Each year they used to call on us.

It was usually a $12 to $14 visit because this annual visit was for the purpose of sending the Munday Times to each of their children.

Uncle Andy would sit down and call off the names, wait patiently while we found the subscription cards and made out the receipts.

Aunt Willie would select a chair in the office; then as she sat comfortably help Uncle Andy in remembering addresses.

Maybe she'd put in a "clip" of lively conversation during the time.

We came to look upon them as a devoted couple, they type who could share their joys and sorrows together, as they had done through the years—who could iron out their difficulties with a little common sense.

We came to look upon their visits with pleasure—not because of the money they'd spend for subscriptions, but because their visits seemed to kinda help a fellow along the rough places.

Usually they'd come in together, and as soon as Uncle Andy and Aunt Willie entered the door, we knew what their business would be.

Usually, too, it was a short visit after the business had been taken care of.

But the visits were never too long. They were the type of people who wouldn't take up a fellow's time if he appeared to be busy.

Then one fall came when Aunt Willie came in without Uncle Andy.

Uncle Andy had gone to his reward, but Aunt Willie took up the visits herself and saw that each of her children would receive their home paper for another year.

Some of her "kin" would come in with her to help her along, because her steps were not as steady as in years past.

But she'd name off her children, give their addresses and write the check for their subscriptions.

"I'm getting to where I can see very well," she said on one occasion as she attempted to sign the check in the correct position.

Then a year later, maybe it was, someone else had to sign the check for her.

But that didn't make Aunt Willie's visit less pleasant. Always, she was that same cheerful person as when she and Uncle Andy came in together.

She expressed joy in being able to spend her money for the paper for her children, saying she knew that each of them enjoyed every issue.

This fall, we missed Aunt Willie's visit. We knew in our own mind that possibly she was getting too feeble to pay us her annual visit.

Then on the day we were preparing to bury our own mother, we learned that Aunt Willie had been severely burned on Christmas morning.

Her eyesight almost completely gone, she had gotten too close to a stove as she was "feeling" her way about the room, and her clothing caught fire.

Her strength, her eyesight, her vitality seemed almost gone, but her courageous spirit fought on. One would seem to believe that Aunt Willie thought there was more good she could do in this life, and she fought to live on.

Two weeks and two days after that fateful Christmas morning, Aunt Willie's suffering ended in death.

Munday Trounces Lions From Roby Friday Night

Munday's Moguls had "easy pickings" last Friday night as they overwhelmed Roby's Lions 75-37, in a District 8-A basketball game. The victory gave the Moguls a 1-1 district record, and it was Roby's second loss with no wins.

Tommy Powell sank 22 points for the Moguls, and Fred Lang hooped 14, four more than Roby's high-pointer, Frank Shreve, who had 10. Max Deal for eight for the Lions.

Munday led at the quarters, 18-8, 44-17, and 65-27.

In a preliminary game the Mogul B team whipped Roby, 57 to 20, with Gene Haynie dropping 20 points for Munday. Jimmy Parsons led Roby with seven.

Forty Families Get Goodfellow Gifts Christmas

Around forty families of the Munday area were made happier last Christmas through activities of the American Legion and Munday Fire Department who sponsored the annual Goodfellow movement. These families received food and toys, according to the need revealed in the survey.

The sponsoring organizations reported good response by people of Munday in this movement. It is only through their co-operation that as many baskets were made possible.

A group met at 4 p. m. Christmas eve and worked until 11 o'clock that night in preparing and delivering the baskets. Some of the baskets were delivered Christmas eve, and the work was completed next morning.

Gas Company Gets Approval For Higher Rate

The Lone Star Gas Company's application for a rate adjustment affecting approximately 650 residential and commercial customers in Munday was approved by the Council at its meeting on January 12, 1953. The increase to the average residential user (family unit) will amount to less than 3 cents a day, it was pointed out by Mr. A. C. Haley of Seymour, Texas, district manager for the gas company. He stated that similar rate revisions have been sought throughout Lone Star's operating territory in Texas and Oklahoma.

Mr. Haley expressed appreciation to the City Council for "consideration of the gas company's application, 'pointing out that the new rate makes it possible for us to continue to maintain our standard of service on the plane desired and expected by our customers.'

The gas company manager emphasized that residential and commercial rates charged by (Continued on Last Page)

March Of Dimes Appeal Set For All Of January

The 1953 March of Dimes campaign, which started in Knox County last Thursday, will continue through the remainder of January, according to Mrs. R. M. Almanrode, county chairman, and J. C. Harpham, local chairman.

This is the second year that a full-month campaign has been made necessary by the seriously mounting financial responsibilities of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The drive was a few days late in getting started in this county.

The increased need for money results not only from the record number of families needing assistance in the wake of 1952's worst epidemic in history, but also from the growing number of patients stricken in previous years who continue to need March of Dimes help. It is estimated that 58,000 of these "carry-over" patients are still on the rolls this January.

Funeral Held At Knox City For Mrs. Den Davis

Funeral services for Mrs. Den W. Davis, 57, former resident of Knox City, was held from the First Methodist Church in Knox City at 2 a. m. Sunday. Rev. Oscar Bruce, pastor, conducted the services.

Mrs. Davis, who had been living in Ruidosa, N. M., passed away Friday afternoon at Bonham, where she had been visiting a sister, Mrs. Grace McLarry.

She was born Helen Eugenia Dean on November 18, 1895, in Leonard, Texas. She lived in Knox City more than 20 years after her marriage to Den W. Davis, member of a pioneer Knox County family. They moved to Ruidosa about 10 years ago.

Survivors include her husband, two sons, Den W. Davis, Jr., of Carlsbad, N. M.; and Bill Dean Davis, student in the University of Texas in Austin, and her sister, Mrs. McLarry.

Mr. Stone recently attended a special training course in Austin, sponsored by the Sheriff's Association and the State Department of Public Safety. He served as city marshal at Farmersville before moving to Benjamin.

His wife is the former Doris Jean Terry of Benjamin.

The event is expected to draw a large number of boxing fans from over this area.

Word was received here Wednesday by local attorneys that the Supreme Court had reversed action of both the trial court and the Court of Civil Appeals, and that action of annexing this land, which was voted into the Munday School District in a consolidation election, was held "illegal as one act."

The Court of Civil Appeals at Eastland on March 30 upheld action of the Knox County School Board in granting annexation of 16,079 acres of land in the Munday-Sunset district to the Knox City district. The Munday board then filed a motion for rehearing, which was overruled, and the case was then appealed to the Supreme Court at Austin.

The Supreme Court granted a Writ of Error in favor of the Munday school district on July 9.

Local attorneys and school officials were expecting the opinion of the Supreme Court in Thursday's mail.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

CARTHAGE, ILL., REPUBLICAN: "A little more than a century and a half is not a very long time in the history of man, and the principle of freedom of speech, worship, press and assembly, the right of due process of law and trial by jury, security against unlawful search and seizure and protection against cruel and unusual punishments is still a somewhat revolutionary idea. The struggles of men in many parts of the world today are for just such principles. We in America who regard these rights as part of our heritage should remember that preserving the documents does not preserve the ideals. Only a strong and alert, freedom loving people can do that."

DENVER, COLO., MINING RECORD: "Our national problem is to restore a sound currency. Inflation does more than levy a tax on every housewife's food basket; it eats away at every undertaking of the nation and in the extremity will sap the economic strength upon which . . . our real defense rests. We have had 20 years of a slowly depreciating currency and seven years of a rapidly rotting currency. The new President has no greater task than to choose a man who can, and who will give the country once more a sound money."

NELIGH, NEB., LEADER: "The growth of industry-wide bargaining, together with compulsory unionism, have already aroused many of our people—including the workers themselves—to the dangers inherent in what is rapidly tending toward labor fascism."

AMEN, BROTHER!

The following is from the Bi-State Weekly, Delaware:

A manufacturer of farm machinery has placed himself on record as admitting his equipment is too efficient! Farmers who own this equipment were surprised recently to receive a message asking them not to use the company's harvesting implements, such as its mechanical corn pickers, to full advantage.

These machines, the company warned, are a potential threat to wildlife on the farm. "The modern corn picker" (for example) the message stated, "which scarcely misses an ear or kernel, leaving slim pickings for birds and animals."

"Farmers who wish to protect wildlife and provide good hunting for themselves and their friends can save animals by 'cutting corners.' This is done, the company explains, by cutting diagonally across the back corner of each field harvested, thus leaving a natural shelter stocked with feed for 'your wildlife.'"

Few farmers, we think will begrudge "the bushel or the forkful that you waste . . . giving a break to game already hard-pressed from every side." And most, we are sure, will say "Amen, brother."

THINGS WE TAKE FOR GRANTED

More than any other people, we Americans tend to take the good things of life—including many articles that the average family abroad would regard as rare luxuries—for granted.

We assume that our farms and factories will produce endless streams of foods and manufactured goods. We assume that our thousands upon thousands of retail stores, large and small, chain and independent, located in the great cities and and offer them for sale at prices we can afford to pay.

What we forget is the system, the way of living and doing things, that has made this possible.

It is, basically, a system which places its strongest emphasis on individual initiative and freedom. It is a system which encourages people to take chances in the hope of reward. It is a system—despite all the deviations we have taken from it in recent years—which holds that government is best which governs least.

It is a system in which all kinds of enterprise, from the biggest manufacturer to the newest and smallest retailer, must compete for business—and in which those who do the best job win the public's favor and patronage. And it is this system which created our living standards and which supports them.

You might think of that the next time you go shopping. All the abundance of foods and goods you see are the result of our unique system of free enterprise.

WHO IS THE BOSS?

The "boss" of a business isn't the free agent many of us think he is. His decisions aren't made on whim or because of his own particular tastes and desires and prejudices.

The "boss"—if he is to succeed and keep his job—simply passes on the orders he gets from the business customers. He must learn what those customers want and what they are able and willing to pay for it. And he must frame his policies accordingly.

We see that truism in action all along the production and distribution line. If a manufacturer produces something that people don't want and won't buy, either a drastic change must be made or bankruptcy will result. The trade goes to the manufacturer who produces the things the masses of people do want, and who offers them at a fair price. If he fails to please the public, his trade will go to other stores which are doing a better job.

The force that makes this system tick is competition. Every producer, from the little shop to the biggest manufacturer, must meet competition every working day. Every retailer, from the one-family store to the chains with thousands of outlets, is in the same position. The customer is the real boss.

"The FARMALL House"

Everybody knows that "the stars fell on Alabama"—they wrote a book and a song about it. But meteors have fallen on Texas. Some years ago, the late E. C. Lowe, editor of the Lometa Reporter, wrote:

Here is a copy of a letter he received from a man at Gainesville:

"Along about May or June in 1909 I was camped in the vicinity of Lometa, when one night about 10 o'clock a meteor fell that lighted the earth as bright as day. When it struck the earth somewhere close by, there was a terrific explosion and like to have scared me into the next world. I told this to a party of men last night and if I do not get some proof, I think they will run me out of town. If you can furnish me any facts on this happening it will be very much appreciated—(signed) W. F. Templeton."

Well, if you want truth or fiction, always come to a newspaper office, and we were able to save Mr. Templeton a move, thought it was mere accident, for as far as we know, no meteor fell here, but one did fall fifty miles north of here.

And like all events, regardless of the seriousness or sadness of the setting, it had its humorous side, though immediately afterwards, we could see nothing funny about it. It happened on the last Sunday night in May of the year 1909.

We were living at Blanket, and on the previous night at between 10 and 11 o'clock the town of Zephyr was wiped off the map by a disastrous cyclone. In a short time, word of the catastrophe reached my home town and the writer and five other boys (three of whom have since passed the great divide) hitched a team of mules to a Spaulding hack and trekked to the scene of the disaster. We worked the balance of the night and all day Sunday, subsisting on black coffee made in a wash pot behind a wrecked rock building, doing what little we could to help.

And it was a harrowing experience for any one and especially boys in their teens. We got back just about dark, and after our supper of corn bread crumbled in buttermilk, went to sleep. Naturally, the people were nervous, and Sunday night a cloud gathered and the family and a neighbor lady and her two daughters, one of which we did not hate, came to sit on the porch and watch the cloud and be in close proximity to our coveted storm cellar.

The meteor fell about 10 o'clock Sunday night, and we know if one did not fall here Mr. Templeton could have heard that one 50 miles north, for it made racket enough.

If you ever tried to wake a 17 year old boy, you know that is no exaggeration. We came out of our bedroom, which opened on the front porch, with the screen door, which was latched serving as a picture frame, and according to eyewitnesses, the appendage of our night shirt spread out to a level where it would easily serve as a domino or bridge table, and right through the mixed crowd, not stopping until we were safe in

YOUNG MAYOR NAMED STATE ASS'N. HEAD

Mayor Jim Wright of Weatherford, one of Texas youngest mayors (29), has assumed his duties as president of the League of Texas Municipalities, which represents 663 member cities and towns with 64 per cent of the State's population. Some of the achievements during the three years Wright has been Weatherford's mayor include:

Lake purchased and capacity almost doubled, to 300,000,000 gallons; first extension of city limits in Weatherford's history, taking in 2,000 new citizens; extension of paving, "white way," sewer and water lines; renovation of city hall; creation of four small playground parks (one for colored) and establishment of a city employees retirement plan—all this without raising the tax rate or the rates of the city-owned water and light systems.

Wright, a business man, gives half his day to the city's business (mayor's salary is $75 a month) and finds time to serve as Chamber of Commerce president. He is a native Texan, attended Weatherford College and University of Texas, served in the legislature, saw plenty of action as a bombardier in the South Pacific, has a wife and three children.

LONE STAR Agriculture

Released by The Texas Department of Agriculture

By JOHN C. WHITE, Commissioner

A YEAR OF DECISION FOR AGRICULTURE

Although the New Year is only a couple of weeks old, it has already given some indication of its prospects for agriculture. There may be some big changes.

At the close of the 1952 crop year, we counted up some of the greatest crop profit losses since 1940. Two factors were involved—prices dropped to a lower point than at any time in the past four years, and we suffered a drought which equalled, if not surpassed, the disastrous year of 1917.

Many agricultural areas of Texas are still in the drought's death grip. No one can say that the dry spell has been broken for farmers in the Fort Stockton, Pecos and Big Spring regions. But as bad as 1952 was, this crop year of 1953 can be the most decisive that farmers and ranchers have ever faced.

Business, industrial and professional people have the brightest prospects in 1953. But during the last few months, the farmer has watched commodity prices slide downward with no immediate relief in sight. He sees small surpluses of several commodities and notes that production goals have been lowered on two or three of the major Texas crops, noticeably cotton. Livestock prices dropped one-third in a year's time and the outlook is still fairly dim.

Naturally, we do not anticipate a collapse for agriculture in Texas or anywhere else. It merely calls for harder efforts toward a better profit margin. Everything the farmer and rancher buys this year may cost a little more than previously—including the labor he must hire. The only answer is for higher production on a given unit—either a larger yield on an acre of land or a little extra meat on each head of livestock.

This year of "change" is nothing new for agriculture; it is never a static proposition. It is constantly undergoing transition—and when big changes occur, opportunities spark up. Last year's vegetable crop, for exam-

4 Texas 4-H'ers Win Chicago Trips

Elvera Duerksen Donald Bayer Julia Kirbo Delbert Davidson

ALL-EXPENSE trips to the 31st National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago were awarded four Texas 4-H Club members for superior achievement in the 1952 National Clothing, Farm and Home Safety, Girls' Record and Tractor Maintenance programs. The state winners and summaries of their achievements follow:

Tops in the Girls' Record program for Texas, Elvera Duerksen, 15, of Plainview, will compare notes with other top homemakers at the Chicago 4-H Club Congress. As guest of Montgomery Ward, she will join record-making girls from all parts of the country for good times, exciting experiences, and serious discussions. Sound planning and plain hard work, during six years in 4-H was Elvera's successful formula. She completed 33 projects including food preparation, gardening, poultry, home improvement and electricity. Elvera is especially fond of sewing and food projects, which she has carried for six years. She has made 105 garments, prepared 585 meals and 575 dishes, frozen 360 quarts of fruits and vegetables and 158 chickens, and canned 208 quarts of vegetables. Her demonstrations on dairy foods, of which she has given 28, have won many blue ribbons.

Donald Bayer, 17, of Muenster, has accomplished noteworthy results in the 4-H Farm and Home Safety program, for which he received the General Motors trip award to the Chicago Club Congress. By means of surveys, demonstrations and other aids, he has helped to make his community more safety conscious, locating and correcting 40 safety hazards. Donald began with a survey of his own farmstead where he built a shield for the electric milker, lengthened the sewer line and buried it with the correct slope and drainage, taped bare areas on all wiring, labeled gas and kerosene cans, and cleared the yard of refuse. During National Farm Safety Week Donald arranged two safety displays in Muenster and neighborhood.

All these programs are conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Research To Conquer Polio Goes On

The fight against polio goes on night and day in our great research laboratories. Tremendous strides toward eventual victory over this dread disease were announced recently, but years of costly work remain ahead before this goal can be realized. Virus scientists at Lederle Laboratories Division, American Cyanamid Company, Pearl River, N. Y., examine an experimental polio vaccine just as it comes from the centrifuge, a machine important in this type of research.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Pretty "Foxy" Terrier

Talking about dogs the other night—and Sandy Johnson topped everything off with a tall story about his fox terrier, "Boscum."
According to Sandy, "Comes bird season and that dog won't stir if I take down my rifle. Same if it's deer season and I go for my shotgun—he won't move, but he's scratching at the door if I so much as look at my rifle!"
One day, Sandy decided to fool him. He took down both his shotgun and his rifle—and swish, Boscum was on his way! So Sandy put the guns back and took out his fishing rod. He went outside and there was Boscum—digging like crazy for worms!
From where I sit, a dog that can outguess humans is as rare as a human that can outguess other humans. For instance, I like a glass of beer with lunch but I wouldn't think of pouring you one without first asking. Everybody has preferences—and it's finding out what they are and respecting them that keeps freedom from "going to the dogs."

STEER OF THE YEAR

CHICAGO — A roan Shorthorn won the world's championship in the International Live Stock Exposition here. This popular grand champion was Ohio's Leader 2nd, shown by Ohio State University, Columbus. He was smooth, mellow, and every inch a champion, according to Judge A. D. Weber, of Manhattan, Kans. He slaughtered at a dressing percentage of more than 68 per cent, showing higher ratio of slaughter weight to live weight than any other International grand champion on record. He sold for $4.55 per pound to bring his total earnings with prizes to $6,350.

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK BY T. D. GOULDY

FORT WORTH—Many cattlemen in the Fort Worth territory have reported heavy death losses in recent weeks among the cattle herds of North Central Texas, and according to word from virtually all points in the Southwest, some similar losses are being reported.

Rather alarming symptoms, some of the similar to dread foot-and-mouth disease, have been reported and experts from the Bureau of Animal Industry, USDA, offices in Fort Worth hurried into the field for complete diagnosis of sick cattle.

Their examinations of cattle in Tarrant, Denton, Jack, Clay and Wichita counties indicates no infectious disease. Dr. C. F. Layton, assistant inspector in charge, and Dr. H. L. Darby, chief of the Texas BAI force, reported at Fort Worth late last week that vitamin deficiency brought on by the dry summer and since was the major trouble.

Many of the cattle were off feed and in emaciated condition. Calves were being born dead, blindness and watery eyes were noted. Dr. Layton said, "This situation has been a long time developing and vitamin A deficiency is evident. There is no evidence of vesicular disease or contagion."

At this time, strenuous efforts are being made to get the cattle on vitamin or mineral fortified diets in efforts to get them to eating again and pull them through. It is believed the calf crop may be save in many cases.

It has been believed earlier the cattle were suffering from Stomatitis brought about by eating oak leaves and moldy clover hay obtained through the drought hay relief program. Some ranchers thought their cotton seed cake had been contaminated. Some even thought vandals were poisoning cattle. Losses of 25 head at one ranch, 40 calves at another, and other smaller numbers have been reported.

It is believed that hundreds of thousands of cattle in the Southwest are in dangerously weakened condition due to lack of green feed and good pastures for the past year and that losses may run into very serious proportions.

Ranchers and farmers are urged to keep close watch for signs of mineral or vitamin needs among their cattle and sheep and get expert help from their veterinary and feed man before serious losses are incurred at the first sign that their stock needs this help.

Which costs 1/2 as much in the long run?

Water heaters look alike.

Always find out about the tank inside when you buy. Automatic gas water heaters with corrosion-resistant tanks last two, three . . . even five times longer.

Remember two things when you buy. First, buy an adequate size automatic gas water heater — at least 30 gallons capacity, which gives you reserve for the future such as additions to your family or addition of hot water consuming appliances.

Second, all top-quality corrosion-resistant tanks are guaranteed five years. Some, like Ruud Monel, are guaranteed 10 years. They cost a little more, but in the long run, cost only one-half as much as low-priced water heaters.

Only GAS

—heats water fast

—costs so little to run

A 30-gallon Gas water heater gives more hot water than an 80-gallon heater run by any other fuel. Yet, Gas water heaters cost less to buy, install and run.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Just Declines Having The Job Of Leading The World Thrust On His Shoulders

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek is back in the habit of misinterpreting the news, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:
With the new year underway and the world as usual fraught with grave perils and such like, people naturally turn to serious thoughts and I wasn't surprised to read in a copy of a newspaper which caught under my front gate when it fell over the other day, it's not the first time it fell over or the last and I can't see much sense in fixin it when not over fifteen feet from where it is the fence itself is down too, anybody who doesn't like to step over the gate can walk around and come through the hole in the fence, where some thinker in Washington announced that "world leadership has been thrust upon the American people," and he was ready to do something about it.

I don't agree with him. It may have been thrust on him, but not on me. I haven't even accepted leadership on this farm out here yet, it runs me more than I run it, and if anybody thinks I'm in a position to take on the world in addition to what I'm already doin, he's badly mistaken. Furthermore, most people I know have about all they can take care of too without addin anything else, not to mention the entire world.

I think maybe the world needs some leadership, but I ain't gonna have the job thrust on me, not with the farmin season about to get underway before too long, half my fences down, my equipment run down and needin fixin, everything I buy gettin higher and everything I sell gettin lower, my bank account overdrawn, my wife hollerin for new clothes, my cows bawlin and only eight bales of hay between them and green grass in the spring.

However, in spite of all I got to do, that ain't what's standin between me and world leadership. I could let my work slide, will, always have, but just between you and me I'm afraid the world is too big for any one country to lead it. On top of that there's just too many people in the world who ain't interested in bein led by us. World leadership is a fine idea, it gives the thinkers in Washington something to occupy their time between tax measures, but what the world probably needs even worse than world leadership is more individuals who can't be led. Here comes my wife now gettin ready to lead me to the wash tub.

Your faithfully,
J. A.

Boys and girls must be taught that it is not smart or sophisticated to use drugs in any of their narcotic forms, and they should understand the dangers involved. Once the habit is formed, it is difficult to overcome. While it is estimated that at least five per cent of narcotic addicts become so by means of repeated dosages of drugs to alleviate pain, the preponderance of addicts fall among those persons, normal in every respect, who seek adventure, and emotionally unstable persons who cannot face the realities of every day life.

Indications of drug addiction vary according to the method and the type of drug used. Among them are a strained expression, glassy stare of the eyes, trembling hands, swelling or redness of the partition of the nostrils; apparent puncture marks on the skin from hypodermic needles. Symptoms include running of the nose or tearing of the eyes; excessive yawning and sneezing, constant itching of the skin of the arms and legs and dilation of the pupils of the eyes.

While it has been said that a "little knowledge is a dangerous thing," there can be no doubt that a public-mind consciousness of the drug addiction problem will do more to curb the situation. The prevention of addiction is a community problem. Once the habit is formed, it becomes a medical one. Do your part to prevent addiction. Your child may be the next victim.

AUSTIN — Drug addiction is not in itself a crime but a disease, declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. It is viciously and deadly in that once the victim can no longer overcome his desire for drugs, he will resort to any illegality to obtain money to purchase the satisfaction of his craving. Increase in drug addiction is paralleled by crime increases.

Because of the increase of addiction among "teen-agers", parents would do well to understand the habits of their offspring. No matter what the age, an addict takes on a sly, underhanded attempt at concealment.

Kracker Krumbs—Gas Company—

beside Uncle Anny last Tuesday afternoon.

We're glad to dedicate our column this week to a pioneer Knox County couple—Uncle Andy and Aunt Willie Johnson, who touched many lives during the 60-odd years they lived in the county, and whose imprints and inroads on their lives will not soon be erased.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Lone Star have not increased generally within the last twenty-five years, but, conversely, the rates were reduced ten cents per thousand cubic feet in May, 1942. He said the new rate here is only three cents per thousand cubic feet higher than the rate charged by Lone Star prior to the 1942 reduction.

"Under the new rate," Mr. Hal said, "the increase per customer (family unit) will average eighty-six cents per month or less than three cents per day. Of each additional eighty-six cents paid by the customer each month, forty-six cents will go to various taxes, thus leaving the company only forty cents."

"The Lone Star Gas Company has taken a great deal of pride in the fact that we have been able to furnish a good, adequate and dependable fuel service to our customers at the lowest possible cost conducive to good business and sufficient earnings," he continued. "Our application for the rate revision here represented only the most essential and absolutely minimum increase consistent with present economic conditions. We believe it highly conservative."

"The additional revenue," he said, "is required to meet losses in net income due to increased taxes, cost of gas in the field, rising costs for gas exploration and development, wages and salaries and numerous other items. We are confident that our customers as well as regulatory bodies understand our situation because all businesses and individuals, too—have had to wrestle with the problem of rising costs."

The new rate schedule follows:
 Minimum Monthly Bill..... $1.53
 First 1 m. c. f. @ $1.70 per m. c. f. gross; $1.53 per m. c. f. net.
 Next 1 m. c. f. @ $1.422 per m. c. f. gross; $1.28 per m. c. f. net.
 Next 3 m. c. f. @ .867 per m. c. f. gross; .78 per m. c. f. net.
 Next 20 m. c. f. @ .589 per m. c. f. gross; .53 per m. c. f. net.
 All Over 25 m. c. f. @ .533 per m. c. f. gross .48 per m. c. f. net.
 Net rate shall apply to all bills paid within ten days from monthly billing date.

World's Smallest Furnace

The roving pioneer spirit is still alive—but something new has been added. Yesterday's covered wagon and the quest for adventure which moved settlers across the nation lives in modern trailers, richly finished with paneled woods, glistening kitchen and bathroom fixtures and compactly built heating, furniture and plumbing appliances.

Census takers last year counted more than 600,000 house trailers on the highways or in residence at the nation's 9,000-odd trailer villages. Latest addition to the modern trailer coach is the "world's smallest furnace," a Duo-Therm product introduced at the National Trailer Coach Show in Cleveland. Milady is shown above, adjusting a calibrated dial control atop the heater.

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

By Senator "Cotton" George Moffett

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 13, 1953—The Texas Legislature meets in regular session every two years on the second Tuesday in January. In some states, there is a regular session of the Legislature every year. The general belief of qualified observers seem to favor the Texas system. The Governor can call a thirty day Special Session at any time that an emergency demands it. Members receive pay only for the days the Legislature is in session. Some other states pay full time annual salaries. However, the Texas plan is thought to be better and also more economical.

There is a wide difference in the size of legislative bodies in the various states. Texas with nearly eight million people has only thirty-one state senators. Oklahoma with about two and one-quarter million people has forty-four state senators.

Some students of government maintain that a law-making body with a large membership more nearly represents the will of the people. Others say that a smaller membership can transact business more efficiently with less argument and long-winded debate.

Members of either house of the Legislature can introduce as many bills as they choose. Usually about 1,500 bills are introduced at each regular session. Considerably less than half of them ever reach the Governor's desk. In order to become a law, a bill must pass through both houses by a majority vote. A bill may be, and often is, amended several times in each branch. Amendments also require a majority vote. A bill may pass one house and fail to reach a vote or be voted down in the other branch.

Amendments to the State Constitution must receive a two-thirds favorable majority in each house of the Legislature before being submitted to a statewide election for adoption or rejection by the people.

The Governor is inaugurated on the third Tuesday of January, which in 1953 is on January 20, (by chance this happens to be the same day on which the President of the United States is inaugurated this year.)

Weather permitting—a very large crowd will probably be present for the inaugural ceremonies and the reception which follows. It will be a pleasure for me to secure invitations to these events for those desiring same, if notified in time.

This session of the Legislature faces many serious problems which will be discussed in the weeks to come.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Winchester were in Wichita Falls last Saturday night to attend the Texas and Oklahoma Hereford Breeders Association meeting in the Kemp Hotel. Fifty members were present for the session and to enjoy a pheasant dinner.

Mrs. Worth Gafford and Mrs. Frank Nance visited with Mrs. Turpin in Haskell last Tuesday.

James Boger of Borger visited relatives and friends here over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Graham and son visited Mr. Graham's parents in Graham over the week end.

Dee Clough was a business visitor in Wichita Falls last Tuesday.
