NUMBER 30

Almost two months ago Kenny Lawson and our son found a monstrous turtle by Whites Feed and Grain Store and the next thing we knew he was occupying a choice spot on our porch.

We made the kids turn it loose after a few days and later the same day they came in the Herald screaming that the turtle had laid an egg. On top of that they had a big egg to prove it.

All wildlife and animal lovers of our acquaintance were notified of the blessed event and as the egg nestled under a heat lamp in our living room, the "mother" turtle went on her merry way.

After the required number of days passed and a couple of weeks were added to the opening day we finally gave up on becoming this year's first parents of a turtle.

Was talking to Sam White recently and he confided that he had played a trick on the boys by putting a turkey egg alongside the turtle and telling the boys "she laid an egg last night."

I didn't tell Sam, but there were a number of us who joined her.

One of the best contributors of news to the Herald and by all means the youngest is a cute and talented little girl named Charlene Denning. We look forward to seeing her each week and her story about the G.A.'s. Charlene has contributed a number of personals and other stories during the past months, and last weeks story was written by her and in her own words.

Thanks a million, honey. Last week we overheard a number of local men talking about how their parents had raised them and some of the peculiarities they had acquired by these rules.

Claud Reed and Travis Thompson said their folks didn't allow any food to be thrown out by the kids leaving same on the plate.

John Kale recalled that his folks were just as strict and that it had also made a lasting impression on him to never take out more vittles than he could consume.

We all tried to figure out what hardships we were placing on today's youth and what lasting impressions we would leave with them 25 or 30 years from now.

Received a letter from Mrs. A. D. Hodges of Lubbock last week and she said she enjoyed reading the Herald very much and proved it by resubscribing for another year. She said she and her husband sent their children to O'Brien and Knox City schools for 12 years.

"We run a Cabell's Minit Market on 34 and Flint and would enjoy having Knox City and O'Brien people drop by to see us," she said.

We suppose you are familiar with the many jokes about Area Code phone numbers and the changes from names to numbers? A typical joke goes like this:

"Operator this is J. B. Doe at 658-2281 and I would like to call Phoenix, Ariz., Area Code 325-66-177 Number 322-59221."

All of this is supposed to keep down blood pressure and get the call through quicker.

Well, now, Postmaster Jeff Graham and the postal department has gone in for numbers also, and instead of Area Code they will call their new brain-child ZIP and, for your information, Knox City's is 79529.

The new feature will go into existence July 1. The next time you have envelopes printed, we will print, for the last line,—Knox City, Texas, 79529 — and if you put your return address on the envelope, as you should, then write it on the same line as the name of the town.

Former Resident Dies In Stephenville

Funeral services for Mollie Hubbard, longtime resident of Knox City, who died Sunday, June 16, in Stephenville, were held Wednesday, June 19, in Stephenville.

She is survived by her children: Lester Smith of Brady, Oleta Foller of Hawley, Rudene, of Plainview and Freeman of Quarte, Colo.

Winchester And Compton Attend Austin Meeting

Twenty-four students and teachers from the area served by West Texas Utilities Company attended the Tihird Annual Nuclear Science Symposium at the University of Texas. The Conference began Sunday, June 9, and ended Wednesday.

The Symposium was jointly sponsored by the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation and the University of Texas. West Texas Utilities Company is one of these companies.

Some 500 selected high school science students and teachers who attended the sessions in Austin enjoyed the rare opportunity of hearing lectures by some of the nation's outstanding nuclear scientists.

The Foundation is formed for the primary purpose of conducting the world's first and largest privately financed research effort in the field of nuclear energy. Currently, the Foundation and General Dynamics Corporation are jointly sponsoring a program in nuclear fusion research aimed at controlling thermonuclear reactions for the production of electric power. Fusion is the energy process of the sun and the stars.

The foundation was formed for more than just the research program alone. The foundation and West Texas Utilities Company aim to assist in the advancing of the knowledge of nuclear science in the Texas schools. Also they want to bring students and teachers a realization of the privileges, responsibilities and opportunities which science discoveries in the field of nuclear energy present.

West Texas Utilities Company has paid all expenses for the 24 students and teachers attending from schools in the area served by the company. Lecturers at the Symposium were chosen from among top men in their field. They are from various universities and colleges throughout the country and General Dynamics' John Jay Hopkins Laboratory of Pure and Applied Science in San Diego, Calif.

The Nuclear Science Symposium at the University of Texas was designed to broaden the mind, encourage the study of nuclear science for peaceful purposes and give qualified students their first taste of university life.

There are 1078 accredited senior high schools in the State of Texas. Knox City can be justly proud of its high school for having been selected by the University of Texas as one of the 150 high schools in the state invited to send a student and teacher to the Symposium.

New Course Record Set Here Sunday By Hugh Rixford Of Wichita Falls

Hugh Rixford of Wichita Falls won the first Invitational Golf Tourney of the Knox City Country Club Sunday with an excellent display of sub-par golf.

Rixford shot a 6 under par 64 to win Medalist honors and set a competitive course record.

A total of 80 players entered the tourney and were unanimous in their praise proclaiming the course one of the best they had played.

All out of town entries were given a sack labeled "Welcome to Knox City" by the Chamber of Commerce containing information and advertising of Knox City merchants. "We appreciate the fine cooperation of the entire city in helping us with the tourney," President J. M. Averitt said, and "we feel that we advertised our community well and made many new friends," he added.

The tourney opened with qualifying rounds Friday—a driving contest was won by John Rose of Albany and a putting contest was won by Knox Citian Skeet Carpenter.

Bar-B-Que was served to approximately 200 contestants and guests.

Good galleries followed excellent matches Saturday and Sunday and participated in the awarding of prizes by tourney chairman Ted Darland Sunday afternoon.

Community service was held Sunday at 11 a.m. in the First Baptist Church with Dr. James Landes, president of Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, as guest speaker. He was introduced by George Wall.

Rev. Sharp Speaks To Lions Club Wednesday

First Methodist pastor Rev. Jarrell Sharp was the principal speaker at the Knox City Lions Club luncheon-meeting Wednesday noon at the Fellowship Hall in the Methodist Church.

Lion President Henry White introduced Program Chairman Rev. Floyd Bailey who introduced Rev. Sharp as the speaker. "We have a young man who has been here for the past three years and who has contributed a great deal to our community," Rev. Bailey said.

Rev. Sharp said he would speak on the humorous side of the preaching profession and told the group he started preaching at the age of 19. "I was too young to give advice to the older folks, and too young and smart alecky to advise the young," he recounted.

Once he recalled that he had said nothing was impossible and mentioned the fact that he could jump the rope while on his back.

Later one of the men in his church took him to task for making such a statement. After a 50 cent wager and some hawking, the Reverend proved his point and later that evening the church coffers were $10 richer, as a donation from the unbeliever.

The Methodist pastor recalled another time when a big man wanted to join the church but also wanted to be immersed. . . . The only thing available was a large stock tank and after they had gathered there Sunday afternoon the preacher recalled that as he was ready to dunk the huge fellow, his foot (the preacher's) slipped and he was completely immersed, but the new member remained bone dry.

Another incident and locality remembered by Rev. Sharp was a Colorado town in which the population was mostly German and it was the custom to drink wine at the beginning of each meal.

Other pastors had confided in the reverend that it would be fine for him to partake of the courty to keep public relations intact, so when it became time to "drink wine for the stomach" he did so gustily. When it became time to eat the pastor was not at all hungry, in fact he had to go home to bed.

Rev. Sharp told a number of other interesting occurrences of his pastorate in various parts of the country and closed his talk on a few words of serious thought.

He said most preachers are looked upon as someone odd or peculiar — "we are something like a third sex," he said.

He pointed out that few of them are well acquainted with cotton and livestock prices, for they were too busy with other matters, but believed it was the preachers' fault for not being better understood by his fellow man.

He recalled that few parents encourage their sons to become preachers: "It isn't so much for the salary as it is about the vagueness of a preacher's job," he said.

Seventy per cent of his time, he said was with work with the children and women of the congregation—that only one-twelfth of his time was spent on Sunday's sermon.

Rev. Sharp challenged the men of every denomination that they were needed in their church. "We need to make the church vital and real," he exclaimed, "in this world but not of the world. Women and children can't do this. The men are the leaders and it is up to us today to remember this."

Mrs. Joe Roy Smith was installed as worthy matron of the Knox City Chapter Order of the Eastern Star, Monday, June 10, in the Masonic Hall.

ried and the father of three children. He is a graduate of the University of New Mexico.

Also hired was Mrs. Ava Thibaud of Goree as an Elementary teacher.

Other business at the meeting was the selection of Citizens State Bank in Knox City at the school depository bank for the next two years.

Supt. Youngblood reported there are three vacancies in the school system at the present time — Mrs. Mary Vaughn retired after teaching school for the past 24 years—18 of which were spent in Knox City.

Also retiring this year was Mrs. Gerenia Spear, who taught school 41 years and the last five in Knox City. Mrs. Spear has already moved to her East Texas home of Blossom.

One other vacancy will be in evidence, but was not known at the time the board met was the resignation of Mrs. Jean Shwadelenak, homemaking teacher.

Jim Mateman has been hired as History teacher and Assistant Junior High Coach.

The board also okayed a 10 per cent increase in valuation of all taxable property in Knox City Independent School District. The board has asked the tax collector to make the increase and the Board of Equalization has concurred their request on this matter. This was due to increased costs of operation, the board said, mainly brought on by increase in local fund assignment from the state department which is based in the economic index of the county.

—This increase in last three years being approximately $14,000 they said—from $23,000 to $37,000.

Obedience to God should be whole-hearted. It is our duty and is the price of success for the Word says: "This book of the law shall not depart out of my mouth; but thou shalt meditate therein day and night that thou mayest observe to do according to all that is written therein; for then thou shalt make thy way prosperous and then thou shalt have good success." (Jas. 1:8).

Samuel said—"To obey is better than sacrifice, and to hearken than the fat of rams." (Sam. 15:22)

Do we know the words of God that we might be able to obey Him in all our ways of life? This is the Imperative Duty of life. Paul said: "We ought to obey God rather than man." (Acts:29).

Without knowing the laws of God we cannot obey them and without obeying we live our lives haphazard, selfishly and become sick, blue and without joy and victory.

Rural Accidents On Rise In May

The Highway Patrol investigated nine rural accidents in Knox County during the month of May, according to Sgt. Frank Jircik, patrol supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for two deaths, four persons injured, and an estimated property damage in the amount of $2,850.

The rural accident summary of Knox County from January through May of 1963 shows a total of 23 crashes resulting in two persons being killed, ten persons injured and an estimated property damage of $14,740.

It might well be said that many of our so called good citizens in their thinking do not associate good citizenship in a democracy with safety. The Patrol Supervisor reminds us that these two are so closely related that they cannot be separated.

The word safety, as we understand it, implies everything that is good. If a person lays claim to being a good citizen, yet is careless in traffic, or disregards simple traffic rules and regulations, then he cannot be considered a good citizen.

FARM and RANCH Notes

JOE W. DOBY
COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT

Ted Russell of Vera and I went to Chillicothe Experiment Station last week and threshed the samples of wheat from different rates of fertility on his farm. Ted and Clelan, his son, put down different levels of fertilizer, some in the fall, some in the spring and some both times. This was Tascosa wheat on irrigated ground, which was in wheat last year. Bear in mind this is the results of one year and on one type of soil so it should not be taken as final. Rather it should be taken as a starter for your farm along with a soil test to determine the application for maximum net profit.

The check plot with no fertilizer made 34.2 bu. 200 lbs. 0-20-0 in the fall made 42.6 bu. per acre. 200 lbs. 0-20-0 in the fall and 150 lbs. Ammonion Sulfate in the spring made 46.0 bu. 150 lbs. 16-20-0 in the fall made 35.6 bu, while 150 lbs. 16-20-0 in fall plus 105 lbs. Ammonion Sulfate in the spring made 45.1 bu. We had some inconsistencies in that 150 lb. 16-20-0 in fall plus 80 lbs. Anyhydrous Ammonia in spring made only 31.0 bu. The top yielder was 200 lbs. 16-20-0 in the fall plus 80 lbs. Anyhydrous in the spring, which made 52.3 We evidently didn't get a true sample here.

200 lbs. 0-20-0 and 200 lbs. 16-20-0 in the fall made 49.0 bu. The total yield is not the only thing to consider here as the wheat with the extra nitrogen was 10 days later in maturity than the phosphate plots. It appears that Ted and Clelan may have their soil out of balance as far as nitrogen and phosphorus are concerned which would cause the plant to make more straw and be later in maturity.

We also threshed some wheat from a field just west of Benjamin belonging to John Smith. It had 50 lbs. actual phosphate applied last fall. The check made 21.7 bu. per acre and the fertilized portion made 28.4 bu. This returned John about $1.50 for every dollar spent on fertilizer.

Remember the Knox County Vegetable Festival, Saturday, June 22 at Munday. Entries close at 9:30 a.m. Saturday. Judging starts at 10 a.m.

Some farmers and ranchers getting hotspot treatments with sterile screwworm flies have been unable to find the empty boxes. They assume incorrectly that the flies were never dropped. The present policy is to drop 100,000 sterile flies once a week on all hotspots outside the fly drop zone. This amounts to 250 boxes dropped in a five mile area of the infested area.

A little arithmetic shows this amounts to one box for each 50 acres. Finding a box under these

Uncle Ben from Benjamin says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
My old lady served notice on me official this morning that she aims to attend the next session at the country store and put the fellers straight on the facts of life.

All this come up on account of me telling her about another big problem that is facing the new Congress.

I was reading in the papers where the Government bought a whole business block in Washington in 1960 and tore down all the buildings on it, fer a total cost of $6 million. It was figured at the time that Sam Rayburn had plans fer some sort of Government building on the lot.

Well now that Mr. Sam is dead none of them Congressmen can recollect exactly what Mr. Sam had in mind and a big debate is going on amongst them now about how to fill up the vacant block.

circumstances would be quite a feat.

Screwworm officials have begun the practice of feeding the flies in the release boxes. A souffle cup containing a cotton ball and corn syrup is placed in the center of the dividing partition. After the flies emerge they feed on the syrup. This gives the flies more strength and allows them to live longer after release.

Cotton's need for moisture is greatest during the square, bloom and young boll stages of growth. The rate of water used by cotton plants varies through the growing season and intelligent irrigation is based on the periods of greatest need. The plants use very little water for the first few weeks but beginning with the appearance of the first square the rate of water use increases steadily. When the first bloom appears, the water requirements again increases rapidly and the maximum rate of water use occurs at the peak bloom stage which is usually three to three and one-half months after planting.

Shedding of fruit by cotton has been found to be associated with a low soil moisture during the early bloom and fruiting stage. Excessively high moisture levels should also be avoided especially after the first bolls appear. This moisture can cause late vegetative growth which will not increase lint yields.

According to the papers, the Congress has about decided to build a Memorial to President Madison on it, with a big underground warehouse fer storing important records. The best price they been quoted by contractors up to now on this building is $39 million.

Congressman Scott of Pennsylvania is claiming this plan has got two bad features. First off, he says, the Lincoln Memorial didn't cost but $3 million and it wouldn't be fair to ole Abe to spend $39 million on somepun fer Madison. In the second place, he allows as how it wouldn't be long till they got to looking fer expensive blocks to tear down fer a Memorial to Andrew Jackson or somebody. He says it might start a trend that would tear down the whole city of Washington and set the public debt back another 50 year. He claims it is the history of the Congress to go whole hog or nothing in such matters.

And I figger it wouldn't be more'n a year till they moved them records out of the storage space and put surplus crops in it. I have wrote to my Congressman advising it would be better to sew this block down in lespedeza and put it in the Soil Bank. I'm expecting to git a 2-page reply thanking me fer my fine suggestion and advising that when the new Madison Memorial is dedicated I'll git a invitation. But my old lady says waste in big Government is like fleas on a dog, the bigger the dog the more the fleas. This is a fact of life, she claims, that the fellers at the country store has got to live with—and she aims to tell 'em so.

I just hope Mister Editor, that her and Zeke Grubb's preacher don't git there the same night. If they do, one of 'em is going in orbit.

Yours truly,
Uncle Ben

TWICE AS MUCH COOLING

With the patented features of Paramount Coolers

Yes! This famous Paramount 5000 c.f.m. evaporative cooler gives you up to twice as much cooling because of these patented features:

- Many coolers lose as much as 70% of cooling efficiency because dust, dirt and salts clog the filters. Patented No-Clog Sta-Fresh Filters are guaranteed clog-proof, assuring 100% cooling efficiency all summer long.
- Filters saturated with water become heavy and often sag and settle from the top, drawing hot, unfiltered, uncooled air into the cooler which may create as much as a 70% cooling loss. Patented Grip-Lock Filter Holders are guaranteed to prevent sagging and settling of filters assuring 100% cool, clean, filtered air.
- Without correct water trough adjustment, sections of the filters remain dry, resulting in substantial cooling loss and costly service expense. Patented Free-Flo Visible Water Troughs with external adjustment assure 100% saturation, and 100% cooling for the entire life of the cooler.
- Added feature — Patented Window Closing Attachment lets you close and lock your window. Eliminates entry of dust, rain and drafts into your home.

STATE CAPITAL
Highlights
AND Sidelights
by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — On July 1 every article of outer clothing that costs less than $10 will go up 2 per cent.

This is the date the extended state sales tax law goes into effect. All outer clothing now exempt will become taxable.

Smart shoppers will take advantage of the last days of June to stock up on clothing for the family. Buying of school togs may take place earlier than ever before.

Legislature made many changes in the sales tax law. Most changes affect reporting procedures of merchants. An important one however, raises the state sales tax on automobiles from one and one-half to two per cent.

As of July 1, if you buy a new car costing $3,000, for example, you will pay a state tax of $60.

If you trade in an old car the salesman will deduct the trade-in amount from the total, then figure your tax on the difference. In other words, if your trade-in came to $1,000 toward a $3,000 car, you would pay two per cent — or $40 — on the difference.

"LAYAWAY PLAN" — At the last minute Gov. John Connally signed the $3 billion state budget bill. He criticized the bill for emphasizing "bricks rather than brains." But he knocked out $12,400,000 worth of "bricks"—i. e. construction items — before he affixed his signature.

Connally said he would guard the $12,400,000 as a "layaway plan" for higher education.

Hopes that his decision on the 1964-65 appropriations bill would decide the special session question fell through. He said he does not want to call a special session but will not hesitate to do so if he becomes convinced that excellence in higher education is threatened by a shortage of funds for teaching salaries, research and libraries.

VETOES — When the governor's deadline for signing bills arrived, he inked into law most of the 554 measures passed by the Legislature.

But he vetoed a few, including:

Senate bill 270 — revising the antiquated 1856 Code of Criminal Procedure. Connally nixed the controversial code revision, after learning that the copy sent him for signature was not the one passed by the Legislature.

House Bill 769 — exempting from jury service "all owners or operators of milk-producing farms where this operation is the exclusive means of earning a living."

Connally said, "I believe that dairy farmers occupy an important role in our society and can serve a valuable function as jurors."

House Bill 1053 — providing for election of directors of the Upper Guadalupe River Authority, rather than appointment by the governor. Connally said he vetoed this since there was a technical conflict in its legal language which might jeopardize the districts.

House Bill 975 — Repealing the requirement that the Angleton Drainage District get approval of the Texas Water Commission before spending bond money for improvements. He said Water Commission approval would assure uniformity of improvements in all water districts.

MURRAY FILE — Income tax reports made by William J. Murray from 1946 to 1962 have been studied by Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr. Murray resigned in April as a member of the Railroad Commission, following a conflict of interest charge.

After noting that Murray's taxable income from oil, gas and allied operations during those 17 years exceeded $1,700,000, Attorney Gen. Carr stated, "This report does raise a serious question of a conflict-of-interest between the official duties of Mr. Murray and his private interests."

Carr recommended a Legislative Council study for an improved Code of Ethics for State officials.

Such a code, co-authored by Reps. Jim Nugent of Kerrville, Bob Eckhardt of Houston and Travis Peeler of Corpus Christi passed the House during the legislative session but was killed in the Senate.

Study of Murray's finances was made for a Travis County Grand Jury, which will attempt to determine whether Murray violated any laws.

SCREWORM PROGRESS IS PROVEN — Up to now, estimates of state and federal animal health authorities that the one and one-half year-old screwworm eradication program has resulted in anywhere from a 75 to 95 per cent decline in the disease have been pure guess work.

But the joint report of the Texas Animal Health Commission and the U. S. Department of Agriculture for the five-week period ending June 1 confirmed a 93 per cent decline as compared to the same weeks in 1962.

The clear comparison picture was the result of reporting cooperation on the part of livestock producers.

Animal health report showed that during the period April 28 to June 1, 1963, research workers confirmed 480 samples as screwworm infestations, and 1,281 as non-screwworm. In the same period in 1962 there were 7,013 screwworm cases confirmed, and 597 termed non-screwworm.

PROGRAM IN JEOPARDY? — Members of the Texas Screwworm Eradication Committee considered Gov. Connally's veto of a $300,000 appropriation for the eradication program a matter of "serious concern."

They said more than 100,000 livestock producers raised $1 million toward its $3 million goal this spring in a 30-day period on the governor's word that the State would carry its share of the $12 million program.

Committeemen said that unless the $300,000 vetoed by Connally is restored, the entire program is in jeopardy, and possibly the loss of the huge investment producers already have made in the program.

TOWNS ON THE MOVE

How Community Spirit
Built
Perryton

Population figures more than double . . . 30 new industries added . . . all since 1950! That is the miraculous record of Perryton in the Texas Panhandle wheat growing area.

When oil was discovered in the early 50's, an aggressive, long-range program was launched by the Chamber of Commerce. An 84-acre industrial tract was secured and plotted; its streets were paved and a railroad spur was built.

So successful was this community development that today a second industrial tract has been acquired and plotted.

ted. Perryton, former population 4417, is now known as The Oil Center of the Anardarko Basin, with 9400 citizens. It is another reason we say big things are happening in General Telephone towns.

These towns are on the move. Community improvements are under way, local resources are being developed, new businesses, new industries are coming in. If your town seeks additional information about expansion perhaps we can help. Just write our Community Development Department, Box 1001, San Angelo, Texas.
