JUNE IN JULY . . . We'll let you count them, but we can't recall ever seeing so many brides and brides-to-be in a weekly newspaper before. This week should set some kind of record.

TELEPHONES — Something that gives different people mixed emotions. Although AT&T is worth more than General Motors, General Electric and US Steel, all combined, we are firmly convinced that it—the telephone — has caused more ulcers, heart aches, heart breaks and confusion than all other inventions combined.

We are well aware that teenagers HAVE to have a phone cause even if they run out of conversation in two or three hours they can at least listen to each other breathe — But since it has been so long since we were teenagers, all we can seem to remember about a telephone has been that it has always meant trouble when it rings, and especially if it is someone wanting us.

Before our kids were grown a telephone call when we were home meant that a machine had broken down or a drunken operator got wrung out in the Matrix transfer mechanism or the machine had gone haywire and "squirted" metal all over him.

In any event it meant the evening ruined . . . bad news.

Even today, when the telephone rings and the caller wants an interview with us, it still means trouble.

Next time you jump on Mr. Robinette of Seymour about the phone service, see if you can swap with ours, we have never had enough trouble with ours and the confounded thing rings and rings its head off every 5 minutes day and night and only once was it out of operation for two pleasurable hours!

This efficiency is perplexing.

City Secretary John Robinson showed us a 20MM shell Tuesday found by Mr. C. I. Semilar, supt. for General American. He found the shell while hunting arrows on the C. B. Long lease west of Knox City. Mr. Semilar said there was no habitation within "15 or 20 miles" of the site.

Robinson turned the shell over to Sheriff Stone.

Benjamin Lake was sprayed two weeks ago and all the fish were killed. This was done under state supervision, however, and the lake will be restocked.

Texas Ranger Homer T. Melton counted 92 big eatin'-size bass last Monday morning. All the Benjamin fishermen were on the Lake Sunday gathering fish in like crazy and stocking up their refrigerators.

Fish killed in the manner used are edible and "just as good as those you catch on a line," we were told.

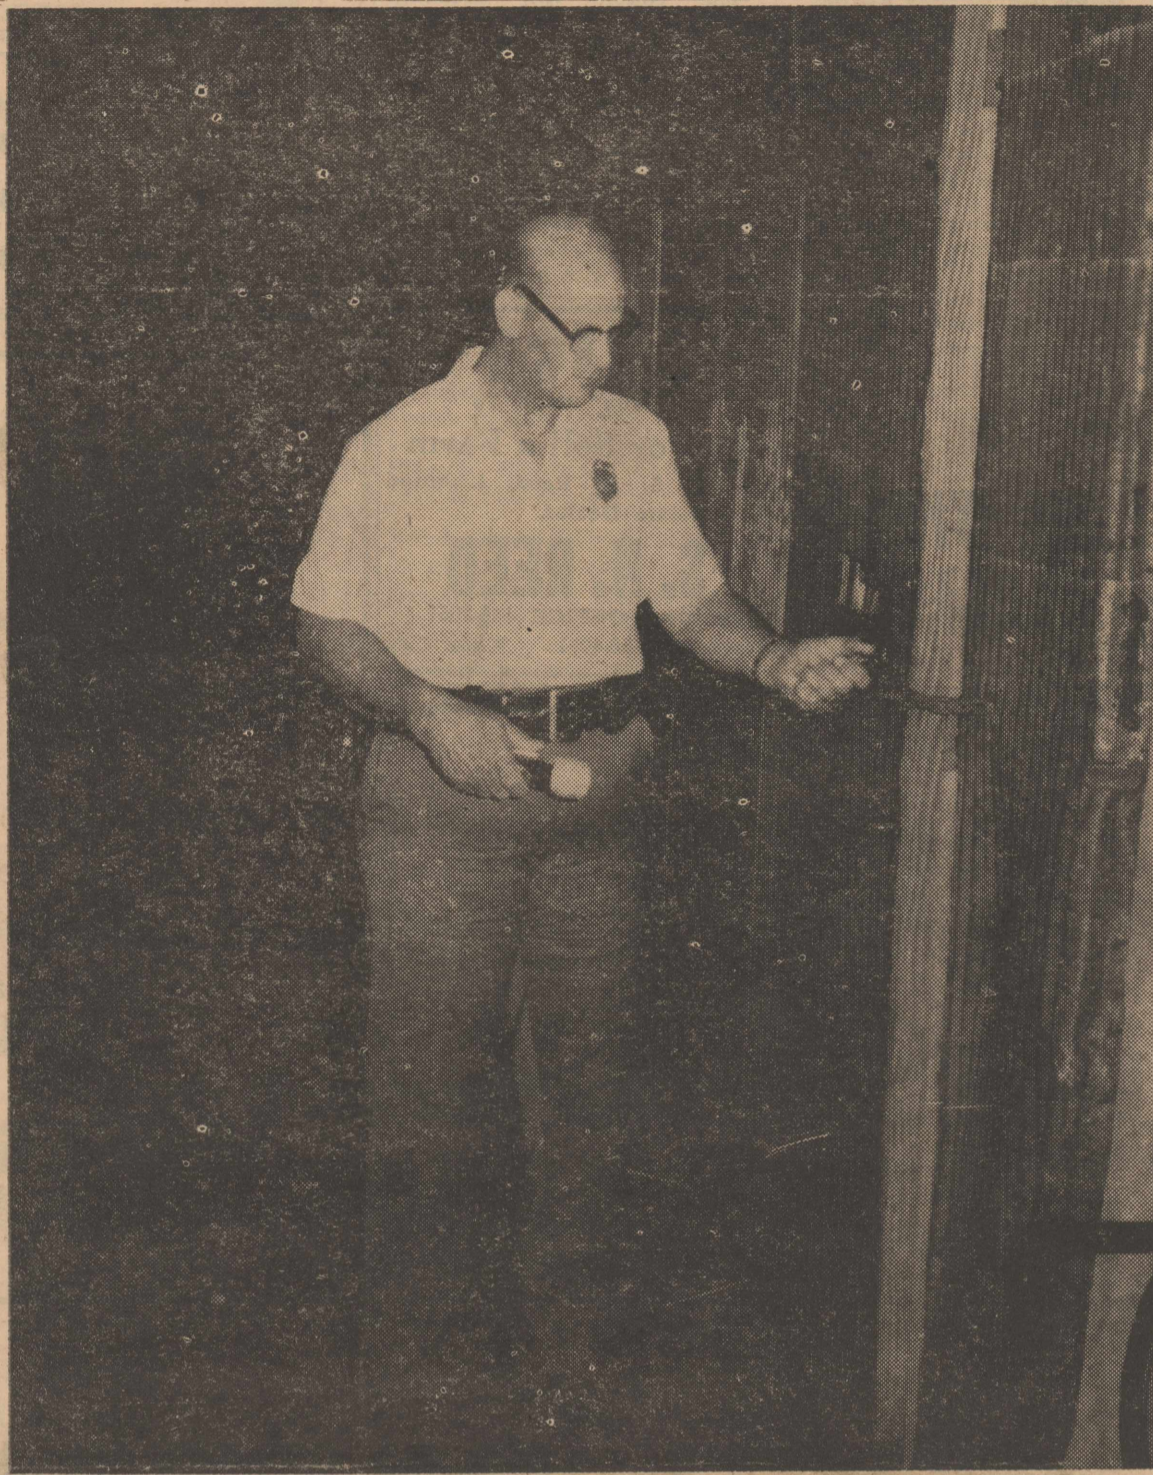

Grady Benedict told us he had no idea Benjamin Lake had as many big catfish and bass and if he had known it, he would have been over there every day!

SHAKING DOORS — Constable-Nightwatchman Leroy Davis is shown above "shaking" the door of City Hardware to see that all is well. Hardly a night goes by that some forgetful merchant forgets to lock all doors and Davis has to call them back to the shop to make the building secure. "Leroy" keeps the peace from sundown to sunup every day.

Leroy Davis Takes Second Vacation In 8 Years From City's Roughest Job

Practically all of us complain these days about either overwork, underpay, not enough time off for some needed recreation, or all three; but last week Constable - nightwatchman - bus driver Leroy Davis returned to his job from almost a week's vacation—the second vacation of a few days he has had in eight years of work for the City of Knox City.

Jack Hamilton pinch-hit for Davis but due to a death in Jack's family, Davis was called to service before the week was up.

Although he had planned since Christmas to begin his vacation June 16, it had been so long since he had missed a day or night's work, he left reluctantly. Three years ago Davis missed several days work when he was bitten by a spider and waited too long before seeing his physician. He was on the job, on crutches, as soon as the doctor released him from the hospital.

J. F. Watson, who was 77 on June 9, keeps the nightwatchman company practically every night of the week and once served as chief deputy under Davis in 1951, the first time he ran for constable.

"People just don't realize how much Leroy does for this community," Mr. Watson said. "I've never known a more dedicated person," he said.

Davis will complete 12 years in law enforcement work in his next term of office, longer than any other Knox City lawman.

And to prove that you can, do your job impartially and still have friends, no one wanted to run against him this year for in 1960 there were four running for the constable's office and Davis received more votes than anyone to run in this precinct, with as much opposition. He beat them all without a runoff.

Although he doesn't feel giving traffic tickets is too much his job, and gives them only in case of necessity, he usually runs neck and neck with the Highway Patrol on tickets issued, the only other law enforcing agency to be in the running. Davis believes in three or more warnings and hasn't any favorites when it comes to doing his duty to safeguard the wellbeing and lives of the people.

Although he doesn't make a cent out of a ticket, and giving one usually means the writer has made another enemy, Davis has written more than all county agencies combined and his election was proof that you can do your job and keep the friendship of the people, one of his many supporters told a Herald reporter.

Several years ago a constable received a commission along with his $50 a month salary, but the county commissioners stopped this practice, and for the past few years nothing is gained financially for Leroy by you paying a fine.

Two months ago Davis received his first pay increase from the City of Knox City for his nightwatching duties. Merchants have an extra charge on water cards to compensate for most of his salary, and until several businesses closed in town and he received his pay raise, he came close—within $60 a month—without fines in paying his own way.

Davis has always furnished his own car at his own expense. The city would allow him a couple of tanks of gas during the winter, but now he can fill up more often. Unlike Munday, KC does not have a radio patrolman on duty all night and in order to keep informed, Davis, with the help of local businessmen, bought a second-hand radio and put it in his personal car.

The radio went on the blink recently, and Davis is trying to raise funds to get it fixed. Since the constable is the only protection the city has all night most citizens have felt it a good investment to keep his autom-

HIGHWAY PATROL SEEKS COOPERATION FOR JULY 4th

While the drivers of Texas are making plans for the July Fourth trips, the Texas Department of Public Safety is getting ready for "Operation Motorcade" a three day vigil of tabulating all traffic deaths in the state. Major Harry Hutchison, Regional Commander of the area for the D. P. S., reported today the state is approaching the midpoint in the year amid definite indications that traffic deaths will hit a nall time high again in 1964.

"If we continue to take lives at the present rate, 1964 will become the most deadly year in Texas history for traffic fatalities," he said. "Motorcides" at this time are over 150 more than at the same time last year, and considering the trend of increased accidents and casualties, we have every reason to expect that traffic deaths will exceed the previous all time high in Texas of 2,729 in 1963.

"Only 271 more deaths in 1964 than in 1963 will make a total of 3,000 lives lost on our streets and highways in one year, an increase for the year of ten percent over 1963." Deaths in traffic this year have consistently been in excess of fifteen percent over 1963, an indication that the 3,000 mark will be surpassed.

Hutchison said that "Operation Motorcade" will be placed in effect from 12:01 a.m. Friday July 3d and continue through 11:59

Three Knox City Youths Attend Summer Camp

More than 800 young boys, under the sponsorship of 266 Salvation Army Service Units operating in Texas cities and communities, will attend a full week of outdoor activities at the Salvation Army's Camp Hoblitzelle near Dallas.

During the thirteen week-long sessions this summer, approximately 2600 campers will enjoy the facilities of the camp.

Erwin A. Youngblood, camp chairman for Knox City, has selected three boys to attend the camp. Local boys who will attend are Randy Hise, Ronald Curd and John Helms.

The boys went to camp Sunday and will return by car Sunday, July 5.

Located on a rolling, heavily wooded tract of 340 acres, Camp Hoblitzelle is seven miles south of Midlothian, eight miles west of Waxahachie and within an hour's drive of Dallas.

The camp features a large lake for waterskiing, fishing and boating; a swimming pool; a gymnasium and well equipped playgrounds and recreation areas.

Organized sports and activities are under the supervision of experienced coaches and counselors.

While at camp, the youngsters will be housed in attractive brick and redwood cabins. Expert cooks and kitchen personnel will prepare balanced, nutritious meals, designed for the needs of growing youngsters, which will be served in the camp's own dining room.

p.m. Sunday, July 5. In order to focus attention upon the added dangers of holiday travel when traffic is at a peak and as an integral part of the operation, which calls for maximum enforcement, additional personnel from other uniformed services of the D.P.S. will augment the regular Highway Patrol, he pointed out.

These patrolmen have been instructed to be extra alert for and direct their enforcement efforts toward those violations that are most caused factors in traffic accidents. In addition every effort will be made to remove drinking drivers from the highway.

"Since police traffic supervision cannot cover the entire street and highway system in the state, every minute of the day, the big hope for safe driving and accident prevention rests with the individual motorist," Hutchison concluded.

Mrs. Tinnie Radar Funeral Services Held Thursday

Burial was in O'Brien Cemetery under direction of Smith Funeral Home.

Mrs. Radar was born August 1, 1903, in Erath County. She moved to Haskell County in 1926.

Survivors include her husband, John O'Brien; three daughters, Mrs. Josephine Herpeche of O'Brien, Mrs. Gladys Williams of Breckenridge, and Mrs. Ruth Alcox of Fort Worth; three brothers, Ray Grissom of Brownwood, John of Stephenville and Barney of Knox City; one sister, Mrs. Ruey Hillard of Dallas; and 11 grandchildren.

COURTHOUSE CLOSED

County Judge L. A. Parker said the courthouse will be closed Friday and Saturday in observance of the Fourth of July.

The Texas Department of Public Safety appeals to all drivers to mark this Fourth of July weekend as a time to review their driving habits in light of the fact that traffic accidents are at an all-time high. Serious accidents are more frequent in holiday periods, and it is estimated that 32 persons will be killed in traffic from Friday, July 3, through Sunday, July 5. This doesn't have to happen! Tragedy can be averted by remaining constantly on the alert for dangerous situations, by not taking chances and by driving in accordance with laws of safety.

Late Season Cotton Insect Control

The late season control period begins when squares are one-third grown and continues until the crop matures enough to be out of danger. Timing of late season applications should be based on infestation counts in the field, according to Leon Burkham, Knox City Vocational Agriculture teacher.

Extension of the early season control program beyond the one third square stage may create an environment for an increase in bollworm populations.

However, if fleahoppers or other pests are present in damaging numbers it may be necessary to initiate the late season control program.

Punctured squares are sometimes found before blooms appear, serving as a warning that weevils are present. This often occurs when early season boll weevil applications were missed, not effective, or overwintered weevils emerged after squares were one-third grown.

The first generation weevils will appear about three weeks after squares are punctured. To avoid damage, growers must control first generation weevils when the number of punctured squares justify. The threat is always greatest when moisture conditions are favorable for a good crop.

Fields should be checked at least twice a week — starting within a week after completion of the early season program. Boll weevils, bollworms, tobacco budworms, cotton fleahoppers, aphids, lygus bugs and spider mites are the major pests of cotton during this period. Insecticides should be applied as soon as they are needed and replaced as required, as recommended by Southwest Cotton Growers Assn.

RADIO COMMUNICATIONS proved vital in the hours immediately after the Alaska earthquake of March 27 because of the need to call for outside help despite the destruction of land lines and power systems. Ernie Hewett (left), Alaska state officer for the Radio Amateur Civil Emergency Service (RACES), used a civil defense radio in his car to help fill in the gap. He also directed other radio "hams" at the State Civil Defense command post in Anchorage (right) in setting up the first emergency communications net tying in military, civil defense and commercial radio facilities to get help where and when needed in a land of vast distances.

The fullness of joy comes "These things have I spoken to you, and that your joy might be full." (Jo. 15-11).

You have the fullness of God as you yield yourself unto the guiding of the spirit. "And to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye through the power of the spirit, you, that my joy might remain might be filled with all the fullness of God." (Eph. 3:19).

Then there is the fullness of the spirit which is the victory of every life. "And be not drunk with wine, wherein is excess; but be filled with the spirit." (Eph. 5:18). The fullness of joy comes as we give ourselves unto the spreading of the gospel of Christ. This comes as we pray intercessory prayers and united prayers for our Missionaries and leaders; and we give our means to this work. Paul said, "I come unto you in the fullness of the blessings of the gospel of Christ."

FAMILY NOTEBOOK

BY MARY TROY
Homemaking Consultant
Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp.

Instant picnic anyone? If your family has picnic on the mind and you haven't planned for one just then, make sure you're ready for the next safari - if it's only to the backyard.

First add a section to your shopping list for "picnic needs." If you stick to canned foods, buy double quantities - less summer time spent shopping, no need for refrigeration and you won't run out for a picnic or two.

Here's how to make ready for an instant picnic, with no cooking necessary:

Suggested shopping list -

1. Sandwich makings - such as spreads, chicken, tuna fish, sardines, pates, salmon and small sausages plus toothpicks for plucking right from the can.
2. A canned ham. Canned chicken, too. These ready-to-eat meats can go picnicking just as they are.
3. Canned potato sticks and olives for snacking, and appetizers.
4. Juices and soft drinks in cans.
5. Bread even comes in cans these days, white and whole wheat as well as the more familiar canned date and nut bread, for that instant extra loaf you sometimes need.

Don't forget a supply of can openers - they are instant-picnic essentials! (Hint for absent-minded types - keep extra can openers in the car).

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

Declaration of Independence Exercises Basic Relief

What do we mean when we say that in the United States we have a "government of law" and not a "government of men?" Basically we mean that we have certain individual rights, guaranteed by our federal and state constitutions and laws, which may not be denied by any governing body.

The early American colonists had their fill of government by men, and the Declaration of Independence, signed 188 years ago, set out their complaints against that type of government and revealed their belief in a principle which we now accept as basic to our American way of life.

The indictments set out in the document against King George III of Great Britain charged him with numerous violations of that principle. Among the complaints enumerated are the following:

"He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people."

"He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent for laws for establishing judiciary powers."

"He has made judges dependent upon his will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries."

"He has refused his assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good."

"He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation."

"For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury; For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offences: . . . For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our government; . . . For suspending our own legislatures and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever."

Our forefathers who subscribed to the principles of the Declaration of Independence were willing to fight for their beliefs. The Revolutionary War followed, dragging through weary years of suffering and suspense. Each of us takes pride in their eventual triumph over gigantic obstacles.

In 1787, when the framers of our Constitution met at Independence Hall in Philadelphia, where the Declaration of Independence has been signed 11 years previously, they set to work to create a system of checks and balances in government which was to perpetuate the fundamental theory mentioned in the preamble of the earlier document:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident; That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

"That to secure these rights governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; . . ."

Some five years later, the first ten amendments to our Constitution were adopted at one time specifically detailing various basic civil rights stemming from the underlying theory of the Declaration of Independence.

Our courts day by day guard these rights for us.

(This newfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Traffic accidents will kill 32 persons in Texas over the three-day July 4 weekend, if Texas Department of Public Safety estimates prove correct. DPS Director Col. Homer Garrison Jr., urges Texans to make the July 4 weekend the turning point away from a two-year trend in fatal accidents. Garrison describes the present traffic situation as critical.

"Operation Motorcade" will be in effect from 12:01 a.m. on July 3 through Sunday, July 5, he announced, "in an effort to focus public attention on added hazards of holiday road traffic and to encourage safety consciousness among drivers."

Additional highway patrolmen from the license and weight and motor vehicle inspection services will supplement the regular patrol staff over the holiday period.

NEW AUTO INSURANCE RATES SET — Texas automobile owners will pay less for insurance beginning August 1.

State Insurance Board and industry spokesmen agreed on the new rates, which will average out 1.2 per cent cheaper statewide than last year.

Board estimated motorists will save $3,000,000 in premiums compared with 1963. However, rates will vary from area to area.

Liability insurance rates reflect a statewide increase of 3.8 per cent, and medical payment coverage will increase about 8.7 per cent. Collision will be reduced .5 per cent.

Overall reduction in rates is due primarily to a 15.5 per cent cut in comprehensive coverage, due to low wind and hail storm damages last year.

LAWMAKERS FACE TOUGH JOB—An already "tough" job faced by Texas lawmakers in the 59th Legislature will be complicated even more by "issues of high emotional content," Lt. Gov.

Preston Smith feels.

These issues, according to the lieutenant governor, include: proposals to legalize parimutual betting on horse races, sale of liquor by the drink in eating establishments, control of oyster shell dredging on the Gulf Coast and an oil and gas "pooling" bill further controls on water pollution, repeal of the poll tax and another proposed constitutional amendment equal rights to women in property and business management.

"The Legislature will need a combination of many virtues if it disposes of all the important and controversial legislation laid before it," Lt. Gov. Smith told approximately 250 mayors and councilmen gathered in the capital city for an institute on municipal problems.

Three major "musts" confront the Legislature next year, Smith said. These include: deciding the future course of higher education, financing education and "other vital state functions," and congressional and legislative redistricting.

Legislators are busy with maps and population tables, trying to see how the new court rules on legislative apportionment affect them. One plan in general circulation involves the Texas Senate. It envisions slicing up the four big-city counties of Harris, Dallas, Bexar and Tarrant and attaching the slices to present senatorial districts which sought them.

This plan would give all present senators except two a chance for re-election, if they can get the votes in the portions of the big cities assigned them.

EDUCATION STUDY GROUP—Gov. John Connally got a look at tentative recommendations of his committee on Education Beyond the High School. But disagreements over financial details prevented the report from being a final one.

Committee members will meet again on July 13-14 to finish the job. Chairman H. B. Zachry promised the report will be presented to the Governor and Legislature by the August 31 deadline.

Lawmakers of the 58th Legislature appropriated $175,000 for the study aimed at pointing the way to number 1 ranking for Texas colleges and universities. . . . Less than half that amount has been spent to date.

INDIAN SETTLEMENT OUT—Cherokee Indians, run out of East Texas in 1839 by a Republic of Texas Army, have failed in an attempt to "recapture" claims to lands they were forced to leave.

Attorney General Waggoner Carr gave the "no" sign to a proposed settlement of their claim to 2,500,000 acres of land in Smith, Cheokee, Van Zandt, Gregg and Rusk counties.

Cherokee Indian Nation, thru general counsel, Earl Boyd Pierce, several months ago proposed that Governor Connally set up a historical fact-finding commission to review the claims.

For each acre of land the commission might find the Indians were unjustly ousted from Pierce recommended one dollar be allocated by the state to a trust fund for higher education of worthy Cherokees. This money would draw five per cent interest annually, and at the end of 25 years, the Cherokees would return the corpus of the fund to the state, releasing all claims.

Atty Gen. Carr concluded:—The plan of settlement would require an unconstitutional appropriation by the Legislature, therefore neither he nor the Governor is authorized to pursue it.

FUNDS ASKED — Officials of the Attorney General Department have asked for more funds, to prosecute cases involving slant-hole oil wells and Billie Sol Estes.

They reason that judgments already awarded in the suits have brought the state $577,000 or $3 for each $1 spent.

In 1963 the Legislature provided 382,000 to handle these suits in fiscal 1964 and 1965. Now the department wants 3100,000 for 1966 and 1967.

HILL-BURTON REQUESTS—Texas cities which have requested a total of 722,000,000 worth of Hill-Burton funds to finance community hospitals and health centers will have to wait until September for any action from the State Health Department. Even then some of them will be turned down.

Health Department won't decide which among the 39 projects to recommend until congressional action or removal of the act is complete in September.

Hill-Burton allocation for Texas in past years has run just over $13,000,000 for a year.

Health department officials do not think it will be any more this year.

SHORT SNORTS — Parks and wildlife Department will open bids on July 1 for concession rights on the new Port Lavaca pier.

up, with 8,500 cows and culls backtagged in May plus the testing of 22,166 cattle at livestock markets, but current estimates are that Texas won't qualify for Modified Certified status until 1969 or 1970.

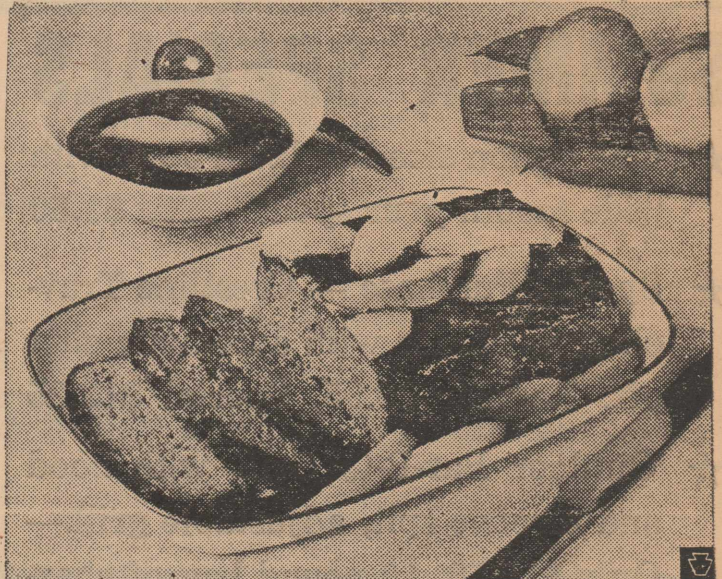

Fourteen cases of undulant fever have been reported to the State Health Department this year, compared to seven cases reported by this time last year.

UT's Bureau of Business Research reports Texas building declined to a new low for 1964 during May, but retail sales rose seven per cent above the years low in April.

Parks and Wildlife Commission will consider regulations for fishing and hunting in 152 regulatory authority counties on July 10.

Texas Highway Department has appropriated $1,500,000 for installing safety devices on the highway system during 1964-65.

The moist ground beef, seasoned for summer appetites, has a tangy, rich-looking topping of jellied cranberry sauce and sliced fresh nectarines that places this meat loaf in a class by itself.

Heating juicy fresh nectarines, whether for main dishes or desserts, accents their natural fragrance and orchard-fresh flavor. Besides glamorizing your summer menus with this perennial fruit favorite from California, don't overlook the unique pleasure of eating fuzzless fresh nectarines out-of-hand any time of day or night.

Nectarine Meat Loaf

| 2 lbs. ground beef | 1/4 cup finely chopped onion |
| 1/2 cup chili sauce | 1 can (1 lb.) jellied cranberry sauce |

Meanwhile, beat cranberry sauce in saucepan until smooth; blend in remaining salt, Worcestershire and Tabasco. Peel and slice nectarines to make 2 cups. Stir fruit into cranberry mixture; simmer 15 minutes. Spoon half of sauce over meat loaf and bake 15 minutes longer. Serve remaining sauce in bowl. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Doctors Report On Phenylketonuria

Have you ever heard of — phenylketonuria?

It's not nearly as well known as, say, mumps—a disease that almost everyone will have at one time or another. Phenylketonuria isn't catching, and only about one in 8,000 to 9,000 is born with it.

What is this disease with the long name? It is an inborn metabolic error, called PKU for short. It occurs because of the body's inability to metabolize a substance called phenylalanine into tyrosine for the body to utilize.

Instead, the phenylalanine floods the body. Large amounts are excreted in the urine—providing a simple way to detect the disease. Still other large amounts are sent to the brain, causing mental retardation.

Skin pigmentation and other growth processes may be interfered with in a phenylketonuric child. Another peculiar characteristic is the musty smell emitted by a phenylketonuric.

A rare combination of genes from ordinarily unsuspecting parents results in a phenylketonuric child. Chances are that not every child of such parents will be affected, but about one out of every four will have PKU and two out of four will be carriers.

The gratifying picture today is that PKU can be detected early by simple urine and or blood tests. And if dietary regulation and control is begun early enough, the effects of the disease—mental retardation for example—can be avoided to a large extent.

Your local health department and the Texas State Department of Health are working with physicians and hospital staffs across Texas to make PKU tests available in the hospitals where affected babies might be born. To be effective, the test must be administered several days after birth. The metabolic error does not show itself until the infant has been on protein (milk) long enough for excesses to show up.

The Texas State Department of Health recommends that all newborn babies be tested for

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

Too Late To Change Your Mind
What if some glib salesman signs you up for an encyclopedia, or a set of pots and pans. Next day you change your mind. Can you cancel the order? Chances are you can't.

The typical pattern runs thus: the salesman fast-talks poor Joyce Jones into signing an order for a set of cooking ware, silver, or what-have-you. She pays a nominal amount down, the balance to be over a long term. The price is high enough, plus a big carrying charge, but the installments run for a long time and at first look reasonable. When the shipment arrives, Joyce decides she doesn't want it, and can't afford it anyhow, so she refuses to accept it and tells the company she is cancelling the order.

But poor Joyce is out of luck. The company promptly tells her that they "sold" her installment contract to a bank or financial institution, and she must now deal with them, not the company. The company thus got its sale price in full, the salesman his commission, and the new owner of the contract expects his money in full. Sorry, but it is too late to cancel the order. This is not at all like buying from a local store, where you usually return the goods if they are unsatisfactory or if you change your mind. If Joyce ships the merchandise back, the company will most likely refuse to accept it.

Moreover, the companies buying such contracts are hard-boiled about collections. If Joyce doesn't pay, they will not hesitate to report her to a credit rating agency, or even sue.

The moral is, be sure you know who you are dealing with, and be sure you know what you are signing and the consequences.

New Low-Voltage Home Lighting System

LOS ANGELES—Showing that night lighting of a garden, patio or terrace is now a simple, inexpensive thing to do is Miss Diane Wiltaker, 1964 California Fashion Model of the Year.

Making it so simple is a new, complete low-voltage home lighting system introduced by American Machine & Foundry's Los Angeles subsidiary, Wen-Mac Corporation.

Aply called, "California low-voltage Garden Lights," the system brings to home owners across the country colorful outdoor "home lighting" so popular in California.

However, rather than an expensive $200-$300 conduit installation, this new low-voltage AMF complete system costs under seventy dollars and can be hooked up in minutes. Neither building permit or permanent conduits are needed.

The unique feature of the AMF/Wen-Mac system is the use of a current-reducing transformer which puts out only 12 volts of power. It costs but 2c per night to operate.

Any ordinary 110 volt household outlet serves as the power source for the California Garden Lights.

Power from the transformer is sufficient to light up six varied garden lights which use a common "automobile-type" sealed-beam unit. Six different colored lens covers fit over the sealed beams and may be changed on a minute's notice.

The California Garden Lights clip onto a heavy 100 foot cable much like Christmas tree lights. They are anchored in the ground with a simple ground spike.

An automatic timer turns the shock-proof lights on and off at any designated time. Of news to gardeners is the ease in moving the lights. Additionally, it is no problem to install lighting after the garden is completely planted.

Any home can be more beautiful at night with light. Soft colored light, not harsh white floodlights, has that great advantage of the "dramatic." It shows only what the home owner wants to show. A yard without night lighting becomes useless at night. But, with colored lights it becomes either a view to be seen and admired from inside the home or an area to enjoy outside.

It is expected that housewives across the country will now turn their attention to "outdoor decorating" with light. They will, no doubt, insist on blue lights for winter snow, green light for spring leaves, pink light for summer flowers and yellow light for autumn leaves. Party givers will find this new "instant-light" will glamorize any barbeque, swim party or even wedding reception.

California low-voltage Garden Lights will make leisure-time outdoor living more of a pleasure and a leisure in any season, around the clock.
