Court Grants New Trial in Crowell Burglary Case

William F. Ross last week won a new trial on charges of burglary in Foard County as the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals granted Ross' personally-written request on prison stationery.

Ross was convicted Nov. 26, 1956, on a charge of burglary of the Sam Bell home in Crowell after he had entered a plea of guilty. He was sentenced to five years in prison in 46th Judicial District Court, Judge Jesse Owens of Vernon presiding.

Appeals Court Judge Wesley Dice wrote that the facts show Ross waived his right to a jury trial but did not have an attorney at the time he acted. A defendant must have an attorney before he can waive jury trial, the law says, a fact which Ross quoted in his brief to the court.

Judge Owens said there were no attorneys in Crowell (except County Judge and County Attorney) at the time and he told Ross he would have to wait until an attorney could be secured before waiving jury trial and entering a plea.

"He told me he wanted to get it all behind him then," Judge Owens said. "I said then he would probably sue for a writ and the Court of Criminal Appeals would grant a new trial. But Ross assured me he just wanted to get his sentence over and had no intention of seeking a new trial."

Ross asked for a new trial on "ground of cruelty and my constitutional rights for a new trial or my release from prison."

He claimed he was arrested Sept. 9, 1955, at his home in Farmington, N. M., by an FBI agent and signed extradition papers when promised a fair trial. He said, "the fair trial I did not receive. All I got was cruelty."

Ross' brief alleges acts of cruelty from a Texas Ranger and other officers at Crowell. Judge Owens said that in a hearing held on the brief in Crowell, all officers denied under oath any acts of cruelty were inflicted upon Ross.

Judge Owens said a new trial for Ross probably would be held at the next term of court in January. If convicted at a new trial, Ross would lose credit for time already served in prison (almost one year).

Children to Collect Money Tonight for Foreign Children

"Look for 'Angels in Disguise' at your door tonight. The good ghosts of Halloween are going to aid UNICEF once again," stated leaders of the First Christian Church and Crowell Methodist Church youth Monday. The children of the two churches will ring doorbells over the town tonight. They have volunteered to donate the pennies, nickels and dimes given to UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund.

This is a new style Halloween program to teach the children to share instead of scare. It replaces the destructive Halloween with supervised, constructive fun. The children will carry official emblems and the milk carton "banks" will have an official jacket.

All the money received will go for milk and medicine for children. Each coin given will be tripled—each country receiving UNICEF aid matches the contribution two to one.

National Advertising Goes Hand-in-Hand with Local Advertising Program

By T. B. KLEPPER
National advertising of a brand product may actually work against the small city dealer who does not have a strong local advertising program of his own.

This is apparent to a dealer who fully understands the nature of his competition. It explains why some grocers and dry goods dealers consider it good business to use extensive local advertising, even though their brands are well advertised nationally.

National advertising in magazines and on network television may sell the public on the idea of buying, for example, a Cyclone automatic dryer. Then, the chief competitors of the local Cyclone dealer become other dealers who handle Cyclone products. Every local dealer faces such competition from metropolitan centers and mail order houses who sell their brands over wide areas. The out-of-town dealers and the local dealer compete for identical prospects—people who are already interested in a particular product.

Certainly, the manufacturer is interested in selling his product. But he does not suffer when the metropolitan dealer takes business away from outlying communities. Thus, the local dealer always has a job of selling his own commodity, no matter how exclusive his local franchise may be. Fortunately, he can do it with good advertising, because he has many advantages.

Crowell Wildcats Maintain Perfect Conference Record with 40 to 13 Win Over Archer City Friday Night

The Crowell High School football team remained the only club with a perfect record in the district 1A-11 conference race last Friday night when the Wildcats defeated Archer City 40 to 13.

The excellent blocking and terrific tackling of Crowell's entire line-up paved the way for this important victory. This was Archer City's second loss in district games and just about eliminated them from the championship race. Paducah and Holiday still have a chance of making it a three-way tie for the championship.

Gerald Bradford, fleet right half for the Wildcats, raked up 168 yards rushing and scampered 31, 44 and two yards for touchdowns before having to leave the game with a leg injury. However, he was not making these runs on his own by a long way as the other ten Crowell players were doing their best blocking of the season.

Ray Don Payne ran for 74 yards in the game, including two touchdowns scampers of 15 and 3 yards. Princess Gidney, Ivan Cates and Jim Henry also turned in their usual good game. The blocking and tackling of Crowell's linemen was what really made things click. Boys that were used the most in this department were: Harvey Smith, David Carpenter and Louis Rettig, ends; Jerry Pittillo, Dale Rettig, and Duane Nichols, tackles; Billy Everson, R. H. McCoy and Bobby Powers, guards; and Bill Graver and Tom Crowell, center. Jack Gentry, 212-pound tackle for Archer City, stood out on defense, while Tommy Thurkell and Jerry Pearce looked the best on offense.

Crowell gets a much needed rest this Friday before going to Paducah next week for another very important contest in the 1A-11 district race.

Cold Snap Brings Freezing Weather Saturday, Sunday

A hard freeze hit Foard County Saturday night, as the aftermath of a norther which blew into this area Friday. A light shower fell here Friday morning as the norther moved in. Friday night, the mercury dropped to freezing, and Saturday night dropped to about 27 degrees. This is the earliest freeze for this area that old-timers can remember, coming on Oct. 25.

The first frost of the year is about Nov. 6 for this area.

D&B Remodeling Nearly Completed

Work of remodeling and enlarging the building of the D&B Food Market, which has been in progress more than one month, is nearing completion. William Simmons had the contract and he and his force have been doing the work.

The old front was torn off and 14 feet of new floor space added to the front of the building, which will give the store 2,000 square feet of selling space, with a modern glass front.

The interior has been freshly painted in a green tint and a floor covering has been laid over the concrete floor of the entire building.

The furniture and fixtures have been re-arranged in an attractive manner to enable customers to shop with more ease and comfort. A new and modern 30-foot long vegetable display counter has already been installed.

The improvement program will be completed in time for the store to conduct a "Remodelin' Sale" during the week end.

EDITORIAL

IF YOU CAN'T LICK 'EM, JOIN 'EM

Once again the haunted night is here. Halloween! On this night, the dark streets are taken over by ghostly forms that drift through the black shadows. No person is safe from the weird creatures that appear at their doors demanding treats, and none are immune to the pranks of those more mischievous.

You can stock your cabinet with all sorts of tempting treats to bribe the pranksters (so you won't find 16 pairs of old shoes on your front porch the next morning), but you will still find no rest. Every spook and demon will be armed with unlimited firecrackers. You may move to the quiet peaceful countryside, but no doubt, the heart north of the house will be the rallying point for countless witches. You are trapped! There is only one way to escape their pranks. Okay, so you're 89 years old! Who cares? Put on a mask and go out and pop a firecracker. "If you can't lick 'em, join 'em."

Now in all seriousness, folks, be sure that the pranks you pull tonight do not endanger anyone or damage property. Halloween can be just as much fun without trying to throw a firecracker in someone's car or paint stripes on a house.

So much for the precaution. Here's wishing everyone a swell time.

STUDENT COUNCIL TO SPONSOR HALLOWEEN ENTERTAINMENT TONIGHT

Attention high school students and faculty members!

What?—A Sock Hop to the tune of Mr. Hesse's dance band, and other entertainment for those who don't hop.

When?—7:30 to 10:30 tonight. Where?—High School gym. How?—Wear some kind of Halloween masquerade (the sillier the better).

Prizes will be offered for the "best" masqueraded persons. Get your fortune told by Madam ????

Drink that delicious "brew" concocted and served by the "Weird Sisters." Don't miss it! There's fun for you!

TEACHERS ARE HUMAN!

It's a bird! It's a plane! It's Sputnik! No, it's Mrs. Manard! Bounding down the aisle, helmet cocked on head, football under arm went my English teacher for a touchdown. "My gosh," I thought, "Has she lost her entire mind?" Really, at first I thought she might as well be brave about it—traces of insanity do show up in the best of families. And then I remembered... today was "Crazy Hat Day."

In a trance, I dashed down the stairs for my camera and rushed into her room again only to be greeted by an exotic stranger with a haughty mysterious air about her. As she spoke, I thought it could be... just maybe... and perhaps? Ye gads! It was—Mrs. Manard had done it again!

I was so "all shook up" by this time that I staggered to a chair and sat down. Brother! Was that ever a smart move—because about that time... in pranced Mrs. King wearing a derby adorned by a pink rose and looking like a French model out of the House of Dior. Following her was Mrs. Davis topped by a flowered creation that certainly came from Neiman-Marcus! Mrs. Bursey was next with the brightest red hat I ever saw... and right in the big middle of it all... you guessed—Manard again! I don't actually know where she was; all I could see was that big black hat with trinkets hanging all over it and a $35 price tag on it. Well, they all got together and posed and had a real big time. You know, I think I learned a lesson that day.

Maybe (it's just possible) that teachers aren't the weird drab creatures we all think they are. They've shown they can be human and they actually like fun! I, for one, think they were wonderful sports to enter into the spirit of the day with such zest and enthusiasm. It'll be a "cold day in July" before I forget "Crazy Hat Day" and the lesson I learned. Gosh! Teachers are human!

ATTENTION READERS

If you have attended CHS at any time (either as student or teacher) and if you are not ashamed of having done so, and if you read this, will you please let us hear from you. If you don't want to make it a letter—then just make it a card. Please state the year or years you were in attendance.

Some have wanted CHS to have a homecoming. Well, this can be the next best thing, for we can hear from those who have been in our school.

You town people, if you read our column, let's hear from you, too. Call Shirley Fox, Kerry Brown, Elizabeth Davis or Mrs. Manard—if you don't want to write a card. Address all cards or letters to Shirley Fox, Crowell, Texas.

FROM OUR READERS

Dear Shirley,
 I am a 1942 graduate of CHS, and even though I know very few of the present students, I enjoy reading "The Wildcat" and think it is a fine school publication. I shall look forward to next year as my niece, Carria Driver, will be a freshman, and I will have a greater interest in the student activities.

I was one of the "Adams twins" in school, and now live in Homestead, Florida, with my husband and two children. In case you wonder where Homestead is located, it is twenty miles south of Miami, and that is quite a distance from Crowell.
 Ruby Adams Jordan.

Dear Shirley,
 Though I have never attended Crowell High School, I am certainly interested in the activities and the welfare of the school. I read the "Wildcat" section of the Foard County News every week, and enjoy it very much. Please let me congratulate you and your staff on the good job you are doing. Sincerely,
 C. T. Aly.

The "Wildcat" staff also received a letter from Paul Cooper who is a student at Texas Tech. Paul was so "bashful" he asked us not to print his letter; however, we would like to thank Paul, Mrs. Jordan, and Bro. Aly for their letters. We hope to hear from others in the future.

LIBRARIAN TO GO TO BIG SPRING

Mrs. King, CHS librarian, will attend her district III library conference Saturday at the Settles Hotel in Big Spring.

The assistant librarians are hoping that Mrs. King will bring back some tips on how we can improve our library system.

YEA—CHS ON THE MARCH!

Yea—we've got it! What?—School spirit! How do we know?—By the wonderful way the student body responded at the pep rally last Friday afternoon. We thought the roof would come tumbling down! Yea—we've got it! What?—The best cheerleaders in seven states! How do we know?—Ex-student Ruth Hinkle, who attended the pep rally, and everybody else says so. They really are great!

Yea—we've got it! What?—A real "gone" band! How do we know?—Because they throw out that real "cool jive, man!"

Yea—we've got it! What?—The best football team in the district.

How do we know?—Because our boys beat Archer City 40-13. Isn't that enough proof?

Yea—we've got it! What?—The cutest band Queen, Bettie Linda Knox, this side of heaven.

How do we know?—Well, we saw her crowned. Didn't you?

Yea—we've got it! What?—The best student band director, namely James Choate. He can't be beat!

CHS TRIES DELINQUENTS

On Monday, at 10 o'clock, the student body assembled in the auditorium to try those who had violated the laws of "Friendship Week." The judge was Ray Thomson, the juror was Jimmy Rader, "Bubba" Monkres was the first to be brought before the judge. On Monday, he forgot to wear his name card one minute after 12. For his sentence, he had to imitate majorette, Bettie Knox. The next to be accused was Diane Sledge. Thursday, she did not say "hi" to four members of the Student Council, so she had to walk like Jayne Mansfield. For not wearing his name card, Fred Youree's sentence was to imitate a cheerleader. He, with Roxie Adkins' help, led the student body in a yell. Wasn't he wonderful!

Being conceited, Roy Don had to show how he skated the first time he put on skates. Gerald Bradford had to propose to Roxie. Too bad he didn't mean it, eh Roxie? You should have seen Carolyn Monkres trying to get a bashful boy, Ray Thomson, to hold her hand in the moon light. It's a mystery to us, but Ray Thomson, president of the Student Council, was caught without his name card on Tuesday about 8. He imitated Coach Amonett lecturing football boys after a game. The funniest sentence was passed on Speedy Rettig. He gave a demonstration on how Mrs. Manard lectured the English IV class. In his lecture, he told how Macbeth shows the folly of committing murder, and also, he said Macbeth shows how to carry on a conversation while drugged. Truer words were never spoken!

Last on the agenda, the jury made up of Student Council plus Mrs. Gordon Erwin and Mrs. Marvin Myers, was asked to try Mr. Taylor. The accused was brought in by Sheriff Carl Hitt. Following the accused were, of all things, his relatives. Mrs. Lena Davis, the mother; Mrs. King (I would have liked a puff on that cigar!), the father; the little twins; Mrs. Manard, "Kate"; Mr. Hesse, "Duplicate"; Mr. Myers, Coach Amonett (Sleepyhead); Mr. Erwin, Mrs. Bursey and Mrs. Kenner (I wish I had a lollipop, too)—all these were children. After the jury was dismissed, Ray Thomson presented gifts to Jo Frances Long and Fredrick Youree, voted the friendliest couple in CHS. By the way, they are both sophomores. Then, Ray gave some advice on "Friendship."

All in all, it was the most hilarious and successful assembly that we have ever had. It proved that CHS (faculty and student body) make it one of the friendliest schools in the whole great big state of Texas. Let's keep it that way, what do you say?

BETTIE LINDA KNOX CROWNED BAND QUEEN

Bettie Linda Knox, Band Queen for 1957-58, was crowned Friday night during half time show. The band formed a giant heart and played "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," as Bettie Linda was escorted onto the football field by Band King and president, Eugene Davis. After she was crowned Queen of the Wildcat Band, Eugene presented her with a certificate and a lovely bouquet of flowers. The band then played the school song as a salute to Bettie and Eugene. Eugene then escorted Bettie from the field while the band again played "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

JUNIORS ORDER RINGS

Thursday, Oct. 24, the Junior Class met with their sponsor, Mrs. E. C. King, and Bob Shyrox. Mr. Shyrox is a field representative of a company in Fort Worth and had come to take orders for senior rings.

The deposit on each ring is to be paid to Roberta Hough by Friday, Nov. 1. So far, only three have paid.

At a previous meeting, room mothers were elected. They are Mrs. Gerald Knox, chairman; Mrs. Houston Adkins, Mrs. Virgil Johnson and Mrs. J. B. Fairchild.

BAND BEATS

The rain and mud hindered the band's marching practice last week but offered a good opportunity to do a little indoor concert rehearsal.

Student director tryouts were held Monday. The band voted on their choice, but the results of the ballot were kept secret until the ball game Friday night when it was disclosed that James Choate had been elected student director for this school year.

The band crowned their sweetheart, Miss Bettie Linda Knox, Friday night in the proper pomp and pageantry. She really makes a pretty favorite!

The band and CHS would like to thank Mr. Hesse for giving us an arrangement of our school song, "Dear Ole Crowell High." It really is a pretty tribute to our school.

"ROUNDUP" STAFF IS ON THE JOB

Work is progressing nicely on the '58 Roundup. All proofs of the previously taken pictures have been examined and selected by the students to go in the yearbook. Retakes were made Tuesday, along with pictures of the band, majorettes, cheerleaders, room pictures, football players, coaches and managers.

Approximately half of the annual has been planned.

CAT SCRATCHES

Did everyone have lots of fun during "Friendship Week"? You mean you didn't know anything about it? Well, let me tell you all! Last Monday morning an assembly was called to announce the beginning of "Friendship Week."

I very slyly hid in the auditorium to hear everything that was said. Ray got up in front of the whole student body and told us that we had to say "hey" to everyone we saw. On Tuesday, we had to say "how" Wednesday, "hi"; Thursday, "howdy" and on Friday, "Hey, how, hi, and howdy." On Thursday and Friday we were to wear real crazy hats to school. Oh yes! The president of each class handed out cards to the students and told them to write their names on them and wear them every day or they would have to pay a penalty. I didn't know what to do—nobody gave me a card. I slipped into the office and asked Mrs. Ferguson if she would give me one, and she did! The next problem was putting it on. I couldn't stick a pin in myself! If I used glue, I would never get it off! Now, just how was I to get that card to stay on? My brain was really "clicking" that day because I thought of an easy way. I tied it on with a string.

I guess you're wondering how everything turned out. I mean to tell you, everyone in school was shouting chery greeting to everyone else. Of course, there were a few like me, for instance, that were always getting mixed up! I never could remember whether I was to say "hey" or "how."

Finally Thursday came. You should have seen those hats. There was every kind from Jungle Jim to Mexican Joe. Hats! Hats of every size, shape, and form. Someone told me—I wasn't around—that Mrs. Manard had five hats, and that she did a different impersonation for each one. I think she should show us, the whole student body, her act! Don't you?

Well, we had a lot of fun during Friendship Week. Every week can be just as much fun, even without the hats, etc., if we would just smile and say "hello" to everyone we meet.

You know, I really got the scare of my life the other morning when I came to school. I was walking down the hall, minding my own business, when all of a sudden I heard the most horrible noise that I have ever heard! I thought an elephant had escaped from the circus and was in Mrs. Davis' room. Quickly, to save my life, I jumped under the radiator! There I waited, but the noise didn't stop. Oh, what an awful noise! Man, I was all shook up. Then I thought—maybe Mrs. Davis is in trouble. Maybe that elephant was after her. I just had to save her!

Screwing my courage to the sticking place, (Ahem, Shakespeare, you know) I slid out from under the radiator. Very quiet. I oohed over to Mrs. Davis' room. Then, I pounced in... but what was the elephant? There was Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Manard, King, and Shirley Fox, but no elephant! I found out what "elephant" was. It was an eraser-cleaner. Yes, an eraser-cleaner making all that noise! I tried to be a hero anyway!

So long, Tabby.

BEESINGER BAKERY

East Side of Square

by VERN SANFORD, Mgr. Texas Press Association

Austin, Tex.—It's time for a showdown, says the Senate investigating committee.

Our Texas Legislature has gotten a black eye, the committee feels, and it wants to find out why. Said the committee's chairman, Sen. Charles Herring of Austin, "There's been a tendency on the part of the public to blame the Legislature for everything that happens."

He attributed this to: (1) Acts of a few lawbreakers who discredited the entire branch, (2) loose and irresponsible talk and (3) a tendency of other state agencies to blame the Legislature in an attempt to cover up their own shortcomings and "even dereliction of duty."

Herring promised a three-pronged attack against these sources of discredit. Grand juries and the legislators themselves have already done "able work" in the first area, said Herring.

In its "loose talk" attack the committee called on the carpet Riggs Sheppard of Hondo, manager of the Medina Electric Cooperatives, Inc. Riggs said The Texas Co-Op. magazine misquoted him in saying he'd been "told to see old s-and-so and he'll get your bill introduced for $500." He said a national magazine article on alleged corruption in Texas triggered his remark.

In the third phase of its operation, presumably designed to show that state agencies have fallen down on their jobs, the committee began by subpoenaing three insurance executives.

First on the stand was Largent Parks, president of Preferred Life of Dallas. Parks was closely questioned about State Insurance Board charges that he owes the insurance firm some $184,000. Senate committee questioning emphasized that Parks' firm had been given a routine examination last March and another special examination in June, but that the report had never been made public.

Also subpoenaed were Pierce Brooks and Lester Hall of National Bankers Life in Dallas.

FEDERAL FORCE DENOUNCED—Despite difficulties among themselves, pro-segregation representatives pushed through a strongly-worded resolution against enforced integration.

By a vote of 112 to 24, House members criticized President Eisenhower's action at Little Rock. It did not, said the resolution, "reflect constitutional government deriving its powers from the consent of the governed."

Further, it asked the President not to send troops to Texas to enforce "modern sociological concepts" or interfere with "the constitutional right of the State of Texas to provide, operate, and discipline the public schools of Texas."

Difficulty came with Rep. Joe Pool's effort to push through a demand-to-the-governor resolution. Pool's proposal would call on Gov. Price Daniel to say at once when he will open the legislature for segregation bills. It was shunted aside for a week.

Many East Texans joined in the postponement move, thus indicating they had faith in the governor's intentions.

MARRIAGE OF MANY—Lobby control proposals are going through the "agonizing reappraisal" stage.

Eight widely varying bills—four in the House, four in Senate, were sent off to subcommittees. Each sub-group is to make a four-way marriage of the proposed bills in the hope of arriving at something that will be acceptable to all.

Some points of difference: whether "controls" should apply only during sessions or year-around, only in Austin or anywhere in state, whether public officials should be exempted, church spokesmen, etc. Each author contends the rival bills have "loopholes."

A new proposal by Sen. Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio is that the law should provide for a special enforcement agency. It would be a "disclosure board" to which information on who is lobbying for whom and how much is being spent would be filed.

MUDDY ROAD—Proponents of a statewide water planning bill are having slow going too. They're having to slog through waters muddied by scores of amendments and objections from various area groups who fear an overall state plan might short-change them.

House members have to struggle with two different bills and 35 proposed amendments. Rep. W. A. Stroman of San Angelo introduced a substitute which cuts out the provision for the state to buy storage space in federal reservoirs. It also would require the water planners to report to the Legislature in 1959 and would not allow the Water Board to have final say on a state plan.

Balloting in next Tuesday's constitutional amendment election may have an effect on legislative efforts. In their vote on the proposed $200,000,000 water bond issue, Texans will indicate just how strong they are on statewide water programs.

Governor Daniel told the Senate committee he would not want to see the whole water planning bill ditched because of the storage buying feature. But he didn't want to "suggest you drop it."

"MURDER CAPITAL" CITED—Crime study and state practice act—the other two items in the governor's special session call—are generating less legislative status.

A House hearing on the crime study bill brought strong pleas for better law enforcement from Houston civic leaders. Houston (109 murders last year) has been called the "murder capital of the world," they said. Worse than Chicago's gangland days. "It's time we face up to some of these things," said a Jaycee spokesman. Sen. A. M. Aikin has introduced in the Senate the bill to regulate legal practice before state agencies. A similar bill already is in the House mill.

NARY A DIME—Don't expect to collect from the state for damages you suffer from a state employe. Again the State Supreme Court has held the state is not liable.

Even guarantees in the Texas constitution that your property shall not be damaged or applied to public use without compensation are not sufficient to overturn this principle.

This latest decision denied damages to C. C. Benson whose cotton crop was ruined by drift of weed killer sprayed by an employe of the Dallas County Flood Control District. Similar decision was handed down in 1949.

LOCAL CONTROL URGED—Local control and integration were front and center issues at the state convention of the Texas Association of School Boards in Austin.

Sen. A. M. Aikin Jr. urged the solving of education problems without federal aid and federal control. Integration was discussed mostly off-stage.

THIS WEEK—In Washington

With Clinton Davidson

In two world wars we have paid a high price for the complacency which preceded them. Are we about to pay an even higher price a third time?

That is the life or death question that our top political and military leaders are pondering this week in Washington. Our survival as a nation and your own personal survival could hinge on the answer.

Russian scientists have placed in the hands of the Communist dictators the intercontinental missile which we, at the present time, can neither defend against nor match in retaliation.

It no longer needs to be a military secret that we had ample warning of this as far back as 1948. I can now report from personal knowledge that story for

In the News . . . 30 YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the issue of The Foard County News of Friday, Oct. 28, 1927:

Up to October 23, John S. Ray had gathered and ginned 106 bales of cotton from 114 acres and expected to get 20 more bales. A. H. Martin, in the same community, expects to make 35 bales on 30 acres. He has 28 already.

A 77mm. German cannon will be placed on the court house yard on Nov. 11, Armistice Day. The American Legion Post was notified by Gov. Dan Moody that this war relic was a gift to the local post. An elaborate Armistice Day program has been planned by the American Legion Post.

The tax rolls for Foard County were completed by Tax Assessor Claude Callaway last week and turned over to the tax collector. The rolls show an increase of taxable values over those of last year of $113,066, being $5,125,170.

Dick Ballard happened to the accident last Thursday of falling from the first story of the new high school building injuring his head and rendering him partly unconscious.

A. L. Johnson has erected a brick building which will enable him to take care of a thousand turkeys when the season opens later on. He will dress and ship turkeys in car lots.

Corner stone for the new high school building will be laid on Nov. 11 by Crowell Lodge No. 810, A. F. & A. M.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. R. Fox were accompanied to Lawton, Okla., Saturday and Sunday by W. S. Tarver.

J. R. Coffman is here from the Rio Grande Valley for a week's visit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Allee made a trip to Wichita Falls last week where they had the tonsils of their son, Merrill, removed.

Mrs. Baxter Johnson and daughter, Frances Henry, and Mrs. J. A. Johnson are visiting the R. C. Campbell family in Pampa this week.

Mrs. T. M. Ferguson of Vernon, sister-in-law of the Ferguson Bros. of Crowell, died in a Temple hospital Wednesday following a long illness.

A small child of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Christian, who reside on Mr. Bush's farm south of town, is reported to be seriously ill.

It is a shocking story that lays bare the smug complacency that lulled us into a false and dangerous sense of unwarranted security. This is the story. Names are withheld to protect, even now, those who took part in one of the most daring and successful espionage efforts of our time.

Shortly after the end of World War II a well-known manufacturer of planes for our military went to Germany to talk with some of the scientists who had worked on jet planes and missiles for Hitler.

Two of Germany's best scientists in that field returned with him to work on the development of similar projects in this country. There was no question, after two years, of their loyalty to America.

They volunteered to go behind the Iron Curtain to find out what Russia was doing. Our officials knew and approved of the plan. The two returned to Germany and soon were "imported" by Russia to work with other German and Russian scientists.

The fact that they had worked in the United States was not known to the Russians. For six months they probed the secrets of Russian progress in the science of military weapon development.

Then, one day in 1948, they slipped back into Berlin. A friend, jokingly remarked to them that he had heard that Russian agents were looking for two "escaped German scientists."

Could they, he asked, be you? It could, he conceded. So, without going back to their hotel, they headed directly for the airport and were whisked out of Germany and back to the United States.

Their report was the most comprehensive and reliable we had from back of the Iron Curtain. It included a statement that, even then, Russia had jet planes that were much faster than ours. I mentioned this in a news letter to business friends in 1948. They scoffed at the idea. It was absurd, they argued, to believe that a nation dominated by Communists could match the unfettered genius of scientists under our democratic, free enterprise system.

And so the report went unheeded. The two scientists went back to work for the U. S. aviation firm. Then, three years later, Chinese pilots in Russian MiGs demonstrated in Korea that Russia did have faster jets than we.

Later, President Truman announced that it would take Russia two years to perfect an atomic

1958 Chevrolet to Be Introduced to Public Thursday, Oct. 31

The 1958 Chevrolet, reported the most spectacular model in the history of the company, will be introduced at dealer showrooms nationally Thursday, October 31.

E. N. Cole, general manager, stated that "we sincerely believe this is one of the most interesting automobiles ever brought out by the industry. Every major part will show the results of an engineering job that began five years ago."

"The 1958 model became possible," continued Cole, "only through expanded and modernized facilities. It is the first car to have full advantage of the resources at our new Engineering Center. In addition, its production has involved considerably more new machinery and equipment than is normal for a model changeover."

Dramatic new styling and outstanding engineering advances will mark the 1958 Chevrolet. Also on public display for the first time will be the rakish 1958 Corvette and the latest in the Chevrolet truck line.

The 1958 Chevrolet is new from bumper to bumper and from frame to roof line. The all-new features include:

A completely re-styled car which is longer, lower and wider and emphasizes flowing sculptured lines from the dual headlamps to softly flared rear fenders.

An X-shaped frame which allows a lower silhouette but retains ample head room and increases leg room and luggage space.

Two suspension systems for a more luxurious ride along with remarkable handling, stability and durability. Sturdy coil springs, front and rear, are standard. A new "Level Air" system which automatically adjusts to all load weights is optional.

A 348-cubic inch engine which is new from fan to flywheel. Designed primarily around a new combustion chamber, the optional Turbo-Thrust V8 offers greater torque for improved mid-range performance.

Chassis-body design integration to supply exceptional structural strength and greater rigidity.

Forward mounted steering linkage which provides more responsive action and reduces road vibration to the steering wheel.

In recognition of the growing popularity of station wagons, an exclusive five-unit series of this body type has been established.

The Bel Air series is continued, but adds among its six models a sumptuous sport coupe and convertible under the Impala nameplate, introduced on a "dream car" at the General Motors Motorama in 1956.

In the middle range of the low-priced car bracket is a Biscayne series, with two sedans. The bottom end of the price spread will be occupied by three models making up the Delray series. In 1957 comparable series were known as Two-Ten and One-Fifty, respectively.

Over-all lengths have been extended a full nine inches to a new measurement of 209 inches. The wheelbase is up two and one-half inches to 117½. Roof lines have been lowered up to 2½ inches, yet design skill has retained ample passenger headroom.

Dual headlamps, a grille with fine grid concave ribs and a low, flat hood unbroken by ornamentation, distinguish the frontal view.

bomb, but a few weeks later Russian exploded one. Now comes the 5000-mile Inter-Continental Ballistic Missile followed by Sputnik. It does not pay to underestimate one's enemy.

Now that we have been shaken out of some of our complacency, isn't it time for a crash program in an effort to catch up?

Literally, the weather is great for ducks.

A lot of Texans, you may be sure, have been thinking it over, inasmuch as the duck season opens November 1 and extends to December 30.

Big rains this year have broken the drought along the Gulf Coast, providing plenty of surface water for the birds. Conditions in the marsh areas of the upper coast are the best in 10 years.

There will be an excellent crop of such native waterfowl food as wild duck millet, smartweeds, duck potato, and pondweeds.

Along the lower coast, the duck prospects are also very good. October rain caused habitat conditions to improve rapidly.

Add to all this the fact that the duck breeding season in the North was a successful one, and you have every indication of good duck hunting in Texas during the coming season.

Many varieties of ducks come to Texas with the cool winds of Fall.

Of the various kinds, the mallard predominates. A grain-eater, the mallard's flesh has a mild flavor. Fish-eating ducks have a stronger taste.

Biggest of the ducks available to Texans is the American Widgeon, which may go to four pounds. Smallest is the green-winged teal, averaging three-quarters of a pound.

A duck hunter must know his birds—bag limits vary with the species.

How to Do It What's the secret of duck hunting—or any wing shooting? Well, it takes a steady hand, a clear eye, and good coordination, of course, but it also takes a gun that fits the shooter.

With time and money, you can do business with gun specialists who will fit the gun to your particular needs.

You'll get all kinds of tests, including some in the field. At the end of a year or so, you'll have your gun, which will fit you like an old shoe. It will cost you about two thousand dollars.

Most of us don't have that kind of money. But we can take our time in selecting a weapon, try it out, borrow a gun from a friend, talk about it, and be sure, before we purchase, that the gun fits.

Then we can go duck hunting, and if all the factors are right we can get birds.

Practice Helps It goes without saying that practice is one of the elements of accurate wing shooting. Some rounds of skeet, before the season opens, should serve to sharpen the eye.

Another item is distance. A beginner is likely to blast away at ducks from afar, but a more experienced shooter will wait until they come closer.

At 12 yards, a duck looks bigger than a turkey. At 20 yards he shrinks to chicken size. At 30 yards, he's more like a pigeon, and at 40 yards, he's down to dove dimensions. Off there at 50 yards he's an English sparrow, and at 60 yards, he's a hummingbird.

Game management officials are in some disagreement about reducing the deer population in some areas.

In Kerr County, for example, game commission biologists found that the land is overstocked and overgrazed. They recommended that hunters be permitted to kill doe as well as buck deer this season.

Kerr County commissioners rejected this proposal, and the state commission held with the Kerr County group, so there will be no legal doe shooting in the county this year.

There is a strong likelihood, say the biologists, that many Kerr County deer will die of starvation this winter.

There is a different situation in the Engeling area of Anderson County where, on a block of land owned by the state commission, permits will be issued to kill 100 deer of either sex.

An excess of doe was discovered in the area.

Gal Wardens? Maybe Texas is going to have female game wardens. The notion

People under age 30 may have their social security fit rate frozen on the basis of their earnings before they were disabled.

After trouble between skiers and water skiers on a Colorado lake, the U. S. Forest Service set up some restrictions.

Anglers and skiers have to these regulations: Fish have the lake all to themselves Saturdays, with no skiers allowed. Skating is permitted from 10 to 4 p. m. other days, with dories marked by buoys.

Well, nobody wants to be related, but regulation will to our Texas lakes if the fish and skiers can't get along each other. They can because it takes a courtesy, thoughtfulness and consideration of the fellow.
