Leal's family tradition for four decades

By RICK WHITE
Managing Editor

A smile burst across the face of the little boy with big brown eyes.

A large man in a cowboy hat was calling his name. Five years old and barely big enough to see over the dining room tables, Roman scurried over and shook the man's hand.

The same way he's seen his dad do a hundred times. "Seeing Roman running around the restaurant brings back a lot of memories," said his dad, Victor Leal, flashing the same toothy smile. "It's like deja vu."

Victor, 35, literally grew up in, and now owns, the restaurant business his parents started four decades ago.

During the month of May, Leal's Mexican Restaurant in Muleshoe will be celebrating its 40th anniversary with a series of contests, entertainment and giveaways.

"We wouldn't have what we have today if it wasn't for all our faithful customers over all those years," said Jesse Leal, Victor's father.

Jesse and Irma Leal never dreamed the tiny tortilla factory and restaurant they started in the spring of 1957 would one day turn into West Texas institution.

Leal's is now a must stop for so many when visiting Muleshoe.

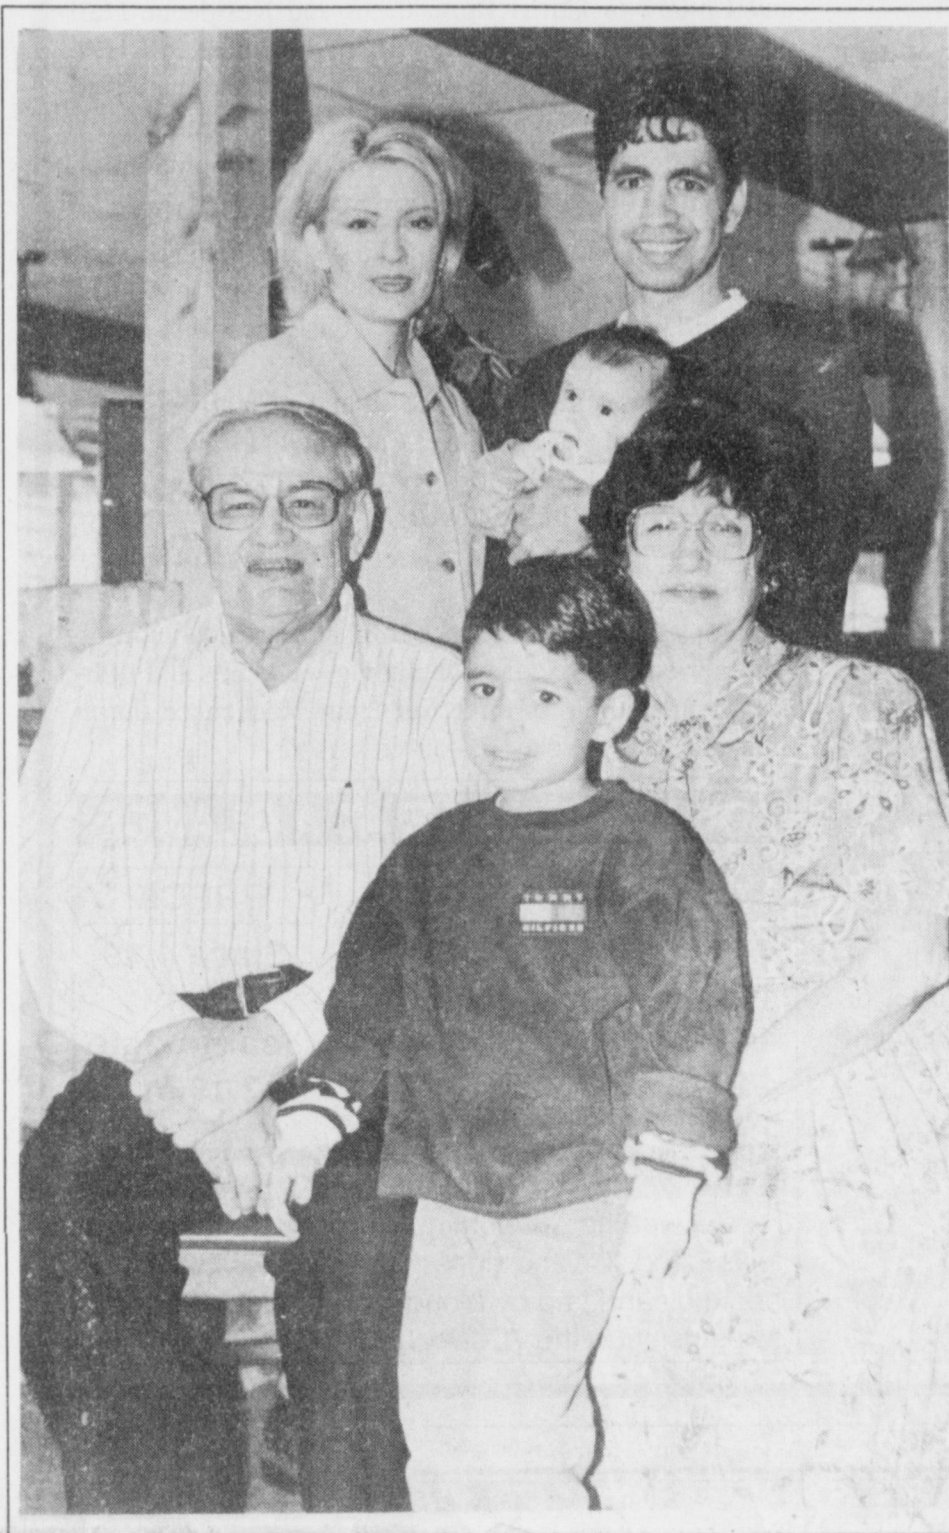

"They didn't have any visions of grandeur, they just had kids to feed," Victor said. "My mom still jokes once a week that all this started with a frying pan and a few tortillas."

And it did. Newly married, the Leals saw a need for traditional Mexican food in the area.

At first, the Leals catered to the taste preferences of the "braceros," Mexican laborers hired to do contract work on local farms.

It was mostly a weekend business as the "braceros" would come to town with the ranchers on weekends and load up on the corn tortillas

Area drenched with more than 2 inches of rain

By SAMUEL VILLARREAL
Journal Staff Writer

Charles Moraw, Muleshoe Co-op Gin manager, is positive about the precipitation the area is receiving, even if he can't measure it all.

"I haven't even checked the rain gauge today because it's in the middle of a big pool of water," Moraw said.

Bailey and Parmer County farmers received more than two inches of precipitation since Tuesday. Three days of grey skies brought Muleshoe on and off rains last week, filling streets and parks with water.

"I can't hardly believe all this moisture," said Don McDonald, manager at Clay's Corner Gin near Lazbuddie, where 2 1/4 inches of rain fell last week.

McDonald said the rains will be a mixed blessing as area farmers begin preparations to plant this year's cotton crop. While the rain will help to raise soil moisture, it will also keep farmers out of their fields for a few days.

Marvin McCaul, manager at the Maple Co-op Gin, said the 2 1/2 inches of rain his area has received will benefit dryland wheat.

"If the cold weather didn't hurt the wheat, then the rains will help it pretty good," McCaul said.

The weather has proven to be both good and bad in Parmer County, where up to four inches of snow was reported Friday.

While farmers are happy about the moisture, the snow made travel conditions treacherous.

Multiple wrecks were reported by the Parmer County Sheriff's Department, most of which were attributed to slick roads.

Small amounts of snow were seen in Bailey County, most of which quickly melted.

"We've been in pretty good luck around here,"

Wheat outlook brighter

By RICK WHITE

Freeze damage to wheat varies from field to field, but is much less than local growers originally feared.

Bailey County Extension agent Curtis Preston estimated losses at 15-20 percent from a three-day cold snap in mid April.

"The damage varies from field to field, and even within the field," Preston said. "I've had to check every field."

Damage estimates in Bailey County are low compared to other areas of the Panhandle.

Preston said estimates around Tulia, 90 miles north, ran from 50 to 80 percent. Estimates in the northernmost regions of the Panhandle ran as high as 80 to 100 percent.

Plenty of winter rain had left fields soaked and wheat hearty, which had industry experts predicting what might have been the best Texas wheat crop in five years—until the freeze.

Brent Bean, a specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said the freeze cost the Panhandle 25-30 million bushels. He said this year

Valley Motel damaged by fire

A structure fire early Friday morning destroyed four rooms at the Valley Motel on American Boulevard and forced the evacuation of eight homes nearby.

Three rooms were occupied when the fire started about 6 a.m. One woman was treated at the scene for smoke inhalation, according to police reports.

Despite a driving rain storm, high winds, the Muleshoe Volunteer Fire Department had the fire under control by 7:45 a.m.

The entire motel suffered smoke damage and a car parked out in front of one of the fire-ravaged rooms was damaged.

Police evacuated residents in home located in the 1500 block behind the hotel

Cinco de Mayo helps preserve heritage

By SAMUEL VILLARREAL
Journal Staff Writer

Local Hispanic organization Comite Patriotico is organizing a Cinco de Mayo festival to give local Hispanics an opportunity to celebrate their heritage.

Tony Montez, president of Comite Patriotico, said several events are confirmed or in the works for a Cinco de Mayo festival, which will take place May 4 in the East City Park.

Cinco de Mayo, or Fifth of May, is a holiday celebrated among Hispanics to commemorate the victory of Mexico's army over invading French forces on May 5, 1862.

Amy Alvarado, one of the event's organizers, said festivals such as this are important in preserving the Hispanic culture, which she believes is slowly being lost among young Hispanics.

"Some young Hispanics are becoming so Americanized that they can't even speak Spanish," Alvarado said. "We're in America, I understand that. But we don't want young people to forget where they came from."

Alvarado said such festivals provide cultural events to small town, adding that many people from Maple, Lazbuddie, Lariat and other area communities will attend. The festival also draws people from Clovis and Lubbock.

Montez said local festivities will be

Committee proposes cuts in CRP acres

The House Appropriations Committee Thursday axed 5 million acres from land eligible for the Conservation Reserve Program, saying Midwest farmers are the main beneficiaries of the giant land retirement program, according to a report by the States News Service.

"Midwest farmers, God love them all, get 70 percent of the acreage in CRP," said James Walsh, R-New York, who spearheaded the drive to cut the amount of allowable lands. "Lets spread the wealth."

Walsh noted that he favored the CRP program, which is designed to conserve highly erodible land, enhance wildlife and improve water quality. But he complained that most of the land in CRP is bundled up in 11 state across the Midwest.

In Texas, the program enrolls more than 4 million acres, said Roger Lemmons, of the USDA's Farm Service.

Between 230 and 240 million acres, two thirds of the nation's farmland, are eligible for the conservation program, which removes lands from production for up to 10 years in return for federal rental payments.

The Agricultural Department opposes the acreage cap, and President Clinton this week warned Congress against load-and Mexican barbecue.

Irma had extensive experience in the art of making and cooking tortilla because she grew up in her parents' tortilla factory in Mercedes.

Jesse remembers a sack of corn served as a seat for the first customer and using the pots and pans that two years earlier were the Leal's wedding presents to prepare the meals.

Leal's was more than just a restaurant then. Jesse and Irma would help the "bracos" with their laundry, banking and other needs.

And no one ever went hungry when they came to Leal's, whether they could pay for the meal or not.

"My mom and dad had, and still have, a genuine love for people," Victor said. "They felt if they fed people and made them happy, everything else would just fall into place."

Victor and his five siblings were literally raised in the restaurant business and worked alongside their parents for years.

All but one are still involved in the restaurant business. Besides Victor, three own and operate a Leal's in New Mexico or Texas. The fourth took over Leal's Tortilla Factory in Muleshoe.

Almost three decades ago, it was Victor who was running around in his parents' restaurant, then located on the east side of town.

He remembers taking naps on stacks of linen near the front counter when he was about Roman's age, drinking all the sodas he could stomach, and countless hours of counting tortillas.

Irma said the rumble of the tortilla machine served as Victor's lullaby.

"Those were great memories, with the whole family involved," Victor said. "It's only now that I realize how wonderful it was."

"That's what makes seeing Roman running around so neat. Not only that, but seeing the same customers that have been coming in here since I was five years old."

Victor said he was honored to take over the original Leal's when his parents retired five years ago.

"It's something I can appreciate now more than I ever have," Victor said. "I not only inherited a business, I inherited a legacy."

COTTON NEWS

LUBBOCK—Preparations for 1997 cotton planting continue across the Texas High Plains on the heels of improved soil moisture conditions.

According to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG) pre-plant soil moisture has not been in such good shape since at least 1992. Several inches of rain have been received throughout the area since the beginning of the year. Another inch of rain received over the next few weeks would help solidify the planting moisture situation and allow producers to focus on other matters.

One of the most important factors going into the 1997-crop will be the overall need to promote earliness. Once a stand is established producers are being encouraged to carry that management philosophy throughout the season.

"The 1997 crop will be one that is made through active management during every phase of production," notes new Texas Agricultural Extension Service cotton agronomist Dr. Randy Boman. "Our goal will be to encourage planting as early as possible based on soil temperatures and the five-day weather forecast. Using high quality seed and seed treatments will contribute to establishing strong stands as quickly as possible."

Boman notes while the improvement in planting moisture has created a stir of excitement among many producers, everyone should be aware that cool, wet soils harbor a much greater potential for seedling diseases and other unseen dangers.

Combest introduces personal web-site

U.S. Rep. Larry Combest (R-Texas) has added a web site with e-mail as an additional service to his constituents in the 19th Congressional District.

The web site is located at www.house.gov/combest.

"My hope is that more folks in the Panhandle-South Plains-Permian Basin region use this web site and electronic mail as an additional way for us to stay in touch on the concerns they want expressed in Washington," Combest said.

Combest said his constituents can save time and postage by writing e-mail.

Responses will be mailed back through regular postal service mail. Combest said it is not practical to station an employee at a computer terminal at all times to immediately respond by e-mail, but the ability to immediately receive constituents e-mail allows his office to get started more quickly on the request.

Constituents are also able to make their own copies of proposed legislation and have access through the web site to the Congressional Record and other services available from the Library of Congress.

The web site will also feature information for students assigned homework or class projects on Congress and information on applications for students internships and nominations to the U.S. military service academies.

Wheeler and Rodney Alanis, who had reached on a fielder's choice, eventually scored on back-to-back infield errors.

for about 15-20 minutes.

The fire was caused by a short-circuit near an electrical transformer, according to Muleshoe Fire Marshall Jimmy Mills. The transformer was used for neon lights.

Mills said the spark, driven by 20-30 mile an hour winds, apparently caught a wood awning above the transformer to catch fire, which quickly spread to the main building.

He said the rain probably was a factor in the short-circuit.

Students go beyond book knowledge

Students in Muleshoe High School's Child Growth and Development Class took learning one step above "book knowledge". When time came to study about designing and equipping a nursery and child's play room, they actually did it!

The students, under the leadership of their teacher, Carolyn Johnson completely redecorated the nursery and toddler rooms at the First United Methodist Church. A total of 39 students worked on the project which took approximately four weeks to complete.

"The project provided the students with hand-on experience in designing children's rooms for effectiveness," said Johnson. "It gave the students practice in basic skills such as measurements, fractions, group cooperation, and decorating concepts." She added.

In addition to painting the three rooms, students also refinished the furniture and equipment in the rooms.

"I learned that sanding and stripping furniture is harder work than it looks", said student Josh Alfaro. "It was worth it, though, knowing the children will benefit from the work we did."

According to Jennifer Patterson, her biggest lesson came from learning to work with others. "We all had our own ideas for the room and we learned to look at everyone's idea and comprise to reach a decision," she said. Carolyn Schuster added "I liked the way the whole class came together to complete the project on time. It brought more unity to our class."

As teacher, Carolyn Johnson agrees that the lessons learned from a project such as this are too numerous to list. She also agrees that students learn best by doing, by being actively involved in the learning process, and by having tangible evidence of their efforts.

The students work will be showcased Sunday, April 27th from 2 to 4 p.m. The First United Methodist Church is hosting an Open House to honor the hard work of the students and allow others to see their newly decorated rooms.

True Confession: I Married My Mother-in-Law!

I had an interesting experience last weekend. I got to perform my mother-in-law's wedding! That sort of thing just doesn't happen every day (unless you're Elizabeth Taylor's son-in-law). A neat time. A neat lady marrying a neat guy.

I've always liked the fact that Jesus' first miracle occurred not in a church, not in the midst of a religious assembly of priests and thefirst miracle was a joyous time. But I can't imagine it being moreso than last weekend's event. No twenty-something couple could have possibly been more giddy than these two normally level-headed and sedate seventy-year-olds. The usual wedding "joy" was there in full force. But so was much more, not because of age but because of commitment.

This, I realized, is not a marriage that anyone is entering into with fingers crossed and breath held hoping against hope that it might work. It will work. No one has to wonder if immaturity or self-centeredness on either side will raise its ugly head and defeat this marriage. It will not. I'd bet the farm on it.

Why? Because the quality of the lives and love of these two for all of their lives shows that they are truly united in their love for another, that they love their Lord even more than they love each other, and that by doing so they love others and themselves in the best way. Faith has never been something they mouth; it has been something they live.

And so we all gathered last Saturday, family and friends. And we witnessed a wonderful thing happening, a very good thing. As God once said, "It is not good for man to be alone," we agreed. As the Father of us all once backed up, took a look at his finished creation, and pronounced, "It is good," we beheld the love of two people we love, and we said, "This is good." And the water turned to wine once more.

ologians, but at a wedding, a joyous gathering of good friends and family sharing life and love and joy. He worked another miracle, you know, by choosing to work the first at a wedding. Wordlessly, he said clearly that in God's mind there is no division between our worship and our work, our prayers and our play, that God cares about every part of our lives, not just the "religious." Religion divorced from life is the sort we'd be better off without. What Christ did at a wedding he can do in our lives. He turns water into wine. He makes the ordinary absolutely spectacular. He gives color to what is colorless, joy where there was despondence. He enjoys life with his friends and gives glory to God in the process.

Project cultivates goodwill

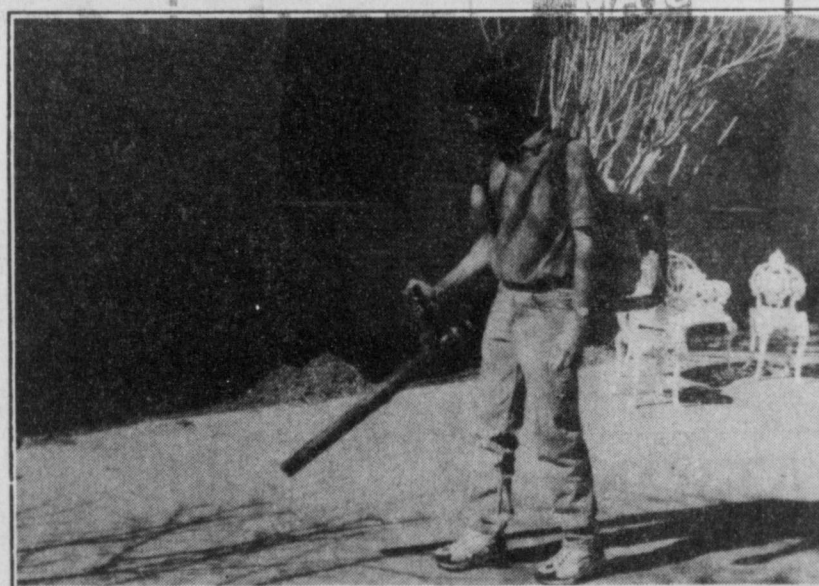

It was a phone call from Joyelline Costen, Chairmen of the Christmas Card Project to Carolyn Johnson, advisor of Muleshoe High School's Teen Leadership class that resulted in a newly landscaped garden area for the residents of the Muleshoe Area Healthcare Center. Costen had heard of the various community service projects the leadership students were conducting in Muleshoe. She proposed the garden project to Johnson.

"At the time, all of the classes had already decided on a project with the exception of one," said Johnson. "I knew the amount of work with the exception of one", said Johnson. "I knew the amount of work that would be involved and was sceptical that the students would feel comfortable with their ability to take on such a chore. But, I proposed it to the class and they selected it as a top priority."

Robert Shafer of Shafer's Nursery provided the plants and promised to work with the students to teach them what gardening skills they needed to know. The first meeting with Shafer was February 28th. After several days of hard work and gardening lessons and many days of uncooperative weather, the project is complete.

As you drive by the nursing home take time to look over and view the garden. Students participating in this service project were: Katie Black, Bobby Ellis, Rosemary Franco, Lisa Garcia, Danny Griswold, Esmeraldo Guerrero, and Maria Hernandez. Other participants include Keila Kennedy, Gerardo Loya, Kayla Magby, Margie Montiel, Tyson Purdy, Twyla Wagon, and Chanda Weatherbie.

MULESHOE AREA RETIRED TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

The Muleshoe Area Retired Teachers Association met Friday, April 18 in the Fellowship Hall of 16th and Ave. D Church of Christ. Following the refreshments served by the hostesses Maude Blaylock and Wilma Smith, Norma Prather introduced the speaker, Barbara Dykes. Mrs. Dykes is from the Attorney General Office in Lubbock.

Mrs. Dykes spoke on scams and frauds. Older citizens are most targeted for scams because they are more apt to be at home and are most available by telephone and usually have money.

Telephone scams are most used but home improvements are also used quite often. The easiest way to avoid the telephone scams is to hang up if the offer sounds too good to be true, because it usually is.

Home improvement offers should be checked through your local Chamber of Commerce. Never give your bank account number or credit card number over the phone unless you have initiated the call. Be sure the one doing the home improvements is not a "fly-by-night" worker.

These workers usually can not be reached if the work doesn't stand up to what was to be done.

After the program, Mary Nell Bleeker opened the business meeting. She announced that the Spring District XVII meeting will be held in Lubbock May 7. All officers were urged to attend as this will also be a training meeting for all incoming officers.

Lucy Faye Smith then gave a report on the Texas State Retired Convention that was held in Corpus Christi, April 10-12. Charles Dunlap, Executive Director of TRS spoke on the pending laws effecting the Retired Teacher of Texas. It was announced that retiree had given $58,640,543 worth of volunteer hours of work during the year of 1996. This was based on the hours turned into the state, but this was only the hours that were turned in for the report.

Grant Teaff was the main speaker for the convention. He was the head coach of the Baylor Bears. At the last general meeting, Glenna Burns, president of District XVII, gave the invitation to Lubbock for the convention in 1998. Muleshoe Chapter will be asked to help with this endeavor.

The meeting was attended by Mrs. Dykes and her mother, Mrs. Doris Thomas from Shallowater and the following members: Paulette Crawford, Norma Prather, Joyeline Costen, Margie Moore, Mary Nell Bleeker, Maude Blaylock, Letha Patterson, Wilma Smith, Lucy Faye Smith, Maxine Ragsdale and Beulah Mimms. The next meeting will be May 16 for a noon luncheon and installation of incoming officers for 1997-98.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

"SING UNTO THE LORD!"

THE BOOK OF PSALMS RECORDS THE ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY HYMNS WHICH WERE SUNG IN THE TEMPLE IN JERUSALEM. THE MEN WHO SANG THEM WERE ALL LEVITES, AS WERE THE PRIESTS....

PRIMARYLY, THE CHORISTERS ARE LISTED AS SONS AND DESCENDANTS OF ASAPH, HEMAN, AND JEDUTHUN, CHARGED WITH THE RESPONSIBILITY OF CONDUCTING THE MUSIC AND SINGING DURING THE SERVICES HELD IN THE TEMPLE. HARPS, PSALTERIES, AND CYMBALS WERE THE INSTRUMENTS USED TO ACCOMPANY THE SINGERS AND, ALONG WITH HYMNS OF PRAISE, PRAYERS OF THANKSGIVING, AND PLEAS FOR DIVINE HELP AND FORGIVENESS, IT WAS EXPECTED THAT THE CHORISTERS WOULD ALSO PROPHESY IN SONG WHENEVER SUCH A NEED WAS DEEMED NECESSARY!

DeShazo fourth-grader Erin Gallman has her world turned upside down during recess Wednesday. Rain is expected to continue through the weekend before clearing Monday.

held on May 4 so that more people can attend.

"We want local people to not have to go out of town to find something to do," Montez said.

The Comite Patriotico will bring in a ballet folklorico from Lubbock to perform traditional Hispanic dances.

Montez said there will also be numerous booths set up selling traditional Mexican foods. In past years, some booths have also sold caps, t-shirts and toys.

Plans are also in the works for a possible auto show, which will feature "low rider" vehicles.

Montez said he has spoken with car owners from Clovis, Lubbock and Albuquerque who have expressed an interest to participate with local car owners in the show.

The City of Muleshoe has agreed to close East 6th Street between Avenue D and E so car owners can display their vehicles.

The City has also given Comite Patriotico $750 to advertise the festival. The money was derived from the hotel/motel tax fund, which is used by the City to promote tourism in Muleshoe.

Wheat

had the potential to yield 65 million bushels.

Maturing crops were in a vulnerable growth stage when overnight temperatures plunged into the lows 20s and teens from April 10-12.

Younger wheat was less impervious to the chill.

The good news for Texas growers is that prices are strong, hovering in the $5 per bushel range. Plus, disastrous flooding in the Dakotas and shorter foreign supplies are expected to keep prices high.

Bean estimates irrigated wheat losses at 30-40 percent and dryland wheat at 40-50 percent.

He said fields that were heavily irrigated just before the freeze typically sustained most stem damage.

Most of the 50,000 acres of wheat planted in Bailey County annually is used for grazing cattle and not harvested.

"The weather still needs to warm up so we can fully assess the damage," Preston said.

TAAS testing begins this week

Many area students will begin the latest round of Texas Assessment of Academic Skill (TAAS) testing this week.

Muleshoe, Three Way and Lazbuddie students in grades 3-8 begin testing Tuesday and continue through the week.

In addition, any high school seniors who have not passed any portion of the exit level test will be given an opportunity for retests.

Passing all sections of the exit level TAAS test is required before a student can graduate from any Texas public high school.

School officials encourage parents to help their students prepare for the test by providing a good night's rest the night before the test.

Parents should avoid scheduling other appointments for their students on days they will be testing. No opportunities are given for making up tests.

Culwell preserves Tulia's 6-2 win

Nathan Culwell makes falling behind against Tulia fatal.

The hard-throwing right-hander pitched three innings of one-hit relief and struck out seven Tuesday, preserving Tulia's 6-2 win over Muleshoe in a District 1-3A game at the city baseball field.

Too late

Daniel Gibson beats the tag of Muleshoe pitcher Jeffrey Wheeler to score Tulia's fifth run Tuesday during a District 1-3A game at the city field. Gibson scored on a wild pitch.

Trailing 2-0, Tulia scored five runs in the fifth inning, then turned the ball over to Culwell.

After mowing down the Mules in order in the fifth, Culwell allowed a leadoff triple to Matt McClanahan in the sixth. Culwell stranded McClanahan by striking out the side.

Tulia (10-4 overall) improved to 9-2 in the district, while the loss virtually eliminated any hope Muleshoe (8-10, 4-6) had of squeezing into the district's second playoff slot.

Muleshoe coach Brad Hill said having an overpowering pitcher like Culwell, who throws in the mid to upper 80s, is a huge edge. "It puts pressure on you to score early," Hill said. "Handing over the lead to Culwell is something they've been doing all year, and it's been successful."

Muleshoe starter Jeffrey Wheeler deserved a better fate. Wheeler (5-3) held the Hornets hitless through four innings. But the Hornets loaded the bases with two walks and a single with one out in the fifth. Culwell tied the score when he ripped a 1-2 fastball past a diving Larry Pineda at second base.

Lady Mule golfers solid 8th at regionals

ODESSA — Muleshoe was nothing if not consistent at the Region 1-3A girls golf tournament at Ratliff Ranch Links.

The Lady Mules started and finished Wednesday's final round in the same spot — tied for eighth.

Along the way, the Lady Mules switched partners.

Tied with Colorado City after the first round, Muleshoe shot a 411 Wednesday and finished the 36-hole tournament tied with West at 820. Muleshoe carded a 409 in the first round.

Abilene Wylie was the runaway winner after a scorching final round of 342 on the links style course that features huge, undulating greens and more than 70 sand traps.

Wylie finished with a two-day total of 709. Monahans was second at 731.

Junior Keisha Whitt shot a final-round 89 and led the District 1-3A champion Lady Mules at 182. Sophomore Nikki Sutton slipped a little in the second round and finished at 197.

This year's team score was 71 strokes better than last year, when the Lady Mules finished

REGION 1-3A GOLF

13th in their first-ever regional appearance.

District runner-up Tulia carded a 408 Wednesday and finished 10th at 828.

River Road's Sarah Valdez was the medalist with a 79-77-156.

Michael Martin of Jacksboro was the boys medalist with a four-under-par 140.

Muleshoe senior Kyle Embry, competing as an individual, shot an 80 Wednesday, finishing with a two-day total of 156. Embry started the day six strokes off the lead.

Embry was making his fourth-straight regional appearance after finishing runner-up at the District 1-3A tournament.

Abilene Wylie also won the boys title, carding a 608. District 1-3A champion Tulia finished second at 619.

Cory Mahaney finished third overall for the Hornets with a three-over 147.

Tulia won the state title two years ago.

District runner-up Perryton finished 14th.

LETTER OF THANKS

We wish to thank our family and friends for their love and concern, their many acts of kindness, the beautiful flowers and memorials, food, calls, cards and especially their prayers during the illness and death of our loved one,
Walter Leroy Hauson.

Words cannot express the love and appreciation we feel for Glendell Smith, Chaplain of Baptist St. Anthony's Hospital. His visits, his prayers and his love have given comfort and strength to our family from the time Walt was first hospitalized on Jan. 13, 1997. We would, also, like to extend a special thanks to the staff and volunteers of St. Anthony's Hospice for their loving care, comfort and support. They sustained us through a very difficult time, as did the nurses on the eighth floor of Baptist St. Anthony's Hospital.

Thanks to Jack and Debbie Stone for the beautiful way they rendered Walt's favorite songs. Thanks to Barbara Lust and the ladies of the Lazbuddie Methodist Church, who so graciously prepared and served the lunch on the day of the funeral. Thanks to Todd Ellis, and the staff of Ellis Funeral Home, who did all that needed to be done, in such a thoughtful and caring manner.

This kind and gentle man has left us, and he will be greatly missed. Another piece of West Texas history and spirit is gone. He served his country well, for four years in World War II, and he returned to serve as an example of determination, hard work, and devotion to his family and to this small part of the world. We have so many wonderful memories to cherish. Your expressions of love, so much love, will be treasured forever. Continue to remember us in your prayers, even as we let the healing in our hearts begin. May God richly bless each one of you.
