RESTRICTED WATER USE IS ORDERED BY CITY COUNCIL; CO-OPERATION REQUESTED

The semi-annual meeting of the city council of Crowell, Tex., was held Tuesday afternoon at 8 o'clock in the city hall. The meeting was called to order by Mayor J. P. Taylor. The first item of business was the report of the city engineer, J. T. Brown, on the water supply situation. He stated that the water supply was low and that it was necessary to restrict the use of water in the city. The council ordered that the use of water be restricted to the following: watering lawns, flowers, shrubs, and trees; washing cars, sidewalks, and driveways; and hauling water from the city mains. The council also requested the cooperation of all citizens in conserving water.

Additional Advances Permitted on Seed Wheat for Farmers

Advices received from Washington last week permit additional advances to farmers in the drought areas for the purchase of winter seed wheat, rye or barley, or for summer fallowing, or both, according to Charles W. Sherrill, regional manager of the Emergency Crop Loan Office of Dallas, Texas. Mr. Sherrill states that in no case can a borrower obtain a loan for the purchase of winter seed wheat, rye or barley, or for summer fallowing, or both, during the year 1934, in excess of $400.00 or an aggregate from the 1934 Emergency Crop Loan fund exceeding $750.00.

Minimum Reduced

In connection with this order, the city council also reduced the water meter minimum from 4,000 gallons to 2,000 gallons. The new minimum metering effective Wednesday of this week. The minimum charge is $1.50. The 4,000 gallon minimum will be restored when rains increase the local supply.

New Supply Sought

The wells of the old water works of Crowell have been cleaned out and about 40,000 gallons of water are being pumped from them. Work is now taking place in another city well in this locality. Over a month the average consumption from the city supply has amounted to over 108,000 gallons daily. Last Sunday four feet of water remained in the city lake.

Public Step in Conserving the Supply Has Been in Cutting Railroad from the Local System

It is hoped that the public will be able to conserve the water supply as possible, for if this is done, it may become necessary for the sewage system to be cut off within the near future.

O. L. Savage, pastor. Although the revival begins Sunday, Mr. Trussell will not reach here from Haskell until Monday evening. He is engaged in meetings in almost every week throughout the year and local church officials feel fortunate in securing his services. He was engaged for this revival last spring.

Mr. Trussell has a fine baritone voice and a dynamic personality. In addition to being a fine song leader, he is also a very capable leader of young people.

LOCAL BAPTIST CHURCH BEGINS REVIVAL ON SUN.

The Crowell Baptist Church will begin a revival of two weeks at services Sunday morning, Rev. O. L. Savage, pastor of the church, will do the preaching throughout the meeting. Joe Trussell of Brownwood, prominent evangelist singer, will have charge of the song service during the revival.

MRS. R. L. KINCAID DIST. CHAIRMAN FOR CENTENNIAL

Mrs. R. L. Kincaid of Crowell was elected general and permanent chairman of the organization of Texas Centennial county advisory boards of the 23rd Senatorial district that was formed last Friday in Wichita Falls.

Dr. H. D. Fillers of Wichita Falls was chosen vice chairman and L. A. Wilson of Vernon was named secretary.

The meeting was attended by Centennial advisory boards and other representatives from the nine counties of this district. Members of the Foard advisory board attending the meeting were: Mrs. N. J. Roberts, county chairman, Mrs. M. S. Henry, Mack Boswell and Mrs. Kincaid.

Plans for the Texas Centennial in 1936 were discussed at the meeting. A program in which all counties of the district may conduct their own local Centennial celebrations in connection with the general Centennial was unanimously urged, together with the completion of worthwhile projects, such as the marking and restoration of important historical spots. Further details are to be worked out later.

Mrs. Kincaid's election as district Centennial chairman is an honor which Crowell and Foard County can be justly proud. Last spring she completed four years' service as president of the 13th District of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, which included fourteen counties.

2ND DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY TO ATTRACT MANY VOTERS ON SATURDAY OF THIS WEEK

A record vote in Texas for a second Democratic primary is expected over the state on Saturday of this week. The governor's race between Jimmy Allred and Tom Hunter, Wichita Falls men, has developed unusual interest throughout Texas and will provide the principal attraction for a majority of the voters.

From a Foard County standpoint, there is only a few run-off races to interest local voters. The Democratic nominations for practically all of the regular county offices was settled in the first primary.

Voters of the Margaret precinct will choose either T. B. Dunn or Coy L. Payne for their public weigher. J. G. Ford, incumbent and Rolla L. Loyd, are in the run-off for constable of the Crowell precinct, as are A. L. McGinnis and John Kerley for the Margaret precinct. There are also a few run-offs for precinct Democratic chairmen.

The Congress race, with W. D. McFarlane of Graham, incumbent, and Sam Spence of Wichita Falls as candidates, has developed almost as much interest in this district as the governor's race. Local voters are also manifesting considerable interest in the district judge's race in which W. N. Stokes of Vernon, incumbent, and L. P. Bonner of Vernon are the candidates and in the state senate race in which Ben G. Oneal, incumbent, and Ruben Loftin, both of Wichita Falls, are in the run-off.

A copy of the official ballot appears elsewhere in this issue of The News.

Returns of the election will be posted at Reeder's Drug Store as soon as possible after the polls close.

Revival at Black Is Proving Successful

The revival of one week that is being conducted at the Black school by Rev. Charley Jameson of Shamrock promises to be a success from every standpoint. It will come to a close Sunday evening.

The meeting opened last Sunday evening, at which time Rev. Geo. E. Turrentine, pastor of the Crowell Methodist Church, delivered the opening sermon. Since then Rev. Jameson, who is pastor of the Shamrock Methodist Church, has preached for each service. His son, Alfred, is conducting the singing.

MASON-DIXON LINE

How a term originally of local significance may acquire a far wider meaning is seen in use of the name "Mason and Dixon's Line," the popular name of the boundary line between Pennsylvania and Maryland.

Because of a dispute between William Penn and Lord Baltimore over the boundary which their respective colonies in the controversy was continuing them and their heirs for nearly a century.

Finally, in 1763, two surveys Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon, were given the task of delineating the line, to which the putants agreed. The line was finally marked by milestone or by a fifth stone bearing on one the Penn coat of arms and on the other that of Lord Baltimore.

The name was afterwards popularly applied to designate an arbitrary line separating the free and slave states, the phrase first used in that sense by Randolph in a speech in Congress in 1820.

Newspapers and the public use of the expression and "Mason and Dixon's Line" has been used to designate the dividing line between North and South ever since.

After spending 15 years in prison to escape capture by police, murder charge, Stepau Hatcharain, living in Istanbul, Turkey, ventured into the street and arrested.

Frank W. Truitt of Ocean City, Md., has worn the same straw for the last 30 years.

Water Ballet Feature of Musical Show at State Fair of Texas

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 21.—Lottie Fayers internationally famous disappearing water ballet will be one of the featured attractions in "The Show of A Century," the musical extravaganza which will be presented by the State Fair of Texas as its auditorium attraction, Oct. 6 to 21, according to advices received here from Mike H. Barnes, of Chicago, the producer of the show.

Gorgeously gowned nymphs, each of the sixteen a dance star, appear on the stage in dance numbers and then disappear into a huge tank of water to reappear later in other costumes. Several such changes are made, each of which is made under water. It is one of the most brilliant acts on the stage today and one of the most colorful numbers ever presented.

In addition to this famous water

"Judge Duke" was so confident of victory that he tried to eat the garland-lei, feeling sure he could win without it.

er ballet, there are many other stellar attractions which will be seen in "The Show of A Century," among these being Manuel King, the world's youngest wild animal trainer, who has a group of 10 African lions which he uses in a Tarzan number, a jungle scene in which all thirty-two of the beauty dancing chorus will appear.

Young Manuel hails from Brownsville, Texas, and has come into international prominence during the past year for his daring and the accomplishment of almost impossible feats in training the animals, one of these being to put a lion through a blazing hoop.

"The Show of A Century," is expected to be one of the most pleasing auditorium attractions ever presented at the State exposition. Another very pleasing feature of the extravaganza will be the extremely low popular prices.

 Sterling P. Strong of Dallas, one of the three Texas Congressmen-at-Large, was in Crowell for a short visit with Dr. R. L. Kincaid of the Crowell State Bank last Friday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Strong had been visiting Mrs. Strong's sister, Mrs. Eula Farmer, of Paducah and stopped in Crowell on their return home.
 Mr. Strong is greatly interested in the success of the candidacy of W. D. McFarlane for Congressman from the 13th District because of his excellent work on the special committee named to investigate aircraft purchases for the Navy. "Mr. McFarlane's minority report and the action taken by Congress in regard to it will save the Government millions of dollars," said Mr. Strong.
 Mr. Strong also stated that "Mr. McFarlane is honest, able and industrious, and he realizes that if our government functions as it should we should correct our moral conditions as well as our economic conditions."

Successful Revival Closes at Thalia

The revival held by the Church of Christ at Thalia closed Aug. 14 after ten very successful days and nights. Robt. C. Jones of Amarillo brought some wonderful lessons and the interest was very fine from the very first.

The singing was excellent under the leadership of Ben M. Taylor of Burkburnett.

Twenty-five people were baptized, many of whom were mature, middle-aged and past middle age. A great number confessed their sins and were restored to their first love.

This meeting was in many ways one of the very best ever held by the Church at Thalia.

COMPLETES REVIVAL
 Rev. and Mrs. O. L. Savage returned to Crowell Tuesday after an absence from this city of ten days, during which Rev. Savage conducted a revival at the Oak Dale Baptist Church, five miles north of Stephenville.

Rev. Savage was pastor of this church before coming to Crowell.

GAMBLEVILLE FARM CLUB MET LAST FRIDAY NIGHT

Dynamiting of mud from tanks was explained by Garnet Jones of the Gambleville Farm Demonstration Club at its meeting in the school house last Friday night.

Other things of interest were omitted until a later date, due to the absence of Fred Rennels, county agent.

Eighty members were present for the meeting and an interesting program was rendered. Announcement will be made when the next meeting will be held.

Loans Available for Moving Drouth Area Stock to New Fields

Emergency loans to farmers and stockmen in the emergency drouth areas to pay the cost of moving livestock to new pastures and range lands from the recently appropriated drouth relief fund are available through the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Office of Dallas, Charles W. Sherrill, Regional manager, announced today. Application may be made to the local emergency crop and feed loan committee in the applicant's county.

The announcement states that the loans for transporting livestock will be made only for the purpose of moving animals to and from pastures and ranges to avoid drouth conditions, and not for the purpose of paying the costs of transporting or pasturing livestock which are on the way to terminal markets.

The money loaned to pay transportation costs will be limited to a maximum not exceeding $3.00 per head for farm cattle, $1.50 for range cattle, $4.00 for farm work-horses, 50 cents for sheep and 35 cents for goats. These respective maximum allowances for transportation are the same as the maximum base rates now being allowed to purchase feed for livestock for one month.

Where the livestock moved from drouth areas to new pasture or range are to be returned, the al-

P-C Ass'n. to Help Farmers Put in Feed Crops for Winter Use

Farmers who are good credit risks will find their local production credit associations ready to help them put in a feed or forage crop for winter use if the farmers live in any of the sections of Texas where such crops will have a chance to mature before killing frosts come, according to Tully C. Garner, president of the Production Credit Corporation of Houston.

Because of the unusual conditions produced by the long drought, Mr. Garner pointed out, the feed situation has become serious in many counties in Texas and, wherever possible, the Production Credit Corporation of Houston wants to help the farmers to get feed crops planted before it is too late.

"We are lending every encouragement to production credit associations," he said, "in consideration of applications from producers in the sections of the state favored by climatic and soil conditions to produce feed crops for this year."

"It is our thought," he continued, "that where climatic and soil conditions will justify, farmers should plant early maturing feed crops to assist them in going through the winter and starting their spring farming program. We hope to take care of many deserving, eligible persons in the pursuance of this program."

The name of Mildred Fish was inadvertently omitted last week from the list of flower bearers at the funeral of Mrs. W. H. Adams.

allowance for transportation must cover the costs both ways; and farmers and stockmen who obtain such loans are urged to utilize the greatly reduced freight rates on livestock shipments which are now in effect.

In addition to the allowance for transportation, loans may also be made to pay the cash costs of pasture or range rent, not to exceed 50 cents per head per month for any class of livestock for which a base rate is allowed under the regulations.

According to the announcement, the loans may be made for the purpose of moving livestock to new pasture or range lands outside the emergency drouth areas or to transport animals within the emergency areas.

The advances for transportation and pasturage are available throughout the emergency drouth area which now covers 233 counties in Texas, 27 in New Mexico and 11 in Arizona.

"Where was the defendant when he assaulted you?" Henry Martin was asked in court in Chicago. "About 50 yards away," was the answer.

Stokes Refutes Charge in District Judge Race

Those who would discredit me in my present campaign for District Judge have been going about over the district exhibiting copies of a telegram which I sent to the Governor concerning the former life and deportment of a certain party who had been convicted and whose application for a pardon was pending. They have pretended to believe the telegram was a voluntary contribution on my part to induce the Governor to grant the pardon. As a matter of fact, they well know the law required the District Judge to make such reports when requested by the Board of Pardons and they also well know this telegram was sent as an official duty and in response to the request of the board; yet they have not been open and fair enough to so state to those whom they have sought to poison against me. Every District Judge in the state makes these reports to the Governor and the Board of Pardons. I have probably made more than a hundred of them, and in none of them have I protested the granting of a pardon nor have I recommended it for the reason I consider the granting or refusing to grant clemency a matter for the Governor and the Board of Pardons to decide and not a responsibility of the District Judge. The telegram which I sent read as follows:

"Greene comes from one of best families this part of state. Never accused of crime before indictments these cases. Do not believe is criminal at heart. My opinion he was first unwittingly drawn into violation by trying to assist friend whom he thought in difficulty through unexpected adverse turn operations entered into with honest intentions and that subsequent violations resulted from efforts to extricate himself from first mistake. Money all repaid by bonding companies and if you feel clemency should be granted under circumstances, I have no protest. In other words, whatever you do is all right with me."

In making the report, I considered that the Governor was entitled to know the truth concerning the matter and I challenge any one of those who have been trying to make capital out of it to put his finger on one single word or statement in it that is not the truth. It may be that some of the opinions expressed were not shared by others; but they were expressed as opinions and not stated as facts and they constituted my honest conclusions from the facts that were available to me at the time.

As above stated, the law requires the District Judge to make these reports and common honesty requires that he tell the truth in them. I have made many of them and whoever is elected District Judge for the next term will be compelled to continue to make them or else be guilty of violating the laws of the State. I, of course, have no apology to make for trying, as best I could, to comply with the law and perform my duties in an honest, conscientious manner. At the request of the board, these reports cover matters that are not shown by the court record, such as the nature of the family, whether he has been a constant violator of the law and therefore a criminal at heart and whether or not he would probably make good if granted clemency. These are the points covered by the above report and which I try to cover by every report which I make to them.

It is quite probable I could find incidents in the life of my opponent in this race that would justly constitute the basis of adverse criticism, but I have felt that such a course was not proper, especially for one seeking the high office of District Judge. I have preferred to conduct a clean, honorable campaign and seek election upon my own merits, feeling that the demerits of my opponent, however monumental they may be, would be no proof of my fitness and qualifications to be District Judge. On this basis I solicit the favorable consideration of the voters of the District in the primary next Saturday.

Yours very truly,
 W. N. STOKES

by BRUCE BARTON

A KINGSHIP REFUSED

Jesus' miracles caused His reputation to spread before Him, and the most dramatic of them, the feeding of a host of people, was followed by one great moment of triumph, which, however, marked the beginning of the end.

That multitude of people whom He had seated in groups of fifty and a hundred rose to their feet after their miraculous meal and discovered that they were an army. They looked up with new eyes at the strong young man who had fed them as Moses had fed their ancestors in the wilderness.

The words of the prophets surged into their minds. Here indeed was a son of David; here was the promised leader who should free his people, drive the Romans before him, and sit again upon the throne in Jerusalem. With a great shout they surged forward.

Did He hesitate for a moment? Was there an instant in which the temptation to seize this proffered leadership battled with His real ideals? We know only the final decision, which was quickly made:

When Jesus therefore perceived that they would come and take him by force, to make him a king, he departed again into a mountain himself alone.

From that hour His popularity waned. Most of those who had followed Him in the hope of reward through a successful revolution began to drop away.

From that time many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him.

Even the twelve were disappointed and disheartened. Why was it necessary for Him to be so inflexible? Why must He always abuse the Pharisees and other influential people? Why turn away so abruptly from those who could be of so much help? Jesus alone saw clearly. He led them away from Galilee into the foreign shores of Tyre and Sidon. He wanted to be alone with them, to try to make them understand why He must refuse temporal power; why, indeed, it would be necessary for Him to insure the permanency of His message by sealing it with His blood.

He must "go into Jerusalem," He told them, "and suffer many things of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed." Indignantly they sought to dissuade him. "Be it far from thee, Lord," the hotheaded Peter exclaimed, "this shall never be unto thee." Their remonstrances were in vain.

The whole last year of His ministry has a different tone. He is far more emphatic, far more audacious. Knowing that compromise is useless, He lashes out again the smug complacency of the Pharisees who render lip service to Jehovah but are rotten at the core with selfishness and greed.

Why We Should Vote for
W. D. McFARLANE
 SECOND TERM,
For Re-Election to Congress 13th District.

1. Because he has supported the President and his administration in every way.
2. Because the leading member of the President's Cabinet, Hon. James A. Farley, commends Mr. McFarlane for "the fine spirit of co-operation that you have exhibited with reference to the national administration;" also the leaders of Congress so commend him.
3. Because, by his untiring work in Congress, and facts placed in record, he supported the administration in cancelling unlawful contracts with the government that saved millions of dollars to the taxpayers.
4. Because, by facts collected by him, the Congress amended the income tax law to prevent evasion, and the Congress abolished revenues. SOMETHING DONE; NOT A PROMISE—BACKED BY NO LEGISLATIVE EXPERIENCE.
5. Because you should choose your member of Congress, not permit him to be chosen by propaganda of the SPECIAL INTERESTS. THINK DEEPLY; YOU NEED A COMPETENT, COURAGEOUS, ACTIVE FRIEND IN THE NATIONAL CONGRESS.
6. Because he is always found on the side of sobriety, standing out for the churches, schools and the best interests of the plain people.
7. Because he has spoken and worked for all legislation for the benefit of all farmers, oilmen, laboring men and stockmen which include the Frazier-Lemke bill, Farm Mortgage bill which saved the farmers' homes, Home Owners Relief bill which saved city homes, Bank Guaranty Legislation, Old Age Pensions and Unemployment Insurance.
8. Because Wichita County will have the governor, the state senator and probably a Judge of the Court of Appeals, it can well afford to accord justice to a best qualified man for Congress. It should do so.

A VOTE FOR McFARLANE IS A VOTE TO PROTECT THE RIGHTS OF THE PLAIN PEOPLE AND AGAINST THE SPECIAL PRIVILEGE CROWD NOW TRYING TO NAME FOR YOU YOUR CONGRESSMAN.

George Backus Says He Will Vote For Spence in Run-Off

George W. Backus of Vernon, candidate for Congress from the 13th District in the first primary, has issued the following statement: To the Voters of the Thirteenth Congressional District: Shortly after the first primary I issued a statement, thanking my friends for their support and announcing that it was my purpose to remain neutral in the run-off and take no active part in the second primary campaign. Since then, however, the present Congressman has brought my name into the campaign. I was informed that he stated in a speech at Quanah that I was supporting him. It has come to me also through Hon. Sterling P. Strong of Dallas, Congressman-at-Large from Texas, that Mr. McFarlane had told him I was supporting him (McFarlane) in the run-off. Under these circumstances, I am not satisfied to remain quiet. I therefore wired a friend of Mr. Spence, in response to a request from him as to the correctness of Mr. McFarlane's statement at Quanah concerning my position, and I denied that I had told Mr. McFarlane at any time that I would support him in the run-off. I further authorized Mr. Spence to use my message if he so desired. I have not hesitated to tell my friends who inquired of me personally that I will vote for Mr. Spence in the run-off. Now, in view of the fact that Mr. McFarlane has apparently been circulating the statement that I am for him, I wish to state to any of my friends and former supporters who may be interested in knowing my position that I am supporting Mr. Spence and never at any time told Mr. McFarlane or any one else that I would vote for Mr. McFarlane in the run-off.

BACK TO SCHOOL

Within a very short time another school term will open to hundreds of Foard County school children. At this time we urge all of scholastic age who have not finished their schooling to make every effort to attend school this term.

It is easy to stay out of school a year with the intention of going back the next year, but too often one's schooling is ended for all time when one year is missed.

Later in life, when it is too late to correct this situation, one realizes the tragedy of not having taken advantage of the educational opportunities offered.

MOVIE SALARIES

When Sol A. Rosenblatt, code administrator for the motion picture industry, revealed recently that one screen star received a $315,000 salary last year, and a few others came close to the $300,000 mark, he mentioned no names. Ever since, writers who are supposed to have inside information concerning the salaries of big shots of the films have been trying to identify the top-notchers.

Taking Mr. Rosenblatt's figures, one writer picks a few of the highest paid stars, as follows:

He concedes the highest salary of all, $315,000, to Will Rogers. He places Constance Bennett second with $296,250; Ruth Chatterton third with $283,654; John Gilbert fourth with $277,333; Nicholas Schenk, president of two producing corporations, is rated fifth with $273,596. The highest paid director is thought to be Ernest Lubitsch at a salary of $150,000.

The administrator reported that 110 actors and others connected with the industry receive more than the normal salary of the President of the United States, which is $75,000.

But Will Rogers' top salary is less than half the $750,000 a year once spurned by Gloria Swanson, and far less than the $12,000 a week once paid to Colleen Moore. Weekly salaries, however, are usually paid only when the star concerned actually works. Last year, it is said, John Barrymore received $25,000 a week, but he worked less than four weeks out of 12 months, earning $31,666.

To the average person all these high salaries seem excessive, and the fact that most of the big producing companies have been in receivership or have gone bankrupt during the depression seems to confirm that opinion.

"Mind" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 26.

The Golden Text is: "Who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor? For him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever." (Romans 11:34-36.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And he not conformed to this world; but he ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God" (Romans 12:2.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "This scientific sense of being, forsaking matter for Spirit, by no means suggests man's absorption into Deity and the loss of his identity, but confers upon man enlarged individuality, a wider sphere of thought and action, a more expansive love, a higher and more permanent peace" (page 265.)

Feeling something was wrong at home, Mrs. Charles Galtier of Lake Forest, Ill., hurriedly left a reception and arrived just in time to prevent a woman thief escaping with $10,000 worth of jewelry.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

by Charles E. Dunn

Hosea Preaches God's Love. Lesson for August 26th. Hosea 6, 11, 14.

Golden Text: John 3:16. Hosea lived about 25 years after the time of Amos, in a period of anarchy. The kings were short-lived weaklings and murderers.

The Assyrians were looming up on the horizon, and feeble Israel had no strength to resist. It was indeed a horrible time, with no certainty, no security.

Amidst this scene of desolate woe we picture Hosea, a well-to-do farmer, nervous, meditative, passionate, longing with ardent zeal to find a way of salvation for his people. And that way he discovered, curiously enough, through his own bitter domestic trouble.

After his wife, Gomar, to whom he was devoted, had borne their three children, he found her unfaithful! So great was his anger and grief that a separation was inevitable. She either forsook him, or he put her away. But all the while he felt that the case was not closed.

With a sublime gesture of reconciliation he took her back and sought, by degrees, to restore her to wifehood.

That tragic experience gave Hosea the clue for his inspiring preaching. Israel, he declared, was an adulteress. She had forsaken God, and became a prostitute. "The more I called," cried the Lord through the mouth of Hosea, "the more they went from me. . . . My people are bent to backsliding from me."

But, insisted the prophet, God years after His people with the longing of a faithful lover. He will not easily forgive them, but He will forgive! His bleeding heart broods in pity over them even as did the heart of Hosea over faithless Gomar. "I will not execute the fierceness of mine anger, I will not return to destroy Ephraim; for I am God, and not man." (See chap. 11:9.)

And so while we have, in Hosea's book, a vigorous emphasis on unfaithfulness to God as the major sin, we are also told that love is the chief attribute of the divine nature.

WELL HERE WE ARE—OFF ON ANOTHER FACT-FINDING VENTURE. LET'S GET BACK INTO A LITTLE PAST HISTORY & SEE WHAT WE CAN LEARN.

43% MORE NON-SKID MILEAGE

"You're too modest!"

Motorists who got the first G-3's put out—months before the public announcement—say, "You're too modest!" Many of them report 50% to 100% more non-skid mileage. Why, then, do we insist on only 43%? Well, 43% is a definite test-car-proved figure. Very likely it is low for normal use—because the tests which established the 43% average were gruelling: cars speeding up to 50, jamming on brakes, mile after mile, day and night. Very likely most motorists will get more than 43% more non-skid mileage. But we'll string along with 43%—because it's plenty to deliver at no extra cost. Come see the tire that's the talk of the nation.

No Extra Cost! Flatter, wider All-Weather tread. More Center Traction (16% more non-skid blocks). Heavier Tougher Tread. Supertwist Cord Body and 43% More Miles of Real Non-Skid.

SYNOPSIS
Two weeks after a cream colored roadster had been found in the sea at the foot of a cliff calling herself Anne appears at the desert town where she has bought, sighted a ranch located thirty miles away. Barry Duane, her neighbor and his man, Petry, procure a reliable car for her and in Barry's car, down with supplies, they cross the desert. In Marston Anne has aroused sus- sence. Barry and Anne become neighbors, and when Barry is lost in the hills and rescued by her, each realizes that some- more than friendship exists between them.
The great - great - grandfather of the Duanes have lived in the same place since I suppose it will have been out of the family some day, I make my million." He said, "Mother is very reserved. She doesn't give herself out freely. But that will be all right as she knows you better." Anne wanted to cry out fiercely: "I'm not just reserved! She's cold and selfish and ambitious, and she hates me!" But she nodded wisely.
"You darling," he tossed her on the bed and pulled her toward him. "Nancy, I'm getting tired about you every day of my life."
She gave herself up to that.
The Duane's dinner hour was usually late. Barry had already dressed and gone down, and he had just finished her own washing and stood critically inspecting the result. Barry had intended staying over in town long enough for her to buy several new dresses. Anne knew why he had done it. One evening gown was especially nice for Granleigh; she had called for sports clothes. She was not to meet critical eyes un- prepared. Anne smiled at herself in the glass, thinking absently of the moral support of clothes, especially when other women were present.
She switched the lights off and drew the curtains at the nearest window. Darkness was falling. Behind the hedge a man walked away, turning his head at each passing car. She watched him, idly wondering why he was loitering like that.
He stopped to light a cigarette. A match spurted into flame, and he stared at his face.
Anne shrank hurriedly back into the room, dragging the heavy curtains together. This was ghastly. What could possibly bring him to this part of the country again, thought to Granleigh?
"I mustn't let it get me! It won't. I've got to see him, some- time."
There was a tap on the door. It was Matthews.
"Mr. Barry wishes me to tell you that Miss Pendleton is here." So the Pendleton girl was here already! M'm. Anne gave a last quick glance in the mirror and went slowly downstairs.
Anne went down with un- hurried grace, half smiling.
Barry looked up, a quick flash of pride in his answering smile. Cleo Pendleton looked up also.
"Here's Nancy now."
Cleo slipped from the arm of the chair and met Anne half-way. "I'm Cleo Pendleton. I wanted to be the first to meet you. I hope you will like me a lot, because I'm one of Barry's old friends. I've been counting on having you here."
"That's awfully nice of you," Anne was sweet but non-committal. "It makes me feel that I'm not a stranger here after all."
"Oh, is this your very first trip East?" There was a second's pause.
"I lived in the East for a while. But I've never been here before."
"Oh," said Cleo softly. "But I hope you're going to stay this time. We've all been arguing for years to make Barry stay home, but he won't listen to us."
"I always listen," Barry grinned at her.
"And then do as you please," Cleo shrugged a petulant shoulder, and then laughed. "All right, if you won't tell me. But I like Nancy better than I do you. . . . You'll let me call you Nancy, won't you?"
"Why—of course. . . my name really is Anne. . . not that it makes any difference."
"Barry calls you Nancy. I like it better, too. But I must trot dutifully back before Dad calls out the reserves."
Out in the hall there were voices. A door had opened.
"Good-bye, Nancy, I'm going to stop for you some morning, and we'll dash around and do things." Cleo whisked out with a careless wave. Barry chuckled silently.
"She's an irresponsible imp." He called after Matthews, just returning down the hall. "Who was that, Matthews?"
"A man looking for a job, sir. A chauffeur. He was quite insistent about seeing you."
"I told him," Matthews continued, "you were entirely satisfied with the present man."

"Quite right." He suddenly remembered something. "Oh, Matthews, is my mother out? I knocked at her door, but there was no answer."
"No, sir. She's changed her rooms to the west wing. I think she will be in presently, for dinner."
"Oh . . . thank you, Matthews." His voice was quite colorless. Matthews went hastily. Both of them knew that the west wing had not been opened for years.
Anne, listening idly, could come very close to guessing what had happened. . . . And this was only her first day in Barry's home.
Meantime Cleo Pendleton, who was not in the least irresponsible, huddled sulkily back in the limousine.
"Hurry, I'm late!" she snapped, and the car swept out of the drive so fast that a man crossing the pavement sprang aside hastily. He scowled and took an envelope from his pocket and wrote down the license number.
"Friends, and rich ones," he thought. "I'll try my luck there. Damn it, I'll get a job somewhere. I'm going to stick here until something breaks."
Cleo had not even seen him. She was in a whirl of angry thought.
"She's no more a ranch girl than I am—unless she's one of the awfully rich ones. The way she talks—and the way she wears her clothes! And I thought I could make him ashamed of her!"
The soft lips pursed sullenly.
"I picked up a point or two, anyway. She'd rather be called Anne, and she hadn't told Barry that she'd lived East. Caught that one from him! And something bothered her about the windows . . . but that sounds crazy. The funniest thing is that she looks familiar to me. . . . Just a little familiar."
In the next few weeks they danced and dined, lunched and motored, and dashed from one engagement to another. The telephone tinkled incessantly.
It was fun, but sometimes Anne was achingly homesick for the sun-washed Junipero. She and Barry seemed to have so little time for each other.
Not once in these flying days had Anne caught a glimpse of the man who had loitered in front of the house that night. She watched for him, but he seemed to have disappeared. It could, she decided, have been pure coincidence. Jim had probably gone on before this to the rayer haunts where he was more at home.
Cleo Pendleton was in and out constantly and at all hours. She amused Barry, and in her kitchen-impish way managed to monopolize him a good deal.
"Baby vamp!" Anne thought scornfully. The more she saw of Cleo the less she cared for her, but intimacy seemed to be thrust upon her.
Anne wondered if Mrs. Duane held the check book as well as the household control. . . . That would be embarrassing for Barry; she would have to wait until he told her.
What she needed to do first, she told herself, was not to make trouble but to coax Barry's mother to like her.
What Anne could not know was how ruinously the secret hope of years had crashed when Barry had sent that sudden word of his marriage. Mrs. Duane was a proud and strong-willed woman, hating poverty and all that it meant. Barry could have married Cleo Pendleton, and Cleo would have brought him wealth and leisure. Mrs. Duane hated the very name of Eagle Lake.
The knowledge of this deep-rooted bitterness came to Anne sharply. She had tried to bridge the recurring silences of a tete-a-tete lunch by talking for once of something less impersonal than dinners and minor items of Granleigh news.
"You have never been to the Perch, have you? It is like a beautiful mountain camp. You must visit us there next summer."
"I have never been interested in the place. I hope, now that my son is married, he will definitely give up that kind of life."
"Oh, but his heart is in it! I'd be willing to see him sell everything else that he owned, and live in a hut with him, if he could raise the money for the dam that way."
Mrs. Duane's thin cheeks flushed slightly.
"I have no desire to see my son living in a hut. Barry has practically nothing to sell, except those worthless Western lands. If his mother has any influence with him, he will never go there again."
Anne sat very straight. "I see," she said softly. "Thank you," and quite clear to me. Thank you."
A declaration of war had been made and answered.
Anne told Barry some of it late that evening, anxious to convey a hint of warning.
"You see," Barry explained, in that careful way, "my uncle was really the head of the Duane Mills. My father had died years before, when I was a baby, and Uncle Bob had bought in a further share from my mother. Father's will left everything to her. Uncle Bob was un-

A DOUBLE FAKE

Among the many freaks and fakes exhibited by the great showman, P. T. Barnum, who declared that "people like to be humbugged" and cashed in on the idea, was the "Cardiff Giant," represented to be a petrified man, ten and a half feet tall.
The "giant" was a fraud, being a rude statue of a man, carved out of gypsum in Iowa, and buried by a practical joker in the bed of a creek near Cardiff, a hamlet near Syracuse, N. Y. The joker then had the statue "discovered," and spread the news of the find far and wide. That was in October, 1869.
Later it was exhibited around the country as a "petrified man," and a good many scientific men were inclined to believe it to be genuine until a Yale professor made an examination and exposed the fake.
While the "giant" was in popular favor and drawing large crowds, Barnum tried to buy it to add to his collection of circus side-show attractions. When the owner named a price thought too high, Barnum proceeded to have a giant of his own made. This imitation of a fake—a sort of double fake—was successfully exhibited by Barnum as the Cardiff Giant, in America and abroad, for several years.
The original "giant" is getting some fresh publicity just now, owing to the fact that the Chamber of Commerce of Syracuse is trying to have it brought back to that city from Iowa, where it has been resting in obscurity for several decades. So great was the sensation created by the giant hoax that the statue has come to have a certain historic value.

MILLIONS OF PEOPLE HAVE ASKED . . . What, exactly, does Knee-Action do?

the answer is CHEVROLET'S KNEE-ACTION RIDE Doubles the pleasure of motoring

The best way to prove that Chevrolet's Knee-Action actually makes motoring twice as pleasant as before is to drive the new Chevrolet over all kinds of roads. You will find that the continuous jars you used to get even on smooth pavements are ended. The steering wheel is free of vibration. Back seat passengers are comfortable and relaxed. You can maintain higher speeds over rough roads that used to slow you down. You will find, in fact, that probably for the first time in your experience, every foot of every mile is equally enjoyable.
This fine feature is combined in the new Chevrolet with beautiful, luxurious Fisher Bodies, safe, weatherproof, cable-controlled brakes, the flashing performance of an 80-horsepower engine, and the great economy of six-cylinder, valve-in-head construction. This combination is exclusive with Chevrolet. Perhaps that explains why so many people are buying and recommending this extremely low-priced car.

AIRSHIP IS SCRAPPED
After being put out of active commission two years ago as a measure of economy, the United States Navy dirigible Los Angeles has been declared unfit for further flight on account of deterioration of her metal structure. She is the first rigid dirigible to complete a normal span of life without meeting disaster.
The Los Angeles, originally designated as the Z-R 3, was built in Germany for the United States under the terms of the peace treaty after the World War, and was delivered at Lakehurst, N. J., on October 15, 1924, after a flight of 5,000 miles from Germany in 51 hours, a new record at that time.
A notable feat of the Los Angeles was that of making the first landing of a dirigible on a carrier ship at sea, accomplished on January 27, 1928, when she came to rest on the deck of the naval carrier Saratoga. She made a number of notable trips, including flights to Cuba and the Canal Zone.
Scrapping of the Los Angeles leaves only two large rigid airships in the world, the United States Navy's Macon and the Graf Zeppelin of Germany. All the rest have been destroyed in disasters, with the result that the building of this type of aircraft has been abandoned by all nations except the United States and Germany. They might well follow suit, as the dirigible has proved to be an expensive death trap, of little practical value either in peace or war.

BITES AND STINGS

In hot weather, when people are much out of doors, with playing on the grass, wounds of a varying degree of severity are common. Spider-bites always produce more or less terror for such insects being considered particularly venomous. I can remember when death from some unknown cause was attributed to the sting of a venomous spider. All guess-work.

In these modern times, it is very easy to obtain good professional attention—and it is always the wise thing to do. A small bottle of "Spirit of Ammonia" is a good thing to take along on your picnic. It is a good application for the sting of any flying insect, such as wasps, yellow-jackets, etc. The wound should be kept wet with ammonia solution, until the pain is gone.

I never advise gouging around an insect sting with any household instrument; you are as likely to spread infection as you to correct it. We have—at least I have—revised my ideas on procedure in bites and stings of insects, and I believe I have no more to say with the change.

It doesn't do any harm to bathe an insect wound with soap water, especially if the site be dusty or on a perspiring surface, and then—if you are fortunate to have the KING OF EMERGENCY REMEDIES with you—a bottle of Tincture of IODINE. It is an application in ALL cases, regardless of their origin. Your doctor will tell you the same, as soon as he arrives—if you call him.

Do you remember when the "family almanac" sagely advised we remove bee stings by pressing the wound with a watch-key? crudity—the horror of it! Watches required keys to wind them those days.

Boys and Girls

Shirley Ann Johnson of Sunset Ridge, Ill., is the new junior women's western golf champion for 1934. A human chain of three men rescued 4-year-old Donald Detweiler, of Potstown, Pa., from drowning in a well. Triplet sisters, Dorothy, Myra and Iris Tagg, look so much alike that the initials of their first names had to be sewed on their dresses, to enable Leysonstone, Eng., school teachers to tell them apart. Judges at a recent beauty contest chose Catherine Antonoff, 18, as the fairest girl in the land of the Soviets and she was crowned Miss Russia in 1934. Almost blind since she was 13 years old, Martha Bristol, of Morganton, N. C., can now see with the aid of special type glasses prescribed by a New York oculist. Eight-year-old Roy J. Bertrand rescued three-year-old Betty Jane Reddell when she fell into six feet of water in Lake Arthur, La.

Vote for John H. Sharp of Ellis County for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. He has served as one of the Judges of the Supreme Court Commission of Appeals for the past five years with honor and distinction. After serving one term he was unanimously reappointed by the three Judges of the Supreme Court. He is justly and fairly entitled to be promoted to the Court itself. To the Voters of the 46th Judicial District

I am seeking re-election to a second term as your District Judge and in doing so I unhesitatingly stand on my record as a Judge and as a citizen. The records of the 46th District Court will show that I have conducted the office in such a manner as to promote justice, enforce respect for law, and save unnecessary expense to the taxpayers. During the campaign some of those who are opposed to me have been circulating rumors of various kinds concerning my action as your judge. I have neither time nor inclination to run over the district trying to answer every statement made by idle and irresponsible gossips. My record has been made before the people. Nothing has been covered up. I invite the voters to investigate if they are in doubt concerning any point of my official conduct. Compare my record as a lawyer, judge and citizen of the district for the past forty years with the record of my opponent. This is fair. Determine for yourselves whether you think I am entitled to re-election to a second term. I appreciate the splendid lead given me in the first primary and feel grateful to every voter who supported me. I earnestly solicit the vote of every citizen in the run-off primary on August 25.

PLANS FOR LONG TRIP

Not that these scientists expect to see an actual venture of this kind undertaken in the near future but for the purpose of studying its possibilities, the new "astronautic commission" has been formed, composed of the most distinguished members of the Astronomical Society in France. As a beginning a prize of 5,000 francs will be awarded annually for the best original work on any phase of the problem which may contribute to its final solution, on the principle that any progress whatever which may be made will be of scientific value. While the idea of traveling to Mars or the moon, and particularly the possibility of ever getting back, appears ridiculous at present, future generations may find a way to do it. Forty years ago most people thought anyone who predicted that man would ever fly at all was a little off in the head. Apparatus for releasing tons of sand to block passage to its vaults in case of alarm has been installed by a Paris bank. Paleontologists say that the household implements unearthed near Brianks, Russia, date back to the Stone Age.

A BISHOP'S STORY

Illustrating how the treatment of strangers in a foreign land may influence their lives, Bishop Bartlett of the Episcopal Church tells of two young Chinese students who came to America, and what happened to them. One, a Chinese girl who had been converted to Christianity in her native land, came to the United States to continue her studies. Unfortunately, she entered a school in which prejudice was shown because of her race. She renounced Christianity and returned to China. The other, a Chinese boy, was befriended by an American family in Charleston, became a Christian, returned to China and married a Christian Chinese girl. Four of their children were educated in the United States, and their family became one of the most influential in hina. One daughter married Sun Yat Sen, founder of the Chinese republic; another married Chiang Kai Shek, China's chief leader today; a third married Kung Hsiang Hsi, recently finance minister of China; while a son, Soong Ts Vung, was also finance minister and represented China in several international conferences. "The Christian influences which have gone out from this family," says Bishop Bartlett, "are incalculable, and go back to friendliness shown toward a Chinese boy in America."

This-That, Etc.

By Typo Wrighter

School is yet over a week off for most Foard County pupils, however, it has always been the policy of this column to lend a helping hand whenever possible, so "Prof." Typo has decided to furnish some valuable facts and information ahead of time in helping to educate our youngsters. Today's facts are:

In Switzerland the natives find it extremely difficult to put on their shoes without stooping over.

It is said that the people of Italy prefer to eat their breakfast in the morning rather than at any other time of the day.

Arnold Rucker tells us that it requires almost twice as much wind for a person to play a cornet as it does to play a violin.

Scientists have proved that it is impossible for the elephant to build its nest for its young in the tops of trees, even the oak.

Foard County scientists state that the moustache can never be grown upon the forehead. Their experiments have shown that the upper lip is the only place where it will thrive.

Questions

And now, dear children, here are a few questions for you to answer regarding local history.

1. What famous outlaw was captured at Old Margaret?

2. Where was the Foard County town of Sand Rock located?

3. What was the name of Foard County originally meant to be by its founders?

4. What notorious outlaw gang terrorized Foard County and the surrounding territory in early times?

Answers may be found at the end of this column. (Questions and answers courtesy of Skeet Hart.)

Old-Timers' Birthdays

Maybe some other Foard County pioneers have birthdays within the next few days, however, those that we have a record of are:

Aug. 24—R. B. Edwards, Crowell.

Aug. 27—W. T. Dunn, Margaret.

Aug. 29—Mrs. J. M. Allee, Crowell.

Drouth Data

In connection with our 1934 drouth, we have heard several ask when the drouths of 1913, 1918 and 1930 were broken.

In looking over old files of The News we find that:

In 1913 the drouth was definitely broken on Sept. 24, although numerous showers fell a few weeks previous to that time. On Sept. 10 an unusually hard rain fell in Crowell which "floated hogs out of their pens."

Following the 1913 drouth-breaking general downpour on Sept. 24, heavy rains continued to come during the fall.

In 1918 a general rain of two inches fell between Aug. 30 and Sept. 6. The author of the news item was so enthusiastic in telling about breaking way from the "grip of the drouth" that he failed to mention what day the rain fell. The thrilling account appeared in the issue of Sept. 6. On Sept. 20 another inch fell and October brought several hard downpours. Anyhow, the following year, 1919, brought one of Foard's greatest wheat crops.

In 1930 not enough rain was received in Crowell to record from May 9 to Aug. 25, when on that day .75 of an inch was recorded here. On July 30 the Thalia community benefitted from rain of more than one-half inch. On Sept. 3 about 2 inches fell in 30 minutes in the Thalia section. On Sept. 8, six-tenths of an inch was recorded at Crowell, the rain being heavier east and lighter west. A general rain of six-tenths of an inch also fell over the county on Sept. 28.

However, the 1930 drouth was not definitely broken until Oct. 3, when a perfect rain started falling that amounted to 4.65 inches before stopping on Oct. 6. The total October rainfall was 8.08 inches. Small rains fell during November, then on Dec. 4, a rain of 3.2 inches fell.

And again the year following the big drouth, 1931, produced an enormous wheat crop. Judging what has followed the past big drouths, 1935 should be another fine wheat year in Foard County.

Answers

1. Bull Trumbull. He was notorious throughout the West as a two-gun desperado and was captured in a saloon at Margaret by Capt. Bill McDonald of the Texas Rangers and the late Joe W. Beverly.

2. Sand Rock was a flourishing village in the years immediately preceding the founding of Crowell and was located about four miles southwest of where Crowell is now.

3. Beaver County. The bill providing for the creation of the county contained that name and the name "Foard" came about as the result of a legislative compromise. N. J. Roberts has the original map of "Beaver County" as it was primarily meant to be constituted.

4. The Brooken gang was probably the most feared and spectacular of the early-day outlaws who kept this section of Texas in a ferment of anxiety. They were finally almost completely wiped out by Texas Rangers, but only after they had levied a terrible toll against the scattered settlers of this section.

Year after year the record shows that Ford cars retain an unusually great per cent of their original value.

THE Ford V-8 would be a great buy even at a much higher price. It's the only V-8 selling for less than $2500. Ford alone has been able to put a V-8 engine in a low price car.

The first cost of a Ford V-8 is decidedly low. But that saving is only the beginning. Ford V-8 valves seldom need grinding. Carbon removal is virtually eliminated.

The new Ford V-8 consumes less gasoline and oil than last year's economical Ford. And Ford V-8 parts cost very little.

In addition, on that distant day your Ford V-8 earns its honorable retirement, you'll find that it has a high trade-in value. The record of years proves it.
