Four Are Awarded Lone Star Degrees

Four Knox City-O'Brien High School seniors were awarded Lone Star Farmer degrees during the 50th annual Future Farmers Convention held July 12-14 in the San Antonio Convention Center.

Receiving their degrees were David Counts, Jonathan Godsey, and Shane Johnston. Also receiving the degree but unable to attend was Skipper Jackson.

The Lone Star Farmer degree, which 85 boys received on Wednesday, July 12, from 32 schools in the Big Country, is the highest degree offered by the state association. From each area's Lone Star Farmers, a top student is chosen and from these "stars" only one is selected as the Star Lone Star Farmer, which was awarded to Benny Boatright of Winters.

Stamford FFA had eight members to receive their Lone Star Farmers degrees which indicates that Knox City's four member total is quite an accomplishment. Selected as State FFA President during the convention was Mark Baker of Arlington while delegates named Kimberly Jordan of West Sabine (Pineland) as the new State FFA Sweetheart.

Others attending the convention from Knox City were Gaylynn Burkham, Kelley Boone, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dillon, and Mary Counts.

Booster Club To Meet Friday

Members of the Knox City Greyhound Booster Club will hold their first meeting of the year, Friday, July 28, at 7:30 p.m. in the vocational agriculture building on the Knox City campus.

Business to be discussed includes plans for the upcoming barbecue as well as other events scheduled during the year.

Knox County History Is Being Republished

The Knox County history, a treasure of facts and stories about Knox County collected by the Knox County Historical Survey Committee in 1966, is being republished and will be available in early September, according to the publisher, Nortex Publishing Company of Quahan.

Those who have lost their copies and those who failed to get one at the first publication in 1966 will be given another opportunity to obtain the book. The re-issue will contain the same text as the original, in addition it will have indexes of surnames and subjects which have been compiled by a Truscott history committee.

This project is a continuation of the Truscott Bicentennial project to work for the publication of material on Knox County history.

There have been a growing number of requests for the book, which the original committee sold out within a short time of publication. It was bought up so fast by residents and former residents that even major Texas history libraries, such as the Southwest Collection at Tech, failed to get copies.

The last known sale of the book was in early 1978 when a collector called the former publisher of the Haskell Free Press, which published the book, and bought his last copy, at three times the original price.

"We spent hundreds of hours and used thousands of cards to work out the indexes," says Mrs. Virginia Casey, chairman of the Truscott committee. "We hope it will be helpful to everyone interested in Knox County history."

"Everyone in the county," she added, "should be grateful to the group of women headed by Mrs. C.C. Hoge which put the book together, with the late Mrs. Josephine Hooper Campbell acting as publications chairman. They recorded priceless material which would not be available today, only 12 years later, because so many of the early settlers and their families are gone."

Index committee members discovered such community names as Cold Corner, Kaso-See HISTORY Pg. 3

County Can Use Restricted Pesticide

AUSTIN - Knox County has been added to the list cleared for use of five restricted pesticides for use on cotton due to extensive bollworm-budworm destruction, the Texas Department of Agriculture has announced.

According to Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown, cotton producers have been given clearance to use the pesticides Bolstar, Ambush, Pounce, Pydrin and Curacron.

"Knox County has met requirements set by the Environmental Protection Agency of five per cent minimum infestation," Brown said.

Under the emergency regulations, farmers must show that the pests cannot be controlled with conventional sprays. An entomologist from the Texas Department of Agriculture of Texas A&M University must check the fields before the restricted chemicals will be released.

Brown said TDA is responsible for authorizing purchase of the chemicals and supervision of spraying.

Two Are Named To Who's Who

The News office was notified Monday of this week that Jonathan Godsey and Skipper Jackson, both Knox City-O'Brien High School seniors, have been nominated for honorary award recognition and will have their biographies published in the 1977-78 edition of "Who's Who Among American High School Students."

As recipient of this honor, the boys are also eligible to apply for $40,000 in scholarship grants.

Recognition in "Who's Who" is a national honor reserved exclusively for junior and senior class high school students who have demonstrated leadership or achievement in either academics, athletics, extra-curricular activities or community service. Recommendations are received from thousands of high schools and youth program sponsors at the national and local levels. On a national basis, less than five per cent of the junior and senior class students are featured in "Who's Who" each year.

Johnathan and Skipper both received their Lone Star Farmer Degrees held at the recent Future Farmers of America Convention held in San Antonio and are active members of FFA winning numerous awards at local and county livestock shows as well as at the larger livestock exhibition shows.

Johnathan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Godsey of O'Brien and Mr. and Mrs. James Jackson of Knox City are Skipper's parents.

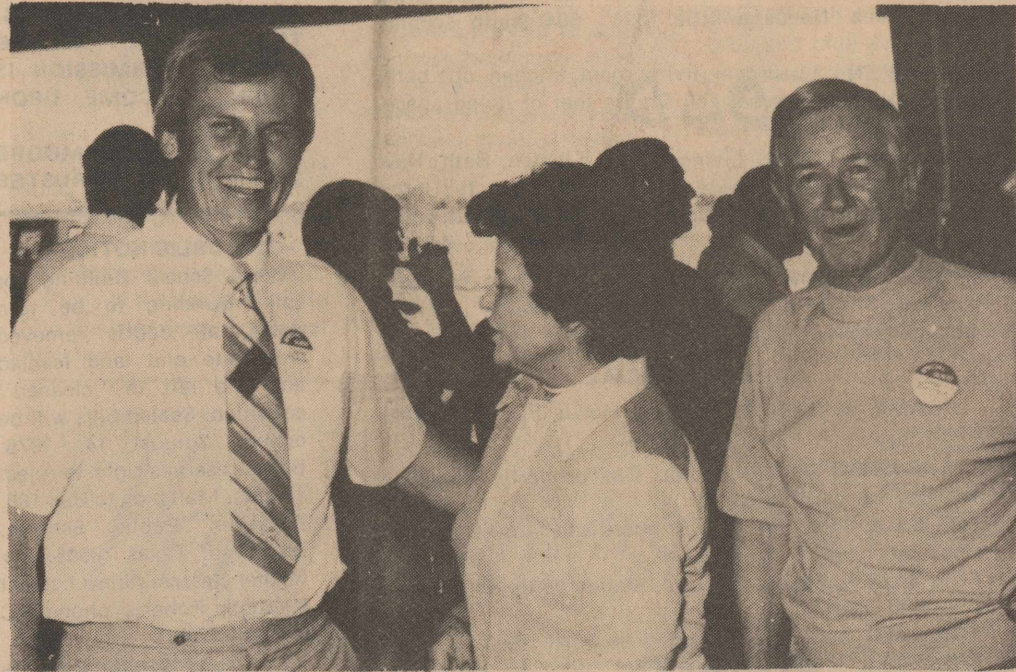

Pre-Enrollment Asked For Dancers

Chisai Childs of Grapevine, who is beginning dance lessons in Knox City Monday, September 11, is asking interested persons to pre-register with applications included in her ads in this week's News.

Miss Childs will be here next Thursday, August 3, at the Kennel in the City Park to register. However, she urges those who will to pre-enroll as this will eliminate waiting for some of those who are coming from out-of-town.

Limited enrollment in the classes is necessary for students to receive the attention needed and this is another reason Miss Childs is asking that those who can pre-register.

Everyone who is planning to enroll, whether or not they have pre-registered, is asked to be at the Kennel August 3 between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m.

Burleson Endorses Stenholm

Charles Stenholm received a public endorsement from retiring veteran Cong. Omar Burleson recently in Mineral Wells. The endorsement came after the two had appeared together several times during Stenholm's recent campaigning.

Stenholm is the Democratic nominee to "fill the shoes" of Burleson as the 17th District's new Congressman.

"I am so glad you have selected as my successor Charles Stenholm," Burleson opened his remarks. He closed his introduction of Stenholm by stating, "I take great pride in presenting for you and with you Charles Stenholm, our next Congressman."

Burleson was on hand for his public endorsement at a Stenholm Appreciation Get-Together/Fish Fry. The more than 300 persons braving the 106 degree temperature to attend the gathering gave both Burleson and Stenholm standing ovations as they each approached the platform. Stenholm was interrupted seven times with applause from his supporters.

Burleson, who is retiring after 32 years of representing the 17th District in Congress, noted that Stenholm would be going to Congress at about the same age as he did. "But I think he is better qualified. He is one of the finest young men I have known, and I have known him about all of his life. He's (Stenholm) well qualified and equipped to go. Better than I. I think you are going to have better representation. I think he is a man who can meet the challenges of the time."

Further praising Stenholm, Burleson said, "Charlie will go to Washington and know which way the citizens of this great country are going and if they are going in the right direction. He will be there leading. I have the confidence in him. You'll make no mistake by wholeheartedly supporting this man. That is one way we can know that our country is in the best hands possible," Burleson concluded.

Stenholm opened his remarks by noting that "It's quite an humbling experience for a man of 39 to be introduced by a man (Burleson) who has served this country so well for 32 years."

Stenholm continued by telling his supporters, "The reason I am here today is because of the people, like yourselves here tonight, in the entire 17th District. People are essential in a political race. There are a little over 1,000 people involved in our behalf. That's why we won the runoff, and that is why we will win in November."

"Our campaign philosophy will remain the same as it has from the beginning," Stenholm continued. "We still plan to run hard, talk about the issues, be sincere, and meet as many people as possible."

"Come next January, we will attempt to fill Omar's shoes, but we'll have to wear out another pair doing it," Stenholm said as he praised Burleson.

"Convincing 217 of my fellow Congressmen to vote the way we think in the 17th District will be one of my toughest jobs. The way you feel we ought to vote on the issues that come before Congress is the way I will have to convince the other 217."

King County Lions To Hold Youth Rodeo

The seventh annual King County Lions Club Youth Rodeo has been scheduled for August 3, 4, and 5 at Guthrie, Texas.

Events in three age divisions include bareback and bull riding, tie down and ribbon roping, barrel, flag, and pole races. Open events are ribbon and team roping and flag and barrel race.

According to the club's ad in this week's News, more information may be obtained by calling (806)596-4564. Trophies and cash prizes will be awarded.

Also, a dance has been scheduled for both Friday and Saturday night, August 4 and 5.

ALTHOUGH THIS MIGHT LOOK LIKE the aftermath of a storm, actually these buildings on Central Avenue north of the Mobil Station are being torn down to make room for additional parking and a mini-park to beautify the downtown business district. Several months ago the Knox City Chamber of Commerce took the improvement as a project with businessman David Counts as the Chamber official in charge. Counts said that plans call for the area to be leveled with 10 or 15 feet of the front area being set aside for the mini-park with several shade trees and park type benches. The area near the street will be sealed off and access to the parking will come from the back, Counts said.

City Officials Say

Water Situation Remains Critical

City secretary Faye Railsback reported to the News office early this week that the city's water situation, though improved, remains critical because of the drought.

Mayor Kenneth Crownover and city council members expressed their appreciation to residents for their fine cooperation and reported that by conserving water, it has eased the situation somewhat.

Service stations have resumed car washing and city officials have approved residents' outside watering if it is done 'sparingly'. They urge citizens to continue to conserve and use water only as necessary to keep shrubbery, trees, and gardens alive.

Officials suggest that residents south of the Munday highway water their yards on Mondays and Thursdays and those north of the highway water on Tuesdays and Fridays.

Mrs. Railsback reported that the city is no longer selling tank water at the loading dock and has not done so in about six weeks. Several oil companies have heretofore purchased water from the city.

Rain Teases KC Residents

It rained here Saturday! Not much, but it did rain some and even though only a scant amount of moisture was received in town, it did bring relief from the over 100-degree temperatures suffered for too many consecutive days. The Plant Materials Center, four miles northwest of Knox City, has recorded temperatures above 100 since 21, with the exception of one day, July 4, when it 'dipped' down to 98.

Lee Smith, who lives west of town, reported 1.2 inches of hard rain, with strong winds and the uprooting of several trees near his house. O'Brien residents reported approximately one-half inch with heavier amounts of two to three inches reported west of town near the river. Benjamin reported amounts of one-half to one inch of precipitation.

Local Pharmacist At State Meeting

Martha Jones, registered pharmacist and co-owner of H-M Jones Pharmacy Inc., was in San Antonio last week to attend the annual convention of the Texas Pharmaceutical Association held July 15-20.

Courses are offered each year whereby pharmacists may receive additional hours of continuing education, necessary to meet consulting requirements for nursing homes' medicare and medicare.

Martha received an additional 20 hours, primarily in lectures in ophthalmology, pharmacy consulting to nursing homes, and drug monitoring.

O'Brien Gin Team Wins LL Tourney

Team members of the O'Brien Co-Op Gin, coached by Jimmy White, captured first place in last weekend's softball tournament to benefit the Little League.

Second place winners were the Munday Weevils, coached by Daron Parker, with the Seymour Merchants, led by Gilbert Kotulek, placing third.

O'Brien's record for this year is 21 wins and no losses. According to Roland Marion, tournament chairman, the event raised approximately $1,060.00 for Little League baseball. Marion also noted that this year's amount collected exceeded the previous two year totals combined and expressed appreciation to everyone who helped with the tourney.

Union Grove Homecoming Set

Exes of Union Grove are now making plans for their homecoming to be held August 5 and 6 at the Community Center, 212 South Third, Avenue B.

According to officials, all exes are asked to bring a basket lunch.

ga, Maud, Orient, White Flat and Coyote.

The importance of freighting by wagon was indicated by numerous references to area towns such as Seymour, Stamford, Quanah, and Wichita Falls to get supplies or to sell cotton or wheat.

They realized anew the loneliness of the empty prairie when reading how Bud Holt of the Goree area came to the school house on the opening day with a sulky plow, and plowed a furrow across the prairie for his children to follow home.

An index reference to "entertainment" covers everything from community picnics and camp meetings to "watching the cattle drives and freight trains."

Especially interesting to the committee, but sure to cause arguments, is the index of "firsts". They indexed two incidents of "first cotton in Knox County" eight years apart!

"It's in the book," the indexers say, but they wonder if the original committee didn't take a similar turn by saying, "That is how it was turned in. You decide." County history can get sticky, especially when some of the participants or their descendants are still around.

Other firsts are first white child, first cars and first gins. A shorter listing of "lasts" includes the last buffalo and last wild horses in the county.

Land prices, land filing, dugouts, log cabins, cisterns, and cotton prices are other references which will interest readers.

The newly indexed Knox County history books are available through the committee for a pre-publication price of $13.00 plus $1.52 per copy for mailing and tax. The books will be delivered in September.

KEEP WATER SAFE

During the summer season, people take to the water in huge numbers, and accident figures reflect it. Swimming pools and beaches are fun, of course, but can be hazardous to the careless or unwary. Near drownings, jellyfish stings, cuts from glass, eye abrasions from windblown sand—all may require a physician's treatment.

Everyone, especially children, should be aware of proper safety rules. Young children should never be permitted to swim unsupervised—no matter how well they claim to be able to swim.

Angelo State Prexy Named To WTU Board

Dr. Lloyd D. Vincent, president of Angelo State University, has been named to the Board of Directors of West Texas Utilities Company.

His election was announced Friday morning in Abilene at a regular WTU board meeting, which was attended by Dr. Vincent.

He was presented by Durwood Chalker, president and chief executive officer of WTU, who said he was "immensely pleased" at having Dr. Vincent become a director.

Chalker told the board that Dr. Vincent has been "much more than just a college president" since he moved to San Angelo in 1967. He mentioned Dr. Vincent being chosen by the San Angelo Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development as Citizen of the Year in 1975 for "outstanding leadership and abilities so generously given to his community during the year."

"This means," Chalker said, "that WTU must share him with other good and worthy extracurricular affairs."

"The fact that most of Angelo State's student body comes from West Texas Utilities service area and that its campus is in one of the company's principal cities appeals to us," Chalker said, "but we were attracted to Dr. Vincent because of his own accomplishments."

Dr. Vincent holds three degrees, including the Ph.D. in nuclear physics, from the University of Texas at Austin. He taught physics at the University of Southwestern Louisiana, at Texas A&M University, and at Sam Houston State University before becoming president of Angelo State.

He also participates in numerous professional activities, and has held leading positions in educational organizations.

Dr. Vincent takes the place on the board formerly held by W.K. (Bill) Ramsey, who was WTU's district manager at San Angelo before retiring July 1.

Controlling Animal Damage

By Deena Pattillo
Wildlife Damage Control Specialist

Have you every seen those brown animals that come out of the ground and look like dogs? They are called prairie dogs but really belong to the ground squirrel family. Most of the time they inhabit areas that possess short grass type plants, because if the grass was too heavy or too tall, the prairie dog could not see as well as he would like.

You never see one prairie dog. They live in groups, thus giving the name "Prairie Dog Towns". A home can have several entrances, and each entrance looks similar to a miniature crater. This serves as a lookout point and also prevents flash floods in the home. Prairie dogs are most active in the morning and evening. Their diet consists mainly of low growing weeds and grasses.

It is highly questionable as to whether prairie dogs cause damage. There does exist a relationship between prairie dogs and livestock. When prairie dogs move in, they eat down all the grass around their home in order to see. Because there is no grass, the livestock leave the area. As the grass gets out of control, the prairie dog leaves and livestock move in. Also, if prairie dogs eat down the existing grasses, the next group of grasses may not be as good a quality as the original grasses. Thus, there may be some competition between prairie dogs and livestock, but it has not really been proven. Prairie dogs may be in a position to damage cultivated crops also.

Under any of these circumstances, control may be needed. Strichnine can be used to control prairie dogs by placing untreated bait at the entrance of each hold until they begin regular feeding. Then place out the treated bait (1 tablespoon) at each hold for one night. BE SURE TO FOLLOW THE DIRECTIONS ON THE CHEMICAL LABEL. Carbon Tetrachloride, a type of fumigant, may be used by injecting a small amount into a dried gourd and rolling it into the hole. You can also wrap a rock with cotton and then cover it all in foil. Before closing up the foil, pour a small amount of carbon tetrachloride on the cotton.

Wheat Producers, Directors To Meet

Texas wheat farmers reeling from the harvest of less than half of a 1978 crop but faced with declining prices due to the addition of 200 million bushels to the previous 1.1 billion bushel carry-over stocks because of good yields throughout the rest of the Nation, will meet to map strategy for next year in two area meetings. Otis Harman, Tillia, president of the Amaricillo based Texas Wheat Producers Association said that High Plains area county Association directors will meet in Amarillo Wednesday, August 2, at the Texas A&M Research and Extension Center. A similar session will be held for the Rolling Plains area leadership Thursday, August 3, at the Research and Extension Center, southwest of Vernon.

Harman said that on June 27, Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland indicated that he would, by August 15, announce government provisions for the 1979 wheat crop. At that time he invited individual farmers and their organizations to make recommendations for his consideration on such matters as the level of set-aside acres, if any, the desired level of price support loan rates, the National Program acreage, whether to graze set-aside and/or crop acreage and more. Harman said, "We will be asking the county directors to help draft a position statement on these and other items."

The Association officer indicated that Texas A&M-Research and Extension personnel will outline current programs progress on wheat research and education activities and seek direction from the producer-leaders for priorities for future endeavors. Jerry Rees, executive vice president of the National Association of Wheat Growers, Washington, D.C. will participate in both sessions

NEWS OF HEALTH

HOW TO AVOID POISON AT THE PICNIC

Millions of Americans are poisoned by foods prepared at home and eaten at picnics, work or school. The National Sanitation Foundation (NSF) notes that two families of bacteria are the principal villains—salmonella and staphylococci ("staph"). The sickness may only last a day or two and be mistakenly blamed on a "bug," a "virus" or on "indigestion."

Mayonnaise, salad dressing, egg sauces and custards need to be kept cold until just before eating. They are excellent culture mediums in which microbes can multiply and produce intestinal poisons known as enterotoxins.

NSF scientists offer these suggestions:

1. Do not let foods containing moisture or fat stand around for long periods of time in a warm kitchen.
2. Sandwiches, salads and desserts intended for picnics or other away-from-home consumption should be stored in a refrigerator until just before leaving. The same rule applies to meats that are to be cooked at a picnic.

3. Carry picnic meals in a portable food chest which contains ice or frozen freezer cans.

4. When possible, store brown bag lunches in a refrigerator at school or work until just before lunch.

5. Never eat food from a bulging can or a food container that squirts upon opening. The contents may contain C. botulinum, the cause of botulism, and deadliest of all food poisons.

6. Observe this rule about suspicious foods: "When in doubt, throw it out."

IN LUBBOCK
Mrs. Neal Logan was in Lubbock Wednesday through Saturday of last week where she visited with her son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Lanny Logan, Ethan and Christian.

Christian underwent surgery Friday at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock and was dismissed Saturday. According to Mrs. Logan, he is doing just fine.

Lillian was in Lubbock to attend the School of Christian Missions for the United Methodist Women held in Chitwood Dorm on the campus of Texas Tech University. Also attending the School of Missions was Helen Patterson.

Fred V. Barbee Heads Texas Press Association

Fred V. Barbee Jr., newly elected president of the Texas Press Association, has announced that during his term of office he plans to keep members informed of legislative matters affecting them and of other changes within the industry which will have an impact upon the over 600 newspapers in Texas.

Fred V. Barbee

The highest official in the Texas Press Association, Barbee is a past president of both the West Texas Press Association and the Texas Gulf Coast Press Association.

He is active in the Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce, First United Methodist Church and numerous other community organizations.

Both Eleanor and Fred are life members of the University of Texas Extension Students Association and all three of their children are UT-exes.

Barbee is currently serving as chairman of a special five-man committee of newsmen advising the Texas Department of Health on dissemination of news. He formerly served on a select committee of newspaper editors and publishers appointed by the Board of Regents of the University of Texas System and the Chancellor to study student publications at the Arlington, Austin and El Paso campuses. The committee submitted recommendations on relationships in teaching journalism and its practical application.

Daily Reporter, as its publisher. He was one of the youngest publishers in the state at age 23. And Eleanor was a young woman's editor.

Five years later, in 1957, C. C. Woodson (who had owned those papers) and Barbee moved 40 miles west from Lamesa's cotton fields to the oil patch community of Seminole where they purchased the Seminole Sentinel. Barbee published the Sentinel for 11 years prior to buying the El Campo newspaper and radio station, in partnership with Woodson and his long-time friend, Elam.

The 49-year-old publisher of the El Campo Leader-News is a major stockholder in other publishing and broadcasting companies in Texas. He is a Texan and a newspaperman by birth and an avid University of Texas Longhorn fan by choice.

Barbee's communications career has covered wide areas, from radio broadcaster to university student publications adviser.

Currently, not only does he own and publish the Leader-News, but he owns stock in the corporation owning the Edna Herald, the Ganado Tribune and the Wharton Journal-Spectator.

Barbee is president of Bar-B Broadcasting, Inc., owners and operators of Radio Station KULP AM/FM in El Campo. At one time Barbee and one of his partners, Dick Elam, secured the franchise for cable TV in El Campo. They sold their interests in this about three years ago.

Born in Cleburne, Barbee began at age 12 carrying a paper route in the afternoons for the Brownwood Bulletin and in the mornings for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Later he was advanced to janitor of the Bulletin for which his father was a printer and mechanical superintendent. Soon young Fred Jr. became a "printer's devil"—an apprentice. He worked in the afternoons and summers for four years, after which he graduated from Brownwood High School and entered the University of Texas, Austin. He promptly was hired as a senior apprentice at the University Press (1946), but by 1949, he was a journeyman printer working nights and going to school in the daytime.

Two important things happened to Barbee in 1950: he received his BBA degree from the university and he married Eleanor McColl whom he had been dating since Brownwood High Schools days. She received her bachelor of journalism degree from UT in 1949—and since their marriage, has worked with him on all his communications ventures.

At the present time, she is woman's editor of the El Campo Leader-News and an able and effective "partner" with Barbee.

The Leader-News is actually a family enterprise. The third generation newspaperman is Chris, the Barbee's eldest son, who is managing editor.

Their other children are David, a buyer with Foley's in Houston, and Karon (Mrs. Ted Fulmer), who is employed with Associates Financial Services national office at Irving, Texas.

The two years after university graduation, Barbee stayed on at the University Press because, as he says, "the union scale was higher than offers for someone with a degree—and, besides, I could continue to watch the Texas Longhorns play football."

In 1952, the Barbees, now with young Chris, moved to Miami, OK, where he worked in the advertising department of the Miami News-Record. But three months later, the owner of the News-Record, called upon him to return to a sister paper, the Lamesa

Streams In Desert Places
By Ozelle Stephens

"FROM PAUL, THE slave of God and the messenger of Jesus Christ: I have been sent to bring faith to those God has chosen and to teach them to know God's truth - the kind of truth that changes lives - so that they can have eternal life, which God promised them before the world began - and He cannot lie." (Titus 1:1-2).

Paul had visited in Crete. He saw the condition of the church people there; their hearts were full of evil and untrusting - they found evil in everything. Their dirty minds and rebellious hearts colored all they saw. They hated instead of loved; they gossiped instead of praying.

So Paul left Titus there and told him to choose his helpers who had pure hearts of love; who were filled with the spirit of God so they could be led into deeper depths of God's truths and obey his commands and laws. Then they would be able to live up to God's standard of truth and help bring the lost to a knowledge of salvation.

Remember to be a blessing in your church and community, keep your heart full of the love of God, His faith and truth that changes lives, and help people to have eternal life.

FROM WICHITA FALLS

Temi Baker of Wichita Falls was a weekend visitor in the home of her parents, the W.R. Bakers.

FLB Announces Rate Increase On Loans

Joe Harper, manager of the Federal Land Bank Association of Haskell, announced today that The Federal Land Bank's billing rate on farm and ranch loans and rural residence loans will be increased from 7 3/4% to 8%, effective August 1, 1978.

The Houston Bank introduced the variable rate plan in 1969 which allows the billing rate to increase or decrease with the variations in the money market. In making this announcement, Harper stated, "The Bank's decision was necessitated because of the increase in the cost of money with the most recent bond issue sold by the Bank selling at 8.72% average effective rate. Also, that an 8% rate was certainly very competitive under today's monetary conditions."

The Federal Land Bank of Houston makes long-term real estate loans on farm and ranch land and rural residences throughout Texas, and now has $1.3 billion in loans outstanding. The local association makes and services loans in Haskell, Jones, Baylor and Knox Counties.

Drive Line

Facts from a pro on driving to survive.

Q. I've always wondered what safety measures I could take if my brakes ever failed.— N. M., Diboll

A. If you have an automatic transmission, shift to a lower range and apply the emergency (parking) brake. With a standard transmission, shift to a lower gear and apply the emergency brake. Pump the brake pedal. This may build up pressure in the brake lines and get the brakes to work. If necessary, find something to sideswipe and use your horn or lights to warn others that you are out of control.

Q. I'm confused about how to make a right turn on red. I've seen some drivers treat the red light as they would a stop sign; others treat it as a yield sign.— D.H., Uvalde

A. Right turns on red are now legal throughout the state of Texas. This means that a driver may turn right at a red light after stopping and yielding the right-of-way to traffic at or near the intersection. Some intersections prohibit right turns on red, so first check to see that there is no sign present saying NO RIGHT TURN ON RED.

The same law holds true for making left turns from a one-way street into another one-way street. First stop at the red light, yield, then turn. Make sure you have signalled your intention at least 100 feet before the turn. And remember, never make a turn on red if a sign at the intersection prohibits it.

Q. Are the speed limit signs in construction areas in effect on weekends when the workmen aren't there? — R. C., Knox City

A. Yes. Those are black and white signs, and according to law they must be observed. Sometimes the black and white signs are removed when work is not underway; and sometimes orange and black signs are used, which warn of obstructions and debris from ongoing construction or repair.

If you have a question on driving, send it to:
