Pres. Johnson Commends STW

PRESIDENT Johnson commends... President Lyndon B. Johnson commends the observance of Soil Stewardship Week, May 3-10 in a statement from the White House underscoring the importance of fruitful land to the well-being of society. The President said: "It is fitting that we set aside a Soil Stewardship Week each year to recognize our stewardship of the land."

"During the last 50 years, the American farmer has increasingly proved himself a good steward of his land. In many places he has taken worn out and eroded land and literally turned it into a bountiful land. For the first time, we are able to produce at low cost an abundance of the food and fiber we need and still provide for many less fortunate."

"It is our task to hold the rich heritage of our land in trust for future generations. What we do with it now will determine its productivity for generations to come. We must make it an instrument for progress and prosperity. If we care for and nurture the land, there is plenty. If we neglect the land, there is poverty. This is the essence of stewardship."

(signed) Lyndon B. Johnson.

The Wichita-Brazos Soil Conservation District will observe Soil Stewardship Week with a special program in cooperation with the Knox City Lions Club. J. C. Moorhouse of Benjamin, outstanding Conservation Award winner, will be awarded The Conservation Award plaque at that time.

NEW CHLORINATOR — Jack Land is shown above at the hospital pump house, checking a new chlorinating unit the city purchased recently. The small unit cost the city approximately $1,000. Jack's expression may appear as dubious, he said the unit was well worth it.

Water Superintendent Jack Land Reports City Water Analysis "Good"

Water Superintendent Jack Land informed the Herald Monday afternoon that the city water supply was receiving favorable reports from the State laboratory in Lubbock.

The city purchased a new chlorinating unit recently and after installation, the factory representative repaired the other units to state specifications, Jack said.

The city's largest well is the No. 2 well located behind ICX warehouse and Jack explained this 6-inch well is run automatically—that is if the water reservoir is low the well runs until it is full. This well is never cut off, otherwise.

Knox City has two reservoirs, Jack explained. One is located on the tall tower and holds 90,000 gallons and the other one is near the hospital and holds 200,000 gallons. Water can be used interchangeably from either reservoir when the need arises.

This is the only storage Knox City has, he said. Although born in Comanche County, Jack was raised in and around Knox City, having moved here in 1919. Altogether he has worked for the city eight years, three as the water superintendent.

He attends at least two water schools each year and besides other city projects, he is also the assistant fire marshal.

When asked if the city had ever been rationed on water, he replied "no," and commented that as long as we had water underground he would try to keep the tanks full.

"Personally, I am more concerned over the fire hazard of running low on water than I am if the yards look a little burnt," he said.

Typical work day begins usually before 7 a.m. with Jack making a check of the city's four pumping wells as well as a check of the sewer system. During the winter months only one well is used, generally, but another week of dry weather will press all the wells into operation, he said, even on a limited basis.

CARBON MONOXIDE, CREEPING KILLER -- "MR. MONO" BEWARE

Creeping Killer—"Mr. Mono"
Carbon monoxide is as stealthy as any wartime commando and just as deadly, but the commando fights our enemies while "Mr. Mono" kills hundreds of us every year.

"Mr. Mono" is a topnotch ambassador of death. He likes his work. No eight hours a day for him. He's not even satisfied with a double shift. He's on the job 24 hours a day.

Carbon monoxide is far more common, more dangerous than the poisons we think of, such as: snake bites, insecticides, or spoiled foods. Its effectiveness is closely concerned with ventilation. If you own a car, it travels with you whenever and wherever you drive. Carbon monoxide is a gas you cannot see, taste, or smell. It won't tickle your throat or make your eyes smart, or any way make its presence known.

Carbon monoxide is produced by the incomplete burning of a solid, liquid, or gaseous fuel.

Why Carbon Monoxide Is Dangerous

Carbon monoxide is dangerous because it sickens and kills by cutting off the oxygen supply from the body's tissues. Ordinarily the oxygen you breathe is carried from your lungs by the red cells of your blood to all parts of your body. This combination with the red cells is very important, for just breathing oxygen into one's lungs is not enough to maintain life. The oxygen must combine with the blood's red cells and circulate through the blood stream and be carried to all parts of the body. If it does not, your life will be threatened.

Carbon monoxide can combine with red cells 200 times easier than oxygen. When oxygen and sizeable amounts of carbon monoxide are breathed in together, the carbon monoxide displaces the oxygen. The density, or the weight of carbon monoxide per unit volume is greater than the density, or the weight of a unit volume of oxygen. Therefore the carbon monoxide displaces the oxygen in the body cells, which can quickly lead to death.

Symptoms

The symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning are: tightness across the forehead, followed or accompanied by throbbing in temples, headache, weariness, weakness, dizziness, nausea, loss of pulse and respiration. If the ed pulse and respiration: If the concentration of carbon monoxide in the air is great enough, the victim may fall unconscious without any warning signals.

If you're driving at night and the darkness seems blacker than usual, the glare of oncoming lights brighter than usual, carbon monoxide might well be the cause.

If you're driving at night and the darkness seems blacker than usual, the glare of oncoming lights brighter than usual, carbon monoxide might well be the cause.

Air Circulation vs. Carbon Monoxide

The graver situations can be handled very easily by keeping at least one window in the car open. Fresh air is just the remedy a person needs to drive away that drowsy feeling. In bad weather this can be obtained by opening the fresh air vents on the front of most cars.

Recent tests have shown that, under certain conditions, the concentration of carbon monoxide within the car is often greater than the windows open than with them closed because the draft created by an open window can aid carbon monoxide or exhaust fumes in seeping up through the floorboard and into the car if there are leaks in the exhaust system.

The answer to this to offset the vacuum effect of open side windows with positive air pressure of a front vent or air duct.

An additional hazard exists with station wagons or carryalls when the rear window or door must be kept open when carrying long objects. In situations of this kind, the fumes are drawn in from the tail pipe when the vehicle is standing. To combat this, a front window or a vent should be opened.

Remember when parked with the engine running, always keep a window open.

Don't Follow Other Cars Too Closely

Slow moving city traffic can lead to trouble. When traveling in heavy traffic, or when following buses or vehicles "burning oil," high concentrations of exhaust fumes can be drawn into your car through open ventilating ducts. The exhaust fumes from cars ahead of you gain easy access to the inside of your car because exhaust pipes are located at nearly the same height as air intake vents. When nose-irritating fumes enter your car, close the vents and open a window. This is the proper thing to do, in city traffic, or when there may be congested traffic in any area. This also is the proper thing to do when passing through a tunnel.

Remember the density of carbon monoxide is heavier than air, so that is why you close your air intake vents and open a window thereby getting oxygen from a higher level.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

Fishermen have made a startling new discovery within the past few years.

Although often the fastest fishing is to be had up near the surface, anglers have learned that frequently the biggest fish are to be found deep, right near the bottom.

This is true of all our scaled species, from white bass to black bass, and occasionally the only place you can find any action is within proximity of the bottom.

One of the best baits for this kind of fishing is the ordinary silver spoon. Conventionally, an angler casts out a spoon and starts the wobbling hunk of convex metal back the moment it touches the surface. This makes it travel in a level plane a few inches under the surface.

The new twist is to allow the spoon to plummet to the bottom on a limp line, then take up the slack and sort of jig it along the bottom, raising and lowering it. This serves a two-fold purpose. It puts the spoon in a state of water where there is apt to be more fish; and it simulates the crippled action of a minnow.

It makes good sense to change your retrieve periodically, to give your lure more lifelike action. A minnow swimming naturally through the water won't draw as much attention from a hungry fish as will that is obviously wounded, struggling up and down. It stands to reason, then that lure with this crippled action will entice the most strikes.

Sometimes this bottom bumping a spoon pays off in the most unlikely situations.

Take schooling white bass, for instance. It would seem that a lure pulled through a school of feeding fish, right near the surface, would bring the most strikes. Perhaps it will. But often bigger fish are to be had by going deep, right to the bottom.

What happens is the larger whites hover below the younger, more eager whites which have trapped shad near the surface. The older fish wait patiently until the young whites kill shad and they feed leisurely on the dead bait fish which sink to the bottom.

Bottom bumping also is quite effective on whites in early spring, when the fish are congregated in the deep holes prior to their annual migration upstream to spawn. And it isn't unusual for black bass to be associating with the whites, to feed on shad that the whites have crippled and missed.

It frequently happens that the unsuspecting angler is jigging a spoon for whites when he ties into a real trophy black bass. That happened to my old buddy Russell Tinsley, outdoors editor of the Austin American-Statesman, last spring. He was jigging a spoon for whites along a deep sandbar where the Pedernales River enters Lake Travis when he had a wallowing strike. His catch turned out to be a six-pound black bass.

Bob Hill, another Austin fisherman, had an unusual experience also on Lake Travis, when he was spoon jigging for whites and instead tied into an 18-pound catfish.

Hill is one of the foremost advocates of spoon jigging. He recalls a time on North Caddo Lake, near San Angelo, when he was cleaning up on whites by jigging a spoon along bottom, while all around him other fishermen were trolling shallow-running baits without any strikes.

"People just don't realize that they catch more fish by going to bottom," he explained. "They persist on trolling shallow when casting deep would be much more effective."

Spoon jigging also is very effective on salt-water fishes, such as sea trout in the bays and kingfish offshore. Hill tells about times when he has caught trout on almost every cast by fishing just as he would for white bass on the island lakes. With trout, like white bass, he prefers a gold-colored spoon when the water is clear, and a silver spoon when the water is darker or it is an overcast day.

AUSTIN — Gov. John Connally has moved into the plush working quarters ever occupied by any of this state's governors. Last week workmen put finishing touches to the first overall remodeling of the offices in 76 years. Until now Texas governors have been tending to state business in cramped and poorly arranged offices. Construction has been under way since last January. Capitol visitors once again are welcome all day in the mirrored and flag-draped gubernatorial reception room.

The governor occupies a large gold-carpeted, crystal-chandeliered office. He also has an adjoining conference room, small kitchen unit and shower cabinet.

Gold carpeting runs throughout the second floor suite. Modern ceilings, lighting and air conditioning have been installed and the fine old woodwork sanded and refinished to its original state.

Redecoration of the governor's downstairs offices will not be complete for 30 days. Meanwhile, part of his staff will continue to occupy temporary quarters in the Capitol's first floor.

SCREW WORM ERADICATION — The financial fate of the Southwest screw worm eradication should be apparent by May 8. That's when the appropriation bill embracing eradication plans is supposed to come out of the agriculture subcommittee of the U. S. House appropriations committee.

Pierce Johnson of Austin, attorney for the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation, says the bill was written to provide $2,750,000 in federal funds, to be matched by local funds. But SWAHRF officials have asked Congress to put up all $5,300,000 since the screw worm has been eradicated in Texas, and maintenance of a barrier to prevent migration of screw worms from Mexico is an international program.

SOIL CONSERVATION — Planning costs for watersheds on Upper Bosque River, Hondo Creek and Donahue Creek cost the Texas State Soil Conservation Board $134,938 according to State Auditor C. H. Cavness' report on the past two fiscal years. Cavness said the Board spent a total of $552,930 on its continuing efforts to conserve state soil resources and reduce flooding in small watersheds.

Legislative appropriations of $572,579 were provided during fiscal year 1962 and 1963. Biggest outlay was $215,001 for almost 200 soil conservation districts which the board administers around the state.

MOSQUITO ERADICATION PLANNED — First allotment of federal funds — $174,198 — in a five-year, $750,000 program aimed at wiping out the mosquito in Texas was received by State Budget Director Bill Cobb. Texas State Department of Health will administer the program. The federal government, co-signee of a Pan American Health Organization agreement to stamp out yellow-fever-carrying mosquitoes, is underwriting the plan in a nine-state area, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Mosquito abatement and eradication teams are now being organized for assignment in key areas of Texas. Dr. James L. Goddard of the U. S. Public Health Service said the mosquito must be eliminated from the U. S. to prevent its spreading to other western hemisphere nations.

BUILDING BOOM SLACKS — Despite a spring boom in apartment building, issuance of building permits in Texas in March dropped eight per cent from March, 1963.

UT Bureau of Business Research thinks a slump in non residential construction accounted for the overall drop.

TOURISM EXPANDING — Two Texas officials predicted tourism in the state is going to start booming.

Governor Connally said tourism will become the "fastest growing Texas industry." He called the state's new advertising program "one of our soundest investments in the economic and recreational future" of the state.

J. Weldon Watson, executive director of the Parks and Wildlife Department, said the fact that a Texan is President makes Texas more popular with visitors. Many of them want to know "how close such and such a park is to Johnson City," said Watson. He sees tourism and park use as having a "mighty impact" on the Texas economy.

BANKING-LOAN HEARINGS SET — State Banking Board will hear application on May 13 for charters of Peoples State Bank of Marshall; Southwest State Bank of Brownwood; and Expressway Bank and Trust of Dallas. Action is due at that time on applications of Texas State Bank of Abilene and Royal Bank and Trust Company of Dallas.

Savings and Loan Commissioner James O. Gerst set a June 17, hearing on the application for Trinity Valley Savings and Loan Association at Madisonville — Proposed directors are from Midway, Northchase, North Zulch and Buffalo, as well as Madisonville.

TOO SLOW FOR PENSION — Some long-time Harlingen firemen who recently decided they want to participate in the Firemen's pension plan waited too long, according to Attorney General Waggoner Carr.

Carr ruled that the 1957 Firemen's Relief and Pension Fund Act provides that a fireman forfeits his right to participate if he failed to enroll, and the 1963 firemen's pension law covering fully-paid firemen in part-volunteer departments embodies the same terms.

GOLIAD MEMORIAL PLANNED — Governor Connally named a Texas committee to work with a Mexican group on plans and financing for a suitable memorial to Gen. Ignacio Zaragoza. The general's victory over French forces on May 5, 1862 is celebrated throughout Mexico as the day Zaragoza. The Texas Legislature in 1961 accepted the birthplace of Zaragoza as a state park historical site but provided no funds for developing it.

Good Neighbor Commission Director Glenn Garrett heads the Texas planning group. Other members are Parks and Wildlife Director J. Weldon Watson; Tourist Development Agency Director Frank Hildebrand; and Historical Survey Committee Director George Hill.

COURTS SPEAK — Supreme Court in a 7-2 decision refused to direct that military servicemen who enlist out of state be permitted to vote in Texas.

The majority held servicemen have no "federally-protected right" to vote where they are stationed. El Paso based Sergeant Herbert N. Carrington, who enlisted in Alabama, brought the suit, challenging a state constitutional provision which limits servicemen stationed in Texas to voting in the county where they resided when they entered the service.

In a dissenting opinion, Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert and Associate Justice Clyde E. Smith said the ruling denies some servicemen the right to vote in all elections. They further contended the state violates the equal protection clause of the 14th amendment to the U. S. Constitution.

Same issue is soon to be tried in federal court at San Antonio where two other servicemen have filed suit.

Third Court of Civil Appeals upheld district court ruling against an AFL-CIO suit charging Texas Employment Commission with "pro-employer lobbying."

Court's new opinion said TEC members have a duty to advocate needed changes in unemployment compensation laws.

Court also held former Commissioner J. J. Pickle (now congressman) acted within his authority in recommending amendments.

Supreme Court agreed with lower court which nullified incorporation of Mayhill near Denton.

Court of Criminal Appeals ordered a new trial for ex-Railroad Commission engineer L. D. Murphy. He had been sentenced to two years on a charge of

VISITS McHAMS

Mrs. Kenneth Tucker and son Marty of Lampasas were here for a visit and picked up the other Tucker boy, Dwayne, who has been here three weeks visiting in the home of his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. N. L. McHam and in Haskell at the Louis Tucker residence.

A — The insured must have an impairment of mind or body which continuously renders it impossible for the insured to follow any substantially gainful occupation.

Q — I have been service-connected for blindness in my right eye since separation from service. I am now losing my sight in my left eye due to an accident on my job. Will this affect my VA compensation payments?

A — The loss of sight in the left eye may be rated as service-connected providing this accident was not due to your own willful misconduct.

Q — Are eyeglasses among appliances furnished by the VA to eligible veterans?

A — Yes, they are.

Q — Can a peace time veteran obtain treatment in a Veterans Administration outpatient clinic or by a private doctor and have the VA pay for it?

A — Outpatient treatment or treatment by an approved private physician as well as certain medicines are given without charge ONLY to veterans (either peace time or war time service) with a disability incurred or aggravated in service.

Q — Is it true that there will be a reunion of ninety-four WW II airmen who escaped from France in 1944 in "Operation Bonapart"?

A — Yes. Three of the Evadees who live in Buffalo, N. Y., are arranging a reunion of the veterans who participated in Operation Bonapart. It is scheduled this month, 20 years after the escape. For details write Ralph K. Patton, 327 Mt. Vernon Road, Buffalo, N. Y.

EATING OUT IS A FUN THING

For a birthday, an anniversary, or any day in the week, you'll find an exciting variety of color, food, decor, and special treats when you dine out. "Serving the customer" will hold the spotlight at the National Restaurant Convention at Chicago's McCormick Place, May 25-28.

Like to eat out? It's a growing trend, say food service operators, and they're planning to make all such occasions better than ever.

At this year's National Restaurant Convention, awards will be made for the best new customer-pleasing ideas. There will also be 100 menu awards from which thirty will be selected for publication in a book entitled "Great American Menus."

Among the groups coming in for special attention are the increasing numbers of children, teenagers, and senior citizens—all bringing a new look to U.S. "dining out." Restaurateurs won't forget the ladies either, because one-half of their customers are women!

would receive $110 a month while attending school. My first check received on October 20th was for $55. Why didn't I get $110?

A—VA pays for period of enrollment, and considers 30 days a month. You attended 15 days during September, the month the check covered, so you were entitled to one-half of $110.

Your last month of training will be figured on the same basis, following completion of monthly certification of attendance signed by you and the school.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas

NEW LAW TIGHTENS HOT
CHECK PROSECUTIONS

The 58th Texas Legislature passed H. B. 457 dealing with the use of worthless checks to defraud. It has practical aspects for both the collection of such checks and the prosecution of offenders that were not available before.

It makes it unlawful for any person or firm to make, draw or deliver a check with intent to defraud, knowing that the maker does not have sufficient funds on deposit to cover its payment.

It is no longer required that the check be given in exchange for property in order to subject the maker or drawer to punishment.

The new Act, similar to the old law, provides that the refusal of payment by the bank shall be prima facie evidence of intent to defraud and of knowledge of insufficient funds, "provided such maker . . . shall not have paid the holder thereof the amount due thereon within ten (10) days after giving of such notice that such check . . . has not been paid . . ."

New notice provisions state that notice shall be given in writing sent by registered or certified mail or telegram to the place listed on the check.

Penalties are provided which increase with each offense and depend upon the size of the check. First conviction on a check under $50 shall be punishment in the county jail for not to exceed two years and by a fine not to exceed $1,000.

If the check is over $50 the penalty can be fixed at confinement in the penitentiary for not les than two years nor more than ten years.

In order to avoid turning law enforcement agencies into mere collection agencies, the Bill provides that anyone who has furnished information concerning a worthless check which has resulted in the acceptance by the District or County Attorney of a complaint and who shall thereafter suggest or request that such case be dismissed, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction be fined not less than $100 nor more than $500.

[ even if you're short on willpower ]

Hanging on to some of your earnings can be as easy as winding your watch. Just tell your employer you want to join the Payroll Savings Plan. Then sit back and forget about it.

Every payday, he'll set aside a few dollars from your paycheck (you say how many), and put them towards the purchase of a U. S. Savings Bond.

Pretty soon you'll have some big dough stashed away. No strain. It's all automatic—and dependable as Big Ben.

Millions of your fellow Americans save billions of dollars this way, so you know it works. What's more, you help your country as you get richer, which should give you a nice red, white, and blue feeling.

Take a minute and talk to your employer this payday. See if it isn't time well spent.

The 4-H Tractor Operators from Knox County swept the field in their contest last Saturday at the District 3 eliminations in Wichita Falls. Rickie Herring, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Herring of Rhineland won the senior division. Jack Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Miller, Gilliland, won the junior contest. They each had eight opponents so it was a tough contest for both of them. Dorothy Edrington and Susan Keuhler, Rhineland, placed second in the Civil Defense demonstration. They, along with Rickie, will represent the district in the State contest, June 24 at College Station.

Other entries and their placings in the Senior division are: Share-the-Fun, Jackie Beaty, Goree, third; Chip Smith, Ronnie Chilcoat, Mike McClain, Benjamin, Grass Judging, third; Janice Keuhler, Judy Bruggerman, Rhineland, Farm and Ranch Management, third.

In the junior division: Sandra Baty and Debra Keuhler Rhineland, Safety, placed third; Charles Dodd and George Doby, of Benjamin, Civil Defense, tie for seventh, Don Roberts and Carl Doby, Soil and Water Conservation, fourth.

Official rainfall for the month of April in Benjamin totaled .54 inch. This makes a total of 4.59 inches for the first four months of this year. So it isn't difficult to understand why tanks are going dry and the wheat crop burning up for lack of moisture. It should start raining in a couple of weeks because what wheat we have will start ripening then.

Pecan tree owners will need to check their trees closely for the pecan nut casbearer. The first generation adults will lay their eggs on the tips of the developing nuts very soon after pollination, when the tips turn brown. The eggs which are just visible to the naked eye, are greenish white when they are deposited but assume a reddish appearance a few days later.

When these eggs are found, then it is time to apply the insecticide. The following materials are recommended: 3 pounds 50 per cent wettable DDT, or 5 pounds 40 per cent wettable toxaphene, or 2 pounds 80 per cent wettable Sevin. These amounts are to use in 100 gallons of water.

How well the material covers the tree is more important than the insecticide used. The tiny larvae is hatched on his food supply and only moves enough to burrow into the tiny nut. This means each and every nutlet must be covered with the spray material to obtain control. For a large tree, this means 400 pounds pressure on your spray equipment to be sure the levae are knocked aside and the spray gets to all the tree.

For further information on pecan diseases and insects ask us to send you Bulletin MP-313, Pecan Diseases and Insects, or pick it up from the bulletin racks in the two banks in the county.

How to get MORE out of your tax refund

When you get your '63 tax return (Form 1040), take a look at line 23 on the bottom of the page.

It gives you the option of taking your refund in U. S. Savings Bonds instead of a check for the total amount.

There are two big advantages:

1. Taking your refund in Savings Bonds gives you an easy way to hang onto it.
2. When your Bonds mature, your refund becomes 33 1/3% bigger. You get back $4 for every $3.

You also get a nice red, white and blue feeling from knowing you're helping your country's future as well as providing for your own.

Think it over when you ask for your refund this year.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds

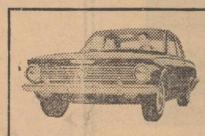

- You can buy Bonds where you work on the Payroll Savings Plan
- You pay no state or local tax and can defer the federal tax on interest until the Bonds are cashed
- You can get your money when you need it
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed, or stolen
