Card of Thanks

Thank you each and everyone for your prayers, phone calls and concern during the past seven months in my behalf. I am now finished with all treatment and looking forward to getting back to a normal routine.

A special thank you to the First Baptist Church for their faithful letter of encouragement I received each week during my chemo and radiation. You have truly been dedicated and for that I am grateful.

Agan I thank each of you and want you to know that your prayers and thoughtfulness have helped me to fight this battle.

May God richly bless each of you as he has us.

Gary and Nena Hunt

Cards of Thanks

Wishing there were a special way to say thank you that's as special as the gift of love, prayers, visits, cards, flowers and support. (Kindness speaks to the heart in a way words can't.)

All of these were showered on Dean and me during his recent surgery. A special kind of caring that you shared from your hearts to ours we will never forget. With our special thanks and warm appreciation... from our hearts. You've helped us through another difficult time. The Lord has done great things for us--we are glad.

In Christian love,
Dean and Theta Rowell

Thank you everyone for all the prayers, cards, letters, phone calls since my surgery. It's a wonderful town we live in.

Thanks,
Fred Arnold

Useful Waste

Provided by Brandon McGinty
County Extension Agent-Ag
Texas Cooperative Extension

USDA scientists have a new low-cost way of adding value to cotton waste. The Cotton Byproducts process turns cotton parts and other ingredients into pellets used as fuel, livestock feed, fertilizer, or loose mulch. The mixture is formed into pellets with a pellet mill that presses the cotton-gin trash and other ingredients. The pellets are about one-fourth inch wide and one-half inch to one inch long. The process uses a hot, starch solution to hold the cotton waste ingredients together, and a lubricant to smooth the mixture's flow through the extrusion equipment. The procedure cooks, sterilizes, and improves nutrient availability in the mixture. Adding a little cottonseed oil to the pellets, increases the heating value of the fuel to about 9,000 British Thermal Units (BTUs) per pound of pellets. Firewood gives off approximately 4,000 to 5,000 BTUs per pound. The pellets burn as well as typical pellets made from sawdust, wood chips, or wheat straw.

The first ant farm was marketed by Uncle Milton Industries in 1956.

We Can't Fool God

Whenever we are talking to a friend or loved one, they are listening to what we say with our lips; however, when we are talking to God, He listens to our heart.

It is sometimes quite easy to deceive someone else or yourself; however, when we are in prayer with God, he knows our true motives and desires. Sometimes when we are talking to God, we may even try to negotiate with Him saying that if God will do something for us, we will do something for Him.

Since there isn't much we can do for God, the omnipotent creator of the universe, except to love, honor, and trust Him, we should realize that only the foolish would try to fool God.

*For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears
are open unto their prayers: but the face of the Lord is against them that do evil.*

Obituary

ROY PATRICK

Funeral services for Roy Patrick, 67, of Quitaque were conducted at 2:00 p.m. Thursday, April 4, at the First Baptist Church in Quitaque. Rev. Patrick Six of the First Baptist Church in Spearman officiated. Burial was in Resthaven Cemetery at Quitaque by Myers-Long Funeral Directors.

Mr. Patrick was born May 7, 1934 at Quitaque. He passed away April 2, at Spearman.

He was an accountant and had served in the U. S. Army.

Survivors included two sons, John Patrick of Coppell and Robert Patrick of Spearman; two brothers, Earl Patrick and Arthur Patrick, both of Quitaque; a sister, LaRue Golden of Lubbock, and six grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Bob Hinkle, Deloy Myers, Rick Hester, Jimmy Davidson, Kelly Patrick and Bruce Patrick.

Keep Insects Out of Pantry

Provided by Cory Edwards
 Briscoe County CEA-FCS
 Texas Cooperative Extension

Sooner or later nearly every home will have some kind of insect infestation. There are two kinds of household insects likely to be found in the home. First are insects that feed on plant material. They are usually found in kitchens and pantries. Second are insects that feed on products that contain animal proteins, such as wool, leather, feathers, and even some pet foods. However, with a little effort and some common sense, bugs won't become permanent residents. One way to combat infestation is to control the points of entry. Locate and eliminate infested foods. Also, shake or beat rugs and blankets, and expose them to bright sunlight. Thoroughly vacuum storage areas and rugs. Store susceptible clothing in airtight boxes or garment bags and use cold storage to protect furs and other items.

* SAVING IS LIFE LONG HABIT

It is good to start building a personal savings plan early in life. The first step toward financial security is opening a regular savings account. Savings accounts are great for accumulating money you plan to invest somewhere or for holding emergency funds. Another savings option is the money market account. These kinds of savings accounts offer low risks and low returns. A certificate of deposit is a little more serious method of establishing savings. A CD locks the deposited amount into a rate of interest for a designated period of time. This rate is usually more than the interest offered for a general savings or money market account.

NEWS AND NOTES

(NAPSA)-Many parents may become better informed thanks to new technology.

Consider the case of Bob Watkins. He knew something was bothering his 13-year-old step-daughter. She had been a straight A student, but her grades were falling and she was spending more and more time on the Internet.

Through an innovative software program, Watkins was able to record everything his daughter was doing on the Internet. He discovered she was being molested by her teacher.

The software, called Spector, discretely records every e-mail, every chat conversation, every instant message, every Web site and every keystroke typed.

It recorded the e-mails and chat conversations between the girl and her teacher who was arrested and convicted.

The exercise class that meets Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays recently celebrated its first-year anniversary. What was started as a 12-week class led by Cory Edwards, turned into an ongoing event led by Fred Strange. Anyone of any age, who enjoys laughing, visiting and exercising is invited to attend these classes. They start at 9:00 a.m. and are usually over by 9:20 or 9:30 a.m. Briscoe County News Photo

Ann Norris, Laverne Stephens, Wanda Strange, Mary Burson, Nadyne Childress, Nina Martin, Sybil King and Bobbye Bean quilted last Thursday. We finished Lallie's State Bird Quilt. We are working on Laverne's quilt. Joy will put hers up next.

Laverne and Loyd Stephens enjoyed a week at Rockport. They reported that the fishing was not very good.

COLLEGE CORNER

(NAPSA)-One of the first lessons many college students learn is smart space-management. Students often quickly realize how to turn a dorm room-which at first glance may seem short on space and possibilities-into a study, bedroom and even social area.

Senior Citizens tomorrow. This will help us pay the insurance for the building.

Senior Citizens are reminded to bring their cookies Friday for the hamburger luncheon.

To help students make their dorm rooms feel more comfortable, decorators say it's important to remember that rooms are an expression of personality.

They suggest students think about who they are, what they like to do and how they want others to perceive them, then decorate to reflect their individual styles.

To help students make the most of their space, decorators from Linens 'n Things offer students the following tips:

Happy Birthday-

- April 11--Josh Brooks
- April 12--Cindy Johnson, Marvin Self, James Ortiz
- April 13--Kelly Bomar, Linda McWilliams, April DeLeon
- April 14--Mary Brannon
- April 15--Benjamin Norris, Chase Comer, Betty Tiffin
- April 16--Brandi Beth Davis, Johnny Walter Perkins, Lacy Brunson, Jim Forbes, Richard Jarnagin, Meranda Marie Younger, Chelsea Bingham, Bill Carthel, Pat Carthel
- April 17--Meranda Younger, Avery Baker, Joan Roehr, Nadyne Childress, Peggy Rowell, Dianne Johnston, Chase Younger

- Begin with your bed-The bed is usually the largest piece of furniture in the room and therefore becomes its focal point. Choose bedding that not only looks good, but feels good as well (after all, you'll be using it as a couch half the time). Once you've decided on a covering, such as a comforter or polar fleece blanket, accessorize with sheets, decorative pillows or shams and a bed skirt.

Remember, dorm beds are generally five inches longer than traditional twin beds. Stores such as Linens 'n Things carry extra long sheets that may come in handy.

- Keep clutter to a minimum-Storage containers can mean the difference between organizing your closet and living in one. Unlike a generation ago, when "storage" tended to mean "stored away," today's storage solutions are lightweight, colorful and can easily be made part of the decor. On the walls, over the windows, behind the door, on the floor or under the bed, today's storage units combine form and function.

- Personalize the place-Decorate with pictures that remind you of home. Family photos and treasured momentos can go a long way towards making the most of a small space. Bring some frames in

"Walk, Don't Run"

When you're young, life is so full it's hard not to run. As parents, it's our responsibility to teach our children when it's okay to run and when to go slow. As your co-op, we're responsible for the welfare of our members and their families. That's why when it comes to deregulation we want to go slow. Electric deregulation has its share of hazards. It could put small consumers at risk of higher bills and less reliable service. At Swisher Electric Co-op, we intend to wait and see if this industry experiment will work. That's the smart choice. For more information on deregulation, visit us at our web site, or call your local Smart Choice Cooperative.
