With the passing of the March 22 deadline for filing for local elections, candidates have drawn for the order in which their names will appear on the May 6 ballots.

Early voting begins April 17 and will end May 2.

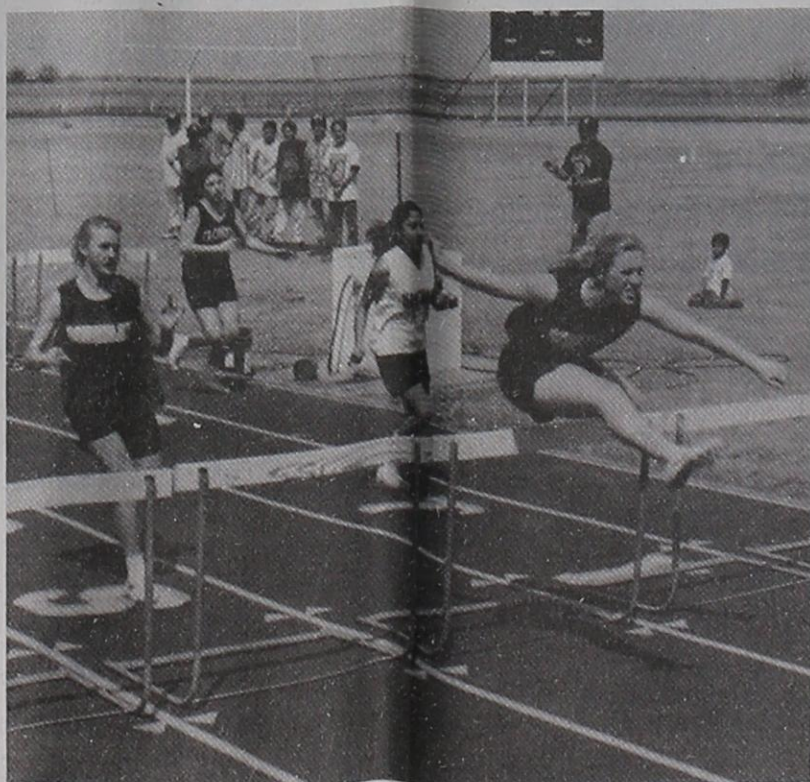

In the Goree School election three three-year trustee terms are up. The incumbents are running unopposed. They are Vickie Huffman, Mike Hernandez and Raymond Allen. One one-year term candidate is Dolan Moore and he is also unopposed.

In the City of Goree elections, running for Mayor unopposed is Jimmy Harlan. Four running for four places on the City Council are also unopposed. They are Ray Hudson, Trudy Trainham, Don Patterson and Solano Fernandez.

Munday City Council incumbents will also run unopposed. They are Gary Tidwell, Jessie Andrade and Sherri Morren.

The Munday ISD Board of Trustees is the only contested race. Three are running for two places on the board. They are David Key, Judy Lowe and Byron Gass.

CATHY NELSON strides over a hurdle last Saturday at the Greyhound meet in Knox City and was first in a time of 17.14. Heather Brown placed second in a time of 18.34. The Mogulettes won their third meet title with 187 points. Munday will run at Haskell this Saturday.

The annual Knox County Uniform Cotton Planting Date Meeting will be held Tuesday, April 11 at the Knight's of Columbus Hall in Rhineland. The 1995 meeting will begin with registration at 7:00 p.m. A fried catfish meal, sponsored by the Knox County Boll Weevil Association will begin at 7:15 p.m.

This year's guest speaker will be Dr. Carl Anderson, Professor and Extension Economist - Cotton Marketing, from Texas A&M University. Dr. Anderson will visit with the producers on current cotton market trends and evaluate how the 1995-96 cotton crop situation could develop.

The Cotton Planting Date Meeting was established to allow Knox County farmers the opportunity to gather and set a uniform cotton planting date. This is a vital part of boll weevil control here in the rolling plains. The dates on this year's ballot are May 15, May 22, and May 29.

Anyone is welcome to attend. Only Knox County cotton producers will be allowed to vote. Please RSVP by April 7 to the Knox County Extension office at 817-454-2651 so a proper head count can be given to the caterer.

This event is being sponsored by the Knox County Crops Committee, Knox County Marketing Club, Knox County Boll Weevil Association, and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Individuals with disabilities who require an auxiliary aid, service or accommodation in order to participate in this meeting are encouraged to contact Paul Weiser in the Knox County Extension office at 817-454-2651 to determine how reasonable accommodations can be made.

"These new services are some of cable's newest and most innovative programming, giving us the opportunity to expand the viewing options of our customers," he added.

The local telecommunications company conducted a customer survey requesting new programming preferences and the top four survey choices were added to their existing channel lineup. "Home Sports Entertainment, which officially becomes Prime Sports on April 4th, was the number one choice in our survey," Cagle said. "Texan's are serious about their sports and we're delighted to have the opportunity to offer this regional sports channel, featuring the Texas Rangers and the Dallas Mavericks, to our customers," Cagle added.

Harmon Cable is also working on plans for the next generation of telecommunication services, including upgrades of its cable system and digital delivery of cable service. "If there is a demand in the marketplace for enhanced communication products we will have the capability to provide them," Cagle said. Harmon Cable is providing all of its customers detailed information regarding system changes in the monthly billing statements.

RED CROSS BLOODMOBILE visited Munday on March 27 and fifty donors turned out for the trip. Jim Slayton and Glenn Herring sit steady in the saddle as they donate their pint of blood. This was a good turnout for Munday's blood drive but there is always room for more generous people at these drives.

Fifty blood donors attend Bloodmobile

The American Red Cross Bloodmobile came to Munday last Monday, March 27.

Fifty donors presented themselves to give blood. First time donors are always to be commended and we had two. They are Judy (Mrs. Jerry) Lowe and Julie Decker. Welcome aboard ladies. We are also proud to welcome Linda Wagner who drove over from Benjamin to donate for her first time in Munday.

The following were presented certificates for reaching their respective gallon marks: Alfred Kuehler, 7 gallons; Lois Richardson, 5 gallons; Byron Gass, 4 gallons; Charlie Pankhurst and Kathy Bowen, 3 gallons; and Michael Waggoner, 1 gallon.

Other donors include: Seven gallons plus, W. O. Smith; six plus, Tom Angerer; five plus, Leo Koenig, LaTrece Lane and LaRue Patton; four plus, Jessie Andrade, Bernard Brown, Floyd Reed, Sr. and Larry Tomlinson; three plus, Mary Jane Kuehler; two plus, Robert Elliot, Susan Gulley, Glenn Herring, Bud Hogan, Mary Huffman, Mary Murphy and James Williams; one plus, Brenda Brown, Garry Brown, Doug Donoho, Leona Elliott, Bob McWhorter and Brenda Smith.

Others who are working toward their first gallon mark are Dee Abell, Lee Bruce, Beverly Crowder, Allen Heard, Rosie Hernandez, Traci King, Dwayne Redder, Keith Rogers, Jim Slayton, Kirk Trooper and Judy Wilde.

The Bloodmobile canteen was laden with delicious sandwiches and cookies brought by the following:

Audrey Leflar, Dianna Bruce, Betty Ramirez, Dorothy Myers, Shirley Amerson, Mary Cartwright, Martha Andrade, Donna Cypert, Louise Fruehwirth and Penny Winchester.

Sue Bryan of the Ladies Firemen Auxiliary co-ordinated the canteen. Thanks ladies.

Faithful canteen workers who served the food and assisted donors included: Winters Matthews, Ida Oustad and Almeda Blair.

W. O. Smith registered donors and was responsible for publicity. James Merrell and Mickey Jackson of WTU stretched the banner across Main Street. Volunteer firemen, Bill Williams and Spike Bryan helped load the truck as it departed to Wichita Falls.

Brenda Smith, Bloodmobile Chairman, would like to thank each one who contributed to the successful blood drive. A single blood donation sustains more than one life as it can be separated into components and used to treat several patients. Remember "Blood is a gift of life". Wouldn't you like to come join us at the next visit scheduled for August 14, 1995?

If it's happening out there somewhere, The Munday Courier wants to know about it. If you are sponsoring an event, teaching a class, having a meeting, organizing a trip or just want people to know something, send your announcement to The Munday Courier, P.O. ## 22 indictments handed down in District Court

Another drug sale indictment related to the recent investigation by the North Texas Regional Drug Task Force was handed down last Wednesday, March 29, 1995, by the Knox County Grand Jury, according to District Attorney Bill Neal.

Willie Dockins, 33, of Munday was indicted on two counts of delivery of cocaine for allegedly selling cocaine on two occasions to an undercover informant.

A Baylor County Grand Jury handed down 22 drug related indictments against 21 individuals at its last session on March 3, 1995, following a nine-month coordinated investigation between the North Texas Regional Drug Task Force, Sheriff Jerry Barton and the Baylor County Sheriff's Department and District Attorney Neal's office.

The evidence obtained during their investigation lead officers to expand this investigation into Knox County with the cooperation of Knox County Sheriff Mike Carlson and his department. This, in turn, according to Neal, led to the drug delivery indictment last Wednesday against Willie Dockins.

In addition, District Attorney Neal used the drug deliveries alleged against Willie Dockins in his indictment as the basis of a Motion to Revoke Probation against Dockins. Dockins was on a three-year probation at the time for the offense of possession of marijuana.

According to Neal, a hearing has been set in the Baylor County District Court for Thursday, April 13, 1995, when the State will present evidence of alleged violations of the terms of Dockins' probation and seek to have his probation revoked and have him sentenced to a term in the penitentiary.

If the Court revokes Dockins' probation he could be sentenced to not more than 10 years or less than 2 years in the penitentiary.

"I am very pleased with the results of this drug investigation, and intend to give highest priority to prosecuting these drug cases," Neal stated.

"On A Wizer Note"

By Paul Weiser,
Knox County Extension Agent - Agriculture

According to the Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA's) Worker Protection Standard (WPS), every agricultural worker and handler must be trained. Criteria for worker training includes: where and in what form chemicals will be used, chemical hazards, ways chemicals may enter the body, symptoms of pesticide poisoning, first aid, how to obtain emergency medical help, emergency decontamination procedures, hazards from chemigation and drift, hazards from pesticide residues on clothing, warnings about taking pesticide containers home, and an explanation of the WPS requirements designed to protect workers.

Information to be included in handler training: pesticide labeling, pesticide hazards, appropriate use of personal protective equipment, heat-related illness problems, safety requirements, environmental concerns, an explanation of WPS requirements that handler employers must follow, and most of the criteria used for training workers.

Who is a worker? Who is a handler? A worker, as defined for WPS, is anyone who (1) is employed (including self-employed) for any type of compensation and (2) is doing tasks, such as harvesting, weeding, or watering, relating to the production of agricultural plants on a farm, forest, nursery or greenhouse. This does not include persons who are employed by a commercial establishment to perform tasks as crop advisors.

A pesticide handler is anyone who: (1) is employed (including self-employed) for any type of compensation by an agricultural establishment or a commercial pesticide handling establishment that uses pesticides in the production of agricultural plants on a farm, forest, nursery or greenhouse, and (2) is doing any of the following tasks: mix, load, transport, or apply pesticides; handle open pesticide containers; works as a flagger; clean, handle, adjust or repair any type of pesticide equipment; assist with pesticide application (including incorporating pesticides into the soil after application); entering a greenhouse after application (some restrictions apply here); entering an area where soil fumigants were used; performing crop advisor tasks; and disposing of pesticides or pesticide containers.

This is a very shortened version of the worker/handler training requirements. EPA has a booklet called "The Worker Protection Standard for Agricultural Pesticides - How to Comply, What Employers Need to Know". This booklet, along with other training materials may be ordered. Please remember that the word pesticide refers to chemicals such as herbicides, insecticides, fungicides, fumigants, rodenticides, etc.

For those who will be training handlers or workers, each of these individuals must be issued a card - green for one, blue for the other. These cards can be ordered by contacting the Texas Department of Agriculture Regional Office in Lubbock at 806-799-8555.

If you have any questions regarding WPS, please do not hesitate in contacting the Knox County Extension office in Benjamin at 817-454-2651.

RED CROSS BLOODMOBILE visited Munday on March 27 and fifty donors turned out for the trip. Jim Slayton and Glenn Herring sit steady in the saddle as they donate their pint of blood. This was a good turnout for Munday's blood drive but there is always room for more generous people at these drives.

Fifty blood donors attend Bloodmobile

The American Red Cross Bloodmobile came to Munday last Monday, March 27.

Fifty donors presented themselves to give blood. First time donors are always to be commended and we had two. They are Judy (Mrs. Jerry) Lowe and Julie Decker. Welcome aboard ladies. We are also proud to welcome Linda Wagner who drove over from Benjamin to donate for her first time in Munday.

The following were presented certificates for reaching their respective gallon marks: Alfred Kuehler, 7 gallons; Lois Richardson, 5 gallons; Byron Gass, 4 gallons; Charlie Pankhurst and Kathy Bowen, 3 gallons; and Michael Waggoner, 1 gallon.

Other donors include: Seven gallons plus, W. O. Smith; six plus, Tom Angerer; five plus, Leo Koenig, LaTrece Lane and LaRue Patton; four plus, Jessie Andrade, Bernard Brown, Floyd Reed, Sr. and Larry Tomlinson; three plus, Mary Jane Kuehler; two plus, Robert Elliot, Susan Gulley, Glenn Herring, Bud Hogan, Mary Huffman, Mary Murphy and James Williams; one plus, Brenda Brown, Garry Brown, Doug Donoho, Leona Elliott, Bob McWhorter and Brenda Smith.

Others who are working toward their first gallon mark are Dee Abell, Lee Bruce, Beverly Crowe, Allen Heard, Rosie Hernandez, Traci King, Dwayne Redder, Keith Rogers, Jim Slayton, Kirk Trosper and Judy Wilde.

The Bloodmobile canteen was laden with delicious sandwiches and cookies brought by the following:

Audrey Leflar, Dianna Bruce, Betty Ramirez, Dorothy Myers, Shirley Amerson, Mary Cartwright, Martha Andrade, Donna Cypert, Louise Fruehwirth and Penny Winchester.

Sue Bryan of the Ladies Firemen Auxiliary co-ordinated the canteen. Thanks ladies.

Faithful canteen workers who served the food and assisted donors included: Winters Matthews, Ida Oustad and Almeda Blair.

W. O. Smith registered donors and was responsible for publicity. James Merrell and Mickey Jackson of WTU stretched the banner across Main Street. Volunteer firemen, Bill Williams and Spike Bryan helped load the truck as it departed to Wichita Falls.

Brenda Smith, Bloodmobile Chairman, would like to thank each one who contributed to the successful blood drive. A single blood donation sustains more than one life as it can be separated into components and used to treat several patients. Remember "Blood is a gift of life". Wouldn't you like to come join us at the next visit scheduled for August 14, 1995?

If it's happening out there somewhere, The Munday Courier wants to know about it. If you are sponsoring an event, teaching a class, having a meeting, organizing a trip or just want people to know something, send your announcement to The Munday Courier, P.O. # 22 indictments handed down in District Court

Another drug sale indictment related to the recent investigation by the North Texas Regional Drug Task Force was handed down last Wednesday, March 29, 1995, by the Knox County Grand Jury, according to District Attorney Bill Neal.

Willie Dockins, 33, of Munday was indicted on two counts of delivery of cocaine for allegedly selling cocaine on two occasions to an undercover informant.

A Baylor County Grand Jury handed down 22 drug related indictments against 21 individuals at its last session on March 3, 1995, following a nine-month coordinated investigation between the North Texas Regional Drug Task Force, Sheriff Jerry Barton and the Baylor County Sheriff's Department and District Attorney Neal's office.

The evidence obtained during their investigation lead officers to expand this investigation into Knox County with the cooperation of Knox County Sheriff Mike Carlson and his department. This, in turn, according to Neal, led to the drug delivery indictment last Wednesday against Willie Dockins.

In addition, District Attorney Neal used the drug deliveries alleged against Willie Dockins in his indictment as the basis of a Motion to Revoke Probation against Dockins. Dockins was on a three-year probation at the time for the offense of possession of marijuana.

According to Neal, a hearing has been set in the Baylor County District Court for Thursday, April 13, 1995, when the State will present evidence of alleged violations of the terms of Dockins' probation and seek to have his probation revoked and have him sentenced to a term in the penitentiary.

If the Court revokes Dockins' probation he could be sentenced to not more than 10 years or less than 2 years in the penitentiary.

"I am very pleased with the results of this drug investigation, and intend to give highest priority to prosecuting these drug cases," Neal stated.

"On A Wizer Note"

By Paul Weiser,
Knox County Extension Agent - Agriculture

According to the Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA's) Worker Protection Standard (WPS), every agricultural worker and handler must be trained. Criteria for worker training includes: where and in what form chemicals will be used, chemical hazards, ways chemicals may enter the body, symptoms of pesticide poisoning, first aid, how to obtain emergency medical help, emergency decontamination procedures, hazards from chemigation and drift, hazards from pesticide residues on clothing, warnings about taking pesticide containers home, and an explanation of the WPS requirements designed to protect workers.

Information to be included in handler training: pesticide labeling, pesticide hazards, appropriate use of personal protective equipment, heat-related illness problems, safety requirements, environmental concerns, an explanation of WPS requirements that handler employers must follow, and most of the criteria used for training workers.

Who is a worker? Who is a handler? A worker, as defined for WPS, is anyone who (1) is employed (including self-employed) for any type of compensation and (2) is doing tasks, such as harvesting, weeding, or watering, relating to the production of agricultural plants on a farm, forest, nursery or greenhouse. This does not include persons who are employed by a commercial establishment to perform tasks as crop advisors.

A pesticide handler is anyone who: (1) is employed (including self-employed) for any type of compensation by an agricultural establishment or a commercial pesticide handling establishment that uses pesticides in the production of agricultural plants on a farm, forest, nursery or greenhouse, and (2) is doing any of the following tasks: mix, load, transport, or apply pesticides; handle open pesticide containers; works as a flagger; clean, handle, adjust or repair any type of pesticide equipment; assist with pesticide application (including incorporating pesticides into the soil after application); entering a greenhouse after application (some restrictions apply here); entering an area where soil fumigants were used; performing crop advisor tasks; and disposing of pesticides or pesticide containers.

This is a very shortened version of the worker/handler training requirements. EPA has a booklet called "The Worker Protection Standard for Agricultural Pesticides - How to Comply, What Employers Need to Know". This booklet, along with other training materials may be ordered. Please remember that the word pesticide refers to chemicals such as herbicides, insecticides, fungicides, fumigants, rodenticides, etc.

For those who will be training handlers or workers, each of these individuals must be issued a card - green for one, blue for the other. These cards can be ordered by contacting the Texas Department of Agriculture Regional Office in Lubbock at 806-799-8555.

If you have any questions regarding WPS, please do not hesitate in contacting the Knox County Extension office in Benjamin at 817-454-2651.

Facts About Rabies

by Chief Tejeda

Each year many cases of rabies develop among Texas wildlife and domestic animals. Rabies is a disease of over population. It thrives where there is an abundance of animals, as is the case in Munday and the entire county.

Rabies, sometimes called "hydrophobia" is a virus disease of the central nervous system. The word hydrophobia, meaning, "fear of water", was used because of rabid animals aversion to water. Actually the animal is not afraid of the water, but because of throat paralysis caused by the rabies the animal cannot swallow which causes saliva to accumulate in the throat and drools from the corners of the mouth, giving the impression of mad-dog foam. The disease can be transmitted by the bite of a rabid animal, or through the saliva of a rabid animal being introduced into a fresh scratch or skin break.

Rabies is most common in July and August, but can occur throughout the entire year in both wild and domestic animals. A common distribution pattern is for a rabid fox or skunk to bite and infect a dog or cat during a fearless invasion into a community.

The disease develops in the domestic animals along with the threat of their transferring the infection to other pets and perhaps humans. Children, because of their closer association with the pets, are most often the human victims. This rapid spread is possible only in non-vaccinated pets. All dogs and cats over four months old should be vaccinated annually. (Ref. City Ordinance).

The course of the disease is divided into 3 stages: incubation, clinical signs and paralysis terminating in death.

The incubation period is usually 3 to 8 weeks. Medical authorities distinguish on the basis of clinical signs, between "furious" and "dumb" rabies.

In the furious variety, the "mad dog" symptoms are pronounced. The animal is irritable and will snap and bite at real or imaginary objects. It may run for miles and attack anything in its path. The animal is extremely vicious and violent. Paralysis sets in shortly, usually affecting the hind legs first. Death follows 4 to 7 days after onset of the clinical signs.

In dumb rabies, the prominent symptoms are drowsiness and paralysis of the lower jaw. Animals with dumb rabies have no tendency to roam but will snap at movement. They are completely insensitive to pain, and usually become comatose and die 3 to 10 days after the first symptoms appear.

Any time a warmblooded animal - dog, fox, skunk, cat, etc.... bites a human there is a danger that the animal is rabid and that the person involved may in turn develop rabies. Immediate precautions should be taken. Identify and, whenever possible, confine the biting dog or cat for observation. Wash the bite wound thoroughly with soap and hot water as an immediate first aid procedure. Consult a physician as soon as possible concerning the advisability of antirabies treatment.

Effective community control of rabies is possible. The first step in such control is an informed and cooperative public. Public education as to the problem and the solution is essential. Community control of rabies can be accomplished by the following measures:

- (1) Immunization of all dogs and cats over 4 months old, (should be repeated annually),
- (2) Registration of all owned animals,
- (3) Impoundment and elimination of all stray cats and dogs by the police department,
- (4) Quarantine of all suspected rabies carriers, and
- (5) A fine not to exceed $100.00 for any violation of animal city ordinance.

It is unlawful for any person to allow any dog or cat to run at large within the City of Munday. City ordinance will be strictly enforced.

Here's to your health

By Dr. Shirley Barretto

A few years ago, carpal tunnel syndrome was a term that only doctors knew. Now, however, carpal tunnel syndrome has gained a great deal of publicity because it seems to be on the increase. Although it seems that overuse of the hands and fingers (such as chronic repeated movements at a computer) may be the cause, most medical authorities are slow to pinpoint a specific cause.

Carpal tunnel syndrome is a numbness, tingling, or pain in the thumb, index and middle fingers. The condition is caused by pressure on a nerve that passes into the hand through a gap (the carpal tunnel). The malady occurs most frequently in middle aged women, and sometimes in women who are pregnant or who have just started taking birth control pills. People with arthritis also can suffer from the same symptoms.

Carpal tunnel syndrome sometimes goes away without any treatment. Your physician may suggest that you immobilize the affected hand in a simple splint at night. If your symptoms are persistent, the physician may give you an injection of a small amount of a cortisone-type drug. In extreme cases, you may have to have surgery, which involves cutting the ligament to relieve the pressure on the nerve.

If you think you are suffering from carpal tunnel syndrome, try resting your hand at night. If symptoms persist, see your physician.

An Important Message for WTU Customers

Recently you may have read or heard about a plan proposing "competition and choice in the generation of electricity" with the implication that everyone's electric bill would go down if that happens. If you think that sounds too good to be true, you're right.

A handful of unregulated power producers is promoting a scheme that would allow them to sell power at retail directly to consumers. They want you to believe that's competition and that it would lower everyone's electric bill. In reality, their goal is to sell power to large industrial customers at low rates which will be eventually subsidized by smaller consumers. They are not interested in assuming an obligation to serve anybody.

At West Texas Utilities Company, we achieve success with a tradition of low rates, reliability, community involvement and dedication to superior customer service. The electric industry is changing. Deregulation, expanding customer expectation, new technologies and other dynamic forces are having a profound effect on our business, but the strong commitment to our customers and communities remains.

Contrary to the self-serving efforts of a few special interest groups, the state's electric utilities have proposed legislation to increase competition in a way that will benefit all consumers. The proposal would open the wholesale generation market to all who want to participate, thus allowing every consumer to benefit from the least costly sources of power. Unlike the unregulated power producers' scheme, no consumers or group of consumers would face higher rates so a few could pay less.

WTU has been a provider of electrical service for some 80 years. Our involvement with and commitment to the communities we serve are stronger than ever. Our lower-than-average rates in Texas have been stable for years. We take our obligation to provide the best possible service to each and every one of our customers very seriously. Always have, always will! If you would like more information on this very important issue, please call or come by any WTU office.

Munday native to receive ACU's Morlan Award

A Munday native who is the principal of a nationally honored elementary school near Houston will receive the annual Grover C. Morlan Medal from Abilene Christian University April 7 for her outstanding leadership in education.

In 1994, Sara Offutt Eggleston led Hazel S. Pattison Elementary in Katy to selection as an official Blue Ribbon School by the U.S. Department of Education, a prestigious honor awarded to fewer than 300 schools per year out of thousands of applicants. She accepted the National Award of Excellence from President Clinton in Washington, D.C., in October.

In February, Eggleston was appointed to the Senate Advisory Committee on Education. This month, the Pattison staff nominated Sara for the National Distinguished Principals Award.

Eggleston's goal - to help children develop as citizens and teachers develop as educators - has led her school to the highest test scores in the sprawling Katy school district. Also, Pattison raised the most money in Texas twice and the most in the nation once for Jump Rope for Heart. Every day she visits every classroom in the school of more than 1,000 students.

A 1965 ACU graduate, Eggleston has been in teaching and school administration for 26 years. She was the assistant principal and principal at Memorial Parkway Elementary in Katy ISD for 10 years before becoming principal of Pattison when it opened in 1989 with only 674 students. For 10 years before moving to Katy, she taught grades 4, 5 and 6 in Abilene.

Eggleston is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Offutt of Munday and was the valedictorian of the Munday High School class of '61. She is married to Dr. Frank Eggleston, a practicing dentist and current president of the Texas Dental Association, and they have one married daughter, Camille, a Houston attorney. The Egglestons are members of the Memorial Church of Christ where she is a featured teacher.

ACU's Education Department will host a private dinner for Eggleston's family and friends at 6 p.m. April 7 in the Living Room of the McGlothlin Campus Center. The medal will be awarded in a presentation open to the public at 7:30 p.m. in the Hilton Room of the Campus Center. The event is also sponsored by the Student Education Association and Kappa Delta Pi.

Begun in 1972, the Morlan Award goes each year to an ACU education graduate for outstanding teaching and leadership in education. The recipient may be involved in education at any level or in a professionally related program, but must have teaching experience.

The award's namesake, Dr. Grover C. Morlan, joined the ACU faculty in 1916 and retired in 1958 after teaching 42 years and serving a total of 36 years as head of the Department of Education and Psychology.

No other man has been connected with so many ACU traditions, according to Dr. Joe Marshall, professor emeritus of education. Morlan wrote the words to the alma mater, organized the West Texas Film Library, started the first reading improvement course in Texas colleges, began the Bible Teachers Workshop as well as the well-known Tuesday night outdoor student devotionals, and was one of the first to believe ACU should have a collegiate athletic program. Morlan died in 1964.

How long has it been since you've had a face to face encounter with God? One of those times when you went into your place of prayer, closed the door, and wrestled with God until He blessed you with His presence and direction. How long has it been since you felt you looked God in the eye, and received from Him exactly what you needed?

I must admit, those times are few and far between even for preachers. But they are possible. In fact, this experience is available to us any time we search for Him. The Bible says "ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart" (Jeremiah 29:13).

When an experience like this happens, it is true personal revival. Your soul comes alive. You are empowered and energized by God's Holy Spirit. You see the world in a different light. You experience God.

Why not set out this week to have a face to face encounter with God. Don't rush it - it will take time. Don't think it will come easy - it won't. You will have to put your whole heart into it. Don't preplan - you can't plan your experience with God, He is in charge. Do expect it - God will show Himself when we are looking!

Five steps to a more secure retirement

Retirement planning isn't what it used to be.

In the past, retirees depended on Social Security to meet a large part of their retirement needs. In addition, most workers were provided with employer-funded pension plans that promised a solid retirement benefit. On top of that, Americans were able to save and invest more of their income for retirement -- on average, 7 percent.

Times have changed. Social Security is anything but secure, and the huge number of baby boomers headed for retirement will undoubtedly strain the program beyond its limits. Workers can't depend on company pension plans, either. Job security is a thing of the past, and employer-sponsored retirement plans are not what they used to be. In fact, many Americans work for companies that don't even offer such plans.

Today's workers must rely more on personal savings and investments for retirement income. Unfortunately, many individuals are saving less of their income than their parents did. In fact, today's workers only save about 3 percent of their income.

What can people do to take control of their financial future? A recent edition of Better Investing magazine suggested the following five-step program for retirement planning.

1. Plan. Set realistic goals and devise a reasonable way to meet them. Even with a company pension, you should expect to need retirement savings of two-and-a-half to six times your pre-retirement earnings. That means if your annual income is $50,000, you'll need a nest egg of $125,000 to $300,000 by age 65 to supplement pension and Social Security income.

2. Start early, and invest regularly. The sooner you start saving for retirement, the lower your regular deposits must be to meet your goal. To illustrate the importance of starting early, assume you want to accumulate $12,000 and have found an investment offering an 8 percent return. If you have only five years to reach your goal, you'll have to invest $162 every month. If you have 15 years, it takes only $34 a month. But start 20 years in advance of your goal, and you'll only have to invest $20 each month.

In addition, investing regularly puts dollar-cost averaging to work, protecting you from fluctuating stock prices and interest rates. It also helps you benefit from compounding, letting your money grow at a faster rate.

3. Diversify. This is time-honored advice: Don't put all your eggs in one basket. Every investment carries some type of risk -- some investments may risk principal, while others might risk earning power. But rarely do all types of investments rise or fall at the same time. By diversifying your money among different types of investments, you lessen the impact of a downturn in any one area.

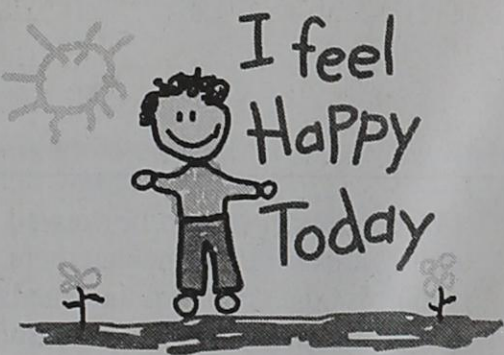

4. Shelter. Placing some of your savings in tax-free or tax-deferred investments allows you to save more for retirement. Workers who have access to 401(K) plans should take full advantage of this retirement-saving vehicle by investing as much as possible. Individual retirement accounts (IRAs), municipal bonds, annuities and tax-exempt mutual funds are other ways to save more for retirement and spend less on current taxes.

5. Get advice. It pays to enlist the help of professionals to assist with long-range planning. Carefully select someone who can help you project future needs, set reasonable goals and suggest the proper investments to help meet them.

Each of these five steps requires serious thought and regular monitoring to be sure you're on the right track. The reward for following the steps carefully and persistently can be the retirement lifestyle you've always dreamed of.

Child Abuse and Neglect Facts Sheet

In Texas:

In our Nation:

Child abuse was formally recognized by the medical profession in 1961 as the "battered child syndrome." In fiscal year 1994, Texas' child protective service agency received and referred for investigation an estimated 109,375 reports of alleged child abuse and neglect.

About 55,607 children were found to be substantiated or indicated victims of child abuse and neglect in Texas in fiscal year 1994.

NUMBER OF CONFIRMED VICTIMS BY TYPE OF ABUSE AND NEGLECT*

* Victims may have up to 4 types of abuse and/or neglect.

The link between substance abuse and child abuse has strengthened over the years. Parental abuse of alcohol and use of other drugs has been identified as a major factor contributing to child maltreatment and death. It is estimated that nearly 10 million children younger than age 18 are affected in some way by the substance abuse of their parents.

Child maltreatment often has negative short- and long-term effects on children's mental health and development. For example, abused and neglected children frequently suffer drops in IQ and an increase in learning disabilities, depression, and drug use.

The effects of child abuse are sometimes obvious even decades later. The effects are often pervasive: mental, physical and social in nature. Suicide, violence, delinquency, drug and alcohol abuse and other forms of criminality are frequently child abuse-related.

Studies of adults show that between 15 and 38 percent of women report experiences of various types of sexual victimization during childhood and adolescence, and about 10 percent of men report sexual abuse during childhood and adolescence.

Although child abuse occurs in all racial, ethnic, cultural, and socioeconomic groups, physical abuse and neglect are more likely among people in poverty. Reflecting the high rates of poverty among ethnic minorities, minority children enter the child protection system in disproportionately large numbers.

Creating Schools for the 21st Century...

THE PROFESSION SPEAKS OUT

By Richard Kouri, President
Texas State Teachers Association

Focusing on funding future schools (Part 8 in a series)

Quality schools for the 21st Century will require a financial commitment to educational excellence. Texas has not, does not, and will not be able to provide its students with a quality education at bargain basement prices. Quality costs.

The state must increase its commitment to public education. During the 1980's and 1990's the portion of the state budget utilized for public education steadily declined. The state share of the total cost of public education declined, forcing local taxpayers and local property taxes to shoulder an ever-increasing portion of the cost of a state responsibility -- education.

Opponents to increased spending complain that the state is spending more on education than ever before. That is true. However, most of the increase has been to fund the increase in student population, to provide programs for students previously neglected by education (disabled and disadvantaged), and to meet court mandates to provide an equitable funding system.

Iris Rothberg of the RAND Institute on Education and Training, recently reported that "the myth holds that we cannot solve the problem by throwing money at it. That is true only if one assumes that offering poor children the opportunities routinely available to their more affluent peers is the same as throwing money at a problem. Teacher expertise and experience, class size, better science laboratories and decent facilities do matter. If they don't, rich districts haven't heard the message."

Some who would try to limit increased funding for public education contend that increased spending does not appreciably affect student performance. Their posture is that schools should use the existing revenue more efficiently before more money is justified. Texas schools have spent years striving to economize and increase efficiency. Texas schools have been the subject of annual, independent audits, TEA reviews, as well as Comptroller and State Auditor studies. It is now time to accept the fact that efficiency cannot replace adequacy. Efficiency will allow schools to make the best possible use of the resources available.

Texas Education Commissioner Lionel Meno aptly summarized Texas schools in the 1990's when he said, "We have gotten average performance out of less than average revenue with a more educationally challenging student population. The public schools in Texas have done a tremendous job with the resources available."

The message is clear: schools of the 21st Century will need more resources to provide a quality education for every student!

Texas schools will continue to have one of the nation's most diverse and challenging student populations to educate. According to the 1994 Kids Count Census by the Anne E. Casey Foundation, one-fourth of all Texas children live in poverty, nearly one-fourth come from single parent homes, and a growing number of students are being identified with special needs.

Texas cannot provide the caliber of education that the students deserve, parents and society expect and the profession wants to offer when the state ranks in the bottom one-third in the nation in per pupil expenditures and average teacher salaries.

Funding for public education is a high dollar and a high profile battle in the courthouse, the state house and in local school board meetings. The cost of education is obvious to all. The cost of lack of education is even greater. Society not only loses the positive contributions that could have been made, it also assumes the cost of increased unemployment, welfare, police and fire protection, and skyrocketing prison construction and staffing.

Besty Ross was a Philadelphia seamstress who made flags during the Revolutionary War, but most historians do not support the claim that she made the U.S. flag.

The Christian Life

Jeff Christian - Minister

Munday Church of Christ

Do you abuse your children? If you do, then you probably do not read this column. But if by chance you are, then you need to know something: Help is available.

April is Child Abuse Prevention month. It is a time where the nation realizes that we have a serious problem on our hands. Child abuse is often times seen as punching a child or kicking him or her. Yet, it goes far deeper than that. In fact, a type of child abuse just as terrifying as hitting is verbally degrading a child. In other words, always telling the child that he or she is bad, feels like a slap in the face to that child. It is one thing to discipline your children out of love because you care about their well-being. It is an entirely different thing, however, to vent your own frustrations on a child who does not understand your frustrations to begin with.

If you have a problem abusing your children, whether it is physical or verbal, please stop. Because if you continue, you are setting up a cycle that will carry on to their children, and their children's children.

METER TAMPERING NOW A FELONY

The State of Texas has recently adopted an amendment to the State Penal Code making meter tampering a third degree felony. A third degree felony comes with a punishment of confinement in the Texas Department of Corrections for a term of not more than 10 or less than 2 years. In addition to imprisonment, an individual adjudged guilty of a third degree felony may be punished by a fine not to exceed $5,000.

Before the amendment of the new law, it was a class A misdemeanor for meter tampering unless the loss of service was more than $200. Under the new law, any meter tampering regardless of the amount of loss is now a felony of the third degree.

Meter tampering consists of, but is not limited to:

- (1) Diverting electricity from passing through a meter device
- (2) Preventing electric service from being correctly registered by a meter device
- (3) Unauthorized activation of electric service.

As a special note to our members, it will also be considered meter tampering if a meter is reset and electrical service is restored by anyone other than a Cooperative employee.

All Cooperative meters are sealed. This seal should not be cut or broken without special authorization. In cases where the seal must be cut for emergencies, the Cooperative should be notified as soon as possible so that the meter can be resealed.

New Studies Connect PROWL® Herbicide To Earlier Cotton

DNA herbicide choice has an impact on fruit set.

Recent studies in Texas show that the use of a PPI (pre-plant incorporated) herbicide that gives maximum early-season weed control with few adverse effects on cotton roots (root pruning) allows the crop to get off to a faster, more vigorous start. AgriSearch, an independent research and consulting firm near Plainview, Texas, compared the effects of PROWL® herbicide with Treflan® on the growth and development of four cotton varieties: HS-26, HS-200, Paymaster 145 and DPL-50.

Late-season mapping by AgriSearch revealed that cotton treated with PROWL had a higher percentage of open bolls (that is, fewer immature bolls at the first and second fruiting positions) when compared with plots treated with Treflan. This observation indicates the value of "earliness" in cotton management, in terms of crop maturity. "In fact, it was evident that plants in the plots treated with Treflan matured more slowly than those in the plots treated with PROWL," reported AgriSearch. The accompanying graph shows the differences observed, as an average across the four varieties grown:

COTTON VARIETY STUDY
PPI Herbicide Evaluation
Yield Results

EARLY CONTROL = HIGHER YIELDS

Use of PROWL resulted in higher lint yields for all four cotton varieties studied, as compared with Treflan. Yields in the plots treated with PROWL® herbicide increased 51.5 lbs. of lint per acre over Treflan in the HS-26 variety and 68.5 lbs. per acre over Treflan in the DPL-

50 variety. In the plots treated with PROWL, the average yield increase for the four cotton varieties was 58 lbs. of lint per acre.

Lint percentages also were higher in three of the four varieties treated with PROWL. According to AgriSearch, "the tendency of turnout to be slightly higher in the plots treated with PROWL indicates there were fewer unopened bolls at harvest than in the Treflan plots. Cotton was more mature at harvest in the plots treated with PROWL."

The Texas results are supported by University of Arkansas trials. Over an eight-year span, at four different experiment stations, Arkansas researchers compared PROWL® herbicide and Treflan on cotton.

COTTON VARIETY STUDY
PPI Herbicide Evaluation
(Average Percent Open Bolls at 1st & 2nd Positions)

Weed control effectiveness was virtually the same for both herbicides in the Arkansas trials, on both grasses and broadleaf weeds. PROWL controlled 95% of grasses and 87% of broadleaf weeds in early-season cotton. Treflan controlled 94% of grasses and 86% of broadleaves. Likewise, crop stand (plants per foot of row) was virtually the same for both products.

However, cotton treated with PROWL produced higher yields at three of the four locations. Overall, cotton treated with PROWL yielded about 53 lbs. per acre over plots treated with Treflan, on the average.

USING THE RIGHT TOOLS

Weed control should be viewed as one element in the total context of crop management. A producer's priority is to grow the crop, not the weeds. But an overall management strategy that keeps cotton healthy and growing strengthens the plant's ability to compete.

Cotton is least competitive with weeds early in the season. This also is when herbicide options are most limited. For several years, soil-applied DNA (Dinitroaniline) products have been the first line of defense against early weeds. The two major DNA herbicides – PROWL and Treflan – have similar modes of action, and are equally effective in controlling early grass and broadleaf weeds. Both must be applied in the soil, in the weed root zone. There, when weed seeds come in contact with the herbicide, the products move into the plant and curtail growth by disrupting cell division.

However, as the Texas trials by AgriSearch show, PROWL® herbicide exhibits less damage to the cotton plant itself, through the phenomenon called "root pruning."

A struggling cotton seedling needs all the help it can get, and anything that interrupts the plant's ability to take in nutrients and water (as well as soil-applied systemic insecticides) hampers early-season growth. As shown by studies in Texas, Arkansas and elsewhere, the results can be later crop maturity and less total yield. What happens on the front end of a cotton crop has a direct bearing on what goes to the gin on the harvest end.

Anything that hampers a cotton plant's vigorous growth during that critical early-season stage may show up in the form of delayed maturity and reduced yields. A producer needs an overall management strategy that gives cotton a running start on the season.

That means choosing the right tools for the right job – and at the right time. Because time is a critical element when you're trying to make a perennial plant behave like an annual crop.

Holland, Maulding united in afternoon ceremony

Deborah Kay Holland and Davis H. Maulding were united in marriage Saturday, February 11, 1995 at 4:00 in the afternoon at the First Baptist Church in Munday. The double ring ceremony was officiated by Rev. Randy White.

The bride is the daughter of Nancy Cypert of Munday and Mike Holland of Dallas. Her grandparents are Elizabeth Thompson and the late Everett Thompson of Munday and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Holland of DeSoto. She is the great-granddaughter of Lorene Holland of Dallas. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Davis T. Maulding of Carrollton. His grandparents are Louise Felps and the late Alton Felps of Johnson City and the late Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins Maulding.

The church was decorated with the bride's chosen colors of hunter green and white. The couple repeated their vows under a brass heart shaped arch entwined with greenery and decorated with fresh arrangements of white snap dragons, white cremon mums, white carnations, white miniature carnations, white buttons, baby's-breath and sprinyrii fern. To each side of the arch were bank candelabras and a pair of arch candelabras accented with greenery and holding tall white candles. The railings were adorned with greenery and white blossoms interspersed with hunter green candles in glass globes. Pews were marked with fresh flower bouquets of white snap dragons, white cremon mums, white miniature carnations, white buttons, baby's-breath and sprinyrii fern on brass stands accented with greenery. The windows were decorated with greenery and brass lanterns with hunter green candles.

Escorted by her father and presented in marriage by her mother and father, the bride wore an elegant gown designed by Sweetheart of New York. The gown of bridal satin was traditionally styled with lavish details on the ballgown silhouette. The sweetheart neckline and fitted bodice were appliqued of delicate re-embroidered lace with sequins and bridal pearls. The long slim sleeves of lace were traced with bridal pearls and brilliants. The sweetheart neckline dropped to a scalloped V in back. Medallions of lace were scattered over the skirt, which fell to the open-work design and scalloped lace at the hem. The cathedral train was embellished with additional cut-out lace embroidered with bridal pearls, sequins and iridescents.

The bride's tiered veil of illusion was caught to satin bandeau covered with lace and beaded with the bridal pearls, sequins and iridescents featured on her dress.

The bride's bouquet was a cascade of fresh white roses, white buttons, white miniature carnations, baby's-breath, seed pearls and sprinyrii fern.

Following tradition, the bride carried her sister's, the late Jackie Holland, ring for something old; something new was her wedding attire; for something borrowed she carried a handkerchief from her grandmother, Elizabeth Thompson and wore pearls from her grandmother, Dorica Holland; and something blue was her garter made by the groom's mother. Pennies minted in the years of the bride's and groom's birth were placed in her shoes for good luck. Jenni Bowman of Munday, served the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Laura Maulding, sister of the groom of Carrollton; Christine Florer of Midland and Karen Guemsey of Baden, Pennsylvania. Their dresses were tea-length featuring an asymmetrically hemmed skirt of hunter green taffeta and an elongated bodice of hunter green velvet. The scalloped sabrina neckline dropped to a V in back and the short puffed sleeves were fashioned of draped velvet and taffeta. They wore a hair comb ornamented with hunter green illusion and ribbons, made by the groom's mother.

The maid of honor carried two longstem fresh white roses, greenery and baby's-breath tied with hunter green ribbon streamers. The bridesmaids carried single longstem fresh white roses accented with baby's breath, greenery and hunter green ribbons.

Flower girls were Samantha Jackson, cousin of the bride and Lyndy Moeller, both of Munday. Their hunter green velvet dresses had deep collars trimmed with white lace, green ribbon sashes and white lace ruffles at the hems. Green and white hair bows and white tights completed their outfits. They carried hunter green baskets filled with fresh white rose petals.

Ring bearers were twins, Kyle and Patrick Holland, cousins of the bride of Rowlett. Each carried a lace covered satin pillow with the bride's and groom's rings tied to it.

The groom wore a black tuxedo by Christian Dior with formal cutaway tail jacket, black vest and black bow tie. His boutonniere was a fresh white rosebud with greenery.

Mark Maulding of Carrollton served as best man for his brother. Groomsman were Mark Gates of Carrollton; Marc Fishman of Irving and Archie Maulding, uncle of the groom of Carrollton. The groom's attendants and ring bearers wore black tuxedos with green cummerbunds and green bow ties.

Ushers were Johnny Jackson, cousin of the bride of Munday; Scott Jackson, cousin of the bride of Wichita Falls; Tom Trautman of Dallas; and Jason Tweedy of Dallas. They were dressed in black tuxedos with black cummerbunds and black bow ties.

Prelude music was Piano by Candlelight. Dolores Lambeth was pianist and Linda Smith was organist for the ceremony. As the parents and grandparents were seated, Wind Beneath My Wings was played. Candles were lit by Benjamin Jones, brother of the bride of Dallas, and Tyler Nix of Waco to the music of Endless Love. Attendants entered to Canon in D and the bride entered to Bridal Chorus. Soloist for the ceremony was Holly Christensen, cousin of the bride of Abilene. She presented vocal arrangements of Parents Prayer, as the mothers of the couple lit identical white candles; Our Finest Hour after the marriage vows and I'll Still be Loving You, as the bride and groom lit the unity candle.

As the bride and groom walked back up the aisle after being presented to the wedding guests, they passed under a sabre arch conducted by the Sabre Flight Drill Team. Members of the team were Raymond Simmons, commander; Charles Donet, David Perez, Eric Kubecka, Mark LeDrew and Jeffrey Walters.

Registering guests was Kim Rademacher of Dallas. The registration table was covered with a white cloth with cut-out lace design. A fresh arrangement of white flowers, a hunter green feather pen and the bride's book accented the table.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church following the ceremony. The bride's portrait was displayed on a brass easel. The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth and was centered with her bouquet. The white lattice background was decorated with hunter green backing and white fabric swags. Fresh flowers surrounded the bride's cake, which was made in three tiers separated by columns and fresh flowers between the tiers. White and hunter green icing flowers and green ribbon bows decorated the layers. The cake was topped with a Precious Moments groom carrying his bride in a nest of white organza accented with a white lace heart. Punch was served from a crystal punch bowl. Serving guests were Holly Eldredge of Garland and Jennifer Hartwell of Arlington.

The groom's table was covered in white lace over hunter green and the lattice background was swagged in hunter green. The Air Force decor included crossed sabres and the chocolate cake was decorated with the Air Force insignia and the Texas Tech double T. Coffee was served from a silver service. Serving guests were Victoria Rouse of Garland and Miriam Mossesman of Lubbock.

A food table holding hors d'oeuvres was covered with a hunter green cloth and the gift table featured an embroidered white cloth with white wicker baskets holding rice roses of hunter green satin. Paige Patterson, niece of the bride of Houston, and Samantha Jackson passed out the rice roses.

The couple was honored with several showers. Grandparents of the bride gave an engagement party for the couple on November 12.

There was a bridal shower at the First Baptist Church in Munday on January 21. This was hosted by many Munday friends.

The couple was also honored with a handyman shower in Irving hosted by David, Marsha and Marc Fishman.

Francene Maulding and Ginny Kerr were hostesses for a bridal shower at the Brookhaven Country Club in Dallas. A lingerie shower for the bride was given in the home of Rosalinda Hernandez the night before the wedding.

The morning of the wedding, the bride and attendants were treated to a delicious brunch in the home of Shirley Bowman.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at the church fellowship hall the evening before the wedding. Decorations followed a Texas theme in colors of red, white, and blue. Barbeque brisket, sausage, beans, potato salad, coleslaw and cheesecake were served to the members of the wedding party, their families and other special guests.

The bride is a graduate of Munday High School and Texas Tech University in Lubbock. The groom graduated from Newman Smith High School in Carrollton and Texas Tech University in Lubbock. After a wedding trip to San Antonio, the couple is making their home in Grand Forks, North Dakota. The bride plans to pursue graduate studies at the University of North Dakota. The groom is stationed at Grand Forks Air Force Base.

Coaches comments: The boys competed with two teams in the same division at Knox City trying to get as much work in as possible before district. Placing 2nd was surprising considering how we spread ourselves this week.

It was good to see some alternates step up and make a hand. Hise in the 400 meter relay and Torres in the 1600 meter relay competed well and helped those teams place 2nd. We ran two relay teams in both relay races which should help at district.

The Mogulles and Moguls will compete in the Haskell Relays this Saturday.

Miss Sims is bride of Neil Waggoner

Marcy Delayne Sims and Allen Neil Waggoner were united in marriage at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, March 11, 1995 at the First Baptist Church in Saginaw. Rev. Gary Brake of Rhome officiated the double-ring ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Gerald and Linda Sims of Weatherford and Ivan and Kathleen Towell of Burkburnett. The groom's parents are Marion and Mattie Waggoner of Munday.

The church was decorated with two fan candelabras and two variable candelabras adorned with Boston ferns and two cathedral candelabras arrayed in sprays of cascading calla lilies, roses, stephanotis, star gazer lilies, dendrobium orchids, rose carnations and English ivy. Two large arrangements of magnolias, star gazer lilies, white stock and rose carnations sat atop two Grecian style pedestals. The steps of the podium were lined with single globe candelabras. All candelabras were draped with white tulle.

Music for the prelude, processional and recessional were provided by the church organist, Helen Trammell. Solist Rick Stone sang Somewhere in the World Today before the wedding vows and soloist Debbie McGinty sang Doubly Good to You after the vows.

The bride, escorted down the aisle by her father, was attired in a gown of white bridal satin. The sweetheart neckline had a sheer inset accented with lace, seed pearls and iridescents. The neckline dipped to a deep V in back and was closed with three rows of tiny pearls and tiny pearl buttons at the waistline. The long fitted bodice had a panel of re-embroidered lace encrusted with seed pearls and iridescents and came to a V in front. The puffed sleeves with accents of lace cut-outs were fitted at the elbow and edged with lace. The back of the long, full satin skirt featured a double row bustle which swept into a chapel length train. The entire edge of the scalloped hemline was edged in lace.

The bride's short veil of layered illusion was attached to a halo of tiny white rosebuds, baby's-breath and greenery. She carried a fresh flower bouquet of two large white open roses and large white rosebuds accented with tiny red rosebuds, white orchids, baby's-breath, greenery and pearls.

Gail Moreland of Arlington was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Carrie Behrens of Norman, Oklahoma and Libby Martin of Elbow, Texas. Their dresses of raspberry moire cot-

Kim Towell, step-sister of the bride of Burkburnett, was flower girl and Nikki Stewart, cousin of the bride of Millsap, was ring bearer. Their dresses were styled like the bridesmaids except they featured a calf-length full skirt.

The bride wore her long hair in a soft upswept French braid which featured a few trailing ringlets. The flower girl and ring bearer wore their hair in a cascade of ringlets. Their hair was styled by Esther Waggoner.

Serving as best man was Mark Brown of Wichita Falls. Groomsmen were Wade Bouffard of San Angelo and Jeff Power of Carrollton. Ushers were brothers of the groom, Randy Waggoner of Ferris and Michael Waggoner of Munday, and his brother-in-law, Perry Leonard of Keller.

The groom was attired in a black double-breasted tuxedo with tails, white shirt, black cummerbund and black bow tie. His boutonniere was white roses, red roses, asthemiria and dendrobium orchids.

The male attendants were attired like the groom except they did not wear tails. Their boutonnières were red rose buds and baby's-breath.

Paula Leonard, sister of the groom of Keller, served at the guest book. Holly Sims, sister of the bride of Fort Worth, was program attendant and gift bearer was Jamie Voss, sister of the bride of Weatherford.

Following the ceremony the bride's parents hosted a reception in the fellowship hall of the church.

The bride's table was skirted in white taffeta and draped in a lace overlay, swaged in the middle with a floral cascade. The table was adorned with pink cherubs in varying sizes sitting atop Grecian pedestals. A large table top candelabra with a cascading floral arrangement sat amid the cherubs. The white cake had two layers with a third layer set on columns. The top of the cake featured a precious moments bride and groom with a stained glass window backdrop. The cake was beautifully decorated with fresh white roses, other white flowers and greenery.

Serving at the table were the bride's twin sisters, Shelly Sims of Fort Worth and Kelly Corbin of Saginaw. The groom's sister, Paula Leonard, also assisted with the serving of punch from the crystal punchbowl.
