MUNDAY HEAD COACH STEVE GIDEON gives out pregame pointers to the Moguls Friday night. Munday played a tough defensive game against the Petrolia Pirates by holding them to 78 yards total offense. The Pirates had 39 rushes for 54 yards and completed 1 pass for 24 yards, 3 passes were intercepted and 2 fumbles recovered by the Moguls. Munday will play at Throckmorton this Friday night.

Moguls roll by Pirates 32 to 7

The Munday Moguls bounced back from last week's loss to roll past the Petrolia Pirates 32 to 7.

The Moguls defense worked in the first quarter to push the Pirates back to their own 19. Munday forced a short punt out of bounds at the Pirate 29. Bronco Flye ran the ball on the next two plays on runs of 27 and 2 for the Mogul touchdown. The PAT failed and Munday was on top 6-0.

Petrolia received the kick-off and then moved the ball up to their 43 and then was forced to punt. Munday received the ball and a penalty pushed them back to their own 38. On the next play with great blocking by the offense, Bronco Flye worked through the defense and then sprinted 62 yards as the clock ran out for the first quarter. The PAT by Junior Perez increased the Munday lead 13-0.

Only 15 seconds ticked away in the second before the Moguls scored again. On the first play of Petrolia's next drive, Bronco Flye intercepted a Pirate pass at mid-field. Flye then returned it 48 yards for the touchdown. The score was now 19 to 0 and would remain there until the end of the half.

Petrolia came out ready in the third. The Moguls received the kick-off but soon were forced to punt at their own 15. The punt rush by the Pirates blocked the kick and Petrolia took over at the Mogul 3 yard line. Eric Grover then punched in for the Pirate touchdown with 9:39 left in the third. Cody Cope kicked the PAT and the score became 19 to 7.

After trading a punt with the Pirates, Munday took over at their own 36. Averaging 8.5 yards a carry, the Moguls marched down the field to the Pirate 9. Jason Hise then ran in for the touchdown. A two point conversion failed but the Moguls increased their lead 25-7.

Mid-way through the fourth, Petrolia had the ball at the Mogul 46. Bronco Flye intercepted another pass to claim the ball for Munday. The Moguls were soon forced to punt but the Pirate receiver could not hold on to the ball and Nathan Kuehler recovered for Munday at Petrolia's 30 yard line.

Quarterback Chris Torres on the next play hit Donny Browning for a 27 yard pass gain. Gerald Taylor then rammed the ball for a 3 yard touchdown. Junior Perez kicked the PAT.

Munday held onto the 32 to 7 lead to claim their first victory of the season.

First annual Hospital Health Fair features exhibits, free screenings

Something new is coming to Knox County! On Saturday, September 17, Knox County Hospital hosts the first-ever Health Fair at the hospital. The event is scheduled for 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m., with almost 20 exhibitors offering free health screenings and health information.

"Those attending will receive all kinds of health care information, plus a variety of free health screenings," Stephen Kuehler, administrator of Knox County Hospital, said. "We are scheduled to have 'AeroCare,' Lubbock Methodist Hospital's medical evacuation helicopter, land sometime during the health fair, Kuehler added. "This is always a treat for the young and old alike."

"The Hospital's nursing department will be offering free video printing for area children, Kuehler said. "We certainly pray that it never happens," Kuehler said, "but a current video print is really beneficial to authorities in the event of a lost child." Parents wishing to have their children videotaped for security reasons should bring a blank video tape to the health fair.

Health screenings available for those attending include blood pressure, cholesterol, 2-line EKG, blood sugar, pulse, height and weight, and oxygen concentration in the blood stream. There will also be a drawing for a free health profile which will include a blood profile, EKG and chest x-ray, valued over $250.00.

Exhibitors at the Fair will give out information and answer questions. Organizations exhibiting include the Outreach Health Services/WIC division, Lifegift Organ Donation, Rural Home Health of Texas, Outreach Health Services, Comerstone Home Health, Texas Department of Health, Wichita Falls Rehabilitation Hospital, Medplex Home Health, Knox County Sheriff's Office, Knox County 911, AeroCare, the American Cancer Society, the American Heart Association, Brazos Valley Care, Munday Nursing Center, Noah Project, and the Knox County EMS.

"Part of Knox County Hospital's mission is to serve as a resource for good health information for the community. The health fair is one way we can provide this information in an enjoyable format," Kuehler said.

David Wilde is 'seeing the world' with the Marines

Marine Cpl. David A. Wilde, son of Robert and Patsy Beck of Munday, is midway through a six-month deployment to the Western Pacific and Indian Oceans with the 15th Marine Expeditionary Unit, Camp Pendleton, California, embarked with the four-ship USS Tripoli Amphibious Ready Group (ARG).

In addition to participating in amphibious landing exercises and serving as a crisis response force, Wilde and the 15th Marine Expeditionary Unit (MEU) has visited Hong Kong, Singapore and Kenya, where they participated in many humanitarian and charitable projects.

In Singapore, 15 sailors and Marines gave up a rare day off from work to aid the Boys Brigade in laying a foundation for a bicycle path. The Boys Brigade, the Singapore equivalent of the Boy Scouts of America, has no funding and depends on volunteer efforts to accomplish its various projects.

After leaving Singapore, Wilde traveled to Mombasa, Kenya, to support the U.S. humanitarian assistance to Rwanda. The humanitarian effort, called Operation Support Hope, includes the task of transferring food and supplies to that troubled region.

Mobile and flexible, today's naval forces can deploy swiftly to remote areas. Whether helping build international coalitions or providing humanitarian assistance, the Navy-Marine Corps team can respond quickly to demonstrate U.S. power and resolve from the sea.

A 1991 graduate of Munday High School, Wilde joined the Marine Corps in December 1991.

THANKS FOR READING THE MUNDAY COURIER

The Christian Life

Jeff Christian - Minister

Munday Church of Christ

"But I just had to have it! I saw it and I knew I couldn't live without it!" How many times have you heard that one?

When my wife and I got married, everything I owned fit in the back seat of my car. Everything she owned took up about the same amount of space. The first piece of furniture I bought was a cheap bookshelf from Wal-Mart. But then we started buying stuff. That was two years ago.

Last month when we moved to Munday, we had to rent a U-Haul to bring up all of our "stuff". What happened? I got to thinking about it, and soon realized that we had collected so many things over the past couple of years that we did not even realize what was taking place. We would go to the store, and I would see something I "just had to have"; or Jen would see something she just "couldn't live without". But the more and more I thought about it, that one item that I just had to have now lives among my collection of stuff in a corner of the house. Maybe I did not need it after all?

So many people in the world today are disillusioned about the pleasure money brings. How many times have you heard someone say how much easier life would be if they could get a raise? How many times have I said that? Then it occurred to me that it is not how much money you have but how you view that money. (It may be easy for me to say that now since I don't have any children.) It seems to me that worldly things are just that... worldly. Sure, they bring pleasure for a little while. But when it comes down to the wire, only one thing will last. "The word and its desires pass away, but the one who does the will of God lives forever." 1 John 2:17.

Couple exchange vows in August 6 ceremony

Shawn Lee Reed and Alesha Dawn Rutherford were united in marriage Saturday, August 6, 1994, in a double ring ceremony at the First United Methodist Church in Knox City. Reverend Phil McClendon of Stamford officiated.

Parents of the bride are J. B. and Sharon Rutherford of Stamford. She is the granddaughter of Truman Cypert of Munday. The bridegroom is the son of Jim Reed and Marianne Reed of Levelland. Grandparents are L. D. and Wanda Coats, and Howard and Fern Maddera, all of Levelland.

The wedding ceremony was performed before brass candelabras adorned with teal and burgundy satin bows and English ivy. A pair of large brass stands of teal, burgundy, and mauve flowers stood just outside of the candelabras. On the altar, a white unity candle was placed, decorated with teal, burgundy and mauve ribbons with pearls and miniature roses. The couple's mothers lit decorated teal tapers. Also on the altar was a family Bible trimmed in an ivory lace cover which belonged to the bride's late paternal grandparents.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore an off-the-shoulder formal gown of satin featuring a dramatic portrait collar detailed with Alencon lace, sequins, and pearls. Long, fitted, illusion sleeves were accented with lace cutouts, sequins and pearls. The gown had a fitted bodice with a princess waistline, and a full skirt embellished with illusion cutouts, sequins and pearls which fell into a scalloped three point cathedral length train. A pearl tiara held an illusion pouf and chapel length veil.

The bride carried an opulent cascade of white open roses with bridal white roses used as the outline. They were nestled in white babies breath and highland heather in shades of mauve. Trailing English ivy created an ankle length cascade.

Following tradition, she carried a crocheted pair of gloves belonging to her great great maternal grandmother for something old; something new was her wedding attire; something borrowed were pearl earrings worn by her mother on her wedding day; and something blue was her garter made by her sister-in-law, Elaine Rutherford. Pennies minted in the years of the couple's birth were placed in her shoes for good luck.

Elaine Rutherford of Sulphur

Springs, was Matron of Honor. Bridesmaids were Hanna Williams of Lubbock, Jacy Dillon and Brandi Risinger, both of Abilene. They wore ankle length dresses of teal satin featuring a sweetheart neckline, basque waists, and shirred sleeves. A keyhole back was accentuated with a bow and strands of pearls. Each carried bouquets of teal, burgundy and mauve flowers, baby's breath, pearls and satin ribbon.

Anne Rutherford of Fort Worth, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a floral dress of teal, burgundy and mauve, accented with an ivory sash, and carried a basket of rose petals and ribbon.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo, white shirt, black cummerbund and bow tie. His boutonniere was a sweetheart bridal white rose with heather and English ivy, which complimented the bride's bouquet.

Matt Reed of Levelland, brother of the groom, was Best Man. Groomsmen were Brian Sellers of Lubbock, Craig Black and Brad Pitts, both of Levelland. Lucas Brink, cousin of the groom, was ring bearer. Ushers for the guests were Jay Rutherford of Fort Worth and Steve Rutherford of Sulphur Springs, brothers of the bride. Each wore black tuxedos, white shirts, black cummerbunds, and black bow ties.

As the mothers were seated, Wind Beneath My Wings was played. Organist Dottie Lowery played the Wedding March. As the ceremony began, the bride sang When I Fall In Love to the groom. During the ceremony, I. O. U. by Lee Greenwood was played. As the couple lit the unity candle, I'll Still Be Loving You was also performed by the bride. At the closing of the ceremony, soloist Jenny McClendon sang The Lord's Prayer.

Registering guests was Stephanie Mann of Levelland. Christi Currington and Amanda Johnson, both of Levelland, handed out programs.

A formal reception was hosted by the bride's parents in the fellowship hall of the church following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a burgundy satin table cloth. Serving as the centerpiece was a three-tier wedding cake decorated with teal, burgundy, and mauve flowers and pearls, and English ivy, in between each layer. A crystal candle holder, belonging to the bride's late maternal grandmother, Allene Cypert, was placed on the table beside the cake and the bridal bouquet was laid directly in front of the candle holder. Guests were served from silver and crystal appointments by Cary Michaels and Casey Rister, both of Levelland.

Rice bags were handed out by Audrey Rutherford of Fort Worth.

niece of the bride, and Dylan Rutherford of Sulphur Springs, nephew of the bride.

The bridegroom's mother hosted a rehearsal dinner at the Branding Iron in Rochester on Friday.

The bride is a 1993 graduate of Levelland High School and is currently a sophomore at South Plains College in Levelland, majoring in Elementary Education. The bridegroom is a 1992 graduate of Levelland High School and a 1994 graduate of South Plains College. He will transfer to Texas Tech University in the fall and major in food technology. He is currently employed by NTS Communications in Levelland.

Following their honeymoon, the couple now reside in Levelland.

A bridal shower was given at the home of Laurie Williams in Levelland on Saturday, July 16, and at the home of Susie Ray in Rutherford, sister-in-law of the bride, at the Olive Garden in Abilene on August 5.

There's a message in how you act and how you live.

Pathways

by Randy White, Pastor
First Baptist Church

Every so often we hear a news report about the decaying infrastructure of our transportation system. Most alarming is the news about our bridges, many of them in need of great repairs. Scores of bridges were built decades ago and have not been updated since. When we see these reports, we drive over bridges with a slight sense of apprehension.

But our society has an even more dangerous area of infrastructure decay. This is in the area of family. For two to three decades now, the family has been in great need of serious repairs.

If the family system should collapse, our country will collapse as well. No country is stronger than its families. Families provide the grit that keeps countries strong.

Would you repair and build up your family? It's time for families to get back to the good 'ole days. These were the days when dads cared for and spent time with their kids, when moms and dads put their marriage above all other priorities outside of faith, when discipline was healthy, when going to church was a given, when a meal without prayer was unthought of, when kids were taught respect for their elders.

Let's get back to the good 'ole days! What can you do? First, make your marriage work. Don't compromise in the area of your relationship with your spouse. Second, make spiritual matters a priority in the home. Third, get your family in church. These three things will make a world of difference in your home.

"Lord, help me to rebuild family life in my home and community. Amen."

It's a great day to be a farmer.

Make it a safe one.

Blue sky. Warm sun. Bumper crop. Days like today make you glad that you're a farmer.

Unfortunately, all too many great days like this one are ruined by accidents. Rollovers, runovers and PTO accidents continue to be the leading causes of tractor-related fatalities.

But there are steps you can take to make your operation safer.

Adding rollover protection structures (ROPS), protective cover kits to discourage bypass starting and other guards and shields where needed, can help reduce your risk of injury or death in the event of an accident.

Stop by today. We have the equipment, parts and know-how to help you make today — and every day — a safe one.

August wedding unites two Munday graduates

Carlton Brett Bruce and Alicia Michelle Cook were united in marriage at 6:30 in the evening Saturday, August 20, 1994, at the First United Methodist Church in Munday. Don Whetsell, pastor, officiated the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie D. Cook of Munday. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Dorse Collins and Mrs. Mildred Cook, all of Munday, and the late J. T. Cook.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bruce of Munday. His grandparents are Mrs. Blanche A. Bruce of Dallas and the late Ivan Bruce and the late Bill and Louise Smith.

The center isle of the church sanctuary was festooned with garlands of iridescent tulle topped with bouquets of Stargazer lilies, gerbera daisies, dendrobium orchids, Queen Ann's lace, Montecarlo asters, alstroemeria, sprengerii fern and larkspur. Shaded bows coordinating with the bridesmaid dresses added a finishing touch to the aisle decorations.

Coordinating bows of sparkle tulle and ribbons were placed on

MRS. CARLTON BRETT BRUCE
...nee Alicia Rachele Cook

pillars on the outside aisle while crystal hurricane lamps lighted the stain glass windows on either side of the sanctuary. The altar rail was covered with baskets of Boston fern. Matching spiral candelabra adorned with Sparkle tulle and bows set with white candles and crystal prisms flanked the steps in front. The altar was appointed with matching candelabra centered with Boston fern and holding white candles. The kneeling bench was covered with white satin and decorated with bows.

Completing the setting were a pair of white columns with baskets of Boston fern. A large flower arrangement graced the top of the organ, with a candle tree and crystal prisms standing behind it.

The church decorations were designed by Perry Kuehler, owner of Buds for You, and Pat Smith.

Escorted down the isle by her father, the bride wore a beautiful gown of white taffeta with an open sweetheart neckline trimmed in pearls. The multi-layered short puffed sleeves were also trimmed in pearls. Hand beaded and sequined appliques of blooming roses adorned the basque bodice, full skirt, and train. A large appliqued bow topped the chapel length train.

The bride's headpiece was a band of pearls, sequins, and crystals which formed a halo of floral petals and looped pearls. The veil had a looped pouf and skimmed the train of her gown. She carried a hand tied bouquet of white and pink and white tipped Lisianthus, wax flower, and tree fern.

In keeping with tradition, the bride carried a lace-trimmed handkerchief of her great-grandmother's, Mrs. P.V. Williams, she wore a new wedding dress, a garter trimmed in blue, and a six pence in her shoe, belonging to her Aunt Charlotte Willson.

Angie Offutt served as Maid of Honor. She wore a two-piece, floor length suit made of a colorful brocaded material accented with pearl buttons. Bridesmaids were Robin Reneau, April Offutt, Mindy Myers, and Junior Bridesmaid Lindsay Lankford, cousin of the bride. They wore identical dresses like the Maid of Honor, and carried hand tied bouquets of tulips and tree fern.

The groom was attired in a black, Christian Dior tuxedo accented with a white bow tie and vest. His boutonniere as a white rose enhanced with stephanotis.

Jerry Wayne Branam served as Best Man. He was dressed in a black Christian Dior tuxedo accented with a black bow tie and vest. Groomsmen were Jeffery Bruce, brother of the groom, Jayson Morgan, Dwayne Redder, and Jeffry Cook, brother of the bride. They were attired identical to the Best Man.

Flower girl was Lauren Lankford and ring bearer was Daniel Earl, cousins of the bride. Brian Urbanczyk and Ambra Welch were candle lighters.

Ushers were Jeffery Herring, Perry Kuehler, Marty Earl and David Davis, cousins of the bride.

Special wedding music was provided by Ms. Becky Ratliff. Soloist Lyndle Reeves sang the Lords

Prayer, and was joined by Barbara Ratliff, Jan Williams, and Pat Smith in singing A Gift of Love.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Perry Patton Community Center. The bride's table held silver appointments, fresh flowers, and featured a four-layered butter cream cake accented with gum paste flowers in yellow, hot pink, pale pink, and peach and leaves of seafoam green.

The groom's table held a German chocolate cake decorated with fresh strawberries. Coffee was served from a silver Samovar, an antique heirloom of the bride's aunt, Evelyn Collins.

Serving the guests were Jae Jae Reneau, Missy Reneau, Brandy Branam, Bridgette Beaty, Chris Burnett, Heather King and Jenni Bowman.

Hostesses for the reception were Dorthy Tucker, Becky Offutt, Jean Reneau, Jan Wilde, Vickie Branam, Jessie Mae Johnson, Sue Duncan, Shirley Bowman, Shirley Gass, Joan Hutchinson, Jeanene Redder, Judy Burnett, Rosemary Bellinghausen, Sandra Earl, and Judy Wilde.

Wedding coordinators were Earlene Kuehler of Munday and Rick Kuehler of Dallas.

The groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner in the fellowship hall of the church on Friday August 19.

Prior to the wedding, the bride and groom were honored with numerous parties, including a bridal shower held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Baker, a backyard party hosted by Larry and Annelle Welch, a lingerie shower in the home of John and Jean Reneau, and a bridesmaid's luncheon hosted by Becky Offutt and Jean Reneau.

The bride and groom are both graduates of Munday High School. The bride attended Texas Tech University and graduated from Vernon Regional Junior College with a degree in office technology. The groom attended the University of Texas in Arlington and now attends Midwestern State University where he is a senior radiology student.

After a honeymoon trip to Las Vegas, the couple now reside in Abilene. Brett is taking his internship at Abilene Regional Hospital. Alicia is working as a legal secretary for three lawyers in Abilene.

From A Carpenter's Son

Don Whetsell - Pastor
First Methodist Church, Munday - Goree

I started back to school again for the fall. Midwestern is starting to get very crowded. It reminded me of my last semesters at Cameron University in Lawton, Ok.

I attended Cameron because of their large performing Arts program. They have always had a generous private foundation that provides money to all the various departments. Their performing arts and fine arts departments are all clustered together on campus around a large central courtyard. All the buildings sit right next to each other.

You could tell that the architect had visions of how all the departments would work together to create a place where all the arts could come together, and yet there is very little interaction between the students and faculty of one building with the students and faculty of another. The music people didn't associate with the theater people, the theater people didn't associate with the speech and broadcasting people, and none of the performing arts people associated with any of the fine arts people.

They were all engaged in the common act of using their God given talents and abilities to be creative and to inspire through whatever means they were familiar with, but they stayed as far away from one another as the computer club stayed from the ag majors! There was a great deal of mistrust and suspicion between the departments, and even open competition between them for the generous funding from the private foundation.

Why am I telling you this? What has this got to do with Munday, Texas? I'll tell you. This kind of division is present right here in our own town. We separate the rich from the poor, the white from the black, the black from the Hispanic. We separate the educated from the uneducated, the people in town from the people who live in the country. We even separate the people who have lived here all their lives from the people who are newcomers (lived here less than 15 years).

I suppose I could learn to tolerate that situation, but we have even let this separation into the body of Christ. We separate the old from the young, the youth from the college kids, the Baptist from the Methodist, and the protestant from the Catholic.

Let me back up just a little. I don't mean by all this that we shouldn't have different denominations or that everybody should be the same. The division comes not in the name of the organization or in its focus, but in the fear, suspicion, and mistrust between them, and I believe that all of us can agree that there is more than enough of that going on.

Twenty years of Christian struggle and Bible study have led me to the conclusion that there is really only one division in this world: people who know Jesus and people who should. I'm convinced that this is the way God sees us, and consequently the way we should view each other. Even with this division, we are told to be out in the world, just not of the world.

I'd like to encourage you to live out this Biblical principal by purposefully getting involved with people who are not like you. Step out of yourself and get a different view. Let the world know with your life that Jesus doesn't recognize all the divisions that are so common to us. This is what Jesus means when he says love your neighbor as yourself.

"For in Christ there is no longer any division between Jew or gentile, slave or free, civilized or barbaric, but Christ is all, and in all." - Colossians 3:11

Kuehler and Niell marry July 16 at Rhineland church

Denise Diane Kuehler and Gary Michael Niell were united in a 5:30 p.m. wedding ceremony on July 16 at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Rhineland. Rev. George Foley, church pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kuehler of Rhineland. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Niell of Seymour.

The altar setting featured twin candelabras entwined with English ivy. Boston ferns accented the base of each candelabra. The main altar was decorated with brass vases of amethyst tipped white peonies with amethyst bows. Greenery accented both sides of the main altar. The altar was covered with a white cloth and cross shaped votive candle sets. The unity candle was entwined with English ivy with Boston ferns at the base. Amethyst bows marked the pews. The church windows were decorated with hurricane globes, English ivy and amethyst candles.

Mrs. Nancy Wilde, organist, provided wedding music and accompanied a quartet consisting of Susan Gulley, sister of the bride, Belle Grill, Pat Smith and Lyndle Reeves, brother-in-law of the bride. They sang Our Sacred Pledge at the lighting of the unity candle and We Are One and We Remember during the ceremony. Lyndle also sang The Lord's Prayer during the ceremony. Nancy played The Rose for the seating of the mothers. The bride's mother was seated by her son, Joey Kuehler of Santanta, Kansas. The groom's mother was escorted by her son, David Niell of Seymour.

Nathan Kuehler and Kyle Myers were servers during the mass, and David Kuehler, brother of the bride, was lector.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a poly satin gown with Chantilly lace which featured a sweetheart neckline adorned with sequins and pearls. The Basque fitted bodice and long pointed Gibson sleeves were adorned with Chantilly lace, sequins and pearl beads. A heart-shaped keyhole accented the back of the bodice with hanging pearls. The full skirt was accented with a large satin bow accented with shimmering lace, sequins and pearls at the back waistline. The skirt extended to a cathedral train complemented with lace cutouts accented with sequins and pearls.

The bride's single tier poufed veil of white tulle, made by her mother, fell from a halo band of entwined iridescent beads with flowers and teardrop pearls. She carried a bouquet of amethyst and white roses complemented with English ivy, white forget-me-nots, seed pearls and cascading lace ribbon and iridescent beads.

For something old, the bride wore her great-great-grandmother's wedding ring. Something new was her dress. She borrowed her great-great-grandmother's ring from her mother and wore the traditional blue garter, made by her mother.

Kimberly Bowmer of Wichita Falls served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mary Jane Kuehler and Jeannette Reeves, both of Munday, and Ann Decker of Bryson, all sisters of the bride. They wore identical gowns of amethyst taffeta, featuring a sweetheart neckline and a high-low hemline. The keyhole back was accented with a bow. Amethyst shoes completed the ensemble. They wore halos of white flowers accented with amethyst forget-me-nots and white and amethyst bows and streamers. They carried amethyst tapers decorated with mini-bouquets of white roses, amethyst rosebuds and forget-me-nots, seed pearls, gypsophila and amethyst and white ribbon bows and streamers.

Laci Niell and Chad Niell of Seymour, niece and nephew of the groom, were candlelighters. Laci wore an amethyst print dress with sweetheart neckline and drop waist. She wore a wrist corsage of amethyst and white roses with forget-me-nots and beads. Chad wore black slacks, a white shirt and amethyst bow tie. He wore an amethyst boutonniere.

Tonya Decker and Sarah Reeves, nieces of the bride, were flower girls and were dressed identical to the candlelighter. They carried white wicker baskets of amethyst and white roses and forget-me-nots and seed pearls. Joseph Gulley, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer and was dressed identical to the candlelighter. He carried a white satin heart-shaped pillow, outlined in lace and accented with a mini-bouquet of amethyst roses, seed pearls and ribbon.

Bryan Holden served as best man, and groomsmen were Tom Copeland, Bubba Vita and Johnny Gann, all of Seymour. Ushering guests were David Niell, brother of the groom, David Kuehler and Joey Kuehler, brothers of the bride, and Mike Morgan. They wore black tuxedos with amethyst bow ties and cummerbunds and amethyst rose boutonnieres.

The groom wore a white tuxedo with tails, a white bow tie and cummerbund and a white rose boutonniere in his lapel.

Susan Gulley, sister of the bride, registered guests.

The bride's parents were hosts for the reception at the Knights of Columbus Hall. A white cloth accented with an amethyst square in center overlaid with a lace doily covered the bride's table. The bride's bouquet was reflected on a mirrored surface and flanked with crystal candleholders holding the candles carried by the bridesmaids. A white lattice backdrop was accented with English ivy and amethyst bows and streamers.

The three-tiered wedding cake was iced in white with white petunias with purple centers and topped with a blown glass heart with a pair of swans and accented with tulle, lace, ribbon and beads. Appointments were crystal and silver. Serving guests were Kathy Lee of Wichita Falls, Bernadette Moore of Rhineland and Deedee Peters of Seymour, sisters of the bride.

The groom's table was covered with a gray tablecloth. The centerpiece was a white wicker basket of white roses and amethyst lilaes accented with an amethyst ribbon with the names of the bride and groom in gold letters. A square chocolate cake was accented with the groom's initial "N" in fudge icing. A silver coffee service, belonging to the groom's great aunt, and silver mint trays adorned the table. A white lattice backdrop was accented with English ivy and an amethyst bow.

Serving guests were Judy Niell, sister-in-law of the groom and Jerri Ann Morgan, sister of the groom.

The groom's parents gave the rehearsal supper at Michels Corner Cafe in Munday.

The bride is a graduate of Munday High School and Midwestern State University. She is a member of the American Registry of Radiologic Technologists and the American Society of Radiologic Technologists. She is employed by Jackson County Memorial Hospital in Altus, Oklahoma.

The groom is a graduate of Seymour High School. He is a member of the Army Reserves and served in Desert Storm. He is employed by S & T Cattle Company of Munday.
