No-Grazing Period Begins, Farmers Urged To Comply

Farmers are reminded that the "no-grazing" period for land diverted from production under the 1969 feed grain and wheat programs will start May 1, 1969. It will continue for the following five months until Oct. 1, 1969.

Jim Elder, Chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee explained that producers who are diverting land under the programs have agreed not to graze the land being diverted during a specific five month period of the growing season and not to harvest a crop from the land at any time during the year.

Farmers who are taking part in the Conservation Reserve and Cropland Adjustment programs have agreed not to graze or harvest crops from land diverted under these programs during the life of the agreements.

These provisions are important to producers because any violation of them may result in reduction or total loss of payments otherwise earned under the programs.

Castro County producers signed up to participate in the 1969 feed grain and wheat programs on about 1002 farms, according to the ASCS records.

Dear Editor

Dear Sue:

My thanks to those of you who cast their vote for me in last Saturday's election.

I don't feel as tho I've lost a race but feel instead that we gained the services of four good men that will present themselves with their sound advice and decisions that will govern the mechanism of the basic tool of our society - THE SCHOOL.

These men now elected will need even more our united support in the future for a job that is rewarded only by the gratitude he receives from accomplishments made during his tenure.

There will always be a need for improvement and with these ambitious men we will not be disappointed.

Sincerely,
Bill Rich

Dear Editor,

Members of Castro County Library Board wish to take this means of publicly thanking Castro County Commissioners Court and the Dimmitt City Commission for their support of Castro County Library in prior years. Each year since the Library Board was established by the Commissioners Court, funds have been increased by both the County and Dimmitt City Commission to provide for library progress. Money with which to buy more books, more needed equipment, such as more shelf space for books, card files and other supplies as well as some funds to pay librarian's salary for additional time the library is now open has been provided upon the request of the Board.

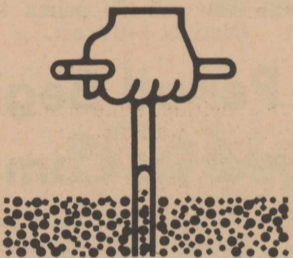

In addition, throughout the years the Castro County Library has been in existence, Castro County Commissioners Court has furnished housing, utilities and janitor service for the library. This if figured separately would be no small amount.

Present plans of the Commissioners Court for expansion of the Courthouse provides additional space for Castro County Library with an outside door on the east directly into the library, which would allow library to be open after 5 p. m. in the afternoon for greater use by grade and high school age people, persons from neighboring communities, and commuting college students, who find it difficult to use the college library while driving to and from classes. The outside door would also make possible having the library open on some evenings, that those, who work from 8 to 5 daily, might use the library for recreational and educational purposes.

We, therefore, endorse the upcoming bond election set for Saturday, April 19, 1969, which provides for expansion and renovation of Castro County Courthouse, and would like to urge all county property holders to vote for this issue.

A FRIEND -- TOO LATE

Around the corner I have a friend
In this great city that has no end,
Yet days go by and the weeks rush on
And before I know it a year has gone,
And I never see my old friend's face
For life is a swift and terrible race,
He knows I like him just as well
As in the days when I rang his bell,
And he rang mine. We were younger then
And now we are busy tired men—
Tired with playing a foolish game,
Tired with trying to win a name.

Tomorrow, say, I will call on Jim
Just to show I am thinking of him.
But tomorrow comes and tomorrow goes,
And the distance between us grows and grows,
Around the corner, yet miles away.
"A telegram, sir," Jim died today;
And that's what we get, and deserve in the end:
Around the corner, A Vanished Friend.

Texas Leading Nation In Smoking Education

Ever heard of the Texas Interagency Council on Smoking and Health? If you haven't, you will because it's the nation's pace-setter in bringing smoking and health education to the state's youth and adults alike.

Here's the way the concept works to achieve a coordinated effort:

The Council is comprised of the Texas State Department of Health, Texas Education Agency, Texas Division of American Cancer Society, Texas Heart Association, Texas Tuberculosis and Respiratory Diseases Association and Texas Medical Association, The Texas Parent-Teachers Association is a cooperating member.

It coordinates the regional conferences in developing leadership within individual school districts, making available to teachers and students special resource materials, consultants and activities relating to the hazards of smoking.

The goal of the Council is to bring to the state an increasing awareness of the health hazards of cigarette smoking with emphasis given to youth. And the goal is being rapidly reached in Texas.

There are 20 regional education service centers over the state where 10 conferences on smoking and health have already been completed; and five more will be completed by spring. This will total 75% of the state.

This is more in one state than in all other states combined.

A special resource kit is provided those school district representatives who attend the conferences and they take the material directly back into their classrooms. This way, education starts immediately after a conference, and no time is lost in further meetings with local personnel.

Both national and state authorities in the education field are used as instructors at the conferences.

Recently two noted authorities in the education field met with the Council in Austin to evaluate its progress and stated that Texas is "by far the leader in this endeavor."

What this means then, is that of all information concerning public health being brought to our students, the hazards of smoking are becoming uppermost in the curriculum. And again, Texas is leading the way.

MRS. MICHAEL WILLIAM INGLE

Ingle-Burrress Vows Pledged In Hart Church Saturday

Double ring vows were pledged at 7 p. m. Saturday evening in the First United Methodist Church between Miss Rebekah Jean Burrress and Michael William Ingle of Amarillo.

The Rev. Fred Brown, pastor, directed the exchange of vows before an altar set with a 15-branch spiral candelabra flanked with candle trees entwined with Emerald greenery, bearing white tapers. White satin bows marked the pews.

Mrs. David Willis presented traditional wedding selections and accompanied Robbie Hawkins, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a formal length gown of white satin peau de soie fashioned with bateau neckline, elbow length sleeves and Empire waistline, accented with lace motifs. A tier of ruffles caught at the bodice back with a bow formed her full length train.

Her shoulder length veil of silk illusion was held by a petal headpiece enhanced with seed pearls. She added white gloves and carried a cascade of white gladioli atop a white Bible.

Miss Marsha Spann of Plainview, cousin of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Tom Jones of Midland, sister of the groom, and Cheryl Newman.

Feminine attendants wore full length gowns of soft yellow styled with short sleeves and accent trim of small white daisies. They carried nosegay bouquets of daisies with streamers tied in loveknots.

Lana Tucker was flower girl. Ring bearer was Vann Burrress, brother of the bride.

Larry Parker was best man with Tom Jones of Midland and Roary McMEn of Amarillo serving as groomsmen. Guests were seated by Donald Lynn Burrress, brother of the bride, Ricky Bennett and Danny Rice.

A reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church. The bride's table was laid with a white lace cloth over yellow and centered with the attendants nosegays encircling a five-branch candelabra.

Members of the house-party were Linda Popejoy, Verletta Crick, Rene Brooks and Dixie Peterson.

For a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M., the bride chose a three-piece pink linen suit with hot pink accessories.

The couple is at home in Amarillo where the groom is employed with Bell Helicopter. He is a junior business major at West Texas State University.

The bride is a 1966 graduate of Hart High School and attended West Texas State College and Amarillo College of Hairdressing.

The bridegroom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner Friday evening in the Colonial Inn in Dimmitt.

GALLION GUESTS

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gallion Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. David Maloney of Canyon, and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Gallion and family of Dimmitt.

Economics Of Corn, Grain Sorghum Production Aired

With farmers caught in the midst of the cost-price squeeze, new avenues are constantly being sought to increase production efficiency. Such efficiency is sometimes obtained by diversification or by a complete changeover to a different type of production.

The economics of such a changeover, of course, must receive primary consideration. And such is the subject of a study made by Dr. Frank Petr and Ed Garnett, area agronomist and area farm management specialist, respectively, with the Texas Agricultural Exension Service.

The Extension specialists compared production costs and returns for corn and grain sorghum on irrigated Pullman clay loam soil. And the return to land and management turned out to almost $20 in favor of corn production.

Production was based on 150 bushels of corn per acre at $1.10 per bushel and 7,000 pounds of grain sorghum per acre at $1.70 per hundred-weight.

Major expenses are higher for producing corn, with seed averaging $6 more per acre; fertilizer, $2.50 more per acre; power and machinery, $1 more per acre; and harvesting and hauling, almost $20 more per acre.

Surface irrigation was figured at 24 acre inches of water for both crops. Herbicide costs were calculated at $5 per acre for each crop and labor costs showed little difference.

These production figures deserve close consideration, say the specialists, since corn acreage has increased tremendously in the Texas Panhandle in the past two years. Almost 100,000 acres of corn were grown in 1968 for both grain and silage.

Corn for grain was estimated to account for about one-half of this acreage.

Thus corn offers stiff competition for grain sorghum in this area, point out the specialists. With its greater net return per acre, more corn will likely be produced in the coming years.

News Of Our Service Men

Army Private George E. Bennet, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Bennett completed nine weeks of advanced infantry training Feb. 28 at Ft. Polk, La. His last week of training was spent in guerrilla warfare exercises.

During his guerrilla training, he lived under simulated Vietnam conditions for five days, fighting off night attacks and conducting raids on "enemy" villages. He was taught methods of removing booby traps, setting ambushes and avoiding enemy ambushes.

Other specialized training included small unit tactics, map reading, land mine warfare, communications, and firing the M-16 rifle, M-60 machine gun and the 3.5-inch rocket launcher.

Staff Sergeant William W. Schraag of 1102 N. Franklin, Junction City, Kan., has received the U. S. Air Force Commendation Medal at Lackland AFB, Tex., for meritorious service.

Sergeant Schraag, a material specialist, was cited for his outstanding performance while assigned at Cam Rhan Bay AB, Vietnam. He was presented the medal during ceremonies at Lackland where he now serves with a unit of the Air Training Wing.

The sergeant attended Junction City High School and completed requirements for his diploma after entering the Air Force.

His wife, Teresia, is the daughter of Lawrence H. Birkenfeld of Nazareth.

Sergeant Schraag is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard S. Schraag.

According To IRS

On a cold day last December, we predicted that about 1/3 of the taxpayers in our district would wait three months before they filed their tax returns in the frantic last minute rush before April 15. On ground hog day, we predicted that the sun would not be shining on April 15, if you did not face up to the ugly shadow of the 1040 instructions and your shoe box full of records back in February.

If you filed last January and have already spent your refund check—congratulations! If you belong to the "File on April 15 Club," get out your membership card, read those tax instructions, go over those tax records, figure that tax return, and re-check it. To correct all of those mistakes can't be put off any longer. To get a good start why don't you make your April 15 resolution right now—"File Early In January, Next Year."

LONG ON PROFIT

G-4697 is a medium maturity high-yielding, strong-standing hybrid producing grain of excellent quality. Yields of 179.5, 175, 154, and 143 bushels per acre have been recorded in 1968 in Castro county. G-4697 produces uniform wide leaves and girthy ears. Excellent threshability is reported. Plant early for highest yields and superior standability.

G-4333 is a short season high-yielding, strong-standing, single cross which established top yield records in 1968. At Tulia 185 bushels per acre was chalked up and 147 bushels per acre made at Dimmitt. G-4333 is very attractive with uniform stalk and ear height. It responds to higher plant population and narrow rows where fertility and water make top yields possible and does unusually well under average conditions. G-4333 has out-yielded competitors in this early maturing category. Be sure to plant G-4333 in 1969.

G-711AA is a full season high tonnage silage hybrid with good grain content. G-711AA was the highest yielding corn silage hybrid in the High Plains Research Foundation tests at Halfway, with 30.05 tons per acre at 70% moisture. G-711AA tends to have higher protein content than many hybrids. This well known top yielding silage hybrid with many 30 ton yields to its credit is hard to beat. If you are planting for silage you should be planting G-711AA.

The weather was pretty nice for Easter even if the wind did blow, so hope you all enjoyed the vacation.

Feeling rather nostalgic, I called my parents Sunday evening and this is quite helpful, when you get to hear their voices, if you are just a bit homesick.

They have an extension phone so I always get to talk to both at the same time. Of course as all parents, they told me to take care of myself, and be careful and other good words of advice and I agreed with them.

After thinking about it, isn't that what parents are for?

We may not take their advice completely but how very nice to know they care enough to tell us and after all they have had more experience in living so should know more.

I expect this feeling "dates" me as there doesn't seem to be the same feeling in SOME of our younger generation.

Do remember I said SOME.

This week I have two quick and very easy recipes to share with you. Hope you enjoy them.

MONKEY BUSINESS IN VIETNAM

Four nonchalant monkeys recently gave the business to soldiers from the 4th Infantry Division in Vietnam. The men were on guard duty and heard movement to the front of them. They thought it was the wind until a flare went off, illuminating the area. Then, they did a double take. Sitting calmly by the tripped flare were four monkeys. "Hear no evil...see no evil...speak no evil." Wonder who was the fourth monkey?

Financial Facts

By Willis A. Hawkins, Jr.

Ask a friend if he knows what the Federal Reserve System is all about and he'll give you the greatest exhibition of heming and hawing you ever encountered.

Here are the facts: The Federal Reserve System is the banks' bank and the central bank of the United States. It is a non-profit combine.

There are twelve Federal Reserve districts. Each district has a Federal Reserve Bank. Ten of these banks have twenty four branches.

Now, who owns these banks? Member banks own the 12 banks but do not control the system.

What does the Federal Reserve System do for a bank member? It clears checks without charge; supplies currency without service charge; makes loans and advances.

Moments OF Meditation

C. T. Cunningham, Pastor of The First Baptist Church

By his use of the words, "that your prayers be not hindered," in 1 Peter 3:7, it is quite clear that the apostle takes it for granted that Christians do habitually pray.

Prayer is assumed to be the regular habit of the believer, but dare we take it for granted that every Christian prays? Unfortunately, some Christians do not pray. They do not pray privately and they do not have family prayers.

These are some of the hindrances that prevent us from ever coming to the point of offering prayer. If we allow ourselves to become spiritually slack and careless, we shall soon find that prayer is hindered. Our desire for prayer will go and our estimate of prayer will change completely.

Or, if we neglect the Word of God and give up reading the Bible we shall find prayer is hindered, for reading of God's Word stimulates and encourages prayer. Or, over-work will crowd out prayer. It is possible to be so busy for God (or ourselves) that there is little or no time left for quiet uninterrupted prayer. We need to beware of the "barrenness of a busy life".

A worldly spirit hinders prayer. If our affections are set upon earthly things to such an extent that we are neglecting heavenly and spiritual things, then we shall lose interest in prayer and we shall even reach the point where we do not feel the need to pray.

It is also true that a badly ordered life will hinder prayer. To be very late to bed is not conducive to early rising, and this can be a very real hindrance to the morning "Quiet Time."

How can we get these hindrances removed? We must be disciplined in the practice of prayer, and we must remove the hindrances that God reveals. This we can do by confessing and forsaking that which is wrong.

Bob Price Writes

As a final tribute to Dwight D. Eisenhower, President Nixon compared the General with George Washington. Nixon said that President Eisenhower was "a great leader, a great friend, and a great man."

The Washington press was more than generous to a man to whom the news media had not always been friendly during his two terms as President.

An interview on the occasion of General Eisenhower's 75th birthday by White House reporter Merriman Smith had not been published before his death. His words as recorded on that occasion offer a further insight into the true measure of a great man. Following are excerpts from that interview:

"I look at sort of three classes of people. Some people are so complacent or so stand-pattish that they don't admit there are any real social problems in the country. They just say well, we're sitting rather pretty, now let it alone. Well, those people I just think are stupid.

"Now there's other people that see everything as wrong. Oh, no matter whether you're pretty contented, they'll come along and make you think you're not contented--you're just not doing as well as you could--and so they'll do something for you and they'll do it in Washington; use all of Washington's money, power, moral and social leadership that you can muster. That, I think, is finally the negation of self-government.

"Now, I like to see people admit the problem, recognize, analyze the problem, and then try to figure something out in accordance with what we like to think have been the great virtues...the individual self-reliance, self-dependence, a man with a considerable patriotism and dedication. And out of that, with that feeling, take a look at this problem and see what is a good way to do it.

"Now this is--I don't care whether you call people right, left, center of the road, or what--but I get annoyed at these people who think the word compromise as being a weak word.

"Compromise except in the two fields, only, of morals and of exact science, is necessary in every human action, even in the individual. Maybe you'd like to wear 750 suits. Well, you say now let's see what my income is and whether I can afford 750 suits. Life is constantly making a compromise... there has to be compromise in order to get progress.

"So I believe that rather than classify people we should say that every possibility of solving a problem that falls within the limits of common sense-- they should be tried out, and I don't care whether I'm called a liberal, a conservative, or anything else. Now this is what I try to preach and teach and talk..."

"And what I believe is this: I still have a tremendous confidence and belief in my country. Just remember this one thing: No matter what we try to do in the world there is only one place from which you can do it-- a firm, sound base. That firm, sound base is the strength of the United States. And, the United States' strength is not just its military might, indeed it's not just its economic might, it's also its principal or its moral might.

"Now I'd like to think that we live by such words as decency and fairness and, well, you might say realization that each of us is a member of the proudest nation in the world and then act that way.

"I believe that we've got to think a little bit more about good citizenship."
