Odd Bits Salvaged at Random

He didn't paint a very pretty picture.

French M. Robertson of Abilene, regional director of civil defense in this area, spoke to a group of Masons at Haskell last Tuesday night. His subject was, of course, civil defense.

He pointed out how hard it was to sell citizens of his section—most of Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas—on the idea of organizing for defense.

"The enemy won't waste those precious atomic bombs on such remote sections as this," seemed to be the thoughts he received over most of all of the area.

Robertson pointed out some jobs we might be called on to do—if war comes.

He said the crippling blow would be aimed at the large industrial centers—and with these gone, including our ability to produce—how long can we expect to survive as a nation and as a people?

He pointed out that we might have the job of taking care of evacuees. They would come streaming out of the big cities and industrial centers into these remote sections where the A Bomb was not expected to be dropped.

"The young and the aged, the sick and crippled, and the pregnant mothers would probably be evacuated first," he said. Somewhere, someone must be prepared to take care of them.

If such disaster should come, he declared, entire cities might be almost totally destroyed. It would be necessary for doctors and nurses to be flown there as quickly as possible.

It might be necessary for civilians from our remote areas to see that those industrial plants start up gain—that production is continued.

With our methods of defense, he said, our radar, our fast intercepter planes, etc., we may think that an attack by air could be prevented.

But he said it was possible that an enemy plane could fly to our country disguised as one of our own passenger airliners, and we wouldn't know it to be an enemy plane until after the bomb had been dropped.

It is possible that we can be attacked from the air, and from the sea, he said.

If 100 enemy planes were discovered flying to our country, it would be possible for at least 70 of them to get through. Destruction of over 30 per cent would be a good percentage.

England destroyed less than 10 per cent of the German bombers sent to England during the last war. Germany downed around 6 per cent of our planes. Among the things "we know" Robertson stated:

We know that Russia has the atomic bomb. Three atomic explosions have taken place in Russia. One of these we know was the atomic bomb.

We know she has enough atomic power to afford to make these tests, or else she's trying to fool the Democratic nations into believing she has them.

We know that Russia has between 450 and 500 planes similar to our big bombers that can fly from their home base to this country non-stop, and with a little refueling can return to its home base.

We know that Russia's aim is for Communism to predominate the world.

We know there are many Communists in this country who have sworn allegiance to Moscow. We know there are numbers of them in Texas, who are free to get in their cars and go any place they desire, just as we are.

4-H CALF SHOW SET FOR SATURDAY

Whiteside To Seek Return To State Capital

Clyde Whiteside of Seymour announced this week that he is a candidate for State Representative from the newly created 83rd District composed of Knox, Haskell, Throckmorton, and Baylor counties. Whiteside, who led the fight in the last session of the legislature to maintain the present Texas Farm-to-Market Road program stated that he was indeed grateful to the people of the rural counties of Texas for their support and encouragement in helping to save the Farm Road System.

Whiteside further stated that he had supported that sort of legislation which he thought to be sane, sensible and constructive measures for the benefit of Texans, and that he had vigorously fought those proposals which he thought were a detriment to the welfare and rights of the citizens of this district and the State of Texas.

During the last session of the legislature Whiteside introduced and passed a measure which called for a sweeping investigation of the crime situation in Texas and he recommended to the legislature that from this study, new laws might be enacted to prevent the importation of crime from other states and to curb the growing menace of dope peddling. Already, from this investigation the enforcement of our present criminal laws has become more efficient and the out-of-state racketeer has realized that we, here in Texas, mean for him to stay out.

For the Veterans of Texas, Whiteside co-authored the measure which established the Texas Veterans' Land Program whereby a Texas Veteran can borrow money through a bond program handled by the Land Board and purchase for himself a farm—with 40 years to pay. The loaning of this purchase money does not cost the taxpayer a single penny.

For the Farmers and Ranchers Whiteside helped defeat a proposal aimed at doing away with the Farm-User gasoline refund.

Whiteside was one of the leaders of the representatives who favored taxing natural gas which is being sent out of Texas to the East. Whiteside stated that the squandering of our natural gas to the East and North without any benefit of tax, which would be paid by the consumer in those Eastern and Northern states, was costing Texans millions of dollars a year. This measure which has passed placing a tax on the gathering of this tax will relieve the little man, who is paying more in taxes now than he can stand, and place a tax on the big Eastern and Northern companies who are profiteering at the expense of Texans.

Clyde Whiteside asks for the privilege of representing you in your state capitol.

Period For Car Inspection Changed To September 6th

AUSTIN — Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced today that the period for securing initial motor vehicle inspections in Texas has been officially extended until midnight, September 6, 1952. As originally specified, all vehicles would have been required to pass inspection before they could be registered on April 1.

Garrison made the announcement following an opinion issued by the office of Attorney General Price Daniel which ruled that the Safety Department might legally extend the inspection date, and that no inspection certificate would be necessary for 1952 registration.

Director Garrison had pointed out in his request for a ruling by the Attorney General that it would be impossible to complete an inspection of the nearly 3 1/2 million vehicles in the State by April 1st.

Effect of the new action will mean, according to Garrison, that all motor vehicles in Texas must be inspected and bear an approved sticker prior to next September 7th. Following that, a second inspection will be required after September 7th but prior to April 1, 1953, before vehicles can be registered for 1953.

George W. Busby, Chief of the Department's Motor Vehicle Inspection Division, stated that he had, today, issued the 1000th license to official inspection stations. Another 1,500 are currently in the process of being approved.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

WALDEN, N. Y., CITIZEN-HERALD: "Announcement by the New York State Electric & Gas Corporation, which serves many thousands of people . . . that it is seeking an increase in electric rates should come as no surprise. The company has not had a general rate increase in more than 30 years, significantly, though the proposed new rate will produce about $2,500,000 more revenue per year throughout the company's system, more than half this amount go to the federal government in taxes."

BALTIMORE, OHIO, TWIN CITY NEWS: "The day is past when the farmer grew most of the things his family needed. Now he must buy many things—lumber, machinery, nails, fencing, roofing, barn equipment, fertilizer and seed, as well as food and clothing. While inflation drives up all prices, the pressures on many goods the farmer buys are greater than they are on many of the products he sells."

CULLMAN, AA, DEMOCRAT: "The politician's creed seems to be to keep the people's pockets full of 'money', even though the 'money' eventually drops to where it is not worth the cost of the paper used to make it."

ANTIGO, WISC., DAILY JOURNAL: "The National Security Resources Board is trying to promote the dispersal of new industry in the United States for safety reasons. Says the board: 'There is no need of a bureau in Washington or elsewhere in the federal government to do this job.' And apparently the effort is meeting with considerable initial success despite the board's almost heretical views. If it works out, maybe others will be inclined toward this unorthodoxy and away from the prevailing notion that you're not in business until you've denuded the capital warehouses of every available desk and have hired people to lean on them."

FACT AND FICTION

Are food prices too high? A great many people will answer that question with an angry and resounding "Yes!"

That is natural in these days of inflation and pinched household budgets. But the fact is that the average worker can actually buy more steak, bacon, bread, eggs and most other foods with the wages earned through an hour's work than he could buy back in 1929. This was pointed out by the head of a food chain association during a recent NBC broadcast in which various authorities on agriculture and retailing participated. And he also said that the continuing gain in food purchasing power can be attributed in large part to the improvements made by modern food distribution—a system which has managed to reduce its margins substantially while bringing the consumer more foods, in greater variety and more convenient form, than would have seemed possible a few years ago.

It is commonly believed that, at present price levels, the sellers of foods and other commodities must be making money hand over fist. Actually, the profit trend has been downward, for the reason that wages and other costs the retailer has to pay have increased even faster than selling prices. The food chains commonly earn, as profit, only a cent or a trifle more out of each dollar they take in. All the rest goes right out again—to buy stocks, to meet the payroll, to pay rents, and taxes, and so on. The profit earned by retailers in other fields is also very moderate—a few cents out of the sales dollar.

The facts about prices are very different from the widely-believed fictions.

FREEDOM OF CHOICE

Under free enterprise the consumer has freedom of choice. He can go into any store, look around or not and buy as he pleases. He can shop about from store to store seeking the most attractive deal.

Things are different in a totalitarian economy. For instance, the book business in communist Lithuania has been in the doldrums. So a cooperative federation there decided to improve sales by deducting money from the paychecks of its workers for the compulsory purchase of books—whether the workers wanted books or not! It also compelled every consumer purchasing and article to buy one or more books in addition!

This is the same as if, when you went into a store to buy an overcoat, you were forced to buy a pair of shoes, too, or go without the coat. Today an American merchant would last about twenty minutes if he attempted to follow such a policy. All his trade would move with the swiftness of a hurricane to the stores of his competitors.

Actually, in most foreign countries there is nothing that bears even a good resemblance to our splendid American retail stores. And in the communist countries, or course, the consumer gets what the bosses want to give him—which is usually the bare minimum needed for subsistence on the near-starvation level—and he likes it or lumps it. Everything is rationed, and practically everything is scarce and extremely expensive when measured in terms of the average man's earnings. Freedom of choice is unknown.

All in all, American retailing is just about a perfect example of the virtues of the whole free enterprise system.

tools are required. The top, bottom and sides are one-inch white pine, 12 inches wide.

The back is a panel of Masonite 1/2" Tempered Preswood, the same material that is used in the construction of the shelves. Each slanting shelf is made by fastening the hardboard to a framework of 1" by 2" white pine, the top one being fastened to the ends with screws so that it has a slant of 65 degrees. The center shelf is similarly attached, but here the slant is 55 degrees. The lower shelf, which incidentally is the widest for the larger books and magazines, is slanted at 45 degrees.

Fences of lattice lumber form the lips against which the books rest on each shelf.

This sturdy bookcase will take considerable abuse. It will be attractive in a child's room, in the recreation room or on a porch. The bookcase should be given a prime coat and two finish coats of paint or enamel to harmonize with the surroundings.

Let's Talk LIVESTOCK

(By Ted Gouldy)

FORT WORTH, Jan. 11—One of the chores that all editors face with mingled feelings is that of opening up and scanning the press releases that come to his desk from virtually every segment of our present day economy.

The Wool Bureau, Inc., usually a source of something interesting in wool affairs, recently sent us this one:

"Textile Research Institute Now Releasing—

"Results of wool research project; The first public disclosure of the results of the wool research project was made at the Annual Meeting of the Textile Research Institute in New York City on November 8.

"Wool Is Wool."

They lost us right there!

As if we didn't already have the post-holiday glooms bad enough we ran smack into this gloomy starter—offer paragraph in the General Electric Company Employee Relations News Letter:

"Not good enough!" is likely to be a just verdict as to the best we—together with all other Americans—will be able to accomplish in 1952."

That writer is our personal nomination for the "Gloomy Gus Leather Medal for 1952."

The American Cattlemen's Association held its annual meeting in Fort Worth this week. Many of the cattlemen visited the Fort Worth Stock Yards during their meeting here and renewed old acquaintances.

While in session the cattlemen passed a number of resolutions including:

1. Opposition to price controls because they have not helped the consumer and have interfered with the orderly production and marketing of livestock.
2. Blasted slaughter quotas for packers, citing improved sit-

CHRYSLER GETS BEST CAR AWARD

Best engineered car—that is the title given the 180-horsepower Chrysler Firepower V-8 by Motor Trend Magazine in the February issue. Shown accepting Motor Trend's Engineering Achievement Award from editorial director Walter Woron (right) is David A. Wallace, president of Chrysler Division, Chrysler Corporation. Using stock automobiles Motor Trend rated competitive makes on simple engineering calculations gathered throughout the year. Chrysler scored first in nine of thirteen categories and received 176 points in the scoring—23 points ahead of the next make.

uation since quotas removed.

3. Took a veiled poke at President Truman and his administration by saying the presidential candidate they wished to support would be one who actively defended the constitutional form of government and free enterprise.

4. Criticized the far mfamily review program of Secretary of Agriculture Brannan.

5. Asked for economy in government.

6. Urged continuation of the foot-and-mouth disease campaign in Mexico.

7. Supported the new grazing lands law.

Price pressure continued heavy on fed cattle this week at Fort Worth and all around the marketing circle, with the shortfed steers and yearlings under the most pressure. Some of these shortfed cattle are selling $1 to $1.50 under a week ago.

Some renewed interest in stocker cattle was noted and some topped West Texas calves sold up to $34 and $36 this week, highest in several weeks here.

Boning types of cattle and sheep continue to sell fairly steady, the bulls, cows and old ewes still very much in demand indicating housewives are still buying lots of canned meat and sausage, lunch meat, etc.

Lamb prices have been stronger at Fort Worth this week and some of the buyers, and displaying a very optimistic view by taking some already fat, but heavyweight lambs to go into feed lots. The idea being that a short stay in the feedlot will raise the finish a grade and also enhance the wool credit.

The large numbers of lambs on feed in the Midwest and West are now moving to market in numbers but have demoralized the price structure. Top woolled lambs at Fort Worth this week sold at $28.50, some toppy shorn lambs $27.50 and No. 1 pelts to $28.50.

We talk to a great many livestock people at Fort Worth each day. Most of them are traditional Democrats politically but some have Republican leanings. What they would like Senator Taft or General Eisenhower or some Republican spokesman to do would be to go on record as to what their ideas are about a farm program.

Nobody is in any danger of getting elected president of the United States who does not spell out in simple language what his ideas and intentions are with regard to the farm program.

Texas Pair Win In 4-H Public Speaking

Delmar Lee Jaschke Barbara Ann Place

Delmar Lee Jaschke, 14, of Victoria, and Barbara Ann Place, 14, of Crawford, Texas, have received recognition for a job well done. They are thrilled with the excitement of being chosen state winners in the 4-H Public Speaking program. Delmar and Barbara Ann do not underestimate the necessity for being well-informed and projecting their thoughts and ideas fluently and interestingly. Because of its interest in rural youth, the Pure Oil Co. provides merit awards in this program. Barbara Ann received a set of silverware, while Delmar was presented with a 17-jewel gold watch. In his speech on "What 4-H Work Has Done for Me, My Home and My Community," Delmar showed how 4-H work had benefited every member of the family by teaching useful work skills and efficient methods and providing recreational outlets. Similarly, other families learned to work together, and all learned to function as a unified, productive, and cooperative community.

In "Speak Up for Freedom" Barbara Ann draws a parallel between America's fight for freedom in colonial times, and the fight our country faces today. The danger, Barbara warns, is not only from the outside, but from within ourselves. We cannot be apathetic about freedom, she reasons. We must work, perhaps fight for it. Certainly, we must speak up for it.

This activity is conducted under the direction of the Extension Service of the State Agricultural College and USDA cooperation.

for the Truman victory, but a look at the record shows that traditionally Republican farm states which went to him swung the election.

Munday H. D. Club Meets Wednesday With Mrs. Rice

The Munday Home Demonstration Club held its regular meeting in the home of Mrs. John Rice on Wednesday, January 9. This was the first meeting since November 28, the December meeting being postponed because of the death of Grandmother Sessions and the holidays.

Only six members and two visitors were present, since several, including the county agent, Miss Henson, were ill.

After the business was transacted, Mrs. Rice gave a report on the council meeting at Benjamin. Two members were elected from each club to take training courses in cereal and clothing as demonstrators for their club. The Munday club elected Mrs. Kenneth Phillips for the cereal course and Mrs. Johnny Peysen for the clothing course.

Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting. The next meeting will be in the home Mrs. Johnny Peysen on January 23.

See You in Church Sunday

Workers are shown putting the "new look" on the outside of the city hall in Munday. This is where the $20,000 of the $205,000 bond issue voted last October is going, and work is due to be completed within the next few weeks.

Joe Hill, local contractor, is in charge of the remodeling, which is being done both inside and out. The upstairs portion of the building is being made into a firemen's hall and an apartment which will be occupied by a full time paid fireman. If plans of the City Council are carried out to completion.

New rest rooms are being added, and an addition made to the old building which will house the 700-gallon rural fire truck which local foremen will receive within the near future.

been successfully treated for cancer. The great hope of cancer patients lies in their having treatments during the first stages of the disease. Cancer announces itself by symptoms that are frequently painless and apparently trivial, thus giving the disease an unseemly advantage. Early diagnosis is the one powerful antagonist.

"The danger signals can be classified as follows: Any lump in the breast or other part of the body; any persistent sore, particularly on the face or mouth; any unusual discharge or bleeding from any part of the body, such as vomiting of blood, passage of blood from the bowels, or unusual bleeding of any bodily passage, especially after middle age. Those symptoms may be from some other cause but should be diagnosed by a physician.

"Two main rules should be followed in cancer treatment. In this way incipient cancerous conditions can be discovered and by proper treatment the disease can be conquered. The second rule is to mistrust high promising statements of 'amazing new discoveries.'"

Research work conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station indicates that small amounts of toxaphene, up to five grams per cow per day, can be eaten by dairy animals without harmful effects. Toxaphene is widely used in the control of grasshoppers on forage crops and pastures and for controlling lice, flies and ticks on dairy cows.

4-H Clubs, sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service, has been honored by the U. S. Post Office Department with the issuance of a commemorative 3-cent postage stamp. The stamps went on sale at the post-office at Springfield, Ohio on January 15 and at all post offices in the nation the following day.

Billie Joe Lawing,
Lt. Ronald Foshee
Marry December 29

Miss Billie Jo Lawing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Lawing of Arlington and Lt. Ronald Foshee of Munday were married at 8 p. m. Saturday, December 29, in the chapel of the First Baptist Church in Arlington, Rev. H. E. East, church pastor, conducted the rites.

A shower on Friday night, December 28, announced the wedding plans and a reception Sunday afternoon, Dec. 20, preceded the couple's trip to Fort Benning, Ga., where the bridegroom is stationed.

For the ceremony, palms, calla lilies and yellow snapdragons were used at the altar with white tapers in bronze candelabra lighting the setting. Miss Herma Lee Lawing and Miss Barbara Foshee, sisters of the wedding principals, were candle-lighters. Edgar Williams sang "Because," accompanied by Mrs. Jack Patterson, organist.

The brides' only attendant was Miss Frances Ann Kiker of Arlington, who wore a gown of yellow net over yellow taffeta made with a bodice of embroidered lace and full skirt. Her bouquet was also of yellow.

Best man was Derrell Sexton of Arlington. Paul Hufford and Kilby Casey, also of Arlington, served as ushers. Mr. Hufford and the bridegroom were friends at Texas A. and M. College.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white, velvet-embroidered organza over white satin designed and made by her mother. A short scalloped cape with rounded collar topped the strapless basque bodice. The full gathered skirt was chapel length. The illusion veil fell from a seed pearl tiara and the bridal bouquet was a showed arrangement of white roses, orchids and narcissus.

The brides' traveling costume was a Waldo Scott original brown suit with brown accessories.

MRS. RONALD FOSHEE

Mrs. Foshee is a graduate of Arlington High School and Brantley-Draughon business college in Fort Worth. Lieutenant Foshee is a graduate of Munday High School and Texas A. and M. College.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Foshee, Miss Barbara Foshee, all of Munday, and James Adams of Seymour, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Boardner and Mrs. Homer Davis of Lancaster.

A reception the following day was given in the home of Mrs. M. Hurn of the Mansfield Road honoring the couple. Parents of the principals stood with them in the receiving line.

Miss Herman Lee Lawing presided at the guest book and Mrs. Leslie Lawing, an aunt, showed the wedding gifts.

Mrs. Everett Lawing and Mrs. Joe Lawing, two other aunts of the bride, presided at the reception table which was laid with a Belgium lace cloth over yellow satin and centered by a miniature bride and groom surrounded with ferns, bridal wreath and yellow snapdragons. White satin ribbons bore the names, "Billie Jo and Ronald" in gold letters. White tapers in crystal candelabra were used at each end of the table.

The chosen bridal colors of yellow and white were repeated in the floral arrangement on the polished buffet. Calla lilies, yellow snapdragons and poinsettia were used throughout the house. A total of 120 guests called during the afternoon.

Miss Frances Kiker and Miss Sue Smith were co-hostesses at the Friday night miscellaneous showed given in the home of Miss Kiker's mother, Mrs. Margie H. Kiker.

The brides' chosen colors of yellow and white were used in the living room and the honoree's chair was marked with the inscription, "Bride to Be" in gold letters.

The gifts were presented from a table laid with a lace cloth un-

Knox Prairie Philosopher Says Medical Science Has a Hard Job Of Curing Sickness Of Tax Collectors

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek gets off into medical science this week, his letter reveals.

Dear editor:
With another year already started and nothin we can do about it, I was out here yesterday wonderin what the next twelve months will bring forth, especially in a business way, and I noticed the wind rollin a newspaper along over my pasture toward the barn and I was hopin it would blow inside so I could go out there later in the day and pick it up and it did and last night after supper I sat down to see what's goin on in the outer world and hal just got through readin the comics when I began checkin up on the health of some more tax collectors.

I tell you, flu is bad around here but it must not be anything compared to what the Federal tax collectors have.

Why I know lots of people who've gotten sick in their time, a bank president who was laid up in the hospital several weeks a preacher who was out of his pulpit three months, a doctor who had to go to the hospital a month, lots of business men who have to stay at home a week or two, farmers who have to lay around the house when they'd like to be plowin, but I have never seen any of them react like a tax collector. Resign from their work is the last thing all my acquaintances want to do, in fact, they can't get back to their jobs fast enough to suit em, but you take a tax collector, he get sick and the last thing he wants to hear about is his job. Just mention it and he seems to take a turn for the worse.

I tell you, medical science has a long way to go just in doin something about the common cold and the walkin flu, but I

Smoother Ride, Vivid Colors Feature Four-Door

Chevrolet records indicate the four-door Styleline Larse sedan was the most popular body model in the country in 1951. Above, it is shown in its 1952 design, more striking in appearance and improved in performance over earlier models. Headlining some notable contributions to motoring pleasure are smoother riding qualities and responsive performance under all sorts of weather conditions.

doubt if it'll ever get around to a cure for Tax Collector's Sickness.

As I understand it, the disease is peculiar, it strikes without warnin. You can be healthy, robust, almost doin'er in today, but something comes up at the office and tomorrow you're flat on your back, can't answer question, have great difficulty rememberin facts, and seem to lean more heavily on lawyers than doctors. You seem to go on the feelin if you can just get away for a while everything will bow over.

Personally, I never cared much for work, but I've never had to get sick to quit, and I blame sure haven't quit haven't quit to get sick.

When the average man gets sick, for example, it's frequently because he's been tryin to do too much, but with the tax collectors its the other way around, they haven't been collectin enough or they been collectin enough but haven't been depositin in the wrong place, although personally I've always felt they have collected enough from me. But the main oddity about Tax Collectors' Sickness is that nobody dies from it and while I incapacitates the individual collector for continued work in that line, somebody else always turns

Junk Batteries Sold Illegally, OPS Reports

FORT WORTH—Reports of illegal sales of junk batteries, from which vital lead is extracted, are being investigated by the Fort Worth District Office of Price Stabilization.

Ellis H. Boyd, OPS district director, refused to state if any of the reports have been made from Knox County, but added that the alleged sales have taken place in several counties of the 50-County Fort Worth District, which includes Knox County.

"We have had several complaints from junk dealers that numerous sellers of used batteries are demanding above the ceiling price for these batteries," Boyd said. He explained that under the Defense Production Act both seller and purchaser can be prosecuted for such an illegal transaction.

The ceiling price for junk batteries is $2.80 per battery on an as is basis. The ceiling does not apply to the trade-in allowance a retailer may grant the purchaser of a new battery.

Reports list some sales as high as $3.15 per battery, which is 35 cents above the ceiling, Boyd said.

"Probably there are many businesses who sell new batteries and receive old batteries in exchange that are unaware of the ceiling price," Boyd said. He explained that OPS has a campaign under way to inform battery companies, service stations, auto supply houses, auto parts companies and others who sell junk batteries about the ceilings, as well as those who buy batteries.

neighbors

Wherever you live in Texas, the oil industry is your neighbor. For the Texas oil industry is the bread-and-butter, the opportunity, the daily work of some 190,000 Texas men and women.

The girl who sits next to you in the bus; the hearty-looking man who waves as you pass on the highway; the family behind you at the PTA: in Texas, they all could be, some certainly are oil workers. Bookkeepers, stenographers, executives, drillers, roughnecks, stillmen, geologists, salesmen, pipe liners, petroleum engineers—the oil industry supplies the livelihood of all, and many more.

Neighbors of yours these people are, folks who pay taxes like yours, spend their money in the stores you patronize, drive the same kind of automobile, send their children to the same schools.

The oil industry is more than a balance sheet, a set of statistics, an investment in derricks and pipe-stills. In Texas, it's the family next door.

Here's a Sunlit Hog House

SCIENTIFIC hog raising for highest profits requires warm, dry, inexpensive housing. Three prime advantages to having movable hog houses are cited by animal husbandry experts: Sows can be separated at farrowing time; growing pigs can be kept on clean ground; rice or legume pastures can be utilized in rotation.

When the sun has an opportunity to send its warm and sanitizing rays directly into a hog house, then the farmer adds a plus. When he is able to build quickly a structure that is both economical and durable, then he has another plus. These add up to the sunlit hog house, shown in the illustration.

Easily constructed, the house is 7 feet long, 6 feet wide and 4 feet 10 inches high. Built on skids, it has a 1-inch rough floor laid on 2 by 4s and silk. Supporting of 2 by 3-inch lumber supports the Masonite quarter-inch tempered hardboard, which is used for the siding and roof. This material is durable and weather resistant. Since it comes in sheets four feet wide, there is a great saving of time in its application.

Four-inch light strap hinges are used for turning back the roof door. The opening, with an area of 12 square feet, is situated on the narrow side of the gabled roof.

Working drawings for building the sunlit hog house may be obtained without charge by writing Farm Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and asking for Plan AFB-196.
