Cooker Clinics Begin On Friday

A cooker clinic will be held in the various communities by the club women for the purpose of testing the gauge on the cookers. The women are getting their cookers in readiness for spring canning.

Since V-Day has come, lets not forget that the war is not over in Japan. We must keep pulling and working until the end. One way is to test your cooker and get ready for spring canning, so you can put more canned goods on the shelves.

If your cooker needs repairs see your local merchants for parts and if you do not have them write J. P. Dowell, McKinney, Texas.

The clinics to be held are as follows:

V-E DAY PROCLAMATION BY PRESIDENT TRUMAN

The Allied armies, through sacrifice and devotion and with God's help, have won from Germany a final and unconditional surrender. The Western world has been freed of the evil forces which for five years and longer have imprisoned the bodies and broken the lives of millions upon millions of freeborn men. They have violated their churches, destroyed their homes, corrupted their children, and murdered their loved ones. Our armies of liberation have restored freedom to these suffering peoples, whose spirit and will the oppressors could never enslave.

Much remains to be done. The victory won in the west must now be won in the east. The whole world must be cleansed of the evil from which half the world has been freed. United, the peace loving nations have demonstrated in the west that their arms are stronger by far than the might of dictators or the tyranny of military cliques that once called us soft and weak. The power of our peoples to defend themselves against all enemies will be proved in the Pacific as it has been proved in Europe.

For the triumph of spirit and of arms which we have won, and for its promise to peoples everywhere who join us in the love of freedom, it is fitting that we, as a nation, give thanks to Almighty God, who has strengthened us and given us the victory.

Now, therefore, I, Harry S. Truman, president of the United States of America, do hereby appoint Sunday, May 13, 1945, to be a day of prayer.

I call upon the people of the United States, whatever their faith, to unite in offering joyful thanks to God for the victory we have won and to pray that He will support us to the end of our present struggle and guide us into the way of peace.

I also call upon my countrymen to dedicate this day of prayer to the memory of those who have given their lives to make possible our victory.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this 8th day of May, in the year of our Lord, 1945, and of the independence of the United States of America the 169th.

HARRY S. TRUMAN.

Weinert Boy Killed On Iwo Jima Feb. 25th

News of the death of their son, Cpl. Jimmie G. Melton, was received last week by Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Melton, who reside on route one, Weinert. The following telegram from General A. A. Vandergriff, commandant of the Marine Corps, was received:

"Deeply regret to inform you that your son, Cpl. Jimmie G. Melton, USMC was killed in action 25 February, 1945, at Iwo Jima, Volcano Islands, in the performance of his duty and service to his country. Remains reported buried in Grave 347, Row No. 14, Third Marine Division cemetery at Iwo Jima. Please accept my heartfelt sympathy. Letter follows:"

Melton entered the service on December 8, 1941, volunteering the next day after Pearl Harbor. The 24-year old Marine was a graduate of Weinert High School and had been overseas since January, 1943.

Besides his parents, he is survived by three brothers and three sisters, who are: Harold C. Melton, Fort Worth; B. L. Melton Jr., Naval Air Corps in the Southwest Pacific; Miss Zona Melton, Wichita Falls; Bennie, Nell and Joyce Melton, who are living with their parents.

5,780 Pounds Of Clothing Is Collected Here

The local committee on the United National Clothing Collection announced this week that a total of 5,780 pounds of clothes was shipped from Munday at the close of the drive. The collection included Munday, Sunset, and Rhineland.

Many persons gave of their time in this drive, in bringing in clothing and helping with the packing. The committee has expressed its appreciation to everyone who assisted in the drive. Especially do they thank the general public for the cooperation in bringing in the clothing. Around three-fourths of the collection was brought directly from the collection depots, thus eliminating the necessity of sending cars and trucks for the clothes.

Mr. Howell is well qualified as a scout leader, and it is expected the local troop will advance rapidly under his leadership.

Sgt. Guy Hardin Wins Air Medal

AN EIGHTH AIR FORCE BOMBER STATION, England—Staff Sergeant Guy S. Hardin of Munday, gunner on an Eighth Air Force B-17 Flying Fortress, has been decorated with the Air Medal.

The award was made for meritorious achievement during bombing attacks against Nazi war industries and military targets in cooperation with Allied ground forces by Lieutenant Colonel Chester C. Cox, 388th Bomb. Group.

He is the son of Mrs. Nell Hardin of Munday, and was engaged in farming before entering the AAF in January, 1943.

LIEUT. KENNETH WIGGINS IS HOME FROM OVERSEAS

Lieut. and Mrs. Kenneth Wiggins of Madison, Wis., came in the latter part of last week for a visit with Lieut. Wiggins' sister, Mrs. J. Weldon Smith, and with other relatives in Munday.

Dr. Wiggins, who is serving in the Navy, spent a number of months in the Southwest Pacific and was just recently returned to the States.

Mrs. Cecil Cambell of Fort Worth spent the first of this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Russell.

Very Few Firms Closed Tuesday

V-E Day—the day that brought happiness to millions of war-weary hearts—was observed soberly, solemnly and prayerfully in Munday, because most of the populace were firm in the belief that celebration should come on the day of final victory.

As Munday citizens stayed close to their radios at eight o'clock Tuesday morning, awaiting the President's announcement of victory in Europe, no fire siren sounded, no horns were blown—there was no celebration in general. All went on to their places of work, the happiness in their hearts tempered with the realization that many lives will be lost before victory over Japan.

Managers of one or two firms announced ahead of official announcement of V-E Day that they would close for the day. Several others closed after being open a short while Tuesday, but the town in general went about its daily tasks.

Mayor C. R. Elliott issued no proclamation; he didn't ask the town to close, but he made a preliminary survey and found business men divided in opinion. Since the president said that "work, work, work" was the proper method of celebration, and Governor Coke R. Stevenson called for "business as usual" with no let down in the war against Japan, Mr. Elliott left the closing up to individual desires of business men. Most of them continued their usual labors, a feeling of relief and gladness in their hearts.

Some prayer services were held. At the local Methodist church, the pastor had planned to hold prayer service within a short time after the announcement of victory over Germany. But the announcement came at a time when he and a number of church delegates were to go to district conference at Stamford. Prayer services were postponed until eight o'clock Tuesday night.

Those who continued their work were none-the-less happy than those who "closed shop," but had the feeling that celebration should come with final victory.

"We'd be willing to stay closed for a week when that day comes," they said.

James M. Cude Reported Missing Since April 7th

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cude received a telegram on April 25, informing them that their son, James (Punk) Cude, who was serving in the navy, was missing in action in the Pacific area. Later they received the following letter from Capt. R. C. Hickey, giving details of the battle:

Dear Mr. Cude, I deeply regret to inform you that since April 7, 1945, your son, James Mayfield Cude, has been missing while in action against the enemy.

On that day, our aircraft were active in support of a landing operation on a Japanese island. Shortly after noon, an enemy plane broke through our defenses, bombed our ship and then crashed on the flight deck. A terrific explosion followed which caused many men to be thrown over the side. Within a matter of minutes three destroyers were in the area, for rescue purposes, but unfortunately your son was not found. The search was so thorough that truly I cannot hold hope that he will eventually be found.

Your son's keen interest in his work and in the navy, his loyalty and excellent manner in which he performed his duties has won from his shipmates and from officers under whom he served, the highest regard.

Cude had been in the service over three years and had been on sea duty for 30 months. Before entering the service, he attended the Munday Schools.

ON "BOOT LEAVE"

Billie Joe Henslee, who has just completed his "boot" training in the navy, came in last Sunday from San Diego, Calif., to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Henslee. He will leave Saturday on return to his base.

TO A GREAT LITTLE GUY

Well, Ernie, this winds up the saga.
Only you could have spun it so well.
You blended the grim and the glory
Of war with its humor and hell.
There was little you wrote of commanders;
The boys were your theme from the start;
So you brought the war home to your readers,
And you captured your nation's heart.

You shared the tough lot of the GIs,
Who must go where the going is bad;
From bloody Salerno to Ie,
You were brave as the bravest they had.
And your story runs full to its ending,
No details is left to supply;
You lived the life as they live it,
You died the death that they die.

And so you are part of the epic
That men will read through the years,
A great writing man and a hero,
Whose name evokes tributes and tears.
They are due with this last of your columns,
Though your words prompt the reader to smile;
We think of you, sleeping on Is—
Sweet rest to you, Ernie Pyle!

SUMMER VITAMINS FOR WINTER USE

In the butter-making process nature helps man store an abundant supply of vitamin A for winter use. This is shown by tests reported by Louise Skinner, chemist at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster.

Ever since World War I, the value of butter as a natural source of vitamin A, so important in maintaining a healthy condition of the eyes, has been understood. Studies are now being completed to determine how much vitamin A is supplied by butter, states the National Dairy Council.

These Ohio tests indicate that butter produced in the late spring and summer months contains a great deal more than 9000 units of vitamin A, the value once believed to be the average for butter. They further indicated that butter may be stored for as much as a year at the usual storage temperatures, with no loss of vitamin A and very little loss of the yellow carotene which the body transforms into vitamin A.

Under normal conditions, the bulk of the butter produced in the United States is made in the spring and summer months. Large quantities of this summer butter are stored for winter use. Such butter provides liberal quantities of vitamin A at a time when diets are likely to be deficient in this important constituent.

STATES MUST ACT

Insurance has been declared subject to the Federal anti-trust laws by the Supreme Court of the United States. This decision was handed down in the South-Eastern Underwriters case some months ago. Senator McCarran, sponsor of the Congressional measure placing a three-year moratorium on the enforcement of the court's opinion, says: "I am confident that it was not the purpose or intent of the Congress to include the insurance business within the criminal provisions of the Sherman and Clayton Acts."

"Everyone realized that if insurance companies are forced into unrestrained competition, the security of policyholders will be jeopardized to the point of being worthless."

"This fact was known when the Sherman and Clayton Acts passed the Congress. At no time until the South-Eastern Underwriters' case has there been a judicial decision applying these statutes to the business of insurance."

"Now, however, both the Sherman and Clayton Acts will be enforced against this business where the respective states, during the three-year moratorium period... have not taken appropriate legislative or regulatory steps."

"I have always believed, and I still believe that the sovereign states—and they are sovereign—are capable of adequately regulating the insurance business."

"The welfare of the farmer is a matter of vital concern to every division of commerce and industry. Agriculture provides virtually all of the nation's food supply and the greatest part of its industrial raw materials. It is the direct means of subsistence for a fifth of the population, and the money income it yields is a major factor in determining the demand for the products of mines and factories."—Guaranty Survey.

THE PUBLIC UNDERSTANDS

A transcontinental train recently pulled into a Pacific coast city twelve hours late. Passengers missed connections to many points. The last half-day on the train they had little or nothing to eat as the dining car ran out of food.

You would have thought caustic remarks about railroad service would have flown thick and fast. But a traveler on that train said: "Not one word of criticism did I hear. For 2,000 miles we had been passing endless freight trains and troop trains. The travelers all seemed to realize that their affairs were secondary and that the railroads were doing a Herculean job, in keeping that volume of war traffic moving on schedule, and at the same time meeting the needs of civilians."

The failure to complain about the railroads was a demonstration of public understanding and appreciation of the unprecedented difficulties the railroads are overcoming as they carry both the war and domestic traffic of the nation. American industries and American citizens meet emergencies when put to the test.

NATIONAL HOSPITAL DAY

On May 12, the anniversary of the birth of Florence Nightingale—who contributed as much to modern hospital science as she did to the nursing profession—our entire nation pays homage to the hospitals that protect and maintain its health. Let us consider on this National Hospital Day what our hospital system has given us in hope and effort.

The 6,611 hospitals of the country treated 16,636,848 patients during 1944. This was an increase of almost a million patients over 1943. A baby was born in an American hospital every 16.4 seconds. One out of every eight Americans was treated by a hospital in this past year. And every one of us can expect to be a patient in a hospital one day for every year we live.

With 60,000 doctors, 54,000 nurses, thousands of trained technicians and administrative personnel absent with the Armed Forces, our hospitals have accomplished more than they ever did in their history—with a full complement of staff members and employees.

National Hospital Day is a day on which the American people express their appreciation to the hospitals. But more than that—on National Hospital Day all American men and women should be commended for it is they who have initiated and supported the community hospital that exemplifies the voluntary method of making better health available to all.

"ADMINISTRATIVE ABSOLUTISM"

Dean Emeritus Roscoe Pound of Harvard Law School has expressed deep concern over one of the greatest internal dangers to liberty that this country has ever faced. That danger is the insidious subjugation of the rule of law in favor of government by administrative decree, or, as he describes it, "administrative absolutism." This tendency must be checked, he said, or we will find ourselves with a "regime of autocratic bureaus" so entrenched as to lead us in the direction of dictatorship and totalitarianism.

"Instead of our fundamental doctrine that government is to be carried on according to law, we are told that what government does is law," he continued. "Instead of a law which thinks of citizens and officials as equally subject to law, we are told of a public law which subordinates the citizens to the official and enables the latter to put the claims of one citizen over those of another... according to his personal ideas for the time being."

The entire system of emergency wartime powers now vested in government is based on this "administrative absolutism." That is why it must be withdrawn at the earliest possible moment and at any cost. Government according to law should become the motto of every American.

Fighting Men Recover From Horrors of War

AS in the United States many Canadian fighting men are back home as a result of neurosis brought on by night-mare experiences on the battle fronts. These fighting men are recuperating from the strain of war in a beautiful country estate, formerly a handicraft center, 15 miles east of Toronto, Ontario. The modern approach to the problem, that of self help and re-education, is a powerful factor in the complete cure of these fears and neuroses.

On admittance a comprehensive survey is made of a man's background. By filling out a questionnaire he reveals his personal history. The resident physician makes a complete physical examination. The psychiatrist steps into the picture to map out for each man a program of personal treatment. The patient is assigned work on regular prescription. Three psychological tests are made. Special insulin treatment is used for patients who are underweight and extremely tense and shaky. This is not the form of insulin treatment used in mental hospitals. It is a tonic and a sedative treatment specially designed for patients who are highly strung and suffering from nervous exhaustion. Following this treatment they settle down in four days. Part of the day during this period the men are engaged in the occupation prescribed by the doctor. The environment is controlled also, to be free of noise, peace and quiet. Completely relaxed, each man is guided back to self confidence and health through constructive tasks. To further achieve this end nothing is organized on institutional lines.

The top illustration shows occupational therapy at Scarborough Hall which includes r.m. weaving, pottery and other manual tasks. Reand grapes for their rooms are hand made by patients. In this pleasant room where instructors supervise occupational therapy. Below, Capt. A. J. M. Davies, resident doctor at Scarborough Hall, lectures patients on group therapy. These are given to inform men of the structure of the mind and the nervous system, illustrating the character and causes of their individual symptoms. Knowing what causes their illness is an important step in speeding their cure.

Texas Legislative Sidelights

By Senator "Cotton" George Moffett

Squabbles between the two branches of the Legislature have thus far not occurred at this session, but one seems to be in prospect over adjournment. The constitution does not definitely fix any date for adjournment of the Regular Sessions. It does provide that after 120 days the pay of the members shall be decreased from $10 a day to $5 a day, which of course is a broad hint that the work of the session is expected to be over at the end of four months. The 120th day falls on May 8 this year, and while our work is not fully completed, it can be completed within a few additional days, perhaps as many as twelve or fifteen, and my personal opinion is that we should adjourn and go home at that time. A majority of the Senate has voted to do so. A bare majority of the House of Representatives has voted to recess on May 22 until September 11, which is a most unusual procedure and one which has never been followed before.

The claim is made that on account of the war and other emergency conditions, we should stay in session continuously just as the National Congress does. On the other hand, the Constitution of Texas provides that the Governor can call a special session whenever an emergency shows up. The present Governor has called only one special session, but has recently stated that he would call others if there was real need for same. Therefore, it seems wise that we should adjourn the latter part of the month. However, it will be necessary to get a majority of the members of each branch to vote for the same adjournment date before it will be legal. The situation is comparable to the requirement in law that both husband and wife sign a deed to a homestead before the title is good.

Many members of the Legislature would appreciate moments from the folks back home on the various subjects, including adjournment, which are now being discussed.

TEXAS FARM ACREAGE SAME AS IN 1944

Austin.—Texas farmers will have about the same amount of acreage in crops in 1945 as they had in 1944, Dr. F. A. Buechel, analyst with the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research, reports.

According to a survey made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, there will be a decrease of only two-thirds of one per cent in acreage planted of all major crops, he said. The survey however, did not include cotton acreage.

Mrs. Troy Warren of Haskell spent last Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Rogers.

Mrs. C. P. Baker visited her mother, Mrs. E. C. Henry, and other relatives at Floydada the first of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Martin and children of Seymour spent the week end with Mrs. Martin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Reeves.

Fixing Up the Farm

by BURTON WILLIAMS

Home Repairs Needed
WISE farmers today are beginning to set up "buying plans" so that the money they have accumulated during the war years will purchase the maximum in lasting benefits. One of the principal beneficiaries of these programs should be the farm dwelling.

The percentage of farm homes in urgent need of maintenance is high, according to a housing survey made just before the war by the Department of Agriculture. This study showed that the exteriors of less than half the homes studied were in good condition. One out of three was found to be "fair," while 19.3 per cent were definitely "poor."

Repairing these exteriors need not wait until the war is over. Complete residing jobs may be done with excellent materials, such as asbestos cement sidings, which are available in many communities today.

New sidings of asbestos cement not only will restore the appearance of the home, but they will provide increased protection against weather and fire hazards.

Forty-five Texas young women have enrolled in the third Wright Field training class at the University of Texas, to learn radio engineering in the field of radar. After completion of a six month course they will be assigned to Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, as radio engineering aides.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D. C. May 5—During this week of dramatic and sensational news from all parts of the world the House of Representatives has been hard at work on important matters affecting the future economic and political security of this country.

The House Ways and Means Committee has been in constant session debating the Bretton Wood agreement which has to do with the control of international currency and the financial dealings between nations. The House Banking and Currency Committee has been at work for weeks on the problem of reciprocal trade treaties, which was former Secretary of State Hull's substitute for the log-rolling tariff fights of years gone by, and involves the whole problem of trade and commerce between nations.

The first thing done in the House this week was the passage of a resolution for America adherence to the United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization. This organization was born two years ago at the Hot Springs, Virginia International Food Conference, presided over by a former Texas Congressman, now Food Administrator, Marvin Jones. The over-all purpose of this organization is to be a clearing house for facts, figures, and ideas. All nations bear a proportionate part of the cost. Our part will not run over a million dollars a year.

This week the House has been debating the Sumners Resolution to amend the Constitution as to treaty making. Many of us contend the present requirement of a two-third vote in the Senate to ratify treaties has been destructive of America participation in international affairs. It kept us out of the League of Nations, it kept us out of joining the World Court, it destroyed many useful treaties of arbitration and in effect has allowed the foreign policy of this country to be controlled by one-third of the U. S. Senate.

May 3 was Polish Constitution Day. The House set aside an hour and a half for speech-making in commemoration of the 154th anniversary of the adoption of the Polish constitution. In the United States we have more than three million people of Polish descent. In the Congress there are nine Polish members, from the states of Connecticut, Illinois, Wisconsin, and Michigan.

It is to be hoped the Polish question does not disrupt the efforts of the united nations to set up a world organization for the prevention of war. The racial minorities of this country should remember they are first Americans.

I was this week chosen chairman of a sub-committee on war prisoners. The purpose of this committee is to see that war prisoners now in this country are promptly returned to their own nations after the war and that none remains here to become permanent residents.

For several years a fight has been going on in Congress to repeal the so-called land grant railroad rates. In the early days the United States government gave certain railroads nearly 130 million acres of public land. Texas gave 33 million acres of State land, and other states contributed an additional 15 million acres. As a result of these contributions, 27 railroads are now required to haul government property at one-half the established rates. During this debate I made a speech insisting that while rates were being discussed we should require the removal of discriminatory freight rates from which the Southwest has long suffered.

One German hero who is apparently coming through this war with an untarnished reputation is the old sea dog of World War I, Count von Luckner. His home city is the only large city of the Reich not seriously damaged by war. Credit for its comparative escape is said to be due the

POWER SPRAYER BRINGS DEATH TO PESTS

Cattle grubs and heel flies (see inset) cause a $100,000,000 national annual loss in meat, milk and leather production, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. By forcing out grubs and killing them with a Power Sprayer, a product of Food Machinery Corporation, ranchers believe they have found a way toward ultimate control of these destructive pests. The Power Sprayer has nearly a score of other farm uses, ranging from painting the barn to spraying molasses on old hay and dry grass to make it edible for cattle.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D. State Health Officer of Texas

Austin, Texas.—Declaring that malaria bids fair to be one of the country's major health problems under war conditions, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued an urgent request for all Texans to cooperate in the destruction of possible mosquito breeding places.

"It is inevitable that malaria will continue to come into this country with the return of our veterans from tropical countries," Dr. Cox said. "Since malaria is spread from person to person by the Anopholes mosquito, it is a matter of grave importance that these mosquitos be exterminated. The quickest way to do that is to provide them no place to breed and multiply.

Dr. Cox pointed out that while the State Health Department is carrying on an extensive malaria control program which is designed to fill in or drain swamps, ponds, and ditches, nevertheless every citizen is responsible for seeing that his own premises are free from stagnant water.

"Every bottle, can, or other rubbish which may be a possible water container in every backyard should be either destroyed or buried," Dr. Cox said. "Otherwise, spring rains will fill them up, and the deadly Anopholes mosquito will find an excellent breeding ground."

Dr. Cox said that the suppression of the disease is of unusual importance since quinine, the specific treatment for malaria, is extremely scarce for civilian use.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Shackelford of Sagerton spent the week end with relatives and friends here and at Goree.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Busby and daughter of Brownfield spent the week end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. U. Hathaway.

Woman Freed From Jap Prison Camp Visits With Maude And Fannie Isbell

Lieut. Maude Williams, who was freed from a Japanese prison camp several months ago, visited with Misses Maude and Fannie Isbell over the week end. She is a namesake of Miss Maude, and has developed into the charming personality her friends expected.

Mrs. Williams wears six service stripes, the Bronze Star, Philippine Liberation ribbon, the Philippine campaign ribbon with three stars, the Pacific ribbon with two stars, and the Presidential Citation.

For 31 months and one day, she was in the Japanese internment camp. Losing 32 pounds during that time, she has gained 20 of them and laughingly says, "that's enough".

A nutritional expert, she was able to supplement her diet from the Red Cross, and her husband, Lieut. M. R. Williams, a prisoner on Bataan, was able, through friendly guerrillas, French and Spanish allies, to get through to her, except for the last years, called the "starvation year".

Lieut. Williams, standing five feet and six inches, is an alert, courageous soldier who will return to active duty in July—probably in the Pacific area, hoping to be near when her husband is liberated from a Japanese prison where she believes him to be.

Friends who dropped by to see her were gladly given all the answers she could give them as to her prison experience. At a later date she hopes to return to Munday for a longer stay.

Her husband, a Virginia Military Institute graduate, is the son of Mrs. C. B. Williams of Culpeper, Va. Going to Manila as the Texas Oil Company's Representative, he met and married Lt. Maude Denson in 1935.

She has been in such demand for visits by relatives and friends, she feels she must rush to Virginia for a visit with her husband's family, then a decision as to where her next duty will be. A gracious, charming person, she is the perfect example of American womanhood ready to carry on, any place, at any time, for a completion of the Pacific War. She has no illusions as to an easy way to complete it.

Mrs. George Beaty spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Baker of Mineral Wells.

Miss Elizabeth Medley of Fort Worth spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. A. B. Warren, and with other relatives.

Mrs. M. D. Sherill of Seymour is here for a visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Wren.

Mr. and Mrs. Deaton Moorhouse and son of Seymour spent last Sunday with friends here.

Mrs. Jimmie Randolph and son of Vera were business visitors here last Friday.

LAKE CREEK CHURCH

Dr. Eiland of Munday spoke to an appreciative audience at Lake Creek school house Sunday night on his personal ambitions to be of benefit to the physical and spiritual well being of his friends.

Second speaker on the program was Ben Charlie Chapman, district judge of Haskell. His subject was directed in a brief study of some of the arresting agencies to juvenile delinquency. He was accompanied and introduced by Fred Stockdale, district attorney of Haskell County.

Other out-of-community visitors were Dolph Eiland and C. B. Jones of Munday.
Again we say thank you with this scriptural quotation: "They helped every one his neighbor; and every one aided his brother, be of good courage."—Isaiah 41:6

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

You heard over the radio, or have seen in the papers that the President of the United States has asked that next Sunday, May the 13th, be observed as a day of prayer and thanksgiving for the victory that has come in Europe, and that we pray for a like victory in Japan.

Surely we will all want to follow this suggestion. Sunday is Mother's Day, also the President's birthday.

Many have sacrificed their lives on the field of battle. The mothers of America have paid dearly for this war. Their sacrifices and their devotion cannot be measured by any human yardstick. We would remember them for their heroic devotion and loving services.

On the far-flung Pacific battle lines there are, and will be, millions of men pushing the battle through the gates of Japan for us. May we carry them to the throne of God's eternal grace! They are our boys. Their blood is our blood. They need our unflinching cooperation and prayers. Come to the services next Sunday.

W. H. Albertson.

REVIVAL ANNOUNCED

The Goree Church of Christ will hold their annual revival meeting from Friday night, July 13, through Sunday night, July 22. Bro. Wm. E. McDaniel of Huntsville, Texas, will do the preaching. Everyone is invited to attend. Let's all work together and make this meeting a success.

Senior News

This week's senior news will conclude our write-ups in the Sunset Glow for this year.

The Seniors really are working to get their book reports in. The Senior class will have their Baccalaureate services Sunday night, May 20, at 8:30 p. m.

Today, May 8, 1945, should be a day of long remembrance because of the surrender of Nazi Germany to the Allied Armies in Europe. We hope that it will not be long before the Japanese meet the same fate at that of the Nazis.

The Junior News

Our class had their annual picnic at Seymour last Saturday. We were very glad to have guests from various schools and we welcomed the Sunset Senior Class.

Everyone should be celebrating today as VICTORY DAY over Nazi Germany with their prayers of thanks for the deliverance of the world from the tyranny and powers of the foe. We should be rejoicing that one of the evil powers has surrendered to the Allied Armies in Europe. We hope it won't be long before Japan will do the same.

This being the last week that we will attempt to publish our news we wish to thank the editor of the Times for publishing our reports.

Sophomore News

Since school is almost out the Sophs are breathing easy. We believe that after we have come this far maybe we can stick it out for three more weeks, we hope to at least.

The Sophs are still hoping to have a picnic before school is out. I think we succeeded in doing so, don't you?

Home Demonstration Agent Gives Rules For Canning Of Pineapple

Sugar Loaf and Smooth Cayenne seem to be the best varieties of pineapple for canning, says Lucile King, County Home Demonstration Agent.

Containers:—Pineapple canned in plain tin cans has a better flavor and color than when canned in enamel cans or glass jars; however, these containers may be used if plain cans are not available.

Preparation of Fruit—Make syrup before cutting pineapple. Dissolve 1/2 to 3/4 cup sugar in 1 cup hot water. This amount is usually sufficient for 1 quart of fruit. Wash the fruit first with a stiff brush. Cut off stem end and twist out top. Lay the pineapple on its side on a cutting board. Cut 1/2 inch slices. Peel each slice. Drop slices into syrup at once to prevent exposure to air which causes loss of vitamins C and discoloration.

Pack Raw and Steam:—When all pineapple is prepared, pack cans or jars full or slices of raw fruit. Bring the syrup to a boil and pour over the fruit to within one inch of the top of the container. To steam, place uncovered jars of fruit in a water bath warm water up to the neck of the jar. Cans without lids may be placed in a water bath with boiling water about 1/2 inches below the rim. Cover the water bath kettle. As soon as the water starts boiling and has formed a good steam, count time. A slow even over is better than virgorous boiling because the water does not bubble into the containers.

Steam: Pints and No. 2 cans—5 minutes (about 150 deg. F.)
Quarts and No. 3 cans—10 minutes (about 150 deg. F.)

Press Down and Seal:—At the end of the steaming time remove one container at a time. Press the fruit down so that juices will cover the pieces and the air bubbles will escape. If the fruit is not hot and the air remover, darkening of the product and loss of vitamins will result.

Seal lids on cans air-tight. Self-seal type of jar lids should be tightened firmly before processing and not tightened again after processing. Other types of lids should be loosened 1/4 turn before processing and then tightened after processing.

Process in Boiling Water Bath:—After jars and cans have been sealed, they should be put back into the boiling water. Count time when water begins boiling.

Process: No. 2 and No. 3 cans—15 minutes.

Pint and Quart jars—20 minutes.
Cool and Store:—Remove from water bath. Cool cans in cold water immediately. Tighten lids on jars (other than self-seal type) and cool as quickly as possible without placing in a draft. Store in a cool, dry, dark place. Light causes darkening of pineapple canned in glass, and it destroys some vitamin C. Heat lowers the quality of fruit canned either in glass or tin.

Note: Cores and trimmings may ground, cooked with syrup and made into juice or canned as crushed pineapple.

Pineapple Juice

Follow suggestions for selection of fruit and containers as given above. It is especially important that fruit be ripe and sweet to yield a good quantity of good flavored juice. Peel and cut pineapple into pieces. These are two ways to extract juice: (1) A sepiessive is used for grinding and extracting the juice at the same time. (2) If a sepiessive is not available, the pieces may be run through a meat grinder, then heated to 140 deg. F. (a little hotter than the hand can stand). Stir to prevent sticking. Press the warm pulp through any type of fruit juice press. A fair yield could be obtained by squeezing pulp through a cheesecloth.

Add 1/2 cup sugar to each quart of extracted juice, and heat to 140 deg. F. to 150 deg. F. Pour into cans or clean, hot jars, seal, process and store the same as described in canning pineapple.

Canned Pineapple for Fruit Cakes
Select and prepare pineapple as for canning. Cut slices in halves in order to have crescent shape. For each pound of pineapple, add 1 cup of hot water. Cook slowly until tender and clear. Remove fruit. Add to the water - pound of sugar for each pound of fruit. Boil syrup down about 1/3 the volume. If coloring is desired, it may be added to the syrup at this stage. Put fruit back into the syrup and cook it until it is transparent. Again carefully remove slices, spread on platters and set in the sun. Cook the syrup down to a candy stage. Pour over the slices of pineapple. Let dry. Pack into wide-mouth glass jars with dry sugar or branched wax paper between each layer. Seal the jars, and store in a cool place until ready for use. If product is not thoroughly dry, there is danger of mold.

Pineapple Freezing
Select and prepare fruit as for canning. Pack into air-tight moisture-proof freezing cartons. Cover with syrup which is made by dissolving 3/4 cup sugar in 1 cup hot water. The syrup should be cold when added to pineapple. Seal the carton and quick-freeze as soon as possible.

310 MILLION MAN-HOURS WITHOUT FATAL ACCIDENT

SCHENECTADY—General Electric's largest manufacturing plant here has established a safety record of more than three hundred ten million man-hours of work without a fatality, believed to be unequalled in any heavy apparatus manufacturing in the nation, according to George E. Sanford, who is in charge of the company's safety program. The last fatality in the Schenectady works occurred more than three years ago.

During the past two decades more than three times as many G-E employees lost their lives as a result of automobile accidents as died from industrial accidents. Drowning accidents nearly equalled the occupational fatalities. Deaths from falls at home were about two-thirds as many as the number of fatal accidents in the plant shops.

HUBAN CLOVER CUTS FEED COST

COOLEGE STATION.—A pasture demonstration in Nueces County proves that huban clover will reduce feed costs and increase production of milk.

According to County Agricultural Agent Henry S. Alsmeyer, Henry Thomas planted 20 acres of huban last fall. On March 14 he turned it over to grazing with 40 head of cattle during the daytime and 80 at night. Through the remainder of the month, Mr. Alsmeyer explains, the clover grew faster than the cattle could graze it. The result was an increase of 20 gallons of milk daily and a reduction of 50 per cent in the outlay for protein feed.

Miss Lola Jones, who is attending school in Denton, visited her mother, Mrs. Rose Jones, over the week end. Mrs. Jones took her back to Denton last Sunday. Mrs. Jim Reeves accompanied them to Denton for a visit with her daughter, Jean, and they returned home Monday.

SIDELIGHTS ON THE LIFE OF A GREAT DEMOCRAT

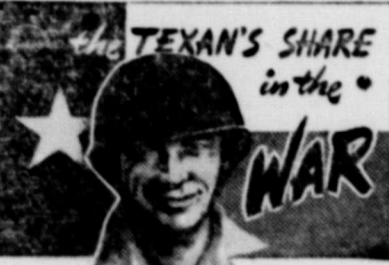

THOMAS JEFFERSON COURTED HIS WIFE BY FIDDLING WHILE SHE SANG...

HE DREW THE PLANS FOR HIS HOME—AND AS AN ARDENT GARDENER, HE PLANNED LOCATION OF EVERY TREE AND BUSH ON HIS GROUNDS.

THE YOUNG JEFFERSON BY CLAUDE G. BOWERS

TEXAN'S SHARE in the WAR

Texas of the famed 36th set new records in Naziland last week when they spearheaded the final allied drive against the fanatical Germans caught in last-stand pockets. They added many hundreds more to the list of prisoners taken by the division, and topped their battle accomplishments by capturing German General von Rundstedt, the former commander of Hitler's western front forces.

The high-ranking Nazi, who planned the surprise attack of the bulge last December, told his captors that he was retired, and his story was borne out by the fact that he was in civilian clothes when taken.

If all the Germans forced into "retirement" by the 36th Division were laid end to end, it would probably be good for the world... and the line would be long enough to reach around Hitler's once-powerful but now beaten homeland.

A Texan also helped capture the infamous Dachau prison, where the Nazi held more than 32,000 men, women and children in conditions too horrible to describe.

When men of the 42nd and 45th Divisions rolled up to the concentration camp on tanks, long-tom rifles and every other sort of vehicle that would carry troops, Lt. Col. Walter Fellenz of San Antonio was in the front of the line. Fellenz and his fellow Americans quickly took over the horror camp and freed its horde of pitiful captives.

And back home in Texas, a warning was issued against any let-down at the end of the European war. Judge Ben H. Powell, president of the United War Chest of Texas, reminded Texans that the big part of the war... that against Japan... still must be won before our men come home to rest on their laurels.

"Our boys will be transferred to the Pacific as soon as possible," he said, "and must keep on fighting until the Japs are conquered. They will strike hard and fast, for a hard and fast attack means a quicker end to the war... and fewer American casualties."

"It is our job here at home to strike hard, too, in our campaigns to support our fighting men. The war chest is now laying plans for its annual drive for funds with which to support the USO, War Prisoners Aid, and the 19 other agencies of the National War Fund which serve our fighting men, our allies, and war victims throughout the world.

"As the fighting men do their job abroad, so must we do ours on the home front!"

Texas air fighters in Italy took time off recently to celebrate Texas Independence Day with a dinner staged at Naples. Before a Lone Star Flag made for them by Red Cross girls, Sgt. Eddie Cope, Capt. L. S. Wilkerson, Bill McGill and Maj. James H. Parks sliced a large cake imprinted with the words "The Eyes of Texas." Then they ended the celebration by singing Texas songs.

Fruscott Boy In Combat With 36th Division

WITH THE 36TH "TEXAS" DIVISION, FRANCE.—Today Technician 5 grade Jack R. Trawick, Fruscott, passed his two hundredth consecutive day of combat as a member of the crack, veteran 753rd Tank Battalion, having seen action in Sicily, Italy, and France, and participated in the invasion at Gaeta, Salerno, and the Riviera.

The 753rd played an active part in the rapid, sweeping success of the Sicilian liberation as the only independent medium tank battalion to participate in the campaign.

It made its second invasion on the beaches of "Bloody Salerno" as one of the first American tank units to land on the European mainland. It served with the 36th "Texas" Division and other units through the bloody, fierce winter campaign around San Pietro and Cassino under conditions which have been described as the "worst in which American soldiers have ever battled." For its participation in the May 11 breakthrough at the Garigliano River, the 753rd was awarded the Croix de Guerre with Vermillon Star, the highest award bestowed by the French Expeditionary Corps on any American unit. It then rejoined the American forces on the embattled Anzio beachhead and drove out in the action which opened the road to Rome. The 753rd then went on to play an important role in the lightning two hundred mile advance that freed the entire central sector of the Italian peninsula, liberated Rome, and drove to the heights overlooking Piombino.

In its third major amphibious operation, the 753rd once more linked forces with the 36th Division to land on the Riviera Coast. It was one of the elements of the task force which slashed over two hundred miles through the Sisteron gap to flank the German Nineteenth Army and battle it up at Montellmar until the entire weight of the Seventh Army sprang the trap virtually to annihilate the Germans. It was the 753rd which then led the chase all the way to the enemy Moselle River line and led the Seventh Army to the Vosges Mountains. It was the 753rd which participated in the drive through the Sainte Marie Pass, the first time in history such a feat had ever accomplished. In the subsequent battles of the Alsain plain, when the German X Panzer Division threatened to spew forward and overrun Straasbourg defenses, the 753rd played an important part in driving the enemy bridgehead across the Rhine.

(The lines above may look like a metric scale. But if you close one eye and tilt this page to the position shown, you can easily read four familiar words.)

MAYBE you won't thank us for reminding you of the H C of L. But it doesn't seem nearly so high when you look at it in the light of your electric bills!

Almost alone among household necessities, the price of electricity has not spiraled upward with war. In fact, official government figures* show that the average price of electricity has actually dropped 3.2% since 1939!

That's especially good news now, but it continues a long-time trend. Electric prices have been coming down so steadily that the average American family gets about twice as much electricity for its money today as it did 15 years ago.

If your bill is no smaller, it's because you're using more electricity to do more jobs than you did then. But the saving is there. It has been accomplished by America's light and power companies in spite of rising costs and taxes—on top of huge war demands for service that were met without delay, shortage or rationing.

It was done by efficiency and experience and sound business management—by the same American enterprise which built our nation and on which its future depends.

Civilians At War

The Government needs and asks its citizens in the 179th week of the war to:

1. Plan now to spend Memorial Day at home. Troop transfers, material shipments and the return of European casualties make pleasure travel more unwarranted than ever.
2. Return to sea, if you are an experienced seaman. Ships now being launched must be manned to carry increased Pacific shipments, returning wounded, and supplies to devastated countries.
3. Rent spare rooms to war workers and families of service men. Register the ceiling rent with the OPA if you live in a rent control area.

1945 National Farm Safety Week Announced

The second annual National Farm Safety Week will be observed this year from July 22 to July 28, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announced. Its purpose is to focus attention on the need for carrying on accident and fire prevention activities in rural communities. In 1943, the Department of Agriculture said, farm accidents killed 17,200 persons and injured 1,509,000. Of those injured, approximately 15,000 were crippled for life. The monetary loss from these accidents amounted to about one billion dollars. Farm fires last year cost the lives of 3,500 farm people. More than $90,000,000 in property was destroyed. The majority of farm accidents and fires can be prevented, said the Department of Agriculture, by a simple three point safety program—(1) Learn to recognize the accidents and fire hazards on your farm in your farm home, (2) Correct or remove all hazards that you can, (3) Learn to live and work safely with those hazards that cannot be immediately corrected or removed.

Motorist Warned Against Battery "Dope" Vendors

Reports of a widespread racket in storage battery "accelerants" have caused alarm among War Production Board Officials interested in the conservation of automobile batteries now in use, WPB said. The accounts indicate that battery "dope" vendors are doing flourishing business in some localities and that the fraud may spread throughout the country, WPB said. So-called "dopes" of "pepping up" compounds, according to an official of the American Association of Battery Manufacturers, usually consist of Epsom salts, sand, flour, or some other white powder, which, the contrary, officials said, no salt definitely injurious and shortens battery life. Regardless of claims added to battery electrolyte, are factory substitute has been found for electrolyte or proper mixture of distilled water and sulphuric acid. WPB re-emphasized the importance of regular inspection, adding water at short intervals, and periodic recharging in order that essential motor vehicles may be kept in operation during the war period.

Waste Vegetable Leaf Useful

Waste vegetable leaf meal is an excellent chick feed supplement, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Experiments to find uses for the large tonnage of waste leaves in the production and processing of vegetable crops showed that the blade portions of the leaves are high in protein, carotene and riboflavin, all of which are needed in poultry feed. Investigations cover work on the waste leaves of broccoli, beets, spinach, turnips, carrots and lima bean vines. Detailed results of this large scale research are contained in mimeograph circular AIC-76, "Processing Vegetable Wastes For High-Protein, High-Vitamin Leaf Meals." The circular discusses methods of processing, equipment required and costs involved. Typical analyses and yields also are given. The circular may be had free on request to the Eastern Regional Research Laboratory, Philadelphia, 8, Penn. Heavier Fuel Oil Calls

For Clean Burners

Next winter's home heating oil will be of a slightly heavier grade than was available last winter, the Petroleum Administration for War said. Cleaning of oil furnaces and burners during the next few months is more necessary than ever because of the effect war demands have had on domestic grades of fuel oil. The lighter fuel oil in common use prior to 1942, PAW said, has gone to war. It is going into Diesel oil used for land, sea, and amphibious operations, and into the manufacture of high octane gasoline for combat and supply planes. As a result of the drain caused by Diesel oil and aviation gasoline requirements a large portion of the oil now available for home heating is the "cracked oil" remaining from the manufacture of aviation gasoline. This, while somewhat heavier than the oil used normally, PAW said, contained more heating units per gallon. It is highly efficient in most burners, if they are kept in good condition.

Sugar Called Mainstay Of Army Combat Ration

Sugar is the mainstay of the army combat ration and of practically all army field rations because of its high concentration and its value as a quick energy food. A typical "C" ration contains five lumps of sugar for one meal. In addition to the sugar furnished with a meal in a combat ration there may be five pieces of hard candy. Sugar is also essential to preserving many foods for storage in shipments overseas, including pickles, preserved fruit, sugared dates, and some meats.

Restriction On Butane Gas Won't Stop With V-E Day

Increased demands of war in the Pacific have offset any anticipated increase in the supply of butane gases for home use, and householders will not be permitted to make any new butane installations with the conclusion of European hostilities, Deputy Petroleum Administrator Ralph K. Davies has advised Texas butane dealers. Persons chiefly concerned are those residing in districts beyond city mains who are planning to install butane systems. Persons who are new using butane will not be affected. The reason for continuing restrictions, he explained, is that butane, propane, and their mixtures are necessary for the war program. Butane is an important ingredient of high-octane aviation gasoline and also is needed for the manufacture of synthetic rubber. Propane is becoming increasingly important as a raw material in making chemicals. Huge quantities of propane are used in war plants in the heat treatment of metals and for other purposes. New demands have been made upon propane gas for war plants in the North where there is a shortage of natural gas. Production of 100-octane aviation gasoline will continue at maximum rates after V-E Day and will require even more butane than was used for this purpose last winter, Mr. Davies said. In meeting war and civilian demands, the industry is faced with enormous production and transportation problems, but Davies said no coupon rationing of butane is being considered. Clayton Wren returned home last Monday from Weslaco, where he spent several days attending the bedside of his father, G. W. Wren. He reported that his father, who was seriously ill, had improved when he left.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS by BOY HOUSE

Charley, the printer on the Arkansas Country weekly that your columnist edited for a year, was an incurable practical joker. Soon after coming there, I wrote a paragraph criticizing the presence of a wisp's nest in the courtroom and Charley kept running back and forth telling me what he claimed the county judge (a former preacher) had said and then telling the judge what I was supposed to have said in reply—with the result that both of us, being men of peace, dodged each other for two weeks, which is quite a feat in a town no bigger than Piggott.

It was BEFORE my advent however that Charley achieved his masterpiece. Piggott was a "dry" town but a prominent citizen, (Jones will do) and left a jug of "corn" in the newspaper office and he'd drop in and take a drink, now and then. To keep out of sight, he would step into the telephone booth and duck beneath the level of the glassed upper half of the door, while quaffing. This particular day was a July

"schorcher" and Jones was in the act of taking a nip when he heard Charley say, "Howdy do, Aunt Sallie" and Jones recognized the shrill reply as coming from the town's most strict of inhabitants. Thinking she would leave in a moment, he remained in his stooped position. But the conversation went on and on. Two or three times, Aunt Sallie would say goodby and then Charley would ask another question. The sweat rolled down the trapped man. At last farewells were exchanged and Jones staggered weakly into the fresh air exclaiming, "I thought she never would leave."

Charley roared with laughter—Aunt Sallie hadn't been there at all; Charley, a natural mimic, had carried on the entire conversation! He almost got licked when Jones realized how unnecessarily he had suffered.

No man knows all the answers. Homer couldn't give the solution to the riddle some boys asked him: "What we caught, we left behind; what we did not catch, we bring with us." The answer was, "Lies."

The riddle of the Sphinx was, "What animal walks on four feet in the morning; at noon, on two; and in the evening, on three." The answer to that one is, "Man—who crawls in infancy, walks in manhood and, in old age, uses a cane."

Mrs. B. L. Vaughan and baby of Abilene visited relatives and friends here and at Goree over the week end.

Agricultural Planning Meeting At Benjamin Wednesday Is Well Attended

Fourty three Knox County farmers, farm women, members of Commissioners Court, and business men attended the Agriculture Planning Meeting at Benjamin, on May 2nd, for the purpose of studying and becoming familiar with the so-called "G. I. Bill of Rights," and its provisions and benefits for returning war veterans. The "G. I. Bill of Rights" is a service mens readjustment act of Congress to provide Federal Government aid for the readjustment to civilian life of returning World War 2 Veterans.

It is the opinion of all those who attended the meeting and others that it is our obligation to be prepared to meet demands placed upon us when veterans need advisory help upon their return.

Many local representatives, committee members and representatives of Federal Agencies attended the meeting and explained different benefit features of the "G. I. Bill of Rights."

R. O. Dunkle, county agent, representing the State Extension Service, was chairman of the meeting and explained the hospitalization feature of the "G. I. Bill of Rights," which provides the hospital care for disability incurred in line of duty will be provided for upon request to the Veterans Administration, which is located at Waco, Texas. It also provides that illness of veterans not due to service will still get hospitalization, providing a bed is available at hospital and that the veteran is financially unable to pay the cost.

W. T. Templeton, attorney for the Selective Service Board, gave a complete summary of the general administrative provisions of the G. I. Bill of Rights, and named members of the state and county of the local Veterans Service Committees.

W. R. Moore, local representative of the Veterans Service Committee, explained the activities of the committee and how it is functioning to help returning Veterans by becoming familiar with their wants and desires.

T. E. Bellew and Miss Willie Mae Dunham, representatives of the Farm Security Administration, explained the rights and benefits that might be obtained through loans from this Federal agency. Mr. Bellew explained that a loan, not to exceed $2,000.00, could be obtained if the local Veterans Committee gave it approval. The members of this committee are Luther Graham, Knox City; Press Phillips, Munday and Roy Smith, Knox City.

S. H. Southall, representative of the U. S. E. S., told of this agency's activity in helping veterans to obtain employment and its assistance in veterans training for future employment.

Clay Grove, member of the Extension Service Agricultural Advisory Committee, told of the committee's assistance in an advisory capacity and of the committee's help in locating veterans on farms. Mr. Grove is a World War I Veteran, and knows the many problems that a returning veteran has to deal with.

Miss Lucile King, county home demonstration agent, gave a very interesting demonstration as to how home demonstration clubs, throughout the county, can assist the returning war veterans wives. She exhibited many articles of home improvement, such as the upholstering of furniture, recaneing chairs, balanced food diets according to the Texas Food Standard, and articles of clothing and table spreads made from feed sacks, which were very attractive and useful.

L. B. Donahoo, local agent of the Federal Land Bank, made the statement that his agency was not designed to assist war veterans except in the regular manner of assisting purchasers of agricultural lands; however, the Federal Land Bank, he stated, will welcome applications from returning Veterans providing the regular requirements can be met by the veterans.

C. R. Elliott, secretary of the local Production Credit Association, stated that this association would gladly assist returning veterans, who have arranged to live on the farm and who have had previous farm experience.

W. C. Albright, representative of the Readjustment Allowance for Unemployment Association, stated that many returning War Veterans had already received unemployment allowances, and more especially to returning veterans who were self employed and whose income was less than $100.00 per month.

M. D. McGaughey, county superintendent of public schools, stated that honorably discharged veterans who were not over 25 years of age and who can demonstrate that their training or education was interrupted or interfered with at the time of induction is eligible to receive a refresher or training course, and in cases where the veteran was attending college at the time of his induction can take up his educational training again and receive living allowances for he and his wife up to $75.00 per month. Mr. McGaughey also stated that all expenses such as laboratory, tuition and book supplies could also be paid for under the "G. I. Bill of Rights."

J. A. Wilson, secretary of the Local Board, led an interesting discussion as to the first things a veteran needs to do upon his return. The first thing, as Mr. Wilson explained, is to report to the Local Board in person or by letter within five days after his discharge. This is required by law, he said. Other features of primary importance upon the veteran's return would be explained to the veteran at the time he reports to the Local Board.

James C. Harpham, a veteran of World War I, gave a very interesting talk upon the attitude of returning veterans and that adjustments of their lives back to civilian life must be gradual and the friendship toward the veteran should be helpful rather than inquisitive.

Each service organization of the county, such as the Lion's Club, Chamber of Commerce, Rotary club, Home Demonstration club, school superintendents, preachers and bankers who attended the meeting plan to pass this information on to all persons in their respective neighborhoods.

Judging from the interest shown by these many Knox county citizens, the returning war veteran to Knox county can expect most any kind of help, advice and service. Everyone present expressed his sincere desire of assisting a veteran in every way possible in making his readjustment to civilian life and fully realized his or her responsibility and obligation.

Goree Man's Unit Is Commended By General Patton For Its Performance

The unit in which S/Sgt. William C. Oliver son of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Oliver of Goree, serves is among those that have been commended by General G. S. Patton, Jr., for outstanding performance during the period January 29 to March 22, 1945. Oliver is with the 567th Antiaircraft Artillery Automatic Weapons Battalion.

Patton's commendation to officers and men of the Third Army was as follows:

"In the period from January 29 to March 22, 1945, you have wrested 6,484 square miles of territory from the enemy. You have taken 3,072 cities, towns and villages, including among the former: Trier, Koblenz, Bingen, Worms, Mainz, Kaiserslautern and Ludwigshafen. You have captured 140,112 enemy soldiers, and have killed or wounded an additional 99,000, thereby eliminating practically all of German 7th and 1st Armies. History records no greater achievement in so limited time.

"This great campaign was only made possible by your disciplined valor, unswerving devotion to duty, coupled with the unparalleled audacity and speed of your advance on the ground; while from the air, the peerless fighter-bombers kept up relentless and round-the-clock attack upon the disorganized enemy. The world rings with your praises: better still, General Marshall, General Eisenhower, and General Bradley have all personally commended you. The highest honor I have ever attained is that of having my name coupled with yours in these great events.

"Please accept my heartfelt admiration and thanks for what you have done, and remember that your assault crossing over the Rhine at 2200 hours last night assures you of even greater glory to come."

Air Medal Goes To Weinert Boy

AN EIGHTH AIR FORCE STATION, England.—Second Lieutenant Willie T. Johnson, 23, of Weinert, Texas, co-pilot of a B-17 Flying Fortress, has won the Air Medal for "meritorious achievement... coolness, courage and skill" during Eighth Air Force bombing attacks on German industrial targets and military strongpoints in the path of Allied armies on the road to Berlin.

The assaults, coordinated with the fighting of the Allied armies of invasion, are a part of the concentrated effort of the AAF to prosecute the war to a swift conclusion and bring the Nazi warlords to their knees.
