opponents, one in the Democratic primary. He'll face Robert Kirk, former Lamb County Judge.

The winner will go against Republican John Zahn of Farwell in November.

C.Roy Stevens of Littlefield, candidate for county school superintendent, escaped opposition in his primary but will face a November showdown with Mrs. Doris Eaton of Littlefield, who filed on the GOP ticket.

Congressman George Mahon won't have primary opposition, but will have a GOP competitor in November, Dennis Taylor of Crosbyton.

Without competition are Pat Boone Jr. of Littlefield, Demo candidate for district judge; Ernest Owens, incumbent district clerk; Charles Jones, incumbent county clerk; Lucy Moreland, incumbent county treasurer; David Maxey, incumbent precinct 1 justice of the peace.

CROWNED as Olton High's King and Queen of Basketball here Tuesday night were Gary Johnson, the Mustang's leading scorer, and Renee Givens, co-captain of the Fillies. Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Johnson and Renee is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Givens.

C-CA Board Looks At 1962 Projects

Directors of Olton's Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture took a look at possible projects for 1962 at a regular meeting Tuesday morning.

Two projects, one to get lights on Highway 70 and another on making the highway four-lane through Olton and across Lamb County, came in for lengthy discussion.

President James Hall said he thought the lighting of Highway 70 through Olton would be a safety feature and also would make for an improved appearance of the town.

In discussing the widening of Highway 70, the board noted that representatives from Plainview and Lockney are working now to get the highway improved east of Lamb County.

Muleshoe boosters are working on the project in Bailey County.

The board also noted that other counties are working to get dams built for flood control.

One director pointed out that a dam along Running Water Draw north of Olton would not only serve for flood control, but also as a recreation area.

C-CA directors, taking up other topics, voted to help with planning by the FFA for a proposed rodeo here next summer.

Plans for the annual C-CA banquet were discussed. The event, originally scheduled this month, has been postponed until March. A speaker is expected to be named next week.

The board appointed a governmental affairs committee composed of Johnny Clark Jr., Bill Turner and Dan Gregory.

Speaking of governmental affairs, C-CA manager Dick Whiteley said he has letters ready to be signed by farmers and sent to Washington to boost this area's effort to get sugar beet quotas.

Views After First Year

As the first year of the Kennedy Administration ended, newspapers all over the country presented candid views of what, in their opinion, it had accomplished or failed to accomplish.

Almost all of the papers were critical of the Administration policy, or lack of policy, that led or at least substantially contributed to the Cuban fiasco.

At the same time, there were those who felt that Mr. Kennedy had grown in office, and has learned many hard facts of life that he didn't know before.

On domestic issues, the press divided more widely, as is always the case, and kept closer to party ties. For instance, The Dallas Morning News said: "On the domestic front, we feel his administration has pushed the New Frontier too far."

Now Mr. Kennedy has entered his second year in office, and he must go again to Congress with a series of legislative proposals which, in some cases, are revolutionary in nature.

First of all, he will get all, or virtually all, of the military and allied programs he will ask, costly as they may be.

He will again urge medical aid to elderly people under the Social Security set-up. But his chances here are considered dim.

Acceptance by the states of last year's Kerr-Mills bill which provides this kind of aid to the needy under a joint federal-state program, with emphasis on local administration.

Federal aid to education is up again, as always, and it is Administration backed. But here, too, the chance of Congress approving the Administration measure seems remote.

A matter of extreme controversy is his anti-recession program. This involves several factors. One, an eight per cent investment credit for industry, designed to encourage spending for new plants and equipment.

Not all retail lines fared equally. Gains were recorded by some and not by others because of a highly selective buying attitude shown by shoppers.

In Lamb County, local residents spent 51 per cent of their retail dollar for food and for automotive equipment and supplies in the past year.

It should be added that, clearly, the President will back some of his proposals much more strongly than others. In some cases he will, probably, just go through the motions of suggesting and let it go at that.

COUPLED!

51 Per Cent Of County Dollar Goes To Food, Cars

NEW YORK—Retail business in Lamb County was at a high level in the past fiscal year as local consumers, despite the unemployment that prevailed, spent freely for basic goods and services.

The new pattern that their spending has been taking reflects, to a degree, changes that have been observed in most parts of the nation.

The figures are contained in the recent survey made by the Standard Rate and Data Service. It shows, for all sections of the country, where people spent their money and for what in the 12 months ending July 1, 1961.

The volume of business done by county food stores, exclusive of restaurants, amounted to $7,327,000.

Purchases of cars, boats and other automotive equipment came to $6,825,000.

Gas service stations took another $2,049,000.

Other types of stores also did well, most of them showing improvement over the prior year.

Those selling general merchandise, such as department and variety stores, accounted for $1,700,000.

Apparel shops grossed $1,409,000, home furnishings stores, $837,000, and drug stores, $1,060,000.

The grand total, for all county retail establishments, was $31,773,000, an increase over the 1960 fiscal figure of $31,260,000.

This spending volume was at the rate of $4,866 per household, which compares favorably with the State of Texas rate of $4,259 per household.

According to forecasts by the National Industrial Conference Board and others, an even better year is in prospect for 1962.

Developments Announced For Wash-Wear Cotton

COLLEGE STATION—Longer lasting collars and cuffs on men's wash-wear shirts and a single treatment that gives cotton wash-wear properties and also permanently dyes, starches and adds other finishing agents to the fabric were announced today by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

A cotton interliner was treated to give it wash-wear qualities and then bonded by an adhesive to outer layers of untreated cotton cloth to make the collars and cuffs. The finished fabric not only has wash-wear qualities similar to those of the treated interliner but also has high resistance to fraying or abrasion that is ordinarily associated with cotton.

acceptable starched ones. The wash-wear qualities were rated excellent.

The new multipurpose treatment involves use of divinyl sulfone derivatives. These chemicals have the unusual ability to react with cotton's cellulose molecules to produce a good wash-wear finish and at the same time to attach other finishing materials permanently to the cellulose molecules.

The derivatives could prove even more versatile in cotton processing. They may be capable of attaching to cotton many other chemicals, including those that give resistance to fire, heat, rot, mildew and some repellency to water and oil.

By adding both dye and starch to a solution of divinyl sulfone derivatives, the scientists obtained a permanently starched and colored wash-wear fabric.

Let's Return Those Boots!

Fire Chief Tom Smith asked this week that all persons having firemen's boots belonging to the Volunteer Fire Department return them to the fire station.

"We know where some of them are," said Smith, "and we would like to have them returned. There'll be no questions asked."

Who Inherits Property If No Will Is Made?

What will happen if you should die without executing a legal and proper will? Who will inherit your property? Your husband, wife, mother, father, children, your wife's relatives? The best way you can say who will have it is to provide a will which will protect your rightful beneficiaries and dispose of your property in accordance with your wishes.

When a deceased has no will, or dies "intestate" as the law calls it, the property of that person is distributed according to a detailed formula fixed by law. In some cases this may be the way you yourself would divide it—but in many cases it is not.

The provisions of the law concerning the distribution of the property of a person who dies without a will are rather complicated, and all of the possibilities cannot be covered by a general statement.

There are different rules for real estate and for personal property, for community property and for separate property, for homestead property, and for all of the many possible combinations of surviving relatives. Each situation must be carefully studied to determine the correct distribution of the property.

For example, here is a general idea of how the community property which you and your spouse have accumulated will be divided if you do not make a will prior to your death. If your husband or wife survives and there are no children, the surviving spouse receives all of the property.

If, in addition, there are surviving children or descendants of deceased children, they would divide one-half of the property, while the surviving spouse would receive the other one-half.

Of course, grandchildren do not share in the estate unless their parent who would inherit is deceased. And when descendants of previously deceased children do inherit, they receive only the portion that the child would have received, regardless of the number of such descendants.

An odd note, perhaps, is that the surviving spouse already owns one-half of the community estate prior to your death, and the law adds nothing to this share where there are children surviving. When there are only children and their descendants surviving, they divide the entire community estate between them.

Valentines Is Day For Peek Through Key Hole

Valentine's Day has become a pleasant occasion for cashing in on cards, candy or flowers. But for the maids of an earlier day, it was a time for serious husband-hunting.

According to World Book Encyclopedia, a girl might start out at midnight by circling the church 12 times and repeating the rhyme, "I sow hempseed, hempseed I sow, he that loves me best, come after me now." If no one did, she could still hope to see her true valentine in her dreams. Of course, she first took the precaution of pinning five bay leaves to her pillow, one to each corner and one in the center.

Was marriage possible in the coming year? A peek through a keyhole could tell her that. The girl rose early Feb. 14 and set her eye to her keyhole. If she saw two objects, well and good. But if only one -- better luck next year.

Still, perhaps she could identify her husband-to-be. She wrote the names of her boy friends on bits of paper and rolled each one in a piece of clay. The she dropped the clay into water. The first scrap of paper that floated to the top was believed to hold the name of her valentine.

If she already had a favorite, she might test him by striking her forehead with a folded rose petal. If the petal cracked, obviously he loved her.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Mrs. S.F. Bennett came home from the Medical Arts Hospital in Littlefield last week.

Don't give your wife a dishwasher just because it's Valentine's Day!

Give her a General Electric Mobile Maid so she will have more time to spend with you and the family, doing the things you like. Don't lock her in the kitchen. With a G-E Mobile Maid you load the dishes at the table, wheel it to the sink and snap the connector on the faucet. It's that easy. No dishes to stack, no pre-rinsing. And there's no installation or plumbing costs either.

The G-E Mobile Maid goes right to work, the Power Shower washing from the top while the dishes are also washed underneath in scalding water too hot for hands. The dishes are sanitized, even baby bottles are germ free in the new Mobile Maid portable dishwasher.

So don't give your wife a dishwasher just because it's Valentine's Day. Give her a General Electric Mobile Maid because it's the nice way to wash dishes, year 'round.

The Feminine Look Is Big In New Fashions For Spring

Ruffles, frills and bows---the ultra feminine look---seem to be the latest word in fashion for the ladies this spring.

Ruffles are everywhere, from sophisticated circles, where they may be unexpected, to the kindergarten set, where they are expected, as in little eyelet-ruffle-encircled capes that go over sleeveless batiste for little girls.

Conventionally, one thinks of ruffles are going around and around, horizontally, but in today's abundance of ruffles there are many that run vertically. These flutter in a different manner and since the charm of a ruffle or a flounce is in its airy movement, they ring new variations on an old theme.

One traditional vertical ruffle is the jabot, a revival from Edwardian days. Such a ruffle may spill from the front of a worsted suit with an open cut-away jacket as part of a silk organza blouse.

The petticoat, which chic women had nearly forgotten about, is newly revived. Many are covered with tiny ruffles.

On her head, milady is expected to sport flowers of every shape and hue and bows, large and small, of organdy and organza. Belts are making a big come back this year. Whether high, medium or low, waistlines are usually belted.

Set high, the belt tends to be either a cummerbund of leather clasping the midriff or a narrow fabric band climbing to a point above the natural waist.

At the center level, any kind of belt, whether fine, medium or broad, goes with every dress.

Some low waists are drawn into hardshaped little belts that sit high on the hipbone under the gently flow on an overblouse.

Sophisticated nautical sailor knots are featured in rope leather belts and patent leather appears as the clincher to waistlines for both day and night, on tweed or chiffon.

All in all, it promises to be an exciting season for the ladies with a sweet old-fashioned look.

Health Notes

Dysentery, while not a major killer among Texans, still claims many lives each year. Sadly most deaths occur among infants under one year of age.

Last year there was a 10 percent increase of shigellosis --the technical name for bacillary dysentery--according to the Texas Morbidity published each week by the Communicable Disease Division of the Texas State Department of Health.

At the end of the year, the 1961 total stood at 3,915 cases compared to 3,420 cases at the end of 1960.

The total deaths from dysentery have not been compiled for 1961; however, in 1960 there were 79 deaths from the disease with 53 percent among infants.

Dysentery is transmitted "by eating contaminated foods, or drinking contaminated water or milk, and by hand-to-mouth transfer of contaminated material; by flies; by objects soiled with feces of a patient or carrier."

This is one of the reasons foodhandlers should wash their hands thoroughly before any food preparation--and especially after visiting the bathroom. Also foods which are moist or eaten raw require special attention in washing and preparation.

Fly control and control of fly breeding are important steps in fighting this disease. Control of existing flies can be done by screening, fly traps and by contact poisons and space sprays.

Fly breeding can be controlled with adequate garbage collection and disposal, elimination of garbage dumps and substitution of land-fill operations, and provision for proper sewage disposal.

Infant mortality from shigellosis can be curtailed with adherence to good hygiene principles, scrupulous cleanliness in preparation, and handling and refrigeration of food, safe milk and water for infant feeding, and continuous supervision of their diet.

It is generally acknowledged that many cases of unreported diarrhea probably result from shigellosis. Suspect victims should seek the aid of their physician.

(A weekly feature from Public Health Education Division, Texas State Department of Health.)

HOT EXIT--Don Spain, soloist at the PTA production, Womanless Wedding, held here Friday, make a quick exit after being given a "hot foot" by Archie Sorley.

Auto Inspection Time Is Here

Less than thirty percent of the registered vehicles in this area have been safety inspected for 1962, according to Patrolman L.W. Whillite Motor Vehicle Inspection Service of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

With the April 15 deadline, for having the vehicles checked, rapidly approaching, this means there are approximately 9800 vehicles in Lamb County remaining to be inspected by the 13 approved inspection stations available. Inspection stations in Olton are Bodkin-Nixon, Hall-Sides Motor Co. and Thompson Chevrolet.

Many motorists are going to find long lines awaiting them as the deadline draws nearer, due to the inspection stations not being able to cope with this large number.

The patrolman urged drivers to have their vehicles inspected as soon as possible to avoid this last minute rush. In addition, he reminded drivers that this time of the year is noted for adverse weather conditions which prevents the inspection stations from checking the vehicles.
