KC Boosters Discuss Camera Purchase

In a called meeting Thursday night, the Knox City-O'Brien Greyhound Booster Club discussed the purchase of a much needed camera with which to film football games.

The filming of the games aids coaches and players in determining how well or how poorly plays are being executed and enables them to evaluate the strength and weakness in the defense. Last year's films were of such poor quality that many times they were of little value to coaches and players. It was decided that the purchase of the camera would be a primary goal for the organization.

In order to raise the necessary funds to purchase the camera, the Booster Club voted to sponsor a Slow-Pitch Tournament, which will be held here this month. Appointed chairman of the committee to organize the slow pitch tournament was Bobby Vasquez, with Roland Marion and David Counts serving on the committee. The committee noted that it would require the cooperation of the entire membership and the community to make the slow-pitch tournament successful

It was announced that the new scoreboard for the football field will be installed in August at Greyhound Stadium. Present plans are to move the present scoreboard to O'Brien to Bulldog Stadium, where it will be installed and renovated.

Plans were also discussed for the annual Booster Club Barbecue which is held in the City Park. August 17 was selected as the date for the barbecue. David Albus was named chairman of the barbecue committee. Serving with him will be Sammy B. White, Rev. John Gillespie and Henry L. White.

The group also approved the proposed slate of officers for the coming year presented by the nominating committee. They are Mary Ann Boone, president; Sammy B. White, vice president; and Kay Dean Johnson, secretary-treasurer.

Two year directors are J.B. Rutherford and Jimmy Lynn. One year directors are Henry L. White and Jimmy White.

Vandals Damage Schools

Approximately $500.00 damage was done by vandalism to the local schools here July 3, according to Supt. W.R. Bill Baker.

A rock hurled through a north library window also broke the small pane of glass in the library door and a showcase across the hall.

A glass entrance door to the elementary building, installed less than a year ago, was broken as was a skylight in the east end of the elementary building.

As will be noted in the public notice of this week's classified page, fifty dollars is being offered for information leading to the apprehension of anyone guilty of vandalism of public property operated under the management of the Knox City-O'Brien Consolidated Independent School District.

The District and all their taxpayers will benefit from the expertise of Mrs. Brothers, according to J.D. Whitmore, admission chairman, and W.J. Dodd, board chairman.

Efforts Continue With Parking Lot

More progress is being made toward the completion of the downtown parking lot, according to reports received by the News office this week.

Patterson Attends Lion Convention

Knox City Lion James Patterson was among members of the Texas delegation to attend the 62nd annual convention of the International Association of Lions Clubs in Montreal, Canada, June 20 through 23.

Patterson, who flew to Montreal from Dallas-Fort Worth Air Terminal, was involved in various breakfasts and meetings throughout the event.

James commented that the address of welcome by Jean Drapeau, mayor of Montreal, Quebec, Canada, was extended in both English and French, and he also noted that the presentation of the flags of the Nations of Lionism was most impressive. Both of these happenings occurred in the first plenary convention session held in Montreal Forum on Wednesday, June 20.

A convention highlight was the election of Ebb Grindstaff of Ballinger to the post of International third vice-president. Grindstaff addressed the Ladies Night Banquet in Knox City in June 1978.

The Ballinger High School Band and the famed Hardin-Simmons University Band added immensely to Texas' participation in the convention.

I know you people are going to think I have a one track mind, mentioning the homestead exemption so much, and right now I do, I think of them all day and sometimes even dream about them at night. Oscar and I were told if we did not get all of you to sign them we might even lose our jobs, no I'm only joking now. But we do need for all of you to come and sign the forms. We do not have the time, energy or money to come around and see everyone. It will only take a few minutes of your time, and will help us and you a lot. Remember also that this exemption is for young and old both, so long as you own and live in your home. So come by the office by July 20 and sign up. There will be someone here every day to help you. I am going to be gone Thursday and Friday, July 12 and 13, but someone will be here. Got to go to a meeting and try to learn some more about the new tax relief law for the schools and city, both. Veeta Reid will also be gone from the city, so if you need to see her, make plans to do so before July 12 or make it next week.

Do you mothers realize it is only seven weeks until school will start? The teachers will start in six weeks. And the way the past six or seven weeks have gone by, the next ones will go by as fast. So hold on to your minds, soon you can turn them over to the teachers again. Of course after they all get out of school, you are going to wish you had them at home some to help out with the work and to make the days pass faster.

KEEP IT COOL--Perfect for a summer luncheon, these turkey and fruit kabobs are a snap to make. Chunks of turkey ham, cheese and fresh peaches are a natural for dunking. # Officials Shocked At Clements' Veto

The presidents of the Texas Association of Counties and the County Judges and Commissioners Association of Texas have expressed their profound shock and dismay over Governor William P. Clements' veto of state assistance for county roads for the state fiscal year 1981.

Derwood Wimpee, Rockwall County Judge and president of the Texas Association of Counties stated that he was extremely surprised by Governor Clements' action and expressed the belief the governor may have been seriously misinformed about the operation of the Sunset Law.

"Based on the text of the Governor's veto message, it appears the Governor thought the Board of County and Road District Indebtedness could not operate after September 1, 1979."

Judge Wimpee said, "Unfortunately, the veto wiped out the 1981 appropriation to the counties of Texas for road maintenance and construction even though the Sunset Act makes provision for the distribution of an appropriation to an agency being abolished."

Judge Jerome Decker of Medina County and president of the County Judges and Commissioners Association of Texas also expressed his surprise over the veto and gave his support to Judge Wimpee's comments. "I cannot believe that a program as vital as this one is, could be intentionally vetoed by any Governor of Texas," Judge Decker stated. "The county judges and commissioners of Texas have always strongly supported a modern and efficient highway system composed of state highways supported by an extensive framework of county roads," he added.

Both Judge Decker and Judge Wimpee expressed the belief that Governor Clements also supported the county foundation upon which the state highway system was built. On behalf of their respective associations, the two presidents released the following statement:

In 1951, the legislature provided that $7.3 million of the state's motor fuel taxes would be annually allocated to the county and road district highway fund. This fund would be distributed every year to all 254 counties on a formula basis to provide some state support to the counties in recognition of the essential role county roads and highways play in the overall state transportation system. In 1951, the legislature acknowledged that an efficient state system depended heavily upon the network of local roads maintained by the counties of Texas. From 1951 to 1979, every legislature has appropriated these important funds to the counties. The Texas Sunset Act which passed in 1977, provides for the phased abolition of the Board of County and Road District Indebtedness. From 1951 to 1978, every Governor of Texas has approved that part of the General Appropriation Act that made the $7.3 million appropriation. Now for the first time in history a Governor of Texas has vetoed this appropriation.

Under the constitution of Texas the only local tax source a county has is the property tax. Governor Clements' veto will force all 254 counties to choose between 1) a tax increase to make up for this unexpected early loss of state assistance; or 2) a reduction of local road and bridge maintenance and construction expenditures. With legislation enacted this year, it has become far more difficult to raise property taxes for almost all purposes. With the required implementation of a number of new and larger tax exemptions, the early loss of State support for county roads could not have come at a worse time. It appears that this loss will result in a reduction in preventive maintenance and repairs to county roads and bridges. It may mean a much greater cost to the local taxpayer when major repairs are required. Today, more than half of all the roads in unincorporated areas of Texas are county maintained. With inflation and rising costs, the $7.3 million originally provided in 1951 has less buying power, however, it has been an important source of support for hard-pressed county budgets.

On behalf of the county taxpayers of Texas, we respectfully petition Governor Clements to examine closely the effects of his veto. We feel that after serious consideration, this assistance to county roads will continue to be justified and desirable. Finally, we ask Governor Clements to include the restoration of the 1981 appropriation for county road aid in any call for a special legislative session.

PAELLA SALAD

A cool idea for the cost-conscious food shopper with gourmet tastes is aromatic Paella Salad, made with nutritious, satisfying rice.

It takes its cue from Spanish paella, combining low-calorie rice with healthful seafood, chicken and green peas, seasoned in the traditional manner and best presented cold and garnished with red, fresh tomatoes.

PAELLA SALAD

- 1 package (6 ounces) frozen cooked, peeled, and deveined shrimp
- 3 cups cool cooked saffron rice*
- 1 can (8 ounces) minced clams, drained
- 1-1/2 cups diced cooked chicken
- 1-1/2 cups each sliced celery and cooked green peas
- 1/2 cup diced green pepper
- 1/3 cup sliced green onions with tops
- 1 cup mayonnaise
- 2 tablespoons dry white wine
- 3 tablespoons capers, optional
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon each garlic powder and pepper
- 2 medium fresh tomatoes, cut in wedges

Thaw and slice shrimp in half lengthwise. Combine with rice, clams, chicken, celery, green peas, green pepper, and onions. Blend mayonnaise with remaining ingredients except tomatoes. Pour over shrimp mixture and toss lightly. Chill. Use tomatoes for garnish or toss with salad before chilling. Makes 8-1/2 cups, or 6 to 8 servings.

*Cook rice according to package directions in chicken broth with a pinch of saffron, turmeric, or paprika.

STREAMS IN DESERT PLACES

By OZELLE STEPHENS

"Make them pure and holy through teaching them your Word of truth." (John 17:17)

Jesus asked the Father to make all believers pure and holy through teaching them the Word of Truth. Through believing the Word all believers become of one heart and mind with God the Father, and the Son Jesus Christ. Jesus said to the Father, "Just as you are in me and I in you, so they will be in us, and the world will believe that you sent me." (v. 21)

Through Christ living in you the power of God streams into your inner being giving you power and strength to live a victorious life; so keep your faith in Christ through the living Word of God, and all your problems will be solved.

OMELETS FOR LUNCH

The word omelet comes from the Italian or Latin ova mellita which literally means "honeyed eggs." This was originally a Roman dessert. One of the most famous Italian omelets is the frittata. This unfolded omelet is often served as a luncheon entree. It can be filled with leftover meats or vegetables to provide a tasty budget meal. A rich tomato sauce adds extra zest.

Italian Chicken-Vegetable Frittata was developed for those people concerned about good health who are watching their dietary intake of saturated fats and cholesterol. Many doctors recommend limiting the amount of cholesterol to 300 mg. and an average egg contains 240 mg., making eggs the single highest source of cholesterol in the average diet. Use a cholesterol-free egg substitute like Egg Beaters. One quarter cup of fresh frozen egg substitute is the equivalent of an average egg. It has all the good egg nutrition but no cholesterol. Many doctors advise their patients to eat sensibly; that is, to choose chicken, turkey, veal and fish instead of fatty red meats, substitute skim milk dairy products rather than whole milk and use corn oil margarine instead of butter.

This luncheon entree is economical and delicious and a sensible way to lower your daily intake of cholesterol.

CHICKEN-VEGETABLE FRITTATA

1/4 cup bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoon sugar

1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1/3 cup skim milk
3 cups Egg Beaters
Cholesterol-free Egg Substitute
1 cup chopped cooked chicken
1 cup frozen mixed vegetables, thawed
1 tablespoon Fleischmann's Corn Oil Margarine

Sauce:

1/4 cup chopped onion
1 tablespoon corn oil margarine
1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
2 teaspoons dark brown sugar

In a large mixing bowl combine bread crumbs, sugar, salt and poultry seasoning. Thoroughly mix in lemon juice, milk and cholesterol-free egg substitute. Fold in chicken and vegetables.

Melt corn oil margarine in a 10-inch skillet; coat bottom and sides of skillet. Pour egg mixture into pan. Bake at 350°F. for 25 minutes, or until center is set. Loosen from edges of pan and invert onto serving platter.

While Frittata is baking, sauté onion in margarine. Mix in tomato sauce and brown sugar. Simmer for 10 minutes. Serve over Frittata. Makes 6-8 servings.

PICTURE THIS Ranell Scott To Receive Scholarship

There's more to taking great pictures than just pointing a camera. You have to know what to point at and how to point it.

The first step to good picture-taking is recognizing a good subject. What's unusual, beautiful, heartwarming or striking about a scene? What parts enhance this effect? You'll want them in the picture. What parts detract? You'll have to try to keep them out. The proper framing and lighting can make a big difference.

Be careful taking the picture. Some people hold their breath when they snap the shutter, just to make sure they're not shaking the camera.

Keep these suggestions in mind, and you may be able to keep many beautiful memories fresh in pictures.

More Than Three Million Recruited

RANDOLPH AFB, Texas - Air Force Recruiting Service has recruited more than three million people when it marked its 25th anniversary July 1, 1979.

Prior to the July date in 1954, a joint service recruiting program existed under an Army recruiting organization, whose history dates back 157 years to the beginning of the U.S. Recruiting Service.

The U.S. Recruiting Service was established in 1822, but did not become an effective, streamlined organization until after World War I. During World War II, Selective Service handled procurement for all branches of the service. After World War II, the Army recruited for the Army Air Forces. When the Air Force became a separate department in 1947, the Army and the Air Force continued a joint program through the Army's recruiting organization until 1954.

Setting the pace for all future Air Force recruiters was MSgt Antonio Junco who recruited 340 people in his native state of West Virginia to become the first Top Air Force recruiter. MSgt Joe L. Jones, a Memphis, Tennessee, native, signed up 136 people for the Air Force from the Jackson, Mississippi area, during fiscal year 1978, to earn both the Top Recruiter and Top Rookie recruiter titles for Recruiting Service.

"Although our recruiting structure has changed over the years, the basic charge to meet Air Force manpower requirements with quality people remains as our prime objective," said Brig. Gen. Keith D. McCartney, Air Force Recruiting Service commander. "Professionals like Sergeant Jones ensure the Air Force has quality men and women to handle the complex duties of a modern aerospace force."

Although the Air Force has always relied on volunteers to fill its manpower needs, the implementation of the all-volunteer concept highlights the most significant change over the past 25 years.

"Our recruiters rose to the challenge of the All-Volunteer Force by meeting or exceeding all annual Air Force enlistment goals since the beginning of the AVF," the general said.

In FY 1978, the recruiters signed up more than 72,000 young men and women during the year. Some eighty-five percent of all enlistees were high school graduates and almost fifty percent scored in the "above-average" Department of Defense mental categories.

Volunteers included 68,025 men and women enlistees without prior military service, 1,300 prior-service people, 1,721 enlistees for Officer Training School, and 1,470 health professionals for commissioning.

"The task has not been an easy one," General McCartney added, "without question, Air Force recruiting today faces its biggest challenge in our 25 year history."

Another significant change for Recruiting Service and the Air Force has been the increased recruitment of women. The number of women recruited for the Air Force will continue to increase over the next five years. Currently, some 52,000 women are serving in all non-combatant specialties. Approximately 90,000 women are expected to be in the Air Force by 1984, officials said.

Recruiting Service is responsible for recruiting people with and without prior service, college graduates from Officer Training School, physicians, dentists, nurses, veterinarians, and biomedical scientists.

With Recruiting Service headquarters located on Randolph AFB, Texas, the command includes 1,000 recruiting offices manned by about 1,800 recruiters assigned geographically throughout the 50 states and six overseas locations where large numbers of Americans are living.

How's Your High Blood Pressure IQ?

This true-false quiz can help you have a better reading of your knowledge of a dangerous disease.

1. TRUE. High blood pressure (also called hypertension) affects only people who are middle-aged, overweight, or both.

2. FALSE. High blood pressure can affect anyone, regardless of age or physical condition. Even children and professional athletes have it. The Squibb Institute for Medical Research points out, however, that people who are middle-aged should have their blood pressure checked more frequently, and that being overweight increases one's chances of having the disease.

3. TRUE. Hypertension is an important cause of chronic illnesses such as congestive heart failure, stroke and kidney failure.

4. FALSE. High blood pressure usually gives its victims warning signs such as headaches, fatigue, chronic indigestion and blurred vision.

5. FALSE. High blood pressure usually gives no warning signs. The victim often feels fine and doesn't know he or she has the disease.

How's your head for a healthier body?

4. FALSE. A person can treat himself or herself for hypertension by simply drinking more fluids, getting more sleep and cutting back on cigarettes and alcohol.

5. TRUE. Black people have a higher incidence of hypertension than white people.

6. FALSE. Once a person's high blood pressure goes down, he or she is cured and treatment is no longer needed.

6. FALSE. Once you have developed hypertension, you are likely to always have it, despite temporary decreases in blood pressure levels. The problem never goes away and the patient must stay under constant care.

7. TRUE. Hypertension is a serious disease, but if detected early, and properly treated, a person with high blood pressure can lead a normal and healthy life.

Your Social Security

Persons eligible for Medicare Health Insurance benefits who seek to supplement their coverage by purchasing additional private insurance should be sure that they are not buying coverage already provided by Medicare, warns James Harper, manager of the Vernon Social Security office.

Harper says that Dallas Regional officials of HEW's Health Care Financing Administration (HCFA), the Federal agency that administers the Medicare and Medicaid programs, are concerned that many elderly Medicare beneficiaries are being sold duplicative or overpriced supplementary insurance policies.

According to Jerry Sconce, HCFA's Regional Administrator, some Medicare beneficiaries are being taken advantage of by a few unscrupulous insurance agents, often posing as representatives of Medicare or the Social Security Administration. Sconce has recently contacted state insurance commissioners asking their cooperation in identifying and controlling such sales practices.

The problem is a costly one, said Sconce, citing a recent report by the U.S. House Select Committee on Aging which estimated that senior citizens are "being taken" for $1 billion a year by a few insurance companies and their agents. The committee report also noted that some companies which specialize in selling this type of insurance return an average of 50 cents on the premium dollar while others return as much as 90 cents for similar coverage.

Sconce urges Senior Citizens considering buying a supplemental plan to be sure that they are not duplicating existing Medicare coverage and to seek out policies that pay a high return in benefits.

He further warned that any insurance salesman representing himself as connected with Medicare or Social Security should be viewed with suspicion since no Federal employee is authorized to engage in this activity.

read, and answers most of the commonly asked questions about the program.

Medicare is available to those who are 65 or over, or who have been receiving social security disability benefits for two years or more, or who are suffering from permanent kidney failure and need dialysis or a transplant.

Medicare has two parts. Hospital insurance helps pay for hospital care and certain follow up care after a hospital stay. Medical insurance helps pay doctor bills, outpatient hospital care, and for other items and services not covered by hospital insurance.

Reading "Your Medicare Handbook" ahead of time helps assure one that he knows the program can help him. This is important because Medicare does not cover everything and some services that are covered may be covered on a limited basis. A person needs to know what Medicare can and cannot pay for.

Some risk losing money by not taking the time to read their Medicare handbook beforehand.

A typical example is that of Mrs. Jane Q., treated for a broken leg at a Canadian hospital while on a ski trip in Northern Washington. The 66-year-old ski buff thought that Medicare did not pay for care in hospitals outside the country, so she didn't bother to submit a claim for reimbursement.

Later a friend told her that there's an exception to this rule for Canadian and Mexican hospitals providing emergency care as the closest medical facility.

Another example is that of Johnny D., who because he had few medical bills, let them pile up over three years before he submitted them for reimbursement. When he did file it was too late. Medicare has time limits for submitting claims. While one always has at least 15 months to submit a claim, the exact amount of time one has depends on what time of the year the bill was incurred.

The Medicare handbook contains time frames during which bills should be submitted. It also includes a list of services Medicare covers and under what conditions other services are covered, how to file a claim and where to send it. An index at the back of the book is a handy guide to its contents.

After studying the book carefully, one should put it where he or she can easily find it. Then when one needs medical care, he can use the handbook to find out whether it is covered.

Siphoning Gasoline Could Be Deadly

Gasoline poisoning has increased "tenfold" recently, according to Mike Ellis, director of the Texas State Poison Center, and Ellis says the upsurge seems to be directly related to the gasoline shortage in the area.

Ellis says his department is receiving an average of ten calls a day about gasoline poisoning. "This time last year," he admits, "we were only getting about one call a day for the same thing."

The increased practice of siphoning, Ellis thinks, is a major connection between the rising number of gasoline poisoning cases and the gasoline shortage. He says adults, because of the shortage, are siphoning gas from car to lawn mower, from car to can to other car, and he calls this practice "dumb at the very least."

Gasoline siphoning can cause a person at least two major problems, he says. Ellis says a person can swallow gas while transferring it, and the effects can be serious, even deadly. "Gasoline can go into the stomach," he says, "if the epiglottis slams shut and does not allow it to go into the lungs." In the stomach it will be nauseating and may cause vomiting, he says.

"Once it is in the stomach," Ellis says, "it is absorbed, the aromatic hydrocarbons can sensitize the heart to any catecholamine, such as adrenaline."

"What this means," he continues, "is with gasoline in the stomach and the heart sensitized, if a person becomes startled or afraid or experiences any sudden emotion that causes adrenaline release, that adrenaline can potentially cause the heart to go into ventricular fibrillation. That person can be dead in four minutes, unless remedial methods, such as counter-shock, are performed."

A second potential problem of gasoline siphoning is that of aspiration or getting it into the lungs. "If a person coughs or chokes after sucking on the hose, he may possibly have gotten some of the liquid into his windpipe and a set of new and different problems will occur," Ellis says.

The most severe effect of gas aspiration, however, is that the oil-based product physically spreads out and coats the lungs. "Depending on how extensive the coating is," Ellis says, "will determine how much lung tissue is spared. It will determine if life can be maintained." In simple terms, aspiration can mean death.

"Once children ingest a petroleum product, they're not out of the woods for 18 hours. We don't know whether they're absolutely clean for 18 hours."

Ellis says if gasoline ingestion does occur in the home, the first thing to do is call the Poison Center at 713/765-1420. "If there is a lot of coughing or choking, we'll send the person in for an X-ray to see what the baseline looks like. If there's no coughing or choking, we'll put the person on an 18-hour watch for fever, coughing, chest congestion or any signs that we may have an aspiration problem."

"Sometimes it may be that we tend to overtreat, but we would much rather be safe than sorry."

IRS Sets Dates For Special Exam

DALLAS - Deadline for filing an application to take the IRS Special Enrollment Examination is Wednesday, August 15.

The examination, split into four parts and scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday, September 25 and 26, 1979, is given annually to qualify persons who are neither Certified Public Accountants nor attorneys to represent clients before the various IRS divisions and branches such as Appeals, Collection, or Examination.

Persons interested in taking the exam must submit Form 2587, "Application for 1979 Special Enrollment Examination," to the Director, Examination Division, DP:E:E:S, Internal Revenue Service, Washington, DC 20224. No extension of time to file applications will be granted beyond August 15, 1979. Form 2587 is available from local IRS offices.

The application must be accompanied by the application fee and a current photo of facial features used for identification purposes only. The application fee is $25 for those taking all four parts of the examination, and $15 for individuals taking fewer than four parts. All checks must be made payable to the Internal Revenue Service.

The examination fee is not refundable, but a credit may be granted for the next year's examination fee under certain circumstances, as explained in the instructions on Form 2587.

IRS publication 486, "Requirements for Internal Revenue Service Enrollment and Special Enrollment Examination," identifies sources for tax information that may be helpful in preparing for the examination. It includes true or false and multiple choice questions in all of the four parts of the examination.

IRS Publication 693, "1978 Special Enrollment Examination Questions and Answers," is currently available by writing or calling IRS. Write to: Internal Revenue Service, Mail Code 405, 1100 Commerce Street, Dallas, Texas 75242.

Funds Available For Energy Audit

DALLAS - Schools, hospitals, units of local government and public care institutions in Texas will have an opportunity to share in $1,227,633 in federal funds available under a matching grant program, it was announced today by G. Dan Rambo, Regional Representative for the U.S. Department of Energy.

The program is being conducted by the DoE regional office in Dallas and the Texas Governor's Office of Energy Resources.

Under the first phase of the grant program eligible institutions may apply for funds to conduct an energy audit of their facilities to increase energy efficiency. This would be achieved through improved maintenance and operations procedures and through identification of energy conserving opportunities through capital improvements.

Under a later phase of this program, funds will be made available to eligible institutions for in-depth engineering analyses and capital improvements.

The Texas program is part of a nationwide effort to reduce energy consumption and associated costs in the nation's public institutions.

T-RHSA Applications Being Taken

The board of directors of the Tri-Region Health Systems Agency (T-RHSA) announces that applications are now being accepted for membership on the newly formed West Central Subarea Advisory Council (SAC). The Council is designed to strengthen local input into the Agency's health planning activities and should help increase public awareness of T-RHSA and its functions.

Because T-RHSA serves such a large geographic area, the creation of subarea councils was considered essential to facilitate the health planning process by taking into account area-wide health needs and circumstances. SAC development is now underway for three areas based on established regional planning commission boundaries: the Nortex SAC, West Central SAC and Concho Valley SAC. Counties included within the West Central subarea are Brown, Callahan, Coleman, Comanche, Eastland, Fisher, Haskell, Jones, Kent, Knox, Mitchell, Nolan, Runnels, Scurry, Shackelford, Stephens, Stonewall, Taylor, and Throckmorton.

Anyone may apply for SAC membership. All applications must be received no later than July 20, 1979 for consideration by the Board of Directors. To submit an application, contact: Tri-Regional Health Systems Agency, 2642 Post Oak Road, Abilene, Texas 79605, (915) 698-9481.

Employer Tax Deadline July 31

July 31, 1979, is the date by which employers must report on Form 941 Social Security and withheld Federal income taxes for the second quarter of 1979, and pay any taxes due, the Internal Revenue Service said. If the quarterly liability (reduced by any deposit during the quarter) is $200 or more, the unpaid balance must be deposited.

This deadline does not apply to those employers who make timely deposits of the full amount of tax due in Federal Reserve or approved commercial banks. They are allowed until August 10 to file Form 941, "Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return."

If employers have not received Form 941 by mail, they can obtain one from local IRS offices. IRS Publication 15, "Circular E - Employer's Tax Guide," is also available at local offices.

Put Up Peaches In Freezer Jam

If making a homemade jam intrigues you, now is the time to discover how easy it is with a recipe for freezer Minted Peach Jam. The fruit is not cooked—just mixed with sugar, mint, lemon juice and powdered fruit pectin. It's the pectin that assures a good "set" and helps capture fresh fruit flavor. Put your blender to work chopping the peaches. Use plastic containers with tight-fitting lids to store and freeze the prepared jam, which stores well up to six months. Jam, either freshly made or thawed from the freezer, can be kept up to three weeks in the refrigerator.

MINTED PEACH JAM

2-1/4 cups prepared fruit (about 2 lb. fully ripe peaches)
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon ascorbic acid crystals (optional)
5 cups (2-1/4 lb.) sugar
1 tablespoon chopped fresh mint
3/4 cup water
1 box Sure-Jell (1-3/4 oz.) fruit pectin

First prepare the containers. Use only containers 1 pint or less in size that have tight-fitting lids. Wash, scald and drain containers and lids; or use automatic dishwasher with really hot (150° or higher) rinse water.

Then prepare the fruit. Peel, pit and chop or grind very fine about 2 pounds peaches. Measure 2-1/4 cups into large bowl or pan. Add lemon juice and ascorbic acid.

Then make the jam. Thoroughly mix sugar into fruit. Add mint and let stand 10 minutes. Mix water and fruit pectin in small saucepan. Bring to a boil and boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Stir into the fruit. Continue stirring about 3 minutes. (A few sugar crystals will remain.) Ladle quickly into containers. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand at room temperature until set (may take up to 24 hours); then store in freezer. If jam will be used within 2 or 3 weeks, it may be stored in refrigerator. Makes 5-3/4 cups or about 5 (8 fl. oz.) containers.

Blender method: Place fruit, a few pieces at a time, in electric blender container so blades are just covered. Cover and turn control from low to off several times until fruit is chopped or ground. (Do not puree.)

Note: Ascorbic acid helps maintain color and flavor of fruit; purchase at local drugstores.

For Child Care Food Program

USDA Proposes New Regulations

The U.S. Department of Agriculture is proposing new regulations for the child care food program.

The regulations were designed to help reach more children who need the program, remove administrative obstacles and to ensure the quality and nutritional integrity of the meals provided.

About 600,000 current participants, 43 state agencies and public and private sponsoring institutions, 15,000 child care centers, 10,000 family day care homes, and a significant number of family and group day care homes and sponsoring organizations will be affected by the new provisions in the regulations proposed.

The major objectives of the regulations are:

- To modify and simplify the reimbursement rate structure for child care centers participating in the program.

- To make reimbursement available to family and group day care homes to cover the costs of obtaining and preparing foods, and prescribed labor costs. Previously such facilities had to choose between receiving reimbursement based on an established food cost rate (eliminating the need for food cost records, which are difficult to maintain in home situations); or receiving reimbursement based on the cost records they maintained.

- To make separate reimbursement of administrative costs to organizations sponsoring family and group day care homes.

Previously, reimbursement was made in a lump sum. Under the proposed regulations, potential providers of day care services will know precisely how much reimbursement per meal to expect before entering into an agreement with a sponsoring organization.

- To provide, in addition to reimbursement for administrative expenses, start-up funds for sponsors of family and group day care homes to initiate operation of the program.

- To broaden the methods of licensing available for institutions wishing to provide day care services.

- To improve the methods of identifying and resolving problems in institutions through ongoing evaluations and assistance by state agencies.

The child care food program provides nutritious meals to pre-school and school aged children in child care facilities. Any licensed public or private non-profit institution providing nonresidential day care services may be eligible to participate in the program. Such institutions include day care centers, settlement houses, recreation centers, family day care programs, Head Start centers and institutions providing day care services for handicapped children.

Comment on the proposed regulations should be sent to Jordan Benderly, Director, Child Care and Summer Programs Division, Food and Nutrition Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250, no later than August 17.

The proposed regulations will be published in the July 3 Federal Register.

Farm & Ranch News

By Tommy Antilley
County Extension Agent

COTTON PEST MANAGEMENT

Several fields of both dryland and irrigated cotton were checked for cotton pests by Emory Boring, area extension entomologist, and Tommy Antilley this past week. Cotton is growing well and older cotton has reached the 1/2 grown square stage.

Beneficial insects are abundant in most fields with spiders, lady beetles, nabids and minute pirate bugs being observed most often.

Fleahopper numbers ranged up to 25 per 100 terminals. Cotton was setting squares even in those fields where heavier fleahopper populations were found. Control measures were not needed in any of those fields.

Fleahoppers are most damaging during the first week of squaring. After most cotton plants have set squares, larger numbers of fleahoppers can be tolerated. The need for fleahopper control should be based on the number of fleahoppers present and the level of square damage.

No boll weevil damage was found. Populations are expected to be generally light at least until the second week in August.

No bollworm eggs or larvae were found. The bollworm moth egg-lay prediction will be available by July 23 pinpointing peak bollworm egg lay.

PETS' FLEAS A PROBLEM

Flea problems are widespread on pets, in homes and in home landscapes due to prolonged cool, wet conditions this spring.

Successful control procedures must include both population reduction and continuing preventive measures.

1. Chemical control of adult fleas on pets and around the home must take place at the same time. Wash pets with a medicated soap or dust them with an approved flea preparation. Extend residual kill with a flea collar. For spot sprays in the home use propoxor (Baygon) and ronnel as an area spray around the home.

2. Treat infested yard areas with carbaryl (Sevin), Propoxor (Baygon), ronnel or diazinon. Be sure not to infect pet food.

EASY BACKYARD PICNIC TIP

When the weather gets hot, build a backyard feast around Swanson Frozen Take-Out Style Chicken, made with a zesty flavor that's almost impossible to re-create from scratch.

There's no need to cook for hours or stand in line at the fast food shop. With Swanson, that special crispy taste is as close as the family freezer. Just heat take-out style chicken for 30 minutes in a conventional oven or approximately 14 minutes in a microwave oven. Then enjoy this tender, flavorful chicken hot or have it ready to serve cold with summer corn and iced tea.

Says Bill Is Unfair

Stenholm Against Windfall Profits Act

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm indicated that he voted against the Crude Oil Windfall Profits Tax Act of 1979, because it was unfair to the royalty owner and the independent producer. The bill creates a complicated new tax law that will require additional accounting each month. In most cases, the landowner is the royalty owner, of which there are approximately 28,000 in the 17th District. The royalty owner will pay his share of the windfall profits tax. To tax one specific group of people in this manner is inconsistent with any basic principle of fairness.

The independent producer drills 90% of the wildcat wells and finds 75% of the new fields, thus accounting for more than half of all the oil and gas reserves discovered. During the last five years, they have re-invested more than 100% of their wellhead revenues in exploration. These funds come from outside private investors and borrowed capital. No outside investor would put money into a wildcat well, knowing that if a discovery were made, part of the revenue would be taxed away. The whole idea of crude oil price decontrol is to stimulate new production incentives. However, the windfall profits tax counteracts these incentives with respect to the independent producer. Congress recently voted to use taxpayers' money for synthetic fuel development. Why then, under the guise of a windfall profits tax, are we attempting to take revenues from the independent producer, who presently is investing more than 100% of his wellhead revenues in search of new reservoirs?

Congressman Stenholm further states that the bill will now go to the Senate Finance Committee.

1979 Sorghum Target Price Is Increased

Grain Sorghum Producers Association was informed last week that the 1979 sorghum target price has been increased four cents, thus raising it to $2.34 per bushel. This announcement came in a USDA press release dated June 29, following GSPA's request for an investigation into USDA's failure to comply with the intent of the law, as stated in the Agricultural Act of 1977.

In the release, Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland was quoted as stating, "The target price for 1979 crop grain sorghum has been increased from $2.30 to $2.34 per bushel. The action was taken to comply with the legislative intent that the same cost of production formula be used to adjust sorghum target price as is used to adjust the corn target price. A recent examination by the Economics Statistics and Cooperative Service of the cost estimates and calculations leading to the sorghum price adjustment, shows that it should have been set at $2.34."

After careful calculations of the formula, GSPA believes that the sorghum target price for 1979 should be set at $2.40, rather than $2.34. Elbert Harp, Executive Director of GSPA, stated that legislative hearings into this matter (originally scheduled for July 10) would still be held sometime this month. "We are not going to be satisfied until we get the increase that we deserve," Harp stated.

New Chemical May Help Cancer Patients

DENTON - A cell chemical that may improve the chances of persons prone to cancer has been found at North Texas State University, a scientist there disclosed today.

Dr. David A. Busbee, director of the Genetics Center and Associate Professor of Biology at the University, told an interviewer he believes a protein cell component discovered "by accident" in his laboratory can lower the abnormal level of an enzyme, AHH (aryl hydrocarbon hydroxylase) in patients with lung cancer and perhaps other types of cancer caused by hydrocarbons similar to those found in cigarette smoke.

Dr. Busbee and his colleagues, whose research was supported by the American Cancer Society, previously found that AHH was responsible for breaking down such hydrocarbons as benzopyrene and benzoanthracene into other compounds believed to be responsible for producing cancer.

Tests on tissues from lung cancer patients at U.S. Veterans Hospitals indicated high levels of AHH. Patients with other ailments had lower levels of AHH. And cigarette smokers in both groups had relatively higher levels of the enzymes.

Dr. Busbee believes that these AHH differences are controlled by genetics and persons with higher AHH levels may be more prone to cancer. Other studies have shown that some kinds of cancer "run in families." One such study followed a family for several generations, reporting that to date more than half of all blood relatives developed cancer.

The discovery of a relationship of AHH to lung cancer may pave the way to devising a diagnostic test for finding lung cancer earlier while there is some chance for cure. It could also be useful in screening those among cigarette smokers who are at a higher than average risk of getting lung cancer.

The cell component that inhibits AHH or reduces its activity was discovered by Dr. Busbee as an accidental offshoot of a three-year search for a relationship between breast cancer and estrogen production which turned out to be negative.

Emergency Center Has Closed In WF

The emergency operations office established by the Tulsa District of the Corps of Engineers in Wichita Falls on April 13 to handle debris removal and set up mobile home sites for tornado victims closed Tuesday, Col. Robert G. Bening, District Engineer, reported.

Rock, Galveston, Kansas City, Pittsburg, and St. Louis districts worked in the Wichita Falls office.

Dretke said 52 contracts for debris removal are complete and cost $2,260,289. Four contracts for debris removal are still in progress.

He said 37 contracts for setting up mobile homes have been completed at a cost of $2,020,385. Six contracts are still in progress. A total of 1,411 mobile homes were set up for occupancy by persons who lost their homes in the tornado.

A Quote To Remember

The codfish lays ten thousand eggs,
The homely hen lays one.
The codfish never cackles
To tell you what she's done.
And so we scorn the codfish,
While the humble hen we prize,
Which only goes to show you
That it pays to advertise!
