Social Security Is Windfall For Knox Co. Widow

Mrs. Mattie Partridge, 79, of the Sunset community has been informed that the Social Security Administration owes her $2314.00. She has been receiving a smaller benefit than she should have for many years.

Mrs. Partridge is the widow of the late Emmett Partridge who died on April 1952. Due to a provision of the law at that time Mrs. Partridge's benefits were continued as wife's benefits instead of being converted to widow's benefits. This provision of the law is no longer in effect but, in 1952, certain filing procedures were necessary.

Mrs. Partridge's case is one of only 13 similar cases in the Social Security records.

Mrs. Partridge was born Mattie Thompson, in Grayson County in May 18, 1885. At eight years of age she moved to Clay County and later, in 1900, the family moved to Knox County. She and Emmett were married in Knox County on December 13, 1903. She still resides in the same house to which she came as a bride over 61 years ago.

Vast Resources Can Waste Away

By HARLEY PERSHING

A vast storehouse of natural resources is lying idle in Texas, rapidly deteriorating and in danger of wasting away.

Unless some positive action is taken soon, the loss from this eroding action will take such a deep cut into Texas' economy that recovery will be questionable.

The resource is the thousands of Texas youngsters graduating from high school each year with no opportunity, inclination or motivation to attend college for training in the professions, the arts, sciences or just plain education for a job.

Sounding the warning on this waste of resource is Dr. C. C. Colvert, professor and consultant on junior college training at the University of Texas' College of Education.

Dr. Colvert, a near zealot in the field of junior colleges and their place in the state's system of higher education, firmly believes that Texas has need for many more junior colleges than she now supports.

He equally is concerned about improving the programs of instruction and the curricula of existing junior colleges to make certain the institutions are fulfilling their need in the communities they serve.

Dr. Colvert does not aim his remarks in criticism of the junior colleges but uses them as a means of emphasizing his point that college programs need enrichment, overhaul and rejuvenation to meet the needs of this 20th Century complex.

And it is a complex so startling and revolutionary that even thoughts of it far outshadow any of the explorations made in this decade.

His primary concern is the high school age student of Tex-

SANTA COMES TWICE — Francis J. Stevens has brought Mrs. Mattie Partridge, 79, of the Sunset community some good news in that she will receive a check, shortly, in the amount of $2,314.00 for back pay on benefits since her husband's death in 1952. She is one of 13 other cases in the United States where this particular oversight occurred. (See story) as who can't or won't go to a senior college to prepare himself for his place in athis rapidly changing world.

With but few exceptions the high school programs of Texas are geared to prepare the student for entry into college.

This concept of education—whether it is right or wrong—is not defended or criticized by Dr. Colvert or other educators—is neglecting the thousands of students who must leave the high school graduation ceremony and search for a job.

For many this is a heartache, a disappointment. They learn there are no jobs other than those in the unskilled class. Discontent brings on resentment and the myriad problems that stalk its path.

Dr. Colvert cites this statistical analysis to prove his point:

Out of 500 students reaching the age of 18, the high school graduate age, only 300 will get their diplomas. Of this 300 only 120 will enter college. Seventy-five of the 120 will return for

Special Film To Be Shown At Church Here Sunday

Rev. Floyd Bailey, pastor of the Foursquare Church, has received a film entitled "The Cry in the Night."

This film was supervised by Billy Graham, Rev. Bailey said, and it has taken him over three years to secure it.

The film will be shown at the 7 p.m. Sunday services.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend and see this outstanding film, Rev. Bailey said.

the second year of college training with only 50 of that group completing the sophomore year.

This adds up to only 50 out of 500 completing two years of college with 450 entering the labor market, many of who have no training at all. And for 180 who did not complete high school the future is exceedingly bleak and disheartening.

What can be done for these 450 students multiplied hundreds of times throughout Texas is the problem that faces Texas today and grows with each year as the number of high school graduates and those reaching that age increases manifold.

The answer, according to Dr. Colvert and other top experts, lies in the junior college and and especially in the fields of technical and vocational training program.

A beefed up educational program in all phases of technology, ranging from complicated electronic computer operators to laboratory technicians, is needed most in the heavily populated metropolitan areas.

These include the Fort Worth-Dallas complex, Houston and San Antonio.

The need for vast numbers of technicians in these areas is growing each day. And it increases as new developments, new techniques in production, industry and manufacturing are Final rites for John Luther Clemmer, 73, of Rochester, who died at 6:30 p.m. Saturday in the Knox County Hospital were held at 2:30 p.m. Monday in the Rochester Baptist Church.

He married Ruby Swenson, Jan. 14, 1925 in Dalsla. Jan. 14, 1925, in Dallas.

He had farmed in the Rochester area for 40 years, and was a member of the Baptist Church.

Survivors are his wife, Ruby of Rochester, two sisters, Mrs. Lona Fuller of Guthrie, Okla., and Mrs. Fannie Reed of Brownwood.

Final Rites For Mrs. Louise Qualls Held Sunday

Funeral services for Mrs. Louise Ethel Qualls, 74, of O'Brien, who died at 7 p.m. Jan. 29, in the Knox County Hospital, were held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in the O'Brien Baptist Church, with Rev. Cecil Foster, pastor, officiating, assisted by Johnny Smith, pastor of the Knox City Baptist Church, and Rev. E. V. Brooks of Rochester.

Burial was in Rochester under direction of Smith Funeral Home.

Mrs. Qualls was born August 6, 1890, in Belton, Texas, and married W. N. Qualls June 7, 1922 in Comanche. She moved to O'Brien 41 years ago. She had been a member of the Baptist Church since 1919.

Survivors are one son, Vaughn Brooks of Knox City, three daughters, Mrs. Lois Speck of Rochester, Mrs. Murrell Bishop of Knox City, Mrs. Leola Covey of O'Brien; two step sons, Dennis Qualls of O'Brien, and Dave Qualls of Brownfield; two step-daughters, Mrs. Bennie Keyes of Albuquerque, N. M., and Mrs. Bill Walker of O'Brien, 9 grandchildren, and seven great-grandchildren.

introduced.

To keep pace with this ever changing world of technology junior colleges must alter and tailor their programs accordingly, says Dr. Colvert.

The revolution now going on is so powerful and strange that many of the job classifications now offered were unheard of a few years ago.

In fact, some of the words used in newspaper advertising explaining jobs that are available were not known 10 years ago.

If you doubt this, read the Star-Telegram's help wanted ads in Sunday's paper.

The job of training technicians is not an easy or short one. It is one that takes detailed study, planning and coordination.

And most of all it should be a program of excellence, one geared to giving the student the best that is available but giving him a useful tool that can be put to work.

The courses should be twofold. They should offer the student the training he needs to begin a job in his chosen field but flexible enough to permit him to change courses should he decide to expand or divert his training to another field of technology.

The course also should be broad and deep enough to give the student the framework for entry into a senior college should he want to expand his education into the professions that work with the technical course in the junior college that he wants to pursue his training to become a chemist, a doctor or scientist.

Sufficient credits in this field, taught in the junior college level, should be obtained.

This applies to other fields such as petroleum, communications, computer system, engineering and medicine.

No matter what the program, adds Dr. Colvert, it should be one that strives for excellence, one that seeks to equip the student with the best information available.

ATTENDS BIRTHDAY DINNER

Mrs. A. E. Lightfoot was honored with a birthday dinner Sunday, Jan. 31, in the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McNulty. Those attending were her children, grandchildren and 6 great-grandchildren.

Accompanied Francis J. Stevens, field representative for the Social Security Administration, last Thursday to take the picture you see adjacent to this column. Mrs. Partridge is extremely active and alert and we enjoyed our visit very much.

Most of us are critical judges with anything governmental, so it is with pleasure we show its good side.

The social security boys are not only trying to safeguard the taxpayers' dollar, but they want those who deserve extra assistance to get it.

Of course another oddity in this matter is that Mrs. Partridge is one of only 13 such cases in the entire United States.

We hope the other 12 are as appreciative and deserving as our Mrs. Partridge.

I rode with our nightwatchman Leroy Davis last Friday and Saturday nights and was appalled at the beer containers on the city streets. After ducking and dodging broken bottles and cans for several hours we began counting and came up with over a case of empties in a six block area.

However when we went to Sunday School most of the empties had been picked up. We haven't inquired as to who other than landowners help but we happen to know that all of our law enforcement agencies help as much as possible, to keep the streets and highways clean.

This is not a soap box stand against anyone, but a compilation of citizens and pastors who have expressed an interest and partial solution. Here's some of their opinions:

The Liquor Control Board needs to tighten up a whale of a lot on offenders who sell to minors. There are a large number of proprietors who constantly break this law and who continue to operate and bootleg "legally" to their hearts content.

To our knowledge, locally, the worst that has befallen this type person is to be closed for a five day maximum.

Obviously, this should be the minimum, and a second offense should close the door for at least a year when he could re-apply for a license.

Another opinion by law enforcement agencies is that we demand stiffer laws and enforcement on persons drinking and driving and throwing containers on public and private roads.

Public apathy, alone, is the deciding factor.

Mayor Angle escorted us on a tour of the new Methodist sanctuary Saturday. We think it is one of the prettiest sanctuaries we've ever seen, and all Methodists should be commended for their contribution to enhancing our little city.

Open house has been tentatively set for Feb. 14, and although we are already obligated for that day, those who can, should send them off to a good start by filing their pews to overflowing on this great occasion.

BY-THE-WAY Monday, Feb. 15, will be the date set for an area meeting on the proposed junior college. Knox Countians are asked to attend this meeting at the Munday Elementary School Gym at 7:30 p.m.

AND, although there appears to be a one-sided margin in favor of a junior college, as in the past these columns are open to anyone, anytime for any comment, so long as we know who you are and it isn't libelous.

The biggest single item seems to be the raising of taxes, which it will do, and which statistically has proven that the more education a person has the more he can make and hence the more taxes he can pay, later . . .

Number two is location: We must admit this is shaky for counties except Haskell . . . but wouldn't it help all the other counties, if not directly, indirectly?

Personally, we still think all of our counties can do a whale of a lot better financially, if they tried, with what they have, and if they did we could add a junior college to the budget without any strain.

Let's cut down on everything except knowledge.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Education still rates top priority in the State capital. But it was viewed in a new light after Gov. John Connally revealed his program to the State Legislature.

Connally took the suggestions of his Committee on Education Beyond the High School that a strong coordinating board be created to administer State colleges and universities. He adopted its plan to put public junior colleges under that board and then told the Legislators the State should assume full financing of instructional costs of junior college academic programs.

THREE-BOARD COLLEGE SYSTEM—Real surprise in Connally's approach to higher education came in his proposal that all existing college and university boards of regents be abolished and the higher education institutions be regrouped into three systems.

Even this idea held an added surprise, since Connally recommended establishment of an agricultural and technical university in San Antonio, to serve all of South Texas.

Under the three system approach, there would be a University of Texas System composed of the University of Texas in Austin, Texas Western College, Arlington State College, North Texas State University, Texas Woman's University, University of Houston, Texas Southern University and all medical and dental units.

Texas State University System would consist of A&M University, Texas Technological College, Prairie View A&M College, Tarleton State College, Lamar State College of Technology, Texas A&I College, and the proposed San Antonio university.

A State Senior College System would include Midwestern University, Pan American College, East Texas State College, Sam Houston State Teachers' College, Southwest Texas State College, West Texas State University, Stephen F. Austin State College, Sul Ross State College and Angelo State College.

ADULT ILLITERATE CLASSES—Going from higher education to the most basic sort of education, Connally told the Legislature that 13 per cent of the citizens in Texas over age 25 are functionally illiterate.

He recommended that this situation be met with a program administered by the Texas Education Agency under the Poverty Act. It would offer basic education courses in public schools to at least 10,000 functional illiterates each year.

TEACHER'S PAY—Connally by-passed a bill by TSTA designed to raise minimum teachers' pay by $45 a month. Instead, he endorsed a plan already in the form of a bill by Sen. Jack Strong of Longview. It provides for stair-step raises, with sizable pay increases for experienced teachers, and ups maximum teachers pay some $650 a year.

His recommendation that teachers be allowed to take summer graduate work at State colleges and universities, free of tuition, received big applause.

WATER PLANNING—Connally adopted the Texas Research League's design for a master State water plan and expanded powers of the Water Development Board. Next day, he requested a $290,000 emergency appropriation to get the project underway.

He also asked the Legislature to pass bills enabling the Water Development Board to make loans for local development of underground water resources.

OTHER RECOMMENDATIONS—Governor Connally came out strong for driver education programs in all schools, to be directed by the Department of Public Safety.

He urged passage of an Industry Safety Act; a one-cent cigarette tax increase in 1966, abandonment of the state property tax in seven years; support of the Railroad Commission to provide for pooling of separately-owned oil and gas interests in a common reservoir; poll tax repeal; and legal rights for women.

Then he asked the Legislature to revise the 1953 Election Code and take out the provision denying the right to vote to those who move their legal residence from one county to another during the six months prior to an election.

Last, but not least, Connally recommended that election laws be changed to provide that the Governor and other state officials run for four-year terms, instead of two-year terms.

HOUSE COMMITTEES—Speaker Ben Barnes re-assigned Rep. Bill Heatly of Paducah as Chairman of the House Committee of Appropriations and Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas to the House Committee on Revenue and Taxation.

One of the most-thankless jobs, chairmanship of the Congressional and Legislative Districts Committee, went to Rep. Gus F. Mutscher of Brenham.

Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria will head the State Affairs Committee. Rep. Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville was named chairman of the Committee on Commerce and Manufacturers. Representative Pipkin also is vice-chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

Rep. Bill Dungan of McKinney was named Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee; Rep. Bill Clayton of Spring Lake, Chairman of the Aeronautics Committee; and Rep. Menton Murray of Harlingen, chairman of the Committee on Conservation and Reclamation.

LIQUOR BILLS—Rep. Jake Johnson of San Antonio offered three rivals to the bill backed by Texas Restaurant Association to legalize the sale of two oz. bottles of alcoholic beverages to diners.

Johnson introduced an "open saloons" bill, a straight across-the-bar drink measure and a small bottles bill for bars serving no food.

Two other legislators, Rep. Paul Haring of Goliad and John Traeger of Seguin, offered bills which would make it illegal to buy liquor for anyone under 21.

HOUSE REDISTRICTING—First measure to redistrict the Texas House of Representatives has been unveiled by Rep. V. E. (Red) Berry of San Antonio.

Letter To Editor:

Dear Friends,

We have been in Austin some two weeks now and the Legislature is getting organized. As most of you have read in the papers, we elected Ben Barnes as our Speaker. He is a rural farm boy from DeLeon, Texas, and we feel that he is going to make us an excellent speaker.

Our speaker named the committees for the 59th Session of the Legislature this morning (Jan. 28). We feel that we received good recognition in my committee appointments.

My committee appointments

Berry wants to take 20 House seats away from rural areas and give them to the metropolitan areas. Under his bill, Harris County would get eight more representatives; Dallas County, six; Bexar County, four; and Tarrant County, two.

Bill would match incumbent representatives from five districts in 1966 (if they want to stay in office): Jim Nugent of Kerrville vs. Terry Townsend of Brady; J. E. Ward of Glen Rose vs. Tom Holmes of Granbury; Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline vs. Jim Markgraf of Scurry; Lloyd Guffey of El Campo vs. Otha Birkner of VanVleet; and Renal Rossen of Snyder vs. Roy Arledge of Stamford.

Berry aimed at 63,500 population per district, with a 10 per cent maximum variation.

AG OPINIONS—Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has issued these opinions:

Jasper County commissioners court has no authority to call an election to abolish Jasper Hospital District.

County Attorneys can represent themselves on trial of misdemeanor charges in other counties.

Classroom Teachers Association of Dallas is exempt from payment of franchise taxes as non-profit corporation limited to advancement of education.

A legislator employed on the Toledo Bend Project cannot receive his salary as an elected official but is not precluded from drawing expenses as a member of the Legislature and Texas Legislature Council.

are as follows: Chairman of the Interstate Cooperation Committee, a member of State Affairs, Oil, Gas and Mining; Livestock and Stock Raising, and Motor Traffic Committees.

Most of these committees are very active and after the session gets started we will be meeting most of the day and many of the nights.

We want all of the folks back home to know that we appreciate being your State Representative and will do our best to represent the district in a way that will be beneficial to all of us. We want all of you to feel free to write us at any time about important legislation that is coming before the House.

Sincerely,
Roy Arledge

What to do until an emergency happens

Emergencies have practically no sense of fair play. And almost always pick the worst possible time to happen.

People seem to prefer the day your insurance lapses to trip on your sidewalk, for example.

And the car usually waits until your bank account registers empty before demanding expensive repairs.

There's no fighting it. But you can be ready. By tucking away some reserve funds in U.S. Savings Bonds.

Bonds, themselves, are emergency proof. You can't lose the money you invest in them, even if fire, flood, robbers or plain carelessness causes you to lose the Bonds.

And when something expensive happens, you can just take them in to any bank and get yourself solvent again.

In the meantime, Uncle Sam uses your Bond dollars to handle other urgent matters, like taking care of your freedom.

Buy Bonds where you bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Get yourself really prepared and you might even discourage a few emergencies from ever happening.

Keep freedom in your future with

REMEMBER WHEN?

Netleton Industrial Museum

"I bet there are few people alive today who remember when this 1895 antique was actually used as a source of heat. Besides not giving out just an awful lot of heat to an awful lot of space, it didn't exactly smell like the breath of spring either. Times have certainly changed.

Now-a-days safe, flameless electric heating carries even, steady heat to all parts of a room or home. Hot spots, cold spots and drafts are things of the past. Since electric heating is totally flameless there are no pilot flames to go out or gaseous odors, no soot, film, smoke, or residue to rest on indoor walls and furniture. The house stays clean, comfortable, and fresh smelling.

If you aren't enjoying the comforts of flameless electric heat call a WTU representative or see your electrical heating contractor right away."

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Trial-Watching . . .
 What has become of the ancient and honorable pastime of trial-watching? In old England where it was known as "attendance at court," people of all classes indulged. But today, except at a few publicized spectacles, there is often no audience at all.

True, we watch plenty of make-believe trials. On TV, in movies, at the theatre, the trial scene is the cornerstone of countless dramatic thrillers.

But the real courtroom adds something vital. That grim young man on the witness stand is no actor earning his weekly wage. He is really afraid he may be found guilty of burglary and sent to jail for three years. That aging widow, seeking damages for the death of her husband, really needs the money to give her children a respectable upbringing.

Perhaps you feel that trial-watching is a form of idle curiosity. Surely it shows curiosity. But is such curiosity idle? The law itself doesn't think so. The silent spectator, there only to watch, is not just tolerated but welcomed. In the eyes of the law he serves two useful purposes:

1) He helps justice. His show of interest tends to put all of the participants on their mettle. The dictatorial judge, the apathetic juror, the dishonest witness—all may fear that they might, somehow, run afoul of that anonymous observer in the back of the courtroom.

2) He helps himself. He learns at first hand how democracy meets the acid test: the way it treats an individual. The things he finds wrong can make him a more constructive citizen. The things he finds right can breathe new meaning into the slogans of freedom.

Access to the courtroom may be limited in a few special circumstances. For example, if the testimony is sordid, children may be barred to protect their morals. Troublemakers may be kept out to preserve decorum. Crowding may be forbidden as a matter of public safety.

As a rule, however, the courtroom doors are wide open. No one will take your name or ask your business. You can walk in or out at any time. But stay awhile. Far more awaits you in a courtroom than the sight of a few people in trouble. It is, in fact, the best place to discover why Daniel Webster called justice "the great interest of man on earth."

In studying the life of Jesus we find that He was one of the most practical men who ever lived. In the beginning of His sermon on the mount He sums up the heart of His whole teachings. In the Lord's prayer He instructs His followers to pray, "Thou Kingdom come, Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven."

The Beautitudes are clear instructions as to how we are to bring this happy state of affairs to pass. When we put them in everyday practice, our old troubled world will be turned into a happy heavenly place. As we study the 5th Chapter of Matt.

FARM and RANCH Notes

JOE W. DOBY
COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT

Wyman Meinzer, Benjamin 4-H member, who had the champion steer in the Knox County Junior Livestock Show, will exhibit him at the Wichita Falls Junior Beef Show, February 10-12. Wyman, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Pate Meinzer, obtained his steer from the League Davis Ranch where his father has charge of the cowherd.

I attended a meeting, January 28, of the West Texas Vegetable Growers Council in Plainview. The topic of the meeting was Chemical Weed Control in Vegetables. Representatives of the various Chemical Companies selling herbicides as well as Extension and Experiment Station personnel were on the program.

The main thing I noticed as speaker after speaker discoursed on the subject was the term incorporation. We have seen lots of advertisements in the past of spraying these chemicals on the surface of the soil. Sell, practical experience has shown this to be wistful thinking. The material must be incorporated with the top 1-3 inches of soil to be very effective.

So if you are planning to use chemical weed control this year, my advice is to rig up the equipment you need now. Another very important suggestion is to read the label carefully and follow directions. What can be planted following the crop treated must also be taken into consideration.

Chemicals are also available for use on cotton and grain sorghum. The picture is constantly changing and some that could be used on certain crops last year are now available for others.

We will have a bulletin for distribution very shortly that will give a complete list of all chemicals cleared for use on agronomic crops, range and pastures. Recommendations for the use of each will be given.

Sterile screwworm flies, which have been released by the billions during the three years of the campaign against the costly livestock pest has been in existence, are no longer being dispersed in the United States, but instead are virtually all being airshipped in northern Mexico.

Mental Retardation Preventable If Found At Early Age

A rare but tragic disease, phenylketonuria, is one of mental retardation in children that can be easily detected, treated, and prevented by treatment which consists of a relatively simple special diet.

Phenylketonuria, or PKU as it is more commonly known, is a metabolic disease which occurs only once out of each 10,000 births. It is rare but, because it could lead to some mental retardation, early treatment is essential, and therefore, early detection is necessary.

In more technical terminology, PKU is the result of an in-

No sterile flies will be released in Texas or neighboring states except for those required to treat isolated screwworm outbreaks that may occur this year, eradication officials have announced.

With fly drops discontinued in Texas, eradication workers will be relying heavily on farmers and ranchers for information on infestations that result from flies that do manage to slip through the barrier. Further outbreaks can be headed off if cases are treated during early stages of development, officials said.

Some bugs make their own anti-freeze! That's why cold weather doesn't kill many bothersome pests. When temperatures rise, they're ready to start giving you trouble again.

Although sub-freezing temperatures slow down insect activity, nature provides many pests with ways of beating cold. Some manufacture their own glycerol, an effective anti-freeze similar to the product made by man for the same purpose.

When temperatures drop below the freezing point, these insects—by some process not yet fully understood—gradually adjust to it. The glycerol they manufacture gives them the hardness to withstand all but the most extreme cold weather. Among the insects that can make their own anti-freeze are certain species of ants, beetles, aphids, cankerworms, and flies.

Nature gives insects another protection from the cold, too. Most go through a metamorphosis which includes a dormant period when they are completely inactive. If insects stay dormant—in the pupal or larval stage—during the winter, they often survive the cold weather. Some insects have been found frozen in solid ice and thawed to full activity.

Animal pests can also withstand extreme cold, too. Lice simply grow thicker when the mercury drops.

Insect and animal pests, like man, have learned to live with their surroundings. Very cold weather rarely controls these pests effectively.

born error of metabolism. The absence of the enzyme phenylalanine hydroxylase in the liver permits an abnormally high level of the amino acid, phenylalanine to accumulate in the serum.

This probably results in failure of development of the brain. If the abnormality is not detected early—by the first month of life or soon after—subsequent treatment will not prevent some mental retardation.

The treatment of PKU consists of a diet low in phenylalanine, since the affected individual is lacking in enzyme which normally permits utilization of this amino acid.

PKU is easily detectable with simple tests. Three tests are now being used and two of these tests can even be performed by a parent in the home. . . . Many Texas physicians are now routinely testing newborn babies for PKU in hospitals and their offices, and more are doing these tests each year.

In 1963, the Texas Medical Association, in cooperation with the Texas Association for Retarded Children and the Texas Hospital Association, began promoting a "do-it-yourself" test kit for PKU in certain hospitals.

The TMA kit, which was given to each mother when she and her newborn baby left the hospital, included an addressed postal card on which the mother marks and reports the results of a simple urine test, a three by five card containing instructions for administering the test and a folder explaining PKU.

The test is performed by pressing the end of a test strip to one of the infant's freshly wet diapers. Any color change of the test strip is then noted on the return postal card and mailed back to the hospital.

A second type of test being used also requires a diaper wet with urine. In this test, a drop of 10 per cent ferric chloride is placed on the wet diaper and any resulting color change is noted.

The third type of PKU detection test, known as the Guthrie inhibition assay test, requires a drop of blood taken after the baby has been fed for several days. The State Department of Health is performing the Guthrie test and has encouraged hospitals throughout the state to set up their own detection programs.

It is estimated that the early detection and treatment of PKU would eliminate one to two per cent of the future residents of

Noise Can Be Detrimental To Good Health

Noise can rob us of sleep, make us tense and jumpy and decrease our general efficiency. A continued exposure to noise may make us more susceptible to accidents by cutting down our ability to discern sirens or shouted warnings.

What's to be done about our noisy society? Many industrialists have already taken steps to sound-proof work areas in noisy factories and issue ear plugs or earmuffs to workers.

The rest of us who are plagued by the day-to-day noises of a busy world and family car, do something, too.

If you plan to build or buy a home soon, check with the contractor; he'll be able to offer suggestions to cut down on noisiness in your home.

If you are already settled in your home, remember the noise problem if you make any additions or changes.

One simple step costs nothing and can be used in almost every home to combat the noise problem. Set aside a room or an area as a "quiet place." Study your house or apartment to see which part of it can most easily be cut off from the majority of noise. Put your TV, stereo, and other noise-makers in the opposite end of the house.

Such a quiet place won't completely solve the ever-growing problem of noise, but it will go far toward cutting down on family tension and giving the ears in your family a rest.

institutions for the mentally retarded. The results of early detection and treatment is dramatically shown by the case of two brothers with PKU. One child, not diagnosed until he was three, now has an IQ of 40 and is confined to an institution; the other, diagnosed at two weeks, was placed on a special diet and now, at age four, has an IQ of 106.

TMO, the State Department of Health, and TARC are engaged in a constant educational program concerning PKU, both to physicians and the public. The ultimate goal is to have all newborn children tested at the proper times so that this rare but tragic disease will be a thing of the past.

Beta Chi Chapter To Meet Saturday

Beta Chi Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma will meet Saturday, Feb. 6, at 2:30 p.m. in

Who would ever think noise could be a health hazard? Health experts definitely think, that excessive noise can be a detriment to health. We can no longer confine this problem to industry, factories and airports; homes are noisier today.

Bigger and noisier appliances are being crammed into homes. We have more extensive heating and cooling systems, more TV and hi-fi sets, more of just about everything that adds to the general supply of everyday noise. And if these marvels are not enough, our children fill in playing "shoot-em up" or the latest pop record.

Modern home design with its spaciousness and smooth, hard surfaces is no help. Popular decorating materials such as glass, stone, brick, paneling and vinyl floor covering reflect sound waves instead of absorbing them.

the Knox City High School library with Knox City and O'Brien members as hostesses.

Theme for the year is "New Dimensions in New Goals," with the focus on "Changing Patterns in Other Countries."

Mrs. E. F. Branton of Knox City will direct the program whose focus will be Japan: "A nation of Tradition and Westernization." The economic, sociological, political, and educational patterns will be discussed by Mrs. Gretchen Colehour, Knox City; Mrs. Rena McGough, Aspermont, and Mrs. Opal Nanny and Hazel Weaver of Haskell.

Mrs. Mary Sue Henry, Rule, will spotlight Delta Kappa Gamma on the International National and State level.

Feb. is Scholarship Month. The Scholarship committee will distribute information on available scholarships by Delta Kappa Gamma.

There will be a Food and white elephant sale, proceeds will be added to the local chapter's scholarship fund.

Vets May Be Eligible For GI Insurance — Can Contact VA

All veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict who believe they are eligible to purchase the new GI insurance beginning May 1, 1965, can get full information at the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco, Glyndon Hague, manager said today.

Those who can be urged to visit or telephone the office nearest their home while those who live at too great a distance may write for a printed information sheet, outlining the provisions of the new law, he added.

To buy this insurance the veteran must:

- Have been originally eligible for National Service Life Insurance between October 8, 1940 and January 1, 1957.
- Have now either no GI insurance or less than $10,000 in authorized coverage.
- Be in one of the following three groups:

- Veterans with service-connected disabilities who meet standards of good health.
- Veterans whose service-connected disabilities alone do not permit them to meet standards of good health.
- Veterans whose non-service-connected disabilities as of Oct. 13, 1964, the date the bill was signed into law, prevented them from buying commercial insurance at the highest rates.

Junior College Steering Co. Meets

The Steering Committee for the Haskell, Throckmorton, Knox, and Stonewall County Area Junior College met in the Grand Jury Room of the Stonewall County Court House, January 20, 1965 in a regular scheduled meeting.

Mrs. Luther Burkett, chairman presided over the meeting and received briefly the activities of the committee in regard to the establishing of a Junior College in the area.

One of the largest representations from the four county area was present to hear the progress report, the purposes, and the accomplishments of the committees that are working on the Survey for a Junior College in the Area.

Survey sheets are available and were passed out to the superintendents of school who were present for the purpose of obtaining the Schools enrollment in Grades 1 through 12 for the past 5 years; also the current College Attendance both in Senior Colleges and Junior Colleges; and the number of High School Graduates over 25 years old who have never attended College.

A tentative report on the Junior College Survey that is now being run in the seven Newspapers of the Area are revealing and very encouraging in that so many people are expressing an interest in a Junior College and are anxious to further their Education Beyond the High School.

Future dates for area Meetings on the Junior College are: Knox County — Monday Elementary School Gym, Monday, February 15, at 7:30 p.m.

Throckmorton County — Throckmorton High School — Tuesday, February 16, 1965, at 7:30 p.m.

Stonewall County — Aspermont High School — Monday, February 22, 1965, at 7:30 p.m.

The next Steering Committee meeting will meet in Throckmorton, February 24, 1965 at 1:30 p.m., with County Judge Byrd Thorp, in the Court House.

Stamford And Memphis PCA Will Merge

A merger of the Stamford and Memphis Production Credit Association was approved by stockholders of the two agricultural credit cooperatives in meetings held recently in the respective towns. The new organization being created by consolidation of these two PCA's will be known as the Rolling Plains Production Credit Association, with headquarters office to be located in Stamford.

All other offices presently serving the membership of the two associations will be maintained as they now are. These offices are located in Anson, Haskell, Munday, Spur, Paducah, Matador, Memphis and Willington. The official date of the merger has been set for February 28, and when it becomes effective, will create one of the largest Production Credit Associations, area wise, in Texas.

The counties making up the area are: Shackelford, Jones, Haskell, Stonewall, Kent, Dickens, King, Knox, Foard, Cottle, Motley, Hall, Childress, Hardeeman, Collingsworth, Donley, Dickens and that portion of Briscoe lying below the caprock.

The boards of directors now serving the two associations will be consolidated into a 10 man board and will serve until the next annual stockholders meeting which will be held early in 1966. C. G. Burson, Sr., of Haskell is president of the Stamford Board of Directors and J. C. Emmett of Wellington is president of the Memphis board.

James Van Pelt, who had been manager of the Memphis Association, resigned effective Jan. 15, to take a position with the Amarillo PCA. J. L. Hill Jr., manager of the Stamford PCA, has also assumed acting management of the Memphis PCA and will continue general manager of the Rolling Plains PCA when the merger is completed.

Total assets of the two organizations as of December 31, 1964, were $9,011,685.00 with a combined net worth of $1,647,854.00. Total loans outstanding on the same date amounted to $7,217,895.00.

Home Demonstration Meets Jan. 28

Miss S. C. Kinsey, home demonstration agent, presented the program, "More Mileage From The Family Dollar," for members of the Truscott Home Demonstration Club, Thursday, January 28. She said that requests for money management information are increasing and come from families with large as well as small incomes. "More money isn't the entire solution," she said, "because as incomes increase so do desires."

She said a family needs a spending plan just as it needs a plan to build a house, pointing out that a budget is not a savings plan so much as a plan for using the money available in ways that best serve a family's wants and needs.

Mrs. W. M. Rake presided at the business session. Mrs. J. G. Adecock announced gold burlap has been purchased for curtains in the assembly room.

The April 15 district meeting at Childress was announced and the club was reminded a nominee for a delegate must be named soon.

Miss S. C. Kinsey announced a workshop "Selection of Patterns and Fabrics" which she will hold at the Truscott Community House at 2 p.m. Thursday, February 4.

Historical Survey Committee Meets In Benjamin

The Knox County Historical Survey Committee met Tuesday afternoon in the Court House. Reports from the History, Landmark and Museum Committees were given. The group decided to work on the marking of "The Narrows" as a special project for February. A number of articles were brought for the Museum. Among them was a framed picture of General Knox, for whom the county is named.

Mrs. J. D. Jefcoat brought the picture a gift of Mrs. Lee Peemster of Vera, in behalf of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Spinks, pioneers of Knox County.

Officers to serve another year will be elected at the March meeting. Tentative plans were made to have an afternoon tea in March and ask for articles for the museum. The president urged all members to complete the marking of Civil War veteran's graves soon.

Mrs. Hoge said the committee wanted to pay "a special vote of thanks to the Knox County Commissioner's Court for financial assistance in our work."

License Plates Now On Sale

Monday was the day to start lining up for license plates again. Sales started Monday and will end April 1 throughout the state.

Texas Highway Department officials say that a good many people rush to buy plates the first week of sales, but the biggest flurry falls during the last week of March.

Current registration receipt, certificate of title and money enough to pay for the plates — are needed to complete the transaction.

Lost receipts or ownership papers may be replaced easily enough by sending 25 cents for each duplicate desired to the Department's Motor Vehicle Division in Austin (40th and Jackson Streets). But remember — to issue a duplicate the Department needs your license number, make and vehicle identification number. Receipts may also be obtained from the county in which the vehicle was registered, by the way.

Texas license plates have a "new look" this year. Each passenger plate has a three-lettered prefix followed by two or three numerals. (Commercial and miscellaneous vehicles retain their own special registration system.) The new passenger registration system enables the Department to cope with the increasing vehicle registration.

Since World War II, approximately a quarter-million more vehicles have been registered yearly in the state. This trend should continue, but the new system should provide sufficient numbers for at least the next ten years.

Texas tags this year have black letters on white. Convinced that black and white provide the most readable combination under both day and night conditions, the Highway Department alternates the color pattern. In odd years, plates have black lettering on white; in even years, it's just the opposite. It's also more economical to stay with two basic colors, the Department has decided.

Speaking of economy, plates provide a revenue source for building and maintaining roads. They also have another primary purpose; identification. Because of the latter, the Department strives for simplicity in plate design. Therefore, plates in Texas contain only the necessary information: license number, state, and year.

The simplicity in design is of great value to the Texas police. The Texas Police Association has announced that an automobile is involved in 90 percent of major crimes committed in the state. It is most important that plates be readable from a reasonable distance. Texas tags are.

When you buy yours, incidentally, you might want to order your 1965 Official State Highway Map of Texas. The map is now available for free worldwide distribution. To make it easy on the public, the Highway Department has given each Texas county tax assessor-collector's office a supply of free postcards for convenient ordering.

Get yours — the sooner, the better.
