WHICH IS THE TOUGHEST?

BILL, NATURALLY! — Pictured above is Bill Ryder, manager of the Beavers Ranch with a large Bobcat captured recently. Bill, his son Donnie and Melton McCowan, sighted the big cat on the South Wichita River and Bill roped him and managed to pull him over the limb of a tree. After considerable "taming" Bill hoped the critter to his saddle and rode five miles to the ranch. Bill said he had been cowboy for a long time, but that was the wildest critter he had ever put a rope on. Deputy Sheriff Kenneth LaMascus was the photographer who braved the claws and fangs of the big cat to snap this picture.

Happy New Year! We hope this finds all our readers clear-eyed and full of enthusiasm and ready for the year ahead.

We Don't Make The News, We Just Report It . . . A fact we would like to stress as time goes on.

Last week's Christmas edition was the only paper we've published that we didn't mind to print and which had no "bad" news.

It pointed out a fact to us, which we knew, that regardless of what you print, even if its nothing, you are criticized.

We had three complaints about last week's paper, and no one complimented it.

Which is more than usual—regardless of what the Herald has to say!

A resolution we made years ago and will make each day as long as we publish a page, is that we will inform, to the best of our ability on things of importance to the public and its welfare.

If the report is good you, the people make it, if bad, you still make it.

JOHN KALE was in the office recently and as we were turning handsprings jumping around and through our selves, John said he had learned a long time ago to take things easy and keep calm.

We told John that if he could remain calm in all our confusion it was just because he didn't understand the predicament we were in.

He stuck by his guns and his advise though.

John said he had found out, the hard way, that when he confronted a hard decision or problem in his business the first thing he did was to stop, go some place quiet, drink some coffee, and relax.

Later, when his nerves and mind were relaxed, John said he would go back on the job and usually, in short order, he would have everything solved and things running steady again.

Thanks for the advice, John, and sure enough, it really does work!

LUTHER WOOLEY was recalling his stay in Colorado and when we asked him what he enjoyed most and impressed him most about Colorado, he said it was the varied scenery one encounters at every step and turn.

It brought to mind our first trip to the mountains in Colorado and he way we were impressed with the splendor and beauty of the mountains and country.

Once we shot a roll of film at one setting, only moving the camera in a circle to get a new picture, and on completion—all were new pictures. They were so varied in scope and beauty that one could hardly believe they were made in the same locale, much less the same location.

HASKELL was in the news again with another visit from the "long black" cat or "something." Knox City was also visited

His wife, Shirley, is the daughter of Mrs. Maggie Johnson of 812 Bowie St., Sweetwater.

Motorists Warned Of New Amendments

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, issued a special warning to car owners that tough NEW amendments to the Texas safety responsibility law become effective on January 1.

Amendments require that drivers prove their ability to pay for damage to others in traffic accidents. All accidents resulting in $100 or more damage, injury or death must be reported in writing to the DPS within 10 days. Accidents not involving death do not come under the safety responsibility law.

Licenses will be suspended unless both operators and owners of cars in accidents coming under the law can prove adequate liability insurance coverage.

Minimum requirements are one person; $20,000 for two or more persons; and $5,000 property damage. Otherwise they must establish financial requirements, if they are at fault.

Suspensions of licenses and registration will be for a period of two years unless requirements of the safety responsibility act are fully met.

VISITING GRAHAMS

Visiting in the Doyle Graham home were Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Graham of Durham, North Carolina, Mr. and Mrs. Dickie Goodson and family of Fort Worth, and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Voss of Abilene.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

Legal Checkup A Safety Measure

Legal trouble is easier and cheaper to prevent than to cure. Most wage earning, childbearing, home-buying, installment-paying families don't see much need for a family lawyer.

Often only under prodding, one may have his lawyer prepare a will.

But, can you tell a big legal risk from a small one? Can you spot the signs of legal trouble? Check with your family lawyer when:

1. Your status changes: upon coming of age, marriage, the birth of your children, buying a house, divorce or death. For you may then need to draft or revise your will, change your insurance, or re-figure your taxes.

2. You buy or sell. Look out for flaws in the papers before you go into debt, part with money, or sign anything involving big expenditures or long-term obligations.

3. You enter into other contracts. Promises, spoken or written, bind you if they call for a "consideration," something of value in return.

4. Someone threatens your rights. The law exists to defend them but with some rights you must take action yourself for them to work for you.

When you can bring your lawyer "live" facts (e.g. unsigned contracts, vexing tax returns you haven't filed), he can do much for you, and at a smaller cost than when you bring him "cold" facts (mistakes you have made which threaten trouble.)

But above all, get both live and cold facts to him at once. For time may run out in many situations. Your lawyer may be able to do something for you today, which he cannot do tomorrow.

Tell your lawyer what you want. Tell him all the facts, good or bad, and then keep him informed all along. He is sworn by something that kills cattle two weeks ago, but we didn't think it meant very much . . . Now, we don't know.

We rant across a dead calf on our way to the Lewis-Hill Ponderosa Ranch two weeks ago. We were on our daily sojourn to the ranch to feed our horses when we noticed the animal in the bar ditch.

Our first impression was that someone had dumped the critter there, but law-abiding Knox County knows it is against the law to litter the public roads with dead animals, so we don't know how the calf got there.

Keeping the cork in the jug long enough to do a little detective work we came up with some "footprints"—just like they keep doing in Haskell, and finally came to the conclusion the "monster" disembowled the calf with the sole help of the crows and arrived at the scene of the crime in a pickup truck—more than likely, with 6:50 16 tires on it.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to take this opportunity to let all of our dear wonderful friends know that there are no words that can be said to show just how much we appreciate all the nice and wonderful things have been done for our darling loved one, Harry Tackitt during his illness and death.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — President Lyndon Johnson's holidays would exhaust most ordinary mortals. The President arrived in Austin on Christmas Eve, his homecoming delayed by a congressional crisis over the $3,000,000 foreign aid bill. Abandoning his announced schedule, he went to the Governor's Mansion for a 30-minute visit with Gov. John Connally.

Stopping his party's helicopter at the ranch of another close friend, A. W. Moursund, the President joined Moursund in an hour of deer hunting, before he finally got home to hang up his Christmas stocking. There he spent a happy time with his family and relatives and numerous close friends. Christmas day at the LBJ Ranch also found the President confronted with problems. He expressed concern over the fighting in Cyprus, penned messages to Greek and Turkish Cypriot leaders and General Cemal Gursel, President of the Republic of Turkey.

Then he took newsmen on a tour of his ranch, handed them ashtrays as presents, and explained a cut he had just ordered in federal employment. All this he did before settling down to his Christmas dinner and the opening of presents under the tree.

Before dawn the next day, he and former governor Buford Ellington of Tennessee left "The Little White House" on a deer hunt. Both bagged bucks.

The President was back at the ranch house, working in his office, before noon and conferred with Secretary of State Dean Rusk by telephone, repeatedly, on the Cyprus crisis.

Later, he named a nine-member committee of experts to evaluate foreign economic and military aid programs and recommended how to strengthen them.

In doing his homework for the important Erhard visit, Johnson conferred in person with these distinguished government officials at the ranch: Secretary Rusk, Under Secretary of State George Ball, Special Ambassador Christian Herter, Agriculture Secretary Douglas Freeman and McGeorge Bundy, special assistant for national security affairs.

Theodore Sorensen, special White House counsel, was summoned to assist in preparation of the new President's first state of the union message. It will be delivered before the Congress on January 8.

Thomas C. Mann, assistant of state for inter-American affairs, and John A. McCone, Central Intelligence Agency director, were among others called to confer with the President, in addition to regular staff members. Press members from Washington and foreign countries, as well as the native Texans of the State capital beat, were invited back to talk and eat with the President on Friday.

In addition to official talks, there was a program of fun for Chancellor Erhard, a portly professor. He toured Fredericksburg, home of many German-speaking Texans, and attended church at Bethany Lutheran Church there Sunday. More than 200 turned out for a barbecue luncheon honoring the Chancellor at the Stonewall High School gymnasium three miles from the ranch.

When Erhard departed, Johnson turned immediately back to the national budget and went into a huddle Monday with Defense Secretary Robert McNamara and the joint chiefs of staff.

So it went as the President wound up his "holiday" and prepared to return to the regular schedule in Washington.

PRESS COVERAGE — For many years, Austin's stately Driskill Hotel has been President Johnson's home away from home. Now it is the home away from home for some 75 to 200 news reporters. They "cover" the White House, whether it is on the Potomac or the Pedernales.

The Crystal Ballroom, usually the setting for brilliant Christmas and New Year's balls, has been a working pressroom during the 1963 holiday season. The "Press Center" covers the hotel's mezzanine and extends to quarters occupied by White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger and his staff.

In the Driskill, the press corps waits for word of cuts in federal employment the President's luck at hunting, statements on Cyprus and on repercussions from his meeting with Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany.

At times, the News from Johnson's LBJ Ranch near Stonewall is delivered via a "press pool" in which four reporters are assigned to represent all their corps is bundled into buses for the trip to the ranch over U. S. 290 and the newly-designated Ranch Road No. 1.

Some of the press-center set-up will remain intact in the Driskill Hotel for presidential visits in the future. This may be for the next year or the next five years, or perhaps the next nine years, according to voters' reactions to the news that this army of reporters turn out. ANIMAL HEALTH APPOINTMENTS — During his convalescent period in the Manison, Governor Connally picked two new members for the Texas Animal Health Commission to succeed Dr. Robert Hartman of Victoria and George Apple of McKinney.

New commissioners are Dr. J. Ray Martin of Coleman and C. E. (Ed) Knolle of Sandia. Dr. Martin, a graduate of the Veterinarian School at Texas A&M has practiced veterinary medicine in Coleman since 1946.

Knolle is co-owner and manager of Knolle Jersey Farms in Jim Wells and Nueces counties. A University of Texas student, he is past president of the Texas Jersey Cattle Club.

SCHOOL DROP-OUTS — During the holidays Gov. Connally has been Texas' second biggest newsmaker (second only to President Johnson). He stirred a lot of interest when he turned attention to what is considered by many to be the state's first problem: school drop-outs.

Connally asked the Texas Education Agency to develop a plan for pilot programs to help local school districts find solutions to the drop-out situation. He described it as "one of our most severe educational and economic problems."

According to the Governor, "last June, Texas high schools graduated only 87,640 of the 195,032 first-graders who entered school in 1951. Nearly 59,000 dropped out before reaching the 9th grade and 50,000 left between the 9th grade and graduation."

Connally quoted a Texas Employment Commission prediction that by 1965, the nation will have three young people without high school diplomas chasing after every two jobs available to them, while there will be only five high school graduates available for every seven jobs requiring that much education.

LOAN OFFICES LICENSED — Regulatory Loan Commissioner Frank Miskell issued a total of 1,630 licenses to be displayed by consumer credit companies which make loans up to $1,500. Licensing was the first major step under the Texas Regulatory Loan Act which went into full effect on Dec. 21.

All of these licenses—ranging from a single lender in New Boston to a 60-office Family Finance chain—now will be under state supervision. A lot of "loan sharks" who could not, or would not, meet the new state requirements were flushed out by passage of the law.

Loan lobbyists estimated earlier in the year that there were 2,200 loan offices in the state, but only 1,895 filed letters of intent to file application for a license.

Then some 265 never followed their letters with applications.

Commissioner Miskell refused to license 30 applicants, and nine of these have suits against the state pending in federal and state courts.

SLANT-HOLE SUMS RECOV-

ERED — Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr announced the recovery of $110,000 from two defendants accused of slant-hole oil well operations.

Of this, $10,000 was recovered from G. M. Jordan of Kilgore, following a judgment entered by 53rd district judge Herman Jones and $10,000 from J. G. Walker of Tyler, charged with operating wells illegally.

Carr said the money will be placed in the State Treasury.

OPINIONS — The attorney general ruled that an agreement of passage of title made by joint owners of a motor vehicle would not be sufficient to authorize the State Highway Department to issue a new certificate of title or the motor vehicle in the name of the surviving joint owner.

He also made a ruling on fee collections in criminal convictions, other than homicides, and ruled out Texas A&M University's claim to a $3,000 educational bequest which has been held in the Governor's Suspense Fund nearly 30 years. The bequest will remain in the fund until the beneficiary's requirements are met.

Veterans Questions And Answers

Q—Is there an age limit after which a war orphan may no longer be eligible for Educational Assistance by the VA?

A—Generally, the age limits are between 18 and 23 with exceptions allowed in certain cases but in no case may the schooling assistance be continued beyond the 31st birthday of the beneficiary. Certain war orphans under 18 may also be eligible—for example, those who are handicapped.

Q—Children of a deceased veteran may have some pension rights — do they forfeit these rights when their mother (the veteran's widow) remarries?

A—No. Eligible children of a deceased veteran retain their pension rights after their mother remarries until they become 18, or 21 if they are going to school.

Q—How can I still be liable for my GI home if I have sold it to another party?

A—You are not liable for the home but for the GI loan which was guaranteed to the lender by the VA in your name. To avoid this responsibility, a veteran selling a GI home should arrange to have the buyer assume the liability. Consult your lender or the VA.

Q—Why should veterans, physicians or others always have the veteran's C-number ready when writing or making a long distance call to the VA on behalf of a veteran?

A—There are many, many veterans with the same or similar names in the list of more than 22,000,000 veterans serviced by VA. With no information available except the name, it is difficult or impossible to identify the proper record or to locate the record in the files.

Q—Can a war orphan who has his entrance into training delayed or interrupted by military service have his completion date extended?

A—Yes. He has five years from the date of his first release or discharge from military service in which to complete his training.

Q—Which State has the most living veterans and which has the least?

A—As of July 1, 1963, California with 2,303,000 living veterans had the largest veterans population of the 50 states. Alaska with 24,000 had the smallest.

Streams In Desert Places

Ozelle Stephens

He went his way, and published throughout the whole city how great things Jesus had done for him." (Luke 8:39).

One of the world's great men said, "The Gospel is not history to be recorded, but news to be proclaimed."

It is true, the gospel is not merely history; it is news—good news, the best news. This is so because Jesus is alive today.

The headlines recently: "President John F. Kennedy Is Dead," was news that shook the world, but today it is history. The headline, "Jesus Died For Our Sins," is not just history, it is news of the most importance—every day—for all time.

But news has no value unless it is told. So the Gospel has no value unless it is proclaimed over and over again to as many peoples as possible. Are we doing our part to get this first and most important news proclaimed—Looking back over the last year what is recorded in our report as to what we have done about proclaiming this good news? May we let the New Year be a challenge.

My prayer is for all my readers and I hope you will be praying for me.

Thank you.
