A workday was held Saturday in Benjamin by the Knox County Riding Club with about 25 people on hand. The Club is building an arena on land leased from the Benjamin School.

The arena is being built of pipe and bull wire. Money to buy the materials was obtained from an anonymous donation, donations from interested individuals and from membership dues.

The corner posts, made of 8" pipe were set in concrete and the line posts, made from 2" pipe, were cut and set in their postholes. Part of the line posts were set in concrete Saturday to complete a very successful workday.

Anyone interested in horses in Knox County is invited to join. The officers of the club are Bud Conner, Benjamin, president; Vernon McCanlies, Benjamin, vice president; Bobby Roberson, Vera, secretary-treasurer. Any of these men will be glad to accept the $3 membership fee required for annual membership.

The 4-H members elected officers for the 4-H Horse Club in connection with the Knox County Riding Club. They are Wyman Meinzer, Benjamin, president; Dennis Kinnibrugh, Vera, vice president; Susan McCanlies, Benjamin, secretary-treasurer; Jan Barton, Benjamin, reporter. This group planned a trail ride and practice session for Saturday, May 29, at Benjamin. They are planning other trail rides for the summer.

The county 4-H Horse Show was set for Saturday, June 26, to be held in the new riding club arena. Any 4-H member in Knox County is eligible to enter whether or not he or she is a member of the riding club.

The District 4-H Horse Show will be held this year for the first time. It will be held July 10, at the Santa Rosa Round-up Grounds in Vernon. A total of 23 entries from district are eligible to go to the State 4-H show at College Station in August.

Prestige License Plates Bill Approved; Tentative Issuance Date Set August 24

Now Texans have a new status symbol: Personalized, prestige auto license plates.

A bill approved by the Legislature and signed by Governor John Connally Thursday authorizes issuance of personalized license plates upon payment of a $10 fee in addition to normal auto registration charges.

Not only may Texans have their automobiles identified with distinctive one-of-a-kind license plates, but the Texas treasury will get a substantial boost, too.

It has been estimated that the measure may raise as much as $5 million — or personalized plates on one of every dozen vehicles registered in the state. Ninety-five per cent of all fees will be paid to the state's general fund.

The measure was recommended by Gov. Connally to help finance the Texas program for tourism, recreation and state parks. The Governor also suggested that Texas join in an Interstate Tourist Compact for tourist advertising overseas to make known the attractions of the United States.

The bill will be administered by the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department, the agency responsible for registration and licensing of all vehicles in the state. The Highway Fund will receive five per cent of collections to defray administrative costs.

Although the bill does not become effective until 90 days after the Legislature adjourns, the Motor Vehicle Division will begin accepting applications at there would probably not start until May 24-25. Cool temperatures are responsible for the late development. Spraying in the Seguin area started on May 14 and 15 and we are much further north.

Pecan growers need to watch their trees very closely to determine when the casebearer egg laying starts and when the tunneling of small buds below the cluster of nutlets occurs. It will be easy to make the mistake of spraying too early for satisfactory control.

Congratulations to the people of the Munday working so... ers and... ing on the... project are... It is my belief th... scratched the surface in Knox County in the business of vegetable production. We have the soil, water and know-how to grow many vegetables. All we need to do is establish markets and cooperative marketing associations. This is another example of what people can do to help themselves when they want to bad enough. It is all being done without government help, either.

The motorist may want his license plate to bear the name of his dog, his wife, his mother-in-law—or even his own initials. He may want to call attention to his hobby, his business—or his girl friend.

Characters on the personalized plates — either numbers, letters, or a combination of both, will be limited to six. Contrary to normal policy the use of vowels will not be prohibited.

A spokesman for the Texas Highway Department predicted that the greatest demand will be for monogram-type plates—or those bearing the owner's initials—as “FDR.” Others may want nicknames, as “SCOTTY.” Applications for all-number plates will not be accepted as they conflict with the Department's regular licensing system. However, numbers still will be able to use various “gimmicks” within acceptable combinations to indicate their birthdays or other anniversaries. Examples include “SEPT. 24,” “APRIL 2” or “NOV. 6.” Three-letter series may be followed only by numbers 1 through 9.

Much interest already has been expressed by college students, and the personalized plate may become a campus fad. Business interests also have indicated they view the personalized plates as a golden opportunity for special advertising promotion with such plates as “CARPET,” “INSURE,” “AAA 1,” etc.

Some may wish to promote particular causes as “SAFETY” or “CANCER.” And plates of patriotic significance, including community names, are acceptable: “GOLIAD,” “ALAMO,” “AUSTIN,” etc.

Texas isn't the first state to authorize use of personalized prestige plates. At least eight other states have adopted similar measures to swell tax revenues.

The MVD cites the following letter and number combinations (not in conflict with the regular license numbering system) which may be used for personalized license plates:

(a) One to six letters, such as “A” or “ROBERT.”

(b) Two letters followed by

Veterans

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q — Can an eligible veteran take out the new GI life insurance and have the premiums deducted from either compensation or pension payments?

A — He must first apply for the insurance and pay monthly premiums until he is notified that his insurance has been approved. Then he can have the VA deduct the premiums from his compensation or pension payments.

Q — About a year ago I applied for a waiver of premiums. The claim was denied on my government insurance because I was then 62. Has there been a change in the law permitting waiver of premiums after age 60?

A — Yes. Waiver of premiums may now be approved to age 65 so long as total disability occurred prior to that age. However, the insurance must be in force in December 1964 and the first premium waiver will be for January, 1965. Contact the office where premiums are paid or see your nearest VA regional office.

(c) Three letters followed by a number from 1 through 9, such as “ABC 9.”

(d) Four letters followed by one or two numbers, such as “ABCD 4” or “BCD 45.”

(e) Five letters followed by one number, such as “ABCDE 4.”

(f) One number followed by one to five letters, such as “4A” or “4ABCDE.” (The suffix “PAR” will not be authorized.)

(g) Two numbers followed by one to four letters, such as “23 A” or “23 ABCD.” (The suffix “PAR” will not be authorized.)

(h) Three numbers followed by one to three numbers, such as “123 A” or “123 ABC.”

THE FAMILY LAWYER

CRIME BAIT

Eve, caught eating the forbidden fruit, offered God a defense:

“The serpent beguiled me.”

Today, too, many a person caught in a wrongful act blames it on temptation — often, by the very policeman who arrested him. Is “The policeman beguiled me” a good defense to a criminal charge?

It might be, if the circumstances are strong enough. Consider this case:

A plain-clothes detective asked a bellhop to place an illegal bet for him. The bellhop, having neither experience nor inclination in that direction, said no.

Undeterred, the detective kept coaxing him for the favor. At last the bellhop did as he was asked—and was promptly placed under arrest.

But a court ruled later that he had a valid defense. The judge pointed out that the detective had planted the criminal intent in a previously innocent mind.

It is a different story, however, if the officer merely provides the opportunity for a criminal intent that already exists.

A detective, noticing an ad for spicy photographs, sent in his money under an assumed name. By return mail he received a batch of obscene material. And, in due course, the seller was arrested for misuse of the postal service.

At the trial, he protested that the detective had deliberately brought about the mailing. But the court threw out this defense. For, even though the detective had baited the trap, the seller had obviously been ready to step in.

“A line must be drawn,” the United States Supreme Court has said, “between the trap for the unwary innocent and the trap for the unwary guilty.”

Tricks by the police are particularly necessary in certain types of crime. A robbery is likely to be reported by the person who is robbed. But a sale of dope, or a sale of illicit whiskey, is not likely to be reported by the buyer. To get evidence of such offenses, the police generally have to go after it themselves.

(A public service feature of the American Bar Association and the State Bar of Texas. Written by Will Bernard.)

FARM and RANCH Notes

Joe W. Doby, County Agricultural Agent, reports on various agricultural activities in Knox County, including the 4-H Horse Show, pecan spraying, and farm equipment.

Personalized license plates may not be transferred from one owner to another, nor may they be transferred from one classification of vehicle to another without renewal. Personalized 1965 plates also may not be displayed on previously unregistered new or used vehicles.

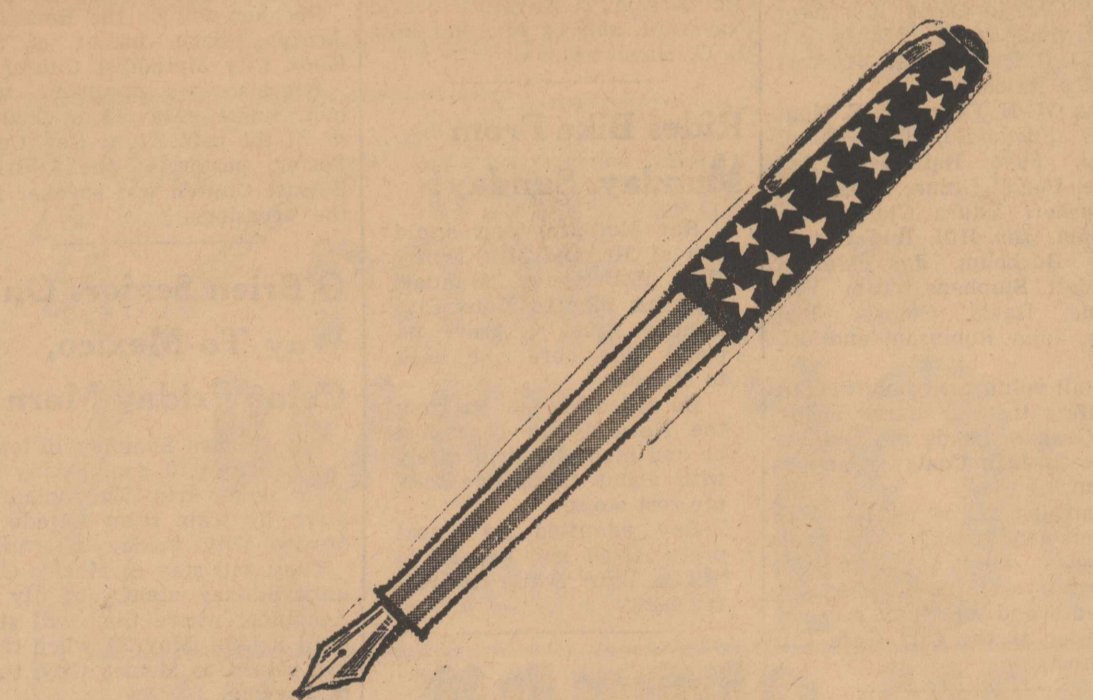

Texas motorists virtually will have unlimited choice of letter and number combinations for their personal, prestige plates. However, the personalized plates must not conflict with the regular license numbering system.

Star-spangled money saver

Used properly, this red, white and blue writing “tool” can take care of your money-saving problems in a single stroke.

You just grasp it firmly and put your John Hancock on an application for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. (Note small picture.)

This authorizes your employer to make your savings automatic. He sets aside a small amount from your check each payday toward the purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds.

The amount can be whatever you decide. The important thing is it's saved regularly.

Don't worry if you have to use an ordinary pen instead of a star-spangled one. You'll get a nice star-spangled feeling to make up for it.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds

- ✓ You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity
- ✓ You can get your money when you need it
- ✓ You pay no state or local income tax on the interest and can defer federal income tax until you cash the Bond
- ✓ Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen

STAR-SPANGLED SAVINGS PLAN FOR ALL AMERICANS

The U.S. Government does not pay for this advertisement. It is presented as a public service in cooperation with the Treasury Department and The Advertising Council.

We have had to revise our thinking on cotton insect control to some extent. A few years back it appeared we had insecticides that would keep them under control if we kept the plants sprayed regularly. Then the insects built up resistance until it took more and more to kill them. It got to the point that the control cost more than could be realized from the crop.

We began to study the natural controls for harmful insects. If we could build up a high population of beneficial insects then it would aid greatly in the control of bollworms, especially. It would be much less expensive with more net profit. It would need to be based on the findings of certain levels of infestations of the various pests. This should lead to buildups of beneficial insects.

This then is the program we recommend. If thrips and fleahoppers are damaging, then they should be controlled. Thrips do not always do a great deal of damage in Knox County. When cotton begins to square, it should be watched closely for fleahoppers who do plenty of damage by piercing the young squares causing them to drop off.

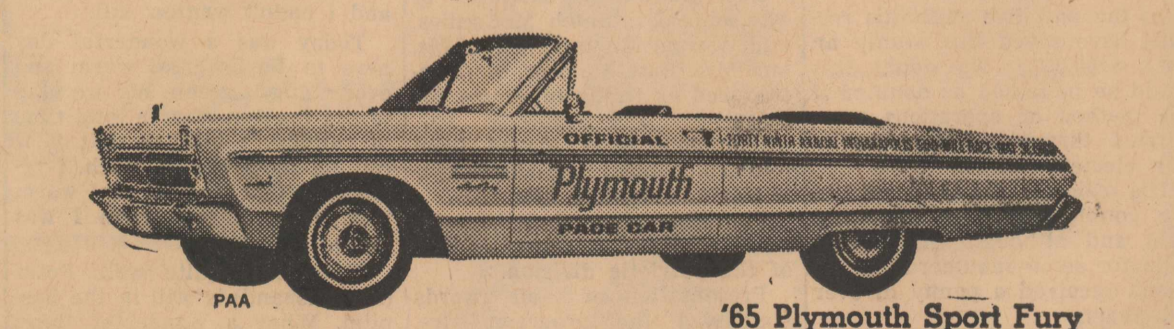

Overwintered boll weevils can be controlled in many fields by an application across part of the field nearest a creek, windbreaks or either hibernation areas. They enter a field and start feeding on the first plants they reach. This application can sometimes mean several weeks before the entire field requires spraying.

Any delay in spraying can mean the buildup of beneficials that will aid in the control of bollworms. This program means each producer must spend time out in the field checking for insects and knowing what is going on. It can't be done through the windshield of a pickup, however.

Insecticides and rates of application can be found in the “Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Cotton,” L-218.

TEXANS PICK PLYMOUTH PACE SETTER

When Plymouth was picked as the official pace car for the Indianapolis 500, it didn't surprise many Texans. They picked Plymouth as a style and performance pace setter long ago. And now that the same Sport Fury model is available in showrooms, they're buying them. They like the 5-year/50,000-mile warranty* on the parts that keep you going, too!

*Here's how Plymouth's 5-year/50,000-mile engine and drive train warranty protects you: Chrysler Corporation confidently warrants all of the following vital parts of its 1965 cars for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, during which time any such parts that prove defective in material and workmanship will be replaced or repaired at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business without charge for such parts or labor: engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts (excepting manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and differential and rear wheel bearings. Required maintenance: The following maintenance services are required under the warranty—change engine oil every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first; replace oil filter every second oil change; clean carburetor air filter every 6 months and replace it every 2 years; and every 6 months furnish evidence of this required service to a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer and request him to certify receipt of such evidence and your car's mileage. Simple enough for such important protection.

Texas forests provide Texans with many products for everyday living such as lumber, paper, chemicals, and plastics. They also provide many opportunities for recreation; as a place to hunt, fish, bird watch, or just enjoy the out-of-doors at a picnic.

More than 41,000 Texans work in Texas' forests and mills to produce an annual payroll of $138 million and products worth $500 million per year.

The Texas Forest Service, now celebrating its Golden Anniversary, is dedicated to the perpetuation, protection and utilization of this natural resource.

Some Plants Are Potential Killers

There are no plants, shrubs or trees on the moon, as far as we know today.

On planet earth, however, vegetation helps sustain life. But some plants, trees or shrubs are potential killers of man.

Some part of the ornamental plants or flowers in your yard may contain deadly poison.

Many poisonous plants are so common and seemingly innocuous you don't suspect their toxic qualities.

Who would suspect that the beautiful oleander bush, grown indoors and outdoors all over the country, contains a deadly heart stimulant similar to the drug digitalis? So powerful is this poison that a single leaf of an oleander can kill a child. Many people have died merely from eating steaks speared on oleander twigs and roasted over a fire.

The pretty mountain laurel plant was used by the Delaware Indians to make a suicide poison. The popular Christmas flower — the possettia — is full of an acrid, burning juice, so lethal that a child who consumes one leaf of the plant might die. The berries of mistletoe proved deadly to adults who brewed what they thought was a "medicinal tea."

It's easy to be deceived by plants. One part may be edible while another is poisonous. For example, twigs of cherry trees release cyanide when eaten.

Peach tree leaves contain hydrocyanic acid, one of the most dangerous poisons known.

Even two of our most popular vegetables, the potato and tomato, come from plants related to the deadly nightshade. Although fresh tomato fruits and potato tubers are harmless, the foliage and vines of both plants contain alkaloid poisons capable of causing digestive upset and nervous disorder.

Most dangerous in your vegetable garden is rhubarb. Its stalk, commonly used in baking and cooking, is not toxic. The leaf blade, however, contains oxalic acid which crystallizes in the kidneys, causing severe damage.

Also beware of laurels, azaleas, water hemlocks and buttercups because of their poison content. Both foliage and acorns from oak trees can be deadly, as are twigs and foliage from wild cultivated cherries.

Remember . . . just because it is a plant doesn't mean that it is safe. Treat unknown plants with respect and teach your children to do the same.

Del Mar College Rates At Top

One of the nation's top junior colleges is located in Corpus Christi.

It is Del Mar College, a two-year school that is the prototype of what a junior college should do to meet the demands and needs of a community.

Actually the college is divided into two schools offering five separate areas of instruction.

The main college is located not far from the city's 15-acre, palm tree-studded campus houses orderly, modern, functional buildings.

This section of the college offers three phases of the school's program.

One is the regular two-year study program leading to a bachelor's degree at a four-year college. Courses are offered in the humanities, science, pre-engineering, business and economics and fine arts.

Another program offered at the main college campus is a liberal arts course for the student interested only in two years of college work.

The terminal program, one of the basic purposes of a junior college, turns out students capable of holding down jobs in various industries and businesses which require an education above that offered at the high school level.

A third phase of education at the main campus is one that features short-term courses in various fields serving the community directly.

This program, known as the community service field, does not offer college credits leading to a degree. However, the program of instruction is essential to the community's business and economic life.

Some of the programs featured in this phase of instruction include short term courses in accounting, life insurance.

Del Mar College's second phase school — and one helping to boost the institution's national rating to the top — is the technical institute.

This program, now separate from the main college, is devoted to turning out students to meet the ever-growing demand for technicians and other workers in this 20-year-old division in industrial engineering's allied specialties.

The institute features a vocational school designed to train men in such skilled crafts as auto mechanics, welding, radio, and television, electrical work, machine operations and many others.

Another sideline of the institute is the short-term course in many other fields such as refresher course for cafe waitresses.

In fact, says Everett Williams, dean of the institute, "if as many as 10 people want a particular course and sign up for it, we'll have it."

And that is the philosophy of the school, one that has made it successful and the envy of many junior colleges throughout the nation.

The technical institute is the newest section of the school which had its beginning as a part of the city's school system in 1935.

While much of the emphasis is on the institute, it does not overshadow the college's overall program and its desire to fit the needs of the community which founded the school.

Organized in 1935, the school, identified then as Corpus Christi Junior College, had an austere beginning. Earlyday classes were conducted in the city's senior high school. The hours were from 4 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Two years later, it moved to the basement of a church. From there it went to a small annex building on a junior high school campus. In 1942, the college moved to its present location. An administration building housed the college's classrooms.

The student body totaled 154 during the first year the college was in operation. The total enrollment for the school term ended last month was 7,893.

The main college now has a administration building, an auditorium, a gymnasium, library, business administration building, fine arts center, a student center, two dormitories, an art department building, a chemistry building and a science building.

Soon after the college was moved to its present site, students voted to change the name to Del Mar College, using Spanish to describe the school as the college by the sea.

In 1957, voters of the college district, now divorced from the public school system, approved a bond issue to open the technical institute away from the main campus. The institute is made up of a two-story, air-conditioned administration rooms, library and numerous laboratories and five buildings housing the various laboratories and work shops.

Construction will begin soon on a new building to house the institute's latest venture, a two-year accredited course in restaurant management. This phase of instruction, planned and developed by the Texas Restaurant Association, is the first of its kind in the state and one of the few in the nation.

The institute's technological training courses are separate from the college's program in pre-engineering which offers credits toward full degrees at a four-year school.

"We think the schools should be separate," says Williams, a veteran of 18 years with the technical institute. "Some schools try to operate the technical courses in conjunction with their regular engineering program."

"We have found that such a program dilutes each phase of instruction. Those students interested in engineering should devote their time to this program. The technician should remain in his field."

"More and more educators are coming over to our way of thinking," said Williams. "These people are learning that everybody can't be an engineer."

The Institute's curriculum is designed to turn out technicians in the fields of engineering, air conditioning, drafting, chemistry, electronics, electrical two years of intensive study are required for a degree in technology in all the fields except industrial electronics. This requires two and one-half years.

Williams, who helped organize the institute, says its acceptance in the community, the coastal region and the state as a whole has been phenomenal.

"We have a waiting list for just about every phase of instruction we offer," said Williams.

The institute has drawn students from all sections of Texas, many other states and foreign countries.

"We try to give the students the instructions they want and need," explained Williams.

"Our one purpose is to keep pace with the needs of students and to equip them with the tools for success."

Educators report that Del Mar Community College is meeting its challenge.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Uppermost question in the minds of taxpayers and legislators is will there be a new tax bill?

Answer rests with the lawmakers. And their decision depends on whether or not a teacher pay raise bill is passed.

About $73,500,000 in new state revenue would be needed to cover the cost of Texas State Teachers Association's $45-in-'65 program.

Alternate proposal offered by Gov. John Connally to reward experienced teachers at an accelerated rate would cost the state an estimated $64,700,000.

Both plans are based on cost estimates for the next two years and would, of course, call for additional local money.

Hundreds of teachers jammed the legislative chambers for hearings on the teacher-pay raise bills, putting all the pressure possible on the legislators.

TSTA stresses that many local districts cannot afford to pay a higher share of the salaries called for in the governor's plan and that this is a state responsibility anyway.

Governor Connally says "Texas will continue to lag far behind the national average in school teacher salaries until local support shows the same increase expected of the state government."

He contends TSTA is not telling the whole story. "They never admit that state support of our public schools is $56 a pupil above the national average, while local support is $93 below the national average."

While compromise efforts floundered, a sub-committee of the House Revenue & Taxation Committee methodically and quietly reviewed some ideas for producing more income.

Considered was an additional tax of three cents a pack on cigarettes. This would raise about $69,600,000.

Other suggestions reviewed by the five-member group include:

- A two per cent sales tax on beer and liquor, $22,000,000;
- Restoral of the 50 cents per $1,000 corporation franchise surtax, $24 million;
- A one-shot inheritance tax payment date adjustment, $6,000,000.

Sentaors want the House to pass a tax bill before any agreement is reached on a teacher pay raise.

A House tax committee, active in the sub-panel deliberations, says pay raises should be determined before tax drafters decide how big a bill to write.

With the legislative session rapidly drawing to a close and many differences still unresolved, a teacher pay raise is by no means a certainty. A breakdown in negotiations could mean no tax bill at all during the regular session.

RECORD BUDGET — Both houses passed the $3,700,000,000 conference committee appropriations bill, which calls for expenditures of $154,000,000 over the current level.

Education got the biggest share of increases in the biennial budget. These increases included $80,500,000 for the 22 state colleges and universities; $10,400,000 for public junior colleges; $89,700,000 for public schools; and $11,600,000 for vocational and technical education.

Salaries of state employees, in the classified service, will be increased 3.4 per cent each year and welfare spending will go up $16 million. Judges from the district court to the Supreme Court levels will get substantial raises in their annual salaries.

Soil Conservation Board was given an $89,155 increase for its operations, including $28,000 more for watershed planning.

An additional $3,800,000 was set aside for the Water Development Board which is being reorganized. Department of Agriculture will get a $1,400,000 increase. Animal Health Commission gets $1,800,000 less than the current spending level since the federal government is taking over responsibility for screw-worm control.

COUNTY STUDY PROPOSED — Rep. Alonzo Jamison of Denton has introduced legislation which would authorize an ermnent, with a special eye to thorough study of county government, with a special eye to may have outlived their usefulness.

Jamison told the House State Affairs Committee, which took his bill under study, that he thinks offices such as county treasurer, justice of the peace and constable should be studied as to their necessity and effectiveness. Study also would seek ways of freeing county officials from what Jamison believes are overly restrictive statutes.

NO MORE ROAD GANGS — Rep. Vernon Beckham of Denison got easy approval in the House of a bill to repeal a series of 1876 laws, including one which still requires all men 21 to 45 to spend five days a year on a road gang.

Laws are not enforced, but still are on the books, and Beckham thought it a good idea to eliminate them.

REDISTRICTING WOES — As if legislators did not have enough problems with teacher pay raises, the even thornier problem of redistricting is upon them.

Senate is in-fighting over proposed plans for Senate redistricting, which necessarily will remove some of the present members.

On the other hand, the Senators are not likely to agree with the House version of congressional redistricting. Governor Connally, meanwhile hinted he may not call a special session if there is no agreement on redistricting, leaving the matter up to the federal courts.

AG OPINIONS — Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr holds that:

● A county depository-bank cannot be selected which has among its directors or stockholders the county judge, county attorney, county clerk or county treasurer;

● Law officers may use force in handling mentally ill persons to protect themselves, the persons and public;

● Ttoyac Bayou Watershed Authority has legal authority to develop a multipurpose reservoir, including recreational use, and may use tax funds to finance and maintain it;

● Highway Commission can sell surplus land and improvements directly to the City of Lamesa for established value without advertising and taking sealed bids;

● U-Haul trailers are taxable in individual counties which are their business sites;

● Hillsboro Junior College District can levy 30 cents tax for maintenance and 50 cents tax for servicing bonds.

SINGLE HOUSE PROPOSED — House Constitutional Amendments Committee approved for floor debate a proposed amendment to create a 100-member unicameral (one house) legislature for Texas.

Proponents said measure strikes at inherent evils of the conference committee where so much major legislation is written behind closed doors and hastily voted on in closing hours of a session.

AMENDMENTS PROPOSED — A house-passed resolution to repeal the poll tax, as a requirement for voting, received approval of the Senate Constitutional Amendments Committee. An election is proposed in November of 1966.

Another amendment resolution cleared for Senate debate is HJR 38 to remove from constitution restrictions on soldier voting in state.

DESALINIZATION PROPOSED — The U. S. Corps of Engineers recommends that government spend $100 million to eliminate natural salt pollution on the Wichita River. Uncle Sam would pay the full cost and the $216,300 a year needed to operate and maintain it.

Proposed are three low-flow dams, one on each fork of the Wichita, to capture water with high concentration of chloride. Water would be pumped to brine reservoirs for evaporation. Project would reduce chloride concentration in Lake Kemp near Wichita Falls to a safe level and would help alleviate salt pollution at Lake Texoma on the Red River.

COLLEGE BOARD BILL VETOED — Gov. Connally vetoed a bill that would transfer East Texas State University and West Texas State University from the Board of Regents for Texas State Teachers Colleges to a separate board of regents for each.

Governor noted that he repeatedly had emphasized his opposition to creating more boards of regents. He also said language of the bill might "inadvertently exempt" the two institutions from coordination by the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System.

SHORT SNORTS — Senate passed a bill exempting many from laws prohibiting carrying of firearms. . . Senate approved a bill by Sen. Tom Creighton putting independent crude oil gathering systems under the common purchaser law and regulation by the Texas Railroad Commission. . . House tentatively approved "freedom of information" bill to require governmental agencies (with several exceptions) to conduct their business in open meetings. . .

House passed a bill to abolish common law marriages. . . Parks and Wildlife Commission will hold statutory quarterly meetings here May 31. . . Fifty-third District Judge Herman Jones entered judgements of $395,519 against 11 defendants for alleged slant wells activities, in East Texas, involving five lawsuits and 34 wells in Gregg, Rusk and Upshur counties.

PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS IN COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT
shining example of community development
One of the most important factors in community development comes when private businesses engage in building improvement and modernization. The new look of Ballinger is a shining example. Recently, a total of 20 stores, offices, plants and other firms have modernized with new fronts, new interiors, new lighting, and in some cases, complete new buildings. It gives Ballinger, literally, a new look... pleasant and inviting... a true PATTERN FOR PROGRESS in community development. Pictured at the left is the recently remodeled interior of The Ledger, Ballinger's thriving newspaper. Such development improves chances for continued economic growth and attraction of new industry, plus making it a better place to live, work and play. Growth conscious towns are invited to contact their local WTU manager for assistance from our area development representatives.
