JUDGE JAMES A. JOY chats with Norlan Dudley during a visit to Hart Tuesday afternoon. A meeting was held at the Farmers State Bank in the community room.

Judge James Joy Visits Hart Tuesday

Judge James A. Joy, a candidate for Judge of the 7th Court of Civil Appeals, was a visitor in Hart Tuesday Feb. 20 at the Community Room of Farmer's State Bank at 6 p. m.

Judge Joy is the present District Judge at Plainview, having served in that capacity since 1961. Previously he had served as a county judge of Hale County.

There are 46 counties in the 7th Court of Civil Appeals District and Judge Joy says he is campaigning in all of them as time allows.

Judge Joy is married, the father of four children and is a member of the Church of Christ.

He is a native of Crowell in Foard County. He has been in the practice of law since 1952, having studied law at St. Mary's Law School in San Antonio. He also taught law at St. Mary's.

In World War Two, Judge Joy was a veteran pilot.

During his visit here, Judge Joy pointed out that there are three judges on the Seventh Court of Civil Appeals...Traditionally there has been one member on the court from Lubbock, one from Amarillo, and one from some other part of the District...Judge Joy is seeking the place being vacated by Judge Alton B. Chapman, formerly of Floydada.

Six Rural Accidents Investigated In County

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated six accidents on rural highways in Castro County during the month of January according to Sergeant W. E. Wells, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in two persons injured and an estimated property damage of $4,710.00.

April 15 is the deadline to have your motor vehicle inspected. During the past five and one-half months approximately 2,000,000 or 35% of the approximately 5,750,000 registered vehicles in Texas have been inspected. This leaves 3,750,000 vehicles to be inspected in approximately two months.

The Sergeant reminded car owners that under new provisions of the law there will be additional inspection this year including: steering, wheels and rims, and front seat belts where the anchorages are part of the manufacturer's original equipment.

Motorists who wait until the last weeks of the inspection period may find that they will need to install seat belts. With the last minute rush, there may not be enough seat belts kits to take care of the demand.

U.S. Civil Services Announces Examinations For Mail Handler

The United States Civil Service Commission announces examination for Mailhandler at the starting salary of $2.59 per hour for Substitute Employees (approximately 40 hours per week) and $2.51 per hour for Hourly Rate Regular (approximately 20 hours per week), Grade PFS-4, for positions in Amarillo Post Office or a limited number of positions in other larger Post Offices in the following Counties consisting of Zone 1 of Texas:

Armstrong, Brisco, Carson, Castro, Childress, Collingsworth, Dalam, Deaf Smith, Donley, Gray, Hall, Hansford, Hartley, Hemphill; Hutchinson, Lipscomb, Moore, Ochiltree, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Roberts, Sherman, Swisher and Wheeler.

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, religion, color, national origin, sex, political affiliations, or any other nonmerit factor.

A substitute mailhandler loads, unloads, and moves bulk mail, and performs duties incidental to the movement of mail.

To qualify, applicants must pass a written test based on their ability to follow oral directions and gross dexterity, the understanding of word meaning, and the ability to remember names and locations as needed for simple sorting. Before appointment, applicants must take a strength test which consists of shouldering and carrying sacks containing up to 80 pounds.

Full information and applications may be obtained from the Executive Secretary, Regional Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, General Post Office, 401 Franklin Avenue, Houston, Texas 77002, or local Post Offices or Interagency Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners.

MIGRANT EDUCATION BOOSTED--Migrant education will get a $6,300,000 federal boost in the next six months, if State Board of Education preliminary plans are carried out.

Board also agreed to widening federal aid application due to congressional action which increases U. S. funds available in Texas for 1967-68 from $3,900,000 to $10,300,000. While program now is limited to children whose parents were in the "migrant stream" when school started, it will in future cover those whose parents left itinerant agricultural work up to five years earlier.

VISITORS TO AUSTIN--Tourists from all over the state and from every area of the nation visit the State Capitol Building in Austin. Its doors are open day and night.

Something new has been added for the visitors' pleasure. It's a beautiful 170-page, 7x10 book in gorgeous colors entitled "The Texas Capitol --Symbol of Accomplishment".

If you're contemplating a trip to Austin, write the Texas State Highway Department for a copy of this $2 book. You'll double the pleasures of your visit by having background information on what you're going to see.

Dear Editor

To The Editors and Publishers of Texas Newspapers:

I want to thank you individually and collectively for your fine cooperation in our voter registration drive. Undoubtedly the newspaper publicity given to registration requirements and procedures was a major factor in bringing about the tremendous increase in registrations this year.

Our office has received many comments from county tax assessor-collectors praising the newspapers for the assistance they rendered and especially for their publication of the application form, which benefited both the voters and the assessor-collectors. Your contribution to the registration drive has been appreciated not only by myself but by assessor-collectors and voters as well.

Sincerely yours,
John L. Hill
Secretary of State

Formula For Success

(EDITORS NOTE: The following editorial was handed to us by one of our readers and we think it is worth re-printing and that its thoughts might help us in our effort to make our town better.)

A FORMULA FOR SUCCESS

Did you ever wonder why this man or that one achieved success?

We're not speaking of the man who married the boss' daughter, and financial success is not the only success we refer to here.

But success has grown from activity in the case of almost every successful man we know.

Check the engagement book of the successful man and you will find it filled with activities that are directed toward helping others, self improvement, community advancement, and a good part to just good fellowship.

Towns are pretty much the same way. Look at the towns that are growing. The people who make up the town are busy people. The Chamber of Commerce is made up of people who actively support it - not by conversation but by service.

Successful towns are towns whose merchants enjoy the trade of the townspeople and whose people believe in doing business at home where possible.

Successful towns have organizations whose committees are filled with eager workers - who give of their time and energy to make the town an out-going, congenial place for people to find themselves in.

FISHING AGREEMENT SIGNED--Texas and Louisiana fishermen soon will be able to fish in boundary waters of the two states with license or exemption from either.

Parks and Wildlife Commission signed such an agreement with Louisiana officials. It takes effect in 30 days and applies to Sabine Pass, Sabine Lake, Toledo Bend Reservoir and Caddo Lake.

PWC Chairman Will Odom said this reciprocal arrangement climaxed two years of work. He expressed hope that Texas can work out similar pacts with Arkansas and Oklahoma.

Odom said that no two-state reciprocal hunting licenses can be adopted.

Over The Hill To The Poor-House

By Will Carleton

Over the hill to the poor-house I'm trudgin' my weary way -
I, a woman of seventy, and only a trifle gray -
I, who am smart an' chipper, for all the years I've told,
As many another woman that's only half as old.

Over the hill to the poor-house - I can't quite make it clear!
Over the hill to the poor-house - it seems so horrid queer!
Many a step I've taken a-toilin' to and fro,
But this is a sort of journey I never thought to go.

What is the use of heapin' on me a pauper's shame?
Am I lazy or crazy? Am I blind or lame?
True, I am not so supple, nor yet so awful stout;
But charity ain't no favor, if one can live without.

I am willin' and anxious an' ready any day
To work for a decent livin', an' pay my honest way;
For I can earn my victuals, an' more too, I'll be bound,
If anybody only is willin' to have me 'round.

Once I was young an' han'some - I was, upon my soul -
Once my cheeks was roses, my eyes as black as coal;
And I can't remember, in them days, of hearin' people say,
For any kind of a reason, that I was in their way.

'Tain't no use of boastin' or talkin' over free,
But many a house an' home was open then to me;
Many a han'some offer I had from likely men,
And nobody ever hinted that I was a burden then.

And when to John I was married, sure he was good and smart,
But he and all the neighbors would own I done my part;
For life was all before me, an' I was young an' strong,
And I worked the best that I could in tryin' to get along.

And so we worked together; and life was hard, but gay,
With now and then a baby for to cheer us on our way;
Till we had half a dozen, an' all growed clean an' neat,
An' went to school like others, an' had enough to eat.

So we worked for the child'rn, and raised 'em every one;
Worked for 'em summer and winter, just as we ought to've done;
Only perhaps we humored 'em, which some good folks condemn,
But every couple's child'rn's a heap the best to them.

Strange how much we think of our blessed little ones! -
I'd have died for my daughters, I'd have died for my sons;
And God he made that rule of love; but when we're old and gray,
I've noticed it sometimes somehow fails to work the other way.

Strange, another thing: when our boys and girls was grown,
And when, exceptin' Charley, they'd left us there alone;
When John he nearer an' nearer come, an' dearer seemed to be,
The Lord of Hosts he came one day an' took him away from me.

Still I was bound to struggle, an' never to cringe or fall -
Still I worked for Charley, for Charley was now my all;
And Charley was pretty good to me, with scarce a word or frown,
Till at last he went a-courtin', and brought a wife from town.

She was somewhat dressy, an' hadn't a pleasant smile -
She was quite conceity, and carried a heap o' style;
But if ever I tried to be friends, I did with her, I know;
But she was hard and proud, an' I couldn't make it go.

She had an edication, an' that was good for her;
But when she twitted me on mine, 'twas carryin' things too fur;
An' I told her once, 'fore company (an' it almost made her sick)
That I never swallowed a grammar, or 'et a 'rithmetic.

So 'twas only a few days before the thing was done -
They was a family of themselves, and I another one;
And a very little cottage one family will do,
But I never have seen a house that was big enough for two.

An' I never could speak to suit her, never could please her eye,
An' it made me independent, an' then I didn't try;
But I was terribly staggered, an' felt it like a blow,
When Charley turned ag'in me, an' told me I could go.

I went to live with Susan, but Susan's house was small,
And she was always a-hintin' how snug it was for us all;
And what with her husband's sisters, and with child'rn three,
'Twas easy to discover that there wasn't room for me.

An' then I went to Thomas, the oldest son I've got,
For Thomas's buildings 'd cover the half of an acre lot;
But all the child'rn was on me - I couldn't stand their sauce -
And Thomas said I needn't think I was comin' there to boss.

An' then I wrote to Rebecca, my girl who lives out West,
And to Isaac, not far from her - some twenty miles at best;
And one of 'em said 'twas too warm there for any one so old,
And t'other had an opinion the climate was too cold.

So they have shirked and slighted me, an' shifted me about -
So they have well-nigh soured me, an' wore my old heart out;
But still I've borne up pretty well, an' wasn't much put down,
Till Charley went to the poor-master, an' put me on the town.

Over the hill to the poor-house - my child'rn dear, good-by!
Many a night I've watched you when only God was nigh;
And God'll judge between us; but I will al'ays pray
That you shall never suffer the half I do today.

SWPS Nominated For Edison Award

The Southwestern Public Service Company is one of five of the nation's investor-owned electric companies to be nominated for the 1967 presentation of the Edison Award, the industry's highest honor, it has been announced by Charles Avila, president of the Edison Electric Institute.

The review committee for the Edison Award selected Southwestern for "implementing a program to help solve the electric utility industry's critical professional manpower shortage by developing a seminar program with New Mexico State University to improve the image of power system engineering and thereby encourage outstanding students to seek careers in the investor-owned electric utility industry."

The Edison Award consists of a gold medal, a certificate of presentation, and a check for $1,000 for the employee's benefit fund of the winning company. The winner will be announced at the annual meeting of the Edison Electric Institute in June. The other nominees in addition to Southwestern Public Service Company are West Penn Power Company, Philadelphia Electric Company, Public Service Company of Colorado and the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation.

IN ARLINGTON

JIM TUCKER WITH CHAMPION DUROC BARROW

12th Duroc Winter Type Congress And Sale Slated

More than 400 hogs from 131 breeders in 16 states have been consigned to the 12th annual National and Southwestern Duroc Winter Type Congress and Sale, scheduled in Lubbock for the first time Feb. 23-24. The 1968 event is scheduled at the Panhandle South Plains R. Carroll, secretary-treasurer of the Southwestern Duroc Breeders Association. Carroll said 40 bred gilts, 212 open gilts and 165 boars had been consigned to the show and sale.

Entries will be accepted on Feb. 22 and barrow judging will get underway at 8 a. m. on Feb. 23. Following a welcome by Bruce Henderson, Peoria, Ill., head of the United Duroc Swine Registry, and introductions by T. Euel Limer, Lubbock, president of the Southwestern Duroc Breeders Association, judging of bred gilts, junior open gilts, senior open gilts, junior boars and senior boars will begin. Later, a committee will select classes for the type conference. A banquet and business meeting will be held at KoKo Palace at 6:30 p. m. on Feb. 23.

Carroll said the type conference and judging contest is slated to begin at 8 a. m. on Feb. 24 and the sale of open gilts and boars will be held an hour later. Winners of the judging also will be announced at the sale and carcass barrows will be discussed. Harvey Richardson of Elmore City, Okla., will serve as judge.

Judging will be conducted in three groups --- men's, women's, and junior and/or team. Prizes totaling more than $200 will be awarded to the top three contestants in each of the three divisions. Five classes will be judged including barrows, open gilts and possibly one class of boars.

Judging cards may be secured at contest registration at 7:30 a. m. on Feb. 24. The contest is open to all Duroc boosters attending the congress.

Other special trophies are being offered by Lubbock area firms.

The 1967 congress and sale was the best in history for all breeds and indications point to even greater success this year. Officials stressed that although breeders consistently bring the best of their herds to the winter type congress and sale, even the hogs placing in lower brackets are still top hogs for breeders to consider.

Local Man's Father Dies

KITCHEN KORNER

By Lela Gallion

There has been a truth about the ground hog seeing his shadow I believe this year for sure as we have had some bad weather and there is some more on the way so reported. I have been asked for this cake and icing recipe to be repeated. It was to be baked in three layers one recipe stated, but my daughter-in-law said it was much better in six layers. Hope you enjoy it.

SPECIAL CHOCOLATE CAKE

- 1/2 c. cocoa
- 1/2 c. boiling water
- 2 tsp. soda
- Mix and let stand 30 minutes.
- 1 c. sour milk
- 1 c. butter or shortening
- 2 c. sugar
- 3 eggs
- 3 c. flour
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. vanilla

Stir this mixture well, then add cocoa mixture. Pour into six round layer pans and bake 20 minutes at 375 degrees.

Moments Of Meditation

C. T. Cunningham, pastor of First Baptist Church

"Be still and know that I am God," Psalms 46:10

Why, this wicked discipation of time, talent, strength, money? Burning up gas on the highway on absolutely unnecessary travel - breakneck speeding for no other purpose but to get nerve-wracking thrills, tearing the nerves to pieces by weaving through twentieth century traffic, reading exciting stories of crime and bloodshed, and drinking in the scum of evil as it pours from the stage, the radio, and television.

No time for constructive thought, meditation and quiet listening. Much of this folly is indulged in for the purpose of drowning the voice of God. Men do not want to hear the "still small voice."

They do not realize that this is the reason they are so nervous. But, if they will listen to reason, they will be convinced that this fear is the thing that is robbing them of the blessing of God, and gradually preparing them for a nervous breakdown.

Unnecessary appointments are another cause of our insane rush. When human beings take God into their lives they sober down and eliminate many silly and harmful activities which have characterized their former behaviour. The frightening burden of unnecessary appointments is gone, and they have time to really live instead of merely existing on the border of collapse. There must be a time provided with seasons of relaxation, when all physical and mental machinery is at rest. "Be still, and know that I am God," God speaks when we are still. The Son of God calls to every individual, "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." Matt. 11:28.

Be willing to sit at the feet of Jesus, and hear what He has to say. You may be surprised at the message of love, forgiveness, joy, and peace that will fill your soul as you listen to your best Friend.

The remedy is in our test, "Be still and know that I am God." Be quiet long enough for God to give divine direction; then obey.

Cards Of Thanks

I wish to take this opportunity to thank all the friends and neighbors for their cards and visits and a special thanks to the ladies who cleaned my home while I was in the hospital.

Best Beau Banquet Held Saturday Night

"Moonlight and Roses", and maybe just a little bit of anticipation, was the theme for the Best Beau Banquet, held by the Hart F.H.A. Chapter, Saturday night, Feb. 17.

Decorations of light and dark pink roses and crepe streamers turned the cafeteria, north of the high school building, into a romantic scene for the F.H.A. members and their beaus. The dinner was served and eaten by candlelight.

The members honored Tommy Gonzales, the Best Beau, 1968, with a gift, and special guests were introduced. The guests invited were Mr. and Mrs. "Doc" Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Gardenhire, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bennett, and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. McLain.

Entertainment was provided by the "Paperdolls", a singing trio and pianist from Dimmitt. Their selections included "You are my Special Angel", "Love is a Many Splendored Thing", and the theme song, "Moonlight and Roses". The chapter would like to thank the women from the Catholic Church at Hart for catering the meal, and all others who contributed to the successful evening including Arch Keys of Plainview.

Hart Man Earns Degree

Thomas Richard Cheatham is a member of Purdue University's midyear graduation class in which approximately 1,285 students qualified scholastically for degrees out of its fall enrollment of 34,263.

The class, compared with 1,211 a year ago, is expected to claim about one-fourth of the degrees to be awarded in 1967-68, said Registrar Nelson M. Parkhurst.

Like approximately 928 students who completed studies for degrees last August, the January class will be eligible to participate in the annual commencement ceremonies June 9. Cheatham has earned a MS degree in Speech.

Yield booster... Tuloma style

What is it?

It's a TULOMA special phosphate molecule. All new CROP-MATE liquid fertilizers in this area are made with this special phosphate... the longest lasting available phosphate form known in the fertilizer industry.

The chemistry involved may not be too important to you... but it is to your crops! Most of the nutrients enter the plant roots in a liquid form. New CROP-MATE liquid fertilizers are ready for immediate uptake—no need to wait for a rain. Also, special phosphate helps the plant get minor elements by a dissolving action in the soil. In addition, the special phosphates in TULOMA CROP-MATE resist the fixation process and stay available to the plants for a longer period of time. CROP-MATE liquid fertilizers are scientifically formulated to work faster, harder, and longer... real yield-boosters for you.

Come in and see our new plant. Let us give you more details about special phosphates, CROP-MATE liquid fertilizers, anhydrous ammonia, and TULOMA'S new CROP/GUIDE Plan. Or give us a call. It could result in greater yields... and a bigger bank account. Call today.

The long awaited FHA Best Beau banquet finally arrived Saturday in the form of Moonlight and Roses.

Mistress of Ceremonies, Iona Clevenger introduced Rebecca Futrell who led FHA prayer song. Welcome and announcement of the Best Beau, Tommy Gonzales was given by Julie Perez. The program was musical selections given by the Paper Dolls from Dimmitt.

Special guests included Superintendent Andy Gardenhire; Principal and Mrs. 'Doc' Bates; Chapter mothers and their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bennett and Mr. and Mrs. Boots Rogers.

JOKETIME

Mr. Shaw returned to class with the test papers and requested that all the chemistry students sit down. "If you stand up, it is conceivable that you might form a circle, in which I might be arrested for maintaining a dope ring."

"My topic today" said Mrs. Gardenhire, "is 'The Lie', How many of you read the 25th chapter of the text?"

Nearly all the sophomores raised their hands.

"Good! You are the group to whom I wish to speak," said Mrs. G. "There is no 25th chapter."

Mrs. Shive was warning Pam and Lynda about the dangers of too early marriage. "Just remember girls," she said, "it's the early bird that catches the worm."

Liquor Laws Discussed

By Rep. Bill Clayton

(EDITOR'S NOTE- the following letter was received from Bill Clayton for publication.)

The Liquor Laws Study Committee held its first meeting in Austin last Saturday and scheduled another meeting for the 26th to begin its study of needed changes in the Texas Liquor Control Act.

One of the responsibilities which falls upon the shoulders of a state official is that of reporting to the people. I do so now. I report to you on a problem that has me deeply worried, and deeply concerned. The problem I refer to is the "liquor mess", and I know you share this concern with me.

You've heard the reports on radio and television. You've read the accounts in newspapers. And, if you're like most citizens, you have a few questions about just what is going on.

Let me tell you what is happening in all this furor over the Texas Liquor Control Board and the so-called "liquor-by-the-drink" controversy. But, first let me caution you. When you talk about whiskey in Texas, you raise a highly emotional issue. Just check your history books if you want an idea of how deeply ingrained the problem is. Politicians and citizens have engaged in loud debate, voting, fistfights and even shootings as the subject of whiskey has confronted Texans. We must keep emotions out of this. What makes it touchy right now is not only the emotional problem, but the fact that the current situation is one that is very complicated.

First, let's talk about the Liquor Control Board. You all know that there have been charges, that some state employees in responsible positions have been fired, that an investigation is currently underway. As you also know, you cannot come right out and make a charge against an individual or a group without all the facts to back up that charge. It is not responsible, and it would be illegal. Therefore, an investigation is underway. And it's being conducted by several different agencies of the state. It would be the height of IRRESPONSIBILITY to make any charges against any individuals or agencies without the benefit of a thorough investigation into all the allegations. Therefore, it is premature -- at best -- to come right out and say "This, SPECIFICALLY, is the problem."

But, I can give you an idea of generally what is being checked into. You are entitled to know what your state government is doing. Generally, the problem revolves around the areas of administration and enforcement. Administration and enforcement of, frankly, a law that is very difficult to administer and enforce. There are some who have charged that the law in Texas -- the liquor law -- is NOT being enforced as it should be. And, as a result, they feel that the law is being abused. If any law, and I don't care what it is, is being circumvented by the people...or not being enforced as it should, you have a very serious problem. The law should be changed. Or the law should be enforced. There is no middle ground.

When enforcement of the law breaks down, then the very fabric of our society breaks down. We've seen too many examples of this in the race riots in other cities in our nation. The enforcement problem is complicated by another factor. There are those who go into a private club and buy a mixed drink and they feel they are doing nothing wrong. Even if they have never been in that club -- or even in that city before.

The way they are served the whiskey is that they are classified as a "guest". It just so happens that any John Doe can walk right in off the streets to many private clubs in Texas and become a "guest" by just walking in...and be served all the mixed drinks he can pay for. This is wrong. It's wrong because it goes against the intent of the law. Now, if a majority of Texans want to change the law, that's another matter. But, that's not the way the law is written now. The law -- as it's written now -- is allegedly being abused and misused. And that's why we have several different groups checking into those allegations. That's just one of the problems being tossed out about the current liquor laws. Another problem is enforcement, for instance; it's badly hampered by a lack of L-C-B agents and auditors to check on possible violations. This is why Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, Ben Barnes, has appointed a five-man subcommittee, of which I am a member, to do a complete and thorough study of the state's liquor laws.

We do not solve our problems in Texas by sitting back and hoping the problems will go away...and all the while criticizing those who would try to do what is right. In all this, there is one very obvious fact: IF the present liquor laws ARE being abused, as some feel they are, then it is up to those of us in positions of responsibility to CORRECT those abuses. If the alleged abuses are corrected, you can look for a very strict, tight, tough enforcement of ALL liquor regulations in this state! And this will affect each and every person who has any connection with the sale or purchase of alcoholic beverages in Texas!

We cannot -- we WILL not -- tolerate any of our state laws to be flouted!

Now, if the people of this state -- and that's you -- do NOT like the laws we have, they have an excellent recourse through the members of the legislature. They can get the word to their Senators and their Representatives about their feelings.

I would hope that each of you would transmit those feelings to us as soon as possible.

Don't forget; there is an alleged problem. We are checking into it. And, if the facts warrant, there will be action. Only by hearing from each citizen can we be sure that what will be done will mirror the wishes of a majority of Texans and this District.
