

FALL finally came last Friday night and more than half of the football fans were caught with their jackets down . . . A number of them suffered 'till the half and went home for some warm clothes.

All in all it was an ideal football night, and another Knox City victory didn't hurt one bit.

A capacity crowd of Knox City residents and Throckmorton fans attended and we've never seen as many individual scouts as were in evidence, Friday.

The 'Hounds have played two games and scored 70 points to nothing for the opposition . . . a real good start, isn't it?

Tomorrow's game with Aspermont should keep the 'Hounds hopping, though, and will be a real exciting game, we think.

As you no doubt noticed the Herald has a new columnist—Kay Reeves—who started writing last week. Kay will appreciate your turning school news and happenings to her.

Those who are away from KC and at college will enjoy reading about you and what you are doing here — so keep Kay informed.

At least one Mexican National will go back home with a good idea of how honest Americans are and especially how honest employees happen to be at the Knox County Hospital.

One National entered the hospital last week. Naturally he carried all his worldly goods with him including his life's savings—money—wrapped in a bread wrapper. He did not turn this in at the office with his credentials for he had a safer place to keep it he thought—in his pillow case.

He did not reckon with hospital cleanliness, and come the dawn, the maid changed his bed linen, including the pillow case. Money and dirty case went down the laundry chute.

When he discovered his loss he was quiet upset, inasmuch as he couldn't speak English to explain his situation.

After a lengthy discussion in several foreign languages, the National finally got back on the floor to explain — when Mrs. Annie May Moss came from the basement with the money and bread wrapper—$185.—to return to the gracious amigo.

Met the new Chief of Police, Bill Stone, Monday just a few minutes before we snapped his picture and personally we like what he stands for: "I believe in being as lenient as possible . . . so long as it doesn't interfere with someone else's safety or well-being."

The new chief solicits the help and cooperation of everyone for the safety and happiness of people in our town.

BRAGGED TOO SOON — Not too long ago we congratulated rural mail carriers on their efficiency and speed and also mentioned what we considered a fact that they didn't get too concerned over wet weather and bad roads.

Carrier Rick Barnard got his car stuck yesterday when it was raining the hardest, but got the bale, or rather the mail out shortly thereafter.

Haskell's commissioner had dumped a load of clay beside a mailbox and Rick, not paying any attention, drove on the new "paving."

FACE-LIFTING — The new look shown above is the interior of Jones Drug Store. The old business establishment here has taken on a "new look" minus the time honored soda fountain. A lounge area and coffee, plus bottle drinks are available in the rear near the prescription counter. David Counts recently completed purchasing and remodeling inside and outside of Counts Insurance Agency building.

Seasonal Haying And Grazing Retired By USDA Programs

Jesse T. Gilpin, Knox County ASCS office manager, reports that the Secretary of Agriculture has authorized grazing and haying on land designated under the Soil Bank, Wheat Stabilization and Feed Grain Diversified Acres Program through Oct. 31, 1964, after written approval by the County Committee.

Gilpin said: "Regardless of news reports you may have read or heard, such use of this acreage without prior approval of the ASC County Committee is a violation of program regulations for which specific penalties forfeitures and refunds apply."

"If you believe permission should be granted for you or some other person to graze or harvest hay on this land on your farm to alleviate a hardship caused by the unfavorable weather conditions in this area, please notify the county ASCS office immediately so that necessary steps for reaching a decision can be started.

"A deduction for the value of the grazing or haying will be made from your program payments if this permission is granted," he concluded.

'Hounds Run Past Throck. 34 To 0

Approximately 1100 football fans crowded into Knox City's new stadium last Friday night to watch the Knox City Greyhounds trounce the Throckmorton Greyhounds 34-0, in KC's second game and second win of the season.

Throckmorton received the opening kickoff, but was forced to punt three plays later and Phil Williams, Knox City's 180 pound fullback, carried the ball 73 yards for the first touchdown on Knox City's first play from scrimmage.

Quarterback Brack Shaver then passed the pigskin to End Roger Vassar, for the extra points.

Shaver made the second TD in the first quarter, but the try for extra points was a failure.

In the second quarter Phil Williams again carried the ball for a TD and again the try for extra points failed. Score at halftime was 20-0.

In the fourth quarter, Knox City scored again with a 45-yard drive in six plays with William crossing the goal on a 10 yard drive. Shaver's pass to Vassar was good for the extra points and Knox City led 28-0.

Late in the fourth quarter, Shaver again made two passes, one for 35 yards and the other for 10 yards for the final touchdown. Shaver passed to Ray Penman who ran 45 for the last Knox City TD, and the game ended 34-0.

George London passed for the 97 yards Throckmorton gained in the air, and Keith McCarron and tackle Johnny Allen were Throckmorton's outstanding players.

According to Coach Ted Darland, Ray Penman, Robbie Glenn and Phil Williams made the highest scores on the film rating.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Hunter McLean, chairman of the State Board of Insurance, will head the Johnson-Humphrey campaign in Texas, Gov. John Connally announced at a news conference.

At the same time, Connally said he himself may have "no precise role" in the presidential campaign, although there is a possibility he will make some out-of-state speeches for the ticket.

Selection of McLean ended some speculation over whether a Democrat or the moderate-conservative group which backs Connally or the liberal faction would run the Texas Johnson-Humphrey show.

McLean is a close friend of the governor and one of his first major political appointees. He is also a longtime supporter of the president.

Connally acknowledged he contacted McLean about the campaign director's job after talking the matter over with Johnson. "The choice was completely satisfactory to the President and to me," Connally told reporters.

"The President was delighted," McLean, former Fort Worth insurance executive, is taking a leave of absence from the board of insurance and will open a campaign office here, Connally said.

Goldwater-for-President headquarters under direction of Tad Smith of El Paso, working with State Republican Chairman Peter O'Donnell of Dallas, already is operating full blast a few blocks from the state capitol.

SPENDING REQUESTS UP—State financial outlook is rosier than ever, but state agency spending plans are breaking all records, too.

Gov. Connally gave reporters a briefing on fiscal matters in a photo-slide illustrated press conference.

State agencies, he reported, are asking a whopping $689,471,181 increase in spending for the 1966-1967 fiscal period. He emphasized, however, they are not likely to get it.

Connally pointed to possibility of a $82,500,000 surplus at close of the 1964-1965 period next August 31. He also estimated there will be $623,800,000 available for appropriation by the Legislature next year. This is some $153,400,000 more than the present level.

State agencies, however, have proposed spending of more than $813,000,000 from the general fund, $3,800,000,000 from all funds.

Connally said he wanted to make "abundantly clear" that review of the requests did not represent his approval.

"The money is going to be a little harder going out than it was coming in. My own recommendations (to the Legislature) will probably differ to a marked degree (from these figures)." This is the way the requests break down—

Judiciary — asking an increase of $962,808; hospitals and special schools, up $51,600,000; departments and agencies, up $229,100,000; public and higher education, up $331,700,000 (not including a $76,000,000 figure for pay raises being sought by school teachers.)

STATE BAR COMMITTEE MEETS — A State Bar Committee, representing grievance groups from over the state, met here to discuss proposed changes in procedures for disciplining lawyers.

Proposed revisions will be submitted to attorneys in a statewide referendum next year. Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert addressed a luncheon meeting of the group.

PAROLE SUPERVISION HELPS — Fewer boys are being sent back to the state Training School due to better parole supervision, Youth Council Director James Turman reports.

Rate of return has dropped to 26 per cent, lowest in history, Turman told the Council. He calculated the dollar saving for the last year at $217,000.

BUSES ARGUE FOR RATE BOOST — National Bus Traffic Association, representing some 31 Texas bus lines told a State Railroad Commission examiner that operating costs justify a 10 per cent rate increase for most types of in-state service.

Rates requested would apply to passenger charter and express service.

POLLUTION BOARD CHALLENGED — State attorneys claim district court has no jurisdiction over the Texas Water Pollution Control Board in an oil company's suit challenging the agency's authority to regulate disposal of oil field brines and waste.

Superior Oil Company sued the board in 53rd district court here, claiming the Railroad Commission is the proper agency to regulate oil field brines and waste disposal. District Judge Herman Jones agreed to consider the suit questioning board jurisdiction.

The state moved for dismissal, claiming such an action could be brought only with legislative permission.

TRAFFIC FATALITIES INCREASING — A steadily-increasing highway death rate is bringing demands for corrective action.

The death rate is up 14 per cent from last year. Total number of fatal accidents is up 13 per cent.

There have been 1,860 fatalities this year, compared with 1,631 in 1963.

PARKS PROGRAM — J. Weldon Watson, executive director of the Parks and Wildlife Department, says improvements at Lake Whitney, Falcon and Dam B state parks have reached the point where he foresees completion of the $1,200,000 parks improvement program before next summer.

Parks people said the first days of the dove season proved a definite success as hunters "generally" obeyed the law, and most hunters apparently got their limits since birds were plentiful.

EMPLOYMENT — The advent of cotton-picking time in Texas offset the decline in the number of workers employed in vegetable, fruit and nut activities from mid-June, and the Texas employment Commission reported that farm employment ran 346,300 workers by mid-July and total employment in the state rose for the seventh successive month to a total of 3,322,600 — an increase of 2,100 from June and up 60,800 from July, 1963.

The Commission also stated that only 4.2 per cent of the total labor force was unemployed in mid-July, compared to 4.8 per cent in July, 1963, and 4.4 per cent in June, 1964.

WATER PROPOSALS — Another bid to capture flood waters of the Colorado River above the Highland Lakes has been submitted to the Texas Water Commission by the Menard County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1.

Menard County WC&ID No. 1, wants to study the possibility of a dam site on the San Saba River four miles above Menard. This is the same dam site on which the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers is expected to propose a $27,000,000 dam and reservoir when it completes its comprehensive report on the Colorado basin.

MENTAL HEALTH PLANNING — A year from the date when Gov. Connally asked interested citizens to develop a moderate, comprehensive program of mental health services for the State, a 112-member committee, headed by Judge C. L. Abernathy of Hale County, was ready to review its steering committee's hefty volume of a "nearly complete working draft" of a new Texas Plan.

Central theme of the 198 page document is that of treating mentally ill persons in or near their home communities, rather than sending them off to a mental hospital far from home and isolating them from society.

State psychopathic hospitals still would be needed for many thousands of patients each year, but the community plan is designed to provide an emergency care formula for some patients who would not need to be institutionalized with early treatment, and for those discharged from mental hospitals who need a "half-way" house to help them back to normal living.

Committee's completed set of recommendations will go to Connally and to the 1965 Legislature for implementation and legislative action.

INDEPENDENT OILMEN SEEK RELIEF — Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association (TIPO) says independent producers are in "deep trouble" and the organization's executive vice president has recommended a program of state and federal government action to help them. W. Earl Turner says the oil industry is suffering from "a grave monopoly trend." He believes the trend is partially due to imports, sharp competition in marketing, and failure of protecting states (including Texas) to get their share of U. S. production.

Great Plains Conservation Money Now Available For This District

According to Arche Lieb, Work Unit Conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service at Knox City, Great Plains Conservation Program money is now available in this District. Any land owner or producer who has control of the land, in the Wichita-Brazos Soil Conservation District is eligible to participate in this cost share program, Lieb stated.

To date 86 producers in the District have received cost share assistance from the program on 90,000 acres of farm and ranch land. The purpose of the Great Plains Conservation program, Lieb continued, is to help the farmer and rancher carry out a program that will help to minimize climate hazards and protect his land from erosion and deterioration by natural causes. Practices eligible for cost sharing include: establishing permanent grass cover, range seeding, brush control, building terraces, waterways and farm ponds, constructing wells for livestock water, installing irrigation pipe, land leveling, fencing and constructing ponds for irrigation. Any eligible producer may earn up to $25,000 cost share. The cost share rate on practices runs from 50 per cent to 80 per cent of the average cost of installing each eligible practice.

Producers in the Rochester area have taken advantage of the Great Plains Conservation Program. Mr. Earl Alvis, livestock producer and vice president of the Home State Bank in Rochester, started a Great Plains Conservation Program contract in 1963. One item in the contract called for land use conservation from cropland to grass on 5 acres.

According to Alvis the conservation from cropland to permanent grass will improve a sagging row crop economy especially on sandy sub-marginal land. The Great Plains Conservation Program can help cost share this land use conversion. Another producer in the Rochester area who is using the Great Plains Conservation Program is Mr. Paul Russell. His program is a typical example of how the Great Plains Conservation Program is assisting in needed land use conversion. Soil Conservation Service personnel from Knox City assisted Russell in preparing his Great Plains Conservation Program contract in 1962. Since that time over 50 acres of sand cropland have been converted to permanent grass. Russell says "My costs are lower, my profits greater, and my land value has easily increased over 400 per cent."

C. P. and K. H. Baker are a father and son team who operate a livestock and wheat farm south of Munday. Needs for terraces and waterways prompted them to prepare a Great Plains Conservation Program contract.

Their contract was approved in July of this year and construction has already started on waterway shaping.

Alonzo Cartwright of Munday started his Great Plains Conservation Program contract in 1959. This year he will complete all of his planned practices and the contract will expire.

During this period the Great Plains Conservation Program has assisted Cartwright with cost sharing of brush control, range seeding, construction of cross fencing, and construction of farm ponds.

Most recent producer to make application for GPCP assistance is Tom Richardson who operates a livestock farm south of Knox City. Establishment of additional permanent grass, brush control, range seeding and fencing will be considered in his Great Plains Conservation Program contract.

The Soil Conservation Service has the responsibility for administering the Great Plains Conservation Program. Trained technicians will assist interested producers in preparing a contract.

Applications for assistance are being taken now at the Soil Conservation Service office in Knox City.

Remember, Lieb said, only you as a steward of the land can take the needed action to protect this land that God has given us. Conservation problems never get better when neglected. Why not use the assistance available to you now?

Coast Guard Needs Ex-Servicemen

Qualified men who have served as enlisted men or officers in any branch of the Armed Forces can join the U. S. Coast Guard Reserve in the pay grade they held at time of discharge. During the term of enlistment, which may be 3, 4 or 6 years, Coast Guard Reservists attend weekly drill meetings in their home town. Once a year they devote two weeks to training away from home. Since these men receive a full day's pay for each drill period and regular pay for the annual two week training, they find service in the U. S. Coast Guard Reserve can convert spare time into a worthwhile second income. In addition, they can retire with pay at the age of 60 after 20 years of service.

For complete information, interested ex-servicemen are invited to call or visit their local Coast Guard recruiter.

Farmers have until September 30 to apply for Federal Gas Tax refund for gasoline used on a farm for farming purposes. This should also include gasoline used by a custom operator. You are entitled to include gasoline even though it was purchased by a custom operator, a neighbor or an employee who then used this gasoline on your farm for farming purposes. A statement from the custom operator as to the amount of gasoline used on the farm should be included by the farm operator with his 2240 Federal Gas Tax Refund Claim.

Do not include gasoline used (1) on the highway, (2) in processing, packaging freezing or canning operations; (3) for personal or other nonfarming purposes or (4) on the farm of another person even though used for farming purposes.

The Federal tax does not apply to diesel, butane, propane or special motor fuels if the fuels are used on a farm for farming purposes.

To obtain a refund on Federal tax paid on diesel fuel purchases and used by a custom operator on the farm file a claim on Form 843 with your District Director of Internal Revenue. Include in the claim the following: (1) Name and address of the custom operator, (2) a description of the custom work on the farm including the date, place of performance and the kind of work done, (3) number of gallons of taxpaid diesel fuel used in a highway vehicle, or motor vehicle by the custom operator while performing the work on your farm.

Mr. Clarence Booe, Munday, called me several weeks ago. He had a field of irrigated cotton which was shedding the leaves. When the stalks were cut with a knife, dark streaks were noted in the stem. Knots were noted on the roots which was a sign of the rootknot nematode. Samples were sent to our plant pathologist for diagnosis. His reply states that he is sure it is Fusarium Wilt but his first attempt at isolation was no good and he is attempting another. We are having outbreaks of this disease in several fields the past two years. Plants are usually stunted. Brown areas occur in leaves of wilting plants. Stems and roots show darkening of wood portion in contrast to cotton root rot infected plants. The disease is associated with the

Policy-Making For Highway Dept. Up To Three Men

An old saying tells us that "Behind every successful man is a woman."

We might paraphrase this somewhat by saying that "Behind every successful endeavor is a good administrator." This is more apparent than in describing the Texas Highway Department.

Policy-making body for the Department is the Texas Highway Commission, a three-member body appointed by the Governor for staggered six year terms.

Delegated to carry out these policies and direct operations of this smooth-running, efficient organization is Dewitt C. Greer. For nearly a quarter-century he has guided the Department with a firm, sure hand as State Highway Engineer.

Greer has served under six Governors and nearly a score of Commissioners since his appointment by Gov. Lee O'Daniel in 1940. Present members of the Commission are Herbert C. Petry Jr., chairman, Carrioz Springs; Hal Woodward of Coleman, and J. H. (Jack) Kultgen of Waco.

The present Commissioners, as those before them, recognize Greer as "Mr. Highways" in Texas. In fact, he is recognized nationally and internationally as one of the world's outstanding highway administrators.

Since Greer took over as the Texas Highway Department's chief administrative officer, the state's designated highway system has increased from approximately 20,500 to nearly 66,000 miles. The number of employees has increased from nearly 7,000 to more than 16,000. And the annual budget has increased approximately 1,000 percent from $40 million to $450 million a year.

Greer seemingly is a mild-mannered, soft-spoken person. But his administrative subordinates will tell you that he's a man who knows what needs to be done, how to go about it—and that he expects results.

Although Greer didn't evolve the Department's system of decentralization — virtual complete autonomy of the 25 highway districts each under a District Engineer — he is credited with making it work successfully in periods of unprecedented growing pains. Many of the District Engineers supervise operations greater than some entire highway departments of other states.

Greer himself pays tribute to the early administrators and foresight of the initial Commissioners who laid down a policy of "Total road service to all the people." This policy has guided Department activities since its organization in 1971.

Initiation of the farm and ranch to market system in the '40's, and fantastic urban growth since World War II, has necessitated a modification of the basic Departmental policy — but it hasn't changed the ultimate aim.

Principal guidelines for the Commission and the Department now are laid down under what is described as a "Balanced Program." This policy was enunciated to meet both the need to "Get the farmer out of the mud" and the mushrooming growth of the state's metropolitan areas, of which Texas has more than any other state.

Part of Greer's reputation has evolved from his uncanny insight into future needs. Before the Legislature had approved the initial farm to market program the Department was ready to begin construction. Greer also anticipated fantastic postwar traffic congestion in metropolitan areas, and Texas was building prototypes of the modern expressways years before the Federal Congress approved the Interstate and Defense Highway Act of 1956.

Much of the credit for success of the Texas Highway Department should be attributed to the people of Texas, Greer believes. Revenues of the Department are fixed by Constitutional provision, and as highway use increases and highway needs spiral the available funds go up. There have been times when the needs outpaced the available funds, but a sharp pencil in Departmental operations kept the two very nearly abreast in Texas.

A good deal of credit may be attributed to the organization which Greer heads. His progressive ideas linked to excellent personnel and management policies evoke an esprit de corps which would be the envy of any organization.

But most credit undoubtedly goes to the State Highway Engineer who has an unbounded belief in the need of the people for better highways. Virtually everything that is bought or sold, made or consumed travels across the Texas highways at some time.

He feels it is his job to provide those highways to meet the ever-increasing demands of a growing, mobile population.

KAY'S KOLUMN

By KAY REEVES

Busy! (That is one word that describes every person in school—all the extra-curricular activities in school are mostly responsible for that.) The F.H.A. chose their sweetheart for the '64 and '65 school year. That young lady is Miss Phyllis Tankersley. Congratulations, Phyllis.

The F.H.A. had a meeting to appoint members to several committees. The yearbook committee consists of Gail Fletcher, Glenda Wasson, Ila Kay Hutchinson, Lou Perez, Nancy Smith, June Mincey and me as chairman.

Plans were also made to begin a selection each month of a "Girl of the Month" and an "Officer of the Month."

A committee was appointed to formulate a system by which these would be selected. The committee members are Linda Reed, chairman, Wilma Fahrning, Linda Abbott, Tina Flenniken, Gail Fletcher, Cyndy Johnston, Velvet Verhalen, Becky Howell, Belle Burnett and Glenda Cox.

The Knox City Mighty Greyhounds did it again. They beat Throckmorton Greyhounds, 34-0.

Knox City showed they cared when the stands were PACKED last Friday night. This Friday night we journey to Aspermont and hope to see just as big a crowd there.

Friday was a very successful day for one Junior in K.C.H.S.—Sharman Watkins has a new addition to her family. It is red and white and is five years old. That little doll is a little '59 Renault (car).

Today has begun a new week and K.C.H.S. is really jumping already. Lou Perez succeeded in getting Karen Whites elbow stuck in her throat on the first basketball practice of the week. Lou is feeling fine now, though. I don't know who it hurt more, Karen or Lou. Both survived, thank goodness!

We just couldn't do without either of them.

Belle Burnett began her trips to Abilene to participate in the West Texas Fair Sweetheart Contest on Monday night. Belle is representing the Knox City Future Farmers of America. Good luck, Belle.

All the ex-seniors were in this past week end. The way they act, you would think they had been gone a month, but the truth is, they were gone only two or three days. It is always good to see their shining faces at the pep rallies and games.

K.C.H.S. is well on its way to a wonderful and exciting year.

LETS BEAT ASPERMONT!!!

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

MISTAKE AND FRAUD

When you get the short end of a deal you may feel inclined to claim mistake or fraud to get out of the contract.

But courts are not inclined to correct your business mistakes unless they also find serious injustices. For to charge the other party with fraud is serious since fraud is a crime as well as a civil cause of action.

Our courts, therefore, demand more proof than usual in civil cases where one sues to get out of a contract on the grounds of fraud.

Suppose Smith and Black agree to do something in clear language, but Smith does not grasp the terms of a plain contract. This failure of Smith will not void the contract and our courts will enforce its terms.

But suppose instead Black well knew that Smith had made a mistake, and he still didn't explain it to Smith. Then if this can be proved, Black may have trouble enforcing his contract.

Both parties often make a mistake which may void the deal. In one case Raffles agreed to buy and Smith to sell goods arriving on a ship named the "Peerless." But it just so happened that two steamers had the same name. Raffles and Smith had in mind different steamers. No contract. Why? No meeting of the minds.

But to need such a contract both parties must make a mistake about something in the contract.

People often make oral agreements, and later write the terms down. Suppose they make a mistake in doing this. When they find such a mistake they can go into court and have the contract reformed.

To induce the other party to agree through fraud makes the contract void. For a court to act in a fraud case one must prove five things:

1. A false representation;
2. The speaker's knowledge of its falsity;
3. His intention to mislead the other party;
4. The other's innocent reliance on the statement; and
5. Damage resulting from the deception.

Unless every one of these elements are proved, there is no legal fraud.

Except for guardians and others in positions of great trust, the law assumes that persons deal at arms length and have equal ability to protect themselves. The law, in short, expects you to use your head in checking out claims and facts.

This goes to the ancient Roman principle: Caveat Emptor (let the buyer beware). The law expects you to look into the claims of the other party, and not to agree to any old paper shoved under your nose as a "standard" contract.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

CARD OF THANKS

Dear Friends: This is to say "Thank You" to Dr. Howell and Dr. Eiland, and the nurses for their wonderful care during my week's stay in the hospital with nose bleed. Also to my friends for cards, gifts, etc.

A special great big thank you to the members of the Church of Christ for fixing food and care of my husband also for the visits, cards, gifts, etc. The prayers were of course the most appreciated of all.

After spending 4 days in the Wichita Falls General Hospital I was dismissed and then went to Cushing, Okla., with my husband (Thinking all was well) where my nose bleed started again and I spent 4 days there in the hospital, where the bleeding stopped.

Thanks be to God and the wonderful care I am now home and doing fine.

The kind and loving treatment received by me from you good Knox City people will always be remembered. God help us all to do more in His service and follow in His steps. Love 'Y all,

Mrs. Dick Biggs.

HERE'S SOME MORE MOM!

Youngsters have a knack for messing up things... themselves, the house, their clothes. This is especially true during the winter months. And it takes a lot of hot water to clean up. The new 3-times-faster, quick recovery, flameless electric water heater is time saving and provides a more-than-ample supply of hot water. A strict temperature control prevents overheating and there's nothing to re-set, regulate, or turn on and off except the faucet.

It can be easily installed anywhere in the house, since there is no flame, no flue is needed. Only a flameless electric water heater is fully automatic.

See your electric appliance dealer or your plumbing fixtures dealer about installing a flameless electric water heater.

FREE WIRING... to customers served by WTU who purchase an approved Electric Water Heater from a local appliance dealer or local plumbing supplier.

Streams In Desert Places

Ozelle Stephens

James tells us, "Ye have not because ye are not." These words contain the secret of poverty and powerlessness of the average christian. We find ourselves failing to do the things we should and failing to have our needs supplied. What is the answer? "Ye have not because ye ask not." Our Lord spent much time in prayer. How much more do we need to pray, than He?

Remember Christ is still praying for you. "He liveth to make intercession for them" . . . It is Christ Jesus who died . . . who is at the right hand of God, who also maketh intercession for us." If we are to keep fellowship with Christ and have our needs we must give ourselves unto earnest, constant overcoming Prayer.

CARD OF THANKS

It is from hearts filled with sincere appreciation that we thank you for the flowers, food, cards, and letters and especially to those who helped to make a heavy sorrow easier to bear— This will live in our memories forever.
