Lisa Comer, daughter of Larry and Cindy Comer, posted a 4.00 grade point average and was named to the President's List at Texas Tech for the fall semester. Lisa is a freshman student studying drama and the theatre arts.

At Tech, she has been in a laboratory theatre play, "Victims of Duty" and played the female lead in her stage debut, "You Can't Take It With You." She will be in a one-act play written by a Tech graduate student in the spring.

More than 1,200 West Texas A&M University students were named to honors lists for the fall semester. Of that total, 317 were named to the President's List and 910 earned mention on the Dean's List.

Sharyl D. McMurtrey, a freshman majoring in social work, was one of the students who earned a grade point average between 3.25 and 3.85 and placement on the Dean's List. She is the daughter of Claude McMurtrey.

Kara Kingery has been named to the Dean's List at Lubbock Christian University for the fall semester. In order to be considered a part of the dean's list, a student must be taking a minimum of 12 semester hours and achieve a 3.5 grade point average or better for the entire semester.

She is the daughter of Anthony and Kathy Kingery.

Bradley Brunson, defensive coordinator at Haskell High School for the past three seasons, has been selected as the school's athletic director and head football coach. He replaces Don Flippin, who announced his retirement earlier this month.

Brunson spent one year as defensive coordinator at Lubbock Roosevelt and two years as defensive line coach at Eastern New Mexico University before going to Haskell. He was a four-year letterman in football at ENMU from 1992-95.

Jamie Pigg was recipient of the Don Burson Memorial Herdsman Award presented by the Burson family at the Briscoe County Livestock Show. Miss Pigg also won the Swine Showmanship Award.

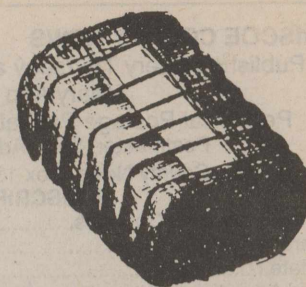

Tisa Whitfill will be directing the Plainview Civic Theatre comedy "Cookin' With Gus" by Jim Brochu at the Fair Theatre February 9 and 10. The performances will begin at 8:00 p.m. each evening, and tickets will be available at the door. No reservations are needed.

This comedy revolves around the life of a "Martha Stewart gone wild."

CARDS OF THANKS

There is one way I know to express the tremendous power of love that my daughters and I have received during this traumatic time of our life; all of the material gifts and funds that we have received, we thank you for, but the most precious gift of all is from all of your hearts opening wide and showering us with your love, for this will live on in our hearts for eternity. God bless and keep us all. Sincerely, Ramona, Crystal, Lisa and Angela Hunt

We want to thank everyone for the many kindnesses and comfort extended to Billy Merrell while he was in Mangold and Covenant hospitals. Thanks to Dr. Stewart, Dr. Bock and Dr. Martinez, he received great care.

The phone calls, flowers, food and prayers will be remembered. It is great to live in a community of caring folks.

Friendship Quilters News & Notes

by Nina Martin

Seven quilters met on Thursday. I brought the bound "Stars Over Briscoe County," plus a case that the winner will receive. I used the extra blocks to trim it.

Bobbye Bean brought a special label and Nadyne Childress will sew it on the back. The quilt will be displayed first at the bank.

The quilters last Thursday were Ann Norris, Wanda Strange, Nadyne Childress, Mary Burson, Laverne Stephens, Bobbye Bean and myself. We finished Ada Clay's "Americana," and put Nina's "Little Blue Shoes" in the frames.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwain Tipton took Anna Belle Tipton to Amarillo to the doctor. Eudean Crow went along for the ride.

I am asking one more time for news. My telly no. is 847-2538.

It is one of the great troubles of life that we cannot have any un-mixed emotions. There is always something in our enemy that we like, and something in our sweet-heart that we dislike.

Don't be a grouch.

Our attitude and the way we treat others affects the people around us and also influences our own outlook on life. Being nasty or grouchy serves no purpose and will not make our day any better or our tasks any easier. Being a grouch is just being mean, and no one wants to be around a mean person. Someone that develops a positive attitude and a pleasant personality usually has a more enjoyable and contented life. We realize that someone's personality is normally developed and formed at an early age; however, being aware of our negative inclinations can help us to be better, more positive people. Being assertive is quite different from being mean and nasty. In the Bible, Jesus was assertive, but He was never nasty, mean or obnoxious. God loves His people, and everything that He does is because of His great love for all mankind. When we smile and show a gentler attitude, we reflect God's love and things just seem to go better.

Basketball Season Drawing to Close

Silverton's basketball season is rapidly drawing to a close, and all that remains on the schedule at this writing is the Tuesday, Feb. 6, games with Happy.

A series of close games was played with Valley on Tuesday night of last week, with the JV Owls and Lady Owls winning and the Owls losing by a small margin.

The Lady Owl JV opened the action and took an early lead that continued into the fourth quarter. The team, playing with just five girls, saw two foul out and finished the game playing with three on five.

Lori Griffin led the offense with 12 points and Kelcy Simpson rang up 11. Also scoring were Kami Wilson, nine, and Daryl-Ann Reynolds, six points.

Lady Owl JV	7	21	30	38
Valley	0	12	17	48

The Junior Varsity Owls followed by starting slow and trailing at the first stop, before coming on to take the lead for most of the rest of the game.

Nathan Baker led the offense by scoring 15 points. Darin Martin also scored in double figures, getting 10. Adding to the score were Eric Minyard, four; Caleb Francis and Payton Estes, two points each.

Baker hit the only three-pointer of the game.

JV Owls	5	19	30	33
Valley	10	14	19	31

The Lady Owls came out sizzling, and all the way in their game. Chelsey Cherry had the hot hands and burned the baskets with 22 points. Also scoring were Jenny

Young, six; Julie Weaver and Bryn Mayfield, five points each; Amanda Estes, four; Jenny Young and Taylor Griffin, two points each.

Julie and Bryn hit three-point shots in the game.

Lady Owls	17	26	37	46
Patriots	13	17	25	39

The Owls led part of the time in their game, and the Patriots led part of the time, but the Patriots were holding the edge when the final buzzer sounded.

Isaiah Ivory led the offense with 13 points and Andrew Francis also scored in double figures, getting 10. Adding to the score were Adrian Ramirez, eight; Matt Strange, seven; Red Ivory, six; Dustin Hale, one point.

Shots from downtown were hit by Isaiah (3) and Adrian (1).

Owls	15	22	26	45
Patriots	11	22	31	49

The locals lost three games to the tough teams at Nazareth on Friday night.

The Junior Varsity Owls led off the action with a 45-24 loss to the Swifts. Darin Martin was the leading scorer for the Owls with 15 points. Adding to the score were Caleb Francis, three; Payton Estes and Nathan Baker, two points each; Colt Smith and Ty Reed, one point each.

JV Owls	9	14	19	24
Nazareth	12	24	38	45

The Lady Owls didn't have any-one scoring in double figures, and Jenny Young led the offense with seven points. Rounding out the score were Tarran Forbes and Bryn Mayfield, six points each; Chelsey Cherry, three; Kurby Garvin and Brooke Garvin, two points each.

Lady Owls	1	3	14	26
Nazareth	16	30	56	72

The Owls dusted the baskets with shots from downtown: Isaiah (3) and Adrian (4), but it wasn't enough to offset the power of the Swifts.

Adrian led the offense with 19 points and Adrian also scored in double figures, getting 12. Adding to the score were Red Ivory and Andrew Francis, four points each; Matt Strange, three points.

Owls	9	18	24	42
Nazareth	24	40	52	72

Kade Wilcox burned the baskets with six three-pointers and enough more baskets to total 28 points.

Steps to Avoid Obesity

Provided by Cory Payne, CEA-FCS

Obesity is a health crisis the whole country is facing. William Dietz is a director with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. He says with a few simple steps, everyone can prevent its spread. Dietz recommends three steps. First, increase physical activity. Healthy exercise can help off-set the consequences of being overweight, even if the weight itself is not lost. Also control time spent watching TV. Replace those hours spent on the couch with something more beneficial. Then increase fruit and vegetable consumption to five servings a day. Fruits and vegetables can replace some of those less nutritious snacks.

THE CHANCE

In everytime we have an opportunity to tell the truth! In every way we have the chance to live!! If we have done wrong we have the right to make it GOOD! God gives us this power to turn our ways his way. When curse arrives coming in, and locks in giving birth to sin WE CAN LIVE!! If not then we suffer the consequences also to recognize we had that chance! In every way, don't lie!!

For it is written!! 2 Kings 5:25, 27 . . . But he went in, and stood before his master. And Elisha said unto him, whence comest thou! GEHAZI?? And he said, thy (servant) went no whither. The leprosy therefore of Naaman shall cleave unto thee, and unto thy seed forever! And he went out from his presence a leper as white as snow!! Today, it may seem to be as of nothing!! But, tomorrow it may be late for us to know the value of truth! If so then it's true, we should all care, and love and forgive . . . we may learn to hear more of the truth from them!! And, condemnation is far! Faults and lies come everyday!! But, a blessing is not far "if we cover not our sins!!! CHILDREN!!? don't lie! Keep (peace) among you, and live!!

CAPITOL COMMENT

U.S. SENATOR
KAY BAILEY HUTCHISON

LISTENING POST

"If you want to be listened to, you have to put in some time listening."
- Marge Piercy

There are nearly 20 million Texans, which makes it a little difficult for me to listen to all of you and learn what's on your minds. So I hope you will take the time to clip our annual survey, fill it out and mail it back to me with your opinions. I appreciate your local newspaper's generosity in publishing this questionnaire for me each year.

Last year's results proved once again that Texans are a source of common-sense solutions to some of our country's most difficult challenges. I always look forward to reading your responses.

PART ONE OF QUESTIONNAIRE

1) Last year, Congress passed an ambitious tax relief plan that President

Clinton vetoed. That legislation did away with the marriage tax penalty, repealed the death tax and cut rates across the board. It would have made it easier for working families to save all they need for their retirement years. I remain committed to substantive tax reform, with the marriage tax penalty leading my list of priorities. I also support the across-the-board tax-relief proposal President-elect Bush has proposed. What are your tax-cut priorities?

- Marriage tax penalty _____
- Death tax relief _____
- Across-the-board tax relief _____
- Other _____

2) Texans, like other Americans, are paying substantially higher prices for the fuel they use. What some people don't realize is that the United States is becoming overly dependent on foreign sources of energy. For example, we now import more than half of the oil we consume. Imported oil now accounts for one-third of our entire trade deficit.

President-elect Bush has suggested that we allow offshore drilling and open up federal land in Alaska and the Rocky Mountains to new oil and gas production. This has the potential to greatly increase our domestically produced energy. Would you support this expanded production, with appropriate environmental controls, in order to reduce our dependence on imported energy sources? What are your energy priorities?

- More offshore drilling _____
- Open up federal land in Alaska for drilling _____
- Tax provisions to encourage marginal drilling _____
- Other _____

3) If our economy continues on its current track, the federal government will enjoy a budget surplus again this year. How would you use that surplus? Would you cut taxes, reduce the national debt, increase government spending, or a combination thereof?

- Cut taxes _____
- Reduce national debt more quickly _____
- Increase spending for defense _____
- Use part of the surplus for Social Security reform _____
- Other _____

4) Congress has produced a balanced budget and cut federal spending sharply in many areas. But much work remains to be done. In what areas do you believe federal spending could be cut even more?

Additional comments:

This survey will continue next week. I look forward to hearing from you. Please send your responses to:

Tax-free internet is best say Texas A&M economists

COLLEGE STATION - Maintaining the tax-free status quo on the Internet may be the best course of action - for now, say economists at Texas A&M University's Private Enterprise Research Center (PERC).

PERC Director Thomas R. Saving and Assistant Research Scientist Liqun Liu are examining the implications of Internet taxation.

"Until we know the final and most efficient configuration of the Internet, we should not engage in taxation that may kill the goose that is laying the golden eggs," says Saving.

Liu says the extension of computer technology in all areas of the economy is believed to have been a major factor in the longest period of prosperity in U.S. history. Exactly how Internet research and development activities have transformed the overall technology of the economy and whether the tax exemption of the Internet is the best way to encourage these activities is still unclear, he notes.

"Given this uncertainty, it seems to be a safer strategy to maintain the tax-free status quo on the Internet until better knowledge is obtained," Liu adds. "After all, the power to tax is the power to destroy."

Saving explains that Internet sales are treated the same way as catalog sales when it comes to tax purposes. The majority of Internet sales, he says, are exempt from sales taxes because firms do not have to collect sales taxes on sales in states where they have no physical presence.

In addition, because of a three-year moratorium on new Internet taxes passed by Congress, excise taxes and access fees - like those levied on phone and cable industries - are not applied to the Internet, he points out.

The word rhythm comes from the Greek word rhythmos, meaning measured motion.

At the court of Louis XIV, prestige was measured by the height of the chair one was allowed to sit in.

Texas A&M geologist seeks ways to squeeze oil from mature fields

COLLEGE STATION - When he says "it's good to the last drop," Wayne Ahr isn't talking about his morning coffee. Research by this Texas A&M University professor aims to squeeze some of the last remaining drops of oil out of mature fields, potentially gaining needed energy reserves from sources drillers thought were used up.

"An enormous amount of oil remains in the ground at developed oil fields," Ahr said. "Only about 30 percent of the available oil is recovered from any field during 'primary recovery'. Nearly 70 percent of the oil stays there in the rock where it was trapped."

"Recent improvements in geological, geophysical, and engineering methods have enabled us to discover and develop a tremendous number of new fields worldwide," he observed. "Now we need to devise methods to allow us to go back and recover between one-third and one-half of the oil that primary recovery left in the ground."

Ahr, a petroleum geologist, is part of a project funded by the U.S. Department of Energy to develop those methods. Working with Texas A&M petroleum engineer Tom Blassingame, computer modeling experts at the University of Alabama in Tuscaloosa, geophysicists at McGill University in Canada, and industry experts from smaller, independent oil companies, Ahr shares a $1.3 million grant to figure out how to get to that residual oil.

Not knowing everything can help a relationship says A&M psychologist

COLLEGE STATION - Although people in a romantic relationship typically seek to understand the truth about each other's thoughts and feelings, there are occasions when the truth can carry a very big price, says Jeff Simpson, a Texas A&M University psychologist.

Knowing when to pay this price and when to avoid paying it can make or break a relationship, adds Simpson, who studies interpersonal attraction and social interaction.

Through his work with couples and "empathic accuracy" - how well partners read each other's thoughts and feelings - Simpson has found successful couples choose when to accurately infer each other's thoughts.

"For a long time, there has been an assumption that the more a person is in tune with their partner's thoughts and feelings, the better off that relationship will be," he says. "What we've found is that there are certain contexts in which this assumption is untrue."

Simpson describes these contexts as "relationship danger zones" - specific areas that have the potential to be disruptive to the relationship by revealing thoughts and feelings harbored by a person's partner the person may find troubling.

Cotton Market weekly

A Service Provided by Plains Cotton Cooperative Association

Volatility gripped the cotton market much of this week as traders continued to find little or no positive news on which to hang their hats. In fact, bearish sentiment seemed to dominate many conversations early in the week until Wednesday when futures prices closed sharply higher.

Deepening concerns about the level of U. S. export sales to-date and their pace in recent weeks, along with anticipation for further cuts in domestic consumption, kept traders on edge. Cotton futures prices plunged on January 22 with technically driven speculative selling leading the route. Some contacts fell to their lowest levels since mid-July of last year.

Even with lower prices, some traders expressed doubts about the ability to create new export demand for U. S. cotton. Likewise, they noted, higher prices certainly will not help stimulate export sales. Traders were quoted on Thursday saying U. S. prices must stay four to five cents below the A Index to keep U. S. cotton moving into the world market.

U. S. export sales in the week ending January 18 showed a modest net increase of 87,300 running bales, according to USDA. Indonesia, Mexico and Taiwan were featured buyers. The figure was 22 percent more than the previous week's net sales but 10 percent less than the four-week average. Export shipments of 119,000 running bales during the week were two percent more than the previous week and 28 percent more than the four week average.

Clearly, export sales and domestic use must at least hold steady in order to maintain prices. However, that prospect found few supporters early in the week. Imports of textile and apparel products provided enough fodder to keep the bears content for a while.

The most recent import data continued to highlight the problem that has been plaguing the U. S. textile industry for several years through rising competition from overseas yarn, fabric and apparel. Total imports of all items were up 8.7 percent in November compared with a year earlier while imports during the January through November period were up 20.6 percent.

Total cotton yard, fabric and apparel items were up 5.3 percent in November, and for the first 11 months of 2000 they were up 12.4 percent. Meanwhile, total man-made items were up 25.3 percent during the same 11 months. The end result is continued pressure on the U. S. textile industry and reduced demand for cotton.

Higher energy bills also could discourage consumer spending in other areas, traders said, and the U. S. textile industry will be hard pressed to make a profit as production costs increase. Ahead of the Census Bureau's domestic consumption report for December, traders were anticipating an annualized rate of 9.5 to 9.6 million bales compared to 10.3 million based on the December 1999 rate. Traders obviously found little encouragement in the projections.

However, the actual report released January 26 provided a bullish surprise as U. S. textile mills used cotton on a seasonally-adjusted annual rate of 9.89 million bales, up from the downwardly revised November figure of 9.05 million, according to the National Cotton Council (NCC). An economist at NCC was puzzled by the increase in demand and stated, along with some analysts, that there is a chance the figure could be revised down next month.

Cotton futures prices did manage to close sharply higher on January 24 amid technical indicators of short-term low, active fund short covering and a lack of merchant selling. However, it was only a brief bright spot in an otherwise dismal week for the futures market.

Online sales of Texas/Oklahoma/Kansas cotton in the week ending January 25 totaled 22,158 bales compared to 16,459 bales the prior week. Average daily prices received by producers ranged from 45.58 to 47.82 cents per pound versus a range of 44.51 to 48.71 cents a week earlier.

"Take your time and you'll only need to pull the trigger once."

Like his father and grandfather, Johnny Edmondson is a rancher. His spread is 660 acres, but with irrigation and improved pasture, he manages to run 3000 head through it in a year. Coop power, the same power he's depended on for thirty years, makes that kind of efficiency possible.

Johnny belongs to a Smart Choice cooperative. What's "Smart Choice?" We are. We're a coalition of West Texas cooperatives committed to making the right decision on electric deregulation.

The goal of deregulation is to bring the benefits of retail competition to the power industry. But so far, in states such as California and Pennsylvania, reality has fallen short of the promise, often bringing higher rates and even power shortages. The Texas Legislature gives cooperatives an opportunity to wait and see how deregulation will affect Texans. We intend to take advantage of that time to be sure deregulation is right for our member-owners.

Texas electric cooperatives have been providing power to Texans since 1937. As coops, we are non-profit and member-owned. To learn more about deregulation visit us at our web site, or call your local Smart Choice cooperative.
