Odd Bits Salvaged
At Random

Mass meeting called for Friday night.

It's a meeting to discuss Munday's schools, their problems, their responsibilities and their possibilities.

It will be held at the school auditorium, and there will be someone present who is qualified to point out the problems and, possibly, give all the answers, to questions that might be asked.

The meeting has been called by the local school board—a group of men who are vitally concerned about overcrowded conditions in Munday's schools, the fact that a high school is being asked for the colored children, and the fact that Munday stands a good chance of losing its present standing among high schools of Texas unless something is done.

These men have asked every parent, every taxpayer in the school district, and everyone interested in the schools in any way to attend the meeting.

They want you to hear the facts. They want to "put the cards on the table" and let you study them. They want you to do your part as a responsible citizen and help them solve this momentous problem.

The point is that Munday is growing!

This growth, gradual as it may be, can be seen very vividly by people of our community and by those who have occasion to visit here.

That growth can be felt more in our schools than possibly in any other place. More children are attending our schools, and that is bringing about the overcrowded conditions.

And we want them to come. We don't want to send them home, saying to them: "We don't have room for you."

We want every child in Munday to reach manhood and womanhood with the best high school education possible to give them under the Texas school system.

We can't do this with our present school facilities. Children don't receive the best in facilities, in instruction, in personal attention under overcrowded conditions.

Our colored school is a part of the Munday school system. This was pointed out last week in a letter we printed from the Texas Education Agency, which carried this all-important paragraph:

"It will be essential for Munday to provide for the education of those Negro children if it wishes to protect its accredited status, since the Negro school is a part of the Munday school system."

And there's the two problems to be solved—overcrowded conditions and high school classes for colored children.

It isn't up to the school board to solve them. It isn't up to the faculty, nor the school children. It's up to each individual citizen.

The solution will probably be worked out at the mass meeting—not a solution for all-time, but one which will take care of our immediate needs and protect our "accredited status."

People judge towns by their schools and churches—and newspapers.

The first thing they look into when contemplating moving to a town is the type of school and the type of churches the town has.

If they figure on entering business—they high-tail it to the newspaper office to see the type of newspaper the town supports.

But, shucks, we reckon the schools are more important than (Continued on last Page)

Fishing Spot On San Saba Beckons; Local Boys Answer

Tatold favorite fishing spot—Munday people have visited around the first of May for around 20 years—beckoned to local fishermen last week. And Friday, part of them took off for that place on the Tom Talbot ranch, at the head of the San Saba river, near Fort McKavett.

Leaving Friday were Dick Atkinson, Leland Hannah, Judge Billingsley and Lyle Stodghill, accompanied by their colored cook, Mallory Wilson. They were to set camp and get ready to cast their hooks among the lily pads of the famous river.

Saturday night, John C. Spann headed for that same spot, in the shade of huge native pecan trees, picking up Henry Atkinson at Haskell.

The boys were expecting to be gone about a week. Whether they catch any fish or not, they are having a big time on this annual outing.

Seeding of King Ranch bluestem grass is progressing with cooperators all over the District using the drills. So far this year a total of 1854 acres of this grass has been seeded within the District. This includes waterways seeded for terrace outlets as well as grass seeded for pasture.

Technicians of the Soil Conservation Service are assisting the farmers in the application of these conservation practices. Farmers are also receiving conservation payment assistance from the Production and Marketing Administration.

Goree Boy Wins Typing Contest

Supt. J. B. Lawson of the Goree Public Schools has announced that Elwynn Morse of Goree High School recently won first place in typing at the Inter-scholastic League Regional II meet in Brownwood.

Elwynn is the highest ranking boy graduate of Goree High School. He took the typing honors in what his coach, M. J. Kirby, says is quite a record in that he used a portable typewriter to place in both the District 11-B and the regional contest. This is the first time District 11-B ever won a regional meet.

Elwynn went to the state meet last Friday, where he took 11th place in the typing event. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melborn Morse, who reside north of Goree.

Prize Is Offered For Collection Of Snake Rattles

Save the rattlers on the rattlesnakes' tails—we need 'em!

Along about this time of the year the deadly Texas rattlesnake crawls forth from his winter quarters to become a menace to all who gets in his path. Hundreds are killed each year, and are usually left on the spot. If he is a real large one the horny interlocking joints at the end of his tail, known as rattlers, are sometime cut off and displayed as trophies of the kill, and sometimes as proof of the size of the snake.

Of course, you are urged to kill all rattlesnakes you see this spring, but regardless of size, please cut off the rattlers and send them to the Electric Times, in Abilene. We need hundreds of them, and will gladly accept each and everyone.

And there is a very nice prize awaiting the employees of any WTU office or department that send in the greatest number of rattlers—just that end section of the tail—not the entire snake. Eudora Hawkins of the WTU public service department, will present to the winners a delicious devil's food cake covered with a half-inch coating of fudge icing.

What are we going to do with all the hundreds of rattlers we receive? They will be given as souvenirs to the delegates at the annual national convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs which will convene at the Shamrock Hotel in Houston, Texas, May 13. There will be delegates from every state in the union.

Eudora Hawkins will attend the meeting and present the souvenirs. She is the State Chairman of Rules and Procedure.

A school board that is vitally concerned over problems confronting the Munday schools has called a mass meeting of citizens of this school district for Friday night, May 11, at the school auditorium.

This meeting is for the purpose of bringing the facts before the taxpayers and school patrons with the view of working out means of solving the problems.

Two major problems confront the schools, namely: 1. that of eliminating overcrowded conditions in various classrooms, and 2. that of providing a high school for the colored people of the district.

Under state laws, 35 pupils of the classroom is the maximum teacher load, yet there are six classrooms in the Munday system carrying an enrollment of over 40 pupils.

The state board has pointed out that the colored school is considered a part of the Munday Public School System, and the system will likely be penalized if no provisions are made to provide a high school for the colored youth. That penalty, it has been pointed out, could mean the loss of affiliation with the state system.

Every parent, every taxpayer and everyone interested in the future of the Munday schools in any way are urged to attend the mass meeting on Friday night at eight o'clock.

Those who have studied the school's problems will explain them to the people. They seek your cooperation and counsel in solving these problems, and they urge that you prove your loyalty to Munday's educational system by attending this mass meeting.

Rhineland Boys Organize 4-H Club

Nineteen boys of the Rhineland School met May 4th and organized a 4H club under the supervision of Bill Palmeyer, County Agent.

Officers elected were: Tommy Decker, President; James Albus, Vice-President; James Claus, Secretary; Albert Schumacher, Reporter.

Projects the boys will work with include pigs, calves, chickens, crops, gardens, and wildlife conservation.

4H work was new to most of the boys, therefore, the principles of 4H work was explained, and different programs were explained. After election of officers, a show, HANDS ACROSS THE BORDER, which shows club work in Texas and Mexico, was shown. This club will meet the first Thursday of each month at 9:00.

Farmers May Sign For Cotton Program

Cotton farmers can now sign up for the 1951 Smith-Doxey program H. J. Matejowsky, who is in charge of the cotton classifying office in Abilene's U. S. Department of Agriculture, Production and Marketing Administration, announced today.

Under the Smith-Doxey Act, farmers who belong to organized groups for cotton improvement can have their cotton classed without paying a fee. Also, they can get USDA cotton quotations mailed to them without cost.

"Farmers can find out how to organize a new cotton improvement group or how to join one already in operation at their county agent's office, or county PMA office," Matejowsky said.

Cotton is classed by the Abilene office for farmers in Andrews, Baylor, Brown, Callahan, Coke, Coleman, Concho, Dickens, Fisher, Glasscock, Haskell, Howard, Jones, Kent, Knox, Martin, Midland, Mitchell, Nolan, Rannels, Schelcher, Scurry, Stonewall, Taylor, Throckmorton and Tom Green counties.

Matejowsky emphasized that every cotton improvement group should file application for Smith-Doxey services as soon as all the farmers in the group have planted their cotton.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Grammar spent the week end here in the home of her mother, Mrs. G. R. Eiland.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

ALEDO, ILL., TIMES RECORD: "Appropriation—A new tax in disguise."

MORRISTOWN, TENN., GAZETTE MAIL: "The staff of the Joint Congressional Committee on the Economic Report has cast a highly interested eye at the possibilities of a tax on advertising . . . a tax of 20 to 25 percent. The real effect . . . would be felt by the media which are supported by advertising. These are in the main the newspapers, the magazines, and radio and television. All are peculiarly purveyors of services to the public for which the public pays little or nothing in direct purchase."

SHELDON, IOWA, MAIL: "A twenty percent tax upon advertising . . . would kill many mercantile businesses and undoubtedly kill the majority of newspapers and magazines."

TYNDALL, S. D., TRIBUNE REGISTER: "A short time ago we remarked that the Federal government was adding a lot of new employees, without knowing at the time just how the figures were running. We have these figures now to substantiate the statement: The Federal government added 60,594 employees to the payroll in January—more than 2,000 per day. It doesn't seem to add up to a program of economy in government spending."

GILBERT, ARIZONA, ENTERPRISE: "Former Governor M. E. Thompson of Georgia announced his resignation as Office of Price Stabilization consultant . . . because he could not take the money from the taxpayers for a job that he did not have. In his announcement he reveals the waste that was going on in the stabilization program and stated that he did not want to have any part of it. If we only had more men like this we would have less bureaus, less taxes and less confusion."

DIRTY BUSINESS

Commenting on the crime, vice and gambling combinations and rackets in the United States, and corruption in some political circles, J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, says: "There is nothing pleasant in any discussion on the subject of crime. Crime exists because of failures—failure to prevent delinquency and failure to correct delinquency. Beyond that, there is failure to prevent crime, a failure to detect crime a failure to prosecute crime, a failure to properly deal with crime and a failure to take the profit out of crime."

"The solution of the crime problem is a simple matter: Enforce existing laws fairly and impartially, vigorously and relentlessly, and mobilize the full force of every medium of education as to the facts about crime. I have no sympathy with the position of those who constantly are urging against the publication of information on crime. In fact, I would urge the dissemination of more information on crime which puts crime in its proper perspective and reveals it in all its horror and filth, and revolting character. Only in that way can public lethargy be forced into action.

"The evils of gang wars, gambling, vice, political corruption and organized crime can be eliminated from the American scene. The fundamental solution lies in aroused and awakened citizens, militantly demanding the action which will eliminate the gambling czar, the crook and the venal politician. Blast the foundation of the local gambling czar, by vigorously enforcing the statutes against gambling without fear or favor and he will collapse and, like a house of cards, the vast pyramid of gambling will collapse.

"We can never have a crime-free America until all who stand for law and order are united and determined to mobilize against those who constitute our army of lawlessness. Only a return to the fundamentals upon which this Nation was founded—a moral reawakening—a revitalized spirit and a rededication of service to our fellow man—can make this a reality.

"No nation ever won a war unless its people were united and dedicated to the common cause."

A REAL LUXURY

Someone has said that smoking in bed is a luxury which should be pursued only by people who can afford to build new home every so often.

It could be added that it is also good practice for those who are eager to see what the next world is like as soon as possible. It has been the cause not only of thousands of home fires but of disasters in hotels which have resulted in a ghastly toll of death and injury.

Moreover, this source of fire is typical of the fact that the great majority of fires are completely unnecessary. Certainly, even the chain-smoker can put out his final cigarette before he turns in for the night. And even the most indolent householder can make his home safe from fire in many ways without overstraining his muscles. It doesn't take much effort to see that flammable junk is properly disposed of, rather than being stored in basements and closets where it is a constant invitation to fire. It's no great task to periodically check up on exposed electric cords and replace those which are frayed. And it's easy to call the repair shop and have someone who knows his business make a routine inspection of furnaces and other heating appliances before they are subjected to the heavy cold-weather load.

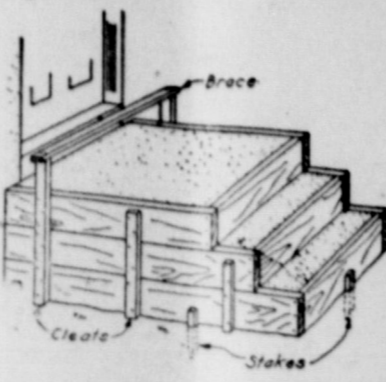

If these things alone are done, the risk of fire in most homes will be tremendously reduced. And the major causes of fire are equally simple to detect and correct. No one can do it for you. It's your job—just as it's your life and property that's at stake.

If more people would think more about where they are going instead of where they have been, this world would be better off.

Building New Porch Steps

IF YOUR porch has wooden steps that are in poor condition, it may pay you to replace them with new steps of concrete which last almost indefinitely and are a permanent improvement to a house. The simple illustration indicates how simple it is to construct forms for the steps.

Use either 1-inch or 2-inch lumber for forms. These should be so built that the vertical distance between steps is about 7 or 7½ inches and the width of each tread is approximately 10 inches. The forms must be laid on ground that is firm and level.

Mixtures of concrete may vary with climates, so follow closely the recommendations of the cement manufacturer or dealer. You will want to produce concrete of a rather stiff consistency and containing sufficient mortar to make a smooth surface. When the concrete has hardened sufficiently in the forms to hold its shape, the forms may be removed. Loosen spots then can be filled and troweled smooth.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Summer is here, and boys and girls will soon be out of school. More people usually drive in summer than at other times. There are more ball games and opportunities for chasing the ball out into the street to regain it. These, and many other summer situations, call for added caution to keep people safe, says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

According to statistics, 9,900 pedestrians were killed in motor vehicle accidents in our country in a year, and 230,000 persons were injured in a single year.

These figures would indicate that both drivers and pedestrians have much to learn.

The pedestrian is often his own worst enemy. Ignorance of the rules of the road, failure to understand the problems of the driver, and carelessness about reading signs and observing safe walking habits are the causes of many pedestrian accidents.

Children interested in a game, or absorbed in a certain activity, are apt to run out into the street from the walk, or from behind a parked car, and pay dearly for this action. People do not want to make children fearful, but through understanding safe practices, they want them to be confident and responsible for themselves.

Those who ride bicycles are the cause of certain types of accidents. A few safety rules for them are: ride close to the right curb or to the right side of the highway; obey all traffic rules; refuse handle bar rides; and refrain from hitching to autos, buses or streetcars.

When walking on a highway at night, wear or carry something white. This should be worn or carried as low as possible so that car headlights, which are directed downward will pick it up.

Gas Rate Increase Seen In Passage Of House Bill No. 638

Lone Star Gas Company warned Texas gas consumers today that passage of House Bill 638 to empower the Railroad Commission to fix a minimum price which proponents expect to be at least ten cents for gas at the well head will mean increases in Texas residential, commercial and industrial gas rates to the tune of $97 million annually.

The spokesman for Lone Star was Vice-President Chester L. May of Dallas, whose company supplies gas to a substantial number of the State's consumers through distribution systems in Dallas, Fort Worth and other cities and towns in Texas.

"We are applying all possible facilities to fight this vicious bill," May said, "to protect the financial interests of consumers. Under this bill the Railroad Commission would become subject to the powerful pressure of well organized producers and royalty owners who are seeking a minimum price of not less than ten cents per one thousand cubic feet of gas."

May stated that a minimum price of ten cents at the well head would increase the cost of gas to Texas consumers in excess of $97 million and a total increase of $146 million on all production, thirty-six gas producers would receive in excess of $87 million.

"Public welfare and public interest are not served when thirty-six producers are able to penalize hundreds of thousands of industrial, commercial and residential consumers by making them pay the bill," he emphasized. This legislation, if passed, would increase the cost to the consumers of many things from bread to electricity, in addition to increasing their gas bills. The bill would nullify existing contracts between producers and gas companies and establish government price fixing in their stead."

The Lone Star Gas Company executive charged that passage of the bill will injure industrial economy of the State because it will erect a barrier against industries who desire to come to Texas for inexpensive fuel and punish those industries within the State by forcing them to pay increased rates."

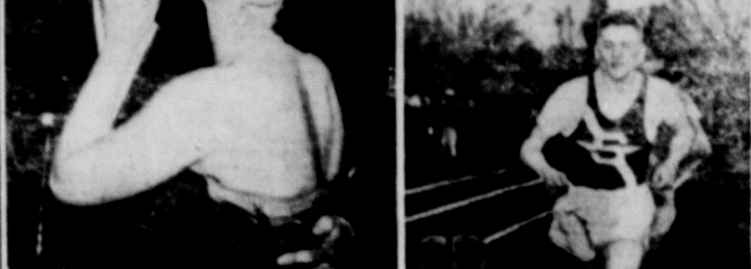

"To permit governmental agency to fix the price of gas is to depart from the basic fundamental of competitive free enterprise," May contended. "The passage of the bill will result in governmental encroachment upon private enterprise. The operation of the normal forces of supply and demand will inevitably bring about whatever increase in the price of gas that is necessary."

May stated that the proposed legislation cannot be justified on the grounds that it will provide additional taxes for the State.

"Any tax on natural gas should be considered separately on its own merits," he declared. "The producers would receive approximately twenty times more than the State would receive in taxes. The bill very likely would ultimately result in at least doubling the average field price for gas."

May pointed out that residential rates of Lone Star Gas Company are now lower than they were in 1940.

Chemicals Aid In Mesquite Control

Chemical control of mesquite on range land is receiving a great deal of attention by ranchmen and by various agricultural agencies.

More than 6,000 acres of range land in Reagan County will be sprayed this spring with ester of 2,4,5-T. According to County Agent E. O. Nevills, this chemical will be applied by airplane at the rate of two-thirds of a pound of 2,4,5-T to one gallon of diesel oil and three gallons of water per acre.

Most Texas range lands are producing only 50 percent of their former capacity. A. H. Walker, Texas A. & M. extension range specialist said last week.

This condition is due to overgrazing over a long period, drought, and brush infestation. Walker said. Sixty million acres of Texas range land are infested with various brush species, of which mesquite is the most important.

Walker has recently prepared a leaflet on controlling mesquite with chemicals. Extension Leaflet 127 gives directions for applying 2,4,5-T by airplane and to individual mesquite trees. It is available from county agricultural agents' offices.

Let's Talk LIVESTOCK

(By Ted Gouldy)

FORT WORTH, May 4—The cattle business received one of its most staggering blows during the past week with the announcement that ceiling prices on meat and livestock would be placed in effect this year.

The proposals of the OPS was to roll back live cattle prices to pre-Korea levels by October. This end was to be achieved by setting ceiling prices to be effective on sales after May 20th and to roll back prices again in August and again in October.

Earlier representatives of the cattle industry on the advisory committee to OPS Director Di-Salle had been assured the live ceilings were out. Jay Taylor of Amarillo stated that the committee had been assured it would be called back for further conferences if major changes in the agreed on program were in view.

This was not done.

Politically-wise observers felt certain they could see a connection between the re-entry of organized labor representatives into the stabilization program after the announcement of the projected rollback of cattle prices.

Timing of developments bore out this theory and livestock representatives in Washington reported this was apparently the case.

The labor representatives had walked out on the stabilization program after complaining it was favoring "business" over "labor" and were reputedly after the scalp of Charles E. Wilson, Eric Johnson and others representing management.

Such a "deal" involving a rollback of meat prices to pre-Korea levels would provide the labor bosses with a face-saving reason for rejoining the stabilization program.

At the outset, cattle and calf trade at all points in the nation were highly demoralized.

By the end of the week, slaughter cattle and calves were dropped $1 to $2 per hundred and extreme spots were $3 or more lower. Stockers were anywhere from $1 to $5 per hundred lower.

While trade at Fort Worth

has never reached a stalemate, there has been a steady pressure downward on prices.

Some seasoned observers feel that stocker prices will have to be rolled back around $8, more or less, before October under this program.

In the ensuing period since the announcement of the program, these developments have been announced:

1. Compulsory Meat Grading.
2. Cattle bought other than on market supervised by the Packers and Stock Yards Administration by packers must be discounted 20 cents per hundred.

At present there are ten auction sales in Texas under P & S administration and the three terminal markets at Fort Worth, San Antonio and Houston.

It was further related that meat processed by slaughterers must be graded by official USD. A meat grader, or the lamb and beef cannot be graded above "commercial" or medium grade.

During the past week at Fort Worth the top priced beef cattle sold from $36 to $38, the extreme top for club calves which are exempt from OPS ceilings. Blue Bonnet Farms, a branch of the A. & M. College Extension service had some 35 cross-bred Brahman yearlings at Fort Worth that weighed 782 pounds at $36.50 and some 581 pounds cross-bred heifers at $37. Texas Tech College at Lubbock had some 1,108-pound steers at $37.

Cotton Linters Is Vital Factor In Rearmament

Cotton linters—the short fuzzy material that clings to certain varieties of cottonseed—will be a vital factor in U. S. rearmament.

Although cotton linters, short fibers less than an eighth of an inch long, flow into many household and industrial products during peacetime, they are diverted almost entirely to military and essential civilian products in wartime, the National Cotton Council points out.

Explosives, plastics, photographic film, rayon, paper, lacquers, coated fabrics, cellophane, and safety glass are a few of the products manufactured from chemical cellulose found in linters. Certain grades of linters are used as stuffing materials for mattresses, pads, upholstery, cushions, and comforts. "First cut" linters are manufactured into surgical dressings, wicks, and twine.

The Cotton Council estimates that a bale of cotton linters furnishes the powder for 100,000 rounds of rifle ammunition, 20,440 machine gun bullets, 2737 anti-aircraft shell or 85 rounds of heavy tank ammunition.

Linters are removed from cotton seed by a mechanical process similar to the one employed in separating lint cotton from seed. Circular saws, set close together and revolving at high speeds, cut linters from the seed. The process is called delinting and is carried out at oil seed crushing mills.

Pick-Up Converts To Station Wagon

A pick-up truck can become a station wagon with the addition of a new seat and canvas roof attachment.

The attachment slips into place in the back of the pick-up. It consists of a metal framework, three seats, a cotton canvas roof, and side curtains. The sides have plastic windows which roll down, when desired, making the "station wagon" waterproof. The unit is light enough to be lifted into place by a single man.

Made by the Dixie Tallyho Company, the canvas-covered attachment also can be used as a sun shade on the lawn or beach.

Some top stocker calves from the McCord Ranches in Coleman County sold at $45 and $50, and compared with calves at $60 a week earlier.

At the market, shorn old crop and also Spring lambs moved at strong to 50 cents or $1 higher prices the first of the week, yet these prices were reduced by the amount of the gains by the week-end with the announcement that federal grading would start on sheep and lambs immediately.

Top milk fat lambs at Fort Worth sold to $35 and 35.50 the first of the week and very few over $34 at week's end.

While seasonal movement of livestock to Fort Worth this week was about in normal seasonal numbers, there was a sharp increase in shipments to Northern and Midwestern markets as cattle producers tried to get stock sold before the full impact of the rollbacks were effective.

Some sources believed that this heavy movement would continue in the next week or two and possibly for a longer period before the full effect of the rollback was felt.

Hogs were in considerably larger supply at Northern markets and this resulted in a break in prices of around 75 cents per hundred at Fort Worth.

Lightweight linen-like fabric of spun rayon and cotton is new looking for toddlers' mild weather coats.

SUMMER COATS for toddlers in linen-like fabrics of spun rayon and cotton have new fashion importance and also ideally meet the need for a mild weather coat. These blended fabrics have interesting surface textures and a crisp, fresh appearance. Shown here is a Folkier fabric, treated for crease-resistance and firmly woven. Good wear. The swing back coat for little girls is fully lined and has many pleasing style details. The sleeves are gathered at the wrist above the turn-back cuffs. The tiny covered buttons used for the front closing are also placed on a neat little decorative tab below the collar at the center back. The matching open-crown bonnet ties in a bow under the chin and buttons in the back for head size adjustment. The little boy wears a handsomely tailored coat in double-breasted style. It has a belted back, tortoise buttons, and is also lined through-

Farming Aids Brought About By Engineering

The integration of engineering and agriculture is a basic factor in the progress, maintenance and economy of farming and ranching in Texas. To carry it on more effectively the work of the agricultural engineering division of the A. & M. College Extension Service was divided into two phases in 1950. W. L. Ulich concentrated on farm machinery and equipment, soil and water conservation, and rural electrification, with a helping hand to a farm safety program. W. S. Allen prior to his recall by the armed forces and later E. C. Brown worked wholly with farm housing and related construction, and farm electrivested by power equipment. But possession and operation of this machinery posed a problem in economical maintenance which Ulich sought to solve by demonstrations in welding technique, farm machinery field days and training of personnel to make repairs at home.

The specialist served as instructor at four-county welding school designed to train farmers to make repairs at home and thereby economize on expense and time. He also assisted county vocational agents to obtain instructors, equipment and visual aids for 43 similar schools attended by 1,562 adults.

A parallel activity was 15 two-day district tractor maintenance clinics for training of an adult and junior 4-H Club leader and the county agricultural agent from each of 170 counties. Upon completion of the course those attending put in similar clinics for 4-H Club boys and adult farmers in 174 counties. An important consequence of these schools was the training of 4,822 4-H Club boys in tractor maintenance along with 1,755 adult farmers. Meanwhile, trained 4-H teams demonstrated before county groups, civic organizations and others upon the proper methods for caring for tractors. Twenty-five of these teams competed in a state contest.

During the year 25,513 blueprints were distributed and 210 county agricultural agents reported 23,480 pieces of equipment, such as self feeders and machinery, were built on farms from plans furnished by the Extension Service.

In collateral activities, Ulich attended and gave assistance at 12 farm machinery field days and assisted at eight terracing demonstrations in as many counties. More than 227,000 acres of Texas farm land were terraced during the year under the immediate supervision of county agricultural agents.

Since more than 80% of the occupied farms in Texas now have central station electric service, the specialist concentrated his work in rural electrification during 1950 mainly upon electric water systems and heating, particularly the selection of equipment. He assisted in eight county 4-H meetings concerned with farm electrification with more than 2,000 club members enrolled in the program.

The Housing Act of 1949 gave farm housing increased emphasis in 1950. New dwellings were built on 232 Texas farms and 99 families made major repairs on dwellings under the program. The contribution of the Extension agricultural engineer for buildings comprised training schools for county Extension personnel, schools for farm families and leaders, and visits, advice and working plans for demonstrators. One hundred and twenty training meetings on housing were held in 43 counties. Meanwhile, a cooperative plan commenced in 1949 for furthering better Home Administration in Texas. A Memorandum of Understanding was signed by heads of these agencies for rendering cooperative assistance to farm and ranch families.

In addition to new or reconstructed dwellings, county agents report 1,651 grain storage buildings erected in 162 counties and 1,028 dairy barns built in 164 counties during 1950. In both cases plans or information were provided by Extension Service agricultural engineers. Furthermore, dairy husbandmen of the Extension Service were assisted in developing plans for a calf barn, and cooperating with the poultry and poultry marketing specialists on equipment, the engineer for buildings developed a turkey laying nest as well as a poultry feeding pen.

First Blow-Out Safe Tire

Roaring along at 80 miles an hour on the Indianapolis Speedway, Wilbur Shaw, world famous automobile driver, retained perfect control of his car after purposely blowing out the new Firestone blow-out safe, puncture-proof and tubeless tire on the left front wheel, according to local Firestone (Dealer) (Store Manager).

Here Raymond C. Firestone, (left) Vice-President in Charge of Research and Development of The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, watches Shaw check the air pressure in the tire after it had been driven around the tracks following the blowout, the gauge showing that a large volume of the original air pressure still remained in the inner diaphragm of the tire. According to Shaw, "This new tire completely eliminates all danger from blowouts and is the greatest contribution to safe driving I have ever seen."

The new Firestone tire also provides puncture-proof protection. If a puncture occurs no air is lost because soft, pliable rubber within the tire surrounds the cause of the puncture preventing air leakage and when the cause of the puncture is removed this soft rubber seals the hole so that no repair is necessary.

Gilliland 4-H Club Dress Revue Held On April 27

Gilliland 4-H Club girls held their dress revue on Friday night, April 27, in the school auditorium.

Citizens of the community are proud of the work these girls have done and have a kind word for their sponsor, Mrs. J. I. Welch, who has spent a lot of time and effort with the club.

Fourteen girls were doing 4-H work, but only 11 entered work in the dress revue. They are:

Juanita Catherin Driver, Betty Jo McGrady, Nelda Moore, Leona Fae Bartos, Estelle Caram Hattie Lou Rutherford, Mae Gomez, Susie Ann McGrady, Maria Aranda, Lydia Caram and Juanita Welch.

These girls had 37 garments on display. They made aprons, blouses, skirts, and four girls made school dresses. The garments were judged by the home demonstration agent of Crowell, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. A. H. Sams of Benjamin and Mrs. Oscar Solomon of Truscott during the afternoon. Mrs. Sams returned that night and gave the final score.

First place in the apron division went to Juanita Welch, second to Juanita Catherin Driver and third to Betty Jo McGrady. First place in the blouse division went to Juanita Welch, second to Hattie Lou Rutherford and third to Juanita Catherin Driver.

Leona Faye Bartos won first in the skirts division; Juanita Welch was second and Mae Gomez third.

In the dresses division first place went to Juanita Welch, second to Leona Faye Bartos, third to Maria Aranda and fourth to Juanita Catherin Driver.

Each of the 11 entries were presented with a needle, cleaner and thimble as entry prizes, and the winners nice prizes of blue, red and white ribbons, according to their score. Carnation corsages were presented to the judges, musician and sponsor from the 4-H girls.

Mrs. A. H. Sams presented Mrs. J. I. Welch, sponsor, a beautiful water set as a gift from Mrs. Wade Barker, Miss Har-

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 5.—The House has just completed action on one of its numerous appropriation bills. This bill is entitled, "A Bill Making Appropriations for the Executive Office and sundry independent executive bureaus, boards, commissions, corporations, agencies, and offices, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1952, and for other purposes." Congressman Albert Thomas, of Houston, Texas, is chairman of the Subcommittee that brought in this bill and handled it on the floor. The bill, as reported by the Commission on Appropriations, provided for $6,171,777,440. Even this large figure was $665,900,025 below the amount requested by the Administration. The economy block, of which I count myself an enthusiastic member, made further and numerous cuts in the bill. I offered an amendment reducing authorized public housing units for the fiscal year of 1952, from 50,000 down to 5,000, a reduction of 45,000 public housing units. This Gossett amendment will save, temporarily at least, $57,300,000. This public housing program was authorized by Congress in 1949. The bill passed the House by only 4 votes. It provides for the building of approximately 1 million publicly owned housing units to be furnished so-called low income families. It is admitted by everyone that during the life of the program each family unit will cost the taxpayers not less than $12,000. In other words, the tax payers subsidize families that live in such units to the tune of $12,000. The government pays $12,000 of the rent of a family living in a public housing unit. Do not confuse this with FHA and other housing programs through which the government simply lends the money for repayment, or guarantees its repayment. It has always been my contention that this government owned housing is unsound, both economically and socially.

If our government was to have done a good job of restraining inflation, we should have had an across-the-board freeze on wages and prices as of the date of the outbreak of the Korean war, or shortly thereafter. Last year, Congress passed a bill giving the President authority to impose such ceilings. Various offices have been established to combat inflation, such as the Of-ice of Defense Mobilization, Defense Production Administration, an Economic Stabilization Agency, and Office of Price Stabilization. A few days ago, the Office of Price Stabilization, headed by Michael DiSalle, issued price ceiling regulation No. 23 on live cattle. This order purports to roll back the price on live cattle as of May 20, between 10% and 18%. It provides for a second roll-back on August 1 of 4 1/2%. If the government was seeking to roll back the costs of meat to the American consumer, it has gone about it the worst possible way. It would have been much better to have rolled back the price of meat in the stores to a certain level and to have frozen it there immediately. The current order on live cattle will roll back, as of May 20, the price on 90% of Texas cattle by 18%. The order does not affect veal and calves, hence it will result in calves and veal being sent to market prematurely, thus resulting in the loss of millions of pounds of meat to the consumer. By settling these roll-back dates at different times in the future, the order will also result in the premature marketing of millions of head of cattle. It is estimated that by May 20, when the first roll-back goes into effect, the order will have resulted in the premature marketing of at least a million head of cattle and a loss of 300 pounds of meat per head, thus losing to the consuming public at least 300 million pounds of beef even before the effective date of the order.

Abundant, or even excessive supplies for the consumer is a sure way to help hold down the price of such a commodity. Under the existing order the meat supply of this country will within a year be reduced by billions of pounds. Beef probably will then be in tremendously short supply. This will mean that millions of people may not be able to get beef at all, while other millions will buy it in the black market at excessive prices.

Apparently, we never learn. Mr. DiSalle's Office of Price Stabilization should go back and study our OPA experience during World War II. They have not rolled back the prices on the feed cattle eat, they have

Great Spiritual Film Coming Here

"The Prince of Peace," new $2,500,000 Hallmark production in cinecolor, which has been breaking attendance records everywhere, is coming to the Roxy Theatre in Monday for two days, Sunday and Monday, May 20-21.

This unusual two hour attraction is a complete unit in itself, according to Manager Williams, being actually two stories in one. Scenes filmed in the breathtaking beauty of the Wichitas are the background for the powerful, moving story.

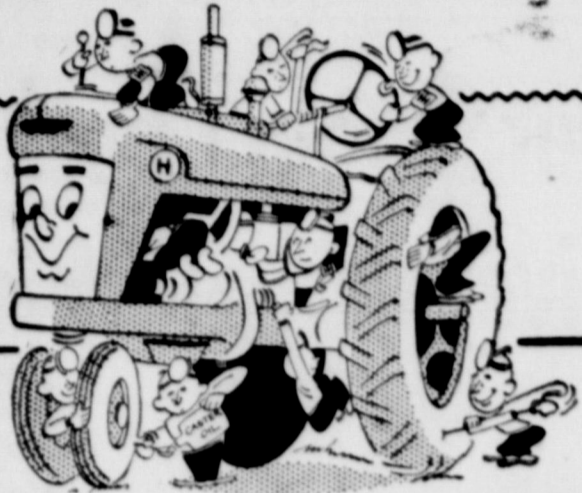

It is because "The Prince of Peace" is so tremendous in scope, so beautiful in color, so sweeping in grandeur and so human in its theme that it is breaking box office records from coast to coast. Its glorious and thrilling musical score and strong sermon-on-film has caused clergymen of every faith and educators at all levels to call the film the most important motion picture ever to come out of Hollywood.

no trolled back the price of meat in the butcher shops; hence, their order will simply result in a rapid reduction of the number of cattle in the country. The big packers will not get hurt but the small cattleman will.

"The Prince of Peace" is a movie for the entire family. Father and mother will thrill to its majestic beauty while little brother and sister will delight in the new six-year-old child star, Ginger Prince, making her first screen appearance.

Texas framers should produce at the highest possible levels in 1951 in order to combat the high costs of living and production and to reduce the chances of financial loss. High and efficient farm production will also add in the fight against inflation.

Handy Table Easily Made

AN all purpose table, quickly put together in the home workshop, will prove mighty handy on the porch this summer. Because the legs fold and the top lifts off, this table has many other uses, too. It's wonderful to take along on a picnic, for instance.

The top, which is 48 inches long and 24 inches wide, is a piece of Masonite 3/16-inch tempered hardboard fastened with waterproof glue and brads to a framework of 1 by 2 inch lumber. Two supports of the same size lumber should bridge the long sides of the framing at intervals of 16 inches.

The cross-legs, also of the same dimension lumber, are joined at the top and bottom by half-inch dowels and at the center by a 3/4-inch diameter. To hold the legs in the extended position, the craftsman will nail a strip of lumber across one set of legs so that the maximum opening at the floor is 2 inches and the height of the legs in this position is 30 inches.

With the exception of the center one the dowels may be glued. This table may be attractively finished with a primer and two coats of exterior quality paint. It may be used not only on the porch, but out-of-doors, in the kitchen, the laundry and other work and recreation areas of the home.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Says He'll Worry Over The High Prices After Few Other Boys Do It First

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek reports on worrying this week, something he has very little knowledge of, if you ask us. Dear editor:

One of my neighbors went into town and sold a calf the other day and he came home so well pleased over the fact that he got $150 for it he almost felt guilty, like he'd cheated somebody. Kept looking around like he felt maybe somebody was gonna take it back.

"Most money I ever hope to get for one calf," he said.

Personally, I don't feel that way about it. I ain't never seen a calf of mine I wouldn't rather get $160 for than $150, or any other lower price you can name.

The point is, with farm prices sort of high, a lot of my neighbors are worried, they have the idea they are getting too much, although they have the idea they are maybe getting too much, although that's the last thing they'd want to leak out and I ain't seen none of em sending any money back.

With me, the things I have to sell just can't get too high, although I could stand some reduction in the gouging I get when I have to buy something. It has never bothered my conscience any to get a big price for cotton or corn or calves or anything else that works its way up through the Johnson grass out here.

But in order to help out my worryin' neighbors, to sort of ease their conscience when they get $150 for a calf, I would like to point out that I found a newspaper out here this mornin' which quotes the United States Department of Agriculture on the question of high farm prices. Accordin' to it, farm prices have gone up recently, especially when not many farmers around here have much to sell, but so has a lot of other stuff. Since the Korean war started, for example, tin has gone up 138 percent, aluminum 78 percent, clothes 32 percent, chemicals 27 percent, etc., while in the same period prices received by us farmers have gone up only 21 percent.

Now maybe we all should be worried about inflation and high prices, but personally I'm gonna go sort of slow and hold back and let the tin boys and the textile boys and alminum boys, etc., get in their worryin' first. Let them worry their prices down to my level first, and then we can all worry along together.

Yours faithfully,

Jim Rainbolt sold a bunch of steers to Pete Maxwell at Fort Sumner. They made delivery of the steers one afternoon. Our townsman, W. A. Eaker, a lad of 12 years, drove the chuck wagon on the trip. His father and Rainbolt were in town that evening and when they returned, told him and the lad who accompanied them on the trip, that Sheriff Pat Garrett of Roswell had slain the noted Billy the Kid that night at the Pete Maxwell ranch home.

Mr. Eaker informs us that they had made camp in a cottonwood grove at the edge of the little town and the boys were asleep in the wagon when the elders came in with the story of the slaying of the noted young outlaw. The next day they attended the funeral of Billy the Kid, who was buried at Fort Sumner in a plain pine box.

The burial was largely attended, the majority of the crowd being Mexicans, among whom Billy had many friends. Before being lowered into the grave, the coffin lid was opened, and all who cared to, were given a last look at the young man who had killed 21 men before reaching his majority.

Mr. Eaker grew up, returned to Texas, and has watched and helped in the development of this section of the state. He has resided in the O'Donnell sector for over 30 years and has contributed his share in its development. A first cousin of Gen. Iro Eaker, in command of Allied air forces in the Mediterranean area, our townsman is well preserved for his years. And why not?

Here's a first-hand bit of history about Billy the Kid, the famous outlaw, as related in the O'Donnell Index-Press in 1944:

O'Donnell is blessed with a goodly number of elderly people—men and women who are advanced beyond three score and ten in years. The majority are native Texans who helped to blaze the trails in West Texas, making it possible for many of the enjoyments that are now ours. Among the number is our good friend, W. A. Eaker, who, come next May will be 74 years young.

Mr. Eaker, who was born in Burnet County when the Comanches, Kiowas and Apaches were still playing hob in Texas, recalls many thrilling incidents. When he was two years old, his father moved from Llano County to Lincoln County, New Mexico. The elder Eaker trailed his herd of steers overland to the new range, his family and household effects being conveyed in ox wagons. Arriving in the picturesque Lincoln County, he settled on the Ruidoso. George Coe, well known rancher, being his nearest neighbor. A year later he moved to Lincoln, ranching on the Hondo.

In 1881, the elder Eaker and

Finest engine ever put in an automobile

180 HORSEPOWER

The new Chrysler Hemispherical Combustion Chamber, heart of the finest car engine built today. In this dome-topped area, you see the only ideal combustion chamber . . . the only way to develop full combustion, full compression, full work and value from every drop of fuel!

With so many engines claiming newness . . . how can we call FirePower the only new type engine today? The answer's very simple, and one you ought to know before you invest in a car. The fact is that engine "improvements" happen every year . . . but a basically new motor car engine is a very rare thing. And FirePower is the most basic new development since Chrysler introduced high-compression in 1924!

To get to the heart of the matter, just go to the heart of the engine . . . the combustion chamber where the spark fires gas into power. Here Chrysler brings you something no car has had till now . . . a Hemispherical combustion chamber . . . the only perfect and ideal combustion chamber in any passenger car. Here the same amount of gasoline delivers you far more energy than it could in any other car.

What this means to the man at FirePower's wheel is impossible to tell you till you take that wheel yourself. FirePower's 180 horsepower can outperform any other engine on the road, even on regular grade gas.

Remember, too, that Chrysler now offers the wondrous road-ease of new Oriflow shock absorbers with twice the shock-absorbing power of any others . . . and the exclusive safety and delight of Hydraguide power steering* which takes four-fifths of the work out of steering! ### Creep Fed Calf Gains Faster Sells Better

SUPPLEMENTAL FEEDING PAYS GOOD RETURNS ON INVESTMENT, AIDS COW

Would it pay me to creep-feed my calves? How much feed will it take to produce 100 pounds of grain by creep-feeding?

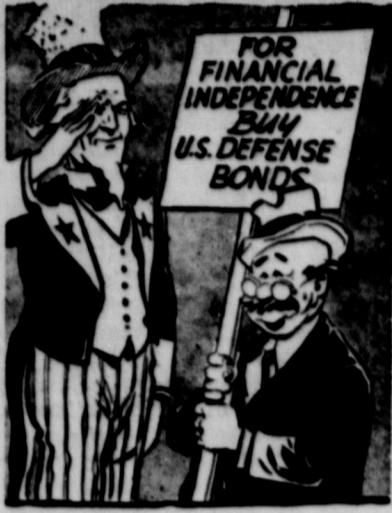

These questions, typical of the present interest in creep-feeding, were recently asked by a cattlemen in a county beef cattle meeting, Texas Extension Service Animal Husbandman A. L. Smith answered by referring to research conducted by the Texas Experiment Station.

One hundred fourteen pounds of extra calf gain was produced by feeding 229 pounds of cottonseed meal and 915 pounds of grain. The weaned calves were fat enough for slaughter. They would have sold for 10% more per pound than calves not creep-fed. Cows, whose calves were creep-fed, gained 50 pounds more than other cows.

This feed would cost about $40,000 today. With present cattle prices, the creep-fed calves would sell for nearly $50,000 more than calves not fed.

The extra pounds of weight on the mother cows insures a better calf crop next year. On the market, that 50 pounds would sell for $12 to $14. The Experiment Station workers explained that the mothers of creep-fed calves gained more because they ate more of the feed while the calves were being trained to eat. Also, the calves did not nurse these cows as much as did the calves not creep fed.

Creep-feeding is usually not profitable if the calves are to be sold as fat slaughter calves or immediately full-fed after weaning. It is also desirable for developing breeding heifers early. Purebreds develop good conformation and thick fleshing.

bringing better prices. Creep-feeding may not be profitable for steer calves which will be grazed or wintered on roughage after weaning.

Proportions of grain and protein concentrate in creep-fed mixtures should vary according to the amount of milk the calves are getting and the condition of the pasture. More protein is needed when milk flow is low or if pastures are not green and plentiful. Usually, 5 to 7 parts of grain are mixed with 1 part of cottonseed meal. In the Texas experiment, 1 part of cottonseed meal was used with 4 parts of grain.

A good mixture, until calves are 4 months old, is: 200 pounds of coarsely-grounded barley or wheat; and 50 pounds of cottonseed meal. After 4 months, use 600 pounds of coarsely-grounded grain with 100 pounds of meal.

Purebred calves do well on this mixture; 400 pounds of coarsely-grounded corn or sorghum grain; 250 pounds of ground oats; 150 pounds of wheat bran; and 100 pounds of cottonseed meal.

The feed mixture may be self-fed or hand-fed in amounts needed to produce the desired gain. Check self-feeders regularly to insure regular feeding. Discard any feed which has become spoiled from getting wet.

Loate creep-feeders near watering places. The calves learn to eat the feed in the creep while the cows are resting around the water or salt trough. Calves start eating quickly if a small amount of salt is sprinkled on the feed in the trough.

Calf creeps are easily constructed with small passages leading directly to the feed trough. These are convenient to use when it is desirable to move the creep several times during the season.

Rain Comes To Parts Of County

Showers brought additional moisture to parts of the county this week, although the entire area is still in need of a general rain.

Early in the week a light thunderstorm brought moisture to portions of the area to the south and southeast of Munday. A little better than a quarter of an inch was reported.

Wednesday evening's cloud, which for a while held promise of a good rain, brought only a light shower to Munday. Parts of the county to the north and northeast of Munday reported heavier precipitation, ranging up to an inch or better.

The cloud reached storm proportions in the Wichita Falls and Electra areas, with some damage being reported from winds and heavy hail.

"Here's the tire I want!"

GOOD YEAR SUPER-SURE-GRIP TRACTOR TIRE

First choice for 2 reasons!

1. Deeper soil penetration — greater pull. Goodyear's open center tread has straight deep-biting lugs. They cut cleanly into the soil, penetrate full depth, full length. Straight bars closer together at the shoulders wedge the soil for firmer grip — don't "plow out" soil at the sides.
2. Balanced straight lug tread design — longer wear. Goodyear open center lugs are all straight, all equal in size and spacing. That's why every lug works equally, pulls fully, wears more evenly.

Goodyear Super-Sure-Grip don't cost a penny more. Get them for your tractor.
