Odds Bits Salvaged
at Random

We don't know just what will be coming up this year.

But our bet is that if you'll pay your poll tax, you will be getting your $1.75 worth in voting privileges before the year is up.

Nearly every off-election year finds things coming up of interest to the voters. City elections, school elections, possible state constitutional amendments, may be a bond election or school consolidation vote.

These are all possibilities, and your one six-bits is hardly ever thrown away any year if you just exercise your voting privilege.

But time is getting short! January 31 is the last date to pay up and get that little receipt that entitles you to vote as a Texas and American citizen in 1953.

Already, Munday has two vacancies on the city council. Our guess is that these will be filled along about April, and your vote in this little department counts just as much as it does for President—one vote.

Another deadline is facing the boys who tried to farm last year, and weather conditions, etc., caused less than usual success.

But Uncle Sam doesn't let those deterring causes exempt the farmer from making an income tax return.

And January 31 is the deadline for that, too, unless you have filed an estimate prior to that date.

And a farmer, according to the Bureau of Internal Revenue, is defined in income tax laws as a person who gets two-thirds or more of his income by farming.

The approach of January 31 is a reminder, too, that March 15 is the deadline for all of us to file our returns.

But this year, we get an extra day. March 15 falls on a Sunday this year, and so we're offering the welcome news that your income tax return won't have to be filed until March 16.

To us it's just mean another day of worry about where the money is coming from!

That little snow flurry we had last week was a welcomed sight to this dry area.

She was falling beautifully, and wetly while it was happening, and folks went to bed with a feeling that we were going to get some needed moisture.

We imagine lots of them did just as we did—woke up and peeked out the window, only to be disappointed.

We've been just in the edge of two such occurrences.

Only a week earlier, we had just enough snow to well cover the ground, while to the south and east of us it ranged up to around five inches.

Last week, the center of the storm was in the Plainview-Tulia area, with reports coming through that hundreds of cars were stalled in the snow.

Some of it was still visible over the week end, according to those who made trips up on that area. And they believe the moisture will be beneficial.

We had the report that we hardly ever have any moisture in January, but since we'd had none prior to that time, there was hopes this January would be an exception.

Anyway, we have February to look forward to.

The Board of Directors of Texas A. & M. College System, by resolution, recently called attention to the 50th anniversary of the beginning of farm demonstration work in Texas.

Fowl Worth $5 a Pound

Fowl at $5.33 a pound, eggs at 35 cents each. Those are prices Carl Lowrance, of Joplin, Mo., gets from the 30,000 quail on his farm. When Lowrance took up quail-raising two years ago, experts said he couldn't raise commercial-size flocks; brooder losses from disease would run at least 20 per cent. They did until Lowrance cut this to 3.5 per cent by adding the wonder drug aureomycin to the chicks' drinking water. Now he finds it impossible to fill all the orders he gets.

Soil Testing Service Given By Munday FFA

Don't guess what fertilizer to buy to add to your soil. That is no longer necessary, for due to the need in our community, as expressed by farmers who have called E. R. Ponder by telephone or have talked to him personally about testing their soil, the Munday Future Farmer Chapter has purchased one of the best soil testing outfits to be obtained.

This Sudbury soil testing outfit is put out by the biggest manufacturing concern for soil testing material in the world. The Munday F. F. A. is now ready to test soil for farmers.

"We can tell you whether your soil is acid or alkali, and to what extent," Mr. Ponder said; "also whether it is deficient in nitrogen, phosphorus or potassium. These three elements are the one most generally needed. You may be wasting your time, fertilizer and money by guessing. Either see me or telephone me before you are ready for your soil to be tested. We already have several tests to make."

Taxes Become Delinquent On February 1st

Notice has been given by both M. A. Bumpas, Jr., tax collector for Knox County, and Harvey Lee, tax collector for the City of Munday and Munday Schools, that all 1952 taxes become delinquent on February 1, 1953.

Saturday, January 31, is the last day on which taxes may be paid without penalty and interest. It is also the last day for securing poll tax receipts which entitle you to vote in elections which may come up during the year.

Regarding payment of poll taxes, Mr. Bumpas said:

"Every person who will reach the age of 21 years after the first day of January, 1952, and before the day of a following election shall be entitled to vote at said election, and it will not be necessary that said person shall have paid his poll tax. But he should obtain an exemption certificate. All those who became 21 before January 1, 1952, must pay poll tax before they can vote."

"Those persons who were 60 years of age before January 1, 1952, are entitled to vote without an exemption certificate."

In other words, they supply the pork that legislators slice off for home consumption . . . The coming to power of a new administration next month provides a fitting excuse for reviewing this entire program with the intent of putting it on a sound economical footing."

THE NEW YORKER: "A photograph in the Times the other morning showed the Declaration of Independence and the United States Constitution on the move—a couple of non-semi-precious documents being shifted from the Library of Congress to the National Archives building. A military escort attended them, an armored car bristled in the background, bagpipers squealed their delight and kindled the blood. How uncomplimentary it looked, the physical act of guarding our greatest treasures! And how serene life would be if the essence of the documents could be guarded so easily, so precisely, and with such machine guns! Ah, liberty—you look so simple gay props as bagpipes and such exact ones as crossing town!"

NOT SO DIFFERENT

lar. And not all of the profit goes to thekyqg Public opinion samplings indicate that many of us believe corporations earn far greater profits than is actually the case—and that the stockholders who own the corporations cut deep into the money that is taken in through sales and services.

Actually, the largest share by far—86 percent—of all the income of our corporations goes to labor, to the men and women who work for them.

Profit is one of the small items in the average corporation's balance sheet. In a typical year it works out less than 7 cents of each sales dollar. And not all of the profit goes to the stockholders in dividends. In most cases a substantial proportion of it is plowed back into the business, to build and improve plants which employ more labor, to create financial reserves, and so on. In most cases the bulk of the profit is used in this fashion.

Finally, that part of corporation profits which does not reach the shareholders doesn't become the property of a mysterious and rather ominous group of "big capitalists."

In late years the number of individual shareholders in American enterprise has been rapidly growing. Most of the shareholders today are typical American men and women—people with average jobs and moderate incomes. They put part of their savings in stocks in which they have faith—just as savings are invested in bank accounts, insurance policies, government bonds, or anything else of value.

"Wall Street" isn't so different from "Main Street" after all!

GOOD CONTROLS ARE DEAD CONTROLS

Michael DiSalle, who took over again as price control administrator during the closing weeks of the Truman Administration, said that under economic and international conditions existing now or likely to exist in the near future there is no possibility of safely eliminating direct controls. Even if matters improve to the extent where direct controls can be eliminated, he went on, standby controls, which could be instantly put into effect without Congressional action, would still be necessary.

Of this an association representing thousands of retail stores observed, "We can't buy any of that. Direct controls of themselves serve no purpose whatsoever. They are meaningless today; and in the event of any new emergency, inflation should be turbed by using tested fiscal measures. Thereafter direct controls should be included in the program only if absolutely necessary. Putting the power to impose direct controls on a standby basis might prove too tempting long before the effective weapons were even tried."

That stand is both realistic and reasonable. There is no emergency existing now which justifies controls of any kind, save for the allocation of a very short list of critical materials of which few are widely used in the production of consumer goods. It has been proven time and again that the way to assume maximum production of all kinds of articles and services, at fair prices, is to support, not undermine, the competitive free enterprise system in which the man who does the best jobs gets the public's business. Today only good controls are dead controls.

IS THE HANDOUT ERA ENDING?

In mid-December an Associated dispatch from Washington said, "The new Congress . . . appeared primed to join with great gusto in President-elect Eisenhower's promised drive to slash federal spending."

"Republicans and Democrats alike . . . voiced overwhelming sentiment for budget cuts ranging from $5 billion to more than $20 billion."

This is some of the best news that has come from the national capital in a very long time. It unquestionably reflects public opinion in this country today. All observers are certain that the President-elect gained a great many votes by his stand on federal spending and taxation. And most of the other winners, in both parties, emphasized economy and eventual tax reduction in their campaigns.

It looks like as if we may be coming to the end of the handout era at last. It has been an era of incredible waste of our money—and, as is inevitable with spendthrift government, it has been an era of widespread corruption. One of the greatest and most necessary tasks confronting the Eisenhower government is to replace prodigality with thrift.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Has An Unworkable Plan For Getting Off Of The Hook With His Cattle

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creeks has a clearly unworkable plan for rescuing cattlemen caught in the price squeeze, but you can't blame him for trying.

Dear editor:

Every once in a while I notice in the papers where some farmers who raise cotton are putting their cotton in the loan, and while I never have done that, if I had any cotton I'd sell it the minute it was picked, would have to in order to beat the check to the bank I gave my hands, but I have been investigatin this system and I'd like to report I like it and have a suggestion to make.

As I understand it, if a cotton grower thinks the price of cotton is going up, he can put his cotton in the government loan and get the loan price right then in cash and if the price goes up he can later sell and make an additional profit which he's entitled to, and even if doesn't go up, even if it drops below the loan price he still gets to keep the loan and doesn't have to make up the difference.

This is a system designed to stabilize the price of cotton, to keep cotton growers from dumping all their cotton on the market at one time, and I approve of it.

But I'd like to see the system expanded. Take me. Now I've got a few head of cattle on hand out here, and as everybody but the meat market knows, the price of cattle has been droppin steadily. In fact, in the last eight months it has dropped over 30 per cent.

All right. Now I paid a pretty good price for these cattle, bought em when they were high, and while they haven't got too much feed in em, hay is still higher than it ever was before and they've been eatin and the worst part is they've got to keep on eatin.

What I want to know is why can't I put these cattle in a government loan? Why can't I just turn the cattle over to whoever handles the government's cotton and let them hold em for me until the price goes up? I tell you it would take a burden off my mind to hold on to them cattle without sellin and without buyin any more feed for em. If I sell now I'll take a big loss, but if I keep on feedin I'll take a bigger loss. But if I could put em in a government loan this afternoon, things would sure perk up out here.

If you think this plan has any merit, I will appreciate you gettin word to Eisenhower and have him make it the first order of business the minute he gets Collar the Clock!

PUTTING a collar on the average kitchen timepiece will brighten up the clock wall and make it both attractive and more useful.

Lay the clock on a piece of paper and trace its outline. Transfer the drawing, by means of carbon paper, to a panel of Masonite, Tempered Plywood one-eighth inch thick. The material should be large enough to allow for the sawing of a "collar" to fit around the clock.

The center of the "collar" may be cut out with a coping or similar-type saw. To get the blade started, insert it in a hole bored near and inside the line marking the outline of the clock. Shape of the clock will determine whether the outer edge of the "collar" is round, square or hexagonal. The distance between the clock and the outer edge of the Preswood should range from four to six inches, depending on the size of the clock and the amount of wall space available.

Friction ordinarily will keep the "collar" in position, flat against the wall at the back of the clock, but if the sawing has been irregular and the border is loose, insert small pieces of wood to take up the slack.

Arranged in clockwise order around the clock's new border may be glued the leaves from a small calendar. The ingenious homemaker can decorate the clock in various ways.

through being inaugurated. Cattlemen all over the country will be scrambling to get in on this.

Yours faithfully,
 J. A.

FARM LABOR OUTLOOK

Slightly less available farm labor at a slightly higher price! That is the forecast of the United States Department of Agriculture for farm help during 1953. The statisticians strike an optimistic note, however, by adding that the labor supply is expected to be sufficient, on the whole, to keep farm production at high levels.

The number of workers employed on farms has decreased steadily during the past 15 years. At the same time, labor requirements have also declined because of rapid gains in farm mechanization. The result is that output per farm work now is the greatest on record. Further progress in mechanization and other advances in technology should lower labor requirements. Even so, the problem of replacing some workers must be met if production is to be maintained.

Prospects are that wages and farm work this year may rise less than 5 per cent, as compared will arise of about 7 per cent in 1952. The extent of the rise will vary according to the net losses of farm workers to industry in certain areas, and to the Armed Forces.

Although only a nominal increase in the net size of the Armed Forces is predicted in 1953, the rotation of service personnel will create labor problems for some farmers who lose men needed as replacements in the corps.

The farmer also faces the continued threat of losing laborers to non-farm employment because of higher wages or improved working and living conditions. It may be good business for farmers in need of help to be on the lookout for potential year-round workers and to train them.

Difficulties also may be experienced in getting adequate supplies of seasonal workers in some areas this year. The Texas farmer has had plenty of experience in this line. Due to constant policy changes, or often inadequate agreements, the supply of available bracero labor varies greatly from year to year. A good flexible policy on labor importation from Mexico is the hope and goal of many people in Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Zane Franklin and daughter, Mrs. S. E. Robertson and Mrs. Jimmy Bullington visited Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Lee and son in Denison over the week end. Mr. and Mrs. Franklin also visited Mr. and Mrs. Brady in Durant.

Sied Waheed of Lubbock visited relatives and friends here last Friday.

Please,—Don't All You Hit The Highway At Once

AKRON, O.—If every car and truck owner in the state of Texas tried to go for a ride on the same Sunday afternoon, there would be a vehicle every 9 yards on every paved street and highway in the state.

Fortunately, the odds are against this happening since the average motorist spends about 25 "days" a year in his car, according to James J. Newman, vice president of B. F. Goodrich company.

He points out that estimates of Automobile usage and driver habits show that the average motorist drove 9,000 miles last year. At his average pace of 30 miles an hour, this totals 300 hours, or 25 daylight driving days. This is only 6.8 per cent of the daylight hours in a year, he says.

Newman says that the state's motor vehicle registration today is at its highest mark in history and will probably reach an estimated 3,252,000 early this year. Hard-surfaced road mileage in both rural and urban areas of the state, is 16,711 which is also a new high, he says.

He reports that drivers throughout the nation feel traffic jams are responsible for the loss of millions of dollars in wasted time alone. Newman says B. F. Goodrich estimates a national increase of 12,000,000 car and truck registrations to bring the nation's total to 65,550,000 motor vehicles by 1960. This, he points out, seems to leave little chance for an early let-up in today's traffic congestion.

Newman, former chairman of the Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committee, says he believes that the nation's traffic problem could be solved if authorities start to work now on an extended national highway program, improved parking and unloading facilities, and revisions of outmoded traffic systems and regulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Green and children of Wichita Falls visited Mr. and Mrs. Carl Green and Mr. and Mrs. Troy Lindsay over the week end.

Mrs. Etta Gray and Mrs. Mae Newsom of Abilene attended the funeral of Miss Dolores Campbell last Sunday.

35 years ago farmers were burdened with high interest rates and unfavorable terms on their farm real estate loans. The nation-wide Federal Land Bank system with its local farmer-owned national farm loan associations was established to whip this problem.

Gradually, with the Federal Land Bank setting the pace, interest rates on farm mortgage loans worked lower. From as high as 6% our interest rate was dropped to 5 1/2%, then to 5% and 4 1/2% and 4 1/4%, and finally in June 1950 to 4%. For more than 17 years now, we have held to that same low interest rate.

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

By Senator "Cotton" George Moffat

The Legislature is now beginning the serious work of the session. Bills by the dozens are being introduced into each branch every day. The total number of bills will probably be between 1400 and 1500. Almost every member has at least one pet bill which he would like to pass. It can easily be seen that the large number of bills which are introduced makes it impossible for all of them to reach the Governor's desk, and, of course, some of them are not in line with wise public policy.

The Constitution of our State, as well as other States, requires that each bill be sent to a suitable committee immediately after it has been introduced. The committees are usually composed of from five to twenty-five members, dependent upon the importance of said committee. It is necessary that each committee take up and consider the bills which have been referred to it. If a bill deals with a matter of important state-wide policy, a date is usually set for a public hearing, at which time any citizens may come and express his views upon the merits or demerits of the bill. On some highly important bills, hundreds of people come to Austin to express their viewpoints for or against the bill under consideration. After these hearings are held the committee meets again and often suggests amendments or changes, after which the committee votes upon a motion to report the bill favorably or unfavorably. If the committee report is favorable, the bill is then placed on the calendar of the House in which it has been introduced and it then comes up for consideration by the entire membership of the branch. If it passes through the House in which it has been introduced and it then comes up for consideration by the entire membership of that branch. If it passes through the House in which it has been introduced it then goes over to the other branch where the same process is repeated. A bill may not pass one branch in the same form. A committee from each House is then appointed to reach a compromise upon the differences between the two Houses, after which the bill goes to the Governor's office. He may veto or approve as he sees fit.

Many visitors were in Austin for the inauguration ceremonies. The weather was favorable and the day's events were impressive. However, a prominent member of the Senate, with poetic leanings, has written the following, which has considerable truth in it:

"Oh, the glamour and the clamor
Which attends affairs of state,
Seem to fascinate the masses

And impress some folks as great.
"But the truth about the matter
In the scale of loss and gain
Is that on inauguration
Is not worth a good slow two-inch rain."

Gerald Morrow and Jim Jones, a college friend, both students at Midwestern University in Wichita Falls, spent between semesters time with Gerald's mother, Mrs. Freddie Morrow.

Mrs. Bill Broach, who is attending Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Hallmark, over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Deaton Green of Seymour and Mrs. James Rayburn of Wichita Falls attended the funeral of Miss Dolores Campbell last Sunday.

Sonny Lang, student at Midwestern University in Wichita Falls, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Lang, over the week end.

Miss Burnadine Suggs of Wichita Falls visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Suggs, over the week end.

Competition gives you the best petroleum products in the world at the lowest prices

The U. S. oil business is one of the most highly competitive industries in this country and, for that matter, in the world. Every time you buy a gallon of gasoline or a quart of motor oil, there are at least 100 companies that would like you to buy from them.

Your purchase stimulates competition far beyond the service station driveway where you make it. It stirs scientists to find more oil for your use. It urges production men to produce oil more efficiently and economically and with less waste. It extends through low-cost transportation pipe lines to refineries that seek better ways to make more and better petroleum products to compete for your business.

Is this competition a good thing?

It certainly is. It's a good thing for you because you get the best petroleum products in the world at the lowest prices. It's a good thing for the country because it stimulates the continuous development and conservation of a vital natural resource. And it's a good thing for the oil business: competition keeps the industry strong, vigorous, progressive.

Improved drilling and producing methods increase supplies of oil at reasonable prices.

Pipe line companies seek to improve their service and to reduce the transportation cost of oil and finished products. Their success is a major factor in keeping prices of petroleum products low.

Competitive refineries never let a day pass without trying to find a better way to make more and better petroleum products for your use.

Your service station dealer competes in product quality and service with all the other dealers in your neighborhood.

Meeting Slated To Discuss Mexican Labor Agreement

ABILENE—West Texas Chamber of Commerce has called a meeting in San Angelo February 9 of representatives of 30 organizations that represent users of Mexican national workers and agencies charged with administering and enforcing the U. S. Mexico migrant labor agreement. Governor Shivers and West Texas congressmen have been invited.

R. M. Fielder of Abilene, chairman of the WTCC agriculture and livestock committee, said a number of organizations had suggested that the meeting be held. He said they feel that all Texas user groups should attempt to reach a unified labor policy as to extension of public law 78 under which the labor law agreement is negotiated, and changes in the agreement itself. The present agreement will expire in December 1953.

WTCC headquarters said 48,000 braceros were used in West Texas last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Colander of Albuquerque, N. M., and Mrs. Jim Proffitt of Munday attended the funeral of Redden Parramore in Dallas recently. Mr. Parramore was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Proffitt and an uncle of Mrs. Colander.

Masonite Wastebasket Simple to Make

EVERY room should have a wastebasket, and some rooms should have two! Making one or several from the plan here described and illustrated is an easy test of an amateur craftsman's skill.

From a lumber yard obtain some three-quarter-inch quarter-round and a panel of Masonite Tempered Presdwood one-eighth inch thick. With a cross-cut saw, cut from the panel four identical pieces for the sides and a smaller one for the bottom. The side pieces are 12 inches long and tapered from a top width of 10 inches to a bottom width of 8 inches. An 8-inch square serves as the bottom.

The panels are nailed to the quarter-rounds serving as corner posts. At the bottom of each side piece attach a length of quarter-round to form a square framework into which the bottom may be nailed.

Hand holds may be cut out, as illustrated, with a coping or similar saw. To start the blade, drill a hole. As a variation from this style, use the same sized sides and bottom, lacing instead of nailing the sides together. No quarter-rounds then are needed, except as a base for the bottom. Drill holes about an inch apart and a half-inch from the edge. Use leather thongs for lacing.

New Committee Assignment Given Congressman Ikard

Congressman Frank Ikard has announced from his Washington office that he has accepted a new committee assignment in the House of Representatives—Committee on Government Operations, which was formerly the Committee on Expenditures in the Executive Departments. This Committee is charged with the responsibility of studying and acting on measures for the promotion of efficiency and economy in the Executive Departments of our government. Mr. Ikard feels that the efforts of the committee members will be divided between their investigative and legislative responsibilities.

Since Mr. Ikard's election to Congress, he has served on the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee; however, he is looking forward to this new committee work as he feels that he will now be given an opportunity to make a sincere effort and to actually effect some of the much talked of cuts and savings of public tax money, and of equal importance, if not more, he expects to make every effort to effect the decentralization of our Federal government that has grown too big, too fast and which he feels abuses powers that should be returned to our local authorities.

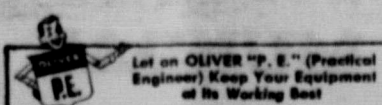

Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Cowan and daughter, Nancy, and G. W. Dingus visited relatives in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Osborn in Knox City last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Pendleton, Jr., and son of Wichita Falls visited relatives here over the week end.

The FAIR Store

From where I sit . . . by Joe Marsh

Surprise Ending!

That raffle for our Volunteer Fire Department went over fine. We're going to have money to get a new engine—and then some.

Our local merchants really donated some wonderful prizes. Like Buzz Ellis, the radio-TV dealer, giving that big television set . . . and the Superior Motors putting up a brand-new car.

There was a humorous note, too. The prize of a year's supply of coal—donated by Baker Coal Yard—was won by Mrs. Thayer, whose husband is the biggest fuel-oil dealer in the county! What did

Mrs. Thayer do with the coal? She gave it to a church she's not even a member of. (Her Church uses her husband's fuel oil.)

From where I sit, that's real generosity. But then, Mrs. Thayer never did believe in dividing people into groups. She's "for" everybody—whatever church they go to, whether they like TV or radio, people who enjoy temperate beer, people who don't. A really warm-hearted person.

FORT WORTH—Large supplies of fed steers, yearlings and calves were again reported at Fort Worth and around the 12 major livestock centers of the nation Monday. Prices at Fort Worth and at most other markets were reported 50 cents to $1 per hundred lower on the fed heaves.

Cows and bulls ruled steady to stronger at Fort Worth, and stocker cow demand continued to broaden, some sales of she-stock to go back to country being unevenly higher, the quality considered. High quality calves and yearlings ruled steady, but the plainer kinds skidded along with the slaughter kinds.

Lambs opened lower at Fort Worth this week, and weak to 50 cents lower prices were chalked up, with instances of $1 Liberal offerings of fed lambs at Midwestern and River markets resulted in a lower market at those points Monday.

Hog trade was halted at Fort Worth due to the discovery of two lots of hogs last Friday suspected of having vesicular exanthema, though these hogs were discovered last Friday it was not until Monday that lab tests were started by federal inspectors. It was expected to be the latter part of the week before the yards could again receive hogs. One of these lots of hogs reportedly came from East Texas.

Good and choice fat steers and yearlings drew $18.00-24.00 and common, plain and medium butcher cattle drew $12.00-18.00, some rannies for less. Fat cows drew $13.00-16.50, and canners and cutters drew $9.00-13.00. Bulls sold for $10.00-19.00. Good and choice fat calves got $18.00-23.00, common and medium sorts $13.00-18.00, and culls sold from $10.00-13.00.

Good and choice stocker steer calves drew $18.00-24.00, and stocker steer yearlings sold from $22.50 down. Stocker cows sold for $13.00-20.00. Stocker heifers and heifer calves sold around $2 under similar steers.

Good and choice fat lambs drew $18.00-21.00, woolskins at the higher price and clipped lambs around $19.00-20.00 and down. Stocker and feeder lambs for $14.00-18.00. Fat yearlings drew $15.00-18.00. Slaughter ewes sold from $6.50-8.50 and some lightweight, choice fat woolled ewes sold to $10. Old bucks sell around $6.50 to $7, some outside that range.

Outboard Routs "Blind Mosquitoes"

In the area of Winter Haven, Florida, where citizens were formerly bothered with pests known as "blind mosquitoes", a program of research and control has been developed which has proven beneficial. A "deadly weapon" used against the "enemy" and arranged for by Winter Haven City Manager, C. R. Allen, is pictured above. The steel boat, driven by a Mercury outboard and equipped with a Microsol Fog Generator, is used to spray the lake shores with a DDT fog. In the picture at the "death dealing" fog machine is J. O. Henson, Supr. of the Winter Haven Municipal Service Department who heads the Mosquito Control Program. An unidentified employee is driving the Mercury which powers the large steel boat along the many miles of lake front within the city limits of Winter Haven, Florida.

Grit Self-Feeder

It takes just a few minutes to make this handy grit, or oyster shell self feeder for poultry. All you need is a nail keg and a tin can. Saw three inches off the bottom end of one stave of the keg for the outlet. Then, use a one-pound coffee can for the feed trough. Cut this down the seam—then back along the bottom three inches. Then bend the sides out to form "wings." Finally, shape the scoop-like bottom of the can so it fits into the keg opening, tack the "wings" to the keg, and you have a feeder!

BOYCE HOUSE

Everyone knows of Grauman's Chinese Theatre in Hollywood with the concrete walk holding the footprints of stars: Janet Gaynor, Shirley Temple, Mickey Rooney and many more. Then there is an inscription, "Here's looking at you" and a drawing of the big eyes of Eddie Cantor.

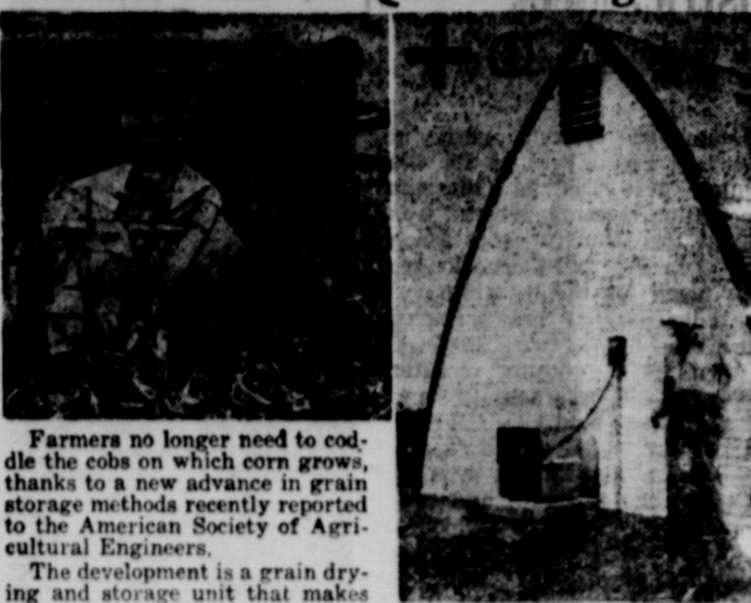

"May this cement our friendship. Joan Crawford," reads another inscription.

Then there are the skate prints of Sonja Henie; the mouth print of Joe E. Brown; a drawing, in the concrete of Harold Lloyd's spectacles and the print of Al Jolson's knees.

Almost as interesting was the lobby of the Egyptian Theater (this was 1940) with a dugout used in "Hurricane", the Gutenberg press used in "Hunchback of Notre Dame", a chariot from "Ben Hur" and a pump from "Wuthering Heights."

Farmers Can Now Quit Coddling Cobs'

Farmers no longer need to coddle the cobs on which corn grows, thanks to a new advance in grain storage methods recently reported to the American Society of Agricultural Engineers.

The development is a grain drying and storage unit that makes the corn picker-sheller a practical harvesting machine for corn growers, and cuts farm labor and storage costs. D. B. Poor, agricultural engineer for the Great Lakes Steel Corporation's Stran-Steel Division and A.S.A.E. Farm Structures Division chairman, reported to the Society that shelled corn of up to 25 per cent moisture content can be dried successfully with unheated air while stored in this unit.

"This means," he said, "that the time is now at hand when farmers can eliminate much of the work and structural costs they now put into coddling the cobs on which corn grows."

The new unit was described as a 16-ft. wide Quonset equipped with a unique down-flow aeration system. Drying and cooling the grain are accomplished by means of a semi-pressure propeller fan which draws unheated air into the building, down through the grain, into a central tunnel over which the grain is piled, and then out of the building.

"This unit will handle grains other than corn equally well," Poor said. "It permits the small-grain grower to start combining earlier in the season, earlier in the day, and enables him to combine when moisture conditions are too high for placing grain in ordinary storage."

How new equipment adds up to more profitable farming is demonstrated in these pictures showing (1) a corn picker-sheller at its twin jobs; (2) compact Quonset drying and storage unit that handles crop fresh from combine, gives any grower of small grains high-quality labor-free safekeeping for his crop, saves half storage space otherwise required for ear-corn; (3) an up-to-date grower knee-deep in his top-quality grain.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—More than half of the children of this country have as many as six cavities in their teeth before they begin school.

That's the estimate of Texas dental authorities and state health officials as they announced February 2 as the date for the fifth annual observance of Children's Dental Health Day.

The day has been set aside in an attempt to call public attention to these startling facts:

Ninety-eight per cent of all 15-year-old boys have one or more teeth missing, decayed or filled.

Over 284 million cavities are afflicting the teeth of American children, with teeth decaying six times faster than they are being filled.

One-half of the children between the ages of three and nine have never in their lives had dental treatment.

"One of the biggest hurdles to be overcome," State Health Officer George W. Cox says, "is the seemingly widespread attitude that baby teeth are insignificant."

He believes the attitude stems from the fact that baby teeth are only temporary, with most people thinking there is no need for concern until the child gets his permanent teeth.

But dental scientists say that the care given baby teeth has a direct and vital bearing on the condition of permanent teeth, Dr. Cox points out.

The Texas State Department of Health and State Dental Society are sponsoring the state observance of the day.

They are appealing to all parents to pay attention to the plight of the youngsters' teeth. And they make this prediction: "The children will be grateful . . . especially when they are no longer children."

rested for drunkenness—not his first such arrest. There is more poignancy in the true stories of Hollywood than in the make-believe one they put on the screen.

One studio was making a picture ernish chathere mbgkq gkqkq in which there were five pups. As the filming of the sequence showing the dogs required 30 days, they had to use three different sets as the original puppies and then the next ones grew too big.

Hollywood spoke a lingo of its own, such as "A" picture, one which didn't cost much and of which little was expected but which turned out to be a hit. If an amount that was considered small was mentioned, somebody would comment, "That's just buttons." If a big amount was mentioned, it drew the comment, "That's not hay."

The most famous editor of a woman's magazine was a man—Edward Bok. In his autobiography, Bok pointed out that most women's magazines have a man as the editor, though a woman may be the nominal editor. Why? It has never been explained, he wrote, any more than why the majority of women's fashion designers are men or "Why music, with its larger appeal to women, has been and is still composed, largely, by men, and why its greatest instrumental performers are likewise men; and why the church, with its larger membership of women, still has, as it always has had, men for its greatest preachers."

WHAT'S THE ANSWER?

Q. In spite of frequent trips to the dentist, my teeth are often stained and discolored. Can you suggest a way of correcting this condition?

A. In the first place, brush your teeth after each meal, to remove any food particles. Baking Soda (which is bicarbonate of soda) is a fine dentifrice, especially good for removing fruit or smoking stains. Use a small or medium brush with a flat brushing edge. Sprinkle a little soda in the palm of your hand—then brush! Work carefully and thoroughly, always away from the gums. Brushing regularly will help restore your teeth to their natural color.

Woodson led 20 to 12 at the end of the first period, 33 to 17 at the half and 50 to 18 at the end of the third period.

THERWANGER BOY FINDS WELCOME HERE

Randy LaTonia entered the Knox County Hospital Friday, January 23 at 5:50 p. m. Looking around for some one to make his home with he discovered Mr. and Mrs. Dick Therwanger who were simply crazy for the little boy to take home with them. After discussing the situation thoroughly the Therwangers brought this little 7 pound and 12 ounce boy home with them last Tuesday. All are well pleased over the decision and are doing fine.

The Texas Legislature in 1911 passed the first law authorizing county commissioners' courts to appropriate money for the salaries of county agricultural and home demonstration agents.

Safe Shaft Cleaner

When grass or weed stems bind tightly around revolving shafts or axes of farm equipment, it's a vexing and sometimes dangerous job to dig them loose. But here's a safe shaft-cleaner; a steel quarter or half-inch rod, with an 8 or 10-inch handle, and a sharp hook on one end. With it you can break the stems and clean the shaft without danger of losing a finger or hand—even if you've been careless enough to leave the shaft in motion. One farmer made several, one for each implement where wrapped shafts was a problem.
