

Kracker Krumb's Odds Bets Salvaged at Random

What is the weather outlook?
Not very good!
Is it going to rain anyways soon? I doubt it!
Is it going to rain any this year? Not very much I don't believe.
How does the wheat crop look on your farm? Pretty bad!
That, as near as we can remember, is the gist of conversation that took place at a meeting of the Methodist board of stewards last Monday night, before the meeting officially opened.

The man being questioned was Sherman Hill, who, like his brother, Harvey, has a yen for making a study of the weather situation.

The men doing the questioning were men who had wheat crops themselves, or those more or less dependent upon a wheat crop and were interested—which could include all of us.

About this time another man who kinda studies the elements and keeps a record of local rainfall, Dr. R. L. Newsom, came in, but Bob hadn't gotten in on the first of the conversation and did not commit himself.

Then the meeting officially opened, and the weather discussion was sidetracked for important matters and problems concerning the church.

But nearly everywhere a group of people or just two persons get together that matter of the weather comes up.

One of our good advertisers opined last Monday that he reckoned he couldn't run an ad this week. The weather didn't appear to be right!

It's either too hot or too cold,
too windy or too still, or too dry—but not yet too wet—to advertise.

Which brings to mind some of our several trips up to see Dr.
Joe Croley.

Quite a few times, he'd greet us and then pop the question,
"How's your wheat crop?"

We'd pass the matter off with some more or less silly remark, but he kept asking that question
until it began to worry us.

Finally we asked point blank:
"Joe, why in Sam Hill do you ask me that question? You know good and well that I ain't got no wheat crop!"

Then he explains something like this: "Well, you and I, as well as every other business or professional man, depend more or less on a wheat crop or cotton crop. In other words, the success of the farmers sorta regulates our success; therefore, all of us has a wheat crop whether we're actually growing the wheat or not. That's why I ask the question."

We had to reply in words similar to those of Sherman Hill:
"Pretty bad!"

Another interesting weather
note: The wind that came up last Friday night blew the gate open to the enclosure where some of the boys had their fat calves for the livestock show at Knox City on Saturday.

The calves strayed away, and next morning they were not on hand to be shown. Folks envisioned a super theft, and good steaks for someone after the thieves had marketed the calves.
Pretty early Saturday, however, those searching for animals found them near the Sunset community. And the show went on as scheduled.

We hear it was a pretty successful show, too.

Last minute weather note:
that 1.63 inches of rain we received Wednesday night and this morning just about fixed us up brown! Hope it's not over, yet.

Recent Changes Made In Chamber of Commerce Directors

Since the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet was held recently, at which new officers and directors were announced, several changes in that body have been made.

J. D. Gillespie, left, who served as treasurer last year and was re-elected for another year, has been elevated to president of the organization. Gillespie, who is local field representative of the Stamford Production Credit Association, succeeds Mark Wad-zack, who resigned for business reasons.

Next in the above group is Russel Penick, owner of the Pen-ick Equipment Company in Munday, who continues as vice president.

A new director, J. Weldon Smith, third from left, has been named treasurer, taking the place vacated by Gillespie. Smith is cashier of the First National Bank.

Wadzack's resignation as president and director left a vacancy on the board, which was filled by E. E. King, manager of the local Cobb's Department Store.

Local Boxers Win Trophies Friday In Midget Mitts Bouts In Wichita Falls

Little battlers from Wichita Falls and Munday took top honors in the second annual Midget Mitts Boxing Tournament which ended last Friday night in the Boys' Club gym in Wichita Falls.

Boys fighting for Munday took four championships to tie with the Boys' Club, while the West Slide Gym of Fort Worth took three titles, and White Settlements Boys' Club, also of Fort Worth, won one crown. Boxers from Holliday and Nocona failed to place. Trophies were awarded in each weight division.

Seventy-two boys entered the two-day tourney. Officials for the meet were Don Barnett, Dickie Don Wood, Eugene Merriman and Roy Nix, and the tourney was sponsored by the Wichita Falls Boys' Club.

Twelve champions were named after 24 semi-final bouts were concluded as six teams participated in the big show for the little boys in honor of National Boys' Club Week.

Championships went to the following Munday fighters in their weight class: Kenneth Parker, 60; O. C. Parker, 75; James Hodges, 85, and Jerry Smith, 95.

James Goodwin, 88, lost in the semi-finals; Lane Lawrence, 96, lost his first bout, and Jimmy Burt, 101, also failed to win.

Cancer Crusade In Texas Passes Half-Way Point

AUSTIN—Vigorous local Cancer Crusades over the state have helped Texas score a new record this year for passing the halfway point of the Crusade financial goal.

For the first time in the seven-year history of the American Cancer Society, Texas Division,
more than one-half of the state
goal was achieved by April 15.

As of that date, a total of $325,750.72 was either pledged or in the bank. This figure is 54.29 per cent of the 1953 state goal of $600,000.

The total represents funds reported by Crusade Chairmen, memorial contributions and other gifts received at state headquarters during the year (to be credited to county Crusades) and funds either pledge or received from federated "one-fund" drives.

All in all, the outlook is encouraging for the Texas Division to reach its goal this year, according to Division President Travis T. Wallace of Dallas.

Those visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hollis of Truscott last Saturday and Sunday were Loy Hollis, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Patterson and daughter, Jackie Francis, all of Lubbock; Mrs. Mamie Hunter and friend, Mrs. Mary Stephens of Dallas; Billy Patterson of Calli-fornia; Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Mayberry and two daughters of Hefner; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Patterson of Benjamin; Mr. and Mrs. John Jamison and Mrs.
Pete Mayberry and son, Larry,
of Gilliland. An enjoyable time was had by all.

B. E. Smith Family Is Nominated As Master Farm Family

The B. E. Smith family of Knox County has been entered in the Master Farm Family contest for Texas, a contest which is sponsored each year by Progressive Farmer to determine the master
farm family of the South.

Except for the depression and war years, the Progressive Farm-principally in the Southern states, each year. The winning family in each state is determined by score sheets, then competed with families of other states.

The Smith family was nominated for Knox County by the Knox County Farm Bureau because of the rapid progress they have made in agriculture during recent years.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

ELY, NEVADA, RECORD: ". . . the foundation for genuine individual security lies in the ownership of a house and land free from confiscation by taxation. This is provided for under the Law of the Lord and the result is described by Micah: 'But they shall sit every man under his vine and fig tree (typifying the personal security of a privately-owned homestead); and none shall make them afraid: for the mouth of the Lord of hosts hath spoken it.' (Micah 4:4). This is the basis for true social security."

HAGERSTOWN, MD., MORNING HERALD: "The fact that most needs to be soaked in upon all of us right now is this: if we look to our government for security, then we have no security—for what the government can give us the government can also take away."

WALDOBORO, MAINE, PRESS: "Government is made up of services as required by the people of the State. Such services should always be ample but not more than ample. Government expenditures should be made in the same way as business expenditures are made, that is, always with an eye to economy and the Government should make certain that a dollar's value is received for every dollar expended."

FRANKLIN, IND., REPUBLICAN: ". . . virtually all college administrators are leery of wider government aid, feeling that inevitably it will mean federal control of education."

THE MACHINE AND THE LAND

A century ago, 75 per cent of all workers in this country were engaged in agriculture—in producing the food and allied products they and the small non-agricultural population consumed. Even as late as 1916 one person in three worked on the farm. Today, the figure is one in six.

In other words, we depend upon fewer farmers for all the varied agricultural products we must have. And the farmers' ability to meet the demand is primarily the result of the application of power to farm jobs.

Last year, according to the New Mexico State Extension Service, U. S. farmers used 7,000,000 tons of finished steel—more than is used in a year's automobile output—along with 16,500,000, 600 gallons of crude petroleum, 320,000,000 pounds of raw rubber, 15,000,000,000 kilowatt-hours of electric power, and vast quantities of other materials. These resources were used largely to produce, operate and maintain all manner of machines which perform the basic farm tasks swiftly, efficiently and cheaply; which have greatly reduced the amount of muscle-power needed; and which are the farmer's principal allies in preventing erosion and water damage and in preserving and improving the ability of his soil to produce.

On the average, each of us 150,000,000-odd

Americans eats more than three-quarters of a ton of food annually. Only a small proportion of us is needed to supply that incredible quantity of food, along with large amounts for export. That is the measure of the farm equipment industry's contribution to agriculture.

A DEMONSTRATION TRIP

The Boy Scouts of America will hold their Third National Jamboree at the Irvine Ranch, Newport Harbor, California, July 17-23, 1953. It is estimated some 50,000 will be on hand from all sections of the country and that 80 per cent will travel by train.

This will be the first ride on a railroad train for most of these youngsters. The railroads should take advantage of the occasion to not only make this trip as enjoyable as possible, but to show the boys the vital part the rails pay in serving every community through which they pass. There is no better way to gain appreciation of the United States, than by traveling over its vast area, and there is no better way to gain an understanding of how every section depends upon the railroads, than to ride on them and see the mountains of goods they handle for every form of business, industry and agriculture.

The Scouts of today will be leaders in business and government tomorrow. The railroads should help make their train ride a demonstration trip which will build pride in the United States and its free enterprise system of industry which offers jobs and opportunity to one and all alike.

IGHATS!

Ever hear of IGHATS! It is the slogan of a new mass movement and it means "I'm gonna holler about taxes." It had its beginnings at a Cedar Rapids community luncheon where industrial workers earning $3,400 a year learned that they were paying $1,100 a year in taxes, $800 of which is hidden. It has been spreading fast. Ministerial groups, union locals, chambers of commerce and other such organizations have promised it support.

The IGHATS battle cry couldn't have been sounded at a better time. In 1929, federal spending amounted to 3.6 per cent of the national income. Now, it is estimated, it amounts to more than 30 per cent. The IGHATS movement is designed to do something about this situation—and do it in a novel way in which everyone can participate. How about joining up?

"The roots of the power of organized labor to paralyze a facility indispensable to the national welfare are two in number. The first is the legal privilege of a union, denied to an industrial group, to make working contracts and stop production on a nation-wide basis. The second is the ability of the unions to deny citizens the right to work in struck plants."—Arthur Kroek

CLIFFORD WILSON, Evangelist

By JOHN C. WHITE, Commissioner

A staggering $19 million is the approximate figure lost by farmers and ranchmen annually on cattle and hogs sent to market with bad bruises.

According to data compiled by livestock commissions, some 9.8% of all hogs marketed have meat-damaging bruises, and 6.9% of all cattle marketed are bruised. This extremely high rate of loss does not include bruise damage to our sheep and calves.

It would be an error to figure that the packer is the one who takes the loss on the bruised animal he buys. Experience has taught him the ratio of damage he can expect on his purchases and he makes his offers accordingly. He knows that on each hog this loss will amount to about $1.59, and on each steer about $5.88. This is deducted from the price paid to you, the farmer and ranchman.

Where do these damages occur?

Most of them occur on the farm in various ways. A shortage of feed troughs and hay racks have the same effect as crowding animals for lack of barn space. The construction of these racks also has a lot to do with the ease with which these animals bruise themselves. Horned animals need a lot of room.

We know that because of the nature of the animals, a lot of bruises will occur even under ideal conditions of equipment and housing. Still we could profit by doing the best we can toward limiting these injuries.

A breakdown of the bruised portions of the steer are as follows: shoulders 19%; backs 12.5%; ribs 9%; plates 3%; hips 35%; rumps 12.5% and rounds 9%.

On hogs it is: shoulders 13%; backs 26%; bellies 12%; loins 5% and hams 48%.

How much of this huge loss is due to the human factors of "hurry, hurry—get it done?" Probably a great deal. The old saying, "Haste makes waste" is still true, especially when dealing with balky animals.

Ten dollars lost on bruises never reach your pockets because of injuries received somewhere along the line—either on the farm, in the truck or in the stockyards. But perhaps a little more caution will add more value to your animals.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Early spring is the best time for a community to start a fly control program, declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. That is before the fly population has a chance to multiply. It is estimated that one pair of flies, under favorable conditions, could have countless ancestors before winter.

Every time you kill a fly early in the season, and destroy breeding places, you stop whole colonies of flies before they can start. The most effective way of preventing swarms of flies is to destroy or make inaccessible to flies the organic material which attract flies by their odors, and which are essential to them as food and breeding places.

Individual householders should make it their responsibility to clean up their own back yards. Garbage cans should have a tight fitting lid and they should be leak-proof. Inadequate facilities for storage of garbage and refuse usually result in widespread fly breeding. Uncovered or partially covered garbage containers produce odors that attract a large number of flies. Good window screen will do a lot to keep flies out of buildings, thereby protecting food from contamination by fly-borne disease organisms.

There is no substitute for good sanitation in fly control. Every spot in town must be cleaned of garbage and trash. If a few dirty places are left, swarms of flies will breed. A neglected stable on the edge of town will furnish a plague of flies for the entire neighborhood. After garbage and trash have been removed, insecticides will help to reduce the fly population in local spots. It is a temporary protection, however, and should be regarded only as a supplemental or emergency means of control. Insecticide spraying will be effective only if sanitary conditions are maintained through out the summer.

Mrs. J. O. Tynes spent the first of this week with her sister, Mrs. Nell Anderson, in Wichita Falls.

BOYCE HOUSE

Gives You Texas

In an Austin hotel lobby recently, I saw a man whom I had not seen in 15 years. He was Gene Reynolds, now of Houston, for many years head of the investigation department of a big oil company, who was police chief in Ranger during the great oil boom.

He told of one experience after another, such as the time that the owner of the hotel where he was staying tried to buy his diamonds and several large rubies he had obtained in Mexico. But they couldn't agree on a price—and one day the jewels were stolen from his room. The proprietor was very indignant, severely questioned all the hotel employees and had every pillow and mattress ripped open. "That made the diamonds and rubies cost him fully $25," Reynolds dryly concluded.

Reynolds related a dramatic story about a man who was quite wealthy and had all his money in a bank but decided it would be safer if he drew it out, as the boom was subsiding. The bank declined to give him his money so he left but came back in a little while with a shotgun. Probably he was figuring on going hunting! Anyhow, he thrust his passbook under the grilled window and the teller counted out the full amount of the deposit.

The man was carrying a whole armload of paper money, like someone bringing in cordwood, but as he reached the door, one of the officials called out, "What are you going to do with the

Asbestos Boards Suit Contemporary Styling

Good contemporary architecture and cost saving ideas are combined in this home, chosen as a house of the month by American Builder. Low, sweeping lines dominate the exterior, which has asbestos-cement boards, an economical material noted for fire safety and durability, as its siding. Battens over vertical joints add interesting shadows. The designer and builder, Donald Scholz of Toledo, O., reported wall installation savings of one-third as compared to ordinary methods. Working plans may be obtained from American Builder Home Plan Service, 30 Church Street, New York 7, N.Y.

duced is referred to one of the committees of the Congress, and there hearings are held upon it and amendments made. Many times a bill is amended in such a way in a committee that its original purpose is completely defeated, or it is changed to such an extent that it is hardly recognizable, and, of course, it is also subject to amendments after it reaches the Floor. It is because of this possibility of change by amendment that it is difficult for a Member of Congress to say what his attitude will be when the final vote comes on a bill; for it frequently happens that you favor the principle of the original bill, but when the time comes to vote on it, it has been so amended that you can't vote for it.

It is of great help to all of us here to hear from people of our District with regard to pending legislation I know that many of you are interested in one or more of the bills that have been introduced during this session of Congress, and I hope that you will not hesitate to write me giving me the benefit of your views. It's most helpful when we get letters that point out specifically either objections or points in favor of any particular measure.

Visitors in my office this week from home were Mrs. Mary Davis Moore of Denton, Mrs. Stacey Conner and Tom Craddock of Seymour, Mike Mooney, Rhea Howard, Mrs. Fred Dadson, Mrs. Louis W. Riesen, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Guffey, all of Wichita Falls, Porter Oakes formerly of Wichita Falls and presently of Amarillo, and Mrs. Bernard Martin and her daughter, Mrs. Bernice Martin Grieder, of Wichita Falls.

Rev. R. L. Butler of Sweetwater, former Methodist pastor here, was among those who attended the funeral of Rev. J. R. Bate-man on Tuesday of last week.

money? They will kill you for it in broad open daylight; you had better put it back in the bank where it will be safe." The man turned around and re-deposited it. Next morning, the bank failed to open.

Reynolds was short and slender, boyish looking, and was said to be the youngest police chief in the United States at the time. He recalls that he received national publicity and one day three men came into his office. They were prominent citizens comprising a committee that wished him to become chief of police in an oil boom town in Kansas. "How many chiefs have you had since the boom started?" Reynolds asked. "Three," was the reply. "What happened to them?" he asked. A committee member said, "The second one resigned." Reynolds persisted, "What I want to know is, what happened to nos. 1 and 3." The citizen replied, "They were killed."

It seems that being chief of police in a boom town in those days was sorter exciting.

News From The U. S. Congress

Congressman Frank Bkard

Washington, D. C., April 17, 1953. Everyone, I know, is watching with almost breathless interest the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners in Korea. Having been a prisoner of war in World War II, I think I can, to some degree, know the feeling of men who will be coming home and appreciate the anxiety of their families. All of this, it seems to me, should point up that the most important problem that confronts us as Americans is a solution to the Korean War and bringing to an early conclusion the terrific waste of the young men of this country.

The first thing we have to do to accomplish this is to develop a strong, positive, bipartisan foreign policy. A solution of the Korean Conflict and a general settlement of our international problems certainly is above any party lines. The solution of these should be approached by all of us not as Republicans or Democrats but as Americans. The bringing about of a cessation of hostilities on an honorable basis and the development of a crystal-clear bipartisan foreign policy is our greatest challenge. Every other issue that confronts us and everything that we discuss is secondary to the necessity of our making real progress toward world peace.

It is too early yet to tell just what the real attitude of the new leaders of Russia is, and certainly we should approach their proposals with caution since, historically, they have demonstrated that to rely on their promises can be fatal. However, if we in this country will develop a strong united foreign policy, then the chances are that our dealings with the Soviets will be greatly simplified.

Under our legislative system, just because a bill is introduced in Congress does not necessarily mean that it has a chance of being enacted into law or that it will even be considered by the Congress. Each bill that is intro-

FORT WORTH—A record run of cattle appeared at the nation's major markets for mid-April on Monday when an estimated 112,700 cattle and 9,000 calves were reported. This compared with 94,700 cattle and 9,900 calves a week earlier, and only 44,000 cattle and 3,000 calves on the same date a year ago. Immediate effect was to slow trade on fed cattle at Fort Worth and other points around the country. Here fed cattle closed 50 cents to $1 below last week's close, and some points in the North reported more severe slumps before trade was completed. Cows at Fort Worth were fully steady and bulls closed 50 cents to $1 lower to hit the lowest level for that class in over a year.

First Farm Demonstration Meeting Held Fifty Years Ago At Terrell

TERRELL—The big news that came from an all-day meeting at Odd Fellows Hall here 50 years ago was—"Terrell Gets the Farm." This statement of course referred to the establishment of the first demonstration farm in the nation to be supervised by a representative of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Two names that have grown in stature with the years came out of this February 26, 1903, meeting: Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, the USDA representative and demonstration supervisor, and Walter C. Porter, the first demonstrator. The establishment of this demonstration farm and other closely related activities resulted in the passage of the Smith-Lever Act by the Congress of the United States in 1914. This Act set up the Cooperative Extension Service (county agent system) and made it a part of the nation's Land-Grant College System.

Today, a half century after the historic meeting, the extension method of teaching—by the demonstration, is known around the world. Since World War II, personnel trained in organizing, conducting and training others in extension methods loaned to our friends in many countries to help them commence their own educational programs for getting practical and useful information in agriculture and home economics to their adults and youth. Too, hundreds of leaders from these countries have come to America for the purpose of studying and working with the various state extension services on the state and county levels. Many of these foreign students have come to Texas.

The people of Terrell and Kaufman County organized quickly in 1903 to back Dr. Knapp and to provide the funds which protected Mr. Porter against any loss that might occur from his following the demonstration program. The funds were never needed but the backing from the community was a strong factor in the rapid spread of the information gained from the first demonstration.

On this 50th anniversary day, local people are again playing a most important part in the program and related activities being held today on the Porter Farm. At least 25 local committees have been at work for many weeks planning and getting into final form the "kick-off" program for the year-long, 50th anniversary observance. Committees from the Texas Extension Service have worked with these local groups. A. H. Boyd heads the local overall committee.

Speakers on the program which begins at the Porter Farm at 1:30 p. m. include Assistant Secretary of Agriculture J. Earl Coke; Director C. M. Ferguson, Federal Extension Service; Chancellor Gib Gilchrist, Texas A. & M. College System; former Texas and Assistant Federal Extension Director H. H. Williamson (retired); Smith County Judge Ned Price, president; Texas Association of County Judges and Commissioners and Mrs. B. M. Harris, Plainview, president, Texas Home Demonstration Association.

The final activity for the day will be the dedication of a historic marker on the Porter Farm. Presentation will be made by Texas director G. G. Gibson; dedication by Seaman A. Knapp, grandson of Dr. Knapp, and W. A. Porter, son of Walter Porter, will accept the marker.

Mrs. Ky Hunter of Iowa Park visited her mother, Mrs. F. T. Jarvis, over the week end.

More Castorbean Acreage Likely For This Year

COLLEGE STATION—Present indications are that 100,000 acres will be planted to castorbeans in Texas this year. This is the acreage allotted the state on which prices are guaranteed by the United States Department of Agriculture. This acreage, says W. I. Ross, assistant agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, compares with the 94,000 acres planted in 137 counties last year.

Total income from last year's crop, explains Ross, was approximately one and one-half million dollars. Yields were low in many areas due to drought and a lack of experience on the part of new growers.

Ross points out that income will depend upon yields and that good cultural practices are a very necessary part of the production program.

Like other crops, castorbeans respond to good, deep seedbed preparation. They are a tap-rooted plant but their tap root will not readily penetrate hard pan, says the specialist. Deep plowing is also a good moisture conserving practice and the stored moisture can be used by the plants during the summer months to keep them producing.

Poor stands, says Ross, are the chief cause of low yields. At least 10 pounds of seed should be planted per acre. The planter plates should be checked before going to the field to make sure the desired spacing is obtained and that the seed will not be crushed. Growers in 1952, points out Ross, increased their yields by planting more seed and then thinning to the desired stand.

Records kept last year show that castorbeans returned on an average from five to seven dollars for each dollar spent for fertilizer. Application of the proper amount and kind of fertilizer will increase the per acre yield and in turn total profits.

Early plantings last year generally produced higher yields than did late plantings. In most sections of the state, says Ross, early cotton planting time is about the right time for planting the castorbeans.

Yields can be increased through the use of proper cultural methods and early cultivation is very important. Give them a first cultivation, says Ross, as soon as the plants are tall enough to plow. Weeds and grass are tough competitors especially during the early growth period of the castorbean and clean cultivation at this time can be a yield booster.

The A. R. Floyds, who have been living in Fort Worth, visited relatives here over the week end. They were enroute to Sudan where they will make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hargrove and children, Ralph and Ginger, of Aiken spent last Saturday and Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Weeks and with Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hargrove of Goree.

Miss Bertha Briney of Santa Anna, Calif., spent the past week in the home of Mrs. G. R. Eiland. Mrs. Eiland took her to Wichita Falls Tuesday where she left by bus for her home.

General Telephone Company Elects New President Recently

Walter G. Wright has been elected President of General Telephone Company of the Southwest effective May 1, 1953, succeeding Roy Autry who has been President of the Company since March, 1949. Mr. Autry will assume new duties as a consultant on operating problems to the General Telephone System of which General Telephone Company of the Southwest is a part and will continue as a Director of General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

Mr. Autry has been associated with the General Telephone System since 1930 except for a brief period from 1941 to 1943. He began his telephone career, however, in 1915 in the Traffic Department of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. In 1930 he accepted a position as Traffic Supervisor with General Telephone Company of California. He was promoted to Commercial Manager in 1937 and remained in that position until 1941 when he resigned to join Douglas Aircraft Corporation as Supervisor of Communications. In 1943 he returned to General Telephone Company of California as General Traffic Superintendent, and in 1944 he was transferred to General Telephone Company of the Southwest as Vice President and General Manager.

Mr. Wright, who succeeds Mr. Autry as President of General Telephone Company of the Southwest, has been in the telephone industry since he graduated from Rutgers University in 1924 as an electrical engineer. His first business experience was with the New York Telephone Company, later the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company, followed by varied engineering and operating assignments with International Telephone and Telegraph Company, both in the United States and abroad. Mr. Wright joined the General Telephone System in 1951 as Chief Engineer of the General Telephone Company of Michigan. He was elected Operating Vice President and a member of the Board of Directors of General Telephone Company of the Southwest in 1952.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Says That New Pill To Ward Off Effects Of The Atom Bomb Is A Big Mistake

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek apparently has his tongue in his cheek this week, although there is always the possibility it could be something else, say chewing tobacco.

Dear editor:

that they're always working against each other and for every step one of them makes toward progress another one takes a step to head him off. We don't get anywhere.

Take the atom bomb. Here we had a fine instrument of civilization, you might say the peak of civilized ingenuity in so far as eliminating more people at one time is concerned, civilization these days you know being measured not only by the greatest good for the greatest number, but the greatest number bumped off in the shortest time.

The atom bomb, you might say, was the ultimate dream of the first cave man who dropped a rock off a cliff onto the head of

People, Spots In The News

ATOMIC flash looked like this in Los Angeles, though test explosion at Yucca Flat, Nevada, was 300 miles away. At left is City Hall Tower.

IDEA that cause and cure of inflation can be learned as easily as arithmetic or geography is expounded in new book, "Money, Men and Machines," by businessman Waddill Catchings.

his neighbor. It multiplied a man's power so many times he could now eliminate people by cities instead of handfulls. I looked like we might be getting somewhere toward scaring the daylight out of each other and covering us into final world peace. And what happens? We spend billions of dollars and endless hours of scientific research to get it perfected and then what? Some scientists not willing to let well enough alone gets busy and invents a pill to counteract the effect of the atom bomb's most valuable aspect, its ability to send mysterious rays out and kill people merely by radiation. According to an account I read in a paper yesterday, all you have to do now is take this pill before an atom bomb goes off and, if you're out of the immediate vicinity where the thing explodes, you're safe from the devastating radiation that used to make the bomb such a masterful instrument of slaughter.

I tell you, that pill has set us back twenty-five years. Now we have got to start all over again and work out something to add to the bomb that'll overcome the effects of the pill, and as sure as we do some scientist will develop another pill to overcome that, and civilization will be right back where it was before. I wish scientists would make up their minds. We'll never get anywhere this way.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.
