Rodeo Slated May 18-19

Show Set Saturday

By MARTI TACKITT

Brazos Valley Recreation Association officers and members have been busy this week preparing for the Open All-Breed Horse Show this Saturday, May 12, and the Junior Rodeo next weekend, May 18 and 19. Both will be held at the BVRA arena, just south of Knox City on State Highway 6 (283).

The horse show, which is open to riders of any age and both registered and non-registered horses, will begin at 9:00 a.m. and features a full day of halter, pleasure and speed classes, plus three "special" events new to this area. The Stallion Parade, to be held during the noon break of the show, will feature several top area stallions, shown individually. Shortly afterward, the Walk-Trot 8 & Under class, nicknamed the "grandbaby class" should offer special appeal to audience and participants alike. It should be a tough class to judge!

The last class of the day is the "Ride-a-Buck", where contestants try to keep a dollar bill under them as they perform without saddles.

Preliminary response to this class has been enthusiastic, and BVRA officials are looking forward to winding up the day's entertainment with some hilarious situations as the riders try to keep the bills between them and their slippery-coated mounts. There is no gate charge to spectators for the horse show, and everyone's invited to come and enjoy the fun.

The Junior Rodeo, an annual event, will be held the following weekend and promises to be the biggest and best one yet. Two beautiful $120 trophy buckles will be given away, one each to the All-Around Cowboy and All-Around Cowgirl for the rodeo.

A downtown parade, sponsored by the Knox City Chamber of Commerce, opens the rodeo festivities on Friday, May 18, at 5:00 p.m.

Jaycee-Ettes To Make MH Fund Drive

The Jaycee-Ettes of Knox City announce that they will go house to house during May to collect for mental health in this area.

Kay Pepper is chairperson for the May drive to benefit the Mental Health Association in Texas.

Money raised by the Jaycee-Ettes' campaign supports such projects as the monitoring of community mental health facilities to see that they are effective and responsive and the improving of public attitudes regarding mental health, which are conducted by the volunteer agency.

The association is not a state agency and must rely on private contributions to carry on its work on behalf of the mentally ill and to promote mental health.

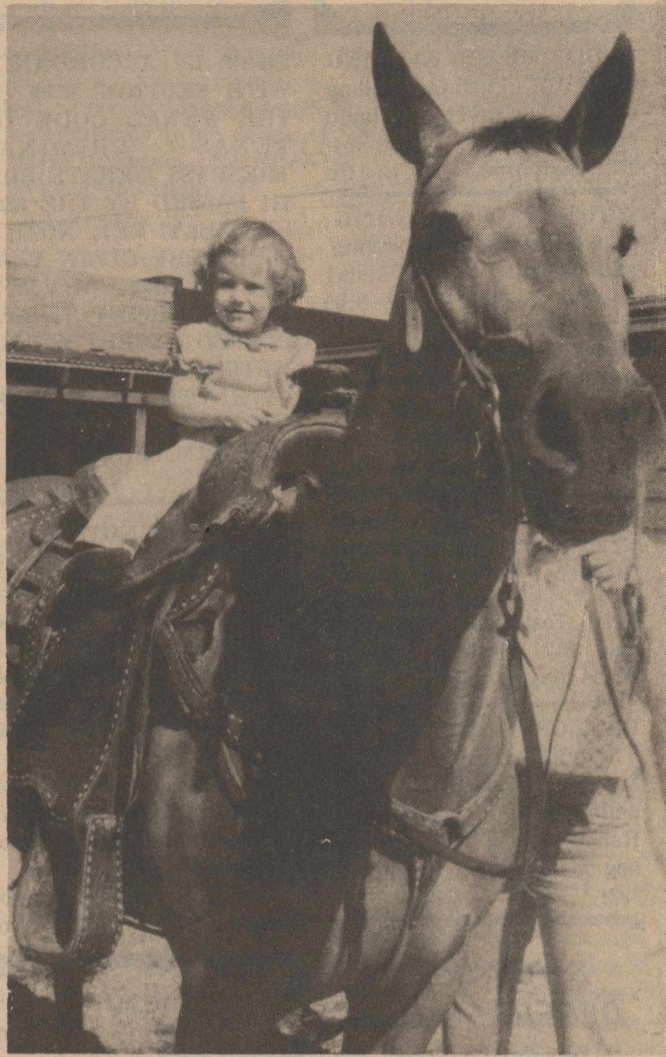

Since one of every six or seven Americans needs mental health care at any given moment, public support is greatly needed.

Class of 1949 Reunion Planned

Plans are presently underway for the first reunion ever held for the Class of 1949 of Knox City High School.

Date of the reunion has been tentatively set for June 9.

Class members are asked to contact either Bertha Rogers at (817) 658-3506 or Samuel Tankersley at 658-3816 after 5:00 p.m.

PROBABLY ONE OF the youngest participants in the Open Horse Show Saturday will be 16-month-old Tressie Boyd, pictured here on her mount Goldie. Tressie will compete in the walk-trot division for riders eight years old and under. Tressie's mother, Mrs. Shelton Boyd, will be assisting in her first competition.

Defending Champ To Compete Saturday

Defending Class A state high jump champion and record holder, David Walling, Knox City High School senior, who won a "return ticket" to state during regional competition in Odessa recently, will travel to Austin May 11-12 for the Texas State Track and Field Meet to be held at Memorial Stadium on the campus of the University of Texas.

David and his coach, Jimmy Rogers, will attend the two-day event which will feature state qualifiers on Friday from Class AA and AAA schools. Saturday will be the day David will compete as qualifiers from Class A as well as Class B and Class AAAA on the final day.

According to Coach Rogers, high jump competition begins Saturday morning at 10:00 however, Class B participants will start the event followed by Class A competitors.

David, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Walling, will be trying to break his last year's state record of 6-9 while in Austin. During this track season, David leaped to a 6-10 margin for his career best.

DAVID WALLING...returning to state

Walling traveled to Abilene Christian University Saturday to participate in a regional qualifiers meet and tied for second place in the high jump contest with Brad Richardson of Snyder at 6-8. Walling, Richardson, and first place winner Bart Boles of Eastland all posted jumps of 6-8; however, a jump-off was necessary to determine a first place winner in the meet.

Rodeo Parade Plans Underway

Knox City and area residents are reminded of the upcoming rodeo parade to kick off activities for the Knox City Junior Rodeo, Friday, May 18, beginning at 5:00 p.m.

According to Mrs. Doris Crowner, Chamber of Commerce secretary, organizations wishing to sponsor a float in the event are encouraged to do so as well as individuals on bicycles and horses.

Trophies will be presented to winners in the various contest divisions.

Ambulance Funds Badly Needed

Knox City and area folk are reminded that funds are still needed for the KC area Ambulance Fund which serves KC and the surrounding communities.

According to Faye Railsback, city manager, donations were received quite well for a while; however, they have slowed down somewhat during the past few months.

Persons wishing to make a donation, whether it be personal or in memory or honor of an individual, are asked to contact the City Hall.

For Special Students

O'Brien Mid-School To Host Big Country Olympics Friday

Students in previous years have attended the annual Special Olympics at Wichita Falls. However, this year for the first time, participation in Special Olympics is limited to retarded students, and because this would apply to such few students from this area, it was decided to schedule the Big Country Olympics at O'Brien where students have language learning disability as well as some other handicaps.

Participating in Friday's events will be students from Rotan High School, Rotan Junior High, Rotan Elementary, Aspermont Elementary, Aspermont Junior High, Haskell Junior High, Haskell Elementary, Munday, Goree, Weinert, Stamford High School, Stamford Junior High, Stamford Oliver, Stamford Reynolds, Anson, Hamlin Mid-School, Albany Elementary, Albany Junior High, Hawley, Knox City-O'Brien Elementary, and Knox City-O'Brien Mid-School.

Coca Cola Bottling Company of Stamford will be furnishing free Cokes to participants Friday, school officials said.

O'Brien Happenings

By CHARLENE BROTHERS

I'm telling you, between trying to close out the ginning season, finally, and getting ready to start on the final go round of the school taxes, I'm about ready to quit one job. It takes a pretty stupid person to do, or try to do, both jobs anyway. Either one of them should be a full time job, with all the new paperwork that has come up for both of them. Guess I'll stick with them both for a while longer anyway. I probably would go crazy if I was not busy all the time. Of course that may be part of my headache problem. And I have had one since Saturday morning, not continually, but just most of the time. Two different nights I have gone to sleep with a headache and woke the next morning with it, just like I had never been to sleep.

Have you noticed the difference in the dog population in O'Brien? It is a bad thing that we had to have the problem we did to get something done about the strays, or at least some dogs no one claims when it comes to doing something with them. Maybe the worst of the problem is over. We hope so, anyway. Now the cats.

I can't remember if I ever mentioned that O'Brien placed second in the district beautification program. Truscott placed first, of course I'm not telling that there were only two towns entered in the district. But we are proud of ourselves since we entered late and had so little time to work on it, also everyone was so busy at the time we should have been really working, so I think we did pretty well. At least we got some of the places cleaned up. I heard something about another town that sounded good to me. If anyone owns a vacant lot and they do not keep it clean, the City will go in and clean it up and send the owner a bill, and if it is not paid with the water and other city services bills, the interest is added each month until it is paid. Now this sounds bad, but it would be one way of keeping things in order. Would help on the insects in the summertime and the weed problem also. This might give O'Brien and probably some of the other towns around here something to think about.

I was also asked some time back to mention that during the bad weather season that Jim Wilkinson will be monitoring the radio for all the weather information he can get, and will let the residents of O'Brien know if anything is sighted.

HERE AND THERE

Mrs. Winnifred Benton of Fairfield, California, sister of Mildred Draper, has been visiting with the Draper family, the Grady Ellis family and her brother, Willie Sparks and wife. We have two people from O'Brien who have entered the hospital this week for tests and maybe surgery. Mrs. Elsie Pierson entered Hendrick Medical Center in Abilene Monday for tests and surgery on Friday. F.D. Emerson entered the Lubbock hospital Sunday afternoon for tests this week. We will want to remember these two and hope they have a speedy recovery.

Hubbard Lake Group

Hospital Member Of Special Group

Glen Rumley, administrator of the Knox County Hospital, in a news release today announced that the hospital is a member of the Hubbard Lake Hospital Group, Inc. This is an organization of 66 Texas hospitals and one New Mexico hospital and represents 2913 licensed beds. The purpose of the Group is to improve the operation of hospitals through voluntary effort on the part of the member-hospitals in the sharing of common problems through regular meetings and private conversations, the combining of purchasing power to get better pricing for the items necessary to operate the hospitals, to assist in in-service training with Junior Colleges for the Health Care Field, to promote better and proper patient care with common sense the key word, and to evaluate and either support or deny some of the proposed programs which are being generated by persons outside the health care delivery system.

People who have not been in the delivery of health care on a personal basis are not qualified to judge what is the best way to deliver proper health care. It is most complex with pressures from every angle and in some cases common sense is the only answer. What is prudent in the business world might be foolhardy in the health care field as it is dealing with human lives. This is not to say that good business practices should not be employed, but to run the health care delivery system with the coldness of a computer is unrealistic and most damaging to the patients' well being and health, commented a spokesman for the Group.

It is felt by the Hubbard Lake Hospital Group, Inc. there is a point of practicality which is relevant to proper patient care. Anything after that point is the start of the demise of the very thing hospitals have been trying to accomplish for years and that is to give proper care and still be able to progress with new procedures and technical know-how, to meet the demands of the public with realistic and solid programs, and to allow the free enterprise system to flourish rather than being dictated to by a government operated by bureaucrats that have only their Washington needs in mind. "These same bureaucrats have increased the cost of health care over the past fifteen years by dictating rules and regulations not directly related to patient care," the spokesman continued, "but were paid for by you, the patient, when you received an excessive hospital bill. Your government in Washington and, to some extent in Austin also, is responsible for higher health care costs and no one else can be blamed no matter what they say in their attacks on the health care delivery system, which is one of the best in the world today."

Periodically, the Hubbard Lake Hospital Group, Inc. will issue "How It is Papers" to help keep readers informed. "The way Washington says it is, is not truly the way it is in the health care delivery system. We know how it is because we work in it every day," said the spokesman.

Recipients Are Not Being Singled Out

Persons getting supplemental security income (SSI) payments shouldn't feel they're being singled out for investigation when they're contacted during the year by social security representatives, James H. Harper, Social Security Branch Manager in Vernon, said recently.

The SSI program makes monthly payments to people with little or no income and limited resources who are 65 and over or blind or disabled. The law requires that eligibility for SSI and the amount of the monthly payments be redetermined once a year for everyone getting the payments, Harper said.

The Social Security Administration gets in touch with people to get information about income, living arrangements, and other factors that might affect their SSI payments. This may be done by a questionnaire in the mail or by personal interview in the home or social security office.

Social Security representatives are glad to identify themselves, Harper said. They never ask anyone to give them money to have something done. It's their duty to help people - in any way they can - to get SSI payments in the right amount.

Persons may get information about SSI payments by calling, visiting, or writing any social security office. The Vernon Social Security Office is at 1701 Cumberland in Vernon and the phone number is 817-552-0346.

"The Book Report"

By Sharon Book
Assistant County Extension Agent

Bridal fashions for spring-summer '79 are traditional laces, contemporary soft, flowing fabrics, or a combination of both.

BRIDAL GOWNS

Traditional gowns are the most popular with antique laces, high Victorian necklines, tiered skirts, empire waist and princess styling.

Other popular styles include thin strips on bare shoulders with a lace or chiffon camisole, often covered with a soft capelet or blouson bodice. Soft, floppy skirts continue the feminine mood.

Bodice interest is often created with capelet collars, big smocks over flowing dresses, or chiffon blouses over Venise lace camisoles.

Popular traditional fabrics include soft chantilly lace or Venise appliques and intricate alencon laces. Soft, flowing styles are created with shiny light-weight knits, satin, moire, chiffon, silk and velvet.

BRIDESMAID GOWNS

ced skirts, capelets, tiered skirts and gathered shoulder. Important colors are violet, mauve, banana and dusty peach.

STUDIES SHOW

Most brides buy their gowns ready-made spending an average of $230.

The 16 percent who make or have their gowns made spend an average of $100 to $150, including fabric, trim, lace and notions.

Current pattern books feature a number of bridal fashions enabling today's bride to create a totally individualistic look.

Seay-Egenbacher Vows Repeated Saturday Evening In Dallas

Arched candelabra, ivy, and spring bouquets in colors of yellow and apricot formed the nuptial setting for the Saturday, May 5, wedding of Ann Craig Seay of Dallas and John Randy Egenbacher of Lubbock. Vows were exchanged at eight o'clock in the evening in the Church of the Incarnation in Dallas. The Father Suddeth R. Cummings, church pastor, officiated at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Tym F. Seay of Dallas and the late Mr. Seay. Mr. and Mrs. John Egenbacher of Knox City are parents of the bridegroom.

Wedding music was provided by Dr. Russell Brydon of Dallas, organist. Trumpeters were also used during the wedding march.

Presented in marriage by her brother, Tym F. Seay III, the bride selected a Neiman Marcus formal gown of ivory with re-embroidered Alencon lace and English net. The fitted bodice featured a scalloped wedding band neckline and long tapered English net sleeves with scattered lace motifs. Fashioned in princess silhouette, the semi A-line skirt, which was deeply bordered in the imported lace, swept to a chapel length train. The entire gown was lavishly beaded with bridal pearls. To complement her bridal ensemble, the bride wore a matching lace face-framer, daintily etched with pearls, which held a single tier of illusion that flowed over the back of the gown to beyond the train's length. Her bridal bouquet was a cascade of white orchids, gypsophilla, and stephanotis. Mrs. John Deal of Dallas was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Elmo Stephens Jr. of O'Brien, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Elaine Myers of Boulder, Colorado, Rene Storrie of Arlington, Terry Tittle of Midland, Mrs. Nancy Howard of Dallas, and Mrs. Vicki Horn of Lubbock. The feminine attendants wore formal length gowns in the bride's chosen color of apricot. Their polyester gowns were overlaid in chiffon and each carried a spring bouquet. They wore matching flowers and gypsophilla in their hair.

Best man was Elmo Stephens Jr. of O'Brien, brother-in-law of the bride. Groomsmen and ushers were Mike Reavis of Saudia Arabia, Tye Horn of Lubbock, Jim Johnston of Irving, Jimmy Don Moore, Danny Knox, and Carl Russell, all of Lubbock.

The bride's mother was attired in a formal length chiffon gown in mauve. An orchid complemented her outfit. Mrs. Egenbacher chose for her son's wedding an aqua formal gown of chiffon with ruffles at the neckline which were repeated on the sleeves. Her gown was also complemented with an orchid.

The reception, hosted by Mrs. Seay, was held at the Brookhollow Country Club in Dallas. A white bridal satin cloth covered the bride's table which held a six tiered wedding cake. White roses accented each separation with a cluster atop. The centerpiece was a tall silver epergne filled with white roses, orchids, and gypsophilla and accented with white tapers.

The bridegroom's table was decorated in the bride's chosen colors and a chocolate cake was served.

Finger sandwiches were served from another table covered with a cloth of various shades of apricot and yellow.

Reception music was provided by Dave Williams and his combo.

Rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's parents at the Brookhollow Country Club.

The bride is a graduate of Texas Tech University in Lubbock and was a Little Sister of Alpha Tau Omega.

Her husband attended Texas Tech University and is a member of Alpha Tau Omega. He is currently engaged in real estate in Lubbock.

Following a Caribbean cruise, the couple will make their home in Lubbock.
