

All Around The Town

By Mary Ann Sarchet

We have been attending the play-off games in which our grandson, Jordan Sarchet, has been participating with his Tahoka teammates the past couple of weeks and have been having a ball. As the undefeated District Champions for the first time in 33 years, the Dawgs received a bye in the first round of the playoffs. Then the Dawgs beat Ozona at Midland Lee High School, before going to Big Spring to play Reagan County. The tough Reagan County Owls held on to eliminate every lead the Dawgs attempted to build against them, and Tahoka shot 73% of its foul shots while the Owls shot only 72% to win this game 72-66.

Then it was off to Abilene for the Regional Tournament. First opponent for the Dawgs was West Texas Stinnett, the team that destroyed Floydada's two-point overtime lead with a three-point buzzer beater. And once again, the Dawgs emerged as the winner.

Saturday at noon, the Dawgs met the Hale Center Owls and their 6-10 player who spends his time scooping up the ball and putting it in the basket, along with rebounding and killing the shots of the opponents. He isn't an outstanding ballhandler and doesn't dribble, but they don't need him for that.

Jordan is the tallest player for Tahoka at 6-4, but several of his teammates are 6-2 and 6-3, so they really can't be considered a short team. They all handle the ball, they all shoot well, and they all wanted very badly to make the trip to Austin. They have a crushing full-court press that has taken care of most of their opponents this year.

Now the ball is in Hale Center's court. They had better win state to justify having knocked the Dawgs out of contention!

Saturday Night of Praise Returns to First Baptist Church

After taking a couple of months off, "Saturday Night of Praise" returns to First Baptist Church this coming weekend. A worship team leads out in 30-45 minutes of singing, focusing on songs of praise and worship. Many new choruses and older songs are used to bring worshippers into God's presence.

"Saturday Night of Praise" meets each second Saturday of the month in the sanctuary of First Baptist Church. You are invited to come and join the members for a casual evening of worship.

Leslee Burkhart and Terry Miller are parents of a daughter, Jennifer Lynn, born at St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock on February 26 at 12:53 p.m. The tiny premature baby weighed five pounds and two ounces and is 18" long.

Power Lifters Qualify Four For State Competition at Fort Hood

Four members of the Regional Championship Girls Powerlifting Team have qualified for state competition at Fort Hood (Killeen) on March 24. They are Elida Garcia, Amy Maciel, Brooke Garvin and Cindy Allen.

In order to qualify for state, the girls each won first place in her classification at the Regional Meet in Colorado City in the squat, bench press and deadlift. They are coached by Wayne Henderson and Dewaine Lee.

sponsibility to make sure that our water stays as clean as possible.

One of the major threats to our water is nonpoint source pollution primarily due to opened or abandoned wells. This is especially true where abandoned wells are located in low lying areas such as near playa lakes. After heavy rains, runoff picks up chemicals and fertilizers that have been applied to cropland. The water then begins to collect in low lying areas. If the wells are open, this water tainted with chemicals has a direct path to our water supply. The potential for pollution should not be underestimated.

In Briscoe County many opened abandoned wells exist. Most of these are on land that has been enrolled in CRP and the motors and pumps have been removed.

State law requires that wells that are abandoned be capped or plugged. All wells should also have a concrete slab surrounding the hole with the casing extending at least one foot above the concrete.

Penalties for non-compliance can be expensive ranging up to $25,000 per day. It is much easier and cheaper to prevent pollution than it is to clean it up once it has occurred.

To Be Continued.

Walk Across Texas "Kick Off" Mar. 12

by Lena Duesterhaus, CEA-FCS

The Walk Across Texas "Kick Off" is March 12.

Several steps are given to ensure fun and safe activities.

Warming up before an activity reduces the risk of pulling or injuring a muscle and eases the body into the activity. For walking, start out slower than your normal pace for 5-10 minutes allowing the muscles to warm up and stretch. Another way to warm up is by doing light stretches. The stretching must be done slowly and gently to prevent injury to muscles, tendons and ligaments. Do not bounce! Hold each stretch for a count of 15-20 seconds. You should not experience any pain when stretching. Stretching to improve flexibility can be done three times a week as well as before or after aerobic and strengthening activities.

Five minutes of your physical activity should include a cool down. If you are walking, slow down the pace. Your muscles will be warmed up and you will have less soreness from the workout.

Advice: (1) Drink plenty of water, before, during and after exercise to avoid dehydration; (2) In the beginning, confine your walks to level stretches of road, avoiding steep hills; (3) If you are walking in the early morning or evening be sure to wear reflective clothing; (4) If the sun is shining, be sure to wear Sunscreen and a hat.

Physical activity can be fun or it can be work. Since we would all rather have fun it is important you choose what you really like to do. Add music to your activity; choose a time of day that is convenient for you; find a friend to be your "physical activity partner."

All-District Players for the Owls and Lady Owls are (standing, left to right) Daniel Reagan, second team; Chelsey Cherry, first team; Nathan Francis and Isaiah Ivory, first team; (sitting) Amanda Estes, honorable mention; Taylor Griffin, second team; Sara Kirchoffner, first team; Lisa Comer, second team; Red Ivory, second team; Adrian Ramirez, honorable mention. Read The Instructions

Last year we had a new furnace installed in our home and I recently wanted to reset my thermostat. With the help of the sixty page instruction book I proceeded to try to figure out the eighteen buttons on our new thermostat. Finally, after about an hour, I was able to change our thermostat setting. It seems that life is becoming more complicated, and it is really difficult to understand all of the numerous complex devices that are part of our daily lives. One thing that should not be complicated or difficult to understand is our relationship with God. Our Lord's instruction book, the Bible, hasn't changed in thousands of years, and His instructions are clear and easy to follow. The Bible gives us many examples and prophecies, and reflects to us the past and tells us what to expect in the future. The Good News of the Bible is that it not only shows us our Savior, but it tells us how we should live our lives for God's glory.

But these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and believing ye might have life through His name.

Lake Mackenzie News

Tom Davey
General Manager

Last weekend was like summer days at the lake. We had a lot of fishermen and a big group of motorcycle riders. Speaking of motorcycles, the third weekend in April, Top of Texas Trails Association will host a trails event at the lake. This type of motorcycle riding is a test of riding skills, not speed.

Fishing is good with both crappie and stripers biting. The stripers are starting to work the lake's surface for food.

We hope to have minnows by the time this article is published. During the off-season, minnows are hard to find. We have a fresh supply of worms. Both worms and minnows can be purchased at the lake office.

The marina will be opened about the first of April. Debbie Sharp will operate the Marina and she welcomes any group who would like to hold a supper or lunch meeting at the lake.

The water level of the lake is at 80 feet. This is down about five feet from the lake level in June of last year. We need a rain that will fill Tule Creek for 10 days.

Has anyone seen Fred?

Queen of Silverton Changes Lifestyle

by Art Ainsworth

Bonnie (May) Ainsworth has practically made a complete "turn-around" in her lifestyle since she married Art on January 1, 2000. The "coffee break" routine has changed.

First she was exposed to "travel trailer" living when Art pulled his 30' nu-wa fifth wheel travel trailer from his big barn, with his new-ish Dodge diesel 2500 in Jones, Oklahoma and started loading food, clothes and other necessities for a six-week trip to Quartzsite, Arizona to attend the world-famous gem and mineral show.

Bonnie had never seen so many recreational vehicles clustered in such a small area before. A small town of approximately 700 people explodes during January and February each year to 25,000 RVs and 3,000,000 people. You can find RVs parked out in the desert for ten miles in any direction.

Bonnie had never seen so many rocks, polished rocks and jewelry to suit anyone's fancy.

There was a big RV sale going on and since she and Art needed more space for the long stay, they traded for a 34' fifth wheel travel trailer with two "slide-outs".

Bonnie and Art stumbled onto a group of country and western musicians who they immediately made friends with. From then on, it was musical jam sessions through the day and every night for the entire time they were at Quartzsite. Crowds of 200 to 750 were not uncommon at jam sessions. If the crowd became too large, they'd let Art sing. Ha!

There were always from 12 to 22 musicians on the stage at any performance.

They soon began introducing us as "The Newlyweds." Bonnie would sometimes come up and stand by me especially if I sang "Waltz Across Texas."

We stayed in Quartzsite a month. We had fun all the time. Encoute back to Silverton, we sopped off at Thousand Trails (a family RV resort campground) that I belong to. We won first prize in the "Newly (and nt so newly) Wed" game. That night we danced the night away.

We are now at our Texas hone, but we plan to keep reaching out for life as long as it keeps returning the "good life" to us..

Happy Anniversary-

March 10--Mr. and Mrs. Ken Wood
March 13--Mr. and Mrs. Russell Simpson

PCG Officer to Testify Before House Ag Members

PCG Vice President Mark Williams has been asked to participate in the March 6 Field Hearing of the House Agriculture Committee in Lubbock.

The hearing, which kicks off a series of ten to be held between now and May 20, is being put together to allow individual producers to relate their personal feelings about current ag policy.

Plains Cotton Growers will be developing a statement to be submitted before the end of the comment period regarding the organization's stance on many of the issues that will be brought by Williams and others during the hearing process.

Among the recommendations likely to be included in PCG's statement are continued analysis of the Flexible Fallow program, the potential benefits of increased loan rates within the structure of a Marketing Loan program, and the need for a counter-cyclical price protection system such as the Supplemental Income Protection Program (SIP) proposed by Congressman Charles Stenholm.

These and other program concepts are expected to garner attention.

Briscoe County to Join Fight Against Cancer in May

What began as a dream in 1985 for one man in Tacoma, Washington, has now spread to thousands of communities, and in 2000 this dream will once again spread to Briscoe County.

The Relay for Life started in Tacoma, Washington in 1985 when Dr. Gordie Klatt ran and walked solo around the track at the University of Puget Sound for 17 hours, raising more than $27,000 for the fight against cancer. From there grew the American Cancer Society's nationwide signature event, Relay For Life.

The event has spread to 2100 communities across this country as well as in Puerto Rico and Guam, raising millions of dollars to fund life-saving programs, education, advocacy and service--over $120 million in 1999!

This event has been called a really fun, really big community slumber party and great fund-raising event, but more importantly it has been described as a "huge, compassionate support group"--a place where friends, family, and loved ones can come together to celebrate survivorship and to honor those who have lost the battle to this dreaded disease.

Relay For Life is the ultimate community event. It is a family activity that anyone can participate in... from very young to the most senior of senior citizens. Requirements are the desire to fight cancer--to fight back, and a commitment of 12 hours of your time and fund-raising skills.

The Relay For Life that will be held in Briscoe County will take place May 13th from 7:30 p.m. to 7:30 a.m. on May 14th at the Valley High School football field.

The Relay is made of teams from across the Silverton, Quitaque, Turkey, Flomot area, and during the 12 hours someone from each team will be walking the track.

During the 12-hour event there will be activities for survivors, children, basically everyone. There will be local entertainment all night. Anyone who would like to participate in the entertainment should contact Delene Tyler at Quitaque.

At 10:00 p.m. the tempo will change and the lights will go out making way for the Luminaria Ceremony. The lights will remain off for the rest of the night and it will be illuminated by candlelight only. The Luminaria Ceremony is one during which to remember cancer victims, and those who have lost their fight. The mood changes from a party to a very emotional scene. Each of the luminarias will have the name of a person fighting cancer or in memory of someone who lost the fight. Luminarias can be purchased for $10.00 from LaVern Kingery.

Currently the chairpersons are working on a list of cancer survivors, cancer patients and those who have lost the fight. Anyone with names can contact LaVern Kingery, 823-2300.

A primary goal is for every team member to raise $100, which would translate to $20,000--an amount similar to that raised last year.

The money raised by the event will fund research for a cure for cancer, helps to pass laws to benefit cancer patients, provides cancer information, 24-hour hotline and website, educational programs, patient services including wigs, "Look Good, Feel Better," rides to doctors and support groups.

During the Briscoe and Surrounding Counties Relay For Life the cancer survivors will wear special T-shirts which will denote them as survivors.

Anyone wanting to start a team, which consists of ten people, needs to contact the team members, then work toward getting donations of at least $50 per person, in whatever increments

Brandi Rice, daughter of Karen Tiffin, and Brooke Garvin, daughter of Lane and Paula Garvin, both of Silverton High School, recently performed piano Class I solos at the Regional Solo and Ensemble Contest in Lubbock. Each girl received excellent ratings from the judge. Brooke will advance to the state competition in May at Southwestern State University in San Marcos. Both girls are piano students of Robin Boedeker of Quitaque.

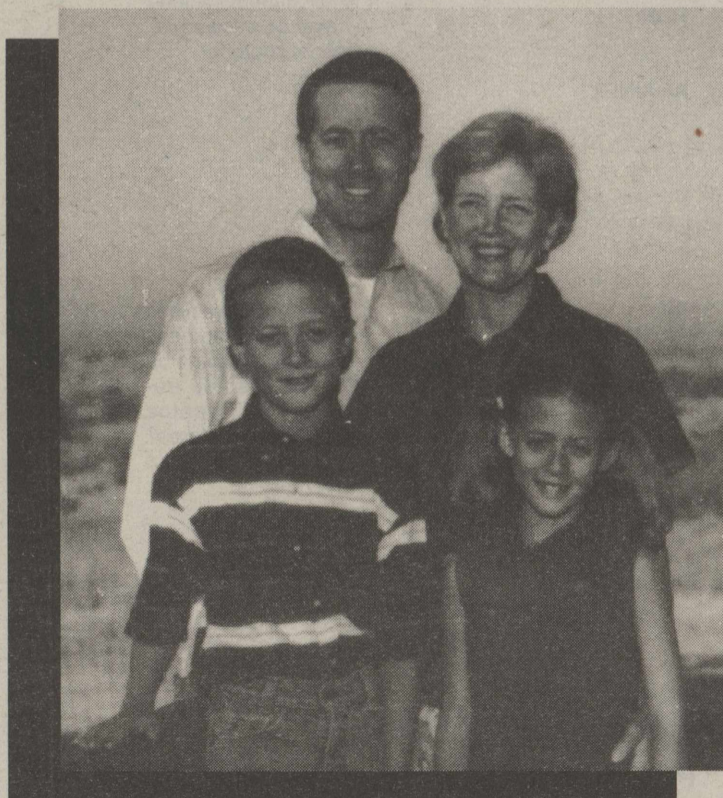

needed. A team may have a theme; for example, teams can have a baseball theme, jail theme, etc. Teams should be signed up by March 31. Anyone interested in helping is needed. All help will be welcomed.

On the backs of the T-shirts will be a list of Gold Sponsors. Businesses can be a sponsor for the event also in levels of Bronze, Silver and Gold, depending on the level of donation.

A few ground rules for the event include absolutely no rollerblades, only tennis shoes, house slippers or bare feet are allowed. One member of the team must be on the track for the entire 12 hours. No alcohol or smoking is allowed. Snacks will be available during the night, and the closing ceremonies begin at 6:00 a.m. Every team member should be present for the final lap and closing ceremony.

PCG Renews Call For Change of Crop Insurance Management

Plains Cotton Growers, a long-time supporter of affordable risk management solutions for producers, recently revisited the issue of crop insurance premiums and offered USDA Risk Management representatives a two-day refresher course in High Plains cotton production.

That was back in October and preliminary results from the get-together are encouraging. PCG representatives met again this past week with RMA and economists from Montana State University who were contracted to provide rating recommendations to the agency using a statistical model to determine applicable rates.

The MSU model is called the Indexed Income Protection (IIP) model which was first used to derive rates for the income Protection policies piloted by RMA over the past few years. In the case of cotton premium rating, the IIP rating process uses the same methodology but limits it to only the yield component.

Given the input from PCG, and subsequent discussions with PCG staff, early indications are that some relief may be in the offing as early as 2001 for Texas cotton producers.

RMA will now analyze the data and begin the process of determining whether or not the revised rates should be adopted for Texas. Rates derived from the same process were used to make significant changes to rates in the Delta and Mid-South region in 2000.

Texas is seen as a critical test for the rating methodology employed by the Montana State University economists overseeing the project.

PCG and the National Cotton Council are in the process of formulating comments urging RMA to fully consider the MSU studies results and to adopt the revised structure.

Schools Join Forces For Fund Raising

Hoping to raise extra money for their education programs, eleven Lubbock area school districts have banded together to form a foundation that can seek grant funding and accept tax-deductible donations on their behalf.

"It's just another revenue source to help us get some things that, to be honest with you, we can't afford otherwise," said Frenship Supt. Paul Whitton, a member of the steering committee for South Plains Public School Foundation, Inc.

"Colleges and universities have done it for years," Whitton said of the fund-raising effort. "We just believe people might want to donate to public schools."

Whitton said he had read about school districts in the Dallas-Fort Worth area that have acted individually to establish foundations to raise money. But Whitton said he didn't think the Frenship district was big enough to create a foundation on its own.

Mike Liner, president and chief executive officer of City Bank in Lubbock, came up with a way to get the foundation started, Whitton said.

Liner said he began more than two years ago working on the concept for a multi-district foundation. The South Plains Foundation appears to be the first cooperative effort of its type in the country, he said.

To make sure that the foundation gets off on the right track, City Bank hired Foundation Development Consultants.

Liner said the foundation will provide a way for the alumni of the participating districts to give to their hometown schools.

The following school districts are participants in the new South Plains Public School Foundation: Frenship ISD, Lubbock-Cooper ISD, Roosevelt ISD, New Deal ISD, Lockney ISD, Morton ISD, Olton ISD, Whiteface Consolidated ISD, Springlake-Earth ISD, Smyer ISD and Silverton ISD.

Whitton said he often hears from businesses and individuals who would be willing to donate to his school district if they could take advantage of the tax laws. The foundation meets the guidelines for doing that, and the donations can be earmarked for a particular district, he said.

Liner said the foundation also will enable the participating districts to go after grants that each district might not qualify for on its own. He said a number of private foundations have funds available for schools and the districts can "at least get in the hunt for some of that money they give away."

Texas Tech Chancellor John Montford is the founding president of the foundation and sees it as a way to assist educators in the area. "I think people believe in teachers and educators, and I think they will support this cause," Montford said.
