Council Seeks Advice From Leaders Of City On Filling Depleted Coffers

Knox City's City Council met with five Knox Citizens to discuss city finances Monday night at City Cafe. Attending were: Councilmen A. T. Holcomb, Otis Cash, Kenneth Crownover, and Vaughn Gruben. Mayor Buddy Angle and Councilman Monty Penman were absent.

Gruben was spokesman for the city and said the city was not yet in critical shape but that "we are bogged down."

"Fuller has some facts to show you . . . we owe the bank for the golf course, fire truck and for city hall, and we need to catch up," Gruben said.

Gruben said it was the boards contention that they needed to have a bond election of about $100,000 to pay their bills and take care of other necessary additions for the future.

He mentioned that the city was unable to take Branham Chevrolet Co. into the city limits for it would cost between 6 and 7 thousand dollars for water and sewer service and that if the bond election passed they would admit them into the city.

"We would like for you (the citizens) to give us the feeling of the people—if we can do this and not raise taxes it would help," Gruben said.

He asked Fuller Shannon to recount what the city owed the bank.

The city owes the bank $8,080, or $166.66 per month payments on the fire truck; $8,872 or $1,266.50 each year on the city hall and $14,000 or $1,000 each year on the golf course. All less interest.

"What do we owe the bank," Gruben asked. "$30,880 less interest," Shannon remarked.

Shannon asked the board if they could issue warrants to pay of these debt, and the council said they thought they could.

Cash said, "Guy (the former mayor) didn't bring this before the board, but there was some bonding company in Amarillo that told him we could borrow $100,000 without raising our taxes."

Judge Lewis Williams asked what interest rate we were paying the bank on the warrants and Shannon said four and one-half percent on the land, and six percent on city hall.

Judge asked what the yearly warrants now cost the city and Shannon said $4,266 plus interest to the bank and City Secretary John "Duck" Robinson said $13,552.50 to other sources. That the city owed $150,000 in bonds.

It was pointed out that the city needs $10,000 in the sinking fund as required by a bonding company and that the city now

Mayor Angle Has Special Council Meet Thursday

Knox City's City Council had a called meeting Friday afternoon at 4 p.m. at the city hall with all councilmen present and presided over by Mayor Buddy Angle. Councilmen were Monty Penman, Kenneth Crownover, A. T. Holcomb, Otis Cash and Vaughn Gruben. Also attending was Chief of Police J. J. "Pug" Hester.

"Be sure and take down every word we say for the record," the mayor informed the city secretary as the meeting came to order.

The mayor opened the meeting by reviewing what the council had told him to do at the last meeting, in regards to the police department in Knox City. "At the last meeting we had a discussion about some of the things we wanted the chief of police to do and the manner in which we wanted his office operated, and you (the council) told me to talk to him and you said you would stand behind me all the way in whatever I did. Yet he (Hester) told me yesterday that you were all behind him all the way in whatever he decided to do."

Mayor Angle told the council that one of the complaints he had received was that the chief of police was driving the city car too much to the country to see about his farm and for other reasons, and that he also needed to be more courteous to the people he came in contact with. "You told me to talk to him about these matters and yet Thursday he told me he had talked to all of you and that I did not have any authority to do anything," the mayor said.

Crownover said he felt the council was elected by the taxpayers to do as good a job as they could and he said he felt that Hester had "done a real fine job, but when the taxpayers complain, it was the council's job to do what the people wanted."

Hester said if the people were complaining about him driving the car home he would quit it. One of the councilmen said, during a period of discussions in which they were all talking at once, that the council had given Hester a free rein and that it could have been wrong, "for all of us need to have someone over us."

Hester said he hadn't bawled anybody out and that if he had he was sorry but said that it was necessary to be a little rough with the kids, "or else they would laugh and run me out of town," he stated.

Mayor Angle reminded the board that they had told him Monday that in the event the chief got mad at him for telling him (the chief) the board's recommendations, and quit that the board had said "we were looking for a chief of police when we hired him."

Holcomb had said "that if Pug didn't like the way we see it he could quit."

Cash said no one had complained to him about the chief of police, but that he had wanted the mayor to talk to him about the issues under discussion.

Mayor Angle told Hester that "the council told me to talk to you, and then I found out I didn't have any business to come to you. If I'd known they would have back-tracked, I wouldn't have said one word to you for all the money in the world."

Angle said it came as a surprise to him when Hester told him that he (the mayor) did not have the authority to say anything to him, much less fire him.

"I remember a mayor doing just that not too long ago," the mayor retorted.

Penman told the group that there was no need for them to get "all souped up and mad over the issue . . . let's lay our cards on the table and try to come to an understanding. This is strictly business and we should be impartial. If a man can't see it our way, let's do away with him," he said.

Hester said that he told the council when he took the job, that he would take care of the police work and that if they had a holler he would get out.

Mayor told the chief that the council had discussed the issue Monday night and that they had decided how the office should be run, and that by the time he got around to seeing Hester the council had changed its mind and that one of the members, Gruben, had said Hester was the best chief of police Knox City ever had. Prior to the Monday meeting all the council had voiced similar statements.

Cash said as well as he could remember that under the former administration they had made a motion that the chief of police was supposed to use his car for certain things and that he should not go to his farm but only a certain number of times

SCHOOL BOARD HAS REGULAR MEETING AUG. 13

Knox City's School Board met in regular session Tuesday night at the high school and completed the faculty for this school year.

Mrs. Oneta Spencer of Vernon was hired as the fourth grade teacher; Mrs. Esther McDaniel, of Rising Star, was hired as the third grade teacher.

Superintendent of Schools E. A. Youngblood announced that school would begin Tuesday, Sept. 3, this year with all students registering at 10 a.m. and returning home immediately after registration. Buses will make regular runs, he said.

First day of regular classes is scheduled for Wednesday with a full day of classes. The cafeteria will be open Wednesday for the children to eat lunch at school.

Supt. Youngblood said all first graders will be required to have a birth certificate and their immunization certificates before they may start school.

Birth certificates may be obtained from the county clerk's office in which the child was born or from the State Dept. of Records in Austin, and the immunization certificate may be obtained from the doctor, he reminded.

No minutes were made at that time however, and after more deliberation the council said they had left that matter up to the chief's discretion.

It was also disclosed that the car was used out of city and out of county and that there had been other complaints. Hester pointed out that he believed it was necessary for him to be near his car and radio and that was his reason for using the city car for personal trips.

Crownover said he was probably right but that "when a taxpayer sees this, it looks bad."

Cash said he thought the chief had "done a wonderful job, for we had a lot of drag racing in town when he took the job."

Mayor Angle said, "we still do."

Cash said it was possible, but it was not as bad now as it was then.

Crownover made the motion, seconded by Cash to make Drew Holcomb police commissioner,

Sandra Ellis Home From World Tour

Sandra Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ellis of O'Brien, has recently returned home from a tour of around the world.

Sandra left Dallas June 17, with a group of 27 young people and eight adults sponsored by Dr. Elwin Skiles of Abilene.

The tour visited Hawaii, Japan, Hong Kong, Thailand, India, Pakistan, Iran, Israel, Jordan, Lebanon, Egypt, Greece, Italy, France, and England.

Some of the highlights of the trip were meetings with the American Ambassador of Hong Kong, and Beirut, Lebanon, and a meeting in India with Prime Minister Nehru's sister, who is the Gov. of Bombay.

The group also saw the Taj Mahal in India, the Three Pyramids of Giza in Egypt, rode camels, and slept in tents on the Sahara Desert. In Rome, they saw Pope Paul VI, and in Paris, the famous painting by Leonardo da Vinci, Mona Lisa.

One main purpose of the trip was to visit the Holy Land and attend meetings of the 6th Baptist Youth World Conference in Beirut, Lebanon. Approximately 3,000 young people from 52 different countries attended.

The tour arrived back in Dallas August 3. Slides of this trip will be shown Sunday night at the O'Brien Baptist Church, at 7:30 p.m.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Sunday will also be "Youth Day" at the O'Brien Baptist Church. Bobby Cox who recently decided to preach will have charge of the morning services.

Sandra Ellis will have charge of the evening services showing slides of her recent trip.

Training Union will begin at 6:30 Sunday evening and preaching services at 7:30.

Sandra and Bobby will be freshmen students at HSU this fall.

Welcome Party Date Changed To Sept. 3

It has been announced that the Welcome Party for newcomers to Knox City has been changed to September 3.

Red River Riders To Play O'Brien Aug. 18

The Electric Red River Riders will play the O'Brien Blue Sox Sunday August 18 at 2 p.m. at the O'Brien Ball Park.

It was announced that no alcoholic beverages will be allowed at the park.

and that Hester be responsible only to Holcomb.

The council voted unanimously for the motion. Holcomb told Hester that "I will not be your boss; whatever I tell you will come directly from this board."

Mayor Angle told the board they would have to appoint another city judge and motion was made by Crownover that City Secretary John Robinson be appointed city judge until one could be appointed permanent.

Mayor Angle told the council—"I can't work with a board that says one thing and does another. You told me to talk to Pug and before I could talk to him he told me he had already talked to you, and you talk to him one way and talk to me another. I am sorry I said anything to you, Pug, but I will talk to your face the same way I will behind your back. . . . Be sure and take down everything we say for the minutes, Duck. If we go too fast, we'll slow down for you," the mayor said.

The mayor said his primary and sole interest was the people and that the city did not have any money to be wasting. He said the city car had averaged traveling 140 miles per day for the past seven days and that if it had been put on city streets, it was all right but he said he knew this was not the case.

Gruben made a motion, seconded by Crownover that the city car make only one trip a day to Hester's farm and that it not leave the city limits unless in line of duty or in case some other law officer requested Hester's assistance.

All voted in favor of the motion with the following reservations:

That if it be necessary for him to make more than one trip to his farm, it would be left to his discretion and that he try to stay in the city as much as possible in the city car.

The mayor pointed out that the city police had no authority out of the city limits and that the city was liable for more trouble if it didn't stop.

Hester said that 18 to 20 hours of riding the city streets was mighty tiring and that getting out on the road helped him.

The mayor lodged the last complaint of the evening when he told the council that Hester was being criticized for trading with the council members and not trading with other service stations and garages.

Hester asked if it was anybody else's business, and the mayor reminded the council that "It is strictly against the law for the city to buy anything from a councilman."

Crownover and Penman said that there was certainly no pressure put on the city or the chief of police for them to trade with them, and Penman said he would like to suggest the city use its courtesy cards so they could save money on gas and oil.

Gruben made a motion and voted unanimously by the council that the city car be greased every 30 days regardless of mileage and that a different business establishment be chosen each month. It was also voted that the car be washed each 30 days—or "more if circumstances warrant."

Hester asked the council to supply him additional help for the fall season. He suggested that the city hire someone to ride with him during some of the night work and said they could either use their own car or his (the city's) after he went home.

He also asked the council to see if they could get him deputized "So I can leave the city limits."

Crownover made the motion to ask the county commissioners court to deputize Knox City's Chief of Police J. J. Hester.

All voted in favor of the motion.

The meeting was adjourned.

You -- American Boy -- Scout

Have you ever dreamed of hiking the wilderness trails that were worn down under moccasins hundreds of years ago? Do you hear in your imagination the almost soundless dip-dip of Indian canoe paddles or the ring of the axe of an early pioneer hewing a home out of the American wilderness?

Have you followed, with your mind's eye, the covered wagons on the trek across our continent? Have you thought of the men and women who built our country by their determination and devotion?

You are the descendant of those people. You are the guardian of what they built. You are the American on whom the future of our wonderful country depends.

Today you are an American boy. Before long you will be an American man. It is important to America and to yourself that you become a citizen of fine character, physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight. Scouting helps you become that kind of citizen. Also, Scouting gives you fellowship and fun in Cub Scouting (8-10 years), Boy Scouting (11-14 years) and Exploring (15-18 years).

Yes, it's fun to be a Scout. It's fun to go hiking and camping with your best friends. . . . to swim, to dive, paddle a canoe, to wield an axe, to follow in the footsteps of the pioneers who led the way through the wilderness. . . . to stare into the glowing embers of a campfire and

Cypert Reunion Held In Abilene Recently

The annual Cypert reunion was held August 3 and 4 in the Abilene State Park.

Some of the new officers are: Truman Cypert, Munday, president; Pinky Cypert, Merkel, vice president; Mrs. Truman Cypert, Munday, secretary; and Mrs. J. B. Rutherford, Munday, reporter. dream of the wonders of the life that is in store for you as a Scout.

When you are a Scout, forests and fields, rivers and lakes, are your playground. You are completely at home in God's great out of doors.

You learn to notice every sound, to observe every track. Birds and animals may become your friends. You master the skills of walking noiselessly through the woods, of stalking close to a grazing deer without being noticed or of bringing a bird close to you by imitating its call. You learn to find your way across country by map and compass, to make a meal when you are hungry, to take a safe swim when you are hot, to make yourself comfortable for the night in a tent under the stars. In Scouting you become a true outdoorsman.

Yet, Scouting is far more than hiking and camping fun. Scouting is learning to grow into responsible manhood, learning to be of service to others. The Scout Oath, the Scout Law, the Scout Motto, and the Scout Slogan all spell out your ability and your willingness to be of service.

The records of the Scout movement are full of report of Scouts who have done outstanding service, of Scouts who have saved the lives of others.

Scouting is for you if you are a boy between 8-18 years of age. Ages 8-10 may be Cub Scouts, 11-14 Boy Scouts and 15-18 Explorers.

RECEIVES LIONS CLUB PIN

Gruben said, "Our interest rate is very low, $1.50 per hundred, and our values are very low. The county and schools have raised their's and as Brother Hill says ten per cent will be 30, but looks like that's what its coming to . . ."

"If we had our values just a little higher we could get over the hump," Gruben concluded.

The council pointed out that the fire commission was getting close to raising the fire insurance "way out of sight" if the city didn't do something about the water mains and fire plugs in the city limits.

The board said that the main thing was for them to get together and talk it over with the people. "We are down to where we have to do something . . . we will contact a bonding company and see how much we can borrow, for how, long and for how much interest," the board said.

"According to Guy the bonding company said it wouldn't affect our taxes, but I don't know how he figured it," Gruben explained.

It was agreed that water and sewer lines had doubled during the past ten years and that instead of having a bond election to raise money the city had just paid for the extra expense out of city funds.

Gruben closed the meeting by expressing thanks to the citizens for their attendance and promised another meeting as soon as all details of the bond election could be worked out.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

Texas Youth Council's parole division will triple in the next six months or so. But the problem of trying to help "reform school" graduates become useful citizens is still great.

Until Sept. 1, five state parole officers are responsible for some 1,800 juvenile parolees spread out over 169 counties. That's a ratio of one parole officer to about 357 parolees, compared to national standards of one officer to 40 parolees.

Staff will increase to 10 on September 1—a ratio of one to 178. On March 1, 1964, when 5 more are added, ratio will be down to one parole officer to 119 parolees, spread over the Lone Star State.

Biggest number of parolees is centered in big cities where the general rate of crime is always higher. More than a third of the paroled children are in Dallas, Harris and Bexar counties; another 288 in El Paso, Jefferson, Tarrant and Travis counties.

About 154 are in Nueces, McLennan, Bell and Lubbock counties.

But sizeable juvenile parole populations are centered in the smaller counties, such as Cameron, Grayson, Brazoria, Ector, Galveston, Gregg, Hale, Hidalgo, Howard, Hunt, Midland, Navarro, Potter, San Patricio, Smith, Taylor, Wichita and Williamson.

Some counties only have one paroled child. But the state is responsible for every one it has "retrained."

FIRST AIDE — State Regulatory Loan Commissioner Frank Miskell appointed Robert C. Duke, Houston attorney, as Deputy Commissioner and General Counsel of the new state agency.

Duke formerly served as acting Securities Commissioner in the Secretary of State's securities division.

Regulatory bill takes effect on August 23. Some 2,000 loan companies operating in Texas will have to file for state licenses at that time.

INSURANCE HEARING — A State Insurance Board hearing on proposed rules for regulating credit insurance — which pays off a man's debt if he dies, or makes the payments when he is disabled—drew a big crowd.

One controversial point was a ceiling rate of 90 cents per $100 of insurance.

Some insurance company executives insisted the ceiling should be no more than 60 or 65 cents per $100. But one spokesman thought the 90-cent per $100 rate was too low and recommended $1.

Some loan companies said they now give credit insurance free. They feared the proposed rules might outlaw this practice.

A second hearing with new proposed rules will be aired on September 10.

MONEY MEN — The Legislative Budget Board, lawmakers who make the Legislature's financial decisions between sessions, recommended $4,644,000 worth of state building to Gov. John Connally.

Plans approved included one by the State Hospitals Board to equip a genetics lab and follow up clinic on mental retardation in the State Psychiatric Institution at Houston; new dormitories for Gatesville school for boys; Gainesville School for Girls and Crockett School for Negro Girls; and several prison system units.

Authorization was recommended for $25,000 worth of partitioning to provide 23 new offices in Attorney General Waggoner Carr's department.

But the board balked at Texas A&M University's request to spend some $100,000 on a home—exclusive of land and furnishings—for A&M President Earl Rudder, to replace the one destroyed by fire.

A compromise recommendation of about $60,000 for a 4,500 square-foot home was the outcome.

CITIES GROWTH FORMULA — About 200 city attorneys, city engineers and city councilmen gathered in Austin to hear a Texas Municipal League explanation of the Texas Municipal Annexation Act, which will become effective on August 23.

Annexation act sets out "extraterritorial jurisdictions" dictating the extent of a city's growth in any three-year period. For cities of less than 5,000 population, the extraterritorial area extends a half mile beyond the city limits; cities 5,000 to 25,000 one mile; cities 25,000 to 50,000 two miles; cities 50,000 to 100,000, three and a half miles; and cities 100,000 and up, five miles.

But a city would not have to expand all the way around its limit: It could swing arcs or "fingers" out to "desirable areas for growth," and obtain the annual area allocation of 10 percent of its square acreage in these areas.

For example, officials of a city of 20,000 acres could annex up to 2,000 acres of "desirable" land one year; 2,200 acres the next, etc., without ever annexing undesirable territory.

"Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful. But his delight is in the law of the Lord; and in his law doth he meditate day and night. And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his first fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper." (Psalm 1:1-3).

Good people have their troubles, heartaches and sickness in the world—sure they do. But they have their rewards too in earth as well as in heaven. The WORD of God tells us how to secure wonderful blessings.

Learn to love God each day and live for him in every thing you do. Let what you eat and drink be unto the Lord for it is sustenance of the body which is in His service. Meditate upon His WORD, study His Truths until your mind and heart is full and overflowing. Remember — when disappointments come it is often a plow with which God makes a furrow in your heart that He may sow the seeds of grace "more abundant." With all troubles, so will come strength to overcome as you trust HIM.

$ 27 MILLION

... has been spent recently for commercial construction in our service area.

Recently published figures of industrial expansion in our service area reached a huge $28 million.

Add to that another vast expansion figure and you have an even more impressive total.

... more proof that the Center of the Southwest is one of the Nation's fastest growing regions.

$27,000,000 was spent on new commercial construction and for expansion of existing businesses in the same time period, in the same WTU service area. This is why we say "The Center of the Southwest" is one of the Nation's fastest growing regions.

Such industrial and commercial expansion, plus civic and other improvements, strengthen our conviction that this region faces growth unlimited.

WYLIE prepares

When Wylie, Texas planned civic improvements, its progressive citizens went all the way. Showing a population increase of 34% over 1960 census figures of 1804, Wylie set out to prepare for even more growth.

They launched a street paving program, downtown business modernization, construction of a new school, new bank building, new residences and a new post office.

This combination of public and private improvement is well under way today, as shown in the "before and after" facelifting photos above. The Wylie story is another reason we say big things are happening in General Telephone towns.

These towns are on the move. Community improvements are under way, local resources are being developed, new businesses, new industries are coming in. If your town seeks additional information about expansion, perhaps we can help. Just write our Community Development Department, Box 1001, San Angelo, Texas.

OF THE SOUTHWEST

Uncle Ben from Benjamin says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellers at the country house Saturday night was going a little easy on the Congress for a change and was devoting the program mostly to personal matter. Isaac Cornafodder did report he had saw a statement by Senator Symington that the Navy has got enough canned ham-broiler in storage to last for 59 years and 2 months. Isaac allowed as how he wasn't complaining about this item on account of he knowed this was our regular stockpiling procedure, but he was a little disturbed that they didn't mention no mustard and catchup stored to eat with it.

Ed Doolittle said it was all the same to Isaac, he'd rather discuss hamburgers, mustard, catchup and such things. Ed reported he was putting on weight and his old lady was worried about his eating habits. He said she had took to talking about "kalories" and things he ain't heard about till now. Ed claimed his old lady was the champion worrier in 7 states and she had always left the worry-ang up to her. He said it was his business agin ulcers.

Anyhow, allowed Ed, his old lady has announced that from now on breakfast is gitting cut in half. He told the fellers he didn't eat nothing much fer breakfast but 2 eggs over light, some country sausage, a couple hot cakes with molasses, and 2 cups of coffee. Ed said his big meal come at night.

But from now on, he figgered about all he'd git fer breakfast was the weather report on radio and it had got so's he couldn't understand that half the time. It used to be, he claimed, if it was going to snow or rain the feller on the radio said so, but nowadays everything is some pun about "percipitation" that don't mean nothing to him one way or the other.

Clem Webster agreed with Ed that things like kalories and percipitation was bad and ought to be agin the law. Bug Hookum was lamenting that our language is gitting so fancy it's hard fer a one-gallus feller to understand it. Bug said he recollected reading, when Liz Taylor and Eddie Fisher got hitched, the piece said they was "joined in holy wedlock." In the old days, claimed Bug, the papers just said so-and-so took a wife. Of course, allowed Bug, everybody knows it was the other way round, but editors in them days was kind to the wimmen folks.

Zeke Grugg was of the opinion that editors ought to keep matters a little more consistent. Fer instant he said, when Liz and Eddie split up the papers had ought to report that they was "disjointed in unholy divorce." Anytime, Mister Editor, you want Zeke to come to town and git out your paper, just let him know.

Yours truly,
Uncle Ben

COMPLETE PRINTING FACILITIES

That's absolutely right . . . and its all right here in Knox City! We are the only printers between Wichita, Abilene and Lubbock with both letterpress and offset presses doing 4-color process work!

All of which means we can print anything! If something impossible comes up that we don't do every day, we are the agents for those who specialize in that form of nonsense.

At least give us a chance to tell you where to go if we can't do it! No charge or obligation, naturally!
