This is a brand new year you're using up, now!

1956 made its arrival without a big heap of fanfare, other than the celebrants who attended the New Year's show at the local theatre. Soon upon the arrival of the new year, there was a short siege of fire cracker popping, then the town settled down to the quietness of midnight.

Being invited to the Jungman home for a game of eighty-four, we informed our hostess that we weren't interested in seeing the old year out and the new one in. But games, even eighty-four, can sometimes become intriguing and we found it nearing midnight when we started to go home.

We were prevailed upon to remain until the new year arrived, at which time we yelled "Happy New Year" in unison, took a spoonful of blackeyed peas for luck, went home and to bed. We were soon asleep, so we didn't hear the town settled down to its usual quiet.

So far as we know, the New Year hasn't brought about many changes in our town or its people. The same old clear and balmy weather, when a rain is most urgently needed, and few business changes seem in prospect.

Bertha's Babyland is in its new location—the building formerly occupied by the City Drug, and Bertha is busy arranging her stock very attractively in the new location. Dub Dowdle plans to move his jewelry store into the building vacated by Bertha, but it appeared Monday that he was taking the holiday, like a few other firms like the bank, post office and auto dealers did.

You've probably heard the story about the preacher who went visiting just before preaching time, turned down an invitation to eat supper, saying he couldn't preach as well on a full stomach. The preacher and his host went to church, and his host remained at home. When her husband returned, she asked about the sermon. "He just as well as a," her husband replied.

Well, we were invited some two weeks ago to be the guest of Gene Harrell and Dodge for the Cotton Bowl football game. We called the situation over several days, then finally told Gene we'd better stay home and look after business. Monday morning, we found a number of places we usually called on Mondays and found them closed. We concluded we just as well as went!

A trip to Dallas and back in one day would probably have made us unfit for the next day, so maybe it is just as well. But a post-season bowl game is something we aim to see when we retire from the newspaper business.

For years we've heard the remark of some man that "his wife wears the pants in his family." Here's a new one on the pants situation we gleaned from one of our exchanges recently:

Pants are made for men and not for women.
Women are made for men and not for pants.
When a man pants for a woman, and a woman pants for a man, they are a pair of pants.
Such pants do not always last, and they're then called breeches of promise.
This often turns into a suit.

THAT PECAN WAS TROUBLESOME THING

Little two-year-old Danny Lee Carden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Carden, underwent a bronchospasm in the General Hospital in Wichita Falls last Saturday. Danny Lee swallowed some pecan nuts which lodged in his windpipe. Mr. and Mrs. Carden remained with him at the hospital. Mrs. Carden stated that the doctor let them bring him home on Tuesday on trial as he is still wheezing when he breathes and is still under the care of the doctor.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hawkins and Jan and Mrs. J. B. Bowden were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Russell and children in Vernon.

Weekly Livestock Sales Date Here Changed To Saturdays, Owners State

L. E. Shawver and George Shawver, owners of the Munday Livestock Commission Co., announced this week that the date of their weekly livestock sales is being changed to Saturday of each week. The first Saturday sale will be held on Saturday, January 7th.

"We have received a number of requests to change the day from Monday to Saturday," stated L. E. Shawver, manager, and both buyers and sellers believe that Saturday will be the most convenient day.

The Monday sales, Shawver said, made it rather inconvenient on those bringing cattle to the sales barn for the weekly sales, as it was almost imperative that they work their cattle on Sunday to have them here for the Monday sales. Then, too, buyers have been asking for a more convenient date.

The Saturday date will be especially convenient for farmers and cattlemen whose families usually come into town to spend the day on Saturday, and they may do their shopping in town while the sale is going on.

"We believe the new Saturday date will prove more popular and convenient for everyone," Shawver said, "and we invite you to continue attending our sales."

Lions Club Makes Contribution To Children's Camp

Patronage of area people of the Lions Club's Christmas tree sales has enabled the club to make a contribution to the Crippled Children's Camp at Kerrville. The club voted to contribute a portion of the Christmas tree sales to the camp, and this year the contribution amounted to around $60.

This amount is over and above the club's annual contribution of $3 per member, which had amounted to around $90.

The camp is maintained each summer by Lions Clubs and is strictly for handicapped children. Anyone knowing of such children in this area who would benefit from a period of time spent at the camp should contact some member of the Lions Club.

Lynn Reynolds left last Friday night for Fort Bliss, where he will be stationed, after a two weeks visit here with Mr. and Mrs. Don Wardlaw and other relatives and friends. Lynn received his basic training at Fort Ord, Calif.

Chan Hughes and son visited relatives in Dallas over the week end. His wife, who visited there last week, returned home with him.

Cottle Attorney First Candidate Of 1956; Announces For District Judge

Roy A. Jones of Paducah became the Times' first 1956 aspirant for public office, when he issued his announcement for the office of district judge last Friday. His statement follows:

TO THE VOTERS OF COTTLE, KING, KNOX AND BAYLOR COUNTIES:

Next July 28th you will elect a district judge to serve you for the next four years and after serious consideration I have decided to be a candidate for that important office.

Since I was elected county attorney of Cottle county sixteen years ago it has been my greatest ambition to be your district judge and I have tried to conduct my public and personal life in such a manner as to merit your confidence and trust while I have struggled upward toward this goal.

Most of you remember that I served as county attorney of Cottle county from 1940 until 1950 with the exception of twenty-five months during which I served as a sergeant in Army Intelligence during World War II.

After this public service you elected me your district attorney and I served four years in that capacity. In 1952 when I was seeking my second term you gave me a majority of the votes in each of the four counties and that splendid endorsement makes me believe that you are now ready to promote me to the highest office in our district. While I served as

March Of Dimes Drive Is Begun

"Polio is not licked yet." These words we read and hear—so again January is here, and a time for each of us to give to the March of Dimes drive, that we may see the time when polio is conquered.

The Knox County Chapter spent $5,684.39 in 1955, and there will be several hundred dollars yet to be paid for patient care. During the year three patients were sent to Gonzales, one patient spent two months in Hendrick Hospital in Abilene, and several have gone to Abilene for treatment, braces, etc.

Though the new vaccine is effective, let us remember that not all children will be given that protection, and those who have been stricken will need care for months to come. Let us see that our children will have the best treatment, should polio strike.

Any day in January is "March of Dimes" day!

Mrs. R. M. Almanrode, chapter chairman.

9,561 Bales Of Cotton Ginned

With cotton ginning and gathering almost slowed to a standstill, Munday's gins were still operating the first of this week, although cotton was coming in slowly.

"There's quite a bit of cotton in the fields," one ginner stated, "but there is a shortage of hands at present. Most of the pickers who went home for Christmas didn't return."

It is believed the gins will continue operating on a limited scale for several more days.

A check of Munday's gin plants last Tuesday afternoon revealed that a total of 9,561 bales had been ginned from the 1955 crop.

This is a far below normal crop, although more cotton has been ginned locally than was ginned last year.

The schools will fill out the census forms, he said, and they will be sent home by the children to be checked by parents and returned.

A special effort will be made to include 6-year-olds, who will enter school next September, in this census, and parents are urged to include the names of these children on the forms.

Delinting Company Begins Operations

John E. Jackson of Jackson Delinting Co. has announced that the plant started its 1956 operations this week, and is now delinting cottonseed for planting purposes.

This popular Kemgas Process of delinting will probably keep the plant busy from now until planting season is over.

Mr. Jackson urges farmers to book their seed for delinting as early as possible and avoid the last minute rush.

He has been a resident of Munday since 1924, but for the past nine years has been driving to Knox City each working day to perform his clerical duties in the Knox City office.

Reynolds was employed by WTU in 1916, and began his career of four decades in the company's ice department in Abilene. He was later made a diesel engine operator in the power plant.

After working a year in the stores department in the Abilene office, Reynolds was transferred to Haskell as an operator in the power plant. In 1924 he moved to Munday to assume his new duties as local manager and substation operator.

Coaches Guests Of Dodge Dealer At Cotton Bowl Game

Three football coaches, Troy Stewart and Joe Spann of Munday and Paul Mosley of Goree, were guests of Gene W. Harrell, local Dodge dealer, for the TCU-Old Miss football game in the Cotton Bowl last Monday. This was the first post-season bowl game for each of the coaches.

The entire atmosphere of the Cotton Bowl was colorful and exciting—it was a thrilling game—but most colorful, too, was the caravan of 20 Dodge convertibles carrying the Rangerettes around the playing field. The Rangerettes performed during half-time.

"A coach sees a lot more than just an ordinary fan, and it was interesting to hear these men talk the game on our return trip," Harrell said.

Mrs. Lonnie Offutt and children visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Smith, and Robert in Fort Worth the first of last week. Mrs. Smith and Robert returned home with them for a visit and to visit her other daughters, Mrs. J. T. Offutt, and Mrs. G. E. Rogers in Benjamin.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. McMahon during the holidays were Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Pinkerton and children and Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Tompkins of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Adkins of Arlington and Richard Sadler of Odessa.

LIFETIMES OF STUDY

One thing is sure about the practice of medicine—it is a field where education never ends—where the educational process must go on throughout the physician's entire active life.

That thought comes to mind on reading the agenda for the American Medical Association's forthcoming clinical meeting in Boston.

This postgraduate education meeting is expected to be the largest ever held, with an attendance of 4,000. About 200 scientific papers and exhibits have been scheduled for presentation. Papers will be given in three lecture halls, offering the physician a wide variety of choice in subjects. Leading surgeons and obstetricians will be available for individual problem discussions. Closed circuit television programs, originating in a New England hospital, will bring live operations in color to the gathering place. More than 50 motion pictures will be shown. And there will be a technical exhibit with more than 150 displays.

This is a major event. But in its purpose and method it is certainly not unusual. All over the country physicians meet—on the regional, state, and local level—to discuss and to learn. And their educational pursuits are not limited to formal gatherings. The doctor, as a matter of routine, must spend many hours each week, above and beyond the demands of his practice, keeping up with the medical literature. For new horizons of knowledge are always being explored, and light cast into dark places.

Under our free system, doctors do this voluntarily—not because anyone forces them to. And the fruits are found in the fact that we have the highest standards of medical care of any major nation on earth.

MAKING THE MARE TO TROT

"It is money that makes the mare to trot," wrote the poet John Wolcott some two centuries ago. That has become a classic aphorism, in a slightly different form: "Money makes the mare go."

American industry provides a wonderful example of this truth. At the end of last year, our manufacturing companies alone represented $175,000,000,000 of capital—which works out to an investment of $12,000 for each of their workers.

We will need many more tens of billions to provide good jobs for our growing population. And that means that we need to maintain the kind of economic climate which induces people to invest their savings in job-making enterprise.

BAD TASTE WON'T SELL

The level of taste of the American consumer has been raised to such a degree since the depression that "bad taste no longer will sell any place in the country."

That statement was made by an officer of a company which produces fabrics, in a speech made before the graduate class at New York University's School of Retailing. He went on to say that in the last 20 years "there have been more radical changes . . . than there were in the preceding 300 years of retailing. People now insist upon clothes that are colorful, lighter in weight, and packable for traveling; furniture that is informal; china that is bright and gay; and fabrics that are crease-resistant and machine-washable and need little or no ironing."

Such striking advances have not been confined to manufactured goods. The retail food store of today, to add another example, would have made our grandmothers blink their eyes in disbelieving amazement. New processing and packaging techniques have enormously reduced the amount of time the housewife needs to spend in preparing her meals—and, also, have made foods which once could be had only in season, available at all times of the year. It's a far cry from food in the raw state to freezers loaded with ready-to-serve meals.

This brings up another point. There has been complaint about the spread between the prices paid the producers of various commodities and the prices charged consumers. The answer can be found by just looking around any modern retail store. All the processing and packaging and other desired services cost money—and the cost must be added to the selling price. There is no big profit margin in the highly competitive retail industry.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

Kingman, Ariz., Mohave Miner: "Nothing serves as a better barometer of the condition of a community or a state than its newspaper. Many first impressions are made by the community newspaper and it can either promote or detract from its area."

Bedford, Ind., Daily Times-Mail: "We firmly believe that most of the people in the United States are fundamentally conservative, because most of them have something to conserve—a home, insurance policy, farm, personal property among the tangible things, and certainly all of us want to conserve the system of government and private enterprise which has created this high standard of living."

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY?

CAN WE AGREE?

Have you ever had any serious disagreement with anyone over some important matter? Have you not suffered the consequences of such a disagreement. Yet, they were altogether unnecessary. The disagreement was useless and without foundation. On the other hand, have you not many times had the pleasant experience of having someone tell you that they were in agreement with you? Were you not lifted up and encouraged by such an agreement?

AGREEMENT IN RELIGION

Unfortunately there are so many disagreements in religion. Would it not be wonderful if all who are seeking to present Christ to the world were in agreement? I am convinced that division is a great hindrance to Christianity. Division among religious bodies breeds infidelity. Divisions among Christians hinders the progress of the church of the living God. It was David who said, "Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity". (Psalm 133:1).

Many sermons have been preached on matters of difference. Of course there is no compromise between truth and error. There is a difference between truth and error and that difference must be made known regardless of feeling and consequences. But, had it ever occurred to you how easy it would be for all men, who profess to believe in God, to be in agreement? In this discussion, let us turn and look at that side of the picture. Let us consider matters of agreement, rather than matters of disagreements.

ONE GOD

First: surely we are in agreement that there is ONE GOD. Why? In Eph. 4:6, by inspiration of the Holy Spirit, it is revealed that there is one God. There have been many disputations about the nature and attributes of God, but we agree, there is one God. This foundation truth of revelation is almost universally accepted in agreement by all men who profess to believe in God. In this world of confusion it is wonderful to stand by this mighty solid rock—the indisputable truth—there is one God. Herein is a great and fundamental issue, not merely a matter concerning which we can agree, but one concerning which we do agree. Do you ask, why do we agree? The answer is obvious! The word of God reveals this fact. If we believe the word of God, we are in agreement.

This subject will be continued for the next few weeks. I would like to suggest that you save each of these articles that you might study them together.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

WHAT'S YOUR NAME?

"What's your name?" would seem to be a simple and easily answered question. Yet, the variety of answers which many people give in response thereto is surprising. For example, take this hypothetical case:

Albert Charles Smith died and his lawyer filed the petition of probate for his estate, entitling it: "In the Matter of the Estate of Albert Charles Smith, also known as Albert Smith, also known as Charles Smith, also known as A. Charles Smith, also known as A. C. Smith and also known as Charley Smith."

With such a simple name, what did Mr. Smith do to make the probating of his estate so complicated?

When Albert Charles Smith was born, the attending physician filed a birth certificate with that name. During his school years, his friends called his "Al."

Mr. Smith went to college and decided that his name would look more distinguished if he wrote it "A. Charles Smith," and he was so regarded. His college diploma carried that name.

Starting out in business Mr. Smith took a job that required him to write his signature many times a day. To simplify the work, he signed his name "A. C. Smith." His bank account and telephone number were recorded that way. Mr. Smith lost a part of his identity, since there were eleven "A. C. Smiths" listed in his telephone book.

Mr. Smith decided to get married and he rushed to the courthouse to get his license. Without giving the matter much thought, he told the clerk his name was "Charles Smith." The name was recorded on his marriage certificate.

Mr. Smith bought a house, and the lawyer who handled the transaction asked for his full name. The deed was registered at the courthouse under the name "Albert Charles Smith."

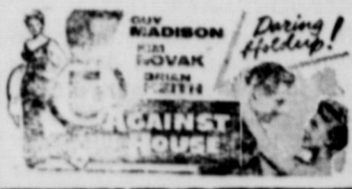

A life insurance agent had previously written a policy for Mr. Smith under the name, "Al C. Smith." During his middle life, Mr. Smith took out other policies from another agent, and all of them carried the name "Albert C. Smith." He took a position with a railroad and appeared on the pension roll as "A. C. Smith."

Mr. Smith owned some securities and several pieces of real estate and also owed various bills. They were all listed under varying combinations of his name.

Then Mr. Smith made his will under the name of "Albert C. Smith." A year later he died; and that is when his attorney started working and trying to find out just who Mr. Smith was and what he owed and owned.

Of course this case is imaginary; but it illustrates how difficult and costly such a practice can be.

Every person should use the name appearing on his birth certificate and should make sure that all documents which have a legal bearing, such as school diplomas, deeds to property, certificates of stock and bond ownership, and insurance policies, carry the same name. This will often avoid complications in the probating of an estate.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Holiday guests of Mrs. J. F. Lowrance were Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Prater, Charles and Jerry, of Hastings, Okla.; William A. Prater, who is in the army and will report back to a camp in Arkansas on January 6; Bobby F. Prater of Rusk, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Lowrance, Brenda and Stanley, Chillicothe; Homer Lowrance, who is attending HSU in Abilene, and Leroy Lowrance, who is attending Midwestern University in Wichita Falls.

Guests of Mrs. Ida Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Dee Allred and Mrs. Annie Floyd during the New Year week end were Mr. and Mrs. Lavelle Scott and two children of Denver, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brooks of Manchester, New Hampshire; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Brooks and Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Whitfield of Borger, Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Green and children of Graham and Mrs. Mae Brooks of Haskell.

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK BY TED GOULDY

All Livestock Lost In Price During 1955

FORT WORTH—Despite some improvement in many areas of Texas and the Southwest in pasture conditions and a generally better crop of feeds and roughage, these developments were offset to large degree by lower prices on nearly all kinds of livestock.

A bigger decline was avoided because of the somewhat better conditions which enabled livestock producers to hold onto their stock, and demand for restocking purposes created a market for stockers in the Southwest that most of the year was measurably higher than going prices for the stockers in other sections of the country.

The tremendous production of red meat and poultry all over the nation was the factor that hammered prices lower and lower. Four times during November and December, the USDA reported new records were established for the production of red meat under federal inspection in the nation's packing plants.

The deluge of hogs was aggravated by extremely large numbers of fed steers. Feeders in efforts to hold cattle until the market firmed finally tired and went to market with them at weights between 50 and 100 pounds per head heavier than averages of a year earlier. Chicago week after week reported average weights of fed steers marketed there were 60 to 75 pounds above a year earlier. This added tonnage spelled ruinous prices for many feeders.

Every segment of the nation's economy put their shoulders to the wheel in efforts to increase meat consumption to work out from under this bumper crop of meat. The result is that meat and poultry consumption is at an all-time peak. The producers and processors of meat and poultry confidently expect to increase eating of meat to double the present amounts. Some say this will be done in a short span of five to ten years and that meat consumption in the United States will one day equal that of countries such as Argentina, Australia and New Zealand.

It appears the United States has the production capacity and the know-how to produce this much meat and poultry. New agricultural plans will gravitate toward more and more meat and poultry production.

An "educated guess" is that 1956 meat production will be pretty much the same as during the past year.

Fed Steers and Yearlings Lost $2 to $3 Per Hundred

At Fort Worth in December, 1954, choice fed steers and yearlings topped at $22 to $25, against a top of $19 to $21.50 for similar cattle this month. Lower grades at $12 to $19 last year, compare with prices of $10 to $15.50 today. Fat calves are $1 or more lower. Choice kinds topped around $21 a year ago, against a $19 to $20 market on similar kinds this week. Lower grades sell around $1 under a year ago.

Cows and bulls suffered less decline. Bulls at $10 to $13 this week are level with a year back. Fat cows at $10 to $12 a year ago are little if any lower and canners and cutters are actually $1 higher in selling today at $6.50 to $10.

Stocker calves and yearlings sold most of 1955 around $2 above 1954 averages, but the drop in fat cattle prices and slackened demand from Southwestern points of the past 60 days has resulted in a decline of $2 or more under prices of a year ago. Today calves quoted in the $17 to $18.50 bracket, compared with calves at $19 to $21 at this time in 1954. Stocker cows sell in line with a year ago, perhaps a bit better.

Woolled Lambs Suffered Most Loss During 1955

At Fort Worth last week fat lambs topped at $18 to $19, against a top of $19 to $20 a year earlier. Woolled fat lambs at $17 down are $3 lower than a year ago.

Feeder lambs at $16 down, are fully $2 under a year ago and reflect the pessimistic Cornbelt attitude and the fact that improved conditions in the Southwest have deteriorated in the past ninety days.

Breeding ewes sell level with a year ago and old wethers and yearlings and two-year-old muttons are about $1 lower than at the close of 1954.

Hogs $7 to $8 in Year; Sows Are $9 Lower

Butcher hogs were topping at $19.50 at Fort Worth late in December of 1954. Those hogs selling in the $11.75 to $12.50 bracket at the last week of 1955 do not tell the full story. The "meat type" hogs bring the top figure. Over-fat and fatback types are selling around 75c to $1 per hundred under the meatier hogs.

After "talking" meat types for three decades, the packing industry finally got around to the lean trim on primal pork cuts. In a span of less than two months, buyers were paying premiums for meaty hogs and penalizing lardy ones. Breeders and feeders of lard hogs can see the handwriting on the wall—if they just look!

Sows selling at $9 to $10 at the close of 1955, were sold at $17 to $19 a year ago.

Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Copeland and daughters visited friends in Lubbock over the week end.

MULLING WITH MULLER

By Edna M. Muller

One thousand, nine hundred and fifty-five years ago three Wise Men made a long journey safely to a little town called Bethlehem, carrying gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh to celebrate the birth of the newly born Christ child.

December 24th, according to the National Safety Council, is the most dangerous day of the year in traffic.

With that thought in mind — let us be wise men and keep our holidays merry and bring gifts of common sense, caution, and courtesy with us when we climb behind the wheel of our car so that we, too, can arrive safely at our own birthplace to celebrate this same anniversary — Christmas!

The news has just reached me that the traditional Christmas classic, "No Room at the Inn," will be seen on Christmas Day in a special televised program. This should be good news to you TV viewers, for I can think of no nicer way for the family to complete this lovely holiday. It is to be at 4:00 p.m. (EST), over the NBC-TV network, and although sponsored, it will be presented without any commercial or institutional messages to disturb the reverence and sincerity of the story of the birth of the Christ child. For those who miss the television broadcast, the story of The Nativity can be heard the same day from 5:30 to 6:00 p.m. (EST), over the ABC radio network, when "No Room at the Inn" will be presented on "The Greatest Story Ever Told" radio program.

For a very fast and simple dessert that looks festive — try a dish of vanilla ice cream with a couple of candy canes across the top!

SMITH FAMILY HAS NEW YEAR'S REUNION

The B. E. Smith family postponed their Christmas until New Year's day so that all their children could be with them. One son, Jesse George, has just received his discharge from the Air Corps, having completed 18 months in Japan. Present in the home were Mr. and Mrs. Jesse George Smith and daughter of Albuquerque, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Joel Smith and Mr. and Mrs. James Smith of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith and son, Mr. and Mrs. William Browning and children and Miss Maidee Smith, all of Munday.

Beautiful Fireplace

DISTINCTIVE new beauty for a fireplace of outmoded or rundown appearance can be provided by covering it with marble-pattern Marlite, a tempered hardboard with baked plastic finish.

Faithfully reproducing the coloring and patterns of rare imported stones, this paneling gives the effect of the natural material at a fraction of its cost. A choice of five patterns makes the paneling suitable for various decorating plans.

A 4x8-foot or 4x8-foot sheet, obtained from a lumber yard, is readily cut to size with a regular crosscut saw. The paneling is applied with adhesive right over the old surface after removal of excessive soil and loose material. Matching nail-on moldings protect exposed corners and edges and complete the joints.

The smooth, durable baked plastic surface over a tempered Presidwood base resists heat, soot and soil and is easy to clean.

GRANDDAUGHTER FOR THE REEVES FAMILY

1955 had a sensational ending when Mr. and Mrs. Jim Reeves became the grandparents of a girl on Friday, December 30. By sensational we mean this is their first granddaughter with 5 grandsons before her.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Williams of Ozona, and she made her arrival in the Clinic Hospital in San Angelo at 2:45 p. m. She weighed 8 pounds and 1 ounce and has been named Karen Elizabeth. She has two brothers, David and Michael, who are also mighty proud of having a sister. Mr. and Mrs. Reeves went over the week end to see the new arrival.

Mrs. Tommie Roberts and children of Seminole visited several days last week with her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Offutt and children. She returned home on Sunday with her husband who was a week end visitor in the Offutt home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Walter Moore returned home Wednesday from Paris where they attended the funeral of his nephew, Sam Moore, Jr. on Thursday of last week.

CARD OF THANKS

May we take this means of thanking our wonderful friends for the beautiful flowers, and cards, also for the nice food that you brought in on Christmas day. We really appreciated your thoughtfulness.

QUARTERLY INSTALLMENT DUE ON JANUARY 16

Taxpayers making quarterly installments on individual estimated income tax should mark January 16 in their date book.

This, according to Mr. C. B. Dixon of the Wichita Falls office of the Revenue Service is the deadline for paying the final installment on 1955 estimated tax. January 16 is also the last day to amend a prior declaration of estimated tax return to avoid possible penalties for underestimation.

Miss Pat Hill spent last week with her cousin, Miss Kathy Wilson, in Lorenzo.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gaines of Fort Worth were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gaines.

Surveys made last summer and fall show that almost 9 million acres of Northwest Texas rangelands are carrying from 14 to 100 grasshoppers per square yard. Counties in the central part of the state from the Red River to Gonzales and Guadalupe are also potential danger spots in 1956. Livestock producers and farmers are urged to watch the situation and be ready if an all-out control program is needed.

Texas Corn Hybrids 26, 28, 30 and 32, all developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, were top yielders in the 1955 statewide corn performance tests.

Make Safety Part of Your 1956 New Year Resolutions.

Every one should have a lot of good reasons for including in their New Year's resolutions one or more on safety. For as the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Committee points out, nothing is more important to an individual or his family than making sure all will be protected from the needless losses which accidents can bring.

Safety, says the committee, can be just as complete as each citizen wants to make it. Carelessness in the home, on the farm or highway can result in destruction of property and lives. Start teaching the younger members of the family the rules of safe living. Be living examples, explain the committee's, and develop a safety consciousness which will make safety a part of the daily life of each member of the family.

Safety is every person's business. Cold statistics can point out the losses in property and lives but until the desire of each person becomes strong enough to cause changes in habits and attitudes toward safety, statistics will continue to tell their grim story. Remove the hazards from the farm and home which can cause accidents. Resolve to live in safety and security and do it by not taking chances nor exposing loved ones to dangers which can be corrected or never brought into the picture just by being careful.

Finally, says the State Committee, your life and those of the family are literally in your hands. Join with friends and neighbors in 1956 and start in your community a program on safety. It might save your life.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Wants Science To Drop The Hybrid Crops And Develop A New Hybrid Dollar

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has an odd idea to start the new year off with, his letter this week reveals.

Dear Editor:

As far as I'm concerned, the new year has already started off wrong.

The very first newspaper that showed up out here on my farm had an article in it that up set me.

According to it, a scientist has been given a medal and $500 for developing a rust-resistant wheat.

Now ordinarily you wouldn't think there was anything wrong with this, a wheat farmer plants a lot of the stuff. It comes up, looks like it's gonna make a good crop, then it begins rusting and his crop turns up short or a complete failure.

But if there's anything this country needs now it's less wheat, not more, unless we want to build more warehouses and even idle ships to hold it in.

What we really need is a new type wheat that will expire after two years, like photographic film. If it's not used in two years after it's harvested, it'll crumble apart.

They're giving the prize for the wrong thing these days. They've developed for example a storm-proof cotton, but what the cotton industry needs is more cotton that'll blow away the first time a light wind comes up, covered by insurance, of course.

They've already developed hybrid corn, making two ears grow where one grew before, but they have neglected to develop a hybrid dollar, and as a result, while one bushel of corn used to bring two dollars, it now brings one.

Also, they're now working on hybrid maize, and the results will be the same, two hundred pounds produced where one hundred used to be the average, with the price being cut in half.

Some people may consider this progress, but until they develop a hybrid dollar to double as fast as production of crops, they ought to soft-peddle these new discoveries. They're giving the prizes to the wrong men.

What science ought to be turning its mind to is the development of perishable wheat, cotton, corn, maize, rice, etc., or else get to work on a hybrid dollar.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jordan and children were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Thigpen. They were enroute to their home in Odessa from a holiday visit with relatives in Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brewer and daughter of Wickert are guests in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brewer this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Moore and daughters of Pampa are spending this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Moore, Sr.

Mrs. Will Newton and son, Osborn, of Amarillo spent the New Year week end with her sister, Mrs. S. E. McStay.

Mrs. Bill Owens and children visited her mother, Mrs. Davis, and other relatives and friends in Crowell last week.

Mrs. Olen A. Coats and son of Dallas are visiting her father, E. H. Nelson, and other relatives here this week.

Another Hope Joins Palsy Drive

Boston, Mass. — Joining a favorite charity of comedian Bob Hope, Stanley C. Hope, President of Esso Standard Oil Co. (center), accepts national campaign chairmanship for United Cerebral Palsy's 1956 drive from Roger S. Firestone (right), this year's chairman. Looking on is Louis C. Whiton, Connecticut industrialist and newly elected UCP President. Mr. Hope announced that the goal of UCP's 1956 campaign next May is $10,000,000. Bob Hope is UCP Life Chairman.

Col. Julian C. Hyer past president of Lions International, is a fine after-dinner speaker, a clever toastmaster, whose quick wit is always equal to the situation—except for one occasion. And his Waterloo was inflicted by a most unlikely individual.

The scene was Puebla, known as "the city of the angels" because the people of Mexico say, it is so beautiful that man alone could not have built it—no, the angels must have aided.

Fifty of us, members of a Lions good will trip, were there and after a wonderful luncheon, we strolled over to see the magnificent cathedral, with Hyer at the head of the group, pointing out objects of interest and discoursing upon them as we were on our way. But it was time for the fiesta and so the cathedral was not open.

We visited in the park across the street and Colonel Hyer was never more eloquent and we were all listening intently. He happened to look around and saw a Mexican serape vendor. The man was standing and displaying silently a serape.

"No, no," said Hyer and resumed his remarks. A little later, he looked around and the vendor had not moved. Again Hyer said, "No, no" and continued to talk. But when he looked around a third time, the figure was still there.

The Colonel said, "Boyce, how do you say 'scram' in Spanish?" Then the vendor spoke. In excellent English, he said, "If the senior does not wish to buy, he should say, 'No quiero comprar nada'". He again became silent and stood there.

Hastily, Hyer said, "No quiero comprar nada, senior!"

The native smiled, bowed and walked away. All of us laughed, including the Colonel, who was so thrown off-stride that he could not resume his remarks—vanquished by a Mexican serape vendor.

A lawyer, making a long and complicated argument, asked, "Does Your Honor follow me?" The judge said, "Yes—but if I thought I could find my way back, durned if I wouldn't try."

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McMillan of Wichita Falls were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Barnard.

THE MUNDAY TIMES

It looks high priced

...but it's the '56 Chevrolet!

THE NEW BEL AIR SPORT COUPE—one of 19 high-priced-looking Chevrolet models.

Who wouldn't mistake this handsome new Chevrolet for a high-priced car!

It looks strictly "upper bracket" with its bold new Motoramic styling . . . its longer, lower hood . . . its proud new grille that spans the full front end.

Even the details would do credit to an expensive car . . . like the sleek, high-fashion taillights (the left one hides the gas cap!).

But, even beyond the costly appearance of its Fisher Body, Chevy gives the high-priced cars a run for their money. For it's one of the few great road cars built today!

It brings you the added security of nailed-down stability on turns and lightning acceleration for safer passing. Horsepower now ranges all the way up to 205! All engines now have hydraulic-hushed valve lifters.

Of course, Chevrolet has safety door latches in all models. In addition, you can have seat belts, with or without shoulder harness, and instrument panel padding at extra cost.

There's a new Chevrolet just made for you. So come in and highway-test it.

1956 TEXAS FARM OUTLOOK

There was no "fat" in the Texas farm economy in 1955 and the cost-price squeeze may cut further into the muscle and bone during the coming year.

The hangover effects of drouth, combined with falling farm prices, sliced production and reduced profits to a 15-year low. 1955 was an extremely poor year, agriculturally, in Texas.

The outlook, discounting unpredictable weather factors, is grim and probably will continue to be until some national farm issues are settled. Lower acreage allotments for wheat, cotton, peanuts, and threatened restrictions on grain sorghums may strike crushing blows at the already shaky economy in areas where these are the main cash crops.

In addition, even national farm experts predict a continuation of high production costs and lower farm prices in 1956. This will call for a "tightening of the belt" by all farmers.

No Relief In Sight

No immediate relief is in sight on the present inequalities that exist between what it costs to produce crops and the price they bring on the market. Since 1948, production costs have continued to climb. Some minor downward fluctuations were seen in the past few months, only to have the graph jump even higher after these light slumps. Market prices have maintained a generally downward trend.

Economists forecast a national farm income figure of slightly over 10 billion dollars in 1956. This compares with almost 18 billion a few years ago. Living costs of farmers have not decreased accordingly, however.

All this means that the farmer in 1956 must rely even more on his own skills to try and equalize his losses. He must:

1. Practice every known farming method that will produce "quality" crops that have a good market demand.
2. Wherever it is possible, he must take shortcuts to keep production costs to an absolute minimum.
3. Avoid any further debt burdens that are not positively necessary to stay in operation.

For many farmers, this year will determine whether or not they will still be on the farm when 1957 rolls around.

Miss Betty McNeill, a student at Midwestern University in Wichita Falls, spent the holidays in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl McNeill.

Billy Ray and Glen D. Henson left Monday for Texas Tech in Lubbock after spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Henson.

Lt. Roy Bouldin, who is stationed at Perrin Air Force Base at Sherman, is visiting his mother, Mrs. M. L. Wiggins, and Mr. Wiggins this week.

Capt. and Mrs. Harold Honeycutt visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Patterson, in Hamlin last Saturday night.

Charles Bellinghausen, who is stationed at Fort Hood, spent the week end here with his wife and other relatives.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Smith during the holidays were Mr. and Mrs. Bobl Graham and son of San Antonio. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Qualls, Morton and Mr. and Mrs. Day Foster of Lubbock.

Mrs. Emma Mayo returned home last Sunday after a week's visit with her daughter, Mrs. Agnes Mayes, and granddaughters Jackie Mayes, and family in Amarillo and with her brother and family in Dalhart.

Tommy Parker of Taylor was week end guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Smith. His wife and son, who spent last week here with her parents, returned home with him.

IT'S TAX REPORTING TIME

Farm and ranch operators should be happy to know that their income tax reports are not due until February 15, 1956. The previous deadline for filing the reports was January 31. The ruling was made in 1955 but was not announced in time to affect many taxpayers, says C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist.

There is an exception, points out Bates. Every farm employer who owes the two percent employer tax and the two percent employee tax must file a return on Form 943, and pay the taxes, on or before January 31, 1956. Farm employers should file their returns on time in order to avoid the penalty which may be charged for late filing.

For the first time this year self-employed farmers who net $400 or gross $800 or more annually are subject to reporting for social security benefits. The Act was amended by Congress in 1954 and applies to farm and ranch income for 1955.

Because of the possibility of retirement benefits and insurance features of the plan, farm and ranch operators should study the procedure for reporting. Each person will need a social security number before making report for benefits and paying the tax.

Information on various phases of tax reporting says Bates, may be obtained either from county extension agents or the Social Security and Internal Revenue office. Even if copies are available only for study, persons interested will find the reference covers the self-employment phases in some detail.

A helpful booklet, "Farmers' Tax Guide for 1955", is available in limited quantity from county extension service offices.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bowden received word last Sunday that both of their little granddaughters were being hospitalized in a Waco hospital. They left that afternoon to visit them and their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Edwards.

Easy-To-Make Barbecue Apron

The family barbecue is fast becoming an American institution, which luckily can be enjoyed the year-round in our Southern clime. Whether cooking equipment is a simple grate or a fancy chrome grill with an electric spit, the backyard chef can always use a decorative barbecue apron. An easy and economical way to a smart looking apron and matching glove is offered by Silver Dust. The new blue detergent The Cannon dish towel premiums packed in the economy size cartons can be simply converted into these practical and inexpensive aprons. The face cloths which are packed in the large size cartons make ideal outside liners for the matching glove.

HOW TO DO:
4 DISH TOWELS AND BIAS TAPE

- 1) Cut both borders from each of two towels. Stitch together lengthwise. Cut one border from each of two additional towels. To form the bib section of the apron, measure in 19" and down 8" from the border side of one of the towels. Cut curve.
- 2) Form the body of the apron by sewing the long lengths to the two towels already joined. To make pocket, put right side of remaining towel against the wrong side of the joined towels. Turn towel back up with border showing. Divide pocket with 4" stitching across center.
- 3) Sew two cut-off borders flat along either side of the apron to hold the pockets and finish sides.
- 4) Run two 2" striped borders to make apron ties. Attach to side of apron.
- 5) Make 18" neckband from border, hemming edges to finish off. Attach to top of apron bib. Bind cut curve of bib with bias tape.
- 6) Barbecue glove front and back pieces can be cut from additional towel placed so that the border runs along wrist. Use your own hand as a pattern allowing 1" leeway. Cut outside lining from face cloth. Place all three together, stitch and bind with bias tape. Make tape loop at corner of wrist.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Helle, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—A tiny eight-legged creature so small it can't be seen with the naked eye can make a red-eyed insomnia out of a sound sleeper or send a strong boy or girl into spasms of itching misery.

The next time Johnny comes scratching at his wrist or ankles, think of the "scabies mite," as State Health Department entomologists call this pernicious little skin borer.

The mite bores into human skin to lay its eggs, leaving a raised, zigzag track near the skin surface to make its course. Evidence of its presence is often first seen between the fingers, around the wrists or ankles, but it can and does show up first on other body parts. If left untended it will spread over a large body area, bringing intense itching as it goes.

Scabies is spread when a young female mite leaves one person's body and bores into the skin of another. Sometimes the transfer is made during a handshake, or close physical contact, or from bedclothes. Sometimes it spreads through whole families from a single small lesion on one child's hand.

Luckily, the treatment is well known and effective, and can be prescribed by the family physician.

The person involved should take a hot bath, after which the medication should be applied to the entire body, except the face, with a cotton swab while the skin is moist from the bath. Fifteen minutes later the second application should be made.

Twenty-four hours later, the patient should take a cleansing bath, using plenty of soap and water. Clean underwear which has been boiled should be used. Wear outside clothing which has either been freshly dry cleaned or ironed with a hot iron.

While treatment usually clears up scabies promptly, there may be reinfection from the same source or from clothes or bedding. For this reason all members of the family that are infected should be treated at the same time. Remove all sheets and pillow cases from the bed and boil them. Bed clothing not boiled should be ironed with a hot iron.

MUNDAY LUMBER COMPANY

Roy A. Jones

sons charged with these offenses are entitled to counsel but being the father of four young children I can not conscientiously defend a person charged with these crimes that threaten to destroy our American way of life.

I was born in Collin county, Texas, on May 22, 1910 the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Jones and we moved to Paducah when I was three years of age. Paducah has been my home for forty-three years with the exception of the time I was attending college or serving in the Army.

After graduating from Paducah High School in 1928, I attended North Texas Agricultural College in Arlington for two years where I majored in business administration. Then I attended law school at night in the Jefferson University School of Law in Dallas for three years. I worked ten hours each day for the Brown Cracker and Candy Company while I was studying law at night. After obtaining my Law Degree in 1935 I went to the University of Texas for four years and received my Bachelor of Arts degree in 1939. I made enough money to pay my expenses at the University by working on the campus and by selling soft drinks at football games.

In 1940 I married Miss Myrtle Ratchford of Paint Rock, Texas and we have four children ranging from six to fourteen years of age. I am 3rd vice president of the Paducah Lions Club, have a perfect attendance record for several years and have attended every district convention as a delegate during the last five years. I am a Baptist, a member of the American Legion and for the past two years I have been chairman of the Cottle-King Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Within the next six months I hope to see most of you in person and urge you not only to vote for me but to speak a good word in my behalf to your friends. If you see fit to promote me to this high office I promise to serve you to the best of my ability and to render fair and impartial judgment at all times regardless of the color, race, creed or station in life of those on trial.

Your consideration will be greatly appreciated.

To Avoid Cutting Rule
 HERE'S a trick that's helpful to Dad, Mother and the youngsters, too. As suggested by Popular Mechanics, use a coin when cutting material with a razor blade or sharp knife that's pulled along the edge of a wooden or plastic straight-edge. That way, there'll be no cutting of the straight-edge.

Hold the blade and coin together, as illustrated, so the coin bears against the guide. Naturally, you must allow for the coin's thickness in determining the exact cutting point.

The same system may be used to cut narrow parallel strips from leather, paper or other material.
