Much Needed Rains Fall

The annual wheat harvest which began last week has been halted temporarily by rains that began falling in the area early Friday, with amounts reported as of Tuesday noon varying from one and a half to three inches.

Thunderstorms began occurring about 5:30 a.m. Friday and residents received approximately one-half inch in town while Lee Smith reported hard rains west of town helped fill his stock tanks, some to overflowing.

Early Monday about 1:30 a.m. Chief of Police Nick Barnes reported that he, along with nightwatchman Leroy Davis, and county deputy Pete Hatfield were observing clouds in the immediate area and sighted two funnels near the Joe Boone place west of town. Neither touched down but dipped out of the clouds twice, Barnes said. He then attempted to sound the storm warning, but the siren would not work, so he got in his patrol car and drove up and down the city streets warning residents to take cover.

Rains during the early morning hours Tuesday again accounted for .65 with as much as an inch falling east of town.

Truscott Wins Second In Regional Contest

The Texas Community Improvement Program was presented for regional judging at the Truscott Community Center beginning at 10:00 a.m. on May 25. This was the final judging for the year and resulted in Truscott's being named second place winner in Regional State. Wildorado placed first. Two other towns in the contest were Sudan and Imperial.

Judges were Mrs. Edith Wilson, retired agent from Amarillo; Mrs. Aubrey Russell, retired agent from Lubbock; and B.T. Haws, agent from Wichita County. Other visitors included Curly Hays of Abilene, Bill Benson of Vernon, Tommy Antille and Carolyn Schur of Knox County, Orin Brewer of the Vernon Daily Record, Mr. and Mrs. Rick McQuain of Honolulu, Hawaii, and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Jones of Crowell.

Owen New, president of the Truscott Community Organization, welcomed the guests and Truscott citizens. During the talks which followed, Mrs. Ila Mae Bullion showed slides to illustrate the material. Curtis Casey gave a review of the history of Truscott, followed by an explanation of community organization, by Ila Mae Bullion. Margaret Todd's topic was "Improving the Community" beginning at 10:00 a.m. Margaret Daniel's was "Community Services and Facilities", "Economic Development and Business Management" by Paul Bullion, "Improving Family Living" by Idoma Chowning, "Citizen Involvement and Assisting Other Communities" by Irene New, and "Truscott Historical Preservation Association" by Virginia Casey. Following the speeches, Tracy Shaw, a Crowell High School senior, was presented; and sang "Sunflower" accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Curtis Casey. Next Tracy introduced the other young people of the community, and each related some of his activities and interests. Following the program, the judges were taken on a short tour of the area.

When the judges had completed their tour, lunch was served by the ladies of the Home Demonstration Club.

This is Truscott's fourth year to enter the Texas Community Improvement Contest. The first year we won second in district, losing first place to Sagerton. The next year it won first in district competition and second in regional, being defeated once by Callisburg and twice by Wildorado.

Wins 2 To 1 In Runoff

Stenholm Easy Victor

Charles Stenholm of Stamford won a two-to-one victory over Abilene attorney A.L. Dusty Rhodes in Saturday's runoff election for the 17th District Congressional seat, with unofficial totals giving Stenholm 46,599 votes, 67.08 percent, to Rhodes' 22,871, 32.92 percent.

Stenholm carried all but two of the district's 33 counties by margins ranging up to more than 5-1 in his home Jones County. In Knox County, Stenholm received 615 votes to Rhodes' 186.

Stenholm led the first primary in a field of seven candidates by 2,015 votes, with 35.8 percent. He will face Republican Bill Fisher of Abilene in November general election.

John Poerner, a former Hondo legislator appointed to the Texas Railroad Commission earlier this year, won a landslide victory Saturday over Jerry Sadler in Poerner's Democratic runoff bid to remain on the powerful state regulatory body. Poerner came from a second-place finish in the May Democratic primary to win with 70.02 percent to Sadler's 29.98.

Another race that appeared on the Knox County ballot was that for Democratic nomination to the 11th District Court of Civil Appeals. Final Tabulation showed Abilene attorney Bob Dickenson the winner with 30,307 votes to J. Neil Daniel's 27,567. Dapfel, a district judge since 1969, led in the May primary by about 2,000 votes. Dickenson carried 19 of the district's 23 counties in the runoff election

Saturday. Total votes cast in Knox County, including absentees, totaled 801, which was considered a good turnout by Democratic officials.

O'Brien Happenings

By CHARLENE BROTHERS

The rain was really nice and a welcome to our community and area. I guess the farmers that were wanting to plant some of their cotton over can now. I think most of the places around got anywhere from 1/2 inch to over an inch. Some may have to plant some over because it washed in too much dirt on what little cotton they did have. It looks like it could rain some more. The only trouble now is that the humidity is so high and this makes the weather feel so—something or the other, I guess sticky would fill in pretty good.

HERE AND THERE

Marvin Manning was in Springtown last Friday and Saturday visiting with his children, Mr. and Mrs. Derwin Lancaster and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Lary Gibson and family. Shane and Shawna Gibson and Frank Sugg came home with him for a longer visit. (In case some of you hear an awfully loud racket and wonder what in the world it is, it's just two motorcycles.)

Mr. and Mrs. Adelle Herring, Ken and Alan of Junction visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ranzy Herring during the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Beasley, Jerria and Alan of Muleshoe visited with his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Coy Hewitt, Vicki and Toni during the weekend. Saturday and Sunday the Beasleys and the Hewitts were at Lake Stamford attending a Florence family reunion. This is Loretta and Jerry's mother's family.

Mrs. Sandra Childress, Martin and Julie of Ozona visited during the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Ellis. They all visited with the Leslie Draper family and other friends in O'Brien.

Mr. and Mrs. Orval Manning and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Manning were in Breckenridge recently to attend the funeral for a former resident of the O'Brien community, Mrs. H.R. Finley. Orval was a pallbearer.

Mr. and Mrs. Royce Manning and Brad of Abilene visited during the Memorial Day weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orval Manning.

Floyd McAda is enjoying an extended vacation to various places in several different states. He will be visiting relatives and seeing points of interest.

We have had some moving going on in O'Brien, or around the area actually. Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Rowan moved from west of town to the place they had purchased from Judy Tankersley east of town. This might be better known as the old Roy Hester home place.

Mr. and Mrs. J.M. Emerson, J. and Justin moved from southeast of town to Knox City, into the house they purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Tad Richardson.

We lost one family from O'Brien and gained another one recently. Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Johnston, Shane, Kerrie and Sundee moved, or are still in the process of moving, to Millsap. This is kinda of between here and Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Turner moved a trailer house on the lots back of L.A. Covey and are our new residents. Mrs. Turner is the former Sherry Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Jackson of Knox City. Dale is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bingham of Knox City. We hate the loss of the Johnstons, but say a big welcome to the Turners.

Vacation Bible School will be held at the O'Brien Baptist Church June 19-23. The time has not been set yet. Ages for this are four years through the sixth grade. Anyone having children in this age group, please contact Kathy Cameron for more details. Be sure and tell your neighbors about this in case they do not take the Knox County News.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Billye Bess Angle
Knox County News
Knox City, Texas

Dear Billye Bess,

I believe your readers will be interested in some figures I put together, which I believe display one of our nation's more serious problems—"inflation."

Last week I was advised by the people who furnish bread for our cafeteria that a 1 1/2 pound loaf of bread would cost 49 cents—this was the second increase this school year. When school opened bread was costing 42 1/2 cents, later it went to 46 cents and now 49 cents. That represents a 15 percent increase in ten months. Bread, by the way, isn't the only item going up.

Below is a chart that demonstrates the increases since 1971 and their relations to the price Knox City area farmers receive for wheat.

Year	Month	Price	Average Harvest Time Price of Wheat per Bushel in Knox City
1971	August	.28	$1.25
1972	August	.28	$1.40
1973	August	.31	$2.50
1974	August	.39	$3.40
1975	August	.39	$3.00
1976	August	.39 1/2
1977	August	.42 1/2	$2.00
1977	November	.46
1978	May	.49

We can see what our farmer's problems are by looking at this chart. Now how would you like to manage a school cafeteria that is only supposed to break even with these kind of wild price increases on basic commodities?

In twenty-three years as superintendent, I have never had to subsidize a food service program, but this inflation problem is making realistic management impossible.

In our school, we serve about 75,000 meals a year and our expenses this year will be about $64,000 and our income (I hope) about $64,000.

Sincerely,
/s/ W.R. "Bill" Baker

June 6, 1978

Dear Editor,

If you are not a concerned citizen, and not willing to become involved with the American Agriculture Movement, don't bother to read this letter, but if you like to eat, and if you like to live in a free country, you are involved.

The "insiders" or bureaucrats of our National Government in Washington, DC are counting on your being too preoccupied with your personal problems, or just plain too lazy to fight back, while the leaders of our Nation, who are members of the Tri-lateral Commission (a private club of billionaires and their advisors) continue to plan for the takeover of our Government, hopefully as early as 1980. Remember, the "insiders" don't care how much you know about their conspiracy, as long as you don't do anything about it, so keep reading and then ACT.

Congress must be forced to take a public stand on the Council on Foreign Relations and the Tri-lateral Commission. Once Congressmen are elected, we must make sure that they do not succumb to the political pressures in Washington DC. If some of you are unwilling to become involved because it may be bad for business or jeopardize your social standing, or because you are too lazy, or don't care, just look your children or grandchildren in the eye and tell them that making a buck and climbing the social ladder means more to you than their future. Ask yourself how you feel about your children and grandchildren living in a Communist America. Impossible, you say? Not if the Tri-lateral Commission and CFR succeeds in their goals.

If you decide to become involved, support your American Agriculture Office with your donations, and your presence at their meetings to learn what they are doing and planning against the conspiracy at the Nation's Capitol. No burglar ever tried to rob a house when the spotlight was on him. With all our efforts together, Congress can be that spotlight, and that conspiracy can at least be delayed until we can elect some honest men and women to lead our Nation.

To fellow members of the American Agriculture Movement, don't give up. The AAM is neither dying or dead. We have just begun. We have had a long and tiring eight months, many of us have spent our own money lobbying in the Halls of Congress, and when it becomes necessary, we will go back by the thousands.

Farmers, ranchers, bankers, business people, professional men and women, blue collar workers, we should all be in this together. Go to the AAM meetings, and bring your friends and family with you. Learn about the Tri-lateral Commission, the conspiracy to do away with the American way of life and our freedom.

We as farmers, will continue to work and keep farmers and ranchers in Washington to put together a new farm and ranch program by farmers and ranchers who understand their own problems, but we need the help of every fellow citizen to make America worthy of God's blessings again.

The choice is yours. Act now. It's time we all proceed together for our homes, and our country, or we will all together see it taken over.

Sincerely,
/s/ Mrs. Betty Albus

A New Kind of Medicine for Older Patients

by Cy Brickfield

Did you know that—
 • While most people with overactive thyroid glands are normally very hyperactive, an older person with this same condition may appear to be apathetic and somewhat underactive?

• Appendicitis may occur in an older person without the localized pain and tenderness, the high fever and the elevated white blood cell count that are usually characteristic of this ailment?

• An older person may have a heart attack without experiencing the usual chest pain, and may instead appear confused and disoriented—and might even seem to some to be a little senile—as though he or she had suffered a stroke?

If you didn't know these facts, don't worry about it—they're not very well known. What should worry you, however, is the fact that many doctors are also unaware of them.

As a result, in addition to suffering the injury of illness, far too many older Americans are also subjected to the added insult of being improperly diagnosed by doctors possessing insufficient familiarity with the vast body of knowledge known as geriatric medicine.

Perhaps the greatest insult is being told that you are sick because you are old. Yet, this happens quite frequently, and many of the doctors rendering this frustrating verdict are otherwise well-informed physicians who should know better, but apparently don't. Or, if they do know better, they don't practice what they know.

Consequently, if you're in your mid-60s or older, there's a good chance that you'll be told that there's nothing wrong with you, and that the aches and pains you are suffering are to be expected as one grows older. Of course, if a patient twenty or thirty years younger than you were to report the very same symptoms, his or her complaint would be taken far more seriously, and nothing would be spared in an enthusiastic effort to discover and correct the cause of the symptoms.

In your case, however, the doctor will most likely perform at least some testing (if only as an essential defense against the possibility of a malpractice accusation), tell you to come back for another office visit in a few months, and send you on your way with a shopping list of prescriptions (mostly to relieve your anxiety about your very real symptoms) and a substantial bill—neither of which will be covered adequately by Medicare.

Geriatric medicine is more than just a body of important medical information; it is an attitude whose adherents insist that sickness and mental deterioration are not necessarily natural concomitants of aging, and that the symptoms of older patients are as rooted in real causes as those of younger patients. While many physicians do take this enlightened approach to treating older patients, there are still far too many doctors who don't.

During at least the last fifty or so years, a growing number of practicing physicians have demonstrated a special interest in treating older patients, but their numbers have failed to keep pace with the rapid expansion of America's older population. Their knowledge of geriatrics was acquired mainly through their own on-the-job experience and personal study, since little formal training in this field was available.

Even in recent decades, the nation's medical schools have continued to ignore the health care needs of a growing population of older patients and the educational needs of the future physicians who will be treating them. At this moment, within eleven percent of the population is over 65, there is in the United States only one endowed chair in geriatric medicine—at the New York-Cornell Medical Center in New York City—and that was established only a year and a half ago.

There are, however, some signs of coming change and perhaps even the promise of progress. The American Medical Student Association recently called for increased support and training in geriatrics, and 75 percent of the practicing physicians polled by the American Medical Association expressed a desire for special training in this area.

Attention, it seems, is at last being paid to the need to make more doctors aware of the therapeutic rewards that can be derived from learning about geriatric medicine and making it an integral part of their practices.

Of course, this offers little immediate solace for the pain and frustration of the older person who is being told that his or her suffering is just a part of growing old. Relief may not be—as the commercial promises—a swallow away, but at least it is finally coming.

(Cyril F. "Cy" Brickfield is the executive director of the non-profit, non-partisan National Retired Teachers Association and American Association of Retired Persons in Washington, D.C.)

TENNIS

Families who play tennis together could find themselves playing beside the pros at the U.S. Open if they are among the finalist teams in the Equitable Family Tennis Challenge, a program that brings parents and their children together in competition with other family teams. More than 100,000 participants competed in last year's tournament, making it the largest amateur tennis tournament in the world.

Parent-child tennis teams can compete in a tournament endorsed by the United States Tennis Association.

This year, the tournament has expanded to 256 cities, twice as many as a year ago. Four family combination teams are eligible to compete—father-daughter, mother-son, and for the first-time, father-son, mother-daughter.

The 16 sectional winners in each family category (64 teams) will receive an all-expense paid trip to the National Finals in New York which are held during the U.S. Open.

Local tournaments will be held from May 20 through July 12. Winners progress through district and sectional competitions. The Equitable Family Tennis Challenge is endorsed by the United States Tennis Association. There is no entry fee, but lodging and travel expenses for the local and district competitions must be assumed by the families.

Further information and entry blanks are available by writing Capital Sports, Inc., 280 Park Avenue, New York, New York 10017.

IN MIDLAND

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Smith were in Midland over the weekend to visit their son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. John Ed Smith, Mike and Suzan.

While there, they attended commencement exercises for Suzan from Midland Lee High School where she was one of 600 graduates. Suzan who graduated with honors, is attending Midland College this summer where her brother, Mike, is also student.

Control Animal Damage

A very common animal seen in gardens and flower beds is the armadillo. The armadillo is in the anteat family, so he has no front teeth. Therefore, if you see armadillos in your yard, and you notice also scratch marks on your trees, do not think the animals are trying to eat your trees. They are digging around for insects in the yard and happen to scratch the base of your trees with his claws.

Armadillos are insect eaters, primarily, and are seen even more active in yards that are infested with grubs. They can sometimes literally tear up flower beds. Freshly watered areas will attract armadillos because the moisture makes the soil loose and causes bugs to come to the surface for air.

The best control is to shoot or run up on the armadillo and catch it. They can not bite but remember they do have powerful claws. Before shooting, be sure to check with the mayor or city manager on the use of firearms in the city limits. Armadillos are super dumb animals, so they can be easily caught in a live trap as long as the trap is in the pathway, you may want to even put a funnel up to the door of the cage using boards. There is no chemical on the market to rid armadillos but there are chemicals to rid insects and grubs. And if you control the food supply, you stop armadillos from digging up your yard.

For more information, write Denna Pattillo, 304 Federal Bldg, Wichita Falls, Texas, 76301 or call her at 817-767-4981.

MICROWAVE MENUS

Escape To The Islands For Dinner

Winter snows and frigid temperatures have been in full force in many parts of the country. As the mercury dips, our minds turn to thoughts of palm trees, island beaches and warm surf. If you are like most, the family budget won't stretch as far as the South Seas. But don't despair. You can escape to the Islands with easy Pork Polynesian.

It can be made in minutes in your microwave oven. Pieces of pork sausage and pineapple, strips of bell pepper, celery, water chestnuts and bamboo shoots combine for a delicious variety of flavors and textures. Blue Bonnet Margarine adds rich buttery taste at economy prices to this dish. Serve Pork Polynesian over crisp chow mein noodles.

Since microwaves are reflected by metal be sure to cook this recipe in a heat-resistant glass or ceramic baking dish. You can use this space age appliance to complete your microwave menu. Heat up the chow mein noodles, bake the bananas and even brew tea in individual cups in your microwave oven.

ALOHA SUPPER

Your Social Security

COUPLE JAILED FOR SSI FRAUD

James Harper, Branch Manager of the Vernon Social Security Office, has announced that a Morgan City, Louisiana, couple has begun serving a three-month jail sentence for attempting to defraud the Supplemental Security Income Program.

Harper stated that Albert Escort Jr. and his wife, Janie, each had pled guilty to a federal court in Lafayette, La., to a charge of providing false information about income and resources in order to qualify for Supplemental Security Income.

Supplemental Security Income, formerly the State Welfare Program, is the financial assistance program for the needy aged, blind, and disabled, and is administered by the Social Security Administration.

Harper continued that U.S. Magistrate Byron Hebert had actually sentenced Mr. and Mrs. Escort to one year in prison, but suspended the remainder of the sentence under the condition that they spent three months in jail, and spent two years following their imprisonment on probation.

"This conviction is part of an intensified effort by the Social Security Administration to eliminate fraud from the Supplemental Security Income Program, and other similar criminal actions are pending," Harper said. "Supplemental Security Income is for the needy, and we will continue our efforts to eliminate fraudulent and improper payments."

Because today's medicines are so much more potent and so much more specific, it has become very important that a family choose one pharmacy to fill all their drug needs for both prescription and non-prescription drugs. A family should "shop" for a pharmacy they feel comfortable with in much the same manner they "shop" for a physician or dentist.

AMERICAN AG NEWS

by BETTY ALBUS

Springfield American Agriculture strongly encourages NO SELLING OF GRAIN. News from Springfield further states, "It appears that a grain shortage exists. We will get the prices we want, and have to have, if we will hold our grain. Encourage those who can, to buy contracts on the futures market. Contracts can be bought cheaper than farmers can produce grain." We've got the key to grain prices. Let's keep it in our pocket by NOT SELLING GRAIN."

Thousands of farmers, disgusted with Farm Bureau for trying to kill AAM efforts to bring parity back to agriculture, have cancelled their Farm Bureau memberships. This makes one feel better for the moment, but is of no value if Farm Bureau continues to fight us. A message from the Hereford AAM office encourages all farmers who are still members of FB, to take an ACTIVE part in changing that organization. We must start at the county level and bring resolutions forward from every county in the nation, asking for full parity in the market place, along the lines asked for by AAM. If most of the county FBs will bring forward this type of resolution, the Farm Bureau will have no choice but to adapt these as state and national policy. The by-laws of Farm Bureau call for all policy to come from the grass roots level, and it is up to each of us to provide that input.

John Hill has met with AAM leaders and stated that he wants a 50 man committee, representing all farm organizations, to work with him and his campaign staff to draw up a platform for the Democratic Convention. If anyone is interested in serving on this committee, please call

Texas Department of Agriculture
Reagan V. Brown, Commissioner

TEXAS CONSUMERS may be buying short-weight packaged food in supermarkets without knowing it, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has stated.

"Texas statutes require all packaged food to contain the exact amount stated on the label, within certain tolerances," Brown said. "However, a ruling by the U.S. Supreme Court last summer now prevents the Texas Department of Agriculture from enforcing these laws.

"Basically, it was ruled that federal standards take precedence over state laws. These federal regulations allow foods packaged under U.S. government supervision to vary in net weight because of moisture loss during shipping," he said.

Brown noted that some foods, such as bacon or ham, could lose up to three ounces in juices and other fluids during transportation. This may not seem like a great deal to the individual, but when multiplied by millions of packages statewide, the costs to the consuming public are substantial.

THE TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE will step up its testing of imported fruits and vegetables for pesticide residues thanks to a recent grant from the Environmental Protection Agency, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has announced.

"The $403,500 grant was awarded mainly to enlarge the size and capacity of the TDA pesticide testing laboratory in Brenham," Brown said. "In addition to the usual regulatory work, we have increased the number of samples of imported fruits and vegetables that we are checking."

The Food and Drug Administration has total responsibility for sampling Mexican produce for pesticide residues, Brown pointed out. However, because of recent citizen concern, the Department is supplementing the efforts of the FDA at the border.

DROUGHT IS ALWAYS AN UGLY WORD to Texas farmers and ranchers, and this year will be no exception, according to Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

"Some areas of the state, particularly in South and West Texas, have received under 50 percent of their normal rainfall, and some have had no appreciable rain since last summer," Brown noted.

The drought has slowed spring planting in some locations, and dryland winter wheat fields in the High Plains are suffering, he said. The dry weather will also increase irrigation costs tremendously.

"One of the starkest effects of the drought is the sight of dead cattle which have perished from starvation in deep South Texas," Brown said. "These are grim reminders of how closely the fortunes of many agricultural producers follow the weather."

Auction sales of pastured livestock are up over last year as herd liquidation becomes a reality for many, he said. However, by the time the decision to sell out is made, many cattle are too poor to bring a decent price.

IN COLORADO

Mr. and Mrs. Bud McCarty visited recently in Colorado with their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Johnson, Stacy and Heather of Evergreen, Colorado, where they helped Stacy celebrate her eighth birthday.

Also visiting the Johnsons was Tannie Montandon of Munday.

The group enjoyed sight-seeing in Denver and other interesting places.

THE TAX PICTURE

How New Social Security Law Affects You

If you are an employee covered by Social Security, your taxes will be going up, but so may your benefits.

That is made clear in a 1978 report from Price Waterhouse & Co., a leading accounting firm. It says that the 1977 Social Security amendments have been described as the largest peacetime tax increase in U. S. history.

1. Instead of paying taxes on the first $17,700 of their income as in 1978, people in 1987 will be taxed on the first $42,600 of their income, if they earn that much.

2. The amount of tax you pay will go up as your income goes up. A person who earns $10,000 in 1978 will pay $605 in 1978, and $715 in 1987—an increase of less than 20 percent. But a person who earns $40,000 will pay $1,071 in 1978, and $3,046 in 1987—an increase of 285 percent.

BENEFITS: UP

1. If you have earned up to $10,000 a year, your monthly old-age benefits will be more than 40 percent of your wages.

2. If you are earning more than about $20,000 a year, your substantial increase of Social Security taxes will result in a benefit increase of only about 15 percent—far from commensurate with the additional taxes.

3. If you delay retirement past age 65, your benefits will be increased by one-fourth of 1 percent for each month between 65 and 72 that you do not draw benefits.

BENEFITS: DOWN

1. If you retire after 62 but before 65, your benefits will be reduced by five-ninths of 1 percent for each month that you collect benefits before 65.

IMPORTANT CHANGES IN THE SOCIAL SECURITY LAW affect most Americans.

2. If you retire before 65, cost-of-living increases for benefits will now be computed on your reduced benefit.

OTHER POINTERS

1. In 1978, the amount of money you can earn while still receiving full social security benefits will be $4,000; in 1982, it will be raised to $6,000.

2. If you retire before 65, your maximum earning level is unchanged by the new law.

3. Beginning in 1982, the age at which you can receive full social security benefits—regardless of the amount you earn—will be lowered to 70.

Michael F. Klein, Jr., partner in charge of Employee Benefits consulting for Price Waterhouse, says that because the social security tax increases for middle income employees would be so steep, Congress is considering some relief. But any relief would have to come from the Government's general revenues, which means either additional income taxes or more deficit spending.

Streams In Desert Places

By Ozelle Stephens

"Exalt the Lord our God, and worship at his holy hill; for the Lord our God is holy." (Psalms 99:9).

In continuing with the holiness code we find it very similar with the covenant code in Exodus 21:23, which is God's promise to always be with his people and bless them. It contains religious rules for living. Why we should be holy? We have to be holy in him, in our thoughts, actions and deeds, because he is holy. Jesus is coming back for a holy people. The holiness of God expresses his basic nature. He is unique. There is none like him. He is sacred. His nature is totally unlike the sinful nature of man; however, he is concerned about man's sins.

God's holiness demands awe and reverence from man. It demands man to worship him and him alone. This places a tremendous burden on us as Christians; this makes us unique and distinct people. When we love and worship God as our holy God, then his power reaches down and lifts us out of our sinful selves and sets us apart. It gives us power to live in his presence and through the blood of Jesus we become cleansed and holy.

Dyess Air Force Plans Open House

The Air Force Thunderbirds aerial demonstration team and the Army's Golden Knights parachute demonstration team will highlight the Dyess Air Force Base Open House, Wednesday, June 14.

The Open House, which begins at 10:00 a.m. and lasts until 4:00 p.m., will also feature static displays and a flyover by Strategic Air Command's SR-71 "Blackbird."

During the 1978 season, the Thunderbirds are celebrating their 25th birthday—a quarter century of displaying graceful, intricate maneuvers of precision aerobatics. Assigned to the Tactical Air Command, the T-birds represent the best in technical schooling, training and hard work.

Flying the T-38 Talon, a supersonic trainer which once held 12 world records, the Thunderbirds are led by Lieutenant Colonel Dan Cherry. Other team members include Major Walt Parker and Captains Ron Maness, Jim Coziarh and Gail "Scar" Scarbrough.

While the Thunderbirds stay in their aircraft, the Golden Knights will be jumping out of their's from an altitude of 13,000 feet. The team performs aerial acrobatics with split-second timing while free-falling at nearly 200 miles per hour. After Autumn Malze - Here the artist captures the grain that's as native to America as the Indians. The emphasis is on the harvest season when the crops are ripe.

Winter Wheat - In this painting Dan focuses on an interesting contrast in nature. Wheat, the staff of life, is pictured during the winter season when nature lies dormant and lifeless.
