OLD AGE PENSION CHECKS FOR FOARD COUNTY'S OLD PERSONS ARRIVED FRIDAY

MONEY LATE BECAUSE OF HIGH WATER

Payment Given to Aged Farmer by James Allred

A large portion of the old age pension money for the already paid applicants of Crowell and Foard County arrived at the local office Friday noon, and many were entitled to the aid received money that afternoon. The checks were due to arrive earlier, but due to flood water in the southern part of Texas were late because of delay in schedules out of Austin. One hundred and fifty-eight applications were filed out in this area some in the county will not receive pension money next month because their applications were not approved in time for this month's payment. Checks were mailed from Austin the night of June 30 so they were in the mails by July 1, as set by the government for distribution. Over 40,000 old people were on the mailing list for checks provided by the government assistance measures. They were received last month at the Federal Treasury to pay part of the Social Security bill. The Federal allotment for July and August. The first checks were mailed Monday, June 29, to Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Kainer, 103 and 95 years respectively, who have been residents of Fayette County for years. Each of their checks for $25. Checks for the 40,000 aged people ranged from $9 to a maximum of $30 per person.

Checks were written at the rate of 25 a minute or 12,000 a day by the machine, said to be the most efficient of its kind ever invented. The machine does in eight hours what 50 men could without mechanical aid. It is known as the "mechanical accounting machine" and is the most efficient of its kind ever invented.

W. S. Carpenter was appointed by Gov. Allred as executive director of the Old Age Assistance Commission. George T. Williams, Jr., is district supervisor for the Wichita Falls district of the old age set-up. Foard County is in the Wichita Falls district.

For Work Only Payment will be made only when actually worked, but there will be allowed every reasonable opportunity to make up lost time due to weather conditions or temporary interruptions in operation of projects in order to secure scheduled monthly rate, the assistant director of the department explained. In the first program, maximum hours of work for project men will be eight hours per week and 40 hours per month.

Holding Revival

NEW BUILDING DELIVERED TO THALIA BOARD

Vocational Economics Room and Gym in New Structure

A new school building enclosing a modern gymnasium, vocational home economics room and two class rooms has been delivered to the school board of Thalia complete. Work on the building was begun about March first and plans were to complete it by June 15, but due to delay of materials the completion of the structure was a little more than two weeks later than was first planned.

The erection of the building was a Works Progress Administration project. The one-story, fire-proof brick structure includes a large modern gymnasium and basketball court. The measurement of the court is according to standard figures and state requirements, and the dressing rooms and showers are equipped with hot and cold running water. Hard maple was used in the flooring of the gymnasium.

The maximum seating capacity of the basketball court is approximately 500, according to W. Lee Cox, superintendent of the Thalia school. The actual cost of the building was $27,272.

The vocational home economics department is equipped with cooking and sewing laboratories, and the other equipment for the department measures up to state educational regulations so that the school is eligible for affiliation in that department this coming school year. (Continued on Page Five)

Foard County Produced 3,731,382 Eggs In 1934; 104,711 Chicks Were Raised

Foard County was reported to have had on hand January 1, 1935, 41,167 chickens over three months of age, according to a recent farm report issued by the Department of Commerce in Washington. These figures were taken from 626 farms of the county which at that time represented 75 per cent of all the farms of the county. Six hundred and five farms of the county reported the egg production during the year 1934 to be 3,731,382, or 310,986 dozen. Chickens raised during 1934 according to the reports from 586 farms of the county amounted to 104,711.

Only 111 farms reported on the production of turkeys in Foard County during 1934. January 1, 1935, there was a total of 615

136 SUBSIDY CHECKS HERE FOR FARMERS

Payments Amount to $5,481.11; Arrive Last Week

One hundred and thirty-six checks amounting to $5,481.11 were received at the office of Foard County farm agent John Nagy Thursday and Saturday of last week. Distribution of the checks began immediately to the farmers as a part payment of the cotton subsidy money due them from the Federal Government.

The subsidy payments are the difference between the selling price of the farmer's cotton and what it would have brought at 12c per pound, the price guaranteed the farmer for the cotton. About fifty more checks are expected soon, Mr. Nagy said.

Revival Started by First Baptist Church

A two weeks' revival at the First Baptist Church of Crowell started last Sunday with Rev. W. B. Fitzgerald, local pastor, doing the preaching.

He is being assisted in the song services by Curtis D. Owen, head of the music department of the University Baptist Church of Abilene. Weather permitting, the evening services will be held in the open. Seats, lights and a platform have been arranged for the open air services.

Miss Ola Harlan of Abilene is in charge of the junior services which are held each evening at 7:30. She has been conducting an enlargement campaign for the last month at Crowell, and she stated that the possibilities here were very good. Morning services of the meeting are held at 10 o'clock and night services begin at 8 o'clock. Prayer meeting services will be held each evening prior to the regular sermon.

Government Labor On Highway Work Halted Temporarily

Work on the building of a new highway from Crowell to the Foard-Knox county line by government labor has been halted temporarily since June 30.

However, work will be resumed soon as necessary materials arrive. The new road will shorten considerably the distance to the North Wichita River, the dividing line between Foard and Knox counties.

The road meets the new highway which is being constructed by the Texas Highway Department in Knox County. The work in Knox County under construction at present is the strip from the North Wichita River to one mile south of Truscott.

The WPA employees are expected to resume work on the Foard County project soon.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

A marriage license was issued to J. R. Parrish and Miss Evelyn Greening, both of Crowell, July 6.

Woman Calls Hens; They Come Running

They heard their Mistress' voice and answered accordingly. These chickens knew their names and saved themselves from the produce man. Mrs. M. W. Clark, wife of the pastor of the Truscott Methodist Church, christened her Rhode Island Red hens, giving each a separate name.

Recently, on returning from a several-days' visit out of town she missed her hens and inquired at a neighbor's house about them. The neighbor had seen some suspicious hens at a produce house and informed Mrs. Clark that an investigation might be profitable.

Rev. Clark investigated the matter and took Mrs. Clark to the produce house for further identification. She called each hen by her name and the hens immediately came to her. It was found that a Negro had stolen the hens and sold them to the produce company. He suddenly "forgot" who he bought them from and returned the money he had received for the fowls.

SCHOLASTICS TOTAL 1,570 IN FOARD COUNTY

Decrease of 67 Shown In Comparison With Last Year's Mark

Foard County's official scholastic census for 1936 is 1,570, according to figures approved by the State Department of Education. Notice of approval of Foard's 1936 census was received last week at the office of Vance Swain, county superintendent.

The 1936 total shows a decrease of 67 scholastics which includes children between the ages of 7 and 18 inclusive. The number this year is the smallest census since 1932, the records not being checked farther back than 1933. State school aid for 1936-37 is based on the census. The apportionment for last year was $17.50 per scholastic. The apportionment for this year has not been announced by the State Department of Education.

Those who wish to apply to the County Clerk for absentee ballots may do so now, according to the 1936 issue of the Texas Election Laws.

July 6 was the first day for requesting a ballot from the clerk. The last day to obtain a ballot for absentee voting is July 22.

The election laws state that "where application is to clerk the time is not less than three nor more than fifteen days; where to other officer than clerk, not less than three nor more than twenty days before primary."

Expense Account Between July 13 and July 17 the candidates must file the second statement of campaign expenses.

Pastor of Christian Church Here Sunday

Rev. T. P. Sharp of Corinth, Miss., arrived in Crowell Saturday, July 4, and assumed duties at the First Christian Church Sunday. He delivered his first sermon as pastor of the church Sunday at 11 a. m.

No night service was held because of the revival meeting which is in progress at the First Baptist Church.

Rev. Sharp, his wife and two sons are making their home in Crowell. Arrangements for a parsonage were made before the arrival of Rev. Sharp and his family and the home was prepared by the ladies of the church. Rev. Sharp is a former student of Randolph College at Cisco, completing his ministerial work at that school. He will preach full time at the Crowell Christian Church.

Members of the Crowell School Board met Monday night in regular session in the office of Secretary L. A. Andrews. Routine business matters were discussed and taken care of at the meeting.

RESERVOIR IS BEING BUILT AT CITY LAKE

To Be Deep Enough to Reach Underground Water Supply

Work was begun Friday of last week on the building of a reservoir at the City Lake which will, when complete, store 60,000 gallons of water.

The reservoir is to be 30 feet wide, 75 feet long and about 17 feet deep, according to C. T. Schlagal, mayor. The reservoir is to be a well and will be deep enough to strike water. Mr. Schlagal stated that he expected to reach water by the end of this week.

A crew of four teams and eight men are working on the pool. The labor is being furnished by the city and is under the direction of Ed McDaniel.

Water is now being pumped through the standpipe as it is for fire purposes. Mr. Schlagal stated. With the standpipe full for fire emergencies, the water will be allowed to run at all times, he said.

"I wish to thank the citizens of Crowell for the co-operation they have shown in our present critical condition of water shortage, and I still urge that every method of economy be used in conserving the water supply." Mayor Schlagal stated.

Although nearly half an inch of rain was recorded at Crowell Sunday, no water was caught at the City Lake; and the supply is considerably lower than at any time since the building of the lake.

INDEPENDENCE DAY IS QUIET IN CROWELL

444 Deaths Result of July 4 Celebrations In United States

Saturday, July 4, 1936, the one hundred and sixtieth anniversary of the birth of the United States, was a quiet day in Crowell with less activity than the usual Saturday. Local persons who wished to commemorate fittingly the national holiday attended one of several celebrations which were held at different localities near Crowell. Others celebrated more quietly with picnics, trips to parks, and no few made it a day of fishing.

No Casualties None of the 444 fatalities reported in the United States due to over-celebrating or other mishaps caused directly from the holiday happened in Foard County or to Foard County people.

Texas led the list with thirty-three deaths due to July 4 accidents. This number was the second largest in nine years in the United States, being exceeded only by 1931 when 483 fatalities were counted as results of July Fourth celebrations. Automobile accidents and drownings accounted for 254 and 104 deaths, respectively, to lead all other causes. Only seven in the United States were killed by fireworks. This was the same number that was killed by fireworks in 1935, 1933 and 1929.

Comparing death totals for the past several years, officials for the national safety council credited this year with a fair showing. Death totals in 1925 were 216, 175 in 1934, 185 in 1933 and 243 in 1932.

Plans for Foar-Tex Drilling Co. Pushed

Conklin, who was formerly chief geologist for the Shell Petroleum Company and who will act as consulting geologist during the drilling operations, stated that the geology on what is known as the Easley structure is highly favorable. Mr. Warner has just returned from the home office of the Foar-Tex Drilling Company at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where he spent three weeks. In addition to the offices at Crowell and Cedar Rapids, Mr. Warner has opened an office in Dallas, located at 910 Kirby Building, and he and Mrs. Warner are making their home in Dallas at this time. Mr. and Mrs. Warner are now in Crowell attending to business matters and visiting friends.

PROSPECTS FOR CROPS AIDED BY PRECIPITATION

Good Creek, Quanah Receive Fine Rains Last Week

Rainfall in Crowell since Sunday morning has amounted to .9 inches, according to the official measurement taken at the Crowell State Bank.

Between .25 and .5 inches fell Sunday morning and afternoon, and showers Monday afternoon and night brought the total for the week to almost an inch.

Other rains were reported in all parts of this vicinity, although none of them were general enough to fall evenly over a large territory.

Rainfall totaling about an inch and a half has fallen at Truscott since Sunday morning. The first rain there this week fell Sunday morning about 10:30 o'clock.

At Foard City

The precipitation was heavier at Foard City Sunday than at either Crowell or Truscott and again Monday rains there were heavier than at Crowell.

In the western parts of the county rainfall has been about the same as here. At Good Creek as high as 3 inches precipitation was reported last week. Quanah and much of the territory between Crowell and Quanah received heavy rains last week.

Paducah reported heavy precipitation this week. The rains, all of them slow and scattered, did not put any measurable amount of water in the Crowell City Lake. They have, however, brightened the crop prospects for the county although they are late to allow cotton planting.

RESETTLEMENT AIDS PURCHASE OF LIVESTOCK

An increase in the amount of livestock owned by low-income farmers is one result of the first year's work of the Resettlement Administration, which ended with the month of June. Official summaries received by A. W. Burkett, county supervisor, covering the period to May 1, show that Resettlement borrowers in Foard County purchased 22 horses and 14 mules, 8 dairy cattle, 15 hogs, and 36 chickens.

These livestock purchases accounted for $3,854 of the $12,339 loaned in this county. The loans were made to 57 families. (Continued on Page Five)

Las Vegas Kim Gives Pointers on What To Do Before Entering Old Mexico; All International Laws Must be Observed

New Publication Gives Centennial Publicity

Dallas.—A new medium of publicity for Texas cities and towns which plan Centennial year celebrations was announced this week by the state department of publicity here. It is "Next Week in Texas," a small folder which will be issued each week, carrying a description of the various celebrations planned in the state during the coming week. "Next Week in Texas" replaces the Centennial Review, publication which carried Centennial news during the winter and spring. The new publication is designed to encourage travel throughout the Lone Star state. It is being distributed through the various travel agencies, commercial exhibits on the grounds of the Centennial exposition at Dallas, and chambers of commerce and other organizations. First issue of the pamphlet described celebrations planned at Port Arthur, Mt. Pleasant, Mart, Pecos, Stamford, Canadian, Austin, Ozona, Brady, Falfurrias, Rock Springs, Lubbock, McAllen, Clarendon, Comfort, Belton, Slaton, Bandera, Sabin, Cisco, Eagle Pass, Kerrville, Freeport, Terrell, Cotulla, Borger, Mathis, Perry, New Braunfels, and Port Lavaca.

"GOING TO MEXICO"

(By Las Vegas Kim)

There are three things to do at home before you start for the border when going into Mexico. First is to be sure you take the registration papers that go with your car license. Second, write off on a typewriter the serial numbers of all your tires and take that along. Next is to see your local automobile insurance agency and get a rider attached to your car insurance. You can get this at the border at extra expense but the protection may not be so good. Then, after attending to these matters go to some good border town to the customs office for information, bonding your car, etc. Laredo is the border town to Monterrey and Mexico City. A new road is opened to that city which is all paved except about 75 miles from Laredo to Mexico City. Monterrey is 150 miles from Laredo and the road is as perfect pavement as you could wish and almost straight. You can get all your car has, one 45-mile stretch is perfectly straight and 75 almost straight. Beyond Monterrey most of the road is good the next 600 miles. When you reach the border town you must secure passports, etc. The good hotels in Laredo have Chamber of Commerce offices which make out your passports and other necessary papers. They will also can give you reliable and valuable information. It is well to listen to any information as to drinking water, extra gasoline, etc.

The Chamber of Commerce service at the leading hotels for the necessary papers as well as information is free. They also operate exchange offices in connection where you may change your American money into Mex. There is also an exchange office at the International Bridge on the Mexican side. Personally I prefer to use the American Hotel exchange

If Good for Rabbits, It's Good for Cattle

Testing the palatability of grasses and other forage plants by feeding them to rabbits instead of to cattle is a new and apparently practicable time-saving device of the United States Bureau of Plant Industry at the Florida agricultural experiment station. When cattle are used to find out just how palatable a plant is, the crop must be growing on a good sized plot. This may mean 2 or 3 years' delay in getting enough grass to make a test. In the testing gardens at experiment stations hundreds of forage plants often are under observation. The forage nursery at the Florida station has several hundred plantings, mostly of foreign introductions. It would be next to impossible to make a satisfactory test of each species with cattle. Tests were made with nine species of crotalaria. Both cattle and white New Zealand rabbits displayed about the same order of preference. Rabbits and cattle alike relish woolly finger grass and both eat molasses grass sparingly for a few days, after which they eat it readily. Although the likes and dislikes of rabbits for different grasses indicate only how cattle will react, results have been so consistent that the palatability or toxicity of many grasses is decided at the end of the first or second year of testing.

office but that is only a personal preference. My advice is that anyone going into Mexico without any previous experience should spend a little extra time at one of the Chamber of Commerce offices in the hotels at Laredo or whatever the border town may be. Trips into Mexico may be made in all comfort and convenience if one is informed and prepared. Since repeat Mexico is bidding for American tourists, a guide is not necessary as there are plenty English-speaking Mexicans at hotels and filling stations on the Mexican side. I would suggest tourists go in good cars and have good tires, spares, etc. Car trouble or tire trouble may make a trip into Mexico unpleasant. One fellow tells me that he went to Monterrey and had eighty dollars changed to Mexican money at Laredo which made around $300 Mex. That means cost him $2.50 Mex. and after staying that night he came back and the exchange value of the Peso had gone up and his $200 Mex. was worth only a hundred dollars American money. After paying $2.50 made money on the trip. However, this may or may not be true. The value of the Peso does change over night but the difference in value is usually very slight. His next trip this fellow squandered a hundred Pesos and the 200 left was worth even less than when he exchanged the time. Next time I'll tell you Mexican stories.

Gov. James V. Allred Discusses Question Of Taxation at Tyler

Tyler.—The vital question of taxation of natural resources was the principal subject discussed by Governor Allred as he brought his campaign for reelection to this East Texas oil capital.

"I favor a reasonable increase in the oil tax, limited in such a way as not to place Texas oil products of home manufacture in unfair competition with other states or countries and those markets to which they must be sold," the Governor said.

The tremendous importance of the oil industry to Texas was analyzed from the standpoint of facts and figures. The fallacy of foolish, exorbitant and demagogic proposals concerning the oil and gas industry were revealed in no uncertain terms by the Governor who pointed out that he recommended increases on oil, gas and sulphur taxes on three separate occasions.

"I recommended that the Legislature make a careful investigation into the present tax of two cents per barrel on crude oil, bearing in mind that it is subject to depletion and 85 per cent of it or its products is consumed beyond the boundaries of Texas. But I also told the Legislature that any increase in this tax should be determined by a proper consideration of the factors affecting the sale of petroleum products outside the state. If the increase is excessive or unreasonable, the independent Texas producers and refiners would be forced to absorb an intolerable burden in disposing of their products to major oil and pipe line companies," the Governor declared.

In stating his position on sulphur Allred said: "No one has worked any harder, no one has made more urgent recommendations for a substantial increase in the tax on sulphur than have I. My messages to the Legislature reflect recommendations for a fair increase in the tax on gas and other natural resources."

In his opening remarks, Governor Allred said that he had been a life-long Democrat—"one who has never affiliated with the Republican party."

Fourteen Day Fever Still Appears in Texas

Austin.—Typhus fever or "fourteen day fever" continues to make its appearance in various counties in Texas. Like typhoid, most of the cases occur in the hot months of summer and early fall, according to records of the State Health Department.

"The symptoms of typhus fever are similar to those of typhoid fever, except the course of typhus is generally two weeks while typhoid fever may extend over many weeks," said Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

"Although there are two types of typhus fever, it is the endemic type, (known as Brill's Disease) which presents itself in Texas.

usually sudden and accompanied by chills, fever, headache, and general body pains. Nausea and vomiting may be present. Headache is an outstanding symptom, and often persists to such a degree that it does not readily yield to drugs or local applications.

"The fever rises rapidly, often reaching a maximum of 105 degrees in the fifth to eighth day, and generally declining about the tenth to fourteenth day. A reddish mottling of the skin also appears, which may subside soon or continue through the crisis. A hacking cough is often present.

"The mode of transmission of typhus fever is known to be from the rat-flea, and the disease could be prevented by the eradication of rats and mice. A campaign to rid your community of rodents would also be of great economic value as rats and mice destroy millions of dollars worth of food every year."

An ancient tradition of the sea that sharks following a ship mean death aboard was beaten by Michael Dwyer, seaman on the freighter Aquarius. He was transferred to the Santa Rosa south of Mazatlan, Mexico, and was in a serious condition from the loss of blood. Sharks started trailing the ship. The crew, to show its disregard of the tradition, landed three 600-pounders. Dwyer was recovering in a San Pedro, Calif., hospital Monday.

A cow that was left high and dry in a tree-top 40 feet high during the recent floods in South Texas was rescued Monday by stockmen using a block and tackle.

Cavalcade Heroes Step From Pages of Texas History

Dallas, Texas, July.—When the forty-foot rainbow colored water screen falls on the largest stage in the world at the Texas Centennial Exposition, heroes of the past step from the pages of history to recreate the glamorous story of the birth of an empire. Three hundred actors, a hundred head of horses, Longhorns, burros, oxen and mustang ponies figure in this great Cavalcade of Texas, the biggest show at the Exposition. Above, eight of the men who portray outstanding Texans sign their names above genuine signatures of heroes of the Republic.

LOCALS BOW TO MEDICINE MOUND TEAM

Norman, Brooks Take Batting Honors With 5 Hits

The Crowell baseball nine went down beneath a batting onslaught by the Medicine Mound team Sunday on a muddy field with the score ending 14 to 9. The game was played on the Medicine Mound diamond.

Crowell took an early lead in their half of the first inning. Norman, batting in lead-off position in the absence of Graves, walked, and L. Green followed him with a walk. Singles by Ashford, Junell and Rushing and a sacrifice bunt by Sloan accounted for 3 runs before the sides were retired by the Hardeman boys.

Medicine Mound retaliated in their half of the first with 2 runs and scored a pair in each of the first 4 innings. Green, Crowell pitched, hit the first batter up, walked the second and the next two were good for a safe hit each to account for the couple.

In the initial half of the second inning Crowell drove a run across the plate on one hit so that the score stood 4 to 2 in the Foard boys' favor. However, the Mounds tied the count in their half of the second, forged two ahead in the third and left Manager Hollingsworth's lads trailing the rest of the fray.

Consistently The foreigners consistently scored 2 runs per inning for the first four and then broke loose for 3 in the fifth. Three hits and a walk before any outs were good for the 3 runs.

Prior to the seventh frame the score was 11 to 4 with the Crowell team on the short end. The Foard boys' big inning came in the first of the seventh. Norman went to first on an error after which L. Green doubled, Ashford singled and Junell doubled. They were advanced later by two fielders' choices after which the five-run rally was killed by a double play. The score was standing at the end of the first half of the seventh 11 to 9.

The Moundsmen, not to be outdone and to hold a margin pounded the pellet in their half of the inning for 4 hits and 3 runs. The enemy was also aided by an error on the Crowell side.

The eighth and ninth innings were quiet with neither team scoring and only one man receiving a hit. At the end of the fray the score was Medicine Mound 14, Crowell 9.

The game was played on a wet diamond and the field was considerably slower than usual.

The batting honors went to two Medicine Mound batters, Brooks and Newman evenly divided individual honors by connecting with five safe hits in six trips, both boys crossing the plate twice each. One of Newman's hits went for three bases and one of Brooks for two. Rushing, local left fielder nab-

League President Upholds Protest by Crowell Manager

The Crowell baseball team was awarded a game by Clyde Cobb of Crowell, president of the Cotton Belt Baseball League, from the Eldorado, Okla., nine. His decision was returned Thursday of last week.

The game was played at Eldorado Sunday, June 21. The protest by O. O. Hollingsworth, manager of the Crowell team, charged the Oklahoma club with pitching a man who was not on the regular roster and who had not been with the team the required number of days.

Decisions from the managers of the four non-interested clubs on the interpretation of the ruling regarding eligibility all favored Crowell.

The Eldorado manager, however, is contesting Mr. Cobb's decision and the case has not been settled definitely.

bed batting honors for Crowell by driving out three safeties in 4 trips. Junell and Ashford each netted 2 hits each. Junell netted a two bagger.

Frequent disagreements between the teams, players, managers and innocent bystanders added excitement to an otherwise dull game. Arguments regarding the manner of pitching from a boxless pitcher's mound threatened to become more than mere argument when part of the fans decided to join the squabble.

Medicine Mound comes to Crowell next Sunday for a tilt after which Crowell and Truscott will tangle three weeks in a row.

TRUSCOTT GOES TO FIRST PLACE IN COTTON BELT

Medicine Mound Come To Crowell Sunday For Contest

Truscott's win over Paducah and Eldorado and Crowell's losses Sunday, together with a decision on a protest against Eldorado, placed the Knox County baseball nine in undisputed first place in the Cotton Belt League.

Truscott took the Paducah nine to make their win column total 7 with only 4 losses to their credit for a percentage standing of 636. Trailing by only a half a game is Eldorado and still another half a game behind is Crowell. The Foard County lads are a full game out of first place.

The former league leaders were trounced by Quannah, the cellar squad, and Medicine Mound, only half a game out of the cellar, nabbed a contest from Crowell.

Crowell was awarded the game played with Eldorado Sunday, June 21, after protesting the Oklahoma nine had played an ineligible man, President Clyde Cobb returned his decision on the game Thursday of last week.

For the first time since the opening of the official league schedule, Eldorado relinquished her grasp on the top spot.

Winners Announced At Cowboy Reunion

Stamford, Texas, July 4.—The Texas Cowboy Reunion which closed its annual three-day meet here Saturday night was the most successful from all standpoints in the seven years' history of the organization, according to Reunion officials who have just completed a check-up on the 1936 show.

Three semi-cloudy, cool days, ideal weather for a holiday crowd, were awarded by the weather man for the event and added materially to the comfort of a capacity crowd that thronged the grandstands and bleachers at nearly every performance, and swelled the attendance by at least twenty per cent over any former year. The record heretofore stood at 55,000 persons for the three days.

Rodeo officials credit the increased attendance to improved facilities for taking care of visitors, to a better and faster performance by the contestants, and to the nationwide publicity that has been given the Texas Centennial Celebrations, of which the Texas Cowboy Reunion was a part. There were many guests here from far-away states, a glance at parked automobiles often revealed those from Illinois, New York and other states just as far distant.

Three rodeo performances daily beginning at 8 o'clock a.m. and lasting until 10 o'clock a.m. each night, followed by a square dance at the bunkhouse and a dance at the Country Club. In addition to other special features provided entertainment from early until late for everyone who wanted to put in a full day.

The rodeo had four stunts contests that were held every day. These were bronc riding, wild milking, steer riding and calf roping, the winners being awarded cash prizes daily. Buck Harkins, Denton, won first money in calf roping on the opening day. Dan Utley of San Angelo was winner on both the second and third days. Top money to calf riders went to Ralph Eason, Strawn; Bob Miller, Albany; Woody Lewis, Eustice, Texas, respectively, on the first, second and third days.

In the wild cow milking contest Vaughn Harris, Big Spring, won the money Thursday, followed by Jan Stoker of Breckenridge Friday, and the Saturday winner went to Vester Parrish, Wagoner who did the job in seventeen and one-fifth seconds. Some speed likewise shown in the calf roping. Leo Huff of Dora and Sig Papp of Ranger divided honors on Saturday with a time of twenty-five seconds flat. Lester Ham, Amarillo, won Friday with twenty-one seconds, and Lester Wright, Breckenridge, was the day's winner on account of two one and two-fifths seconds.

In the old timer's calf roping contest Wade Swift, Ranger, with twenty-nine and four-tenths seconds. First prize to the typical cowboy over 55 years of age went to J. E. Bost of Paducah. Miss Mary Louise Purdon, Strawn, was first prize winner of a saddle. Other prize winners were Miss Walter Faye (Cotton Midland); Miss Annie Lee (San Angelo); and Miss G. Weatherly, Sweetwater.

A sour dough biscuit contest between chuck wagon cooks was judged by Governor James V. Allred. Richard Bolt, cook for 6666 outfit tied with Lee Cook for the SMS Spur outfit for first honors, and each received Stetson hat—a gift of the Governor of Texas.

On Exhibit At Centennial

Dallas.—A strange tangle of devotion, theft, religious sentiment, litigation and a happy ending is a part of the background of the pearl carving of the Lord's Last Supper now on display in the Hall of Religion at the Centennial Exposition here.

The carving, more than 200 years old, is made from mother of pearl of a quality found only in a certain shark-infested portion of the Red Sea. The embossed hillock work on the frame of the carving is said to be the only specimen of such work in existence.

The carving was made 200 years ago by a young Armenian artist of a wealthy family, as a tribute to his mother. The delicate work required 27 years of faithful work to finish, and so great was the strain upon the artist's eyes that he became totally blind a short time after the carving was completed. The detail of the work is so fine that even the eye-lashes of the figures are visible under a magnifying glass.

The Kahn Beyian family recognized the carving as a superb work of art and set the frame with more than a million dollars' worth of diamonds and rubies. The carving remained a priceless heirloom in the family home in a small Armenian village until 1901 when the village was sacked and left in ruins by the Turks. The carving was carried off and stripped of its jewels.

John Koretan and his sister, present owners of the carving and last members of the Khan Beyian family, scoured the art centers of Europe and Asia without finding a trace of the treasured work. In desperation, they came to America and through sheer chance finally located the carving in Seattle, in the home of a wealthy, aged woman who had bought it years before in an obscure art shop in Eastern Europe. She would not part with the carving, but to avoid litigation finally agreed that the Koretans should purchase the carving from her estate after her death. Thus it was recovered.

The carving was first placed on exhibition at the Century of Progress, where it was a leading attraction at that fair. As a result of the demand for its showing here, it has been secured for the Hall of Religion and will be shown during the Centennial Exhibition.

To the People of the 13th Congressional District:

The Campaign for Congress is nearing its end. I have kept you advised of my activities, sending you copies of my speeches in your behalf. You have also had the newspapers to inform you. July 1936 "PLAIN TALK," a Magazine of national circulation, gives the votes of each Congressman on all important legislation the last two years and shows I am one of four Congressmen in the States of Texas, Montana, Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, Kansas and Virginia, who have voted RIGHT 100 per cent in favor of the people those years; that is PERFORMANCE, not a promise. The National Economy League, and its satellites, the Electric Bond and Share Company of New York, the Texas Electric Service Company of Texas, the large income tax payers and the grafting corporations selling equipment to the Government, the exploiters of farmers and other laborers would not agree with it.

YOUR DUTY TO YOURSELF, YOUR FAMILY AND THE NATION—REQUIRES THAT YOU VOTE RIGHT. Four per cent of the people own Ninety per cent of the property of the Nation, 1 per cent own 59 per cent of it and fewer than 1,000 of them own 25 per cent of it. They had practically controlled legislation for many, many years before 1933; their control is broken but they still own the property and are fighting bitterly to re-establish the control that enabled them to secure the property. Do you belong to the 4 per cent or the 96 per cent? Compare the conditions and prices of 1933 and those today, go into the markets, read your newspaper headings, they will tell you unmistakably. THEN ACT sensibly since you are vitally interested in the result. Be deaf to appeals of neighborliness, sympathy or grouches. The man who protects and defends your rights is your REAL friend. The President and his supporting Congress appeal to you. Do this and it will send a message of cheer to your leaders July 25th, 1936.

"SURELY THE CAPTAIN (President Roosevelt) MAY DEPEND ON ME THOUGH BUT AN ARMOUR BEARER I MAY BE."

I have sent copy of "Plain Talk" to most newspapers in the District or will be glad to show you one.

Your friend,

W. D. McFARLANE

Railroads Prepare To Compete in Price Method and Service

"To meet competition with increasing effectiveness," writes J. J. Peily, president of the Association of American Railroads, in the Atlantic Monthly, "railroads are making changes in their services, their prices, and their methods. The things they have done in the way of better passenger service have attracted wider attention than improvement in the freight field, of course, but in both services there is an encouraging progress. Railway air conditioning is an achievement of eight years' research and experiment, and the main difficulties have been pretty well solved. Higher train speeds by the new light-weight trains, whether steam or Diesel-driven, by the faster scheduling of conventional steam trains, or by the speeding up of electric engines, are matters of almost weekly announcement. These improvements have not added to the cost of pas-

Nor are they achieved at the expense of safety, which continues to be a distinguishing characteristic of rail travel. Of 142 Class 1 railroads in the United States, 130 have a clear record of no passenger fatalities in train accidents for more than five years, 114 for more than ten years, 99 for more than fifteen years.

The energy and initiative which characterized the development of railroad transport from the sixties to the turn of the century have not been lost, and they dominate present-day railroad managements. No industry has spent millions more willingly in order to improve and cheapen service—no industry has shown a greater interest in inventions and improvements which make travel safer, cheaper, more comfortable. The change for the better has been revolutionary.

The railroads are determined that this progress continue. They want to continually lower travel costs while giving constantly better service. Given a fair break in such matters as taxation, legislation, they will do it.

"Sacrament" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday, July 12. The Golden Text is: "To do good and to communicate forget not: for with such sacrifices God is well pleased" (Hebrews 13:16). Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my Father in his throne" (Revelation 3:21.)

The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Waking to Christ's demand, mortals experience suffering. This causes them, even as drowning men, to make vigorous efforts to save themselves; and through Christ's precious love these efforts are crowned with success" (page 22.)

Establishment of Joyce Kilmer Forest Authorized by Government as Tribute To Famous Writer; Dedication July 30

The establishment of the Joyce Kilmer Memorial Forest as a living memorial to the author of the most beautiful tribute ever written to trees has been authorized by the United States Government acting through the Secretary of Agriculture. The action was sponsored by the Bozeman Bulger Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

A 4,000-acre tract of virgin forest in the primitive area of the Nantahala National Forest in western North Carolina was selected by the Kilmer Memorial Committee after a preliminary examination of available areas throughout the country. Joseph C. Kircher of Atlanta, Georgia, United States Southern Regional Forester who will be responsible for the administration and protection of the memorial forest, announced today that the area will be dedicated on July 30, the eighteenth anniversary of the day on which Sergeant Joyce Kilmer was killed in action in France. The dedication program is being arranged by Paul A. Williams of New York, Chairman of the Kilmer Memorial Committee.

Mr. Kircher said that the area selected for the Kilmer Memorial Forest constitutes the entire watershed of Little Santeehah Creek in Graham County, North Carolina, a few miles from Robbinsville. The Kilmer Memorial Forest will be available to the public for recreational use and the Forest Service recently obtained permission from the Indian Service to build a short spur road through a portion of the Cherokee Indian Reservation to make the area reasonably accessible. This road will be completed in time for the dedication ceremony on July 30. Though available to the public for enjoyment of its natural and inspirational values, the area will be preserved in its primitive state, Kircher said, and recreational facilities will be held to the minimum consistent with good sanitation and adequate protection from forest fires.

Texas Legends and Folklore

By Olive M. Johnson, Director of Speech Arts North Texas State Teachers College

Elizabethan English in Texas
It is said that the purest Elizabethan English spoken in America is in the isolated regions of Kentucky, Tennessee, and West Virginia. But many of these tall, raw-boned Anglo-Saxons were among the early emigrants to Texas, and their descendants still retain their pastoral freshness and innocence. These people are indeed picturesque and colorful in manner and speech, speaking in the quaint idiom of a by-gone day. Their dialect is pure Elizabethan English fused with the rough and ready lexicon of the frontier. Speaking in their homely yet rich vernacular, they say "seed" for "saw," "ort" for "ought," "year" for "ear," "holp" for "helped," and "hit" for "it." Pure Anglo-Saxon! Our attitude toward them should be tolerant rather than condescending, remembering, as Professor Beatty says, that "the continuity of their culture is unbroken." There in their rough frame cabins, rearing sturdy children and living close to the soil, these people have preserved much of the flavor, vitality, and gusto of early pioneer life in Texas.

Many a child gets a whipping because he took after his father.

War Against Cotton Insects to Be Waged

The conditions favoring flea hopper injury to cotton are set forth in a report of a month ago which materialized. Cotton lice, fleas, flea hoppers, boll weevils, and bollworms are all present and multiplying as rapidly as their cycles permit with little hindrance from their parasitic and predatory enemies. The first generation of leafworms has already matured and the worms of the second generation doubtless will be found soon in some of the counties of South Texas.

According to reports received, the first generation worms were found only in Calhoun County, but it is expected that the comparatively small number of leafworms which mature from these worms will be supplemented by much larger numbers which will migrate from the south to the sub-tropics and lower Mexico. Probably some of these moths have arrived already to infest the cotton fields of other counties in South Texas. Last year when full grown leafworms first were found on May 23, poisoning of cotton was begun in the vicinity of Nueces county by June 15 and may be expected to begin this year about the same time.

In order to avoid another shortage in supply of poison, it is advised that all farmers who are equipped for dusting purchase calcium arsenate, as it is certain to be needed, not only for leafworm control but also for boll weevil and bollworm control. Other arsenicals may be used for leafworm control and as a supplement in bollworm control, but calcium arsenate dust is the only satisfactory remedy for the boll weevil.

The emergence of boll weevils has increased greatly since the beginning of the recent rains. Already weevils have appeared in

WILD WEST LIVES AGAIN

Wild and Whoozee Days Enacted in Frontier Centennial

There probably is nothing new under the sun. Electricity existed long before Messrs. Volta, Edison, Marconi, et al. started to fuss with it. There have been wild west shows before . . . and successful ones. Before that of course there was a real wild west with an arena a million square miles in compass. Now comes a spectacle based on what has gone before but staged with such lavishness and consummate art that one might well believe the old west lives again in "The Last Frontier," one of the outstanding attractions of the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial.

When Billy Rose was engaged as director general of the Fort Worth Frontier, his first act was to set about organizing the biggest and most spectacular wild west exhibition of all time. Some advisors suggested that appeal of such a show passed with the demise of Buffalo Bill. To Rose the suggestion was no dice.

"As long as men live there is a certain glamour about the old days on the frontier that will never tarnish. Like the glimpse of a pretty woman the deeds of brave men always make folks buy tickets," declared the shrewd showman. "That's why I intend to deal as my top act . . . girls and horses."

A special set, 263 feet wide and 167 feet deep, representing the plains and foothills, will serve as the locale for such stirring events as attack on the stage rescue by rangers, battle with U. S. troops, a prairie fire and concluding with a old fashioned square dance with 100 couples. More than 1,000 Indians, cavalrymen, cowboys and cow girls, singers and dancers are engaged in "The Last Frontier." Directed by the dynamic spectacle in the hands of Verne Elliott, foremost rodeo entrepreneur and protégé of Buffalo Bill and Edward Clarke Lilly well known New York showman producer.

per acre for each dusting.

Do not be impatient if improvement in the cotton is not immediately observed following one or two applications of sulphur. Much dissatisfaction by growers following an application of sulphur for controlling flea hoppers has been due to a lack of patience, and failure to stay with the program long enough for the very small squares to develop beyond the period during which they are subject to flea hopper injury. This period lasts until the squares reach a quarter of an inch in size and a little longer when the plants are succulent. The absence of blooms during the summer is often the result of flea hopper activity about 25 days previous.

"Will it pay to dust or poison?" is a question in the minds of many. It will pay if the insects are present and the land is sufficiently fertile to yield at least one-third of a bale per acre if insect injury is eliminated, and provided the applications are made in the right manner.

There are several kinds of dusting machines suitable for small or large acreages. Farms having 10, 50 and 75 acres in cotton may be protected by means of dusting machines costing about 12, 40 and 70 dollars, respectively. Three and 5-row tractor-driven cart dusters which will take care of 100 to 125 acres can be bought for about 180 to 300 dollars. Power-driven dusters drawn by two mules cost about 250 to 400 dollars and will care for 200 to 300 acres of cotton a season. These machines, tractor attachments, and airplanes are all useful for dusting with calcium arsenate and there should be no difficulty in applying conditioned sulphur for flea hopper control.

Canadian and North Dakota Stock Men Will Exhibit Cattle

Fort Worth. — Canadian and North Dakota livestock breeders were among the first to submit application for space at the official Texas Centennial Livestock Exposition here, October 3rd to 8th, John B. Davis, general manager, announced today.

G. O. Cresswell, Abilene is superintendent of the Aberdeen-Angus classes and prizes for this division will total $17,500.

J. M. Jones, College Station, has been named superintendent of the sheep and goat division. Prize money for this section, including the cost of the coveted Centennial trophies, will be approximately $9,000.

Fair Texan Nominates Centennial

Politics did not completely dominate the stage in Philadelphia at the Democratic National Convention. The Texas Centennial celebrations had their charming emissary in the person of Marion Fore (right), whose father, Sam Fore, Jr., is the popular publisher of the Floresville Chronicle-Journal. Her commission was signed in Austin by Governor Allred and presented in Tyler at the annual convention of the Texas Press Association by President Louis Eibert of Galveston. First to congratulate her was Janice Jarratt of San Antonio, lovely sweetheart of the Texas Centennial, who is shown examining her official commission, while the gentleman in the center, also an honoree at the Philadelphia conclave, looks on approvingly from his portrait.

Gasoline Taxes May Soar to New High of $40,000,000 in 1936

(By Charles E. Simons)

Austin, Texas. — Gasoline tax collections for the 1935-36 fiscal year are expected by George H. Sheppard, state comptroller, to reach an all-time high of more than $40,000,000. Sheppard attributed a major portion of the increase to more efficient tax collection methods, particularly to strenuous efforts to prevent evasion by illegitimate dealers.

Approximately six years ago when Sheppard was appointed comptroller by former Governor Dan Moody, he immediately started a detailed study of the state's tax collecting system. He found much room for improvement and directed prime attention at the gasoline tax since it was from this source that important highway construction activities were maintained. Public school officials, hard pressed for funds in the financial crisis, also were looking to gasoline tax receipts to keep open the doors of the state's several thousand school houses.

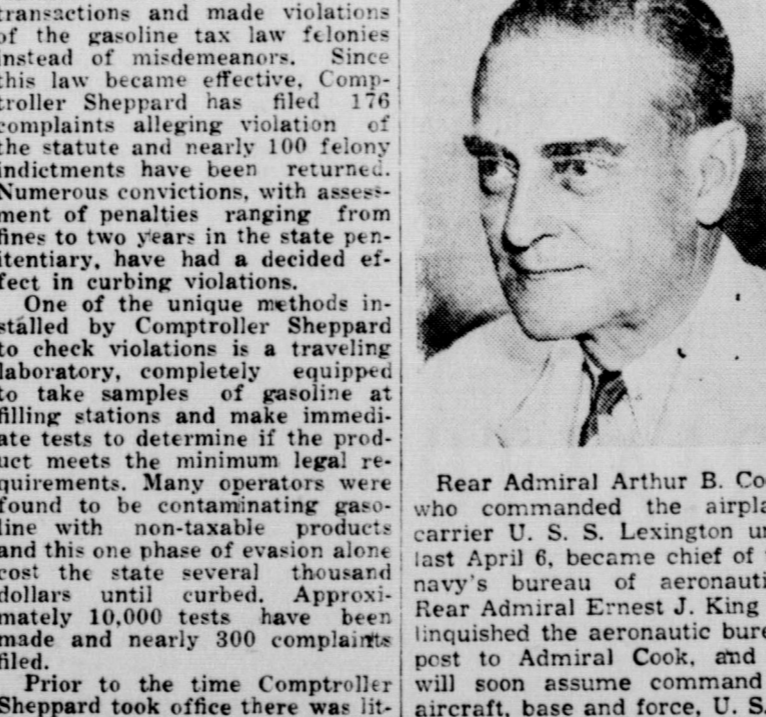

The story of the substantial increase in gasoline tax collections is one of untiring research and endeavor. It also involved much litigation and for a time an almost steady stream of subpoenas served visited Sheppard with injunctions of various kinds restraining enforcement of new laws passed by the legislature on his recommendation.

Sheppard sponsored the law that required refiners and operators to maintain a detailed record of their transactions and made violations of the gasoline tax law felonies instead of misdemeanors. Since this law became effective, Comptroller Sheppard has filed 176 complaints alleging violation of the statute and nearly 100 felony indictments have been returned. Numerous convictions, with assessment of penalties ranging from fines to two years in the state penitentiary, have had a decided effect in curbing violations.

One of the unique methods installed by Comptroller Sheppard to check violations is a traveling laboratory, completely equipped to take samples of gasoline at filling stations and make immediate tests to determine if the product meets the minimum legal requirements. Many operators were found to be contaminating gasoline with non-taxable products and this one phase of evasion alone cost the state several thousand dollars until curbed. Approximately 10,000 tests have been made and nearly 300 complaints filed.

Prior to the time Comptroller Sheppard took office there was little provision for enforcing the gasoline tax. Through his efforts

F. W. Harding, secretary of the American Shorthorn Cattle Breeders' Association, Chicago, has been working with General Manager John B. Davis and Livestock Manager D. G. Talbot, to perfect arrangements for the Shorthorn show, October 3-11.

Craig M. Logan, Valley Mills, who is well known in show circles in Texas, will serve as superintendent of the Shorthorn division. Exhibitors interested in having full information about the livestock classifications can obtain a premium catalogue by addressing the Frontier Centennial Livestock Show at Fort Worth.

Farmers Purchase Many Oil Products

"We are increasingly impressed with the importance of the buying power of the farmers in our marketing territory, which includes Texas and some twenty other states, their total purchases absorbing over half of the bulk output of our ten refineries," says Dan Moran, President of the Continental Oil Company, who has just finished a four-weeks' inspection trip to the Company's various properties.

"We know also that farmers on the whole are more discerning buyers of petroleum products than their city cousins.

"Whether this is due to the farmer's long familiarity with internal combustion motors in tractors, ensilage cutters, individual lighting plants and other farm equipment, or whether it is due to the fact that he is accustomed to making most of his own adjustments and repairs, is uncertain. The interviews during the inspection trip, however, leave no room for doubt that the farmer knows what to expect in his fuel. And he shows far better than average intelligence in choosing top quality lubricants on the grounds that it is not cost of lubricant but cost of lubrication that concerns him."

GIRL SCOUTS

The local Girl Scouts recently enjoyed a picnic at Pocket Park, the program for the occasion being a study of wild flowers. A book of "Foard County Wild Flowers," compiled by Miss Myrna Holman, was used as a basis for the study. The scouts had as a guest speaker, Mrs. J. C. Cumley, who is captain of a group of girl scouts at her home in Mount Pleasant. Mrs. Cumley told of the splendid work being done by the Mt. Pleasant scouts and of their plans for the future. The local scouts feel encouraged to try harder to succeed in their projects and to become a greater force for good in the community since hearing Mrs. Cumley.

Each succeeding year since the organization of the Girl Scouts has seen a larger and more enthusiastic body of girls and young women learning in the happiest way how to combine patriotism, outdoor activities, skill in every branch of domestic science and high standards of community service.

LIBRARY NEWS

The 1936 Pulitzer prize winning novel, play and volume of poems were placed in the county library this week.

Before winning the Pulitzer prize, "Honey in the Horn," by H. L. Davis was awarded Harper's "first novel" prize for 1935. It is the story of the homesteading period of Oregon, from 1906 to 1908, and is crowded with character sketches of the lusty pioneers, old legends and traditions told in lively manner.

"Idiot's Delight" by Robert Sherwood is one of the author's best plays. It opened in Washington, D. C., on March 9 with Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne in the leading roles, and was later produced in New York. This brilliantly successful play is an imaginative flight of fancy, portraying the next war.

Robert T. Coffin's winning volume of poems, "Strange Holiness," is filled with stirring poems, rich in tender awareness of beauty. Intimate understanding for country things and a feeling for country people and their customs mark all of Mr. Coffin's poetry.

Chevrolet Sponsors Free Motion Picture Tuesday Evening at 8

An all-talking motion picture was presented from the "Chevrolet Automovie," the complete theater on wheels, in Crowell Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

The unit was mounted on a 201-inch wheelbase truck chassis and contained a theatre type sound motion picture projector, amplifier, public address system and has its own complete Delco electric power plant. The unit is so constructed that the top raises and the pictures are shown on a translucent screen. A large audience attended the showing of the Chevrolet demonstration.

The free showing was held on the street east of the court house directly in front of M. & S. Chevrolet Company, sponsors of the demonstration. Music was broadcast over the loud speaking system Tuesday afternoon.

School District	1936	1935	1934

CHESTERTON IS DEAD

This is a recent portrait of Gilbert K. Chesterton, one of England's most noted men of letters and famed for his use of the paradox in his writings, who died in England at the age of sixty-two. He suffered a heart attack at his home at Beaconsfield.

112 PERSONS RE-CERTIFIED W P A LABOR

All but eight of Foard County's approved list of eligible Works Progress Administration workers have been re-certified, according to Bryan O'Connell, local WPA representative.

The re-certification deadline was Saturday, June 27, at which time 112 persons had been re-certified. The object of the re-certification was to determine whether or not the eligible employees desired labor on WPA projects. "The re-certification does not guarantee employment," Mr. O'Connell said, "but it determines whether or not the eligible person desires government work or not."

Failure to re-certify indicated to those in charge that the eligible person did not desire employment on the government projects.

Re-certification was made to Mr. O'Connell or to Miss Eva Johnson in the Ringgold building. Persons whose names appeared on the approved list did not have to re-certify in person. Friends or relatives were allowed to re-certify for them.

Scouts will be held tonight at the school hall at 8:15, according to Henry Black, local scoutmaster.

FLAG CREATOR'S KIN

John Rowan Reid of San Diego is the grandson of Capt. Charles Reid, famed American hero, who suggested the pattern of the American flag which congress approved on April 3, 1776. Captain Reid was named to a commission by naval admirals committee of congress to design a flag of "proper dimensions" when Old Glory had 15 stars and 13 stripes.
