"The Wisconsin Rural Letter Carriers' Association wants its mail patrons to get ready for the winter ahead, too. You get your car ready for winter driving, you repair your furnace, put on the storm windows, replenish the fuel supply, and just about everything else, everything that is—except the mail box."

"Local mail carriers, on the Greenwood Routes believe that they can do a better job for their mail patrons if they would check these important items before frost sets in!"

"1. Straighten out the post before the ground freezes, it'll be easier to find and fill when that first snow comes along."

"2. Replace or repair worn out boxes to protect the mail from snow and rain."

"3. Gravel and smooth out the approaches to the mailbox."

"4. And after the present fire danger is past, burn or mow the weeds and brush along the roadway so that the weeds and brush do not make a natural barrier which will cause snow drifts on our town roads. It will not only help the mail carrier but school buses, milk haulers, and you, too."

It's a long way from here to Greenwood, Wisconsin, but the above, which was taken from the National Rural Letter Carrier, was handed us by a local carrier with the request that it be reprinted.

Not that he's so greatly interested in Wisconsin's rural routes, but local carriers kinda have the hope that their patrons will "catch the light" from the above and do some improving along their routes.

Generally speaking, the rural boxes are in pretty fair shape in this area, but there are some that have been kinda neglected.

And it'll help your mail carried do a better job of serving you if you give him the consideration of having things around your mail box in tip-top shape.

People of Munday made one stupendous blunder when they permitted the Railway Express service to be stopped here.

Most of them, we suppose, were kinda like we were in that they didn't know the move was under way until the announcement came there would be no more express in Munday, and that we'd have to drive to Knox City after our express parcels.

We got a notice of express being at the Knox City depot last Saturday. Being merchandise we kinda needed, we rushes over to pick up said express, only to find the depot locked up tight.

We weren't thinking very fast or we'd know that five day week idea the railroads have causes little one-horse depots to be closed on Saturdays and Sundays.

But the point is that it's a crying shame that a town the size of Munday cannot have express shipments.

Munday people are making the best of the situation they can. We've heard of a number of people going over to Knox City after express, finding some there for Munday people and bringing it back to them free gratis.

That's neighborliness, but it doesn't help the over-all situation very much.

The fact that a railroad has been coming through our town for nearly 50 years, it fights for our heavy freight, it fights the trucking industry that's hauling some of this freight, but can't haul our express—it's sort of inconsistent to us.

There may be more behind the story than we know, but we do know that failure to maintain an express office in Munday has worked an inconvenience upon many people.

Greyhounds Whip Moguls, 19 To 0 In Season's Final Here Thursday

The Throckmorton Greyhounds stayed in the running for the District 1A-8 championship with a 19 to 0 victory over the Munday Moguls here last Thursday night. But that running was for only 24 hours. Friday night Haskell won 7 to 6 over Albany to win the championship, leaving the Greyhounds in second place.

Quarterback Tommy Boyd started the scoring against the fighting Moguls when he passed in the first period 29 yards to Right End Kenneth Wheeler for a touchdown. Jimmy Matthews' extra point try failed.

In the second quarter the gallant Moguls drove to the Throckmorton two yard line, but the visitors' defense stopped the drive just short of the goal line. The half ended with Throckmorton leading 6 to 0.

In the first few minutes of the third stanza, Tom Hudson, Throckmorton fullback, took a handoff from Boyd and raced around right end 30 yards for the second score for the Greyhounds. Matthews again failed to kick the extra point.

Late in the fourth period a pass from Mogul quarterback Charles Ratliff was intercepted by Donnie Taylor on the Throckmorton 35 yard line. On the next play Boyd found a gaping hole at right tackle and went all the way for 65 yards and the third TD. Matthews converted this time.

This game closed the 1952 season for the Munday Moguls, whose battles have been hard fought this year and who continued their fighting spirit in the face of defeat in conference play.

Early Mailing Of Packages For Christmas Urged

The Christmas season is just about here for employees of the Munday post office, as the deadline nears for mailing Christmas packages for delivery overseas. Postmaster Lee Haymes has again made an appeal to local patrons to mail all their Christmas packages and cards as early as possible.

"We have a big job to do," he said, "during the rush of the Christmas season, not only locally but throughout all of the post office department, in getting Christmas mail to its destination on time. You can help by mailing your packages and cards as early as possible to insure their delivery on time. See that packages are safely packed, securely wrapped, and correctly addressed."

The post office force expects Christmas mail to be unusually heavy this year, with all post offices being flooded with mail toward the last of the Christmas season. Early mailing is your best assurance of getting mail to your loved ones in time.

Mogul Players See College Game In Cotton Bowl

The fighting Moguls were rewarded somewhat for their hard playing and team loyalty last Saturday when they were given a free trip to the Cotton Bowl in Dallas for the Baylor and S. M. U. Southwestern Conference game.

The Moguls closed their football season on Thursday night, then had Friday to rest up before making the trip to Dallas early Saturday morning. They were accompanied by their coaches, Vernon Leverett and Wayman Pistole and Dee Allred, who drove the school bus which was their transportation.

All Mogul players attended the game, sat in the rain to watch the two teams perform, and all seemed to enjoy it. They returned home around midnight, a very tired bunch of Moguls but also a happy group.

Over 60 coyotes have been killed this month, and the services of the government trapper may be secured by the people of Knox County by contacting him, as his services are rendered where requested and the greatest need arises.

Mrs. Agnes Mayes of Amarillo is spending this week visiting with her mother, Mrs. Emma Mayo, and with other relatives and friends.

Sunday and Monday were lovely days for people of Knox County, more lovely than any they'd seen during a long period of bright, sunshiny weather.

The reason—rainfall, moisture, precipitation, wet weather.

There are times when a period of wet, gloomy weather seems to bring an attitude of gloom and lowliness among inhabitants. But not this time.

It was the first rainfall of any appreciable amount in many months—a rain that invoked smiles and cheery hello's, and revived hope.

It was a slow, steady rain, and scarcely a drop of the precious moisture was wasted. Starting Sunday morning, the moisture continued to fall intermittently during the day and night, then all day Monday the slow, steady downfall continued.

By the time the day was over, H. P. Hill, U. S. weather observer, had recorded 1.21 inches. Some said it was equal to a five inch rain that had fallen hard. But the rain wasn't yet over. Clouds and thunder and a real hard shower came early Monday night, bringing us 36 of an inch more, and making a total for the two-day rainy season 1.57.

It's great for those who had dusted in their wheat, and gratefully dusted in their wheat, and pray for those who had not yet sowed wheat. They can begin operations, with more hopes of reaping a harvest next year. The rain was great for everyone, for it was termed the best rain in two years.

Not only did Knox County people rejoice, but they were joined by those from over the entire Southwest, as the rains came in equal or greater amounts over several of the drought stricken states.

Tuesday morning dawned bright and clear, but before long heavy clouds borne by a stiff northwest wind again obliterated the sun, while weather reports gave possibilities of more moisture by either rain or snow.

Oil Activities

S. C. Herring abandoned at 6,365 feet the No. 1 Mrs. C. R. Jones well, two miles north of Truscott.

Humble Oil and Refining Company plugged at 6,217 feet the No. 1 McFadden Estate, 10 miles northwest of Benjamin and nine miles northeast of the Ross field.

The No. 1 W. P. Counts has been staked by Ultra Oil Company as a 5,850 foot wildcat six miles north of Knox City.

Stanford Oil and Gas Company has staked the No. 1 Stubbs Unit as a 4,600 foot test in the North Knox City Canyon Field, two miles north of Knox City.

Hunt Oil Company has spotted the No. 1 Bobby B. Burnett et al as a 6,500 foot exploratory venture in this county. Location is 9 1/2 miles northeast of Benjamin.

Plans for the Thanksgiving Festival at Rhineland have been completed and the people of the surrounding territory and their Thanksgiving guests are invited to attend. Dinner is scheduled for 12:00 noon and supper at 5:30 p. m. The dance with the Miller Brothers Orchestra will begin at 9:00 o'clock.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, DESERET NEWS: "The Utah Tax Commission expects that the total assessed value of all taxable property in Utah will run just about a billion dollars for 1952. . . . The national debt at the latest accounting was 263 billion dollars. On a per capita basis, Utah's share of the Federal debt is about $1,227,300,000. In other words, the people of Utah are in hook to a point 25 per cent greater than the total assessed value of all the taxable property of the state!"

SOMERSET, PA., DAILY AMERICAN: "There is no law, human or divine that requires any man to provide a job for another, nor is there any law which requires any man to work for another. This nation was built upon the idea that the individual is free and all men are equal."

OLYMPIA, WASH., DAILY OLYMPIAN: "What causes inflation? You'll never get the answer from the politicians who are responsible for it. With a flair for demagoguery, they invariably seek out a scapegoat—and the one they never have any trouble finding is 'big business.' The fact is that inflation primarily comes from big government—government which does not pay its way and resorts to the dilution of the currency to cover up its deficits."

CARLSBAD, N. M., CURRENT-ARGUS: "Senator Pat McCarran has called on every labor union in the United States to use any Communist or pro-Communist from its official staff. . . . Russian Communists do not permit labor to organize for its own benefit, and there is no reason to believe that the Communist Party in this country has any use for labor unions except to further its own purpose. We think that. . . labor unions. . . would do well, indeed, to follow the advice of the Nevada senator and throw out their Communist-line bosses."

ELDORADO, KANS., TIMES: "When a government agency like the wage stabilization board ratified wage boosts, or initiates some of its own—as has occurred in many instances over recent years—all is lovely on the labor front and the goose hangs high. But when such a bureau honestly feels that a proposed advance in pay is too high, all things considered in the economic picture and authorizes a reduction—then, South Gehenna is to pay."

THE MEANING OF THE ELECTION

General Eisenhower's landslide victory, in the face of all the political advantages held by the party which had been in power for 20 years, was a remarkable expression of the faith of his fellow-citizens in him. It also was much more than that. It was a clear-cut demand by the American people for a return to certain simple, fundamental ideas—ideas which the President-elect emphasized time and again during the campaign.

The Democrats put their best foot forward. Governor Stevenson is an admirable and attractive figure, who lost with honor. It is hoped that he will continue to devote his high abilities to the public service. But, unavoidably, he was the inheritor of a philosophy of government which the election vigorously disavowed.

That philosophy holds that it is the duty of government to provide the people with alleged "security" from the cradle to the grave. It holds that, in various fields, it is proper for the government to go into commercial business to the partial exclusion of free enterprise, which is socialism. It is a philosophy that must forever result in greater and greater taxation, and more and more waste and extravagance and corruption, regardless of how high-minded the men at the top may be. Most important of all, it is a philosophy that must result in less and less freedom and opportunity for enterprise and individuals alike.

It is said that President-elect Eisenhower offered copy-book maxims. Whatever they may be called, those maxims have been the source of this nation's strength, freedom, and spiritual and material progress. The President-elect did not hesitate to passionately assert his faith in thrift, honesty, the dignity and responsibility of the individual, the rights and obligations of the states, the vigor of the free enterprise economy—nor to point to the menace of super-government. These were the principles he stood for—these are the principles American people endorsed on November 4, and on which this nation was founded.

TAXES COST MORE THAN FOOD

As the average man what his chief family expense is, and he'll probably reply food. But he's wrong. The Chamber of Commerce of the United States points out that the average family's tax bill is greater than its combined food and clothing budgets.

For fiscal 1952, the total tax bill is around $86,500,000,000, of which $62,100,000,000 consists of Federal taxes and the rest state and local levies. That amounts to $500,000,000 more than the Department of Commerce says we spent for food and clothing in 1951. Prospects paint a darker picture for 1953 when the Federal tax alone may jump $7,000,000,000.

So many of our taxes are collected as a hidden part of the cost of all the things we buy that most people don't realize the magnitude of the load. In 1939 all taxes averaged less than $400 per family—today the figure is close to $2,000.

The Federal debt now totals $260,000,000,000 which means that the average Federal mortgage on each family is $5,860, in addition to state and local debt mortgages. We will never be able to reduce our debt mortgages and tax liability until government cuts wasteful spending and keeps expenditures within the limits of its income. Amen!

The Red Horse Inn of Sudbury, Mass., a favorite retreat of Longfellow's, is the one referred to in his "Tales of a Wayside Inn."

Gives You Texas

Here is the story of a brave Texas pioneer woman.

You have heard it said many times if you stand up for your rights, you will make your way under any circumstances. Mrs. Rachel Plummer was among the settlers who came to Texas from Illinois in 1833 and established, on the banks of the Navasota River, Parker's Fort, named for the leader, Elder John Parker. On May 19, 1836, early in the morning, 500 Comanches and Kiowas swept down upon the fort, killing five and carrying an equal number away as captives, among them 9 year old Cynthia Ann Parker.

Mrs. Plummer, one of the captives, was turned over to a warrior and his squaw. She was taken into the snow-covered mountains of New Mexico, and with little clothing and often no footwear, she was required to dress buffalo hides in the daytime and tend horses at night. She was abused and despised.

After a year of such service, she was given as a personal servant to a brutal old squaw, who made her life even more miserable. Mrs. Plummer was in such despair that she determined to stand no further mistreatment so, one day when the old woman started to beat her with a club, she grabbed the weapon and knocked the squaw down.

The occurrence was seen by a number of Comanche warriors who had been looting in the shade and telling tales. They all rushed excitedly toward her and she fully expected to be killed. Instead, the warriors thought it a huge joke and patted her gleefully on the back. After that she was no longer mistreated, but had the respect of the entire camp. "Fighting Squaw," they called her. Eighteen months after her capture, she was ransomed and returned to her people—a brave woman who stood up for her rights.

The Fairfield Recorder quotes a local man as saying, "My keenest memory of the horse and buggy days is that I was too poor to own a horse and buggy. In the town in which I lived, not 10 per cent of the people could afford a horse and buggy. In the same town today, more than 95 per cent of the families own cars.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gaither and daughter, Dianne, left Wednesday for Artesia, N. M., to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with relatives there.

Mr. and Mrs. Jiggs Thompson and daughter of Wichita Falls visited Mr. and Mrs. Gene Thompson and children over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Blacklock and daughter of Abilene visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Blacklock, and other relatives over the week end.

Abraham Choucair and Kay Waheed visited relatives in Lubbock the first of this week.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—It is an illogical fact that many people complain about the heat of Texas summers and yet sit indoors during the winter months in a temperature about as high as that about which they complained in the summer season, is the view of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"If the average person would realize the definite hazard in developing and maintaining an indoor temperature about 70 degrees, or at most 72 degrees, when the outside thermometer registers around freezing," he said, "there would be fewer colds, less bronchial conditions, and less pneumonia than there are today.

"Fresh air is one of the body's basic needs and no amount of luxury or artificial pleasure can be substituted for it. It may be a comfortable feeling to be warm, especially with the consciousness of the tough weather outdoors, but it is quite another matter to achieve this comfort at the probable cost of health.

"Winters in the Temperature Zone are sufficiently trying upon the human system with their sudden and sharp temperature changes, without adding to the burden by making a hothouse of one's home. Of course, colds and other respiratory affections can be acquired in many different ways, but one of the easiest methods of becoming victims of such hazards is the overheated house.

"To become overheated and perspire, though the latter condition may not be perceived, and in this softened state to brave the cold inter blasts, is to take a thoroughly unwarranted chance with health.

The wise householder therefore will check up on his artificial heat problem. He will resolve to keep his thermometer within safe limits."

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Brazzell of Freer and Mr. and Mrs. Alton Melton and daughter of Mission visited Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Riley and Mr. and Mrs. Gus Brown several days last week. They also visited relatives in Crosbyton and Levelland.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Not In Favor Of Exploring Into Outer Space; Wants The Other Planets To Explore Us

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson farm on Miller Creek gets off into the field of space, of all topics, this week, his letter reveals.

Dear editor: There has been a lot of talk in the newspapers and magazines lately about interplanetary travel, the possibility of riding rocket ships into outer space, establishing loadin platforms 2,000 miles up, pushin back man's horizons, etc.

One man, claimin there is bound to be life on other planets somewhere out in the universe and arguin there's no reason to believe life exists only on our planet, that maybe there are some races far older and probably more advanced than our way out in space, wants Congress to appropriate a few billion dollars right now and get some space ships built.

I do not look at it that way. I am opposed to it. I'm in favor of interplanetary economy.

Here's the way I see it. Say there is life out in space, maybe human beings or other creatures far more intelligent and advanced than we earthlings. My position is: let them spend their money and discover me. I'm a

Don't those outer space inhabitants have any curiosity? Would it not be worth something to em to look us up? I don't have any idea of what form of life they lead, what they do for fun, but I believe we've got as much to offer in the way of astonishment as they have, doesn't make any difference whether they hold Presidential elections or not. Let's hold back on this thing and let outer space fellows make the first move.

If we haul off and discover them, they'll sort of be our responsibility, and no tellin how hungry those people out there are or how short they are on weapons. About the time we got one new planet fed and armed, somebody'd discover another one maybe in worst shape, and while I don't like to be tight-fisted, there is bound to be a limit to the American taxpayer's ability, and you've got to remember Eisenhower has promised to cut taxes.

What I say is it's just as much ceywrhlQueclwluwg g g g g bgk their job to discover as us them. We've got as much on this earth worth discoverin as birds on the other planets. They don't know what they're missin. Let em look us up.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Two-Sided Easel for Child

AS A HOME entertainer and educational tool for young children, an easel is without parallel. The one illustrated is especially useful because it can be used simultaneously by two children. One side is for drawing on sheets of newsprint; the other is a chalkboard.

A panel of Masonite 3/16" tempered hardboard forms the backing for both the paper and the chalkboard. Sheets of newsprint are held in place with clips. Use two coats of unpigmented sealer in preparing the other, sanding the first down thoroughly and the second lightly. Apply a thick coat of slate surfacer, obtainable at paint stores, rubbing it down with a clean cloth when dry.

Legs are formed of 1 by 2-inch lumber. A center strip behind each hardboard panel gives it support. The troughs for colored crayons and chalk have ends of lumber, sides and bottoms of tempered hardboard. A strip of lattice lumber at either end of the easel holds it steady when in use. Hinges at the top permit ready folding and storage.

The overall height is 49", the height of the hardboard panels is 27" and their width is 30". Length of the legs can be varied to suit the ages of the children who will use it. The top of each trough is 4" wide and the depth is 3 1/2".

How to Even Up Chair Leg

WHEN a chair is out of level, one method of evening the legs is to trim the legs which are too long. A simple method of performing this tricky operation is described in Family Handyman.

Form a tube of paper, fastening it together with paste. Now slip it over one leg, cutting off the tube at the exact tip of the leg as the other end rests on the rug.

To assure getting each leg the identical length, slip the tube over each other one in turn, marking them to the same length. Now adjust the length of the tube to the shortest leg and mark all others for cutting.

President-Elect Buys Christmas Seals

President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower sets an example for the nation in the fight against tuberculosis by buying Christmas Seals from the National Tuberculosis Association's President-elect Mark H. Harrington (left). In Texas the control and prevention programs of 99 voluntary county tuberculosis associations and the statewide work of the Texas TB Association next year depend on the proceeds of the sale which began November 17 and will end December 25. They are affiliated with 3,000 other like organizations through the NTA.

New-Youth Possible

The Fountain of Youth may be a matter of what you eat.

The typical intake of food for a person over 55 years of age in this country amounts to only 1500 to 2000 calories daily, or about half the intake of a younger adult, according to Dr. Clive McCay, Cornell University nutritionist.

"With this lowered intake of food," cautions Dr. McCay, every effort must be expended to insure high quality in terms of essentials. Due to the lessening of an older person's food intake, many of the essentials in the diet are lost.

The American Medical Association Handbook of Nutrition states that as a result "low grades or minor degrees of vitamin deficiency can be assumed to be the rule rather than the exception."

The basic essentials in diet for people of advancing years have been outlined in a bulletin issued by the Rybuto Laboratories of the Vitamin Corporation of America.

The bulletin details the necessity for a constant variety in choice of foods, emphasizing the importance of raw fruits and vegetables. Caloric intake should be gradually reduced as a person grows older, protein-rich foods should be included in the diet, and fatty foods should be avoided.

Careful selection of food alone does not guarantee, the bulletin explains, a nutritious diet.

Dr. Edward Steigitz, noted medical writer, states, in discussing the health problems of the middle and older-aged groups, "insuring this may require some supplementary administration of purified vitamins in capsule form."

The Yarbrough Coffee Shop will be closed on Thanksgiving and will serve their turkey dinner on Sunday. The menu will consist of turkey and dressing with all the usual trimmings.

Little Miss Christy Edwards returned to her home in Abilene last Friday after a week's visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bowden.

Texas 4-H'ers Earn High Honors

HIGH HONORS were accorded Texas 4-H'ers for top records in the 1952 National 4-H Canning, Dress Revue, Field Crops and Poultry programs. Each received an all-expense trip to the 31st National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago. Highlights of their club careers are given below.

Representing Texas in the National 4-H Dress Revue program will be Jo Ann Glover, 17, Quanah. Through her 4-H project work, planning and making a harmonious ensemble has become a simple matter to Jo Ann. Her prize winning costume, which she designed herself, is a one-piece Irish linen casual in the new terra cotta shades. The skirt is made with peg top and large pockets. The collar is wing type with matching cuffs on the sleeves. A self belt and tailored buttonholes complete a becoming dress which may be worn for many occasions. Accessories consist of navy blue shoes and bag, white gloves and hat made of the terra cotta linen. Jo Ann has been vice-president of her club for three years. She will be the guest of Simplicity Pattern Co. at the Congress.

FORT WORTH — Increasing concern is being expressed by livestock men at Fort Worth and over the country about the weakened condition of many cows, as well as other kinds of livestock due to drouthy conditions.

Supplemental feed sales are reported rather slow in comparison with a year ago by the trade and fears are being expressed that if a hard winter comes, or bad storms hit, the death loss will be of staggering proportions.

It is pointed out that mineral and vitamin deficiencies, as well as thin flesh, are the rule. Already reports of "white muscle disease" and other similar disturbances are being heard from producers interviewed at Fort Worth.

It is feared that many livestock producers may suffer a tragic "die up" this winter because of the weakened condition of the stock, which in some cases is in worse shape than the owners realized, when they arrive at Fort Worth for sale.

Unless special care is given cows and ewes it is expected that

One good arm is all that's needed to learn the paint spray trade. Last year Goodwill Industries, the world's largest non-profit rehabilitation organization, in its six Texas centers provided training and employment for 800 handicapped women.

the calf and lamb crops for next year will be curtailed sharply.

In the sheep country last year, many ewes refused to accept their lambs and left them to die in the drouth-ridden country. A recurrence of this heavy loss is considered possible.

Stock water shortages are now on par with feed shortages in the dry sections of the country. Many shipments of livestock are being forced because of shortage of water and water hauling is becoming more and more common in the drouth areas.

The livestock trade in general looks for a strong stocker market in the spring provided dry sections get some rain.

The break in cattle prices this year was predicted over a year ago by many "experts" who cautioned about the high cattle population which at this time was getting ready to go over the 90 million mark.

The high cattle population, coupled with sub-normal pasture and feed conditions over the Great Plains area of the United States made the break even more severe than anyone had anticipated.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Reeves over the week end were Mrs. J. W. Berry of Popesville, Miss Dorothy Perry of Washington, D. C.; Perry Reeves, student in NTSC, Denton, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Williams and son, David, of Ozona.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Senter and Harold spent the week end in Fort Worth and Alvarado, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Tom Clarke and Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Senter.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Meers and children and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Butler visited in Graham over the week end.

Mrs. I. V. Cook and daughter Pat, were visitors in Haskell last Saturday afternoon.

The Battle of the Bird

Time was when preparing Thanksgiving dinner was a real struggle. And preparing it was nothing compared to the clean-up job that came after!

But today grandmother, or mother, can actually take time to enjoy herself — because so much of the work (including the after-dinner work) will be done for her by electrical kitchen appliances and by her wonderful electric servant, Reddy Kilowatt. He works for mere chicken feed, too!

He will refrigerate the turkey a whole day — for about 2¢.

He'll roast the turkey — for less than 10¢.

He'll run the dishwasher for a full load of dishes — for less than 1¢.

And he will wash and iron the tablecloth and napkins — for about 2¢.

Wonderful, isn't it? As a matter of fact, electric appliances will win the "cooking battle" every time... and remember your electric service is still the biggest bargain in your budget today!

Utilities Company Wins Safety Award

ABILENE—The West Texas Utilities Company, according to an announcement by the National Safety Council in Chicago, has been named as first place winner in the Public Utilities Division of the council's 1951-52 National Fleet Safety Contest. In acknowledgement of its national standing in the Driving

Safety Contest, the utility company was presented with a bronze plaque, mounted on walnut, and bearing the inscription, "Winner, Public Utilities Division, National Safety Council's 1951-52 Fleet Safety Contest." From July 1, 1951 to June 30, 1952, West Texas Utilities employees drove company vehicles a total distance of 3,399,000 miles and achieved the excellent accident rate of .09 accidents per 100,000 miles. This rate was far below that of the nearest competitor. Under the contest the slightest fender dent is considered a reportable accident. Before winners are declared in the contest the accident record of the companies are carefully audited by a representative of the National Safety Council.
