

Progress is a wonderful thing, but by the time the highway department adds a few more coats of asphalt and rock to 4th Street, and the city builds up the alley for "drainage" purposes, the Knox County Herald may be floating down the Brazos!

Our building was erected before 4th street was paved, of course, and before the alley was built up and some lots filled in to throw the water down the alley instead of in some other direction. So now our floor must be somewhat below ground level.

At any rate we arrived at the shop this morning to find two inches of water all over the floor... and since a 7-inch rain once didn't run over a bucketful in the back door, that's some progress!

In fact, a little more progress and we figure we can do one of three things... move our shop to O'Brien; vacate our ground floor and move a six-ton press and other equipment upstairs; or start wearing hip boots.

To the farmers who never gin the first bale of cotton, we can pass on the secret of how its done.

M. L. Verhalen, who ginned the first bale at O'Brien and realized $333.81 from it, promised his children he'd buy a television set if he ginned the premium bale. So the kids watched the crop and as each boll opened, they told him about it.

So all you've gotta do is know how many bolls it takes to make a bale!

Rain Wednesday May Benefit Late Cotton, Feed

Rain in Knox City measured 1.85 inch Wednesday night, after receiving 0.21 earlier in the week, according to Horace Finley, official weather observer.

Residents in the southeast part of town reported that their rain gauges caught two inches and more.

Although the rain came three or four weeks to late to be of much benefit to dryland cotton, most area farmers say it will be of some benefit to the cotton as well as to grain sorghums, and will end watering by irrigation farmers.

The rain brings the total so far this year up to 23.94 inches, compared to 4.47 inches at the same date last year.

School District to Hire Truant Officer

Regular meeting of the Board of Education of Knox City Independent School District was held Tuesday night.

Trustees voted to exchange the 1955 model Ford station wagon for a 1957 Chevrolet station wagon. The purchase was awarded Stephens Bros. Chevrolet Co. on a low bid of $980 difference.

The employment of Mrs. Rip Collins as first grade teacher was approved by the board. Mrs. Collins was hired as an extra teacher to care for excessive enrollment in the first grade, which has 46 students.

November 25 was the date set by the board for the beginning of the compulsory school attendance period. Supt. Silk explained that by state law, students between six and 18 years of age are required to attend school 120 of the 180 days. School boards designate the beginning of the compulsory period, at which time students must attend regularly the remainder of the year. A truant officer will be named before Nov. 25, he said.

Board members read and approved the annual audit of all school financial records of the district from Sept. 1, 1956 to Aug. 31, 1957. In a letter to the board the auditor, W. H. Carruthers, public accountant of Wichita Falls, said, "We found an excellent set of records in both the school and the tax collector's office, with no evidence of misuse or misappropriation of funds or monies."

Carruthers has audited the books the past three years.

Streams In Desert Places

By Ozelle Stephens

"And I will make them and the place around about my hills a blessing; and I will cause the shower to come in his season: there shall be showers of blessings." (Ezek. 34:26).

The hand of the Lord was upon Ezekiel. God prepared his heart to serve Him and His people who were in need both physically and spiritually. Ezekiel led them into a closer walk with God. He bound up the cripple and strengthened the weak. He gave counsel and encouragement. He helped them to be strong and brave equal to the burden and responsibilities they had. The people responded and became a great working force with God. That is revival. That is what we need, but everyone must be willing to do his part. Then God will make everyone a blessing and showers of blessings will be yours. Find yourself every day in prayer and praise God as the children of Israel did in the 121st Psalm. Victory will be ours in the Lord.

Here They Are!
