

THE KNOX COUNTY HERALD

VOLUME 52

KNOX CITY, KNOX COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, AUGUST 8, 1957

NUMBER 36

We've heard a good many fish stories lately, with a good many local trot-liners bringing home nice strings of channel cat from the Stamford Lake.

But Mrs. Eddie Bateman of Benjamin is the champ, after landing a sailfish measuring eight feet, two inches while on an outing at Aransas Pass.

In an area daily paper Eddie got credit for the catch, which naturally made his wife mighty unhappy!

The couple, and their daughter Sue, were fishing with Mr. and Mrs. Harold White and daughters of Wichita Falls. Although they got seven sailfish strikes, the only other one landed was a measly seven-foot, seven-inch caught by Mr. White.

The group also caught plenty of kingfish and ling, and the Batemans shipped 158 pounds of fish to the locker in Knox City.

To prove it's a small world, Mrs. Constance Browning Witterman, former Knox Citian, and Ken Frizzell, ditto, had lunch together recently in Brussels, Belgium!

Ken, son of Dr. and Mrs. T. P., is an architect in Brussels, and Mrs. Witterman was touring the Lowlands with her attorney husband while in Europe to attend a world conference of attorneys.

Also proving it's a small world, the conventioning lawyers and their wives were served genuine American hot dogs at a garden party at Buckingham Palace, with Queen Elizabeth as hostess. And Mrs. Witterman reports to her aunt, Mrs. Russell Boyd, that no one ever got indigestion in a lovelier setting!

We wonder how many Knox City women have been fortunate enough to win prizes in the "telephone quiz contest" that's been going on the past week or so.

When the contact is made by phone, the "lady of the house" is told she'll win a valuable prize if she can answer a quiz question correctly.

The jackpot question is "Whose picture is on the one-dollar bill?" And if the lady answers George Washington (and who doesn't?) a man soon calls at her home and tells her she has won $15 worth of pictures. EXCEPT she has to pay $2.00 for a coupon book!

A lady we know insisted on getting what she had won, and leaving off the $2.00 part. . . but that wasn't the way the game was played!

As our very few readers may note, this column has a new heading this week.

The picture in the old heading was one we found in our advertising mat service about ten years ago, but it may have had a slight resemblance to us at that time, if a person was more than half blind.

Ten years are a long time, and the picture, used week after week, was beginning to look old and beat-up.

And of course so are we . . . but if there was ever any resemblance it seems to be gone!

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE ENJOY SWIM AND PICNIC

Members of the Y.W.A. and Intermediate G.A., O'Brien Baptist Church, enjoyed swimming in the Munday pool Monday afternoon, supper in the Knox City park, and skating that evening. Those present were Doris Kay, Jo Ann Emerson, Ann O'Neil, Georgia McCada, Frances McCada, Bonnie Poe, Eyvonne Manning, Betty Sue Poe, Joann Williams, Pretrecia Hendrix, Lillian Hendrix, Mrs. Hope Poe and Mrs. Junita Wilcox.

Youths to Sell Light Bulbs To Benefit Youth Center

Housewives were asked to "stock up" on C-E-Z light bulbs when members of The Kennel, Knox City youth center, call at homes tomorrow (Friday) beginning at 6 p. m.

The bulbs will be sold by the teen-agers on Friday only, with all proceeds going to the Kennel fund for further improvements, Paul Hoge, chairman of the adult board, said. The young people will meet at the youth center at 6 p. m., and will be divided into groups. Each group will be given a street to canvass. They plan to call at every home in Knox City.

Members of the 1946 Study Club will also meet at the youth center at 6 to furnish transportation for the young people, Hoge said.

The patented light bulbs are frosted green inside. They give a soft-white light recommended for all visual tasks. The C-E-Z bulbs are guaranteed for a life of 2,500 hours.

The most popular size bulbs, 60 and 100 watts, will be sold for 30 cents each or $1.20 per kit of four bulbs. This is the average price for tinted bulbs in retail stores, according to Hoge.

After each group has called at every house on its designated street, all groups will meet at the youth center again.

Proceeds from the sale will be used for further improvements at The Kennel.

Problems Facing Cotton Industry To Be Discussed at Area Meetings

Ginners and other agricultural leaders in the area this week urged all farmers to attend one of the important cotton meetings to be held next week.

The general public was also invited to attend, since cotton is vitally important to the economy of this section.

The Knox County meeting will

Three representatives of the National Cotton Council, and possibly other leaders in the industry, will be present at each meeting to outline the present trends in the cotton market and point out the need for more research and promotion.

Local ginners recently attended a similar meeting in Abilene.

Bailey, pastor of the Knox City Foursquare Church, and Rev. Billy Frazier, pastor of the Knox City Baptist Church.

Mrs. Davis was found dead in her bed at her home here about 5 p. m. Monday by her daughter, Mrs. T. J. Partridge of Munday. She had apparently died of a heart attack sometime Sunday night. Justice of the Peace W. E. Lovelace rendered a verdict of death by natural causes. He was assisted in his investigation by County Attorney Tom Bulington.

Born in Gilmer Feb. 3, 1885, Mrs. Davis had lived in Knox County the past 40 years. Her husband died in 1924. She was a member of the local Baptist Church.

and say the information to be released at area meetings will be interesting—if not startling—to everyone interested in cotton.

Bert Davis, O'Brien ginners, said if some trends in the domestic market are not stopped, the U. S. cotton market could shrink to 8 million bales in the industry, which would mean a 40 or 50 percent reduction in present acreage allotments.

"We also know," Davis said, "that if we can improve cotton's competitive situation, we could have an increase to a 20 million bale market in the same period, which would mean a substantial increase in the acreage allotments of Knox and Haskell County farms."

Pointing out that such a substantial loss or gain in markets and allotments means a great deal to farmers and to the entire area, Davis urged everyone to attend one of the meetings.

Funeral Services Held for Long-Time Resident of Truscott

Funeral services for J. C. Jones Sr., 97, were held at the Baptist Church in Truscott at 3 p. m. Saturday, with the Rev. Jack Davis officiating, assisted by the Rev. Guy McLain, pastor of the Truscott Methodist Church.

Provisions of New Egg Law Listed

The Egg Law, recently passed by the Texas Legislature, will have a widespread impact on Texas citizens. It will affect egg producers, dealers, retailers, wholesalers, brokers and processors as well as consumers.

But just what will this law do? How will it affect those people just listed? F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist, lists a few of the law's highlights.

(1) It provides for the establishment of standards of size and quality of eggs. The standards of quality as determined by candling and conditions of shell, the grades and standards of size as determined by weighing shall be the same as the standards and grades prescribed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture for shell eggs.

(2) The law provides for proper grading and labelling. The eggs are inspected primarily at retail outlets and labelled according to grade, which includes size and quality. Unless the grading is under USDA supervision, it shall be unlawful to use the prefix "U.S." on grades and weight classes.

(3) Provides for the licensing of egg retailers, dealers, wholesalers, processors and brokers. There is no licensing fee to any retailer as defined by law—that is, any person selling or offering for sale, eggs to consumers only in this state. All retailers must have a license even though there is no fee.

(4) Provides that the law will be self-financing through the fees collected.

(5) Provides penalties for violations. Any person convicted of violating this act is subject to a fine. The license of a violator may be suspended for a period not to exceed 90 days.

(6) Gives exemption to producers selling eggs from their flocks unless a grade is claimed. But if they wish to claim a grade, then their eggs must meet the standards specified by the law.

(7) It establishes an Egg Marketing Advisory board to be appointed by the governor. This board will be composed of the Commissioner of Agriculture, who will be chairman, and nine other members, all from Texas, who will serve six-year terms.

The Press Battles for its Freedom

JOHN PETER ZENGER was arrested "for printing and publishing several seditious libels dispersed throughout his journals or newspapers..."

Zenger was a New York printer in the days when Governor Cosby ruled the colony. Governor Cosby ruled in such an autocratic, overbearing manner that several indignant citizens started a newspaper to arouse the public against his tyranny. Zenger undertook to publish the newspaper.

Zenger was thrown into prison, and his bail was fixed at 800 pounds, a large sum for those days and quite beyond his ability to furnish. He stayed in jail for months, and his situation appeared hopeless.

The case finally was called to the attention of Andrew Hamilton, a distinguished Pennsylvania lawyer, who took up Zenger's cause as a public service. Hamilton forced the case to trial, and his speech to the jury, which led to Zenger's acquittal, is a ringing statement of what the press in America must still vigilantly fight for.

All men have the right, Hamilton maintained, "publicly to remonstrate the abuses of power... and to assert with courage the sense they have of the blessing of liberty... and their resolution at all hazards to preserve it."

Today in our country encroachments by governments and private interests alike upon freedom of the press are counter to law. Nevertheless, even today the press must battle constantly to keep that freedom intact.

Crockett wheat, a hard red winter variety developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, performed very well in Knox County this year. Twenty acres of foundation seed were grown under irrigation in the Sunset community and compared to an adjacent field of Early Triumph. Crockett yielded 43.5 bushels per acre, compared to 34 bushels for the Early Triumph.

Crockett wheat is rated excellent in milling quality, rust resistance and test weight. Several hundred bushels of certified seed are now available to any one interested.

A new early-maturing hybrid corn which produces good yields under low moisture and high temperature conditions has been developed in the corn improvement program of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. This new hybrid, called Texas 38, is a shorter growing plant than the regular corn hybrids and produces an ear lower on the stalk. Seed will be available in 1958.

What Are Cattle Going to Be Worth?

A question which comes daily to the livestock market men at Ft. Worth these days is, "What will calves and yearlings be worth this fall?" And Ted Gouldy, Ft. Worth livestock reporter, says the answer to that question would come in handier than the key to Fort Knox, if a person had it for certain!

It is now obvious, Gouldy says, that a great many Texas cattle will stay at home this fall as some of the drouth hit ranches strive to get restocked. Certainly, if the usual late summer and fall rains come the demand for replacements in the Southwest will pick up with extreme rapidity. Some observers predict a strong market for cattle in Texas from farms where there is now being raised a big crop of grain sorghums and other feed.

Just how much higher will feeders from Cornbelt or Western states go in price, before they figure the market has outstripped the price for finished cattle?

That is another of the big "ifs" in the picture, Gouldy says.

If the fat cattle price continues to rise, some say it will, others say it won't. The negative thinkers point to the huge turkey and broiler production, and an increase in pork output as factors weighing against much higher beef prices.

If the rains come to Texas and the Southwest in the next two months.

And, if domestic and foreign affairs do not upset the consumer demand for meat.

If all these things are favorable, then the drouth-harried Southwestern stockman may indeed enjoy his best fall season for a long, long time, Gouldy believes.

"If you and I had the answers to these ifs," he concludes, "We could get rich before new year."

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Rea are her sister, Mrs. John Craytor, and Mr. Craytor of Orland, Calif.

Lighting Planned for New Highways To Assure Safe Night Visibility

A great lessening of the night traffic accident horror is seen for the future on new highways designed by the state highway departments in cooperation with the Federal Bureau of Public Roads.

Information on plans to light hazardous locations was obtained by a poll of state highway departments.

The following states answered "yes" to the question, "Do your highway construction cost estimates include provisions for lighting hazardous highway locations?"

Ala.	Ind.	Mo.	Ore.
Ariz.	Kans.	Mont.	R. I.
Ark.	Ky.	Neb.	S. C.
Calif.	La.	N. H.	Tenn.
Colo.	Me.	Nev.	Tex.
Conn.	Mass.	N. Mex.	Utah
Del.	Miss.	N. Car.	Va.
Fla.	Mich.	N. Dak.	Wash.
Ida.	Miss.	Ohio	W. Va.
Ill.	Minn.	Okl.	Wyo.

Prominent in these plans is provision for lighting hazardous locations to assure safe night visibility. Such locations are: Interstate Highways and other controlled Access Roadways — (a) interchanges and intersections; (b) connections to service areas; (c) elevated and depressed expressways; (d) bridges, overpasses and viaducts; (e) high traffic density sections; (f) areas made unusually hazardous by regular or frequent conditions impeded by weather or climatic conditions; (g) transition sections such as changes in number of lanes and traffic direction.

Uncontrolled Access Roadways — All of the above and in addition: (i) dangerous curves and hills; (j) railroad grade crossings; (k) approach to urban

It is at these locations that changes in speed or direction of travel create hazards requiring maximum visibility for safety.

Illuminating engineers and national authorities on traffic safety at night hail with enthusiasm the designing of lighting into hazardous highway locations by 40 of 48 states.

"Until now, lighting has been installed on highways by very few states to a very limited extent," said Edmond C. Powers, educational director of the Street and Highway Safety Lighting Bureau of Cleveland, Ohio, leader in the national campaign advocating adequate street and highway lighting for safe visibility at night.

"When we realize that inability to see accident hazards in time to stop or avoid collision annually causes the deaths of 10,000 persons, serious injuries to 500,000 others and an economic loss of $1 billion, we derive tremendous satisfaction from the lighting provisions in new highway plans."

"The new highways referred to are those in the 41,000-mile road-building program authorized by Congress under leadership of President Eisenhower and being engineered by state highway departments in cooperation with the Federal Bureau of Public Roads."

Mr. and Mrs. J. Rollie Pray of Ft. Worth spent Sunday night with their daughter, Mrs. C. E. Williams, and family. They were enroute home from a six-weeks vacation trip which carried them through Colorado, Nevada, Arizona and California.

NUMBER TWO ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 5, 1957.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 28 proposing an amendment to Article III, Section 51a of the Constitution of Texas, so as to increase the limit on the maximum monthly payment to needy aged persons from state funds and on the total yearly expenditure out of state funds for assistance to needy aged, needy blind, and needy children; and allocating and appropriating additional sums, supplementing current legislative appropriations, for payment of assistance grants.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

BOTTLE BABY—Little Sue Anne Lindberg came to the rescue, at feeding time, after this lamb's mama abandoned it. Now, "Midnight," like the mythical follower of Mary, follows Susie all over her grandparents' farm near Union Mills, Ind. (United Press Photo)

DOWN THE HATCH—Corky, a cockatoo residing in Dallas, Tex., helps itself to a "shot" of refreshing cold chocolate milk. Gripping the cream container in its beak, the bird has learned to tilt its head and let the milk trickle down its throat.

EAR! EAR!—No, this tame squirrel isn't trying to make a meal of the ear of its young owner, 12-year-old Charles Ellis, Pine Ridge, Va.; it's merely taking a playful nip. Since "Oscar" was rescued by the Virginia lad, the pair have been constant companions.

FEEDING TIME ON ROAD JOB—Gigantic construction vehicles must be "fed," too. Here, a pair of diesel-powered International Model 75 Pyscraper units, get "filled up" with 105 gal each of diesel fuel—to provide the energy to move 20 cu yds of material at a time.

Mrs. Frankie Acker and son, David, of Amarillo visited her sister, Mrs. Horace Finley, the first of the week. They were en route to Ft. Worth and Glen Rose to visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Lynn Bradberry began construction of a new home Monday. The Cape Cod style house will be on the lots just west of the Jim Ross home.

Streams In Desert Places

By Ozelle Stephens
" . . . but have poured out my soul before the Lord." (1 Sam. 1:15).

The burden of Hannah's heart was not something for herself; she realized her weakness in serving God. Although it seemed hopeless she took her problem to God in prayer. As always He was able and did not fail to answer. Her reward was an eternal one.

How often we fail God as well as gaining for ourselves in prayer. Instead of asking God for something to give back to Him or use in His kingdom, we spend our time seeking for ourselves. Present your weakness unto God and ask Him to make you a blessing for His kingdom. Remember David's words, "Trust in Him at all times; ye people pour out your hearts before him: God is a refuge for us." (Ps: 62:8).
