

JUST TALK

By JAMES HILL

On May 5 the voters of Texas will have an extremely long list of candidates and propositions to select—and one of the propositions will be as to whether you are for or against the poll tax.

As well as I can remember John Smith told me once that it only costs 25 cents for the poll tax receipt—the rest goes to the state schools.

For many years I believed it was unconstitutional to have to pay to vote.

Right now I'm open for any pro and con discussion on the merits or obstacles to this way of thinking.

I have felt, personally, that the charge does not keep folks away from the polls.

State schools are always seeking more revenue to population increases, more kids going to school, and rising costs. To abolish the poll tax receipt would cause over two million dollars deficiency. Where do we get that money?

Knox City was well pleased with the City Council and voted to have things run in the same manner the men have been conducting the city's business, as all were re-elected to serve two more years.

Ditto for the school trustee election last Saturday.

This year has been one of the hottest we have ever witnessed between candidates, but has been especially cold for the voters, as we haven't heard too much talk, politically, on any of the men and women who are seeking offices.

WOMENS HANDBAGS — I never fail to wonder at the expression the "weaker sex" when each year the little women are toting larger and larger hand bags and are still too weak to open a door or pull up a chair for themselves.

Monday I was struck with the frustrating time one of our local women was having with an adding machine and her hand bag. I tried to talk Mrs. Billee Angle into putting the machine in her handbag, but Paul Hoge came to her rescue before I could see whether she would take my advice or not.

CHEAPER HERE? — A lady from another town tried to send a special delivery letter and after her postmaster weighed the envelope she was informed the price would be 60 or 70 cents.

She thought the price too high so journeyed to Knox City and encountered Kenneth Myers. After the same procedure Ken informed the lady of the price—and she again flipped.

As far as we know she is still seeking a cheaper post office.

We are happy to report to the Postmaster General that as far as we know the price has been the same in all our area post-offices!

You don't suppose it was Mrs. Postmaster General trying to get the price down, do you?

TWO GOOFS we found, but too late to change were made last week. One—we didn't give JanCharles Studio credit for the swell picture of Jim Rea and we made a mistake in the Hocus Pocus Grocery ad. They close at 8:30 p.m. each day not 8 p.m.

That's two—we made another too—Sheriff is spelled with two "F's" and not two "R's" We know that, but when time is running out, the Linotype sometimes lets me down.

Dad gum it, there was Four—We had to leave out a couple of stories due to lateness of copy—we have this happen occasionally but sometimes we just don't or can't make room. If at all possible please turn stories in early and if we have to add two more pages to handle it—we will. We can't do this Wednesday night, though.

There were some more, too, but that's enough for one week, isn't it?

And, I didn't even write a column last week!

Speaking of adding two pages—as you know newspapers usually print in two's—Our friend the publisher at Post printed 17 pages one time!

Nearly every week we end up either five, seven or nine pages of type.

We may succumb to Jim Cornish's temptation and print one right on the money!

If you get a blank page, don't think for a minute we've flipped—we have.

Game Warden "Milks" Rattlesnake At Lions Club Meeting Wednesday

C. L. (Cecil) Fox of Spur, game warden for this area, was principal speaker at the Lions Club Wednesday noon.

Mr. Fox's topic of conversation was snakes—and he brought a number of them with him. He also demonstrated the "milking" of a rattlesnake.

Program Chairman David Counts introduced Fox to the club and said he was the new game warden for this area.

Fox is well known throughout the state as an expert on rattlesnakes and is president of the Caprock Peace Officers Association. Each year they have a rattlesnake hunt and cook a number of them.

Fox began his talk with the difference between the various breeds of snakes and told how they were a nuisance as well as a benefit to mankind.

Bull snakes were of great benefit to the farmer he said in that they kill rats and mice.

Fox said all his knowledge was gained strictly through experience and not through books.

As for bull snakes and rattlesnakes fighting, he said he had put them in the same box on numerous occasions and had never seen them fight.

As for the number of fangs in a rattlesnake he said most people thought there were only two, but actually there were a lot more. The least number he had found were eight and the most he had encountered was sixteen.

The difference between a poisonous snake and a nonpoisonous one can be detected easily, he said. A poisonous snake has a blunt head and tail and a nonpoisonous snake has a sharp nose and a sharp tail.

A snake doesn't chew up what he eats, Fox said, but his digestive system will absorb the food very quickly.

Snakes like to eat live food, he said, and gave an account of a large rattler he had once and the procedure the snake took

Salvation Army Drive To Start Here May 7

Throughout its 80-year history in the United States, the Salvation Army has devoted a large portion of its efforts to the care of homeless, transient men and women and to rehabilitation of alcoholic men and drug addicts.

To the 122 Men's Social Service Centers all over the country, and to the four operated by the Army in Texas—Dallas, Houston, Fort Worth, and San Antonio—comes a stream of physically, spiritually, or morally handicapped men. The most pressing and obvious handicap is that of alcoholism, but there are many other problems involved, and to people in trouble there are no minor problems. If it isn't alcohol it may be an injury, or a prison record, or bad employment record. There are hundreds of problems and combinations of problems which have made socially and economically displaced persons of these men.

Although the centers vary in size and complexity of operation, they are identical in their common objective: to meet the spiritual and material needs of the men who come to them, effecting (Continued on Back Page)

Salvation Army

a complete rehabilitation program wherever possible and restoring the man to useful social and economic status in the community.

To accomplish this, a four-fold program of therapy has been developed: 1. work, 2. recreation, 3. counselling, 4. the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

The most familiar phase of the program and the one most familiar to the public is work.

Housewives in cities, large and small, have learned to call the Salvation Army to have their used furniture, appliances, and clothing, as well as waste paper and rags, ready for the men to take away when the big truck with the red shield comes along.

This material is taken to the center where it is sorted. Waste paper is baled and sold to dealers. Clothing is sorted and classified; that which is still wearable is sold in the thrift shop, or very often given away, either to beneficiaries of the program or to family welfare service.

Work therapy, counseling and recreation—all serve as valuable aids to the Men's Social Service program, and a similar program, the Harbor Light Center in Houston, but they always take second place to the spiritual therapy which is the heart and soul of each Center and its program.

A basic philosophy of the Salvation Army is that only by curing the individual's spiritual ills and by helping him find his way to a Supreme Being can his physical and emotional ills be erased.

In every Salvation Army program, provision is made to care for homeless transient men, and also for transient women and children. Regulations governing the administration of most government programs for the homeless require a residence period of at least six months to qualify for relief. This provision eliminates most of the transients.

The Salvation Army does not have this residence requirement—the only question is one of need. Because of this regulation, the Salvation Army cares for most of the transient individual-corporate unit cities and in the servals and families in both the ice unit towns and communities.

A large number of transients were helped here during the past year by the local corps.

A fund raising campaign will begin in Knox City May 7.

Streams in Desert Places

Ozelle Stephens

In watching the ministering Christ we first see Him enrolling some helpers. They were called disciples but they were witnesses to the working power of our Saviour. He began by turning the water in to the finest wine. Then He cleaned out the evils of the temple. When all the evils of our life are forsaken, then we experience the New Birth, the living water Stream into our believing hearts and bring joy unspeakable. A great desire is born within us to become fishers of man. We long to minister to suffering humans, and give ourselves into the Kingdom work, co-workers with Jesus who gave His all for us.

His whole ministry was given for lost and suffering humanity. In Him alone we live, move and have our being. He is our Victor, Praise Him.

Coin Glass unusual "collectors' items" by Fourteen Fostoria craftsmen have combined their glassmaking skills to re-create these lovely old shapes and the antique flavor of simulated coins. The museum-piece originals, made about 75 years ago, used real coins. Since this was illegal, the molds had to be destroyed. But now "Coin Glass" lives again... reproduced for you by Fostoria.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

Filing a Declaration of Estimated Tax

The Declaration of Estimated Income Tax, form 1040-ES, is overlooked by many taxpayers who regularly file income tax returns. The purpose of this return is to put you on a pay-as-you-go basis as income is earned, where either the income you earn is not subject to withholding taxes or the withholding taxes are less than the net tax which you will have to pay upon filing your return.

The failure to file this return might result in a 6 per cent charge on the underpayment of installments which you should have paid. It is also to your advantage to file the return and pay your taxes on an installment basis so that you will not have a large amount of tax due at the time that you file your return.

Generally, an estimate must be filed if you expect to earn more than $200 in income not covered by withholding taxes. In addition, you must file this return if you are single and expect to earn more than $5,000 in 1962 or are married and expect to receive more than $10,000 in 1962. However, no estimate need be filed if your estimated tax liability is expected to be less than $40.

If you are within the class of taxpayers required to file this return, your estimate is due not later than April 15, 1962, on form 1040-ES. With the return you must pay 25 per cent of the difference between your estimated tax and the amount you estimate will be withheld in 1962 by your employer. Similar quarterly payments are due on June 15, 1962, Sept. 15, 1962, and Jan. 15, 1963.

By filing this return and estimating your income tax to be the same or greater than the tax which you paid for the previous year, you will avoid all potential liability for interest penalties under the provisions of this section. However, if you attempt to estimate your exact amount of tax for the coming year, and estimate it incorrectly, you should file an estimate or amend your estimate on the date the next quarterly tax payment is due and pay your amended estimated taxes over the remaining installment periods.

Farmers who earn at least 2-3 of their gross income from farming have until Jan. 15, 1963 to file their declaration of estimated 1962 income tax. At this time the entire estimated income tax is due. However, if he prefers, a farmer may file his final 1962 tax return by Feb. 15, 1963, and pay his entire income tax due at that time instead of filing an estimate on or before Jan. 15, 1963.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas is written to inform, not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

"AMONG OTHER THINGS . . ."

By BOB BURNETT, JR.

Spring is in the air! and in the spring a young man's fancy turns to fishing, swimming, water skiing, golf, track, spring practice, vacations, and various other things.

Officially spring began March 22, but only now are some of the trees and flowers beginning to bud out. Some of the days and night are still quite chilly, but it will not be long until we are well into warm weather.

There are many joys and pleasures that come to us along with summer. There also are some drawbacks. One of the main difficulties throughout the summer months are mosquitoes. These annoying little insects are the scourge of man-kind. I believe one of the worst experiences I have with mosquitoes is when I am very fatigued and trying to get some sleep. About the time I doze off a mosquito awakens me by "buzzing" in my ear. I have yet to find a repellent which is effective against the buzz of these little monsters. Between mosquitoes and chiggers, my body is one gigantic itching bite the whole summer long.

Another problem many of us have to face during the summer is that of combating the intense heat. One excellent way to "beat the heat" is to remain at home under the air-conditioning every day and watch television. However I usually find myself outdoors in the summer heat, fervently wishing for winter and cooler weather. I might add also at this point that in winter when I am out in the cold, I fervently wish for summer and the heat.

One of the first things many of us want to do when summer arrives is to go fishing.

We picture a peaceful day at the lake, in the great outdoors, enjoying the beauties of nature and pulling in the "big ones." We are inclined to forget that most fishing trips are high-lighted by a backlashing reel that hangs up in every tree that is within fifty yards of us. No fish but many mosquitoes and chigger bites as mentioned before.

At one time in our life time, most of us will probably come into contact with Toxicodendron radicans, or as it is colloquially known, poison ivy. This pretty little vine has been the scourge of campers and fishermen for many years.

In a more serious vein, we should certainly be careful during the summer months while out of doors. Besides mosquitoes and chiggers, there are other menaces which bite. Mainly snakes. Each time you go out you should equip yourself with a snake bite and first aid kit. The dangers of summertime are many.

Besides snake bites and other accidents, many people are killed each year as a result of drowning, so as summer approaches remember to obey all the rules of safety while swimming, fishing, camping, water-skiing, and diving. Your sum-

Highway Dept. Says Speed And Greed Practically Same

When you are exceeding the speed limits, or traveling too fast for conditions, you are displaying greed of the most dangerous kind. "Just how do you mean?" someone might ask. First of all, it must be explained by saying that speed laws are determined by traffic engineers with one major thought in mind: Safety! The speed limit posted on highways, freeways, streets and in school zones is the maximum safe speed under favorable conditions a motorist can travel on these thoroughfares.

Greed, as we usually know it, was demonstrated clearly during World War II when many persons hoarded certain hard-to-get items. Hoarding, of course, mer will be more fun and safer. A Votre Sante.

resulted in smaller shares for those conforming with rationing laws. This was bad enough, however this kind of hoarding did not usually ipair life or limb.

Greed, as demonstrated in traffic, is another matter. Here when a motorist hoards time by exceeding speed limits, or driving too fast for conditions, he steals time not lawfully his and disregards the safety of others.

His usual practice is to leave late for engagements, then try to make up time by exceeding speed limits or going too fast for conditions. His greed is transferred to the pedal under pressure, and all law-abiding motorists and pedestrians in his path are in danger of serious injury or death.

Hoarding time by speeding is a deadly business where innocent and guilty alike may suffer for the sake of a few minutes or seconds. Let us take an example of the hoarding driver traveling down the road at 60 MPH, 50 feet behind another car traveling 60 MPH. The minimum safe following distance under ideal conditions is 120 feet. The accepted guide in determining this minimum following distance is double the speed in miles per hour of the vehicle you are following to determine your following distance.

All this hoarding driver can gain is to get to his destination 70 feet earlier than if he were following 120 feet. At 60 MPH this gain amounts to eight-tenths of one second.

Depend on it to give you an honest day's work for a long, long time and not cost much to run or keep up. It's a Chevrolet.

Trucks aren't all alike. This Chevrolet has double-wall roof, doors and side panels. It has suspension that helps it last longer by reducing road shock. It has a non-skid wood body floor. It has as tough a tailgate as you'll find. It has an all-welded frame made of high-quality steel. Most important, it has a name everybody respects because they know it stands for quality. When you make up your mind to buy, get this one. We know you'll be happy with it. HAVE YOU LOOKED INTO CAMPER BODIES? This is a fine way to enjoy the outdoors comfortably and at low cost. Many Chevrolet dealers are showing camper units now. Drop by and investigate this great way to make a truck do double duty. A strong Chevrolet is your best bet for work or play.

AUSTIN — John White, State Commissioner of Agriculture, injected a bright note in the Billie Sol Estes investigations when he predicted, "I am confident that the grain storage picture is going to come out all right."

He and his men completed inventory of grain in elevators Estes owned at Lamesa and Leveland. They assured receipt-holding farmers that their grain is there.

The State's responsibility lies in supervision of elevators where farmers store their grain and then borrow money against their warehouse receipts.

White suspended the licenses of five grain elevators in which Estes has an interest, and sent his men to check the contents against warehouse receipts. Then he announced temporary warehouse license suspensions on Hale County Grain Company and Southwestern Grain, Inc., both in Plainview.

W. L. Cooper of Plainview, operator of one of Estes' large grain storage facilities, is also listed as operator of these two warehouses.

State Securities Commissioner William M. King said his investigations are checking evidence which would tend to show Estes has violated the Texas Securities Act.

MEASLES POPPING OUT all over — A remarkably rapid spread of measles was noted by the Texas Department of Health last week when 99 counties reported 4,316 new cases.

More than a third of the weeks total was reported by health officials in Jefferson, Nueces, Dallas, and Travis counties. Jefferson County listed 479 new cases; Nueces County, 470; Dallas County, 282; and Travis County, 283.

During the first quarter of 1961 the measles outbreak totaled only 4,441 cases. First quarter this year a total of 32,538 outbreaks have been reported.

Dr. Van Tipton of the Health Department's communicable diseases division said the epidemic followed a trend of light incidence one year and heavy the next. He said enough children seem to escape the highly-infectious disease one season to catch it the next time around.

EMPLOYMENT HITS NEW HIGH — Unusually mild weather caused employment in the State to reach a record high for February. Texas Employment Commission announced 3,346,900 jobholders that month, as compared to 3,330,100 in January and 3,312,300 for February of 1961.

Warm weather was favorable for construction workers, agricultural employees and other out-door workers, and helped reduce the number of unemployed from 239,900 to 189,900. The commission predicts a never better employment picture by mid-April, if prospective manpower needs reported by employers hold true.

FARM BUREAU NAMES REPRESENTATIVE — Texas Farm Bureau appointed Charles H. Huff of Taylor as its new legislative director. Farm Bureau President J. H. West said Huff will move to Austin soon, to replace Bob A. Lilly.

The new director is well-seasoned in Capitol contact work. He served as full time assistant legislative director during the regular and special sessions of the Legislature last year.

Huff is a graduate of Texas A&M College. He served as associate county agent in Panola County prior to joining the Farm Bureau staff as field representative in 1959.

COUNCIL DEFENDS SYSTEM — "How do you deal with the extremely aggressive, hostile student?" asked Dr. James A. Turman when the Texas Youth Council conferred with members of the Texas Citizens Committee of the National Council on Crime and Delinquency.

Youth Council's executive director referred to criticism from the committee's vice chairman, Mrs. Edmund P. Williams of Corpus Christi, who earlier had called the barbed wire fence around Gatesville's Mountain View School "the only one of its type outside Nazi Germany."

Dr. Turman said two such security units in California are fenced. He joined council chairman Robert W. Kneebone in reforming the committee that Gatesville inmates include 387 boys who have committed serious crimes—45 convicted on murder charges.

The citizens committee proposed a statewide study of community services for delinquent children, which the Youth Council said it would welcome. However, it already has retained a prominent authority, Dr. Austin McCormick, to survey the five

Laval Verhalen Named Honor Student At Tech

Laval Verhalen, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Verhalen was named as an honor student for the third consecutive year at Texas Tech's Annual Recognition Service.

Laval was recently initiated into Phi Kappa Phi, an honorary society.

It was revealed that his grade point average was second highest of all agronomy students at Texas Tech.

detention institutions it oversees.

STATE ARCHIVES OPEN — Invaluable historical documents which tell the story of Texas' history finally found a safe and permanent home. For more than a century they have been placed and misplaced in various temporary quarters.

Now they are housed in the $2,500,000 Texas State Library and Archives Building adjacent to the State Capitol. Prior to the April 10 dedication researchers and librarians had been collecting and classifying the precious documents in a quonset hut in North Austin.

Gov. Price Daniel, whose hobby as a Texas historian is almost an avocation, started urging the Legislature to approve an archives building in 1957. Appropriately, he made the dedicatory address at the opening ceremony.

A special exhibit will be on display during April. It will include William B. Travis' letter from the Alamo, the Texas Declaration of Independence, five treaties of the Republic of Texas and other memorable papers.
