Post Office Launches 'Mail Early' Campaign

A "Mail Early Campaign" is being stressed by the U. S. Postal Department, and Mrs. Brooks, Postmaster, has released pertinent dates and specifications as required by the Postal Department in getting Christmas mail to servicemen overseas on time.

Periods designated for mailing Christmas parcels overseas to members of the Armed Forces include:

1. Surface transportation, BEFORE Nov. 8.
2. SAM (Space Available Parcel Airlift) BEFORE Nov. 22.
3. PAL (Parcel Air Lift) BEFORE Nov. 29.
4. Airmail - Dec. 1 to Dec. 13.

"The term 'Armed Forces Overseas' includes personnel of the Armed Forces, members of their families, and U. S. civilians employed overseas who receive their mail through an APO or FPO, New York, San Francisco or Seattle," Mrs. Brooks said.

"All articles should be packed in boxes of wood, metal, solid fiberboard, or strong double faced corrugated fiberboard, and well tied with strong cord. All fiberboard boxes should be securely wrapped in heavy paper to strengthen the package," she continued.

"Sufficient cushioning material should be used to prevent any rattling or loosening of articles within the package. Unless tightly filled, boxes are likely to be crushed.

"In addition to the articles normally prohibited in the mail, matches of all kinds and lighter fluid may not be mailed to overseas military addresses. Cigarettes, other tobacco products, coffee and various other items are prohibited in parcels.

"Addresses must be legible and complete, and should be prepared by typewriter or pen and ink. The APO and FPO numbers are the same as the zip code and must be shown.

"The domestic rates of postage are applicable, and postage must be fully prepaid. Airmail articles weighing seven ounces or less will go at the rate of 10 cents per ounce.

"Parcels paid at surface postage rates not exceeding five pounds in weight and not more than 60 inches in length and girth combined, will be air-lifted (SAM) on a space available basis from the port of dispatch shown in the address to the overseas military post office.

"Upon payment of a fee of $1 in addition to the regular surface rate of postage, a parcel not exceeding 30 pounds in weight or 60 inches in length and girth combined, will be transported by air (PAL) on a space available basis from the place of mailing," Mrs. Brooks concluded.

Fables, Fictions Or Fallacies?

THIRD IN A SERIES

Nearly everyone has heard fables, fictions, or fallacies about marihuana, perhaps like these:

"Smoke pot and you wind up hooked on heroin...Man, it's cleaner than alcohol...It's the first step right into the psycho ward...There's just no reason to keep it illegal...Why doesn't anyone tell the truth about marihuana?"

None of these statements is based on a scientific fact, but on half-fact or misinformation.

The first statement, although wrong, stems from some studies showing that sizeable percentages of heroin addicts previously smoked marihuana (pot). The reverse is not necessarily true, although this adds no reasoning to the side of those who favor unrestricted marihuana.

Alcohol and marihuana are not comparable, as far as No. 2 goes. Moreover, the long-term effects of marihuana smoking are simply not known as yet.

As to No. 3, scientists have not proved that marihuana is a direct cause of mental illness. Nor have they proved that it PREVENTS mental disorders or HELPS mental health.

There are some reasons on the legal side for restrictions on marihuana, as, for example, the indisputable fact that science does not know very much about it. It does not appear, moreover, that mass, permissive, total population usage of an unknown but powerful mind-affecting drug is rational.

"Why doesn't anyone tell the truth about marihuana?"

This despairing kind of cry is perhaps based on confusion brought about by those who favor taking all shackles off marihuana and who disseminate misinformation or slanted material rather than objective information.

Here are some facts about this controversial substance, entirely founded on what science now knows, not on guesses, rumors, and wishful emotionalizing.

The smoking of marihuana is illegal in nearly every civilized country of the world. Nevertheless, with the possible exception of alcohol, it is today probably the most widely used intoxicant in the world.

Despite its current pervasiveness, scientists are quick to acknowledge significant gaps in their knowledge of marihuana's effects on man -- and animals, too, for that matter.

The little research that has been done in the U. S., and there has not been a great deal anywhere in the world, has principally used marihuana seized by the Federal Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs which was supplied to qualified researchers.

But all natural marihuana is of uncertain potency, and seized materials are frequently unrefined and impure. Reliable research, whether in test tubes and analytic machines, on animals, or on man, can only be conducted if the drug is standardized, the potency constant.

The scientist, in a word, has to have a uniform substance to study if he is to produce results and accurate findings of value.

This long-standing problem seems at last to have been largely solved, National Institute of Mental Health research grantees and others have succeeded in isolating a number of compounds in cannabis, the plant from which marihuana cigarette material comes.

In addition, they have determined the exact structure of tetrahydrocannabinol (THC), the probable main, active principle of marihuana. Thus, the production of uniform, synthetic or man-made marihuana is now possible.

With this compound, THC, sometimes called "liquid marihuana," scientists can at last run controlled, uniform experiments.

Very early work showed that the compound would be useful not only in laboratory studies but also in careful investigations in humans.

Basic research using synthetic marihuana compounds, along with a broad spectrum of clinical studies, is being supported and stimulated by the National Institute of Mental Health. This is a part of an invigorated attack on narcotic and drug abuse through research, training, services, and education.

Some other facts about marihuana which every citizen old and young, needs to know have already been established. Here are some questions often asked and answers to them.

What is marihuana?

Marihuana -- also spelled "marijuana" -- is a drug found in a plant (cannabis sativa) that grows in mild climate countries all around the world. Some of its nicknames are pot, grass, weed, and Mary Jane.

How is it used?

For use as a drug, the leaves and flowers are usually dried and crushed or chopped into small pieces. This green-colored product is rolled and smoked in cigarettes or pipes or can be sniffed or taken in food. Its sweetish odor is easily recognized. The smoke is harsh; it smells like burnt rope or dried grasses.

Is marihuana used for medical purposes?

No. It has no known use in modern medicine. There are medical research studies seeking scientific information on it, but it is not used to treat or cure illness.

Statements that marihuana is "medically safe" are NOT supported by scientific evidence.

Do we know what marihuana does to the mind and body?

We do not know the physical effects fully. Long-term effects are absolutely unknown. The kind of research needed to learn the results of continued use has not yet been done. It is getting underway now, however, as pointed out.

Does marihuana affect judgment?

Yes, but not favorably. A person using marihuana finds it harder to make decisions that require clear thinking. He is open more easily to other people's suggestions. Doing anything that takes good reflexes and clear thinking is affected. It is, for example, dangerous to drive while under the influence of marihuana, just as it is with alcohol.

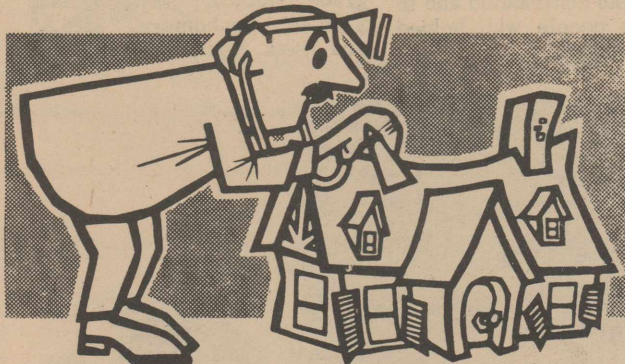

What about the laws?

There are Federal and State laws -- and international laws -- dealing with marihuana. Possession or sale of it in the U. S. is a felony under Federal law. Many states deal with marihuana as severely as if it were a narcotic.

Many feel that the laws should be changed; many others do not. In any case, young and old alike should know these and other facts.

Finest In The World

Youth of Hart have demonstrated a refreshing display of old-fashioned, harmless fun in a day when daily newspapers report frightening accounts of small Trick or Treaters becoming the victims of vicious benefactors.

Numerous stories have cropped up of apples with hidden razor blades or needles and popcorn balls shaped around moth balls or soap. Even some reports of LSD treated "gifts" for the unsuspecting Trick or Treaters.

But Halloween in Hart is a much different story. Here, it is "Halloween Carnival is Tremendous Success". Deemed successful not only in monies for the sponsoring classes and organizations but wholesome fun and a night to be happily remembered.

School authorities said this week, "We would like to thank our students for their fine conduct before, during and after the Carnival.

"There was no destruction of property or defacement by marking and writing on property.

"We think we have the best students in the world and they are to be commended." We'll agree with that.

 Mr. and Mrs. Ewell Jobe visited her brother, Rev. and Mrs. F.D. Hankins of Portales, N. M. Friday. Rev. Hankins has been ill since last spring.

This week we have asked Mr. Elmer Six, our High School principal to write a little article on School Spirit. Mr. Six is from Seminole where he coached football and golf and taught History.

He moved here in 1968 where he took the position of Elementary Principal. He has four children, Vickie, 18, Gary, 16, Pat, 8, and Darrel 13. His wife Mrs. Patsy Six is High School librarian and is supervisor of the 1969-1970 Longhorn annual staff.

SCHOOL SPIRIT
 What is school spirit?
 School spirit is something you may not miss until you suddenly find yourself without it. I am most proud of our school spirit here in Hart High School. It is something more than just playing football or going to the game and yelling for your team. It is taking pride in your school, community and, yes, your country.

It is wanting to have the best school in the state, enjoying your fellow students while you can because you are aware that before long you will be going your separate ways. School spirit is the entire student body working toward winning a football game, basketball game or a one-act play contest. It is being humble and good sports when you win and sticking together as good sports when you lose.

It is standing at attention and singing your school song or the National Anthem, being proud to be an American and a Hart Longhorn.

SCOUT NEWS

Cub Scouts Den II met in the community room of Farmers State Bank, Thursday afternoon with "Halloween" as the theme.

Mrs. Jim Black, den mother, told of the origin and meaning of Halloween, starting from the early days in Brittain when Oct. 31 was the last day of the year.

It was a time for fun, much like New Years Eve. Halloween has changed very much in its character through the years.

Halloween is short for "All hallow evenings." Hallow means Saint. A festival called "All Saints Day" was held on Nov. 1.

"Halloween Song" by Marjorie Barrows was read and scouts sang "Hey Ho for Halloween", to the tune of Farmer in the Dell.

Mrs. Darrell Davis and Mrs. Black helped the boys make Halloween masks. The group then played "Who took the witches Broom".

Safety rules for trick or treat were discussed including-wear something white so people can see you at night, respect people's property, take care of younger children, stay on the right side of the road, cross streets at the corner and stay in familiar neighborhood.

Sharing the fun is in keeping with the spirit of Halloween. Refreshments were served to six scouts by Mrs. Davis and Jackie.

Den III of the Hart Cub Scouts met Wednesday at the Hart Farmers State Bank.

Randy Heck led the Scouts in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. The den yell was then led by Bruce McAdams.

Mrs. Doyce McAdams, den mother, helped the boys with their pirate and buccaneer skit. DeWayne Clevenger, den chief, led several games.

Refreshments were served to six scouts and two visitors, Mike Clevenger and Russell Clevenger.

Woodpecker Patrol of Boy Scout Troop 246 met Monday after school in the Community Room of Farmers State Bank to make plans for a camping trip Saturday, Nov. 8. The group then went to the football field for a period of football fun.

Attending were James Warren, Danny George, Mike Cox, Bobby Clark and Duane Clevenger.

Moments OF Meditation

C. T. Cunningham, Pastor of The First Baptist Church

The questions which men ask themselves today are little different from those which men of Old Testament and New Testament days asked.

The ages in which they lived may seem to have been less complicated than yours as indeed they were, but because the nature of man itself changed very little, their search for answers were remarkably like your search. For example, take the words of the Psalmist (Psalm 22:1).

Why doesn't God help me? Like many people today, the Psalmist asked, "Why standest thou afar off, O Lord? Why hidest Thou thyself in times of trouble?" (10:1). Why are Thou so far from helping me?" (22:1). Why has Thou forsaken me?" (22:1).

It is only human to feel that God has forsaken us when we are in trouble is evidenced by the fact that even Jesus echoed the words of the Psalmist on the cross.

And yet, we know that God never forsakes us. He is always present to guide and help us. Our weakness of flesh may blind our eyes to His presence; but He is there, always. And if and when, as in Jesus' case, He allows us to suffer, we may be sure that He will provide the strength to overcome, and out of our suffering will enable us to go forward to better things.

Why am I worried? "Why are thou cast down, O my soul? And why are thou disquieted within me?" (Psalm 42:5).

The Psalmist answers his own question in the immediately following words: "Hope thou in God; for I shall yet praise Him."

Jesus asked the same question of His followers: "Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body more than raiment? Why do you worry about these things? And don't worry about tomorrow.

Why is my life so ineffective?

The prophet Jeremiah asked that question, and sought its answer. He was thoroughly disgusted with his compatriots because of their ineffectiveness. "Why then is this people of Jerusalem slidden back by a perpetual backsliding?" he asked. "Why do we sit still?" Jeremiah knew that, in truth, to sit still is to slide backward. The trouble was that the Jewish people had lost sight of their goal.

Thus the answer to effectiveness is this: Let God show you your goal - and get on your feet and get to work.

The concert is over. The artist takes a bow. Or, perhaps the curtain rings down on a smash hit. And hands slap, smack, pat, or tap.

Hands do other things besides applaud. Some write on blackboards, others perform miracles of surgery — some type, some sew, some plant. Hands drive trucks, make music or diaper a baby.

There are crippled hands and wrinkled hands, soft ones and smooth; hands flung up as a shield; others stretched in supplication.

In God's Church are praying hands. These hands translate compassion into action. They find homes for the homeless and food for the hungry. They teach, as well as preach, and bring hope to hearts long lonely. They, literally, become the hands of God.

Today, as never before, mankind needs the assurance and comfort of God's love. Won't you help your church reach out? Offer your heart and your helping hands.
