Spending Money, Your Ideas Count!
Have you ever wondered just how your tax dollars were spent? Have you ever wanted to have a say in how those same dollars were spent?

If your answer to either of these two questions is yes, then now is the time that you can take advantage of a time and place to offer suggestions as to how your money is spent. I am referring to an upcoming meeting that will take place at City Hall here in Knox City on Tuesday, April 5, at 7:00 p.m. This will be an open public meeting to receive ideas on how the city should best make use of approximately $11,694.00 that it expects to receive in Revenue Sharing Funds.

The official notice of this meeting appears as a public notice announcement in the classified section of this weeks paper.

When a city receives revenue sharing funds from the government, those funds are usually not previously earmarked for any specific purpose. Generally it is used to help in the operation of the city, or to help in accomplishing jobs or programs that are not already a part of the normal city budget.

In holding a public meeting on the Revenue Sharing Funds, the city is asking for oral or written suggestions from its citizens as to possible uses for the money. This is an excellent opportunity for individual citizens, groups or organizations to solicit financial help from their city government.

There may be readers who are already thinking of uses for these funds as they read this article, there may be others that will start thinking about different ideas and then come up with their own suggestions. There is one thought that should be kept in mind while coming up with ideas for the funds, and that is the total amount of money involved.

When you get right down to the bare facts, the sum of $11,684.00 is not a large amount. In our current times of high prices and inflation, the city government will undoubtedly be very selective on how the money is spent because it just won't go too far. I do not say that to discourage anyone with an idea, it is simply a big factor.

If you have any ideas or suggestions, plan them carefully before you attempt to present them. A proposal that is written out with all the facts immediately at hand usually carries the most weight. If a group of citizens or an organization has a proposal, let the city government know just how much support the idea has from all the people involved. The best way to accomplish that is to have as many as possible attend the meeting in a show of support.

Another idea that might help is to contact some of your city officials prior to the meeting and explain your idea or request to them. Their individual support could really help out when the final decisions are made on how to spend the funds.

I am not writing this column with any specific ideas about the funds in my mind, but I know that some of you will want to take advantage of the possible opportunity to fund a project or a group. It's just another way for citizens to take an active part in their city.

A previous Shootin' Straight column was about citizens who had the interest in actually attending council meetings, and there were

For PIK Program

A.S.C.S. Opens Bids

The Knox County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office was among many throughout the state that worked overtime Friday opening bids and compiling figures on whole-farm bids which was part of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Payment-In-Kind program.

Farmers had the option of signing up in the regular program only, choosing to set aside an additional 10 to 30% of their base in PIK or submitting a whole base bid in PIK. By submitting a whole base bid, the farmer agreed that if his bid were accepted, he would not harvest any acres of the crop for which the bid was accepted. The maximum bid that could be submitted was 95% of the yield for wheat and 80% of the yield for cotton and grain sorghum/corn.

"In Knox County, 87% of the farms are enrolled in some type of farm program, either regular and/or PIK," John Rector, Knox County ASCS executive director, said.

Rector reported that his county committee opened 173 bids Friday which had been submitted to the local office prior to the March 11 deadline.

"The wheat and grain sorghum bids were all accepted including fifty-nine bids on wheat and eight on corn and grain sorghum. Out of 106 bids on cotton, we were able to accept 80. Bids were accepted to 79.4 percent of their yield, which left approximately 1400 acres of cotton that could not be accepted," Rector explained.

He said that the maximum that could be laid out in one county was 45% of the case on individual crops of wheat, cotton, corn and grain sorghum.

"In corn and grain sorghum, 61% are signed up in some type of farm program with 15% in PIK. In the wheat program, 79% are enrolled in the regular program with approximately 38% in PIK, and in the cotton program, 89% are enrolled in the regular program with 63% of cotton farmers signed up for some type of PIK either in the 10-30 or whole base," Rector said.

First Baptist To Hold Revival Services

The First Baptist Church of Knox City will hold revival services beginning Sunday, March 27, and continuing through Friday, April 1. Services will be held daily at 12:00 noon and nightly beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Evangelist will be the Rev. Larry Heard from the First Baptist Church in Idalou with Buddie Lytle of Anson as singer.

Rev. Heard was born in Olney and graduated from Whitharral High School in 1957. He received his bachelor of science degree from Hardin-Simmons University in 1961, the master of divinity from Southwestern Baptist Seminary in 1965, and his doctor of ministry from Southwestern Baptist Seminary in 1982.

He has held pastorates in First Baptist Churches in Idalou where he has served since 1975, Bovina, Matador and Wellman and began his student pastorate at Rockdale Baptist Church in Haskell County.

Raised on a farm in Hockley County, he was saved at age 13 at a Royal Ambassador Camp at Floydada and surrendered to preach at age 17 in the Whitharral Baptist Church.

Denominational service includes a trustee at Plains Baptist Assembly, moderator at Llanos Altos Baptist Association, moderator at Lubbock Baptist Association and is on the Baptist General Convention of Texas Committee on Nominations for Institutional Board serving since 1979 and being a member of the executive board since 1981.

Among his evangelism and mission involvement, he has preached in over forty revivals in the United States and preached in Foreign Mission Board related church revivals in Mexico, Guatemala, El Salvador, Peru, Brazil, Ecuador and Colombia.

Rev. Heard and his wife, the former Ann Bozeman, are the parents of three children, Ricky, James and Amy. Song leader Lytle began his musical training early in life at the age of six and says his training and studying never stops.

In 1979, God touched Buddie's life and he made a commitment to serve Him through music. God opened the door for the opportunity to record, and he has released three albums on the Pure Love label.

Buddie is engaged in ranching and farming in Jones County and his wife, Karen, is a teacher in the Anson Public Schools. They have a small son, Larry Hill Lytle. Buddie's wife and son travel with him as often as they are able, for his music takes him all over the state as well as out of state. Along with past performances at Knox City and O'Brien churches, many area residents will remember his appearance on the last West Texas Opry here in Knox City.

Lytle's home church is First Baptist in Anson where he serves as deacon. Buddie's prayer is that he will always be sensitive to the Holy Spirit in all the music he presents.

A nursery will be provided at the evening services.

Chamber Banquet Tonight

Tonight's the night for Knox City's annual Chamber of Commerce banquet scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. in the new school cafeteria.

Banquet speaker will be Dr. John C. Stevens, chancellor of Abilene Christian University.

Officers and directors will be installed, along with the revealing of the Most Appreciated Citizen.

Their fashions are from their grandmother's, Dessie Egenbacher's, Lady Bug Shoppe.

Fashion Show To Benefit Ambulance

An Easter Spring and Summer Fashion Show has been set for Thursday, March 31, at 7:30 p.m. in Knox City.

Held as a fund raising event for the Knox City Ambulance Service, the show will take place in the church hall of the Santa Rosa Catholic Church on North Second Street.

Men, women and children from Knox City will model spring and summer wardrobes that will be furnished from area clothing merchants in Knox City, Haskell, Munday and Seymour.

Singing and instrumental music will be featured for entertainment as local and area musicians contribute their talents to this fund raising event.

A drawing will be held and tickets are available from any Knox City Ambulance Service Auxiliary member with a donation of just $1.00. All proceeds from the fashion show will aid the Ambulance Service in their drive to obtain new and badly needed equipment.

Sloan Named Head Coach For Football

Coach Tommy Sloan has assumed the position as head football coach for the Knox City-O'Brien Schools. This position was made available when Coach Jimmy Rogers chose to relinquish his football position and take on only the track responsibilities.

Another position change is the hiring of Coach C.H. Underwood as head basketball coach. Coach Ronnie Cox will remain as assistant coach.

Sloan came to Knox City as an assistant coach and then assumed head basketball coach duties succeeding Jerry Lowery.

Rogers moved to KC in 1969 and was a McMurry sporting standout in track. Under the guidance of Coach Rogers', the Greyhound football team advanced this season to the state quarterfinals, being the first 11 man team from this school to accomplish this.

Underwood has taught in the local school systems in previous years with Cox beginning coaching duties here in 1981.

Mrs. Dear Opens Shop At Mini Mall

The Knox City Mini Mall is proud to announce that Frances McGee Dear has reopened the beauty salon at the Mini Mall.

Mrs. Dear has had 27 years' experience and has owned her own shop in the Fort Worth area. She is also experienced in giving the famous "Candle" cut for long hair. For those who are not familiar with the "candle" cut, Mrs. Dear said she would be glad to explain what the cut is and the purpose for a "candle" cut. Mrs. Dear commented that the "candle" cut was used exclusively during the early Egyptian times.

Grand opening for the salon is the entire first week in April and she invites everyone to come by and get acquainted. Refreshments will be served and folks may register for a free permanent wave, hair cut, shampoo and set. Men are also welcome in the salon.

Mrs. Dear stated, "You may wear a house dress or faded blue jeans but if your hair looks good, you feel good all over!"

LOU SIKES will model pretty spring fashions from Lowrey's at the EMS fashion show.

Sign Board Now To Charge Fee

The Community Sign Board, a gift to the community from the Class of '71, has in the past been maintained by volunteers and coordinated through the Chamber of Commerce.

A new policy has gone into effect, in that a nominal charge will be made of any announcement from churches, clubs, schools and organizations. Messages will continue to be coordinated through the Chamber.

Charlie Vaden, high school junior, has accepted the responsibility of changing the messages and will be paid from the fee charged. A portion of the fee will be set aside for sign maintenance. The Chamber asks that messages be turned into the Chamber office at least three days in advance.

Two Siren Blasts Warn Of Weather

Residents are reminded that in the event of severe weather, two blasts of the siren will warn that persons should watch the clouds and take cover if necessary. The siren does not necessarily mean that a storm is approaching the town but that the probability exists. No all clear will be sounded. In case a tornado is sighted, police cars will also sound sirens.

Five blasts of the siren indicates a fire.

Former Minister To Preach At First Christian Sunday

Bedford W. Smith of Dimmitt, who served as a part-time minister of the First Christian Church here from 1932 to 1934 along with the First Christian Church in Benjamin jointly for 18 months, will preach at the First Christian Church in Knox City Sunday, March 27, at the 11:00 morning service, and his sermon subject will be "Three Big Bible Fools."

When he left the ministry here, he resumed his study in his senior year at the Bible College of Phillips University in Enid, Oklahoma.

The minister, who is married to the former Elsie Graham of Knox City, resigned his full time ministry in Sweetwater in July 1942 to enter the Chaplaincy during World War II. While he served a front line hospital in the South Pacific, his wife and their two children, Carolyn Kay and David, lived in Knox City. During his service, he was awarded five bronze stars.

The veteran minister, who is semi-retired, organized the First Christian Church of Dimmitt in February 1960. His wife taught in the Dimmitt Schools for many years until she retired in May 1977.

several who took the time and the opportunity to become a spectator and observe the proceedings. That's something that we should all do from time to time.

There is one other thing that I would like to mention briefly before closing this week. There seems to be a rumor circulating around town that I have some interest in returning to full time law enforcement here in Knox City. All that needs to be said is that someone must be dreaming, I happen to be very happy doing exactly what I'm doing!!

CAR CARE CORNER

Tips For More Safety, Economy, Convenience

The Muffler Count-Down

"Ma... how much longer till we get there?" "Gosh, Dad... I'm hungry again." You've probably heard these and other comments from your children on a trip.

The trick: keep the kids busy and their minds off the tedium of the trip. Get them interested in the old count-down game.

In some areas they might count cows, for example. But people are traveling country roads less often these days, and the sight of animals on the sides of super-highways is a rarity.

There's a new game, though, that can keep youngsters occupied: it's called Muffler Watch.

Mufflers fall off cars and litter the road. For example, the Car Care Council observed up to 19 mufflers on one 20-mile stretch of Interstate 94 in the Detroit area.

While counting mufflers can be fun for kids of any age, it can be costly for car owners. Often, perfectly good exhaust parts fall by the wayside because brackets and clamps become loose.

Fallen mufflers pose traffic hazards, of course. They also create exhaust problems. Carbon monoxide fumes can leak into your car if your exhaust system is in poor condition. Such fumes are odorless, colorless—and they can be lethal.

The Council suggests: before you take a trip, check those brackets and clamps. The loss of a perfectly good muffler is like money thrown away.

METRIC MEASURES
Helpful Information From The U.S. Metric Board

Q. Will conversion to the metric system benefit the consumer?

A. Adoption of the metric system by industry is expected to reduce the number of package sizes. This would make price comparisons easier and save on packaging and shipping costs. These savings can be passed on to the consumer. Of course, deceptive marketing practices connected with the introduction of metric products can hurt consumers. So, there is a need to teach the public the meaning and use of metric terms.

The U.S. Metric Board is a government agency which does planning, research and coordination in connection with voluntary usage of the metric system.

TIPS & TECHNIQUES
There is a secret to success in making a tender, juicy meat loaf. First, mix the egg, liquid, crumbs, and seasoning ingredients together in a bowl. Then crumble in the meat and mix lightly till it is well combined. Overmixing will result in a compact loaf. When shaping the loaf, handle the meat mixture only as much as necessary.

COOKING CORNER

This version of Pineapple Upside Down Cake from Dole is baked in a small skillet, the good old-fashioned way.

- PINEAPPLE UPSIDE DOWN CAKE

 - 1/4 teaspoon salt
 - 1/8 teaspoon ground allspice
 - 1/4 teaspoon grated orange peel

 - 1 tablespoon butter, room temperature
 - 1 egg

Drain pineapple reserving 1 tablespoon syrup. Melt butter in 6-inch ovenproof skillet. Add brown sugar and stir until dissolved. Remove from heat. Place pineapple slices on top of sugar mixture. Fill center of each pineapple with a cherry. Combine flour, sugar, baking powder, salt and allspice in a bowl. Blend orange peel into milk. became the latest additions to the Knox City Jaycees. A drive for new members was discussed and any qualified person interested in becoming a Jaycee should contact a chapter member for further information.

The April project for construction of a wheelchair ramp on each end of the west side sidewalks in the downtown area was discussed. Since the area involved is a part of the right of way of a state highway, more information will be obtained from the state before any date is set for the project.

Two other projects to help persons in need were discussed and each member present was asked by newly elected President Mike Newton what they felt the goals of the chapter should be. All stated that service to the needy and service to the community should continue to be the Jaycee priorities during 1983.

A motion was made and passed to donate the sum of $300.00 to aid in the construction of the new Softball Association field. Information from the Abilene Jaycees indicated that they are willing to send members to help with the softball field construction. A suggestion was then presented to have both chapters participate together and have a joint work day project as a service to the Softball Association and the community. More details are to be provided at the April meeting.

Another motion was approved to donate funds, and $200.00 will go to the Little League management to aid their program. A similar donation was made last year.

Ideas for fund raising projects were requested from the members. The reason for such events is to provide the funds that enable the Jaycees to serve the community. The idea of having another West Texas Opry here in Knox City as a fund raiser was brought up. The month of August is the target date, and details will be presented for discussion at next month's meeting.

The meeting was adjourned after setting Wednesday, April 6, as the next meeting date at the Knox City Community Center.

BUCKLEY VISITORS

Absentee Voting Ends Tuesday, March 29

Q. Two years ago, I was severely injured in an auto accident and haven't worked since. Even though my condition hasn't improved, I've been thinking of trying to get some kind of job because I need the money. If I do go to work, will my disability benefits stop right away?

A. No. But if you take a job, you should notify Social Security immediately. People who return to work before their medical condition has improved may be eligible for a 9-month trial work period. During this period, they may work and still get disability checks. Even if you are not eligible for a trial work period, you will be paid benefits for an adjustment period of 3 months should you recover or return to substantial gainful work. Also, you may be eligible for an extended period of eligibility of 15 months during which you can get benefits again after they have been stopped if you cannot continue working. If you do start working, be sure to notify Social Security.

Q. I recently received treatment for an injury. My doctor sent in the claim for the Medicare medical insurance payment. Will I get any kind of notice telling me what Medicare paid?

A. Whenever you or a doctor or supplier sends in a medical insurance claim, Medicare will send you an Explanation of Medicare Benefits. This notice shows what services were covered, what charges were approved, how much was credited toward your $75 deductible, and the amount Medicare paid. If you have any questions about the notice, contact the carrier that sent you the notice or a Social Security office.

Q. I'll be using my Medicare coverage for the first time when I go into the hospital next month. I know that a benefit period starts when I enter the hospital. When does it end; when I'm discharged?

A. A benefit period ends when you have been out of a hospital (or other facility primarily providing skilled nursing or rehabilitation services) for 60 days in a row, including the day of discharge.

Q. When I retired last year, I arranged to have my Social Security checks deposited directly into my bank account. I'm going to move in a couple of months. I've already notified the bank. Should I notify Social Security, too?

A. Yes, you should, so that you will get any correspondence Social Security sends you. It's also a good idea to notify the post office and ask them to forward your mail.

Bike-A-Thon Slated Here For April 30

The Southwest Regional office of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital has announced that the Rev. David Stone has agreed to be the chairmanship of the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Bike-A-Thon in Knox City.

SJCRH, founded by entertainer Danny Thomas, is the world's leading institute for the study of childhood cancer and severe maladies striking the young. It is the first research center dedicated exclusively to the conquest of catastrophic diseases of children, such as cancer and other life-destroying diseases.

When SJCRH accepted its first patient in 1962, the survival rate of children with acute Lymphocytic Leukemia and Hodgkins disease was less than five percent. Today the disease free survival figure for these diseases are now fifty percent and eighty percent respectively. Treatment procedures developed at SJCRH have been adopted worldwide, giving hope to suffering children and worried families everywhere.

Thanks to research at SJCRH, children now have a much better chance to be cured and live a normal life. Thomas clearly stated the purpose of SJCRH: To wipe catastrophic diseases of children from the face of the earth.

The Bike-A-Thon in Knox City is scheduled for April 30, with a rain date of May 7.

Details of the Bike-A-Thon will be announced later by Rev. Stone.

POISON PREVENTION WEEK

MARCH 20-26 IS POISON PREVENTION WEEK. All the health professions are uniting to explain to people why this is a dangerous age for those who are careless with medicines and household products.

STOP GAMBLING WITH CHILDREN'S LIVES. It is time we gave them a "break" by not leaving dangerous products easily available. Any drug which has medical value is also potentially harmful. The most used drug in the world, Aspirin, is a killer for children who accidentally take too much.

CLEAN OUT YOUR MEDICINE CHEST NOW. Get rid of all leftover medicines and throw out anything which has deteriorated. Keep all medicines in a place impossible for the younger children to reach. Never take any medicine in the dark and without carefully reading the label to make certain you have the right one. Pharmacists check every label at least twice before dispensing the ingredients.

WATCH OUT FOR HOUSEHOLD PRODUCTS. Bleaches are one of the greatest causes of accidental poisoning. All cleaners are dangerous for children. You must keep them out of their reach.

WE HAVE ACCURATE DRUG RECORDS. If any member of your family is unfortunate enough to take an overdose of any medicine we have dispensed, after calling your physician, phone us. We can almost immediately tell you what is in any prescription and what to do till the physician arrives.

STREAMS IN DESERT PLACES

By OZELLE STEPHENS

"And hope maketh not ashamed; because the Love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost is given unto us." (Romans 5-5).

This Love of God is so great, immense, large, big, generous; taking up all space. It is in every place man can go; around the world, in space and within the earth. It walks on the earth, upon the clouds and many waters, through mountains, hills, valleys, through closed doors and through cement walls. This great Love of God is streaming around every person in the world; it is available to every person who wants its comforting powers in their heart and life. It is shed abroad in every heart by the Holy Ghost: all you have to do is take it by faith. Desire it with all your heart, ask for it, for it is reaching out to you, it is working for you every moment. It is operating on a big scale. It is free and not confined; it cannot be held back from anyone who asks for it. It is prepared with all wisdom and knowledge to enter any heart, whosever will come to Christ and ask for this greatest of all treasures of this world and the world to come. It never changes, it is pure, clean, great, powerful, it is working to make any heart rejoice and be full of happiness. News Notes from the Brazos Valley Care Home

By Rena

Proposed legislation for 1983 includes a number of issues that will affect the lives of the residents who are living in nursing homes. More important it will affect the future residents lives, because history tells us once we have a law or a resolution passed-good or bad-it's hard to get it removed or amended. Some of the legislation are mental health programs, medication administration, comprehensive utilization of long term care beds, nursing home residents day, financing of long term care facilities and the all important appropriation.

As you are aware, the Texas legislature is in session now through May. They are and will be making daily decisions that affect us through new or amended legislation and the amount of money they appropriate to fund programs.

Texas is short of money, some programs will be cut. So it is important we watch the legislature this session.

Q. My husband and I are going to a Social Security office next week to apply for SSI payments for our disabled son. What information or records should we take?

A. First, since SSI payments cannot be paid for any time before application, you should apply as soon as possible. You should take a record of the child's Social Security number, if available; a birth certificate or oldest available proof of age; names and addresses of doctors, hospitals, or other institutions that treated the child; other medical records or other information about the child's disability or blindness; information about the child's income and assets and the income and assets of you and your husband; and information about the child's living arrangements. But don't delay applying if you don't have all this information. The people at the Social Security office can help you obtain whatever is needed.

Terracing Good For Controlling Erosion

Terracing is one of the best methods of controlling soil erosion on steep farmland. Many advances have been made in terrace design and layout since terraces began being installed on a large scale in the 1930s.

Using pipe outlets is a new method which is gaining in popularity. This involves removing the water from the terraces using a pipeline with risers for each individual terrace to let the water in. This method was first introduced in Iowa about 15 years ago and the first system was installed in Wilbarger County, Texas, in 1980.

One of the main advantages of using pipe outlets is to help terrace land that previously was almost impossible to terrace. Terraces need to have non-erosive outlets to drain the water off.

If readers are interested in finding out more about pipe outlets, they should call or go by the Soil Conservation Service Office in Knox City.

Area Oil News

KNOX COUNTY

Sherley Oil Co. of Wichita Falls staked well No. 1 on 150 acres of Birkenfield Lease 1,475 feet from south line and 1,150 feet from east line of Sec. 5, Blk. 20, D.G. Burnett A-8, to go to 2,000 feet 4 miles east of Rhineland.

Sun Expl. & Prod Co. of Abilene staked well No. 2 on 320 acres of Louise McFarland Survey, "8A" Lease, 467 feet from southeast line and 467 feet from northeast line of Blk. 8, C.T. Daugherty Survey, A-1366, to go to 6,300 feet 6 miles northwest of Benjamin.

HASKELL

J. Kelly McCollm, Fort Worth, will re-enter to 4,924 feet, the old total depth, at an abandoned Haskell County wildcat.

The test is No. 1 J.T. May. Location is on a 150-acre lease three miles northwest of Haskell. It spots 617 feet from the south and 330 feet from the east lines of Indianola (F. Girard) Survey 72.

The project was plugged in 1959 at 4,924 feet by Fletcher Oil & Gas Corp.

KING

Staked as a King County wildcat was Clear Fork Inc., Abilene, No. 1-91 Niblo, slated for 5,800 feet.

Location is 17 miles southeast of Guthrie, spotting 660 feet from the north and 1,980 feet from the west lines of Section 91, Block F, H&TC Survey.

gradually feed oil into the grout joints, and leave them seasoned against spotting. Glazed tile needs no wax or sealer. Primitive Encore tile from American Olean, which was used here, has a subtle matte glaze which always glows. The wheat color is shaded subtly along the edges with a darker tan for shade variety.

Cabinet Fix-Up

The homeowners took a long look at the metal cabinets. At first they planned to replace them, but after pricing new wooden ones, they looked again. The lines were clean. No dents or rust, just ugly worn pink paint and stainless steel pulls on cabinets and drawers.

Paints were carefully researched until a strong, durable, oil-base, car body paint was located. This semi-gloss paint is scrubable and will not chip or dent. Cabinets were removed from the kitchen, taken to the basement and sprayed inside and out.

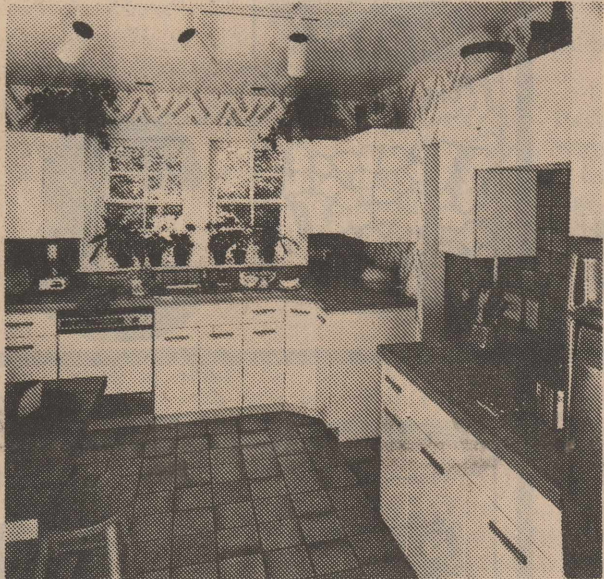

changes in color scheme, and this shade does not show tracking or crumbs. Tile is practical for a house full of children, since it will resist scratches and stains. Color coordinated dark beaver brown grout was chosen to contrast with the wheat. Dark grout shows stains less than lighter colors. Grout may be rubbed with lemon oil periodically to prevent staining by oily foods.

Around the stove top, tile is great. Hot pans may be rested directly on the counter, right from the burner with no fear of scorching. Ceramic tile will not burn. Cooking grease and steam wipe off tile easily should it accumulate on back wall.

Glazed Tile is a Good Choice for Kitchens

Tile floors are practical and take only minimum maintenance. Broom sweeping or vacuuming for crumbs and debris is all that's required. If mopping is preferred, use a mild detergent solution in water (follow directions carefully—too much detergent can take a residue). Detergents with an oil base will

A 50's Classic Pink & Grey Kitchen Updated In Ceramic Tile for 80's

Ceramic tile by American Olean makes this kitchen contemporary. Tile has lasting quality and long term value homeowners seek. Counters, backsplashes and floors are tiled in Primitive Encore Wheat, a practical glazed tile for kitchens. Most of the remodel was done by homeowner, for details, see story.

Powder pink metal cabinets and charcoal grey marbled plastic wall tile coordinated to confetti linoleum floors and laminated counter tops with stainless steel edging were the ultimate in good design in 1950 when the kitchen of this 1932 home was first remodeled.

Neutral Colors Selected

First thought was toward color scheme and basic materials—ceramic tile was their choice for counter tops, backsplash, and floors. A neutral wheat shade was selected to blend with natural oak as counter trim and cabinet accent. To brighten the room, they decided on white wallpaper with contemporary brush stroke pattern, and gloss white ceilings. The basic floor plan was good, so structural changes were not needed.

For a lasting value and excellent resale improvement to their home and because they love the look, ceramic tile was selected for counter tops, backsplash, back of the stove, and floors. The neutral wheat color will blend with future

Mrs. Nunley Is Buried In Benjamin

Funeral services for Benjamin resident Mrs. Thelma Nunley were held Sunday afternoon, March 20, at three o'clock in the First Baptist Church in Benjamin. The Rev. K.E. How to tell if you need a new roof.

If it's leaking, you obviously need a new roof. But most roofs, designed to last 15 or 20 years, show warning signs long before outright failure. Look for bare spots with no granules; they can make the shingle brittle and prone to wind damage.

Decor Tip. Experts advise not using more than three colors — including the roof color — on the exterior of your home. When choosing a roof, consider how it'll match, accent or coordinate with other exterior colors.

Billing Plan Outlined By Lone Star Gas Co.

Dallas, Texas - Lone Star Gas Company today announced an average billing plan for its more than one million residential customers in Texas.

According to senior vice president Harry Merritt, "Those who enroll will be billed an average of the most recent 12 months, based on their consumption record." Though the billed amount would fluctuate slightly each month, the effect of average billing is to reduce variations experienced by most consumers from spring through winter. "Those who participate," said Merritt, "would be moderately overpaying during low consumption months and underpaying during periods of greater usage, such as the winter season when bills are typically high. We believe average billing will materially assist family budgeting for it greatly reduces the considerable variations between low and high bills."

The program has been available in Dallas since 1977, on a test basis. About 900 customers are currently enrolled.

A case history from Dallas billing records for one customer shows a comparison for the November to January period. Under the plan the household paid $47.48 in November, $49.61 in December and $55.09 in January, 1983. Had this household not enrolled, billing for gas used would have been $59.46, $107.43 and $78.48 respectively. This household reduced its heating bill for the November-January period $93.19 or 38 percent.

Lone Star will mail details of the plan to all customers.

Time to Apply For Number

Young people in the local area who are planning to apply soon for their first summer job and who do not have a Social Security number should remember to apply for a number at least 2 weeks before they will need it, a Social Security spokesperson said recently.

Most employers will not accept applications from people who do not have a Social Security number, so it is a good idea to get a number before looking for a job, the representative said.

To get a Social Security number, a person must provide proof of date of birth, identity, and U.S. citizenship or immigrant status. People 18 or over must apply in person.

The best proof of date of birth and citizenship is a public or hospital birth record recorded before age 5 or a religious record of birth or baptism recorded before age 5. Foreign born applicants should provide their immigration or naturalization documents as well.

Identity can be established by such records as driver's license, state identity card, voter's registration, school record, school ID, report card, marriage record, work badge or building pass, labor or fraternal organization record, draft card or military ID, U.S. passport, newspaper birth announcement, adoption record, court order for change of name, church membership or confirmation record, welfare case record, medical or hospital record, vaccination certificate, insurance policy, day care or nursery school record, Boy or Girl Scout membership, or any other document showing identifying data such as physical description, photograph, or signature.

Applications for a Social Security number can be obtained at any Social Security office. The people there will be glad to answer any questions about Social Security. The address and telephone number of the nearest Social Security office can be found in the telephone directory.

NOW'S THE TIME TO CALL YOUR AIR CONDITIONING SERVICEMAN

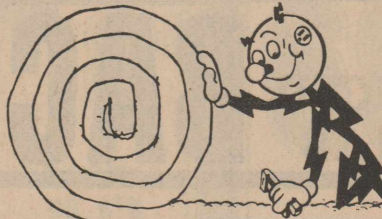

(Get a checkup before the heat's on.)

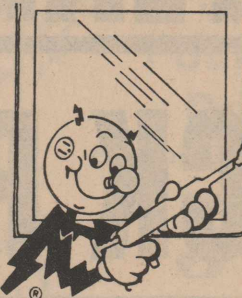

Right now your air conditioning serviceman can easily work your call into his schedule and get your unit ready to deliver dependable cooling through the summer ahead. We know that many people wait until the heat's on to install electric air conditioning or have their units serviced. Later on, your dealer or serviceman may have a waiting list.

PROPER INSULATION... Keeps in the Cool Air You've Paid For Insulation comes in rolls, loose-fill or batts. Insulation is labeled with a R value showing its ability to resist heat. The better its insulating value, the higher the number. R values up to R 30 in the ceiling and R 18 in the walls are recommended for this area.

Check Caulking and Weatherstripping!

Check all windows and doors, install weatherstripping and caulking where needed. It will save on both heating and cooling costs. An almost invisible 1/4" gap at the base of a standard 36" outside door is equal to a nine-square-inch hole in the side of your house. There are a number of easy-to-install felt and foam rubber products on the market to draft-proof doorways.

Energy Outlook: Good News and Bad News for Homeowners—Conservation Remains the Answer

Home heating costs will continue to rise throughout the decade, according to the U.S. Department of Energy. While oil and electricity prices will increase gradually, the cost of heating with natural gas—once considered an inexpensive fuel source—will rise sharply because of continued deregulation of that industry. As a result, American homeowners are likely to continue their efforts to conserve energy.

On the energy front, there's good news and bad news for homeowners.

The good news is that oil prices, which have soared virtually every year since 1973, will finally level off. Plentiful supplies will prevent a price rise of any consequence, according to most energy experts.

The bad news is that the price of natural gas, long considered cheap when compared to other heating fuels, is expected to jump 20 to 30 percent, according to the Citizen/Labor Energy Coal-tion, a consumer group based in Washington, DC.

The reason for the sharp rise is the continued deregulation of the product. Congress, in 1978, authorized a gradual decontrol of gas prices, a process to be fully phased in by 1985. The purpose of the legislation was to bring the cost of gas (used by 55 percent of homes in America) in parity with oil (used by 19 percent), thus helping to spur Americans to further conserve energy resources.

Electricity: Up Too
As for those who heat their homes with electricity (18 percent of the country), the news is mixed.

Data Resources, Inc., a well known energy research firm, forecasts that the cost of electricity—a source often more expensive than both oil and gas—will be approximately 11 percent greater this winter than last. That's better than what is happening to gas prices, but it still represents a cost hike greater than the rate of inflation, which for the last 12 months has been 5.9 percent, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Solution: Conservation

With fuel prices still going up, what can homeowners do? As an increasing number are realizing, the only sure thing is conservation. In Massachusetts, for example, homeowners are expected to use approximately 40 percent less heating oil this year than five years ago, according to state energy officials.

Indeed, it has been the trend toward conservation that has lessened the demand for oil, which has helped to flatten prices.

One of the most popular methods of energy conservation is adding insulation to the home—in the attic, sidewalls, basement walls, floors over unheated spaces and other such areas. "This year we expect some 4.5 million Americans to add insulation to their homes," says Richard Trumbull, vice president of Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corporation, a leading manufacturer of home insulation. Many Reinsulate Twice

In fact, Mr. Trumbull adds, a large number of those who plan to reinsulate will be doing so for the second time. "In other words," he says, "these people may have first added insulation five years ago after the Arab oil embargos had their full impact. And now, after oil prices doubled again in the last five or six years, these same homeowners realize they better make their homes even more efficient so their monthly utility bills remain manageable."

Homeowners who are considering reinsulating should contact their local utility, building supply dealer or insulation contractor. Any one of these sources can advise what the proper level of insulation should be in any part of the house.

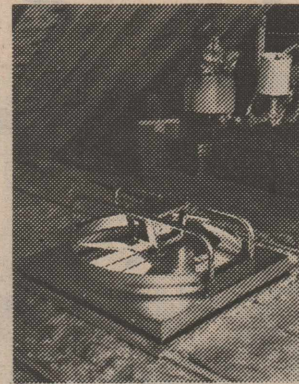

"Insulation is measured by R-values," Mr. Trumbull says. "While it is generally accepted that an R-19 (six inches of glass fiber batts) is an absolute minimum in the attic for any region of the country, some recommendations go as high as R-44 such as in Minneapolis where the local utility, Minnegasco advises such levels.

Not Only The North

Homeowners in the South should also upgrade their insulation levels. Mr. Trumbull adds, because insulation helps to keep a home cool in summer. For example, he says, the Office of Energy Resources in Georgia now prescribes R-30 insulation in the attic, up from previous years.

A final incentive for homeowners to improve the efficiency of their homes has to do with taxes. A tax credit of up to $300 is available for certain energy-saving improvements, including insulation, weatherstripping, caulking and storm windows and doors. Check with your local utility for more information, and your local IRS office to determine if you qualify for this credit, Mr. Trumbull advises.

Fans Well Suited To Today's Needs

Whole-house fans offer cooling comfort and are far more economical to operate than air-conditioners.

Whole-House Fans

Foremost among the energy-saving powered ventilators is the whole-house fan. Situated near the center of the home, the fan can be used in summer months to draw in cooler evening air through open windows, lowering the temperature inside the house. The fan also creates cooling breezes which can make the temperature seem two to eight degrees cooler than it actually is.

An effective cooling device at temperatures into the 80's, the whole-house fan uses far less energy than the air-conditioner while achieving similar results. The fans use as little as one-tenth of the energy required to operate an air-conditioner, consequently the homeowner can realize dramatic savings in energy costs by using the fan to supplement or, in some climates, even replace the air-conditioner.

Attic Fans

In both summer and winter, powered attic space ventilators can offer important advantages to the homeowner.

In the summer, excessive heat can build up in the attic. This heat can penetrate to the house below, causing discomfort as it increases the temperature. Further, the heat can cause structural damage as it deteriorates building materials in the attic and roof.

Ceiling Fans: Efficient, Economical, Attractive

Ceiling fans are enjoying a rebirth in popularity, largely because of their appeal as decorative items. But recent research has shown the fans are very effective and economical cooling devices.

Ceiling fans are capable of making room occupants feel comfortable at temperatures up to 85 degrees Fahrenheit, according to research conducted at the Institute for Environmental Research on the campus of Kansas State University (KSU).

In the ceiling fan tests participants were subjected to a range of temperatures without a ceiling fan and with a ceiling fan providing various air velocities. Test results showed that occupants felt as comfortable at 82 and 85 degrees with a ceiling fan operated at high velocity as they did at 76 degrees with no fan at all.

The ceiling fan's ability to provide cooling effects at temperatures into the mid-80's is of great significance in these energy-conscious times. Ceiling fans are very economical to operate and can result in substantial energy savings when used to supplement air-conditioning. The KSU study conservatively estimates that a homeowner can realize energy savings of at least 18 percent when the ceiling fan is operated at 85 degrees instead of the air-conditioner. An article in the July 1982 issue of "Consumer Reports", exploring the benefits of the ceiling fan, emphasized the economical operation of the devices. The article noted that, based on national averages, the cost for running a ceiling fan for eight hours would be about one-half penny.

In addition to its economical advantages during the summer months, the ceiling fan offers energy-saving potential in the winter as well. Operated at low speeds, the fans help to recirculate the air during the winter, distributing the warm air that collects near the ceiling to the room below. By circulating the warm air in this manner, the ceiling fan helps to take some of the burden off a home's heating system, again saving energy and money.

Of course, the ability of the ceiling fan to enhance virtually any decor makes the fan an even more popular item. Today's ceiling fans are available in wood, brass, cane and other finishes in wide ranges of colors. Fan accessories include a variety of lights, swag chains, pull tassels and decorative covers.

Ceiling fans are available with short-stem assembly, allowing for them to easily fit into rooms with standard eight-foot ceilings, with seven feet of clearance. The fans range in size from 36 to 52 inches. The larger fans are suited for family rooms, bedrooms, kitchens, porches, offices and other large rooms. The smaller models are designed for use in tighter quarters such as hallways, small offices, stairways, dining rooms and apartments or small houses where space is at a premium.

Optional speed controls for the ceiling fans include pull chains allowing for high and low settings and solid state controls allowing for infinite settings. A number of models allow you to change the fan's rotation, reversing the air flow.

Ceiling fans are easy to install as a do-it-yourself project. The fans come with detailed installation instructions and can be mounted quickly and easily.

The Home Ventilating Institute (HVI) cautions homeowners to be careful in selecting a ceiling fan.
