

Kracker Krumb's

Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

"My career is crowned. I have achieved everything I ever hoped or deserved."

Thus said a farm boy who was born in a log cabin, grew up in a Texas cotton patch, worked his way at college, then gave half a century to public service in the times of eight presidents.

Sam Rayburn is credited with that statement last June 12, when he doubled Henry Clay's record of service as speaker of the House of Representatives.

The little town of Bonham drew dignitaries from all over the nation last Saturday. But they didn't come to see Bonham—but to pay their last tribute to "Mr. Sam," one who served his nation in Washington for almost half a century.

Many tributes have been paid this great man since his illness. The last was by Elder Ball of Rayburn's Primitive Baptist Church, who told the hundreds of people jammed into the Bonham church for the funeral that "The world is grieving with us," because few men in the world had touched as many lives of others as Sam Rayburn. "He has been loyal, he has been fair, he has been good, he has kept faith," he said.

People of Rayburn's district will elect his successor to the Congressional post on December 23, but no one will ever take the place of "Mr. Sam" in the hearts and lives of the people.

We were reminded last Friday that we "goooooed" in last week's paper. We reckon it was just about as convenient a "goof" as we ever made, in that we have time to make the correction. Generally when an error is made in the paper it's too late to do anything about it except be extremely sorry.

But not this one. We ran a long story about the kiddies' parade officially opening the Christmas shopping season at 2:30 p.m. Saturday—but we failed to say which Saturday. The parade will be on Saturday, December 2, and we hope nobody decorated their bicycles and things and tried to enter the parade last Saturday.

Ira Stalcup was in the office Monday and said he was kinda enjoying just staying at home since his retirement. "You know," he said, "I haven't been able to stay at home for 32 years!" He said he had plenty of work to do around the house to keep him busy, so it seems he hasn't entirely retired.

Another interesting thing happened to Ira recently. He had worked in that Goree store for 32 years without an injury. One day he was in the store just piddling around and helping out just for the fun of it. He started to refill the soda pop container when a bottle exploded and he received some cuts.

People of Munday and Goree really showed their interest in a worthy cause last Friday when the bloodmobile made its visit to Munday. We have, and you have, every reason to be proud of the way local people respond in time of need, when they see that need. A total of 114 persons gave of their blood, and that was just about enough to keep the bloodmobile workers busy all the time they were here. And that was enough to set a new record for community blood collections.

Blood center officials in Wichita Falls were high in their praise of the successful blood program in Munday and Knox County. The credited recognition of a vital human need and strong community leadership and support for the outstanding record of blood donations.

The bloodmobile will make still another visit to Knox County but we don't know when. They will come to Rhineland, as which time people of Rhineland, Gilliland, Vera, Benjamin and Truscott will be invited to make blood donations.

This issue of the paper was published early so we could enjoy the Thanksgiving holiday—just like it was 23 years ago when we spent our first week in Munday. That Thanksgiving was really cold on football fans who watched the Moguls' last game of the season.

Kids Parade Slated For December 2nd

The kiddies' parade which will officially open the Christmas shopping season in Munday has been set for Saturday, December 2, it was announced last week. The parade will be at 2 p.m.

Children with decorative ideas will "dress up" their bicycles, tricycles, kiddie waggons, wheelbarrows, doll buggies, or pets and join the parade which will be led by the Munday school bands.

Prizes of $15 for first place, $10 for second and $5 for third place will be awarded for the most original entries in the parade. A panel of judges, whose names will not be made known,

Deadline Nears For Farmer Signup On Wheat, Barley

Less than two weeks remains in which growers may file applications to take part in the 1962 winter wheat stabilization and the 1962 feed grain program for winter barley. J. T. Gillin, Knox County ASCS Office Manager states.

The deadline is Dec. 1, 1961 the office manager declared, which means that producers may sign up in either program at any time through Friday, Dec. 1.

Farmers who take part in the programs will be eligible to receive special payment for diverting a part of their acreage from the production of wheat (or barley as the case may be) and devoting that acreage to an approved conservation use, and they will also qualify for price support on their 1962 crop.

The 1962 wheat support is at a minimum national average of $2 a bushel. While the 1962 barley price support has not yet been announced, it will be at a level not less than for 1961. The national average support price for 1961-crop barley was 93 cents per bushel.

Methodists Close Campaign Sunday

The budget campaign for the First Methodist Church came to a close Sunday, November 19. Special ceremonies were observed during the morning worship service.

Joe Morrow, chairman of visitation, brought the commitment cards forward and presented them to the pastor. A prayer of consecration was offered by the pastor.

The grand total raised as a result of the "every member canvass" was $25,210.20. The budget goal was $23,001.90.

Church leaders were jubilant over the success of the campaign.

will judge the entries. The contest is open to children 12 years of age or under. Prizes will be awarded in both the boys' and girls' division. Entries in the kiddies' parade will be judged on a single entry basis, although groups of children may work together on an entry as long as the 12-age limit is observed.

Those who plan to participate in the parade will meet at the Munday High School at 1:45 p.m. Saturday, December 2, and the parade will form at that point. Each will be assigned a card with a number to wear so he, or she, may be identified by the judges.

Individual, church and civic groups are invited to participate in the parade, regardless of age, even though the cash prizes will be awarded to those within the age limit.

OUR AERIAL MILITIA

On a recent Saturday all civilian aircraft, commercial and private, were grounded for a 12-hour period. The reason was to clear the air for an elaborate military exercise in which U. S., Canadian and British air force planes all participated.

The Portland Oregonian had an interesting observation to make on this. Speaking of the grounding's effect on the commercial airlines, it said: "... the 12-hour hiatus means a considerable loss of revenue to an industry which has not been in very healthy financial condition in recent months. But the airlines have not complained. Indeed, they are proud to cooperate in Operation Sky Shield. A statement from the Air Transport Assn. pointed out that the military and scheduled airlines 'are more than occasional allies. They have a partnership in national defense, providing an airlift that will be a critical factor in any emergency.'"

The editorial goes on to say that airline planes and personnel are, under the terms of a 23-year-old law, a form of aerial militia. The reserve air fleet includes 200 big, long-range aircraft most of them jets. This fleet could fly 7,700,000 ton-miles of cargo across the Atlantic every month—and it could carry 375,000 troops to Europe in the same period of time and return with an equal number.

Our international airlines would infinitely prefer to be instruments of peace—instruments that help to bring peoples of the different nations together, and to promote tolerance and understanding. But, whatever comes, they will be ready to play any needed role.

OBsolete Concepts

The federal government is discriminating against railroads and cheating users by denying lower rail rates.

That charge was made by the president of the Association of Western Railways in a talk before an Oklahoma City Kiwanis Club. His point was this: "All too often, the railroads find the regulatory authorities saying we can't adjust our prices because it will take some business away from our competitors."

The sin here seems to be one of omission rather than commission. The people who regulate railroads and who are responsible for the laws governing railroads and other agencies of public transportation aren't trying to be destructive. The trouble is that too much of the thinking—like too many of the laws—is rooted in concepts that may have been valid long ago, when the railroads had a virtual monopoly of commercial transportation, but which are obsolete today. Those concepts have been made obsolete by the trucks, the planes and, last but certainly not least, the private automobile.

In state after state, the railroads are taxed at rates and so systems of assessed value far more severe than those applied to other industry. They are subject to restrictive regulation in every aspect of operation. They must face subsidized competition. They are forbidden to diversify—that is, to enter other fields of transportation and thus offer a complete service, with the highest standards of efficiency and the lowest costs. What the railroads need—and what the public interest demands—is freedom to compete, no more and no less.

UNEASY LIES THE HEAD

"Uneasy lies the head that wears the crown." Thus wrote Shakespeare, the greatest literary genius of all time, centuries ago.

The Bard's words certainly must trouble the dictators of the present day-world, if they've ever read them.

In our time there have been three absolute dictators of great and warlike nations — Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin. Hitler died by his own hand in a Berlin bunker, and with him died the mistress he married a few hours before his end. Mussolini, with his mistress, was assassinated, and the two were strung up by their heels in front of a shabby service station in an Italian town. Stalin, so far as we know, died a natural death. But now his successor has ordered that his embalmed body be removed from the revered Lenin Tomb in Red Square in Moscow where it was enshrined. This is certainly the ultimate in posthumous disgrace and degradation.

Yes, the still-living dictators must have their uneasy moments. For history has a habit of repeating itself.

PROVIDENCE, KY., JOURNAL-ENTERPRISE: "Civilizations of the past have been shattered, but like the moss on the rock man is still here. . . . Does this mean that our civilization could survive on atomic war? No, not necessarily. But it should suggest that were we to go down in defense of freedom all would not be lost. Though we may have to enter into the valley of the shadows we would betray the human race were we to be frightened into giving away our liberty."

GOD WANTS US TO STUDY THE BIBLE

We are commanded to study in 2 Timothy 2:15. We must give heed to reading (1 Timothy 4:13) and if we have the desire we can understand the doctrine of God (John 7:17). As Israel was destroyed for lack of knowledge so shall man today. God will forget you as you forget Him. It is very sinful to be ignorant of the Bible and refuse to study!

There are certain characteristics that we must have in the study of the Bible to enlighten ourselves: We must love the truth; we must reverence it as the word of God; We must not corrupt it; We must not handle it deceitfully; We should above all lay aside all prejudice. With this attitude no man can fail to understand what God requires of him in this life.

Is there any city in Texas with a greater number of lovely old homes than Austin?

As you climb the steep street, from the south, toward the Public Library, you pass (at Seventh and Guadalupe) a three-story mansion (now used by the Y. M. C. A. as a health center), with elaborate grillwork that reminds one of the buildings in New Orleans' French Quarter.

Just past this is an old home of a single story, its architecture French, if I am any judge (which I am not) of red brick with slim white columns. The yard is glorious—no less—with trees, one a grand wide-spreading oak and another with limbs so gnarled it suggests one of those dwarfed trees the Japanese vend, but this one is towering; and there are vines and shrubs—and this particular morning the largest bluejay I ever beheld was hopping about all alone, as though he owned the place.

Diagonally across from this home, on the corner of Eighth and Guadalupe is a two-story mansion fully 75 years old, with a gabled attic and four tall brick chimneys. There are wrought-iron benches in the yard; the blue (or is it light purple?) blooms of wisteria bedeck a tree and festoon the fence; and there is an arch of greenery, 25 feet high.

These three remarkable old homes are in an area no larger than a single block. And just west of the "Y" edifice are two handsome old homes, one with a tower which holds a solarium; and around the corner are other homes, built of white stone and with trimming so simple as to be almost severe—of Teutonic style, would be this observer's surmise.

Elsewhere, in historic Texas cities, it is necessary to hunt diligently for a fine home that links the present to the past of leisured living and courtly ways; but in Austin a stroll of only a few minutes rewards one with almost a procession of dwellings of beauty and age—each with a story which is perhaps all the better from the fact that the story has not been written and, therefore, the viewer is free to imagine one for himself.

NOTE OF APPRECIATION

The Rhineland High School and parish wish to express appreciation to all those who attended the highly successful Thanksgiving supper at the Columbus Hall in Rhineland on Sunday, November 19. Special thanks are extended to Munday business men who donated attractive prizes and to guests from almost every Knox County community.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Howard and Rebecca and Mrs. Cecil Gulley were in San Antonio over the week end to visit A3/c Billy Howard. Billy received eye injuries on November 8 when working on a light line when a jet started up and threw gravel in his and four other boys' eyes. All were hospitalized but Billy's injuries were more serious and he will probably be kept some two weeks longer for treatment. The other boys were released. The Howards report that he is doing fine now.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by the State Health Department

AUSTIN — The water plant operator in your home town is the State Health Department's candidate for Man of the Year.

Does his work sound too prosaic for such a distinction? Health Department engineers say he was a major hero during Hurricane Carla.

Without the commodity he handles, men and cities would slowly die. You use his handiwork with confidence, yet without thought, each time you turn the faucet to drink of the clean, clear water.

Each time you fill the basin to wash your face or brush your teeth or shave you call on him. Or on a hundred occasions during a single, fleeting day.

He and all men like him are subjects of prime concern to the State Health Department's sanitary engineering division. The interest stems from the fact that clean water is indispensable to good health.

The division is responsible for certifying water and sewage system operators who have the proper knowledge of the job and its public health implications, and for approving water systems serving the public. Well over 300 cities and towns, representing 90 percent of Texas' urban population now have approved systems.

Boiled down to its simplest terms, the Man of the Year has the task of collecting water for processing, making it safe for human use, and transporting it to homes and businesses. It goes on 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The Man of the Year retails clean water. Is that important? So important that no tyrant dares deny it to his people. Wars have been fought over it. Once mighty nations have collapsed because supplies were cut off.

The wandering children of Israel faltered in the desert and threatened rebellion until Moses smote a rock and brought forth a spring.

Because of what the Man of the Year does during his eight-hour shift, the 140-plus gallons of water you use daily—assuming you're average—is delivered to you in all its life-giving cleanliness.

Part engineer—part chemist—his badge of honor is his cherished operator's certificate, bestow-

DAINTY—Lavender is a fashionable color for little girls, too. Swiss embroidered eyelet and lace form a deep V on either side of a pearl-trimmed tucked bodice in this pale lilac cotton broadcloth dress by Coleste.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Figures There's A Big Profit In Education, The Same As There Is In Fertilizer

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek discusses education this week. At least that's what it sounds like he's doing.

Dear editor: I never do object to a new idea. I don't do anything about one, haven't done anything especially about all the old ones, but I don't mind one being brought up. Consequently, I was very interested in an economist's idea the other day that the government ought to pay college students to go to school. He said it would show a profit, that the difit won't work without water!

How long could you go without washing your hair? You may find out if your town ever runs short of water!

Many of us have come to depend on water for much more than the simple necessities of life. People are buying more dishwashers, air conditioners, swimming pools. Yet hundreds of communities, today, are short of water even for the basic needs of health, sanitation and effective fire protection.

By 1980, there will be more than 200,000,000 city-dwelling Americans. They are expected to be using 28 to 32 billion gallons of water every day. That's nearly double the amount now being used in our cities and towns.

The need for new water sources, new treatment, storage and distribution facilities is urgent. Legislators, national and local, are vitally concerned with long-range planning. But meeting the needs of individual communities requires the active cooperation of every interested citizen.

You can help by supporting plans for expansion and improvement of your water system. See that your friends and neighbors understand the need. Support bond issues and other water legislation.

Engineers from your nearest Portland Cement Association office will be glad to help. An important part of their job is providing assistance to city planners in setting up water improvement programs, supplying information on current uses of concrete for modern water facilities. Contact PCA at the address below, or your own water utilities manager, for more information.

Grazing Deadline On Wheat Farms Set

With few exceptions, acreage diverted from wheat production to conservation use under the 1962 wheat stabilization program may be grazed until May 1, 1962, according to Olie Ibseng, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. An exception to this deadline date for grazing is where a producer wishes to benefit under the program's double-cropping provisions, in which case grazing will not be permitted on the farm after December 31, 1961.

The 1962 wheat stabilization program provides for the diversion of land from wheat production to conservation uses. By using the acreage diverted for approved conservation practices, producers earn payments. The program also provides that the diverted acreage is not to be grazed or a crop harvested from it during the year.

With a grazing deadline for May 1, 1962, the diverted acreage on participating farms may not be grazed from that date through the balance of the calendar year if the farm is to remain eligible for wheat stabilization payments. In addition, the no-grazing requirement must be met if the wheat from the farm is to be eligible for price support.

Winter wheat producers may apply for participation in the 1962 wheat stabilization program any time up to December 1, 1961. An application is necessary for each farm on which the producer expects to take part in the program. Winter wheat stabilization payments will be made only to those who file application at the County ASCS office by December 1, 1961.

Interest Shown By Legion In Noon Meetings

The local post of the American Legion held their second monthly noon meeting November 8, 1961. The meeting was well attended with 19 present.

Commander Clayton Mann, district commander from Wichita Falls, addressed the Post stressing the importance of membership and attendance.

Commander Richard E. Moore reported that the monthly meeting at noon on the second Wednesday of each month has increased the attendance more than 100% and that he is hopeful of doubling this amount at the next meeting.

Membership, a must for the Legion to survive, has exceeded the quota set by the Texas Department and Lowry Post No. 44 is working for at least 25% over the 1961 membership.

All eligible service men and women that are not members are urged to join to make 1962 a year to remember in Munday's American Legion history.

Purcell Supporters To Visit In Munday

A car caravan of supporters of Judge Graham Purcell will visit Munday and this area Wednesday, November 29th.

Tentative plans have the boaster caravan arriving in Munday at about 3:08 p.m. They plan a 10 minute stop and will leave the rears in the downtown area while they distribute placards, bumper stickers, pins, and literature.

Purcell, judge of the 89th District court at Wichita Falls, is Democratic candidate for the 13th Congressional District seat recently vacated by Rep Frank Ikard. Judge Purcell himself will accompany the caravan.

Munday area supporters plan to meet the caravan at the edge of the city and escort them into town.
