

All Newspapers Are Powerful Medium for Selling Automobiles

By T. B. KLEPPER

The small newspaper repeatedly has been recognized as a powerful medium for selling automobiles to executives. In a recent issue of Automotive News, William F. Hufstadler, president of the General Motors Corporation, said: "We regard the newspaper as the most important medium for selling automobiles to executives. Our cars to be sold one at a time are sold one at a time. It is very important to the dealer to have the newspaper recognize the small dealer and the small town newspaper as an essential partner in the development of the automobile industry. It is based on fifty years of operation and progress. The days when styling was done by Henry Ford are over. There are enough seats for the farmer and his wife to carry their milk cans. The newspaper has been the medium for the automobile industry for advances in the industry. It has been introduced and, because of intensive newspaper advertising, accepted by the public. The pages of the newspaper, they have access to the most complete and effective show room to be found anywhere. They respect it, it is even better than showing the actual automobile always showing the construction."

Crowell Youths to "Trick or Treat" for Sick Children of World

The Crowell Methodist Church and the First Christian Church are making plans to sponsor a UNICEF "trick or treat" night on Halloween, and all children of the community will be invited to participate.

UNICEF is a program which belongs to the youth of America. It was started by them. They make Halloween a day of sharing instead of scaring. The only trick is to treat the hungry and sick children of the world.

Last year more than one and a half million American youngsters joined in making a gift of three-quarters of a million dollars to UNICEF—a gift to be used for better health for "all the world's children."

J. T. Brooks returned to Crowell last Thursday night after participating in the annual Panhandle antelope hunt in far northwest Texas, about 50 miles southwest of Dalhart.

USDA Food Commodities Will Be Made Available to Poor People of County

Judge Leslie Thomas has announced that a contract has been consummated between Foard County and the State Department of Public Welfare, whereby U. S. D. A. Food Commodities will be made available for distribution to needy persons in Foard County. Mrs. Mattie L. Carroll has been employed by the Commissioners' Court to be the authorized representative of the county under such program and it is anticipated that the first distribution of commodities can be made some time during the month of December, this year. The commodities available under such program are only those which are declared to be surplus by the United States Department of Agriculture, and as such will in no wise affect the normal expenditures for food by those eligible to receive them.

The Commissioners' Court has accepted the more liberal phase of such program as the one which would best subservise the interests of needy persons in Foard County, and has adopted the following standard of eligibility for recipients of commodities:

1. U. S. citizenship shall not be a requirement incident to the receipt of commodities.
2. No specified period of residence shall be required but commodities shall be furnished only to individuals or families living under such circumstances as to have facilities for preparing and serving meals.
3. Eligibility shall be based on employability.
4. The income level shall be at the highest level as allowed by the State and Federal Governments. This means that one person with an income of no more than $60.00 per month will be eligible for such commodities; if there are from two to three people in the family and the income is no greater than $120.00 per month, such family will be eligible; a family of four to five may qualify if total income does not exceed $140.00 per month and a family of six to seven may qualify if the income does not exceed $165.00 per month while a family consisting of from eight to nine may qualify if the income is no greater than $180.00; where there are ten or more in the family, add

Bill Parkhill Dies Suddenly at Home Monday Evening

Funeral services for Willie Lynn (Bill) Parkhill, 51, were held in the First Baptist Church Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock conducted by Rev. Warren Everson and Rev. C. T. Aly.

Mr. Parkhill died suddenly at his home on South Main early Monday evening of a heart attack.

Interment was made in the Crowell Cemetery directed by Womack Funeral Home.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. C. V. Barker, Mrs. Roy Barker, Mrs. Archie Campbell, Mrs. Walford Thompson, Mrs. Bill Thompson and Mrs. Walter Thompson.

Flu Epidemic Hurts School Attendance

According to Grady Graves, superintendent of Crowell Public Schools, the influenza epidemic has hurt the attendance during the first six weeks reporting period to some extent. The average daily attendance for last year was 97 per cent while the attendance thus far this year has been only 94 per cent. The class with the lowest attendance record during the first six weeks has been the sixth grade with only a 90 per cent average. The junior class in high school has had the best average with 99 per cent attendance. The average daily attendance last year was 515.06 for the entire school year. The average daily attendance for the first six weeks this year was 490.82. The big difference is in grade school where the attendance has been only 325.80 while it was 355.93 last year. The high school has had five more in attendance thus far this year than it did last school term.

The average membership last year was 531.48 for the entire school while it has been only 521 thus far this year. The high school has a membership average of 5.52 over last year, while the grade school is off by 17.

According to Mr. Graves, the "epidemic clause" might make it possible for this low A. D. A. not to be held against the Crowell School, in case the attendance comes back up for the remainder of the school year. This would make it possible to maintain the same number of teachers next year as are employed this year. Crowell was able to keep a teacher in the 1952-53 school term due to a similar situation.

Additional Rains Fall in County

Rain which fell here Sunday, Monday and Tuesday night measured 1.10 inches by the Government gauge of the Crowell State Bank. Rain continued to fall early Tuesday morning, but the skies cleared in the afternoon and indications were that the rain was over for the time.

The rain has stopped an already-late cotton harvest, but will be of untold benefit to wheat farmers.

WHO GETS THE WATER?
This session's statewide water planning measure is already caught in the same swift currents that have capsize many previous water measures.
Mostly, it boils down to a fear by each individual lawmaker that the overall plan might benefit one area by taking water from his area.

Governor Daniel asked the lawmakers to set up machinery under the State Water Board to draw up a statewide master plan for water. Measures to this effect were introduced in the House by Rep. W. N. Woolsey of Corpus Christi and in the Senate by Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas.
Sponsors have repeatedly reassured that the bill would not take away "any vested right of any water user in Texas." But Rep. W. A. Stroman of San Antonio objected to giving the Water Board planners "law-making powers."

Rep. Leroy Saul of Kress withdrew as House sponsor of the bill because he believed its passage would "lead to deficit financing."
STATE PRACTICE ACT — A closer watch and possible limitation of practice before state agencies is proposed in a House bill.

Sponsoring a bill to regulate representation before state agencies are Representatives L. DeWitt Hale, B. G. Forsyth of Corpus Christi and J. C. Day of Brookshire.
Their bill would require each agency to register those who appear before it. This bill also would bar lawmakers from such practice entirely if the constitutional amendment raising their salaries to $7,500 annually is passed.

This was one of the bills requested by the governor.
LAW ENFORCEMENT STUDY — Creation of a law enforcement commission, which failed in the regular session, is back in the legislative mills.

This time the proposal is for a commission to study means of crime prevention and improvement of the penal code—but not to investigate specific violations.
Sponsors are Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria and Sen. George Moffett of Chillicothe.

OIL IMPORTS HIT — Companies which import foreign crude oil could have their Texas production cut back under a proposed House bill.

Reps. John Lee of Kermit and Charles Ballman of Borger introduced the bill. It is "waiting in line" with others that cannot be considered until the governor opens up the session to additional topics.

It would give the Railroad Commission power to reduce the allowable production on wells owned by those who import oil. It is designed to help Texas producers who have been unable to find markets for their oil.

Only persons who have been dead for ten years can qualify for election to the Hall of Fame.

The piccolo is the highest pitched of all instruments.

GOOD OL' SHEP
Abilene, Tex.—Ol' Shep wasn't just flappin' his jaws when he raised a ruckus the other night on Joe Wilde's farm west of here. Wilde and his son, Raymond, heard Shep and knew he wasn't joking. They went out to see what was wrong. Wilde didn't look long. He ran back for a shot gun and killed the "varmint" that Shep found.
When the shootin' was over, there lay a rattlesnake measuring just five inches short of six feet. It was three inches through the thick part of its body. Wilde, who has killed more than 100 rattlers in his lifetime, said he'd never seen such a snake.

And the people who gathered around figured that the rattler's mama musta been scared by a hot rod with twin smitties. He had dual fangs—four instead of the usual two.

For two cents you can get from the U. S. Department of Agriculture a report showing that farmers never had it so good, financially.

The report is called "The 1957 Balance Sheet for Agriculture," and a 2-cent post card will get you a free copy.

But the figures may surprise some who are accustomed to hearing all of the talk about "the poor farmers."

The report is a sort of inventory of what farmers own and what they owe.

There are some 4 1/2 million farmers who have a "net worth" of $157 billion.

Farm assets are at an all-time record high of $177 billion, but farm debt also is at a record of $20 billion.

The biggest increase during the past year has been in the value placed on their land and buildings.

Non-real estate holdings, which include livestock, machinery, crops and household goods, are valued at $37.4 billion, an even $1 billion increase.

Liquid assets, such as money in the bank, U. S. Savings bonds and investments in cooperative, increased during the past year by $300 million to $18.6 billion.

Figures, they say, don't tell the whole story. Farmers don't have any more or better land than they did a year ago.

The answer, of course, is inflation. The result is that high prices are making it more and more difficult for anyone who wants to get started in farming to scrape up enough cash. Something else the figures fail to show, is that inflated values mean a bigger tax bite out of the cash income of farmers.

What counts most, of course, are the dollars a farmer has left over after he has paid his production costs, and how much those dollars will buy.

Farmers this year will have a gross income of something over $32 billion and, after paying about $20 billion in production costs, will have a net income of around $12 billion.

Averages are tricky things, as you know, but dividing $12 billion among 4.5 million farmers, we come out with an average income, from which to pay all family living expenses, of $2,650.

If you dig deeply enough for figures you'll find that one million of these farmers get more than half of the income total, and the remaining 3 1/2 million divide what is left.

It is no more accurate to say that all farmers are in financial trouble than it is to say that all businessmen are making big profits.

Recent rains, the Waco editor cited, again point up the necessity for adequate dams and reservoirs.

And he added that the people of Texas are getting tired of losing millions of acre feet of water and suffering thousands of dollars in property damage, because of lack of water storage facilities.

"What the legislature decides to do with the water after it is in storage is a matter for them to determine," Provence added.

But the people of Texas first of all must vote for water development. Proposal No. 3 must be passed on Nov. 5, before Texas can start to do, under its own power, the conservation work that still needs doing.

The shoulder patches will be black on yellow, with the Game & Fish Commission insignia and the words "Game Warden."

Shoulder patches also will be provided for both fish and wildlife biologists.

Editor Says Public Tired of Floods; Will Vote for Proposal 3

Regardless of the kind of water legislation that comes out of the special session of the Texas legislature, the constitutional amendment (Proposal No. 3) to be voted on Nov. 5, must be adopted by the voters to make a state water program work.

So stated Harry Provence, editor of the Waco News-Tribune and chairman of the Governor's steering committee for the Water Development Amendment.

"This amendment was overwhelmingly approved by the Texas Legislature last spring," Provence pointed out. "Its sole purpose is to provide a fund with which the State of Texas can help finance water development projects."

Provence explained that there are bound to be differences of opinion among Legislators as to the kind of water legislation that is needed.

"There always are differences of opinion on any legislation," he emphasized. "But differences can and will be settled."

Commodities . . .

$15.00 for each additional person. 5. The resources allowable to participants shall be the highest amount allowed by the State and Federal governments. This means that such items as homesteads, necessary household goods, essential transportation, cash or loan value of life insurance up to $1,000.00 or less per person, livestock sufficient to provide home produce for the family and tools of trade need not be considered.

All other capital resources must be considered, including the loan and/or sale value of real estate other than a homestead, cash on hand, in a bank or elsewhere, bonds, excessive life insurance, excessive livestock, etc. Federal and State regulations, however, do provide that no county plan will be approved which includes resource maximums above the following figures: 1 person, $900.00; 2 persons, $450.00; then add $50.00 for each additional person up to $600.00.

6. All recipients of Old Age Assistance, Aid to the Blind, Aid to Dependent Children and Aid to the Permanently and Totally Disabled and their normal dependents shall be eligible to receive commodities without reference to income or other need factors.

In this connection, all of those currently receiving such aid will be certified to the County Worker by Mrs. Laura M. Franklin, State Department of Public Welfare Worker, for this area.

An office is being set up in the southwest corner of the basement of the court house, the office formerly occupied by the Soil Conservation Service, to house the Commodity Program, and Mrs. Carroll states that it will be necessary for the head of the household in each family to make a personal application at such office in order that case records may be set up on all needy families within the county.

Applications will be taken by Mrs. Carroll at the office beginning Monday, November 4, 1957, through Saturday, November 9, 1957. Office hours will be from 8:30 o'clock a. m. to 5 o'clock p. m. Monday through Friday of each week and up until 12 o'clock on Saturday.

Mrs. Carroll and the Commissioners' Court urge that the head of the household of each family who believes that her or his family will qualify for commodities under the above regulations make a special effort to come to the office during the week of November 4 as outlined, and submit his application therefor, as the purpose of the program is to assist all needy persons within the county.

It is to be remembered that all applications will have to be thoroughly checked and personal investigation made thereof before an individual or a family can be certified as being eligible under such program, so any delay in making application will only delay the ultimate receipt of commodities by the recipient.

A month from January through June of this year, beginning in July he earned only $80 for the months of July through December. His total yearly earnings amounted to $2,880. But because the worker did not earn over $80 in wages or render substantial services in self-employment in the last 6 months of the year, he will receive his benefit checks for all of those 6 months. So, any month in which a beneficiary earns $80 or less, or any month in which a self-employed person performs no substantial services at his business, are months in which the beneficiary may receive payments from old-age and survivors insurance no matter how much he earns in a year.

After workers reach 72 years of age, they are entitled to benefit checks regardless of the amount of their earnings. However, in figuring the number of payments due in the year they reach age 72, their total earnings for the whole year may affect the number of payments due prior to the month they reach age 72.

Tate suggests that even if the worker earns over $1200 a year, he may be entitled to some checks for that year and should contact his nearest social security office and get more information.

Electronic Duck Calls Prohibited

Don't plan to use an electronic duck call or a phonograph record for calling ducks this season, is the warning of the Director of Law Enforcement of the Game & Fish Commission.

Conventional mouth callers are still permissible, however. The standard penalties for taking migratory birds now prohibit the taking of such birds "by use or aid of recorded bird calls or sounds recorded or amplified imitations of bird calls or sounds."

The maximum penalties call for a 6-month jail sentence, a fine of $200, or both.

Game Wardens Get Arm Bands

It won't be long until you can recognize a game warden as far as you can see him. Shoulder patches to be worn by the wardens are now being prepared, and will be ready for distribution before the first of the year, according to E. M. Sprott, director of law enforcement.

The shoulder patches will be black on yellow, with the Game & Fish Commission insignia and the words "Game Warden."

Shoulder patches also will be provided for both fish and wildlife biologists.

Are You Losing Social Security Benefits?

Are you losing social security benefits? Do you know anybody who is?

Under old-age and survivors insurance you may be eligible for payments now, but you cannot get them unless you apply for them.

Erton F. Tate, district manager of the Wichita Falls, Texas, district social security office, recently called attention to the fact that a considerable number of beneficiaries lose some of the payments they should receive simply because they do not apply for them.

The most frequent case is that of the worker over retirement age who is temporarily or permanently laid off, according to Tate. The worker expects to go back to his old job or get a new one and quite often he does return to work.

But in some cases he is idle for a month or more. Retirement benefits for the women workers at age 62 and the men at age 65 are payable on a monthly basis under the old-age and survivors' insurance program.

A test of retirement is provided by the Social Security Act to insure that only those older workers who have substantially retired from their jobs will receive old age benefits. In other words, Tate pointed out, the present law permits the payment of benefits to the men and women workers under the age of 72 for every month in the year if they do not earn over $1200; if they earn more than the $1200, some of the checks for that year may not be payable.

After reaching age 72, there is no restriction on earnings amounts. The following chart describes how payments are made and the number of monthly benefits payable for those who earn over $1200:

Chevrolet Trucks All New for 1958

An expanded, widely diversified line of trucks featured by a rugged new 348-cubic inch V8 of 230 horsepower, many chassis improvements, and more powerful and durable sizes and V8's is announced by Chevrolet Motor Division.
 Fresh new front-end styling includes modern dual headlamps and redesigned grille, hood and fenders.
 Scheduled for display at dealer showrooms nationally, concurrent with the debut of 1958 Chevrolet passenger cars October 31, the new truck line lists 12 new models, for a total of 128, up 10 per cent over the number available in 1957.

For the first time, Chevrolet will assume body production responsibility for three forward control "Step Van" models. The same warranty and parts service will be extended to these bodies that now apply to company-built panels, pickups, stakes and cab-chassis models. Also of major interest is the addition to the line of nine new medium-duty cab-chassis models.
 An innovation in the 1958 line is the assigning of names to each of the three weight classifications. They are:
 The Apache—Light duties with GVW ratings up to 9600 lbs., and available on six different wheelbases; the Viking—medium duties available on 12 wheelbases with GVW ratings up to 21,000 lbs.; the Spartan—heavy duties with GVW ratings up to 25,000 lbs., and offered on nine wheelbases.
 Five basic engines are offered in the 1958 truck line topped by the new large V8 specifically designed for heavy truck use. It will be offered only in the two largest series as standard equipment. Despite its large displacement, the engine is unusually compact, measuring only one and three-quarters inches longer and less than three inches wider than the 283-cubic inch V8. It is actually one and one-third inches lower in height.

Soil Conservation News of District

Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District, Lower Pease River District Board: W. C. Howard, Grady Halbert, O. T. Holmes, O. H. Brandon, H. L. Ayers.
 The time for planting winter cover crops is here. Recent rains have left conditions very favorable in the Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District for cover crops. Many farmers have already planted and some crops are up.
 The main purpose of a winter cover crop is to protect the land from blowing and washing. Some believe that only sandy land needs a cover crop during winter and early spring months. This is not so, because any land is more easily washed or blown when it is bare than when a growing crop is on it.
 Any close-growing crop adapted to this area can serve as cover for the land. However, because of the added benefits, a winter legume or legume mixture is generally planted. The most popular winter legumes used in this area are Austrian winter peas and vetch. Vetch is often planted in a mixture with rye. Winter peas are sometimes planted in combination with oats.
 Winter cover crops should not be followed immediately with another crop, but for best results, the land should be summer fallowed and seeded the following fall or spring.

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK BY TED GOULDY

Strong demand for replacement cattle and calves of all kinds developed Monday at Fort Worth. Prices on all kinds of stocker and feeder cattle and calves ranged from strong to 50 cents higher, and some of the lighter weight calves and yearlings were 50 cents to $1 above last week's close.

per cent fewer cattle and calves were reported on feed. Despite the big crop of feed being made in most areas of the state, the numbers of cattle on feed continue relatively small.

Current high prices of stockers and feeders has been a deterrent factor, but with pasture conditions improving in nearly all sections of the Southwest and Great Plains States, the likelihood of much reduction in prices on replacement cattle seems remote.

Comparative prices: Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings $19 to $22, high choice and prime lacking in the run; common and medium sorts $13 to $15.50.

On the Oct. 1 report from the USDA's Crop Reporting Board issued this week at Fort Worth, the population in Texas feedlots is well below a year ago, as 38

JAPANESE LUNCHEON

As a climax to the study book, "Cross and Crisis in Japan," by Charles W. The table was attractively laid in Japanese fashion. Japanese figurines, depicting Japanese customs, centered the table. Japanese china was used with demitasse cups for tea at each plate. Each place also had a tiny buttonaire topped with a miniature butterfly. A large container of chrysanthemums also adorned the table.

A Japanese menu consisting of chicken and rice, cucumbers and tiny sesame seed rolls, a piece of sponge cake and a tiny bunch of grapes was served following the invocation by Mrs. Grady Adeock. Mrs. Gordon Erwin and Mrs. Clyde Eddy, dressed in Japanese costumes, poured tea.

Amidst such a realistic setting, the study of the book seemed more impressive.

At the close of the luncheon, Miss Erwin closed the study of the book and was assisted by Mrs. Arthur Bell, Mrs. C. W. Thompson
