Odd Bits Salvaged at Random

The City Council's action recently prohibiting the burning of cotton burs, trash, cotton lint, maize heads and other types to refuse within the city limits has brought expected repercussions. There are two sides to this, as well as most any other question.

The burning of burs, etc., is very unpleasant to many people, especially those suffering from asthma and hay fever; yet, the prohibiting of such action is a rather stiff blow to some of our principal industries. We wouldn't attempt to say which is the "lesser of the two evils."

Looks like, through the movement to get farmers to return the cotton burs to the land as a soil builder still remains a likely one. Some efforts were made along this line last year.

An ex-member of the Council—Joe Bailey King, whose term expired last April—is notifying the public this week that he had nothing to do with the Council's action, since he is no longer a member of that body.

Wheat harvest is well under way and will likely be over before you can say Jack Robinson. M. H. Dean, agent for the Burlington Railroad in Munday, announced the first carload of wheat was shipped out on Thursday morning of last week, going to the Transit Grain Co. in Fort Worth.

Elevator operators state this year's wheat is the best in many years, as to grade and moisture content. Most of it is grading 63 to 65, with moisture content as low as 8 and 9 per cent.

And some fields are yielding pretty good wheat. While some farmers have expressed hopes of veraging five bushels to the acre, others are making above 20 bushels. Reports are that Nolan Phillips made 23 bushels, Frank Knapp, 27, and Elmer Hendrix over 20. Pretty good dry-land wheat we'd say, for this dry year. Trouble is there's just not enough of that kind.

Colored folks were getting something to eat last Tuesday, as game wardens and local people were seining rough fish out of the city lake. The colored people were gathering up enough large carp and shad to have a fish supper. A lot of the undesirable type fish were left out in the bank deteriorate.

Local swimmers got a cooling off last Monday, as Coach Troy Stewart opened the swimming pool for the season. He said the water was around 70 degrees—pretty cool temperature when wet but he had a number of customers.

This may be an old story, but just heard of it the other day: local man who had used matches many years to light his cigars and cigarets was given a lighter as a special gift. Driving along a country road one morning, he pulled out the light and lit his smoke. "Dadgum," he says to himself, "that thing sure works nice." Then he put out flame and pitched the lighter out the window—just like he'd be doing matches.

GREEN THUMB IS GREEN: NK ACCOUNT RED!
V. Kemletz of Knox City and Kemletz and Carl in Munday, a green thumb as was in evidence last Monday by the beautiful bunch of gardenias he brought to the store here. He stated that he really had them at home with plant yielding 60 flowers. They were giving them to their customers. He said he would have as many as 200 blooms in all were harvested.

Notes From Knox Farms, Ranches

By W. J. Bryan, Knox County Agent

Cotton planting time is here again, and again this year the cotton variety tests are going to be conducted in Knox, Baylor and Haskell counties. Several new varieties are included in the test this year, including some long staple varieties for irrigation and some dry land varieties for stripper harvest.

The purpose of the program is to see what varieties yield the best over a period of years and to see what the new varieties will do in this area. We feel that if we can select the best yielding cotton and the biggest per cent of the farmers grow it, we can establish a market for our cotton at a premium price because of the uniform product. All mills would like to buy a large volume of uniform cotton and will pay to get it if available.

There was very little difference in the yields last year with Western Stormproof being the highest yielder with 500 pounds of lint per acre and Stormproof No. 1 being second with 477 pounds.

The tests have been conducted for five years and the average lint yield per acre for all tests over the five years has shown Deltapine 15 to be the highest yielder with 303 pounds of lint, Western Stormproof 285 pounds, Hy-Bred 275 pounds, Paymaster 263 pounds, Northern Star 246 pounds and Qualla 238 pounds.

Varieties to be planted in the test this year are Webb 341, Lan-kart 57, D. P. L. Staple, Western Stormproof, Storm King, B. R. Acala 1517, Dunn No. 7, Stormproof No. 1, Paymaster 101, D. P. L. 15, Northern Star, Lockett No. 88.

These tests can be observed this summer on the farms of William Browning, Munday; Joe Butler, Goree; Leo Fetch, Rhineland; Elton Scott, Gilliland; Herbert Partridge, Sunset; W. C. Taylor, Truscott; J. C. McGee, Knox City, and W. M. Ford, Vera.

Meeting Called to Discuss Improving School Buildings

Rough Fish Are Taken From Lake

Water in the south portion of the city lake was getting low, and fish which inhabited this portion were about to die for want of oxygen.

Game wardens, assisted by Leo Bivins and several local people, seined the lake Tuesday to get game fish from this water into the deeper portion of the lake. Several nice bass and crappie, as well as a few catfish, were transferred into the deeper water.

From the nets were also garnered a large number of undesirable fish, such as carp and shad. These were left on the bank to die, but local colored people soon had all the larger species for their tables.

Ford Dealer

H. E. Sharp, who formerly operated the Sharp Chevrolet Co. in Munday, recently purchased the Ford dealership in Knox City. The Sharp family has moved from Vernon to Knox City to make their home.

DOUBLE PARKING MAY BECOME COSTLY

"You have a law against double parking. Why don't you enforce it?"

This has been asked our local police lately. Chief Lee Bivins says people were very cooperative when the law was first put into effect, but now they're becoming more and more careless.

"We're going to start issuing tickets for double parking in the business section where it is prohibited," he said. If you've been double parking, it might be a good idea to break yourself of the habit now!

Navy chaplain, but had no regular place of worship until the chapel was completed. Men of the Roman Catholic faith attend local civilian churches.

A Sunday School begun in 1954, and carried on under lay leadership, underscored the need for chapel facilities and prompted squadron members to begin construction.

"TRADING UP"

A news story by Glenn Fowler in the New York Times carries the heading "Not More Sales, But Bigger Ones." It deals with the sales situation in the country's department stores. It seems that—though prices have remained stable for years—these stores are getting more money per transaction in most categories of merchandise.

In other words, people are demanding higher quality wares. Surprisingly, the number of units (that is, individual items) sold by the department stores has remained virtually unchanged since 1947. But the unit sales check has grown.

This is known as "trading up" in retail circles. And the development is one of general interest. First of all, it means that people are living better—that they want and can afford high-grade products. The significance does not stop there. As Mr. Fowler puts it, "A bigger sale check is vital to stores because they are confronted with a difficult merchandising problem today. Despite their attempts to control costs, many expenses are either fixed or are rising inexorably." And a store's total selling expense is the same for a low-priced item as for one of better quality.

"Trading up" brings benefits to the consumer in addition to better goods. His desire for high quality is an important competitive factor. Every merchant must extend himself to satisfy it.

IN A SENTENCE

Governor Elmo Smith of Oregon, in discussing a proposed tax program, covered a problem of national scope in this single sentence: "Too many people think, in the back of their minds, that a tax is something someone else should pay, and a service is something they should receive."

Individuals and groups and organizations of every kind are trying to pay as little in taxes as possible—and, at the same time, trying to get as much special privilege from government as possible.

So long as that attitude prevails we will have wasteful, exorbitantly expensive government—along with a dangerous degree of political domination of our lives and pursuits.

Norwalk, Conn., Hour: "After a decline in small business health over several years, it is generally prosperous today, the Small Business Administration semiannual report declares. . . . As more money is spent for civilian goods, small business is getting its share. Its health is essential to the growth of our economy."

SILLY SOCIALISTS

For the past 25 years, the advocates of socialization of the electric power industry have claimed there would be a power shortage if the government didn't build large power plants, because the job was too big for private enterprise. It is therefore interesting to assay such political vapors in the light of the factual record made by private enterprise:

American Gas and Electric Co. spending $700 million on a 5-year expansion program; utilities prepared to spend $275 million on experimental atomic projects; Pacific Gas & Electric Co. spent $1.5 billion since end World War II; Tampa Electric Co. spending $60 million; Florida Power and Light Co. $20 million; group of power companies a 400 million project in Ohio to serve an Atomic Energy project; Idaho Power Company spending $133 million for three dams on Snake River.

The foregoing are but sample expenditures being made by private electric companies throughout the country. From 1946 to 1954, inclusive, the industry spent $18.468 billion for new construction, and last year it paid $1.6 billion in taxes.

Such figures make socialists' claim that private enterprise can't do the power job look silly—to say the least.

ENDLESS "EMERGENCIES"

During the Korean war, certain taxes were increased in order to help pay the bill. It was generally said and believed that these increases would be repealed once the emergency was over and Korean war spending could stop.

The corporate income tax and some excise taxes were among those increased because of Korea. That war ended long ago—but just the other day Congress decided to continue the increases for another year.

Which indicates that "emergencies" never end so far as the taxpayer is concerned.

QUINCY, MASS., PATRIOT LEDGER: "George Washington explained why men owe some of their time to their country. He said, 'every citizen who enjoys protection of a free (unoppressed) government owes not only a proportion of his property but even his personal services to the defense of it. . . . When George Washington spoke, the dangers were small compared to the terrible risks of the Mid-Twentieth Century.'"

"It is a socialist idea that making profits is a vice. I consider the real vice is making losses" Winston Churchill.

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY?

The Value Of The Church?

The church is a divine institution. Jesus said: "I will build my church." (Matt. 16:18.) He is the only one that has a right to speak of it as "my church."

The church is valuable because of what it cost. It cost God his Son, and it cost the Son his blood. The church was made possible by the blood of Christ. We are bought with his blood. Paul told the Ephesian elders that the church was purchased with a price. (1 Cor. 6:20.) We do value things somewhat in proportion to what they cost. Thus we look upon the church. We have not been redeemed with corruptible things, such as silver and gold, but by the precious blood of Christ. (1 Pet. 1:18-19.) Our souls are valuable in the sight of God.

The church is valuable because salvation is in it. There is no salvation for any of us outside of Christ. There is no salvation in any other names other than the name of Christ. (Acts 4:12.) The same thing that saves us makes us a member of the church. Just as fast as we are saved the Lord adds us to the church. (Acts 2:46-47.) We are saved just as fast as we obey God. (Heb. 5:8.)

The church is in the saving business. "And the Spirit and the bride say, come. And let him that heareth say, come. And And whosoever will, let him take of the water of life freely." (Rev. 22:17.) Some times people will say that the church never saved any one. We may grant that, but the saved are in the church. Christ is the Savior, but he is the Savior of the body, and the body is the church. "For the husband is head of the wife, even as Christ is head of the church; and he is the savior of the body." "And he is the head of the body, the church." (Eph. 5:23; Col. 1:18.)

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Many inquiries are received each day by the Texas State Department of Health regarding Salk polio vaccine. One injection is of some value but should be followed in four weeks with the second shot and the third seven months to a year later.

Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health, says the second shot is important and definitely increases the immunity. Even though the second cannot be given for several months, the delay does not lessen the value of the first. Maximum immunity does not develop until after the third shot.

It is advisable to immunize children who have had poliomyelitis because an attack confers immunity only against the one virus type involved and gives no protection against the other two types.

The Salk vaccine is of no value in treating the disease. It should not be used for prophylaxis in family contacts of diagnosed cases, the reason for this being that the remaining members of the family usually are infected with the virus by the time the original case develops symptoms of the disease. The vaccine should not be given to individuals during a major illness or to those with symptoms that may represent early polio, such as fever, sore throat or stomach upset.

Dr. Holle says that immunizations should be given before the peak of the season if possible but can be given throughout the summer. Second injections can be given even when the incidence is rising with very little risk. The risk, if any, is less than the risk of acquiring the disease in unvac-

News From The U. S. Congress

Congressman Frank Ikard

A subcommittee headed by Congressman John Dowdy of Texas has recently been doing some excellent work in providing means for the Postmaster General to control the flow of obscene, indecent, and vile printed matter that has recently been flooding the mails. As a result of this Subcommittee work, the House has recently passed a bill which would arm the Postmaster General with the authority to protect the public whenever the mails are used for the purpose of defrauding the public or to transmit obscene, indecent, or vile articles of printed children. The Commissioner of Health reports that only about one third of those eligible to receive the vaccine have received one or more injections. He urges all those below the age of twenty and pregnant women who have not had at least the first immunization "shot" to do so at once.

This week Betty Sue Boyd of Vernon, the District Spelling Bee Champion, has been in Washington competing in the National Spelling Bee. Betty Sue was the Champion of the District that is composed of four Counties in Oklahoma and twelve in North Texas. Betty Sue was certainly a fine representative of our part of the State and made everyone proud of her when she finished 7th in the National Contest. Accompany Betty Sue on her trip to Washington were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Boyd, her teacher, Mrs. J. K. Stuckey, and Mr. J. K. Stuckey, of Vernon, and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Cook of the Wichita Falls Record News which sponsored the District Spelling Bee.

During these times almost each week some important and foreign head of State visits Washington. Some of them make much better impressions than others. This week the President of Indonesia visited Washington and by his simple frankness and warm personal touch won many friends. Dr. Sukarno is the leader of eighty million Asians, and anyone who saw him was immediately convinced that Indonesia is at least one part of Asia that is led by a man who is dedicated to freedom and Democracy without any qualification whatsoever.

Others visitors from home this week were Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Savage of Lewisville; and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Toie and Re. and Mrs. Floyd G. Kinser of Wichita Falls.

With high school lore,
Equipped and alert,
You walk thru the door.

Deeper, yet farther,
Into life you can go,
Having overcome trails,
That teen-agers know.

Like a bird in flight,
You've tried your wings
And learned how to fly
Into nobler things.

Lift your lips at the corners
To give a bright smile,
In wantonly somberness
Spend not a while

Your body, a temple
Of holiness be,
As you climb, always upward
On God's green lea.

Hold fast to the Bible,
The truth of each word,
Live, and love moderation,

During the three years (1916-18) that I worked on the Memphis Commercial Appeal, a procession of gifted reporters came and went, among them:

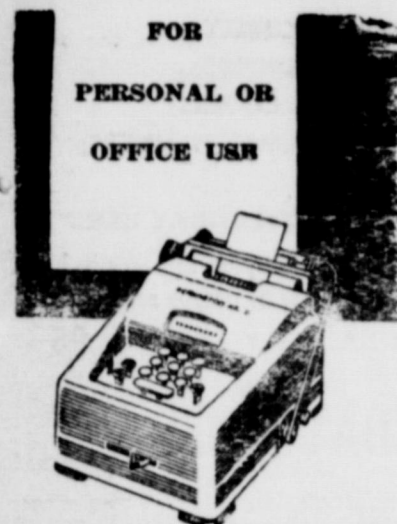

Vane, who wore spats and carried a cane; he had resigned as managing editor of the Arkansas Democrat in Little Rock to become a reporter on the South's greatest newspaper;

Gordon Gillespie of Greenwood, Miss., a fluent writer of genial personality, who was killed in World War I;

Vincent Carroll, a brilliant reporter who became vice president of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company;

Miss Penn, clever, humorous, boyish, who said he had quit the Golbe-Democrat to keep from killing some St. Louis German sympathizer—(This was before the United States got into the war).

At about that time, two others joined the staff—and they are still with the C. A.: Sam Kahn as tri-state editor and Joe Curtis, the famed river editor.

Joe Williams, who had been sports editor on the Commercial Appeal, resigned a similar post in New York City to return to Memphis. He is the same Joe Williams who is now, and has been for many years, sports editor of the New York World-Telegram.

Two newcomers deprived me of the distinction of being the paper's youngest reporter: Sterling Tracy, who had been a schoolmate of mine in Central High and who came over from the Memphis Press; and Reed Campbell, who came down from Paducah, Irvin Cobb's home town.

Reed possessed the unflinching aplomb of the reporter of stage and screen. He was a passenger on an airplane which flew under Harahan Bridge, which spans the Mississippi. Also there was a story told of him and W. J. Bryan.

Bryan in those days was the nation's greatest orator and many would travel a hundred miles to hear him. Young Campbell, assigned to cover a speech, called on the Great Commoner and asked, "Do you have an advance copy? If you do, I won't have to hear your speech."

92-Year-Old Pioneer Woman Is Named Texas Baptist Mother Of Year For 1956

Mrs. Susan Ellen Weedon, a 92-year-old pioneer who was reared in a log cabin and taught her first Sunday school class under a brush arbor, Wednesday was named as the 1956 Texas Baptist Mother of the year.

She has 10 sons and daughters, 20 grandchildren and 30 great-grandchildren. She is a member of the Coggin Avenue Baptist Church in Brownwood and has been an active church worker for more than 70 years.

Mrs. Weedon grew up in Indian country and has spent her whole lifetime within 25 miles of the place where she was born. In spite of her advanced age, she is still bright-eyed and energetic and she likes to chuckle about the old horse that always came home even though he was repeatedly stolen by the Comanches.

Baptist leaders in Dallas said Mrs. Weedon was chosen "Mother of the year" because of the lasting influence she has had on the lives of her children and the outstanding contributions she has made to community and church life through her religious work.

All 60 of the great-grandmother's children, grand children and great-grandchildren are Christians and church members, with the smaller ones who are not yet old enough to decide religious matters for themselves.

The "mother of the year" project was sponsored by the Baptist Standard, a state denominational paper, and the Baptist General Convention of Texas, which represents more than 3,700 churches over the state. Judges for the final selection were Walker Knight, associate editor of the Standard; Bill Stinson, news director of WFAA-TV, and Dr. Charles Pitts, pastor of the Highland Baptist Church, all of Dallas. One hundred and forty-two Texas Baptist women were nominated for the "mother of the year" honor.

Mrs. Weedon was born Dec. 8, 1863, in a log cabin on the banks of the Pecan Bayou in Brown County. But because her mother died when she was less than a year old, she spent most of her early life in the home of a nearby aunt.

The house, of logs also, consisted of one huge room and a small shed room on the side. It had four small, high windows big enough to shoot from but too small for an Indian to crawl through. The women folk and children slept in the big room, the men and the boys outside in a smaller cabin where they could watch for the Indians, who regularly stole horses from the yard. Heavily guarded, the Weedon residence was never raided, but a neighbor's wife and two children were massacred close by.

Mrs. Weedon and her husband were married on Aug. 26, 1886, and during the next 40 years built their first 60 acres into a 2,300-acre farm and ranch which one son still operates. Four of the couple's children are now engaged in fulltime religious work and four grandchildren are either already in religious work or planning to start.

Mrs. Weedon first taught a Sunday school class in 1896 when the little Macedonian Baptist Church near Brownwood was still meeting under a brush arbor. She brought her children to church in a wagon, laid them on a pallet in the grass and gave them a jug of water and a sack of cornbread to keep them quiet. Many times, Mrs. Weedon had between 40 and 60 guests for Sunday dinner.

Asked the secret of her longevity and patience, the elderly lady said: "I just worked and sang and had a good time. That's all it takes."

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Bell and daughter were Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Goree in Archer City.

WE LOST That Is, The First Round!

Yes, we lost a lawsuit described by the following article quoted from the Wichita Falls Record News May 10, 1956:

"Grocers Ordered to Raise Profits"

"Knox City, Texas, May 9 (AP)—A jury Tuesday found in favor of the Plaintiffs in a suit for an injunction prohibiting two Knox City grocers from selling a shortening product below cost and prohibiting limitation of sales to customers. The suit was filed by G. M. Speck and J. M. Stockton, Rochester, Tex., grocers, against O. W. Caussey and J. M. Edwards, Jr., operators of Edwards M System Store in Knox City."

"The plaintiffs based their contentions on a new state law concerning the limitation of sales. They alleged the Knox City store advertised the product below cost and that they were refused when they attempted to buy the store's entire stock."

We do not believe that our customers want us to RAISE PROFITS. Why should our customers want to pay more for their groceries? We do not think they do. We are going to spare no effort in this case, to assure our customers that we do not have to raise our profits.

We plan to appeal this case, because we feel it is in the interest of our RETAIL CUSTOMERS. We feel that our customers LIKE LOW PRICES, and want each and every available low price that we are able to pass on to them.

NOW IT IS CLEAR WHO IS KEEPING PRICES DOWN IN THIS AREA AND SAVING MONEY FOR THE PUBLIC!

AN EARLY SEASON GLANCE AT COTTON

Cotton prospects are very much in doubt in some areas of Texas this spring where farmers are plagued with either too much or too little rain.

"Too much rain" is only a temporary condition of course, but it was in the "hardship zone" between San Antonio, Laredo and Corpus Christi—a 17-county region that has been subnormal in moisture for nearly seven years.

Bee, Live Oak and McMullen counties are examples where drouth has made the cotton outlook negative this year. Bee County has a cotton allotment of 15,000 acres and, until a few days ago only 9,000 had been seeded. Many of these were planted on a "risk" basis and about 3,000 may never come up unless rain is received immediately.

In Live Oak County, only about 2,500 of the 20,000 cotton acres allotted had been planted the first of May and many of these allotments were returned for redistribution over the state. McMullen County has had less than one inch of rain since January 1st. One 15.1 acre plot of the 1,500 allotment was sown by May 1st.

Around Nueces County with Corpus Christi as the county seat, much of the cotton already planted washed out by recent heavy rains. Counties to the north and northeast had the same problem.

These counties are not typical of the state, but each area has its own problems. Moisture is badly needed in the dry-land farming sections of the Panhandle and West Texas where farmers soon will be planting.

Estimates of the cotton crop traditionally are released about the first week in August. A revised version of the 1955 crop was released this week which placed Texas production at 4,039,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight. Value of the 1955 lint production amounted to $611,388,000 based on the average price of 30.3 cents per pound for the season.

Cottonseed from the 1955 crop amounted to 1,687,000 tons or 2 percent above the 1,647,000 tons of 1954. The increased production was more than offset however by lower prices with value of cottonseed last year amounting to $77,433,000 or about three-fourths that of the year before.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

HOW TO CHANGE OR REVOKE A WILL

Changing and revoking wills has involved many an estate in litigation because the proper legal methods were not used and the statutes were not followed.

Take the case of Mr. S. Some times ago he went into his lawyer's office and laid in front of his attorney a will which had been prepared for him about a year previously. He said that he had made a few changes in it and wanted to know whether his attorney thought the changes were all right.

Mr. S. was attempting to change two items of his will by drawing lines through certain words in these items and interlining, in his own handwriting, the changes he wanted. He was not attempting to revoke his entire will but merely trying to change these two items.

If Mr. S. were to die with his will in that condition, the probate court would not recognize the changes that he had made, but would probate the will as it was originally written. Mr. S. was surprised to learn this and immediately requested that a new will be prepared.

After the will has been once executed, changes cannot be made legally by crossing out parts of a will and interlining corrections or additions. To change a will, an entirely new will must be written and properly executed or an addition by way of a codicil should be executed.

But suppose you want to revoke your will entirely. Here again, the surest and most effective method is to execute a new will or codicil.

Since a will does not take effect until the death of the person making it, the provisions of the will should be reviewed by the maker at least once a year to be sure that changing conditions and circumstances have not been such as to require a modification of the will. It is very easy to postpone doing a thing of this kind, but failure to do so may result in the intentions of the maker of the will being thwarted to a certain extent.

There are many changing circumstances which would be brought to his attention if a person would review his will at least once a year in the light of circumstances at the time.

Such things as deaths among the legatees or devisees named in his will, births, marriages or divorces in the family, accidents or sickness among the close relatives which make it desirable to increase or decrease the amount given certain ones, substantial increase or decrease in the value of the estate of the person making the will, death of all witnesses to the will and many other factors, may cause a person to want to execute a new will or add a codicil to his old one.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

BLAZING SUN STARTS GRASS CATTLE RUNS

FORT WORTH—The more than 6,000 cattle and calves that arrived at Fort Worth Monday represented the biggest day's run since last October. The blazing sun that had set a number of heat records for the month of May, was credited with stimulating the move to market in numbers.

Market observers expressed the view that the Summer grass cattle runs were getting under way at an earlier date than usual and that only some general rains would slow them down.

Prices weakened on virtually all cattle and calves, with some losses on grassy cows, bulls, yearlings and heifers in the 50c to 1.00 or more range. Choice stocker calves and yearlings and choice slaughter calves held steady. Grainfed steers and yearlings were steady to weak, some spots 25 to 50 cents lower, although that class was in very short supply.

Prices included: Good to choice steers and yearlings $16.00-21.00;

Baccalaureate services for the Vera high school seniors were held Sunday p.m. at the First Baptist church. Members of the graduating class were Barbara Lee Coffman, Derrell Coffman, Jeanie Beasley, Maxine Park, and Robert Gauthreaux.

On their return trip home from Oklahoma, the Paul Weiss visited with Mr. and Mrs. "Preacher" Coekran and family in Kamy last week end.

Supt. and Mrs. Milton Kirby and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Hughes accompanied the seniors on their trip to Galveston and New Orleans, last week. Students making the trip were Barbara June Townsend, Maxine Park, Jeanie Beasley, Barbara Lee Coffman, Elizabeth Brown, Riddle Lou Parham, Derrell Coffman, R. Gauthreaux, Benny Carl Coulston, Oga Murphree, Max Archer, Stanley Ray, Donald Bradford and Bobby Trainham.

common and medium grades 10.00-16.00; fat cows 10.50-12.50; canners and cutters 7.00-10.50; bulls 10.00-13.50, odd head 14.00. Good and choice butcher calves 16.50-21.00; common and medium 13.00-16.00; cullis 10.00-13.00; stocker steer calves mostly 14.00-19.00, one load 300 pounders $21 with heifers at $19. Stocker yearlings $17.50 down. Stocker cows very dull, mostly $12 down.

HOGS HIT NEW HIGH SINCE LAST SEPTEMBER

Top hogs sold at $17 and $17.25 at Fort Worth Monday, the highest level at the market since last September. The average prices were 50 to 75 cents above last week's close. Sows sold at $10 to $13 and were fully 50 cents above the previous close.

SHEEP AND LAMBS OPEN STEADY, RUN ABOVE 12,000

Movement of sheep and lambs continued in volume to the yards at Fort Worth and prices held firm Monday. Top of old crop shorn lambs was $20 to $22.50 and some mixed good choice Spring lambs topped at $22. Most observers agreed that strictly choice milk fat lambs could bring more.

Prices included: Good and choice shorn old crop lambs 17.00-22.50; cull to medium clipped lambs 10.00-16.50. Good and low choice milk lambs 18.00-22.00, quotable to 23.00; cull to medium milk lambs mostly 11.00-17.00.

Stocker and feeder Spring lambs 15.00-16.50; stocker and feeder yearlings lambs 12.00-15.00; slaughter ewes 3.50-5.00; aged wethers 8.00-13.00. Old bucks around 4.00.

Solid mouthed ewes drew 6.00-9.00 and two and three-year-old ewes sold around 12.00-12.50. Some yearlings ewes sold from 14.00-20.00, some nice whitefaced yearlings ewes at 20.00 in Monday's trade.

HEREFORD'S SET RECORDS IN SALE MAY LITH

Final tally in the special stocker and feeder sale at Fort Worth May 11 revealed that a new record of 3,708 head were sold and the average was $85.50 straight across on a gross of $317,060.13. Both the numbers and the gross money established new records.

Three special stocker sales held at the market so far this Spring have returned $465,747.83 to cattlemen.

The sales have hailed as the newest development in livestock marketing and similar sales are being inaugurated at other major markets. Only recently the Chicago market announced a schedule of four Thursday stocker and feeder sales to be held September 27 and October 11, and then their annual sale October 25 and 26. Late week special stocker and feeder events are finding favor with both buyers and sellers.

2. We will furnish California Blackeye Pea Seed at cost—$10.00 per 100 lbs. We will purchase no peas this Fall that do not come out of this lot.
3. Peas can be harvested with an A. C. Combine and we will purchase in the bulk.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Wants U. S. Congress To Find Somebody Else To Worry About Besides The Farmers

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek is worried about the amount of worry being done about him, if we understand his letter correctly this week.

Dear editor:
I was talking with a bunch of my neighbors yesterday afternoon and we have decided the time has come for the politicians to find somebody else to worry about besides us farmers.

It's not that we mind all the concern the politicians are expressing about us, I guess it's better to be worried over just ahead of an election once every four years rather than to be ignored altogether, but being the only fly in the whole national anointment is beginning to get tiresome.

Consequently, I have been racking my brain to dig up some other group the country can worry about part of the time. Say confine worrying over us farmers to the mornings and devote the afternoons to somebody else. For example, I believe there is a surplus of filling stations in this country, although I haven't counted them. At least I notice there are a lot of filling station men who are driving last year's cars and it's been so long since I've seen a line of cars waiting to get into a station I'm convinced Congress could find something to worry about in this connection if it'd try hard enough.

Or take blacksmiths. The family-size blacksmith shop is disappearing from this nation, machine shops are edging them out, but do you hear a single holler from Washington? Not a President in the last four decades has been given an opportunity to veto a blacksmith bill.

Understand, I'm not suggesting that Congress stop worrying about us farmers and I don't think Congress will as long as the office remains elective, but you can over-do a thing. No doubt there's unrest among the farmers, but there's also some rest scattered around too.

I'd like to suggest that congress stop worrying about the farmer and start appropriating, and then move on to something else. No use riding a good horse to death.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

GRASS TESTING AND BREEDING PROGRAM MAY FIND ANSWER

Texas range livestock producers have long sought a drought resistant grass that would set a good seed crop, produce a lot of leaves and quickly establish itself and also one which could be reseeded at a low cost.

Finding these characteristics in a single grass may be a remote possibility, but A. H. Walker, extension range specialist, says progress is being made. Several grass varieties selected by research workers of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in the states of the southwest and Mexico are showing a lot of promise and small trail or test plantings are now being made in 66 counties.

A total of 255 varieties or selections are included in the county plantings. Cooperating with interested local groups, county agents have located the test plantings on land easily available to those watching the progress of the plants. Among the prize performers, according to Walker, are a sideoats grama which has runners like buffalo grass, also a blue and hairy grama with the same characteristic. Another sideoat has shown marked ability for producing a heavy seed crop and holding it on the stalk until ready for combining. There are other species which produce a lot of leaves and few stems and still another which produces plenty of green forage in March and April. More than 200 varieties of sideoats grama are under test.

"There are not miracle grasses," points out Walker, "but they do hold a lot of promise for revegetating old fields and denuded rangelands of Texas." It is Walker's belief that no single grass capable of filling the bill will be found but that a combination will come from the breeding and testing program which can mean a new day for the State's livestock producers who depend upon range forage as a major source of feed.

4-H CLUB MEMBERS TO BE HONORED IN FOUR ACTIVITIES

Outstanding accomplishment in the fields of citizenship, leadership, community relations and public speaking will bring honors to thousands of 4-H Club boys and girls this year.

Each of the four national 4-H award programs is designed to better equip the individual for the future, and at the same time give opportunity for using personal talents in strengthening the 4-H program and improving his community. The awards are designed to honor an equal number of boys and girls at each level.

All of the programs are conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service and the awards coordinated by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work. Complete information is available from country extension offices.

TEXAS GUIDE FOR CONTROLLING COTTON INSECTS RELEASED

Cotton producers who apply insecticides at the proper time may expect an increase in yield of at least 100 pounds of seed cotton an acre for each treatment. This is a return of about $6.00 for each dollar spent for insect control, says F. M. Fuller, extension entomologist.

As an aid for cotton farmers in their fight against insects, the Texas Agricultural Extension has just released its 1956 Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects. It is L-218 and is available from the offices of local county agents.

Covered in this guide are suggestions on early and late session control and early stalk destruction and farm clean up; timing of insecticide applications; seed treatment with systemic insecticides and general information on spraying and dusting.

Also listed are the insects which are best controlled by early season or late season programs along with the recommended dusts or sprays for the control program. The recommended amounts and or mixtures of the various insecticides for both dusts and sprays are given along with timely suggestions on timing of applications and when to begin and stop the use of insecticides.

The guide was prepared under the direction of Fuller with assistance from C. F. Garner, assistant extension entomologist and other members of the Entomology Department of the Texas A. & M. College System. All recommendations listed are based on the results of research work.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Womble of Woodward, Okla., are visiting his mother, Mrs. A. E. Womble, and other relatives here this week.

NEW MEETING WILL CONSIDER COTTON TOPICS

The first annual Beltwide Cotton Production Conference will be held December 15-16 at Memphis, Tenn., the National Cotton Council has announced.

The meeting will focus attention on insect control, disease control, chemical weed control, fertilization, irrigation, and defoliation. It will emphasize the importance of fitting together the best "package of practices" for any individual farm, rather than using a piecemeal approach in adopting new practices.

Sessions will be held at the Hotel Peabody, the Council said.

Until this year the Council has sponsored separate conference on insect control, weed control, and defoliation. The new Production Conference not only replaces the three previous meetings, but brings other problem areas within its scope as well.

Attending the first in the series of Beltwide Production Conferences will be several hundred persons representing all public and private groups interested in cotton research and education.

Immediately preceding the conference, and held in conjunction with it, will be separate technical meetings of groups particularly concerned with defoliation, disease, control and insect control.
